STRIKE IS UNSETTLED

Move of Federal Mediation Bring Little Relief to Disturbed U. S. Steel Industry

CLEVELAND, June 18: (CP)—The federal mediation board in the steel workers' strike, appointment of which was announced yesterday by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, will conduct a fact-finding investigation here.

Spokesmen for the Republic Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., two of the principal independents involved in the strike, did not know yesterday in their companies would agree to mediation of the labor dispute.

Coupled with the move of direct federal intervention came an announcement by John Owens, Committee for Industrial Organization chief, that a projected back to work movement in the Mahoning Valley plants would inevitably result in sit-down strikes if the plants re-open before the union obtains signed contracts.

To all intents and purposes, despite the intervention move, the twenty-two day old strike is still at a deadlock. Rioting had broken out anew at Johnstown, Pa., it was reported.

At Washington John L. Lewis, president of the Committee for Industrial Organization, the fight of which against the American Federation of Labor for control of workers' organizations in the United States is held responsible for most of the labor troubles in the country today, was preparing to leave for Chicago to address a mass meeting of strike sympathizers.

Precipitation Brings Joy to The Hearts of Bulkley Valley Farmers

SMITHERS, June 18: — Continued rain throughout the Bulkley Valley has brought joy to the hearts of the farmers just as they expect it to bring dollars to their pockets when the harvest has been completed this fall.

The whole district had been pretty well dried out by the early winds and the hot sun later on, but conditions have changed during the past week and grave forebodings have now given place to every prospect for a good crop. The roads are not in as good condition as they were before the rain but they will soon dry out again.

SHORTAGE OF WATER

Mill at Surf Point Closed—Mining Continues Steadily With Forty Men Employed

On account of lack of water, the creek which usually affords the supply having practically disappeared, the mill at the Surf Point mine on Porcher Island was shut down on Monday of this week but will resume operations as soon as the dry spell is ended and rain starts the creek running again, it is stated by J. D. Galloway, managing director of the Reward Mining Co., who is in the city following a visit to the property. With water being pumped out of the workings of the Surf Point and Eddy Pass properties, compressor and diesel engines are being kept running to permit of mining operations being continued uninterrupted. The closing of the mill has resulted in half a dozen men being laid off temporarily. Upwards of forty men continue at work in connection with the mining operations. Operations are continuing satisfactorily at the Porcher Island properties under superintendence of Alex Smith, Mr. Galloway states. As well as mining gold ore for concentrating and shipment, further ore bodies are being blocked out in the Surf Point property. Sinking of a new shaft is about to be started. The Eddy Pass property is still in the development stage. Two tunnels are being driven towards the ore bodies at different angles. In about a month it is expected one of these tunnels will have reached its objective. On the results of the exploration program will be decided the future plan of mining and treatment, probably on a joint basis. Normally the Surf Point mill handles 25 tons of ore daily, the concentrate output being about forty tons monthly. The concentrates, in which gold is the only value of importance, are shipped to Tacoma smelter. Mr. Galloway arrived from Porcher Island by gasboat Thursday and will sail tomorrow night on the Princess Adelaide for Vancouver.

DIFFERENT CONCEPTION

The conception of freedom in this country is that a person may think and say and do pretty much as he likes, subject to certain restrictions which do not often apply to the ordinary person. The conception of freedom in Russia is that people who wholeheartedly support Bolshevism are the best people and those with independent opinions are suspicious characters while those who retard the triumphant progress of Bolshevism are class enemies who must be destroyed. The system is analyzed by Demaree Bess, staff correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, who has just commenced a series of articles for his paper. In brief he says:

"The Bolshevik system is not one but several systems. Economically, it is a system of state ownership, under which the state has become 'one vast syndicate'—to use Lenin's words—and all working citizens, directly or indirectly, are employees of this syndicate. Politically, it is a dictatorship of the Communist or Bolshevik party which tolerates no organized or individual opposition. Socially, it is presumed to be a merging of the interests of all individuals into the allegedly higher interests of the state.

"In practice, this system or group of systems has placed an enormous amount of power in the hands of a small group of men, the leaders of the Bolshevik party. These men, who all work and reside in Moscow's Kremlin, consider themselves guardians of a sacred cause. They are fanatically convinced that their decisions, in this present period, will determine the future not only of Russia but of the whole world. They have imparted this conviction to a large number of Soviet citizens and a lesser number of foreign sympathizers.

"In the space of a few years, this little group in the Kremlin has been responsible for almost incredible changes in Soviet Russia. They have re-cast the entire economic and social organization of a continental area. They have created the 'one vast syndicate' at which they aimed, and drawn all Russia's millions into its framework. They have ridden roughshod over all those who hindered in any way the application of their theories, uprooting hundreds of thousands of families in the process. They have prodded and cajoled all the Soviet Union's 186 races and tribes into unfamiliar activity.

"But the Bolsheviks have discovered that material transformation of a country is one thing, and changes in human nature are another. They have often been compelled to modify their theories in the face of irrefutable proof that human beings obstinately refuse to change their nature. The men, women and children of Soviet Russia have gallantly resisted attempts to classify them."

T. W. Falconer, who is operating the famous Dolly Varden mine in the Alice Arm district on lease, recently shipped eleven tons of ore which was said to average 530 ounces of silver to the ton.

The Esperanza mine, another Alice Arm property, continues to make regular shipments of concentrates from its mill to Tacoma smelter.

Action is expected on some base metal properties in the Alice Arm area during the present summer. Several engineers are expected to visit properties. There is marked activity on McGrath Mountain. The Kitsault Valley road is again connected with the end of steel and many old trails are being cleaned out.

The Alice Arm branch of the British Columbia Chamber of Mines, at its recent annual meeting, elected William Cummings as president succeeding A. D. Yorke with Joseph Wells, Archie McPhail and S. Davis being elected to the executive.

Operating with a crew of twenty-five men, the Georgia River property on Portland Canal, below Stewart, is now in production. The property is under lease to Gold Leasers Limited and F. J. Hemsworth is superintendent in charge. W. J. Ascelstine M.L.A. is the company's consulting metallurgist. The twenty-five ton mill is stated to be working satisfactorily.

The Lakeview property, in the Glacier Creek section of the Portland Canal district, is again under development. A 100-foot raise is to be put up from No. 2 level to the surface at a point from which considerable high grade ore was shipped.

Work will commence soon on the contract of extending the lower tunnel on the Rufus Argenta Mining Co.'s property in the Portland Canal district, it is announced by B. O. Erickson, the president.

Another active Portland Canal development is Sam Deschamps' Ontario property on American Creek which recently shipped nine tons of ore.

H. E. Newton of Victoria announces that operations are about to be resumed on the Red Reef property which is situated on the mountain directly across from Stewart at the head of Portland Canal.

F. M. Burns, inspector of customs, arrived in the city on the Prince George this morning, being here on official duties.

EVOLUTION OF MILITIA

Commander of Military District Gives Interesting Address To Rotary Club at Luncheon

An interesting address on the constitution and evolution of the Canadian militia was given yesterday afternoon at the weekly Rotary luncheon by Brigadier D. J. MacDonald, D.S.O., M.C., officer commanding Military District No. 11 with headquarters at Esquimalt. He explained that the earliest Canadian militia were French but that, when the country was taken by Britain, militia forces, both English and French speaking, were organized at different points and they took part in the defensive war of 1812 in what is now Ontario and Quebec at such points as Queenston Heights, Chrysler's Farm and Chateauguey.

In the first call for services in the Great War the first expeditionary forces were composed almost entirely of officers and men trained in the militia. After the war, despite the introduction of new technical arms, the proportion of infantry in the forces remained excessive and out of balance with modern requirements but no definite action toward a change was made until the present administration reduced the number of battalions and reorganized as batteries of artillery, units of engineers and tank units. Also a non-permanent air force was established. One of the units in this connection was the local 102nd Heavy Artillery Battery. Some of the officers had already taken courses at Esquimalt and others would be going there for instruction this summer. Work of modernizing the defences was in progress but the provision of coast defence armaments was a slow and costly business.

The success of the militia depended on the zeal of the officers and men, the speaker contended. The country had never been very free to equip militia units and Canada was today hopelessly out of date in that respect. He suggested that, if Canada was required to put men in the field to defend herself, she would be some time in doing so. It was more difficult to make good soldiers now than it was in a pioneer country where nearly every man carried a rifle. There was so much mechanized equipment which required much training and experience such as tanks, tank rifles and modern heavy guns before the soldier could be prepared. However, they were making progress and the recent reorganization to provide that the various arms should be in the proportion required for effective co-operation was a step in the right direction.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK

The gaps in the garden caused by delay in planting out seedlings or from the uprooting of early perennials should be filled now. Any of the hardy annuals will do or softness dahlias and particularly annual larkspur. The latter come in useful when there is a wet fall.

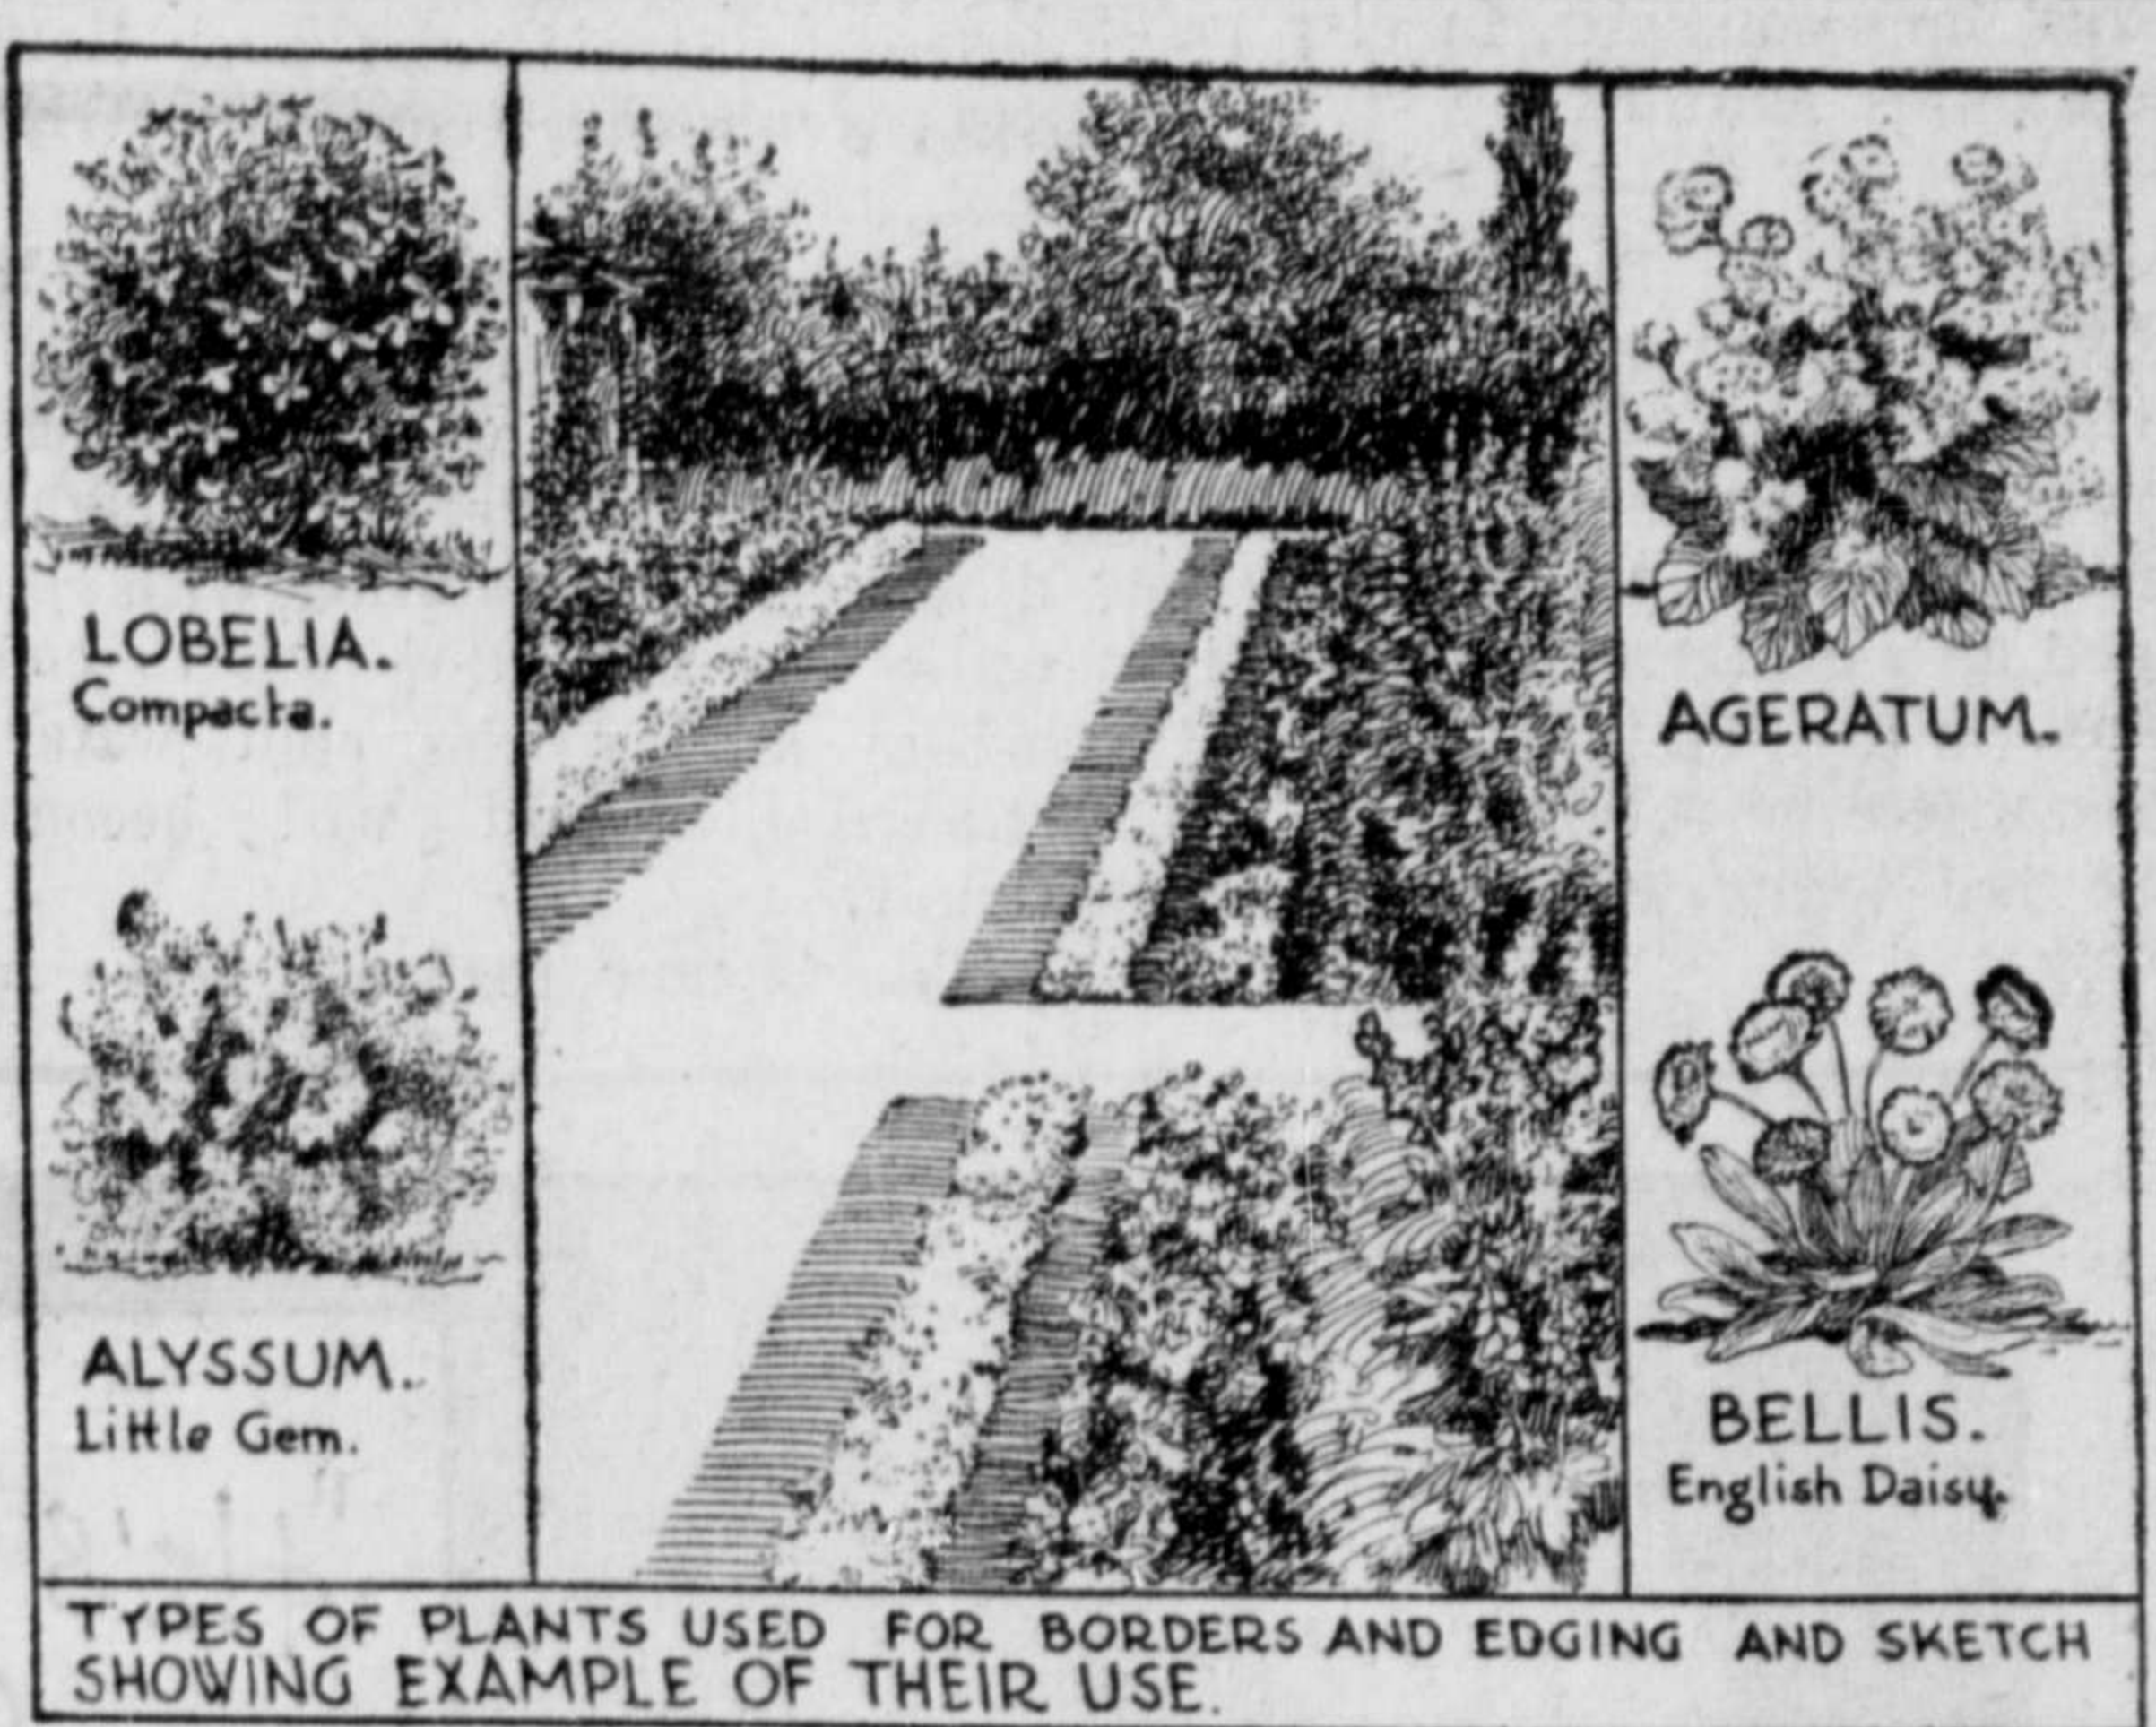

Anyone wishing good biennial or perennial plants next year should sow immediately as the late sowings do not winter as well and are not large enough for good blooming next year. A number of people are now sowing their Canterbury bells, foxgloves, Siberian wallflowers and those who wish to try columbines, English wallflowers, Sweet Williams or hollyhocks should sow at once. A number of local people are planning to try hollyhocks but there is no time to waste if they are to be any good for next year. The soil should be rich as these plants are gross feeders.

Many local gardeners have been waiting for the rain before planting out the last of their seedlings. They should not wait any longer if they expect to get good results. If the day is hot or drying it is wise to cover the young plants for a few days and water them regularly.

How many people have seen the beautiful white lilacs around town? I noticed them in the Christopher, Fuller or Collart gardens. They are very fine and fragrant.

A good many local people have expressed a desire to have a rock garden. One way to do this is to read up a good rock garden book or article in one of the magazines and then make the rockery and order plants from a nursery. The more common custom is to make a rockery in a haphazard manner and fill it with common rock plants such as arabis, summer snow or cerastium and a few of the thymes, sedums, saxifrages and nasturtiums and then gradually get rid of the commoner plants and replace them with alpine. However,

TYPES OF PLANTS USED FOR BORDERS AND EDGING AND SKETCH SHOWING EXAMPLE OF THEIR USE.

It is difficult to get rid of cerastium or periwinkle or old man of the mountain and when your choice alpine are planted they come up and interfere with cultivation. Don't forget yellow alyssum either for a rock garden or a perennial border. Seeds should be sown now for use next year. Lobelia clumps look well in the late summer or fall in a rock garden.

The advantage of careful cultivation and steady enriching of the soil is seen now in the gardens of Joe Naylor and Jack Fuller where the peonies are looking so fine and well advanced. In a week or two these gardens will be splendid. Mr. Fuller also will have a fine showing of pinks in a few days. Where gardens are well cultivated and there is plenty of humus in the soil they do not dry out as mine did during the recent hot spell.

J. R. Murray of Alfred Street has his sweet peas well started and if nothing happens to them he should make a strong bid for first place at the Horticultural Society's flower show. Last year he would have won had it not been for some slight technical disqualification.

Mr. Murray has some peas that were sown in the fall and they are well ahead of the spring sown.

Catholic Ladies' Tea and Sale Is Successful Event

With many ladies calling during the afternoon to lend their patronage to the affair, the tea and sale of home cooking held yesterday by the Catholic Ladies' Aid at the home of Mrs. J. L. Blain, 1501 Second Avenue, was a very successful affair. The rooms were beautifully decorated with spring flowers and the guests were received by Mrs. Blain and Mrs. M. P. McCaffery, president of the Ladies' Aid.

Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. J. Fred Ritchie and Mrs. A. D. Gilles. Serviteurs were Mrs. G. W. Nickerson, Mrs. Peter Byrne, Mrs. E. Pettenuzo, Mrs. F. St. Amour and Mrs. Fred Riffou. Cashier was Mrs. C. P. Balagno. Mrs. Henry Dolron and Mrs. Leo Dolron were in charge of the tea room.

Mrs. R. E. Moore and Mrs. J. Lorne McLaren conducted the sale of home cooking.

Mrs. D. Taylor, with No. 64, was the winner in the raffle of a pair of pillowslips while Mrs. D. Satterbane, with No. 11, won a box of home made candy.

Miss Eileen Gibson arrived in the city on the Prince Charles yesterday from her school teaching duties at Massett to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Dean and Mrs. J. B. Gibson.

Bernice Palmer says . . .

"Don't do it," is Ray Woods' advice to those who still want to dive from the Bay Bridge. Ray, you will remember, is the professional diver who broke his back some weeks ago in an attempt to achieve this feat. Three San Francisco youths are already planning to attempt this 180 foot plunge from the world's greatest bridge and have approached Woods to seek technical information, particularly with reference to padding, braces, etc., but Woods, who lies helpless in bed as a result of his own attempt, does his best to discourage them. Ray will never walk again—a high price to pay for such a fleeting thing as fame, if it could be called such.

Police on both sides of the bay are keeping a sharp look-out. Millions have been spent in its construction and neither Metropolitan Oakland or San Francisco care to have the world's greatest engineering feat become known as "suicide's bridge." "Don't do it," Woods advises from his bed. "The water is like concrete. You travel 208 miles an hour when you hit from that height. Even the most expert diver can penetrate it but eight feet." Thus speaks a sadder and wiser man.

And when is Prince Rupert going to produce an Olympic swimming champ? With the Salt Lake, the new Gyro swimming hole, Shawatlans and the wide open ocean, surely it is time someone from there was able to compete with the city bred swimmers with only the synthetic pools to practice in.

Swimming classes here, sponsored by a local paper, have been extended beyond the customary six weeks "by request." These classes are conducted every year, the only

The stolen goods had been traced to the boy, it is stated by police, and the most of them were recovered.

Charge being 25c for the use of pool and towels, and instructions are given in both swimming and life saving for adults and children. CHERIO! Oakland, Cal.

Johnson Joins Victoria Club

Severs Connection With Prince Rupert Rotary Club But Will Visit It This Summer

At the Prince Rupert Rotary Club luncheon yesterday a letter was read from T. H. Johnson, one of the remaining charter members of the club. He has for the past four and a half years been an absent member and has taken advantage of that position to visit numerous clubs in different parts of the world. Now he has settled down in Victoria and has resigned from the local club and has been elected a member of the Victoria organization.

In his letter Mr. Johnson said he had been given several Rotary flags for the local club while away and he would present them when he visited Prince Rupert this summer.

Timely Recipes

ICED TEA

Iced tea is a deliciously different cool drink and it is very easily made.

Use 6 heaping teaspoons of black tea. Infuse tea in one pint of freshly boiled water for six minutes. Strain, and pour liquid into a two-quart container. While hot, add:

1½ cups of granulated sugar, and juice of two lemons.

Then shake or stir contents well, until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water; otherwise, liquid will become cloudy.

This is now ready to serve in tall glasses with chipped ice cubes. A slice of lemon may be added if desired. The above makes two quarts of iced tea. 7 tall glasses.

BLACKHEADS
Get two ounces of peroxide and your drugist. Sprinkle on a hot, wet face and rub the face gently. Every blackhead will be dissolved. The one safe, sure, simple way to remove blackheads. Have Hollywood complexion.

LEGION IN GOOD LEAD

Takes Stranglehold in Gilhuly Cup Series by Defeating Vandinks By 4 to 1 Score

Canadian Legion took a stranglehold on the Gilhuly Cup football series last night by scoring a decisive four to one victory over Vandinks in a well played game. The score at half time was two to nil for the Legion.

After a run through by Charlie Baptie, whose shot Pierce saved, Henry Dickens caught the rebound and scored the opening goal for the Legion. Later Krause got away and ran down the field but was forced to make a corner kick which Baptie cleared and passed to Russell Cameron who ran down the field and centred to George Howe who had no difficulty in scoring the second for Legion.

Seven minutes after the interval, Gillis of Vandinks centred to Dennis who scored the one and only for the side.

After a kick-off by Henry Dickens who took the shot from centre and was stopped by Frank Gomez, the latter kicked the ball into his own goal for the Legion's third.

The Legion continued to be the aggressors and, with ten minutes to go, Cameron headed in the sphere on a pass from Howe. Pierce had saved the first kick.

George J. Dawes was referee.

The Gilhuly Cup standing to date is as follows:

	W.	D.	L.	F.	A.	P.
Legion	3	0	0	9	4	6
Vandinks	1	0	2	5	7	2

Island People Pay Tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Charter at Farewell Gathering

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, June 18.—One of the most outstanding gatherings held at Queen Charlotte City for a long time took place in Miller's Hall a few nights ago when Doctor G. A. Charter, who is leaving here, was the recipient of a beautiful morocco wallet neatly "stuffed" with 145 crisp dollar bills as an expression of appreciation and goodwill of the people with whom he had been associated for the past seven years. A large crowd was present including members of the various church organizations from other districts. The evening commenced with parlor games which all enjoyed. Mrs. Hill and John Karpie were in charge. A short musical program followed in which Miss Holt, Miss Weaver of Skidegate Mission, Mrs. G. Pitt Turner of Skidegate, Mrs. A. Duval, Mrs. Gordon H. Jolliffe and George Anderson of Queen Charlotte City took part. Gordon H. Jolliffe occupied the chair. The program was much enjoyed. Community singing followed after which the chairman explained the purpose of the gathering and paid a deserved tribute to Dr. and Mrs. Charter for the faithful services rendered by them to the communities as far north as Port Clements.

A letter was read from the chair addressed to Dr. and Mrs. Charter signed by Mrs. Thomas Crosby as president of the Skidegate Mission Ladies' Aid Society expressing appreciation and gratitude to them both for the keen interest they have taken in the people at Skidegate Mission.

Mrs. G. Pitt Turner, president of the Queen Charlotte City Ladies' Aid Society, and Matthew Williams of Skidegate Mission also spoke of the high esteem in which Dr. and Mrs. Charter are held by the people on the Queen Charlotte Islands. George D. Beattie was called upon to make the presentation and in a neat little speech referred to the sterling qualities possessed by Dr. and Mrs. Charter. Responding, Dr. Charter spoke of the pleasure he and his wife had had during their stay at Queen Charlotte City and expressed a fervent desire to serve humanity when and wherever possible. Before the conclusion of the evening's proceedings Dr. Charter was handed an autograph album suitably inscribed and bearing the signatures of everyone present at the happy gathering, with a request that he hand same to Mrs. Charter upon their meeting in Vancouver. The singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne" brought the affair to a close.

Miss Dorothy Stewart R.N. and Mrs. Gordon H. Jolliffe were responsible for the list of subscribers. Dr. Charter has resigned his position as doctor in charge of Skidegate Inlet Hospital where he, with Mrs. Charter, has worked faithfully for a period of seven years. Mrs. Charter experienced a very severe nervous breakdown several months ago, and is still seriously ill in the city of Vancouver. Dr. Charter expects to join her in Vancouver about the end of June.
