PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1937

PRICE: 5 CENTS

Beautiful Chateau de Candé at Monts, France, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bedeaux of New York, which was the scene today of the wedding of H. R. H. the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield (Simpson), formerly of Baltimore. No official representative of the British Royal Family attended and only close friends were invited. An Anglican clergyman performed the ceremony. One of the guests was the bride's aunt, Mrs. D. B. Merryman of New York (top left)—the Aunt Bessie of the abdication crisis. A view of the picturesque chateau is shown (left); the Duke and his American-born bride are also pictured seated together in the chateau gardens as they welcomed press representatives after their reunion. Prior to the service by the clergyman, there was a civil ceremony by Dr. Charles Mercier (lower right), mayor of Monts.

Fifteen Government Planes Are Brought Down Over Guadarrama Mountains—Twenty-Five Rebel Machines Are All Unscathed

SEGOVIA, Spain, June 3: (CP)—Insurgent airmen today chalked up one of the greatest aviation victories of the civil war after bringing down fifteen government planes above the Guadarrama Mountains. The aerial battle followed an attack of twenty pursuit planes and nine government bombers on insurgent positions near here. The insurgents lost none of twenty-five planes used in the fight.

NOTED FOR RETICENCE

George F. Baker Was One Of The Wealthiest of Americans

NEW YORK, June 3: (AP)—While accumulating over a stretch of sixty odd years a fortune variously estimated at from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000, and which was said to have ranked him third among the wealthy men of the country, George F. Baker, dead in Honolulu, acquired one of the oddest reputations—that for silence—ever associated with one of the great captains of American finance and industry.

Because of his aversion to being interviewed and talking for publication, Mr. Baker became known as "the Sphinx of Wall Street." Although one of the outstanding figures in the financial and transportation development of this country, it was not until recent years when associates on several occasions paid him tribute that the public generally began to learn of him. Up to that time less was known personally of the aged banker than of many men whose standing in the business world did not begin to compare in importance with that of Mr. Baker.

Natural modesty and inherent reticence kept veiled the details of Mr. Baker's early life and to all, except his immediate associates in the Wall Street district, his extensive financial operations were unknown. Biographers found it difficult to obtain information concerning him with the result that American biographical works contain only the most meagre details of his life.

Mr. Baker's attitude toward interviews always had been one of the mysteries of the world's great financial centre, and it was not until after he had celebrated his 82nd birthday anniversary that he broke his silence and gave an intimation as to why he had refrained from making public statements during his long business career.

"Business men of America should reduce their talk at least two-thirds," he told the representative of a New York newspaper who had persuaded him to be interviewed. "Everyone should reduce his talk. There is rarely ever a reason good enough for anybody to talk. Silence uses up much less energy. I don't"

Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield are Married Today At Monts in Double Ceremony

Both Express Hope That They Will be Able to Live Useful And Happy Private Lives—Both Civil And Religious Rites

CHATEAU DE CANDE, Monts, France, June 3: (CP)—Edward, Duke of Windsor, took Wallis Warfield as his bride and duchess today. They were married in a French civil ceremony followed by rites of the Church of England. Rev. Anderson Jardine united the former King and the twice-divorced American woman for whom he left the throne. He did so without sanction of his church.

The Duke and Duchess were first married by Dr. Charles Mercier, mayor of Monts, in a civil ceremony.

Then, after cocktails on the terrace of the Chateau de Touraine, a few friends gathered in the music room where the Vicar of Darlington read the Anglican service at an improvised altar.

The wedding gift from the Duke to the Duchess was a diamond diamond.

Madame Mercier, wife of the mayor, gave her a bouquet of red, white and blue flowers.

Following the ceremonies both expressed hope for a happy and useful private life, in a statement addressed to the public. Also the Duke asked newspapermen for the privacy they consider their due while agreeing to supply any news of importance concerning the Duchess and himself. They left afterwards by automobile on their honeymoon.

Vancouver is Swept by Big Windstorm and Damage Done Estimated Today at $50,000

VANCOUVER, June 3: (CP)—The Lower Mainland today reckoned damage from a violent gale last night at more than $50,000. The wind, which died down today after reaching at times a velocity of thirty-five miles per hour, fanned destructive fires, interrupted power and communication services, blew down trees and scattered small craft.

The gale sent the big trans-Pacific liner Empress of Canada crashing into her dock while landing but the damage was small.

At Port Kells a $7,500 sawmill, five sections of lumber and 300,000 feet of logs were consumed by wind-fanned flames.

Fire licked over peatlands in the Delta. Five homes were burned on Lulu Island and five in New Westminster.

There were no casualties.

Concern was felt today for the safety of the fish packer Western Shore which is overdue.

Are Now Two and a Half Games Ahead in National League—Yanks Lead American

BOSTON, June 3: (CP)—Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Bees by a score of two to nothing in Boston yesterday to improve their margin of National League leadership to two and a half games over the New York Giants who, playing at home on the Polo Grounds, lost two to one to the Chicago Cubs. The Cubs, as a result, are but half a game behind the Giants in third place. The Brooklyn Dodgers inflicted another defeat six to two on the St. Louis Cardinals to join the Gas House gang in a tie for fourth place. The Phillies, playing at home, lost to the Cincinnati Reds in the fourth National League game yesterday and remained half a game behind the sixth place Boston Bees.

In the American League the first place New York Yankees built up their margin of leadership to three and a half games over the second place Cleveland Indians by defeating the Redmen eight to four at Cleveland. The Chicago White Sox, idle at the Windy City with the Boston Red Sox owing to rain, stayed in third place although the Detroit Tigers defeated Washington Senators and are only mathematically behind. The Boston Red Sox continue in leadership of the second division.

Force Hands of Railway

Speaking at Pouce Coupe during the recent election campaign Glen Braden, the recently elected Liberal candidate for that district, said they were building roads to force the hands of the railways in building a railway.

We doubt whether the railways will be affected by this action but, as the railway is a federal matter and the highways are a provincial problem, it is a good thing to know that the member for the Peace River has the railway in mind and that in the meantime he is alive to the value of highways for his district.

Speaks Well For Cabinet

It speaks well for Hon. T. D. Pattullo's government that the members of his cabinet were all returned in their respective constituencies. The men are outstanding in their respective spheres of activity and the electors have done well in continuing their services. We hope they will continue to serve the province well, something we feel sure they will do.

Distinguished Visitors Coming

The coming to Prince Rupert in the near future of Sir Francis and Lady Floud, the former the British High Commissioner to Canada, is something of an event. They will be suitably entertained here and it is hoped that they will be greeted with our usual bright sunshine.

Congratulations in Order

Congratulations are in order to the six northern men who were elected on June 1. They go to Victoria as a solid group of supporters of the government and we shall look for great things from them. Congratulations are also due to the voters who chose so wisely.

Preparation of Voters' Lists

As we have stated before a good many voters were unable to vote at the recent election because their names were left off the lists. It is explained that the difficulty has arisen in connection with an effort to improve the system of registering. Under it enumerators were appointed by the government whose duty it was to call on the possible voters and get them to put their names on the list instead of, as formerly, putting the onus on the citizen. As it was not possible that these enumerators could call again and again at the homes until all the possible voters therein had signed the affidavit, many did not do so. There was no onus on the office of the registrar in connection with that.

The new plan does not seem to have worked well in Prince Rupert's case and it may be the duty of the next legislature to so amend it that it will be more workable. Unfortunately many people of all parties were unable to exercise their franchise. They might have been able to vote if they had taken the trouble to see that their names were on the list before it closed, but they did not do so. The political parties evidently left it to the enumerators who were paid for the purpose and the result was that it was not done at all.

SANDSPIT HOME LOST

Fire Speedily Consumes Residence Of Mrs. William Woods

A fire which in less than half an hour completely destroyed the fine home of Mrs. William Woods occurred at Sandspit, Queen Charlotte Islands, a few days ago. The fire broke out at noon and, although no person was seriously burned, there was no time to remove any of the belongings with the exception of a piano, an alarm clock and a large framed photograph of a deceased son of Mrs. Woods. The piano was removed from the burning building with remarkable skill and speed by a young woman and a boy. The loss was heavy and there was no insurance.

Why ENO is different
 Eno contains no harsh purgatives—no sugar—nothing that can irritate or harm. Every particle is pure and beneficial. It acts gently but effectively in Nature's own way and forms no habit. It is pleasant-tasting and refreshing. Doctors recommend Eno—and take it themselves. Insist on Eno—refuse substitutes.

ENO'S "FRUIT SALT"
 THE PLEASANT-TASTING ALKALIZING CORRECTIVE

Health—with the radiant happy spirits and the good looks that it brings, is only achieved, and kept, one way... by inner cleanliness! Nature comes down sharply on those who are careless about her Health rules. But, fortunately, there is an easy solution! A dash of ENO every morning keeps Nature in law and order, cleanses the digestive system, removes impurities and makes a woman happy because she is healthy.

Church Bazaar Held on Islands

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, June 3.—The parcel post bazaar held recently at Queen Charlotte City under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of the United Church proved a great success. Gifts of every description were received from near and far. Enthusiastic buyers attended the sale with the result that $67 was added to the church funds.

HE ATE ALL-BRAN AND IMPROVED WONDERFULLY

Read this voluntary letter: "In regard to your ALL-BRAN, it is marked on the package 'best as a cereal, best for cooking,' and, as far as I am concerned, you might add 'best for health.' Since I have begun to eat it, I have improved wonderfully."—Mr. H. E. Poole (address on request).

ALL-BRAN corrects common constipation, due to meals low in "bulk." Within the body, it absorbs water, and forms a soft mass, gently sponging out the system.

ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Isn't this food better than taking weakening pills and drugs?

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as a cereal with milk or cream, or in recipes. In chronic cases, with each meal. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

Nothing Unusual
"I did nothing unusual when I began. My first job that I chose to call a job was in a small bank in Albany. I was a very quiet worker and that served to distinguish me. It was there that I made and invested my first thousand dollars. Then I simply planned my way to Wall Street. It was with this money that I bought the First National Bank."

Concluding the interview, Mr. Baker fairly shouted:
"There, I've broken my record. Tell the others they needn't come in. And get out," he dismissed his interviewer with a smile.

In 1873 Mr. Baker met his first great panic with the failure of the house of J. Cooke & Company. He stood by and declared as a principle that which he has always insisted upon and has always followed, that any panic could be averted if the banks instead of becoming afraid and hoarding their resources would pay them out. The First National weathered that panic and it is worthy of note that it did not sell its borrowers, but assisted them by private compromise.

In First Panic
Mr. Baker became president of the First National in 1877 and remained in that position until 1909, when he resigned and was made chairman of the board.

At the height of his career Mr. Baker held directorates in 43 banks and other corporations, including the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, of which he was said to be the largest individual stockholder; the United States Steel Corporation, the Pullman company and numerous railroads. It was said that he held the record of attending more directors' meetings than any other financier in New York.

He never seriously relaxed from work and showed little interest in amusements until he took up golf at the age of 70. However, he found time to take an active part in the affairs of many charitable and philanthropic institutions and to those he was a liberal contributor.

Five Million Gift
Mr. Baker's largest single gift, made in 1924, was $5,000,000 to the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. In May 1922, he gave $1,000,000 in Victory Bonds to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the only condition imposed being that the principal was to be held intact and the interest used for the museum. A week later he gave $500,000 in Victory Bonds to the Society of the New York Hospital, which with $250,000 given in 1912, was used for the establishment of the George F. Baker endowment fund. On June 21, 1922, he contributed $250,000 to the endowment of the American Museum of Natural History.

Other large gifts included $2,000,000 to the American Red Cross in 1917 and 1918; $1,850,000 to Cornell University; $700,000 to Columbia University for the purchase of a tract of land for an athletic field, known as Baker Field, and $100,000 to Dartmouth College to establish an endowment in memory of his uncle, Fisher Ames Baker, a graduate in the class of 1859.

It was said that the American fortunes which exceeded that of Mr. Baker were those of John D. Rockefeller and Henry Ford.

George F. Baker was born March 27, 1840 at Troy, N.Y., the son of George E. and Florence Tucker Baker. When he was eight years old his family moved to Brooklyn, his father engaging in the shoe business in New York. Later the family moved to Williamsburg, where the son went to school. He finished his education at Seward University, a boarding school at Florida, N.Y.

Worked in Grocery
He went to work in a grocery store, then in a small bank and in 1858 was appointed a clerk in the state banking department.

As a young man Mr. Baker took an interest in aquatic sports and won the sculling championship of the Upper Hudson.

In 1861, just as the Civil War was commencing, Mr. Baker, who two years before had been in a railway accident and suffered serious injuries, became secretary at first, then assistant military secretary to Governor Edward B. Morgan of New York.

While still a young man Mr. Baker married Miss Florence Tucker Baker, who died several years ago. One son, George F. Baker Jr., was born of the marriage.

WHIFFLETS From the Waterfront

With Capt. Neil McLean in command for the season and Norman McLean aboard as purser in addition to other changes among her personal officers, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert arrived in port at 11:45 yesterday morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls with a good-sized list of passengers and sailed at 6:15 p.m. for Anyox and Stewart. The vessel will return here this evening southbound.

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. James Watt, arrived in port at 8:15 last evening from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands with passengers, mail and freight and will sail at 10:30 p.m. Friday night on her return south over the same route.

Three halibut vessels sold catches totalling 83,000 pounds at Seattle yesterday as follows: Akutan, 39,000 pounds, Whiz, 8 3/4c and 7 1/2c; Mikof, 39,000, Booth, 9 1/2c and 7 1/2c; Thelma J., 5,000, Washington, 9 1/2c and 7 1/2c.

On Tuesday the American halibut schooner Electra sold 31,000 pounds at Ketchikan for 7 1/4c and 5 1/2c.

The Seattle halibut schooner Western has been towed into Kodiak by the Aleutian, another schooner, having lost her rudder while coming in from sea 120 miles off Kodiak. The Aleutian picked the Western up about sixty miles out and took her the rest of the way into Kodiak. The Western, which has a catch of 36,000 pounds on board, will probably be towed on to Ketchikan by the Aleutian.

Arriving here tomorrow afternoon from the south, C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide will proceed on a special voyage to Ketchikan to pick up a number of Alaskan school teachers bound south for the summer and will be back here Saturday morning on the return voyage.

FINE PLAY PRESENTED

"Lloyds of London" is Feature Offering at Capitol Theatre This Week-end

Against a turbulent canvas of adventure and intrigue incidental to the inner workings of one of the most extraordinary business organizations of the world, "Lloyds of London," coming to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here for three days commencing tonight, presents one of the greatest love stories of all time when fierce courage and vengeful fury fought to the death for a love that flamed while the fate of an Empire hung in the balance.

The story opens with Freddie Bartholomew, as young Jonathan Blake and Douglas Scott as Horatio Nelson discover a plot to scuttle a ship and collect the insurance from Lloyds. They determine to tell Mr. Lloyd of the plot. Years pass and Jonathan becomes a great figure in the insurance world while Nelson rises as Britain's great naval hero. How their paths cross in later life with Madeline Carroll and Tyrone Power playing the romantic leads makes a stirring drama.
