Unfair Treatment

Byron Johnson, member of the Legislature for Victoria, addressing the Credit Granters' Association at their annual meeting recently at Vancouver, stated that eastern manufacturers and dealers gained an unfair advantage over the western provinces from a high protective tariff, forcing British Columbia people to pay prices not only beyond their means but absurdly high in relation to those prevailing in the United States. At the same time the western producers had to sell in an open world market. For that reason he favored the appointment of a commission to investigate the relations of this province with the rest of the Dominion. He claimed that in one year the province paid a bonus of five million dollars to the manufacturers of the east. Under the Bennett loan plan, of which he spoke well, British Columbia received only $31,000 while Ontario and Quebec received more than two million dollars in loans. These are conditions that Premier Pattullo is trying to have rectified.

Period of Readjustment

One of the most common expressions used in recent years is "period of readjustment." It is a wonderful period in which to live and to know that the ills of the old days are being readjusted. In those days people took it for granted that many would suffer while few enjoyed life. Today we know that this condition is wrong and that we are passing through a long "period of readjustment." It will take many years, probably many centuries before the readjustments are satisfactory and even then there will be other adjustments to be made. The struggle of humanity for a better condition has been intensified since the war. Many conditions have been changed, but not always for the better. The danger is that, after changes have been made, the conditions may be worse than before.

Most people want to see every person happy but it is more difficult to move people in the mass than it is individually. A recent speaker here referred to the movement of people as similar to the movement of cattle. A herd of cattle he explained may be tired and each member of the herd may wish to lie down but the milling movement of the herd prevents it because any individual that attempted to lie down would be trodden upon and possibly killed by the rest of the herd. So today it is difficult for the individual to bring about a change unless he happens to be a great individual, strong mentally and physically and with a towering personality. That is what has brought about the conditions which have made dictators flourish in some countries. The herd was helpless, so a super-man took them in hand with whip and scourge and told them what to do and they did it.

To avoid a condition arising like that in any country it is necessary that the individuals of the nation be reasonable men, willing to adjust differences and work steadily toward that better time that is coming—the millennium.

DINNER OF MUSEUM BD.

Over Fifty Persons Attended Initial Annual Event Last Evening

Good Program

Unique Bill of Fare, Speeches And Music Pass Time Pleasantly

The first annual dinner meeting of the Northern British Columbia Museum members held last evening proved an outstanding success. Over fifty people attended and there were a number of excellent speeches, some good music and the bill of fare was, to say the least, unusual. The stuffed owl with formaldehyde sauce proved most appetizing and the sea-serpent steak was above suspicion. The general arrangements were in the capable hands of the president, R. L. McIntosh, Dr. Neal Carter and Dr. J. T. Mandy and much credit is due them for the excellent result. A new impetus was given to museum work by the admirable addresses and the support given.

The dinner menu was as follows: Hors D'Oeuvres — Lepidoptera wings; Picea sitchensis twigs. Soup—Potage olichan a la Naas. Entrees—Stuffed owl, formaldehyde sauce. Urched sea urchins. Piece D'Resistance—Sea-serpent steak. Jerked Bear, Pestled Mortars, Boiled slate totems.

Desserts—Iced Quartz, Candied Galena. Beverages—Labrador tea, Alcohol preservative. Cedar Bark chews, Assorted flints, Gall nuts.

McIntosh Presides

President McIntosh made an excellent chairman and supporting him at the head table were Mrs. R. L. McIntosh and Mrs. J. T. Mandy. Addresses were given by the president, City Commissioner W. J. Alder, Rev. Canon W. P. Rushbrook, Dr. J. T. Mandy, and Rev. W. H. Pierce. Dr. W. A. Riddell entertained with piano solos and also accompanied Tom Johnstone and Wilfrid Hicks in a very enjoyable clarinet duet. Mrs. Mandy gave a humorous monologue.

Those present were Dr. Neal Carter, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Stephens and Fred Jr., Mr. and Mrs. F. Dibb, Miss Margaret L. J. Halliwell, Miss S. A. Mills, Norman A. Watt, Albert Eyolfson, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Cripps, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Tobey, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. MacCallum, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Mandy, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, City Commissioner W. J. Alder, Mrs. Jessie Jacobs, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Thompson, Mrs. F. St. Amour, Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, L. West, W. K. Christenson, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. McCaffery, C. G. Ham, Miss Lois McRae, W. Barton, J. Bulger, H. F. Pullen, R. E. Mortimer, Jarvis H. McLeod, Max Heilbronner, H. F. McLeod, Theo Collart, G. L. Rorie, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McRae, W. J. Hicks, T. A. Johnstone, W. A. Riddell, Rev. W. H. Pierce and Rev. W. P. Rushbrook.

Board Re-elected

At the business meeting following the dinner the old members of the board were re-elected as follows: R. L. McIntosh, Mrs. J. B. Gibson, A. E. Parlow, Dr. J. T. Mandy, Rev. Canon Rushbrook, Rev. W. E. Collison, C. G. Ham, W. J. Alder, Dr. Neal Carter, H. F. Pullen.

In view of the large number of exhibits contributed by people outside of Prince Rupert and of the wide interest taken at outside points in the work of the museum, it was decided to change the name to the Museum of Northern British Columbia.

A vote of appreciation of the work done by the custodian and Mrs. Jones was passed and also a vote of thanks to Mrs. Gibson for the excellent work done by her as honorary secretary. Rev. W. H. Pierce was also accorded a vote of appreciation of his useful activities during the tourist season. Dr. Carter explained at some length the manner in which the donation from the Carnegie fund might be expended. A general note of optimism prevailed.

C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Nedden, with a fair-sized list of passengers, arrived in port at 10:30 this morning from Vancouver. Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

HOCKEY AT SMITHERS

Canucks Score Victory Over Elks Despite Strong Finish Of Latter

SMITHERS, Feb. 24.—The first game in the series of best three out of five to decide the winner of the Bamford Hockey Trophy in the Smithers Town League was played on Sunday afternoon between the leading Native Sons team and the Elks' team, which was runner-up, the Canucks winning 6 to 5.

The ice was in excellent condition and the weather was just right but there was not as large a crowd of enthusiasts on hand as might have been expected to witness first class hockey.

The Native Sons got away to a good start and outplayed their opponents in the first period which ended in a score of 2 to 0.

In the second period the Sons continued to outplay the Elks who did not seem to get going at all and the Sons kept on rolling up the score, this period ending with the 'count 6 to 1.

The third period was a different story altogether. It would appear that the manager of the Elks had read the Riot Act to his team during the rest period. From the time that they took the ice in the last period they also took possession of the puck and, showing the class that has distinguished them during the winter, they bombarded the goal of the Native Sons with shots from all angles and "Topsy" Robinson, who was looking after the nets for the Sons, was the busiest man on the ice for the remainder of the game. He succeeded in stopping many hot shots but the Elks had pushed five counters past him when the last bell rang. The Sons were lucky that they managed to hold on to part of the lead they had run up during the first two periods.

famous firm of railroad builders of Mackenzie and Mann. The Mackenzie farm was near the Burns farm and a life-long friendship sprang up between the two boys.

The story is told that at potato digging time, Mackenzie, who was seven years older than young Burns, was in charge of a field. The "picking" always fell to the younger boys, and so "Pat" was allotted this particular job. This was the beginning of a business association that later laid the foundation of the "P. Burns and Co. Ltd." meat trafficking industry which encircled the globe.

Rev. Commander O. T. Hodgson Is Buried at Sea

Died at Alert Bay Last Week After Years of Faithful Service On This Coast

It will come as a shock to his many friends in British Columbia and in England to learn of the sudden death at Alert Bay on Friday last of Rev. Oswald Tylston Hodgson, O.B.E., R.N. His body was taken south for cremation and his ashes were cast to sea.

"The Commander," as he was affectionately called, was a native of England, being born at Welcomb, Harpenden, Herts, a little over 55 years ago. He was educated at St. Vincent's, Eastbourne, Sussex, and in the naval training schools at Greenwich, Kent, and Allen's, Hampshire. He entered the navy in 1894 and in 1898 took a special college course. In June, 1920, he retired from active service in the navy with the title "Commander" and determined to devote the rest of his life to work for the Church in the mission field.

Commander Hodgson was ordained a deacon in St. Andrew's Cathedral, Prince Rupert, September 7, 1924, the Most Reverend Archbishop F. H. Du Vernet officiating and given charge of the Upper Stikine River with headquarters at Telegraph Creek where he worked under Archdeacon G. A. Rix as administrator until 1928 when he was ordained to the priesthood by the Most Rev. A. U. DePencier D.D., archbishop of New Westminster and carried on splendidly for several years under Bishop Rix, D.D. Later he resigned from the diocese of Caledonia to visit relatives and friends in England and Scotland, accepting work in England for a time and occupying many prominent positions while there.

Once again the call for work on this coast came and he returned to Canada. There was a vacancy at Alert Bay and to this parish he was appointed by the late Right Rev. C. D. Schofield, D.D., Bishop of Columbia.

In Commander Hodgson's death the church in general, the diocese of Caledonia and that of Columbia has lost a real friend, a man filled with love and devotion for the work of the Master.

He leaves to mourn his loss a twin brother—H. M. T. Hodgson, B. C. E. S. and family of Alberni Vancouver Island.

Silver Wedding Is Celebrated

Celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Meadows entertained a number of their friends Saturday night at their home on McBride Street. The evening was spent in playing monopoly, the prize winners being F. S. Walton and J. H. Norden who received silver spoons. A happy feature of the evening's proceedings was the presentation to the bride and groom of a quarter of a century ago of a beautiful silver pie dish and silver stand. Delicious refreshments were served, the handsome wedding cake, ornamented with a miniature bride and groom, being the gift of Mrs. F. S. Walton. Those present, besides Mr. and Mrs. Meadows, were Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Walton, Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Aspinall, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Norden, Mrs. W. H. Doodson, Miss Evie Rivett and Richard Meadows.

Mr. and Mrs. Meadows were married on February 20, 1912, in the Masonic Temple at Prince Albert, Sask. They have two sons, Ernest and Richard.

"Where shall the lover rest,
"Whom the fates sever
"From his true maiden's breast,
"Parted for ever?"

Even in the time of "Marmion," in which lively tale Scott wrote this sentimental verse, they used coal. The monks had been digging outcrops for hundreds of years before that, too. It was coal, but not like the coal of today.

Today also, there is coal—and there is Albert & McCaffery's coal, the best available for the last twenty years and the best today. It gives you the most heat for the least money—and that's what you want! And besides giving you the most heat, it's the most economical because—it lasts!

Next time you need coal, just phone 116 or 117 to Albert & McCaffery and order Nanaimo-Wellington for furnace and heater. For the kitchen range, ask for Egg size Balkan Minehead—Alberta sootless. Its trade name is "Inferno"—it's hot! And it lasts, too.

You deserve the best!

White People Are Half Baked According to Indian Story Told At Dinner by Rev. W. H. Pierce

Natives of This Part of Country Came From Asia And Are of Hebrew Descent Says Native Missionary—He Reads it From the Totems

When God created man he first made the white man. He took some clay and fashioned him and put him in an oven to bake. He made a mistake in taking him out of the oven too soon so the white man was always half baked, soft, unable to stand the strain of a hard life. God then fashioned another man and this one he left in the oven too long and he came out black. This was the Negro.

The third time God fashioned a man after his own image and this time he was more careful and took the work of his hands from the oven just at the right time and it came out a beautiful brown. That is the Indian, according to the story told by Rev. W. H. Pierce at the dinner of the Museum of Northern British Columbia held last evening. That was the story as told among themselves by the natives.

Mr. Pierce, whose mother was a native Tsimpsian and father a Scotsman, and who is 80 years of age, took a number of digs at the lack of ability of white people. He said he did not use notes like most white people when they spoke. God had given him a brain and he believed in using it rather than reading from a paper.

In opening his address he sang the Indian Paddle Song and expalined how effective it was when sung by four hundred people. He then went on to tell of questions asked by the tourists. One of these was: "Where did the Indians come from." His reply was that they came from Asia and they were descended from the Hebrews. They came to Alaska and overflowed southward for something like six hundred miles. All had similar totems and the same basic rules of life. No Indian would think of marrying a woman of his own clan. A wolf could not marry a wolf or a bear a bear. The totems indicated that this was the highest law. When an Indian set to work on a totem he prepared for the event. He left his wife and did not sleep at home for twenty nights. The totem carver had a vision and he had to carve that vision into the totem. So the people there that night had a vision of a museum. It was an infant and needed nursing but it was a splendid idea to preserve for future generations the traditions and customs of the early inhabitants. The young people of this city should know all about the life of the natives as it was lived before the white people came.

Speaking of the ability of the natives to live off the country Mr. Pierce said they had 260 varieties of food taken from the sea and land. It was because they ate those kinds of food that their teeth were so good.

In conclusion Mr. Pierce told about seeing a war between natives arising out of a quarrel over the trading of oilchian grease for other things natives needed. Forty boats had come from the Queen Charlotte Islands but only twenty returned. The water in the bay at Port Simpson was red with blood. Happily Christianity had changed this and he was glad he had done a little toward making this change.

Commissioner Alder
Commissioner Alder spoke of the great pleasure it gave him to see such a gathering on this occasion. He urged the value of the museum. It was being mentioned in various places in the United States and undoubtedly was a splendid publicity factor for Prince Rupert. The totems in the park made the finest collection on the coast. There was not one of them less than 75 years

TWO STRONG FILMS HERE

"Three Wise Guys," With Robert Young and Betty Furness And "White Hunter," With Warner Baxter

The comedy drama "The Three Wise Guys," starring Robert Young and Betty Furness, and the sensational drama "The White Hunter," with Warner Baxter and June Lang, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre this mid-week in a double bill of exceptional strength.

"Three Wise Guys" is the humorous story of a spendthrift boy and a girl who lives on the dangerous edge of society who redeem their lives in a great love in spite of "Three Wise Guys" who wanted it otherwise. Young is cast as a railroad executive's son who is cut off when he decides to reform and marry the girl he loves. Betty Furness enacts the "front" for two crooks who run into trouble when she steers the straight and narrow path. Beautiful costumes are one of the features of the picture.

In "The White Hunter" Warner Baxter is seen as a colorful hunter who accepts a commission to guide a big game expedition through a strangely wild country. Included in the party are Wilfrid Lawson, a powerful munitions magnate; Gail Patrick, his wayward wife; June Lang, his beautiful daughter by a former marriage. After departure, Baxter finds Lawson is a bitter enemy. There is a tense hate-laden atmosphere in spite of which romance develops, all culminating in a dramatic climax.

standing. He had a vision of a fire-proof structure resembling an Indian community house surrounded by beautiful gardens in the park off Fraser Street. He urged all to become museum conscious so that the work might be extended. The value of such a structure to the city and surrounding country would be great.
