IRISH VOTE TOMORROW

Changes Since Last Election Put New Face on Free State's Political Map

DUBLIN, June 30: (CP)—Irish Free State voters go to the polls tomorrow with the electoral map much altered by redistribution legislation of 1935 and membership of the Dail reduced from 153 to 138.

While redistribution decreased parliamentary membership, it increased the number of constituencies from 30, as in the 1933 election, to 34 for the present campaign. All boroughs and counties have multiple membership with the alternative vote system of election.

Among historic names erased in the new listing are Dublin University and National University, while Kildare is hyphenated to Carlow and Kerry, Galway and Donegal are split into two ridings each.

The Fianna Fail with 77 in the last House, is President de Valera's party and the Fine Gael, with 53, the major opposition, a merger of the old "Cumann na nGaedheal" with farmers and centre party, led by William T. Cosgrave. Labor, headed by William Norton, had eight members and Independents, 12. There were three vacancies.

Present Standing

Standing of the parties in the Irish Free State at dissolution this year as compared with the result of the 1933 election follows:

Table with 4 columns: Party, 1937, 1933. Rows: Fianna Fail (75, 77), Independent FF (2, 0), Fine Gael (53, 59), Independent (12, 9), Labor (8, 8), Vacancies (3, 0).

Totals 153 153

Vacancies at dissolution were in National University and Longford-Westmeath caused by appointment of two Fianna Fail members as judges, and in Cork West owing to the death of a Fine Gael member.

Plane Believed To Have Reached Its Destination

As no reports have been received of any planes being missing, it is believed that a red wheel-equipped biplane, bound from Seattle to Juneau with Pilot Hayne Christiansen at the controls, which was reported to have been seen flying low over Hazelton and Kispiox last Thursday in poor flying weather, must have reached its destination safely. The machine took off from Prince George on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 and about an hour and a half later was sighted flying low over Hazelton headed in the general direction of Telegraph Creek and Whitehorse.

Bank of England Reaction

The fall in price of mining and industrial stocks has been ascribed to the fear that gold values would be reduced and that the strike situation in the United States would tend to lessen profits of industrial concerns.

So far as the price of gold is concerned, it is pointed out in England that it is hardly likely that the Bank of England would have been a large purchaser of gold if it thought the price of the metal likely to drop in the near future. The price has been pegged for some time at $35 an ounce and it is expected to remain there. So far as industrial disputes are concerned, the considered opinion in the United States is that the industrial strike movement has pretty well shot its bolt and that the people of the country have gone the limit in toleration. It is quite probable, as a result, that there will be a tendency to get down to business very soon.

It may be fall before the price of securities makes a decided advance or it may take place at any time. When it does there is a possibility that the rise will be very considerable. The monied interests of the continent are undoubtedly trying to stem the tide of speculation which was threatening to cause a minor panic. They have been successful in putting back values to somewhere near where they belong or perhaps lower than they should be in many cases. But they will not stay put. We have not yet learned how to control the desire of a large section of the community to get rich quick. They are bound to gamble on something and the stock exchange is just as good a gamble as a horse race, possibly better, if kept within reasonable bounds.

New Airplane Base

The announcement that Queen Charlotte Islands is to have an airplane base will be good news to the people on the islands. While it will not mean very much to them financially, it will put them on the air map and have the effect of drawing public attention to them and their commercial possibilities. It is welcome news to Prince Rupert, for this city is always pleased at anything which tends to help the Islands.

Man in the Moon

The sun woke up this morning and smiled briefly as he viewed this beautiful world once more after being asleep for a week.

Jake says he has only just got over the big Japanese banquet of Saturday night. It's not often he gets an opportunity to drink so many toasts on so happy an occasion.

I want you all
Before you drink
To shut your eyes
And kindly think
Of the fat distiller
Who made the rum
And the down and out
Who is on the bum;
Of the governments good
Which take a share
Of the onerous tax
Which the liquors bear.
Then drink a toast,
As revellers will,
To the man who invented
The liquor still,
To lighten our hearts
And lighten our pockets
And help us to fill
The magistrate's dockets.

A candidate for parliamentary honors was addressing a meeting of workmen when his nationality was challenged by a member of the audience. "I am an Englishman," he replied, "born and bred, and I shall remain an Englishman all my life." Whereupon a Scot at the back of the hall shouted: "Mon, h'ae ye no ambeetion?"

SPENT DAY ON SKEENA

Capt. Hadano and Officers and Cadets of Kaiwo Maru Visit Cannery Points

Capt. Z. Hadano and officers and cadets of the Japanese training ship Kaiwo Maru, to the number of about eighty, spent yesterday on the Skeena River visiting the salmon canneries and other points of interest. Departure from the city was made at 8 o'clock in the morning aboard several boats provided by the various cannery companies and the party returned to port at 8 o'clock last night.

The first cannery to be visited was North Pacific where H. W. Harris, manager, and C. E. Avis, accountant, extended a welcome and showed the visitors through the plant where salmon was being canned. Before departure, each guest was presented with a can of spring salmon.

Arrival was made at Port Essington at noon. Japanese residents of that village were out in full strength to extend a welcome. Luncheon in honor of the visitors was served in the Japanese Hall. The meal was in Japanese style and M. Ohashi was chairman, extending a message of welcome. Other speakers appropriate to the occasion were S. Nakagawa and T. S. Shimizu as well as Captain Hadano who expressed appreciation for hospitality. During the serving of refreshments entertainment was provided by the Japanese of Port Essington and by members of the personnel of the Kaiwo Maru. Later captain, officers and cadets visited the Port Essington cemetery to place a wreath on the Japanese section. Captain Hadano also spoke briefly at the Skeena Fishermen's Association Hall in Port Essington, again expressing appreciation of the welcome which had been extended.

Return to Prince Rupert was made by way of Carlisle and Claxton canneries. More canneries would have been visited had time permitted.

The boats used were the Canadian Fishing Co.'s Skeena M. and Carlisle S. by courtesy of C. E. Salter, A. D. Matheson and D. McPherson; the Anglo-British Columbia Packing Co.'s Tanesee by courtesy of H. W. Harris and C. E. Avis; the B. C. Packers Elva M. by courtesy of Thomas Wallace and J. H. Todd & Son's and Shuchona V. by courtesy of R. G. Johnston.

Owing to the Dominion Day holiday the Prince Rupert Rotary Club luncheon has been postponed from tomorrow until Friday. It will take the form of a business meeting.

... and thousands of Canadian Workers will profit by his purchase

JIM MACDONALD comes beaming into the kitchen where Sally, his wife, has biscuits all ready for the oven. "Well, I did it Mother, I bought the car we looked at last night. Let's hurry through supper and take the kids out before dark."

Jim is bursting with pride in his new possession, and Sally is bursting with pride in Jim. It's a big moment in their lives — it's taken a good deal of planning and saving but they've done it at last, and they're happy. Jim may not know it, but his purchase, like the purchases of countless other Jims, brings happiness to thousands of Canadian homes. It means continued employment, to Canadian automotive workers, steel workers, rubber, paint and textile workers and the men and women in scores of other industries.

So Jim Macdonald is really a big employer of Canadian labour. And a large part of the money he paid for his car will come back to him in his weekly pay because his firm sells goods to many makers of automotive parts. Thus it is that each thriving Canadian industry helps to create prosperity in all other Canadian industries. The Automotive Industries of Canada put millions of dollars into Canadian Workers' pockets each year in wages and through the purchase of Canadian produced supplies and materials.

According to a circular letter received from the Home Improvement Plan headquarters in Vancouver, Prince Rupert people have taken only four loans, the total of the four being $1,475. The total loans for the Dominion is slightly higher than three million dollars, according to the same authority.

Rev. Evan Baker, for some years United Church pastor at Anyox and Stewart and formerly located at Rupert East here, was a passenger aboard the Catala yesterday going through to Vancouver, having been transferred to St. James Church in that city. Mrs. Baker and family are already in Vancouver. Mr. Baker's successor at Stewart is to be Rev. Arthur L. Anderson of Vancouver, a newly ordained graduate of theological college.

Green Pastures Joy to Farmers

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., June 30.—After eight dry years at Bracken, Sask., on the southwestern Saskatchewan border, Roy May and Arthur Miller feasted their eyes on green grass and trees and well watered farm lands at Kakabeka Falls, 18 miles west of here, and decided that was the place for them.

They are typical western farmers who have seen good times and bad. It was exactly eight years ago they had sufficient rain at Bracken to produce a big crop. This year they determined to move out.

Once on the Kakabeka farm their cattle and horses, which had not seen green grass for a year, made for the verdurous pastures. But they were permitted to browse for only a short time, for it was feared the sudden change would make them ill.

Bernice Palmer says . . .

It is quite a time since we "went Mexican" so, after a heavy day of shopping, I decided once more to lunch at "El Azteca Inn" (for you who plan a visit to Oakland, the address is 3824 Grand Ave.) and Mr. Cuellar, obliging as always, gave me the recipe for the grandest apple sauce. With B. C. apples so red and luscious, you will certainly want this one for your files:

DULCE DE MANZANA (Apple Sauce)

Five medium size cooking apples, 1 small orange, 1 1/4 cups water, 2 cups sugar, grated Parmesan or American cheese.

Peel and grate apples, quarter unpeeled orange. In heavy saucepan combine apple, orange, sugar and water; cook slowly 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until thick and apples are transparent, stirring occasionally.

Serve cold, sprinkled with grated cheese. Serves 6 to 8.

And here is something not quite so far from home, a company dinner to put on when you want to impress some of the women present. Why the name, I couldn't say but, in any case, it is chicken in good company.

COUNTRY CAPTAIN CHICKEN

Four pounds chicken, 1 onion, 2 cloves garlic (may be omitted), 1/2 cup celery diced, 2 large cans tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 1/2 cup blanched almonds, small green pepper, bacon fat.

Prepare chicken for stewing, cover with water and cook until meat falls from bones (about 3 hours). Remove bones, and cut meat in small pieces. While meat is cooking, fry chopped onion, garlic, green pepper and diced celery in bacon fat until soft but not brown. Add tomatoes, broth from chicken, curry powder, salt and pepper. Simmer until well blended and gravy thick, or thicken if necessary. Last add almonds, cut in slivers. Add chicken to gravy and reheat. Serve over rice or hominy grits. Garlic bobs up in so many recipes you had better practise now the right way to use it, as garlic is one seasoning you must learn to use with discretion!

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK

In spite of the rain, those who have Day Lilies (Hemerocallis) in their gardens have a bright spot that keeps bright in spite of weather conditions. No staking is needed usually and they bloom through a longer period than most perennials.

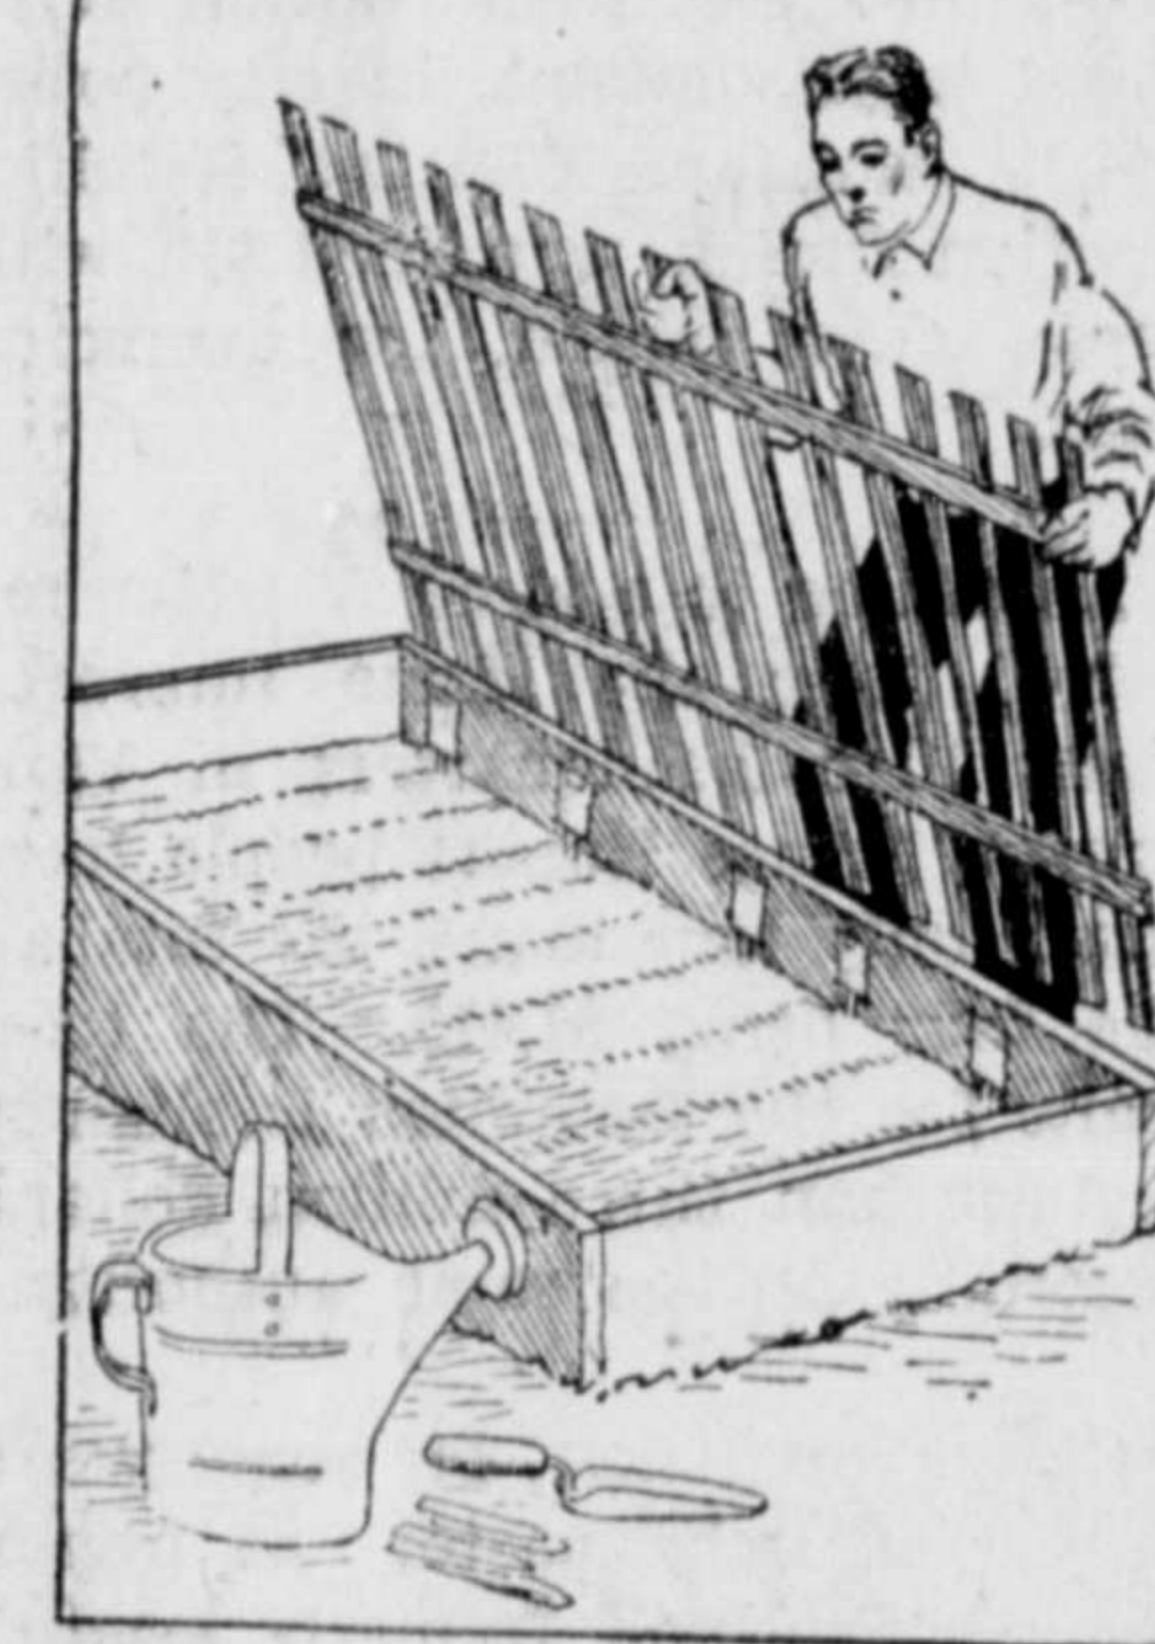

Usually the only day lily seen in Prince Rupert is the lemon yellow variety, the one from which the others seem to have been produced. There are on the market, however, a great variety of colors and plants that bloom early and late so that a good collection would provide bloom during most of the summer. I suggest that, as this flower does well in Prince Rupert and needs little care, it should become very popular. As a good many people do not seem to know the day lily, there is one blooming in my garden just now. Its lemon color garden cannot be mistaken.

This is a time when the weeds are likely to get ahead of us. It is only by determined effort that they can be kept from overrunning the garden just now. I like to do a little each day, never failing to pull at least a few weeds sometime between sunrise and sunset. Once they get ahead, it is difficult to get rid of them.

A flower that grows well in Prince Rupert is the pink. The winter before last was very hard on them and a good many people lost all or nearly all their plants but it is not difficult to get started again. They stand most of the frosts we have here and they always give good returns in bloom. There are many shades of double and single pinks, all more or less hardy. I like those that are fragrant because they appeal to both the nose and the eye.

The gardens were late starting this spring and the blooming season has been further retarded by the rainy weather of the past week or two. I have noticed that almost every year there is bad weather when the Oriental poppies are in bloom and the rain messes them up terribly. That is one reason why I am not very keen on these flowers. It is annoying to keep a large plant for a year and then have the bloom spoiled by weather conditions.

Those who were not careful to tie up their growing plants such as delphiniums will have found a good many of them damaged by the rain and wind. It is because of the danger of the plants being blown down that a great many people do not grow delphiniums. They must be securely tied with stakes reaching right to the bloom in order to insure satisfactory flowers and even then I have had young blooms whipped off by sudden gusts of wind. They do best against a wall or in front of leafy shelter.

It is curious how some flowers will bloom so much earlier than others. I find that particularly true of begonias. One or two plants will often be in bloom several weeks, perhaps a month, earlier than the others. Sometimes one plant is early and sometimes another but

CHINESE WOOLFLOWER. Celosia. PLUMED OR OSTRICH FEATHER.

As I mentioned once before, the lilies seem to be blooming very well this year. Prince Rupert seems to be well adapted to the culture of this flower especially the bulbous ones, such as the English or Spanish. Many complain that the Japanese iris often fails to bloom. At my Graham Avenue garden I had some bearded iris that failed to bloom for several seasons. This year when I moved I left them behind and they had a wonderful bloom.

The weather has injured most of the pyrethrums or painted daisies. If the blooms are badly injured by the rain and wind, cut them off and the plants will bloom again. It is difficult to tie them up if they have been allowed to flop around on the ground.—H. F. P.

Dinosaur Stood About 35 Feet

Lived Millions of Years Ago In What is Now America, Expert Says

NEW YORK, June 30: (CP)—Discovery in the middle western states of the skeleton of a huge dinosaur which waddled over primeval ooze in the Mesozoic Period, perhaps 100,000,000 years ago, was revealed by Dr. Barnum Brown, curator of fossil reptiles at the American Museum of Natural History. Location of the remains of the nightmarish creature, possibly the tallest ever to exist, is considered one of the most remarkable geological "finds" of recent years.

Dr. Brown will head an expedition from the museum to dig up the bones he discovered embedded in the Mesa Verde rock formation near Rock Springs, Wyo.

So far, Dr. Brown explained, this particular type of dinosaur has been known only by the fossilized imprints of his gigantic paws, which measured four feet from the heel to the tip of the middle of three toes and nearly three feet across. Dr. Brown has unearthed several of the tracks of these monsters during his geological researches in Wyoming, Utah and Colorado. He recently took a cast of one at the Chesterfield Coal Mine, in Sego, Utah.

The toe-pads of this gigantic track, said the scientist, show that it was made by an iguanodont dinosaur, a kangaroo-shaped herbivore, similar to, but very much larger than, the iguanodonts of Belgium and England.

"In a Colorado mine several tracks of one individual are preserved in a walking stride measuring 16 feet between the impressions. Compared with the Tyrannosaurus, which was 18 1/2 feet high and could step nine feet, this mysterious dinosaur should measure 30 to 36 feet in height, by far the tallest creature so far known to have existed in nature.

HAVE PLENTY of HOT WATER

need this summer
with ELECTRICITY

•Summer is the season when one feels the need of continuous hot water the most. For hot, humid days are no time for building fires to heat a supply of hot water. How much better it is to have always on tap, summer and winter, an ample supply of hot water — for dishes, baths, cleansing of floors and woodwork, the daily family laundry, and other uses.

•The modern electric water heater is efficiency itself. Specially designed heating units are immersed directly in the water; they heat it to any temperature you desire and keep it hot. There is no waste of either heat or current and you always have plenty of hot water when you want it.

Every home may now enjoy the comfort and convenience of electric water-heating. A modest down payment takes care of installation; then small monthly sums added to your lighting bill soon pay for the heater. Ask any of our employees for full particulars.

Barney Francis Training Son

Indian Runner Says Own Star Is Set But Youngster Should Be Good in Few Years

CHARLOTTETOWN, June 30: (CP)—Barney Francis, Indian resident of Sackville, N.B., who at one time was known as the "King of the Maritime milers" when he brought renown to himself and the Charlottetown Abegweit Club, appeared in excellent shape during a visit here with the exception of a pair of injured hands and a few more pounds of avoirdupois than he used to carry. The stocky runner's steady gait and flashing finishes made him a familiar figure on Maritime tracks. One of his greatest thrills, he recalled, was the 35th Annual Dominion Track and Field Championships at Halifax, September 17, 1923, when he streaked the mile distance in four minutes 32 1/2 seconds to clip a second from the Maritime record then held by Hans Holmes of the Crescent A.A.C.

Although on the retired list Barney is still actively interested in sport and bemoaned the fact that track and field in this province is now "badly" on the decline. Quizzed as to a comeback, he smiled casually and reckoned he could still show the present day plodders "a thing or two," but believed his "star was set." However, Barney said he had a young son whom he was training for middle distance running. "The youngster should be good in a few years."

SMOKER TO JAPANESE

Canadian Legion Entertains Kaiwo Maru Personnel—Jiu Jitsu And Fencing Displays

Exhibitions of the Japanese athletic pursuits of Judo (Jiu Jitsu) and kendo (fencing) staged by teams from the visiting training ship Kaiwo Maru proved outstanding features of interest at the smoker which was staged last night by the Canadian Legion in honor of the captain, officers and cadets of the vessel from across the Pacific. It was, no doubt, the first time that the most of the local people present had seen such a splendid display of these actionful and strength-requiring forms of sport and the agility as well as the earnest manner in which the combatants went about the business were a revelation to all. The ejaculations of the barefooted contestants, wearing typical costumes, added zest to the combats. Jiu jitsu is a form of wrestling of which the most of sport followers have some idea. Not so many, however, have seen the Japanese fencing in which heavy bamboo sticks are used between heavily padded and guarded contestants. Third Officer Y. Kohayagawa was referee. The Legion Hall had been especially decorated for the occasion of the smoker with the use of both British and Japanese flags and colors while the tables had vases of poppies, other flowers and miniature flags. Jack Preece, president of the Canadian Legion, was in the chair and was assisted in connection with the announcements by J. S. Wilson, secretary of the Legion, and Sadao Suga of the Prince Rupert Japanese Association.

The proceedings opened with the usual one minute silence after which "O Canada" was sung followed by the British and Japanese national anthems.

President Preece, speaking briefly, welcomed Capt. Hadano and the personnel of the Kaiwo Maru. The Japanese had been allies in war and were friends in peace. That these amicable relations should continue was the hope of all.

Capt. Hadano, in his reply, expressed thanks for the hospitality which had been extended. He extended an invitation to all possible to attend the 1940 Olympic Games. Violin solos by Bert Cameron, accompanied by Al Small, were followed by community singing led by J. S. Wilson. Then there was a solo by Wright Davies.

A Japanese song, "March of the Japanese Navy" by five cadets was an item of outstanding interest.

Peace Important
J. S. Wilson proposed the toast to the guests. The great problem of the world today was to maintain friendly relations between the nations. He thought this was even more important matter than the development of trade which was, after all, to some extent a symbol of friendship. That the visit of the Kaiwo Maru would be of value along this line was his hope.

Sadao Suga, replying to this toast, expressed appreciation of the hospitality which had been shown. He referred to the service of protection the Japanese had rendered the British Columbia coast during the Great War, also how Japanese had enlisted in the Canadian Army for overseas service, fifty-three of whom had laid down their lives. That the friendship of the two nations would continue with a free and full intercourse was to be hoped.

Second Wireless Operator O. Arima played harmonica solos which showed much talent. His selections were "La Paloma" and "Japanese Navy March." Operator Arima is a member of the Yokohama Olympic Club and will have an active part in connection with the arrangements for the 1940 Olympic Games.

J. A. Teng rendered vocal solos.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Gladys Mildred Letnes Becomes Bride of Renhold Waldemer Anderson

A pretty and interesting wedding took place quietly at 6:30 last evening at St. Peter's Anglican Church, Seal Cove, when Miss Gladys Mildred Letnes, daughter of Mrs. M. B. Letnes and the late Martin Letnes, became the bride of Renhold Waldemer Anderson, Rev. J. E. Birchall, the rector, officiated.

The bride appeared charming indeed in a white satin floor length ensemble with orange blossoms at the throat. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers in pastel shades. Her veil was the one which her mother wore thirty-four years ago when she was married.

The bride was attended by her mother.

Gordon Letnes was the groomsmen.

A wedding supper was held later at the bride's home where the occasion was suitably honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will reside in Prince Rupert.

LOCAL NEWS

Col. J. W. Nicholls and son, John, returned to the city from the south on the Prince Rupert this afternoon.

E. T. Kenney, M. L. A. for Skeena is paying a brief business visit to the city. He arrived on last night's train from Terrace and will be returning to the interior this evening.

The Moose Legion was in regular session last night with business of a routine nature. Great North Moose A. K. Nelson was in the chair over a fair attendance of members.

Jeffrey White, Fred Jones and Johnson Marks, Indians, were each fined $10, with option of seven days' imprisonment, by Magistrate McClymont in city police court yesterday afternoon for drunkenness.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Stewart, who made the round trip north to Skagway from Vancouver following their return from the south, disembarked here from the steamer Prince George Monday and will be taking up residence in the city for some time.

Mrs. J. A. Fraser, who has been on a trip south, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this afternoon from Vancouver, accompanied by her son, Constable Percy Fraser of the mounted department of the provincial police stationed at Burnaby who will pay a week's visit here.

The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative packer Ogden was in today with 500 pounds of salmon from Squadaree and 3600 pounds from Banks Island. The Azurite was in with 2400 pounds from Dundas and 600 pounds from Zayas. The troller Bothnia, Capt. Mike Happala, brought in 3,000 pounds and the Judy, Capt. Hans Peterson, 2,000 for which the advance price of 9c and 6c was paid.

New Secretary Museum Board Was Welcomed

Many People From Outside See Local Collection of Curios But Few Local Residents

At the regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Museum Board, the vice-president, Rev. Canon Rushbrook, welcomed the new secretary, Robert Bartlett, to a seat on the board and congratulated the organization on having secured a capable secretary.

The custodian reported that during the month of June there had been 479 visitors and the sum of $41.30 had been paid in cash for admission.

It was the subject of comment that so few Prince Rupert people had visited the museum and those who had recently done so had been surprised at the excellence of the collection.

The vice-president reported that a number of local students were making an interest in the flower collecting competition which was being carried on, the time for which had been extended to November 1 in order that the collectors may have an opportunity to secure the advice and help of their teachers before submitting their collections to the committee.

Considerable routine business was conducted.

LIBERALS SWEEP TO POWER

books for pupils of the public schools up to and including grade eight. This pledge has been kept.

Another pledge that aroused general interest was the program of highway paving. Many miles of paved roads had been put down in the last four years and by the end of next year, every trunk road in the province would be paved, said Premier Macdonald, adding that "in the meantime, more money has been spent on secondary roads since 1933 than ever before."

Finally came the question of finance. Claiming a surplus of $151,000 at the end of 1936, the first surplus in the province for 13 years, Liberals compared this with the deficit of $1,618,000 in 1933. "We have done this without any substantial increase in the tax burden of the average man," they added.

Increase in succession duties on large estates, in taxes on banks and corporations and in the gasoline tax had been more than offset, the Liberal party claimed, by decrease in motor car operating licenses, the whole sale price of gasoline, the abolition of the highway poll tax for men between the ages of 18 and 21, and a reduction in rates at the Sanitarium at Kentville.

ICE DANCE FEATURED

"One in a Million" Provides Exciting and Novel Entertainment For Holiday

Featuring dazzling dances by Sonja Henie with her silvery skates on shimmering ice, the novel comedy-romance "One in a Million" comes as a feature offering of outstanding interest at the Capitol Theatre for the Dominion Day holiday mid-week. The plot has to do with a troupe of American novelty entertainers who, in straightened circumstances, are travelling through Europe under the management of Adolphe Menjou. There are many adventures and complications with a thrilling climax to bring the story to a rousing conclusion. It is typical holiday entertainment.

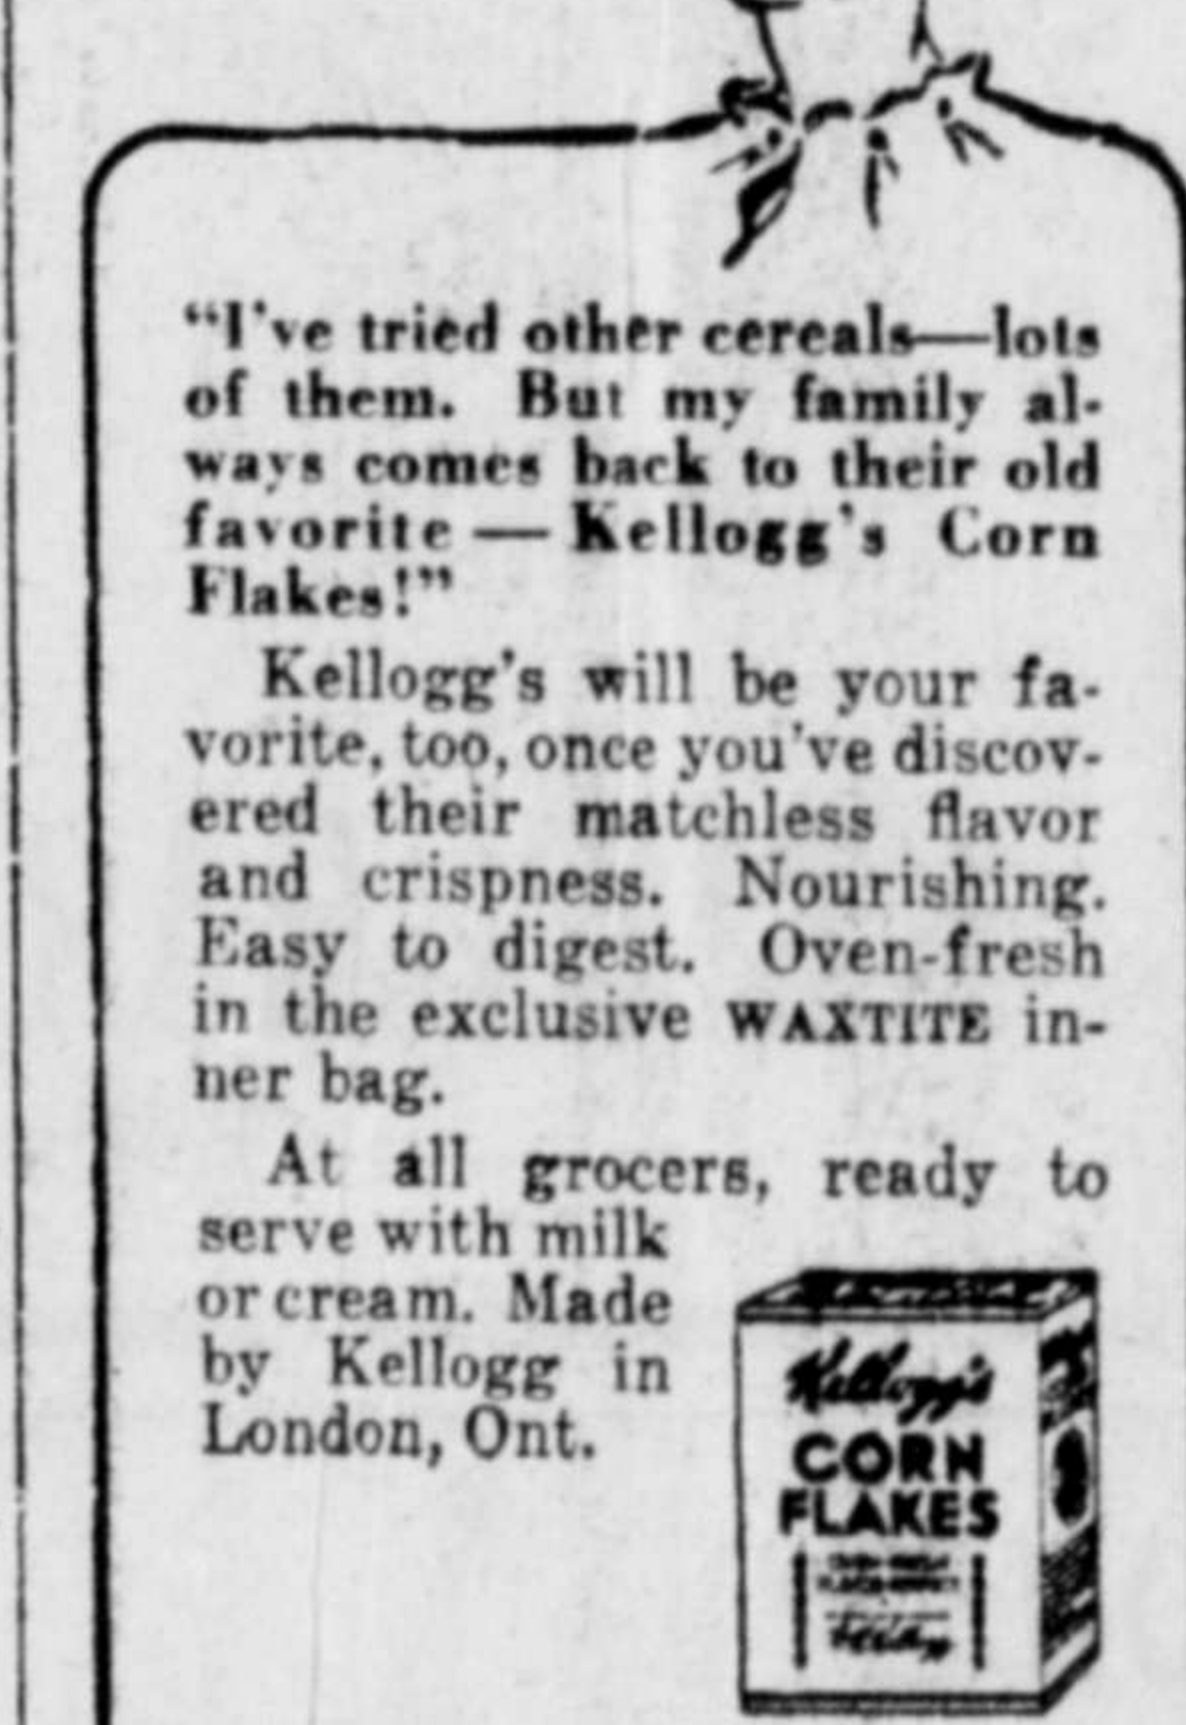

Don Ameche plays opposite Miss Henie in the romantic lead. Adolphe Menjou gives an hilarious performance. Jean Hersholt is as lovable as ever. Ned Sparks deadens his way to new laugh highs. The Ritz Brothers provide fantastic comedy. Arline Judge is captivating and comical. Borrah Minevitch and his gang play torrid rhythms on their harmonicas and Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray and Shirley Deane contribute beauty and splendour. There are many song hits and the whole entertainment is said to be exceedingly exhilarating and novel.

ESSINGTON CHILDREN HERE

Japanese school children to the number of about fifty from Port Essington, in the city in connection with the visit of the Japanese training ship Kaiwo Maru, were shown around the city and also visited the ship on Monday.

P. Hackett and daughter arrived in the city on the Catala yesterday from Premier for a visit here. Mrs. Hackett has already been here for the past week or so in connection with the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Shenton.
