China Rapidly Achieving Unity

Says News Correspondent Now Visiting That Country

Opposition to Nanking Government is Brought About Largely Through Japanese Action in Pressing Demands

China is rapidly achieving national unity and the action of Japan in pressing demands against that country is an important element in bringing about that unity, according to an article in the Christian Science Monitor from its staff correspondent, William Henry Chamberlain who is visiting that country at the present time and sending first hand information to this paper.

Mr. Chamberlain says:

China is a huge country with a very inadequate network of railroads and other means of communication. It proverbially moves slowly. Yet the progress towards unification within the last year has been both striking and appreciable. Two main centres of disunion, the virtually independent Southwest and the wandering Communist rebels, have disappeared.

As late as the summer of 1935 the two Southwestern Provinces, Kwangtung and Kwangsi, were emitting defiant challenges to the central government at Nanking. Troops were being mobilized on both sides; serious civil war seemed imminent. But at the last moment the resistance of Canton, the centre of the separatist movement and the metropolis of South China, collapsed.

A Sudden Change.

Gen. Chen Chi-tang, who had been ruling Canton and Kwangtung Province as an independent potentate, vanished from the scene and this important part of China was brought under direct Nanking administration.

Both the military and the economic centralization of the country benefitted. The central authorities could frame plans for the defense and development of the rich, but undeveloped Hainan Island, which is as large as Formosa and is strategically located off the southwestern coast of China.

The customs revenue of Canton, much of which had surreptitiously been pocketed by Chen Chi-tang and his retainers, now flows directly into the coffers of the Central Government.

A still more serious obstacle to unity was removed by the cessation of the long civil war with the Communists, which had been going on with varying degrees of intensity for the last decade.

A piquant feature of a recent convention of Young Communists was the election of Chiang Kai-shek and some other Kuomintang leaders (without their consent, to be sure) as honorary members of the presiding committee.

If this change of heart is permanent, the nationalistic government can consider itself well rid of a civil war that was dragging on without any definite issue and that represented a heavy drain on the country's resources.

The success, up to the present time, of China's currency reform has been another bit of cement in the edifice of national unity. Confronted with an acute crisis of deflation and with a big drain of silver from the country, the Chinese authorities in November, 1935, went over from a silver to a managed paper currency, the right of note issue being vested in three leading banks. The results of this step so far have been more successful than many observers believed possible at the time when the shift was made. The Chinese dollar has remained stable at a value of a little less than 30 American cents and paper has proved as acceptable.

Francisco Franco Claims A Brilliant Victory For His Insurgent Army At Madrid

HENDAYE, on the Franco-Spanish Frontier, July 24:—General Francisco Franco claimed a "brilliant victory" today on Madrid's western front. A communique issued from the insurgent army headquarters asserted that Franco's army was victorious in a counter-drive against Government troops in the Brunete sector.

Spanish Government reports from Madrid admit that there had been rebel pressure on the flanks of the Government army but claimed that this pressure had now weakened.

Underground Workers Are All Examined

Over a Score of Men Came to City From Porcher Island Mines for Silicosis Test

While Dr. Lamb was in the city holding a clinic this week the whole underground staff of the Surf Point and Eddy Pass mines were brought to the city to undergo an examination for silicosis. This was more convenient for the doctor than to visit the mines in view of the fact that he was holding a clinic at the hospital in any event. The men were brought to the city, examined and returned the same day. This is a routine examination to conform with government regulations.

AGE OF RECONSTRUCTION

Prime Minister McKenzie King on his arrival from attending the Empire Conference in London said:

"We are in an age of transition. The old order of things which existed before the Great War was split wide open by that world upheaval . . . The reconstruction of the social order is the problem with which the world is wrestling today, and no part of the world is free from its possible repercussions and explosions.

"It is going to take time—possibly a long time—to complete the transition through which all countries are passing in the readjustments which are being made in the existing social order. But that they can be made, without adding widespread international conflict to the difficulties all have to face, I have not the least doubt."

Canada Fortunate

"No one can return to Canada after a sojourn abroad without realizing more than ever how fortunate we are in our country, in its size and geographical position, in its vast resources, in its people, in its democratic institutions, in the friendship shared with our immediate neighbor, and above all, in what we enjoy of liberty, and individual freedom of thought and speech and of conscience. This is a great and very precious heritage; doubly precious in a world that has lost much of the security it previously possessed."

NOBODY QUITE KNOWS

Owing to the peculiar turn of mind of the Oriental rivals in China and Japan today nobody quite knows what to make of the news despatches that come through. Evidently China is feeling her strength but is not yet quite ready to face Japan or it may be that China is drawing Japan on to a point where she will have some advantage. It is something like a game of chess at which many Orientals are experts. They advance and retreat and play the enemy until they get him at a disadvantage and then try to check-mate in a few brilliant moves.

Indians Find Oil But Little Value

CALGARY, July 24: (CP)—Two families of Stony Indians are back on their reservation after an oil prospecting trip to Waterton Lakes, near here, penniless, but convinced that the 50-year old legend that led them to hunt for the "black gold" had some foundation.

Told to one of the squaws by her mother half a decade ago, the story related that "blue-black grease oozed from the rocks" and led the redmen to visions of oil wealth.

Though jars of crude oil they collected were worthless, the gray-haired leader climbed out of one of the two ancient autos used on the trip and massed that it at least "make good grease for wagon, good for sick people, and good for sick horse, too."

CHINA RAPIDLY ACHEIVING UNITY

as the former silver in commercial transactions.

New railways are being laid down in China quite rapidly, if the poverty of the country is taken into consideration. The government has its "five year plan" for doubling the present altogether inadequate 5000 miles of railway lines in the country.

In recording China's forward movement one should not overlook some of the dark medieval aspects in the life of the country. An appalling famine is even now raging in Western China, especially affecting the big province of Szechuen, where there is not a mile of railway. A government commissioner who recently visited the stricken regions reported seeing "hordes of hungry people eating bark, roots and even white clay."

Famine is a merciless revelation of natural poverty, or bad social conditions, or both. China has not been able to free its peasants from the clutches of landlordism and a taxation system that leaves great masses of its patient hard-working peasants with no reserves when bad harvest years come.

Bad Conditions

There are seemingly well-authenticated stories of mass shootings of lepers in Kwangtung Province. Such a method of disposing of the unfortunates is as short-sighted as it is brutal, because every leper will now endeavor to conceal his condition. There are well documented reports of unbelievable labor conditions in the tin mines of remote Yunnan, where the labor of little children is so mercilessly exploited that 30 percent of the workers, the majority of them children, perish every year.

China has yet to face the social problems involved in the fact that vast masses of its 450,000,000 people are living in a state of poverty so abject that Americans can scarcely believe it unless they have seen it. But the basic problem of the moment, in the opinion of the great majority of the educated Chinese, is the organization of firm resistance to Japanese aggression. China's poverty and misery are old; the nationalism and the energy which this nationalism has infused into a part of the population are new.

Preparing For Golf Tournament

Largest Gathering in History Expected at Jasper September 5

JASPER PARK LODGE, July 24:—When old Sol pokes his nose over the Colin Range on the morning of September 5th, he will see an array of golfers gathered around the first tee that has possibly never been equalled in Western Canada's golf history. This date will be the opening lay for the 12th annual Totem Pole golf tournament and for the balance of the week Mr. Sol will have to wear blinkers to keep the flying divots out of his eyes, for he hunt for the Totem Pole trophy promises to be a particularly hot one this year.

Robert Sommerville, manager of the Lodge, already has received entries for this annual golfing feature and is of the opinion that his year's event will be the greatest in the history of the tournament. "We have registrations in from most cities in Western Canada already and because these have been received so early, I believe this year's event will be our greatest," declared Sommerville today.

Jack Starky of Edmonton, present holder of the trophy and only golfer to share with Gardiner White of New York, the distinction of having won the trophy twice, has not been heard from, although when the names are put into the hat for the qualifying draw, it is almost a certainty that his will be among those present as he has played in practically every tournament.

Expressions of regret Wired To England by Americans Who Visited There for Golf Tournament

CHICAGO, July 24:—Ralph Guldahl, United States open golf champion, the main critic recently of British sportsmanship, said today that his remarks had been misinterpreted.

Guldahl and other members of the Ryder Cup squad have been requested in a telegram from George Jacobs, president of the Professional Golfers' Association of America, to wire an expression of regret over anything that had been said reflecting on British sportsmanship.

"The British Professional Golfers' Association treated us wonderfully," Guldahl said. "I still think the galleries did things which were not sportsmanlike, but that is likely to happen anywhere my statements may have given the wrong impression."

Gene Sarazen said he had no complaint to make over treatment in Great Britain.

Even John Bunyan Might Be Problem

LONDON, July 24: (CP)—When Lord Tyrrell of Avon, president of the British Board of Film Censors, referred to Marc Connelly's negro play, Green Pastures, as his "toughest problem," the controversy aroused by the same film in Canada was recalled.

First showing of this film in Ontario was held up for some weeks while the provincial censors debated the merits of certain parts of the film from a religious and racial standpoint.

Speaking to the Cinematograph Exhibitors Association here Lord Tyrrell said he had come to the conclusion after some reflection the subject matter and treatment in Green Pastures were not blasphemous as had been suggested in some quarters. On the contrary, it was an allegory, treated most reverently and with an apparent desire on the part of the producer to express the childlike naivete of the negro in respect to the Christian faith.

"If John Bunyan had written his allegory (Pilgrim's Progress) today instead of in 1677 it might have been just as embarrassing from the censorship point of view," he declared. Lord Tyrrell had discussed Green Pastures with leading ecclesiastical authorities who, after seeing it, agreed that if people entered into the spirit of the film they could not but be impressed with its very simplicity and reverence. The Board had received complaints against the picture, but not from any who had seen it.

Say Fast Rides Speed Weddings

Thrill Machines Help Out Bashful Swains Declares Promoter

PALISADE, N. J., July 24: (CP)—Sex and fear are the thrill ingredients that go into amusement park rides. "We attribute a lot of marriages to the roller coaster," declared Irving Rosenthal, who with his brother Jack, has designed and operated breath-taking speed contraptions for 20 years.

Quoths Irving, with the air of a public benefactor: "When a girl screamed, her bashful boy friend put his arm around her. You see? We helped break the ice."

Back of it all, of course, is a basic principle that makes money. The principle is: let the public in on it—people are happy when they find out what makes the wheels go around. So they explain the apparatus.

The Rosenthals were responsible for the roller coaster at Coney Island 10 years ago, the one with the precipitous drop that made strong men pale and women scream. They are proud of the "Cyclone," even at this late date, with newer, speedier projects and a new amusement park venture across the Hudson River from Manhattan.

"Why," says Irving, "Colonel Lindbergh used to come every day and ride on it before he flew to Paris. We even had customers who stayed on for hours. It cost a dollar too, for a minute and a half. What's next? We're working on a stratosphere flight. We'll shoot the car out of a cannon with compressed air. Oh boy! You'll see it at the World Fair."

Synopses of Mining Laws

MINERAL ACT
Free Miners' Certificates
Any person over the age of eighteen, and any Joint Stock Company is entitled to enter upon all waste lands of the Crown and upon any other lands whereon the minerals other than coal are reserved to the Crown and its licensees with specific reservations, for the purpose of prospecting for minerals locating claims and mining. The fee for an individual for a Free Miners' Certificate is $5.00 for one year. To a Joint Stock Company having a capital of $100,000 or less the fee for a year is $50.00; if capitalized beyond this the fee is $100.00. The Free Miners' Certificates run from date of issue and expire on the 31st of May next after its date or some subsequent 31st of May. Certificates may be obtained for any part of a year terminating on 31st of May for a proportionately less fee. Free Miners' Certificates are also applicable to the Placer Mining Act.

Mineral Claims
Size: 51.65 acres.
Recording fee: $2.50 per claim.
Representation: Assessment work to the extent of $100.00 must be done each year and recorded on or before anniversary date of record of the claim. Cash in the sum of $100.00 may be paid in lieu of assessment work. Fee for recording assessment work, $2.50. If the required assessment work has been performed within the year, but not recorded within that time, a free miner may within thirty days hereafter record such assessment work upon payment of an additional fee of $10.00. The actual cost of the survey of a mineral claim to an amount not exceeding $100.00 may be recorded as assessment work. As soon as assessment work to the extent of $500.00 for cash paid of like amount is recorded, and a survey made of the claim, the owner of such claim is entitled to a Crown Grant on payment of a fee of $25.00, and giving the necessary notices required by the Act.

PLACER MINING ACT
Four types of placer claims:
Creek diggings; bar diggings; dry diggings; and precious stone diggings. (For details see Part II, Placer Mining Act.)
Representation: A placer claim must be worked by the owner or someone on his behalf continuously as far as practicable during working hours. Lay-overs and leaves of absence may be declared by the Gold Commissioner under certain conditions. To hold a placer claim for more than one year it must be re-recorded before the expiration of the record or record.
Placer Mining Leases
Size and method of staking, etc.
Eighty acres in extent, staked along a "location line" not more than one-half mile in length. In this line one bend or change of direction is permitted. Where change of direction is permitted, where necessary, i.e., an "initial post" and a "final post." Where there is a change of direction a legal post must be placed to mark the point of the said change. The leasehold is allowed a width not in excess of one-quarter mile. The locator is required within thirty days after the date of the location to post a notice in the office of the Mining Recorder setting out the name of the applicant; the number of location; the number of feet lying to the right and left of the location line; and the approximate area or size of the ground.
Dredging leases on rivers for five miles below low-water mark are also granted. Fee: Annual rental on placer mining lease, $30.00; annual development work required to be expended, $250.00; annual development work required to be expended, $1,000.00 per mile; the value of any new plant or machinery employed to count as money expended in development. Fee for recording certificate of work, $2.50. Lease fee, $5.00.

Provisional Free Miners' Certificates, (Placer) Act
Department of Mines Act
Among other things, these Acts provide for the staking and representing of placer claims without payment of fees, and assistance to prospectors by free assays, etc.

A detailed synopsis of the above Acts, also the "Mines Development Act"; "Mineral Survey and Development Act"; "Iron and Steel Bounties Act"; and "Phosphate-mining Act" are available at the Department of Mines, Victoria. Complete copies of the Acts may be obtained from the King's Printer, Victoria.

Camera Queen Dub With Gun

Girl Photographer Spends Weeks In Marsh for Single Picture

WINNIPEG, July 24: (CP) — Though a hopeless shot with a gun, and faced with conditions that would daunt the hardest duck hunter, vivacious Lorene Squire, official photographer for the American Wild Life Institute, thinks nothing of spending three weeks in a soggy marsh waiting for one good camera "shot" of a wild duck.

Tanned to a deep bronze by a months' outing near North Battleford, Sask., where she obtained many bird life photos, Miss Squire recently passed through Winnipeg on her way to north-western Manitoba marsh areas. "It has always been my ambition to come to Canada and to see the ducks in their nesting places. Now I have and have some good pictures of baby ducks swimming about on the water," Miss Squire said.

Her career as a photographer started ten years ago in Kansas when she went duck hunting with her father and mother. "I was pretty terrible with a gun, so I began shooting with a camera." The result has been a series of outstanding pictures of wild life on the wing.

Final Sprint of Halibut Fleet Before Season Closes Wednesday Next; New Boat Launched; Waterfront Business Slowing Down

The halibut fishing closes on Wednesday of next week and practically all the boats are out on the banks trying to fill up for the last catch of the season. It is probable that even for one day's fishing boats will go to the nearby fishing grounds and try to make the catch for the season as large as possible. Of course everybody thinks the season too short and especially those who make a livelihood by it. Larger boats will still fish off the west coast of Alaska and a few of the smaller craft may try some other method of extending the season, such as by loadwork is being carried out each season so that it may not come too heavy in any one year.

Kill Predators To Save Salmon

CULTUS LAKE, B. C., July 24: (CP)—Fisheries officials are continuing the war on predatory fish which at one time were believed to have devoured 96 per cent of the sockeye salmon fry spawned here.

The discovery was made after millions of fry had been liberated in the lake, and only four per cent survived to the seaward migrant stage. Analyses of stomach contents of squawfish, char and trout showed the chief cause of mortality. From March 1, 1936 to Feb. 28, 1937, more than 6100 predators were netted. Their removal was followed by a 420 per cent increase in salmon fry reaching the migrant stage.

Hatching Delay Conserves Fish

Held in Hatcheries Until Fish Large Enough to Withstand Enemies

WINNIPEG, July 24: (CP) — A cooling system delaying by one month the hatching of fish eggs and keeping fish in hatcheries until the fingerling stage is reached is expected to save millions of fish in Manitoba.

An experiment just completed at Dauphin River Fish Hatchery has proved successful and is likely to be adopted as a permanent policy by the Department of Natural Resources.

Last fall 5,000,000 whitefish eggs gathered from spawning grounds were kept in the hatchery all winter. A cooling system installed in the tanks retarded egg-hatching one month. Instead of hatching toward the end of April, as usual, they hatched at the end of May. Next step was to keep fish in the hatchery until they reached fingerling size instead of releasing them in waters of lakes as fish fry soon after hatching, which is the usual custom.

The result is that the fish go into the lake when feeding and weather conditions are at their best and they are big enough to withstand attacks of their natural enemies.

Mortality of whitefish fry placed in lakes in past years was estimated by A. G. Cunningham, director of game and fisheries, as high as 97 or 98 per cent. He looks to the new method to increase enormously the whitefish population.

ENDEAVOUR II SKIMS THROUGH THE WATER ON FIRST TRIAL RUN

T. O. M. Sopwith's new racing yacht, Endeavour 2nd, potential challenger for the America's cup, is sailing under racing rig for the first time since her arrival in the United States. She made a trip from the Herreshoff boat-yards at Bristol, R.I., down Narragansett Bay to Newport, R.I., sailing only for a short time under full sail and then with lowered fore jib, as shown in the above photo.

ing up with black cod or trolling for salmon. For the most of the fleet, however, the season will be over in a week to ten days.

Not so many boats will be as lucky as the Melville which went out Monday evening after selling its catch and was on the market again yesterday with 16900 pounds of halibut and within a few hours was away again for the last trip before the closing.

A new trolling boat 32 feet long is being launched today from the Machimoto Shipyard for Thomas and Oslar Smith of Masset. It is powered with a new Eastern Standard 16-18 engine, installation of which is just about complete and it is planned to leave tomorrow for Masset and put in a couple of months trolling before the season closes. Orders have been received for another similar craft 36 feet long to be built at the same yard.

Business along the waterfront is slowing down after a season in which most of the shops have been very busy. The Drydock has had a particularly busy season but at present they have not much work on hand. Advantage is being taken of the slack period to do some repair work in the yard, such as dock planking. A certain amount of maintenance

Oil Company which has recently built a new ramp for the convenience of planes landing at the port. The Union Company had one previously.

The distribution of the tourist business to include all boats plying up the coast has given a much better distribution of tourist business locally. Yesterday the C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide which is not usually a tourist ship, carried nearly forty round trip passengers and the Union boats carry a number on every trip and so does the Prince Charles on the Vancouver-Queen Charlotte Islands route. Most of these passengers are from United States points.

The Federal Fisheries Department reports that the sockeye pack of the province this year at the 17th of the month amounted to 70,750 cases as against 100,883 cases at the same date last year, 119,227 the year before and 169,626 in 1934. In 1932, however, the amount was only seven thousand cases more than this year.

The spring salmon catch is down over four thousand cases from last year at the 17th of July but up over the year 1935. Cohoes are down about fifteen thousand cases from last year but up five thousand cases over 1932.

According to the records the seasons vary a great deal for all varieties of fish.

Columbia Opens Films Division

Gotham College Recognizes Import of Movie in Cultural Life

NEW YORK, July 24: (CP)—Columbia University here has established a new division known as "Film Study" in recognition of "the growing serious interest in the motion picture as a new and vital mass art form that is profoundly characteristic of our time."

Director James C. Egbert of university extension described the object of the new division as "to further in every possible way the development of motion picture study and appreciation and to co-operate actively with other organizations and groups — both academic and non-academic — that have similar aims."

He said this was the first time an effort had been made to co-ordinate the study of motion pictures and to plan definitely for future development in the field.

"The status of the motion picture up until very recently," Dr. Egbert observed, "has hardly warranted serious recognition by university authorities. Now we feel that this has changed. The quality
