PATTULLO MESSAGE

Delivers Greetings to Liberal Candidates in Election Contest

Following is the text of a telegram that has been sent by Premier T. D. Pattullo to each Liberal candidate in the provincial election:

"In extending cordial congratulations to my colleagues in the government and all other representatives of the Liberal party who are candidates in this election, may I say that we must all remember that the Liberal party is only a means to an end, that end being the welfare of the people.

"I firmly believe that the Liberal party is the only equipped and effective political organization through which our people can be served governmentally at the present time. In support of this belief, we have a record of achievement, we have definite progressive plans for the future and we have the knowledge, experience and determination to put these plans into effect.

"I appreciate deeply the honor of leading the Liberal party. I shall feel myself right with you all through the campaign, confident that you will give of your best to achieve victory. We have hosts of tried and true campaigners and many recruits actively and enthusiastically in support. En avant."

STOCK MART IS NERVOUS

Band of Security Prices is Continuing Steadily Downward

NEW YORK, May 18. (CP)—Wall Street trading was nervous yesterday owing to rumors of a possible federal curb on trading. Industrial average at closing was off 1.76; rails off .77, and utilities, off .43, the last-mentioned reaching a new low for the year. Due to continued labor troubles in this country and the unsettled international situation, the trend has been steadily and sharply downward of late in both New York and Toronto as well as other markets.

He was quite severely bruised but it was stated that his condition was not serious.

Premier is Given Good Reception

Addressed Meetings at Stewart and Port Simpson While in North

Premier Pattullo at Stewart on Friday night addressed an enthusiastic meeting. W. J. Asselstine, Liberal candidate for re-election in Atlin, also addressed the meeting. J. McLean was chairman. On arrival at Prince Rupert after visiting Stewart, Premier Pattullo said that Mr. Asselstine's re-election in Atlin seemed assured.

Premier Pattullo paused at Port Simpson at noon Friday and, during his stay, addressed a meeting at that point. There were about forty present and Dr. A. E. Perry occupied the chair. A cordial reception was given the Premier.

TIRANA, May 18. (CP)—Government troops, meeting with little opposition, are reported to have marched into Argyrokastr and Tepebeni in Southern Albania, crushing a sudden Communist revolt which flared near the Greek frontier Saturday. The revolutionary movement is said to have failed completely after troops routed rebels on Progi Mountain. King Zog announced last night that the revolt had been completely smashed.

Mother of Quads Unaware of Her Babes Being Dead

MONTREAL, May 18. Lying in a hospital bed, the thirty-year old mother slept, not knowing that her children were dead. She bore the three boys and girl in the front bedroom of her home in suburban Maisonneuve.

MODERATE IS CALLED

Fervish Efforts Result in Forming Spanish Government—Caballero Refuses

Rebels Advance

Insurgents Are Encircling Bilbao—Hunter Investigation Continues

VALENCIA, May 18. (CP)—Dr. Juan Negrin, who has succeeded in forming a new Spanish government, is a member of the moderate section of the Socialist party which is under the leadership of Indalecio Prieto, former minister of air and navy. President Manuel Azana conferred through the night with the party leader in the hope of being able to designate a new Premier and thus cut short the governmental crisis precipitated Saturday by the resignation of Caballero. Last night success was announced. The new ministry includes three Socialists, two Communists, one leftist Republican and one Basque Nationalist. Catalan anarchists, whose activities precipitated the latest 48-hour crisis are not represented. No mention was made in the cabinet list of the powerful trade union organization—the anarcho-syndicalist national labor confederation or the Socialist general workers' union. Today Dr. Negrin disclosed plans for the abolishment of the superior war council, the cabinet to assume the council's functions. The central general staff will be reorganized and the scope increased. It is the sixth new cabinet for Spain since the civil war commenced.

Spain's insurgent northern armies are reported to be creeping at a snail's pace toward Bilbao, their goal for a month and a half. Lines were straightened on a long and curving front some ten miles from the Basque capital yesterday. General Franco's insurgent command announced today that its armies had "completely dominated" the important Basque town of Amorebieta and that columns were pushing on toward Bilbao, nine miles to the northwest. Insurgents reported Amorebieta in flames and, apparently, empty of defenders.

Unconfirmed reports said that insurgent help from the sea is imminent to enable General Franco's forces to completely encircle Bilbao. A fleet of insurgent transports, guarded by warships, was reported to have been sighted off the Spanish Biscayan coast but these advices could not be verified.

Ship Probe Continues

LONDON, May 17. (CP)—With a view to definitely fixing responsibility, the British Admiralty is continuing its investigation in connection with the incident last week off the government held city of Almeria, Spain, when the destroyer Hunter was rocked by an explosion and eight men killed.

Despite insistence of Spanish government sources at Valencia and Almeria that the blast was caused by an attack from a German submarine, it is still officially believed that the explosion occurred through the Hunter striking a floating mine laid during the civil war. There is talk of a stern protest being made.

The destroyer was on duty on the southern Spanish coast as a unit of the international "Hands Off Spain" patrol when she struck the floating mine. In addition to the eight killed, fourteen other members of the crew were injured.

Canada's Trade Takes Big Jump

OTTAWA, May 18. (CP)—Canada's external trade soared nearly $25,000,000 in April compared with April last year, the National Revenue Department announces.

GAS CELL TROUBLE

No Evidence of Bombing or Sabotage of German Dirigible Hindenburg

LAKEHURST, N.J., May 18.—Testifying at the federal inquiry into the recent explosion which destroyed the great German dirigible Hindenburg, one of those on board the ship yesterday expressed the belief that the blast came from above. The opinion now veers to the belief that it might have originated in one of the gas cells. No definite evidence whatever has been adduced to indicate bombing or sabotage of any kind in connection with the destruction of the great ship.

Anti-Jewish Movement In Poland Is On

WARSAW, Poland, May 18. (CP)—Poland's Jews are still expressing grave fears of a national wave of anti-Semitic violence after a night of rioting late last week at the town of Brzesc. Some Jewish shops were demolished and others were ruined. Jewish residents were barricaded in their homes. The Brzesc riots began after a policeman, stabbed in a fight with a Jewish butcher, died.

AIR RACE IS BANNED

United States Department of State Will Not Permit Sprint Over Atlantic to Paris Fair

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 18.—The Department of State has notified the French ambassador that it cannot permit the proposed Lindbergh memorial air race across the Atlantic Ocean from New York to the Paris Exposition this year. The undertaking is held to be a hazardous one which would involve needless risk of life.

Yukon and Back In Speedy Time

Aircraft Used to Get Election Machinery Into Motion

In the course of a speedy week-end flight north with election documents, Pilot Charles Elliott and P. Walker, deputy provincial secretary, hopped off from Vancouver on Saturday morning and, after making a stop at Stewart, spent that night at Juneau. On Sunday they went into Atlin, McDames and Telegraph Creek with the documents and arrived at Prince Rupert after 10 o'clock Sunday night. Yesterday afternoon they flew back to Vancouver from here, reaching there last night after a five and a half hour flight with stop at Alert Bay for refuelling.

Pilot Elliott expects to return to Prince Rupert on Thursday enroute to Stewart and intends to spend the rest of the summer engaged in mining transportation work in the north.

The ship is a new Waco customs biplane of which delivery was recently taken at Fort Erie, Ont., Elliott having flown it out to the coast. It has a 280 h.p. Jacobs engine.

TOOK HALIBUT GEAR

Tom Hanson, being held by the city police on a charge of drunkenness, has admitted removing two skates of gear from Oscar Hanson's halibut boat Bobby at Cow Bay on Sunday and selling it for $6 but the owner of the boat and gear is not pressing any prosecution. The authorities had not decided up to noon what charge, if any, would be proceeded with against Hanson.

Gerry McGeer To Speak Here

Premier T. D. Pattullo has made arrangements with Ex-Mayor G. G. McGeer K.C., M.P. of Vancouver to fly here on May 31 to address a political rally that night in the Capitol Theatre for him on the eve of the provincial election. Mr. McGeer is well known as one of the most independent and fiery speakers in the west and, undoubtedly, his visit here will attract a great deal of interest. At times he has been a severe critic of the Premier but, in this campaign, is solidly behind him.

Crowning Films Are Soon Shown

Pictures of Last Week's Coronation In America 48 Hours After Event

NEW YORK, May 18. (CP)—Moving pictures of the Coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in London last Wednesday were exhibited in theatres of New York and other American cities late last week in less than forty-eight hours after the event as a result of the return trans-Atlantic flight of Pilots Dick Merrill and Jack Lambie. Merrill and Lambie found a hole in the clouds after spanning the ocean and made their first landing on the return flight from London at the naval air base at Squantum near Boston. After getting their bearings, they took off soon for New York where they arrived Friday afternoon.

SANCTION MARRIAGE

Opinions Differ as to Royal Family's Stand—Announced Date Today

MONTS, France, May 18. (CP)—The Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield will be married quietly at Chateau de Candé June 3 with no members of the Royal Family present, it was announced today.

LONDON, May 18. (CP)—While the Sunday Referee reports the King ready to extend the Royal Family's sanction to the match of the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield by announcing the betrothal of his brother in a court circular, the Express says such a move is impossible because of "ecclesiastical objections" to Mrs. Warfield as a twice-divorced person.

Meanwhile Herman Rogers, spokesman for the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Warfield, promises to announce at Monts, France, this afternoon the date of the marriage of the Duke to Mrs. Warfield. It is doubtful if any of the Royal Family will attend should it be a civil marriage. In the event of a church wedding, the Duke and Duchess of Kent might be present.

STRIKE IS COLLAPSING

Technical Craftworkers at Hollywood Returning to Jobs Without Opposition

HOLLYWOOD, May 18.—Although technical craft unions of the moving picture industry, representing 25,000 workers voted to remain out on strike, rejecting the peace proposals of the producers because they contained no closed shop provision, there is a tendency towards breaking up of the strike. Many of the employees are voluntarily returning to work and at least two of the unions have virtually decided to give up the strike. Picketing continues but is rather listless.

HELP FOR HIGHWAY

Text of Communication Asking Support of Chamber of Commerce for Monkman Pass Road

The following is the text of a letter which has been received by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce from the Monkman Pass Highway Association seeking support of the project for the building of a highway from the Peace River to the Canadian National Railway line at Hansard east of Prince George:

"Since my recent visit to your city and Victoria in the interests of the association and after seeing your magnificent harbor, large terminal elevator, dry dock and shipping facilities, we are convinced that Prince Rupert should be the coast market for our Peace River products, being 500 miles nearer than Vancouver to our increasing Oriental markets with a freight haul of only 660 miles from Beaver Lodge to Prince Rupert, against a present haul of nearly 1300 miles by Edmonton to Vancouver. Beaver Lodge is the most southerly point on the Northern Alberta Railway in the Peace River District, also on the Edmonton to Fort St. John Highway with only a 160 mile gap to build to connect us with the C. N. R. system to Prince Rupert and only 140 miles to build of highway to connect us with the Cariboo highway at Hansard to Vancouver, as the highway is now built within 8 miles of the Alberta-British Columbia boundary with only 132 miles from the boundary to Hansard.

Spirit Willing But Flesh Weak

Viscount Snowden will go down in history as one of the outstanding characters of British history. Starting out as a Liberal he early in his career became a Socialist of the Marxist type and after many efforts was returned to Parliament. There he made a mark as an orthodox financier but it was in the international field that he made his greatest contribution toward a bid for fame. He won the respect of the world at The Hague conference by standing up for the rights of his country and winning out against some of the world's outstanding diplomats.

Unfortunately for Britain, Snowden was a frail man physically and only his marvellous spirit and tenacity bore him up and carried him through the various crises of his life. The spirit was willing but the flesh was weak.

The Sampling Plant

In his speech Saturday night and also in an interview given the Daily News Premier Pattullo was emphatic in stating that the sampling plant asked for by the mining fraternity of this district would be installed just as soon as it was possible to do so. His intimation was that it would be ready before the miners were ready to ship ore.

Many prospectors and others in the interior are going into their claims just as soon as the snow is gone to prepare shipments for the plant. Dr. J. T. Mandy and Douglas Lay are now going through the district trying to find out what ore is likely to be shipped so as to gauge what size mill will be necessary to handle the business.

Word received from the interior is to the effect that the miners are much pleased at the assurances of Mr. Pattullo and the intimation is given that they will be there with the goods. As stated previously, storekeepers are willing to finance men who can give assurances that they will be making shipments and will in that way be in a position to pay the bill within a reasonable time.

Will Be Useful

The sum of $500 promised by the Premier as Prince Rupert's share of the $5,000 grant made to the province by the federal government and to which another $5,000 has been added by the provincial government will be useful in a place where there are few playing fields for the children and where most of the youngsters have to play on the street. It is not a large amount but it is in line with progress. It is the first time the federal government has admitted that it has any responsibility for the young people of the country. Hitherto it has been left to the provincial government which has led the way by starting the physical education scheme which has been such a success all over the province. In this city the work of the Gyro Club is an example of community enterprise which has proved most valuable.

We have not yet heard just how the $500 grant is to be expended but it can be used with good effect in Prince Rupert where it is needed more than at any other place in the Dominion. No other city has conditions just like ours.

MOSES OF LABORISM

Philip Snowden Was in Turn Reviled and Hailed as Saviour

Strong Pacifist

Was Cripple But That Did Not Detract From Greatness

Philip Snowden, dynamic cripple, who died in Surrey, England, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning of a heart attack, was the Moses of the British labor movement, the firebrand of its youth, the leavening agent and lawgiver of its more mature years.

Reduced to a mere shell of a physical man by an accident suffered when he was only 27 years old, he battled his way from obscurity in Lancashire to hold twice the post of chancellor of the exchequer, one of the highest offices of the British Empire.

Finally forced by his physical ailments to give up his strenuous post after the second MacDonald labor cabinet had been overthrown in August, 1931, he put on robes of scarlet and ermine and took a seat in the house of lords as the first Viscount of Ickneshaw. This acceptance of a peerage added strength to the labor representation in the upper house and kept his talents at the disposal of the coalition government which had the big task of steering the British Empire through the crisis that followed suspension of the gold standard.

At times, in his spectacular career, he was reviled as an atheist, a destroyer and pacifist. But in his second term as chancellor he was hailed as a saviour of the nation's honor and treasury.

In the trying times of the world war Snowden was regarded as a scourge to British honor. Deeply pacific, he spoke against not only war as an institution but against the 1914-1918 conflict. He declared that battles settled nothing and least of all the problems of the working classes.

Yet a decade later the press of all tinges of political opinion in England was hailing him as a bulwark of British interest when at The Hague debt conference he fought off every attempt to reduce Great Britain's share of the German reparations payments below the 22 percent awarded her at the Spa conference six years earlier.

Won by Socialism

Snowden was wooed and won by socialism while he was on his first serious sickbed. He was put there by being knocked off a bicycle and, to pass the time of his long convalescence, he read everything he could get his hands on. Some of that literature was socialistic and he plunged into a study of it that converted him to its tenets.

He rose from his bed with permanent injuries to his back that forced him to hobble with rubber-tipped canes through the rest of his life. But his dragging feet never faltered on the path which he picked out for himself and ultimately they brought him to the front benches of the House of Commons.

There he would stand leaning upon his sticks or against a table while from his thin lips poured streams of cold, incisive logic that confounded the theories of his opponents. Nor did he dodge personalities. Thrusts at his motives or the sincerity of his party brought answering darts of scornful rhetoric that generally sent his attackers into a scrambling rush for cover.

It was thus that he presented and defended the first laborite budget before the house in 1924. Thus also he ridiculed and riddled the financial policy of his predecessor, Winston Churchill, when the second MacDonald cabinet was formed in 1929.

And at the peak of his career, when he faced the allied nations at The Hague and exacted England's full share of the Young plan payments from Germany, he was equally startling. He pounded the conference table with his fist and rapped the floor with his canes as he drove his points home—so adamant was he that the other conferees dubbed him "Monsieur No-No."

Triumphant Return

The story of this fight stirred the British public from its traditional phlegm. Snowden's return to London was like the triumph of a victorious Roman general and, if his captives were figurative and his treasures only on paper, they were recognized for their full value by the hero-worshipping crowds that greeted him.

Snowden was born July 18, 1864, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, near the Lancashire border where wintry winds sweep hanging mists across the bleak countryside. The moorlands ran into the backyard of the cottage where he was born to John and Martha Snowden, weavers.

The father was "a bit bookish" and liked to read George Meredith's novels. He knew the value of education but was able to give his son only a rudimentary village schooling. He did, however, ground the boy in politics, teaching him the advanced liberalism of the day, a form of radicalism which would be far from startling now.

Universal acceptance of power looms in Yorkshire caused the family to move to Lancashire and there, at the age of 15, Phillip got a job in an insurance office. Later he passed a civil service examination and went to work for the government excise department.

Six years later came the crippling accident and he was in bed for 12 months. Then his father died and the bond between the frail young man and his mother was drawn close. In later years he said, with Abraham Lincoln:

"Whatever gratitude I might earn for what I have attempted to do in this world, I feel it my duty to hand on to my mother who sustained in those earlier days the struggle and the sacrifice, the pain and endurance."

She lived to see him a member of parliament but, like her son, she was fated to suffer a physical accident. She died in 1922 of injuries sustained in a fall.

Another woman to whom Snowden was deeply indebted was his wife. They met because of their common interest in socialism and were married March 13, 1905.

Through the years she guarded his frail health, helped eliminate his vast correspondence and ward off unnecessary callers. Men knew Snowden as cold, bitter and indomitable. His wife found him "sweetness itself and patience personified."

"I fell in love with Phillip," she said, "when I saw his smile."

High three games, Johnny Saunders.
The recipients of the awards and others spoke. Mention was made of the increased interest in the game and the improved standard of play over the first season. The winning team during the past winter had had an average of 162 whereas the year previous only three or four players had reached that high. There had also been one hundred league players during the past winter as compared with sixty the previous year.

Those contributing to the evening's musical program were Dr. R. G. Large and Sam Joy with vocal solos; Jack Foster and Paul Armour with recitations, and Johnny Saunders, Bobby Reid and Norman Davidson with orchestral selections. Community singing under the baton of Dr. R. G. Large was also enjoyed.

Have Comfortable Margin of Three And Half Games in National League

Boston 3, Washington 4.
New York 2, Philadelphia 3.

HIGHWAY

surfaced highway would handle the traffic, as with the easy grade transport trucks could, with trailer, handle a 1200 bushel load of wheat, or 30 to 35 ton load of stock, which could be loaded at Hansard over the C.N.R. system to Prince Rupert. Our Peace River people are one hundred percent behind the project. With 60 million acres of the finest agricultural land and only a small fraction of it yet cultivated to produce the 1936 crop of 24 million bushels of grain, and nearly 1200 ears of hogs and fat cattle going to the stock yards may give some faint idea what the trade of this vast Peace River district may yet reach when fully developed. With adequate transportation to coast markets our 75,000 population would soon double. With the arid belt on our western plains moving north yearly, the Peace River District may yet become Canada's bread basket as we have no crop failures from drought or soil drifting here.

"Our Ass'n was formed last November and it is hoped shortly to have a membership of 10,000. We will see what assistance can be had from Ottawa, Alberta, and the B. C. government and make up the balance ourselves, as we have individual pledges from $10 to $500 each, for the project.

"About May 29 a party of about 20 men with teams to carry equipment, will start from the Alberta end of the pass, headed by Mr. Monkman, the discoverer of the pass, who will stake out the route followed by the trail cutters and cut a ten-foot trail so that a car can be taken through to Prince George, which it is expected can be done by August 1.

"This outlet will not only benefit the Peace River people by cutting the mileage in half to coast markets, but make this part of our Canadian National Railway system one of the busiest lines in Canada with traffic both ways, with our exports of grain and stock, and our imports of coast lumber, shingles, fruit, fish and merchandise, and also making of Prince Rupert one of our main Pacific ports. As the greater part of this highway is through B.C. whatever assistance comes from Ottawa must come through the B. C. Legislature, and the work done under B. C. engineers. "Now as you have a provincial election shortly and as Prince Rupert is Premier Pattullo's riding, his influence should surely count in this project, as well as that of your Board of Trade. Your support will surely count at this most critical time."

He Keeps His Job Though Turned 70

House Painter Who Takes His Kruschen Every Day

How many painters can continue to work when they are over 70? Here is one who can—and he still does some of the most trying jobs in his trade. How does he do it? He tells us in this letter:—

"I have been in the habit of taking a few grains of Kruschen Salts in every cup of tea I have had for a great number of years. I may state that I am turned 70 years of age, being born on July 22nd, 1864. I am a house painter by trade and still at work. I can work off any ladder, no matter what height, or in cradles which are hung outside high buildings. I have been asked many times how I carry my age so well, as I only look about 50. Well, I tell them all that I take Kruschen Salts regularly every day."—J.S.A.

Kruschen is a combination of numerous mineral salts which assist in stimulating your liver, kidneys and digestive tract to healthy, regular activity. They insure internal cleanliness, and so help to keep the blood-stream free from impurities.

Magnus Brown Of Kitzegukla Dies

Well Known Sportsman of Interior Village Passes Away
KITZEGUKLA, May 11.—Magnus Brown, a well beloved citizen of Kitzegukla, passed away on Sunday morning last about 11:45. He died peacefully after having been ill for over a year.

Magnus Brown was an athlete and a friend of all sportsmen. He leaves to mourn his loss two brothers and a sister.
Funeral services were held Tuesday at 11 for deceased, who was a son of the late Isaac and Eliza Brown. Services were held in the home, in the United Church and at the graveside.

An old friend of the family, Joshua Ridley, drove the wagon and greys which bore the casket to the church. Many beautiful flowers, gifts of many friends, decorated the casket. The local band preceded the mourners, playing suitable marches.
At the graveside the young people sang a beautiful hymn from the Salvation Army Song Book.

Rev. B. Black, assisted by Alfred McDames, Peter Mark and Captain J. H. Johnson, conducted the services. Pallbearers were Arthur McDames, Peter Mark, Captain Johnson and Bert Russell. After the ceremony the people all gathered in the McDames Hall and the usual dinner with eulogistic speeches was entered into by the friends and relatives, continuing an age long custom.

Deceased is survived by two brothers, Ed. Brown and Peter Brown, also one sister, Mrs. J. H. Johnson.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

The concert held by the Kitkatla Band in the Exhibition Hall last Thursday night drew a large and appreciative audience. An excellent program was rendered by the native bandsmen. W. M. Brown, chairman of the Coronation Celebration committee, acted as chairman and there was a brief speech by F. A. MacCallum.

ZIEGFELD DEPICTED

Great Musical and Dramatic Spectacle Here at First of Week At Capitol Theatre

Replete with melodious music, specialty features and a heart-grIPPING double romance, a colorful musical comedy spectacle, "The Great Ziegfeld," based on the life of the noted entertainment producer, opened at the Capitol Theatre before a large and appreciative audience last night and will be presented again tonight and tomorrow.

The story opens in Ziegfeld's youth in the dazzling Chicago World's Fair of 1893. It progresses with the career of Ziegfeld, showing how he masses fortunes to lose them and build others. Always in the background are his spectacular musical comedy productions.

William Powell plays the part of Ziegfeld and turns in a fine performance. The role of Anne Held, the great producer's first wife, is taken by Luise Rainer while Myrna Loy plays the lovely Billie Burke, Ziegfeld's second wife. Such other luminaries as Fannie Brice, Harriet Hoctor, Frank Morgan, Virginia Bruce, Nat Perldeton and Reginald Owen are also included in a distinguished cast.

Not only does the picture unfold the life of Ziegfeld but it presents a cross-section of the American theatrical world for the last quarter of a century. The settings are most spectacular, rivaling anything which has been offered in previous pictures along this line.

The Ketchikan motorship Beloit was in port again this morning with another carload of frozen halibut for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways.
