R. Borden

Aged Former Premier Of Canada Succumbs Early This Morning

Was Only Wartime Prime Minister of Combatant Nation Who Held Office Throughout Conflict

OTTAWA, June 10: (CP)—Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Laird Borden, K.C., ex-M.P., K.C.M.G., P.C., D.C.L., LL.D., distinguished statesman and Prime Minister of Canada throughout the Great War, died at 7:30 this morning. He would have been eighty-three years of age on June 26. Sir Robert's physician announced that death came "after three weeks' illness due to coronary thrombosis."

The actual cause of death was cardiac exhaustion. Late yesterday afternoon symptoms of congestive failure suddenly became more pronounced and, after a gradual decline, the end came peacefully. The funeral will take place Saturday.

Sir Robert Borden, Canada's wartime prime minister, was the only leader of a combatant nation who held the reins of power from the beginning to the end of hostilities.

The strain of war years, the worries and cares of office, undermined his health and he retired to the tranquility of an old colonial home overlooking the Rideau River in Ottawa—his place in Canadian history etched deeply, his recognition as a world figure assured.

A Nova Scotian, Borden entered parliament in 1896, became Conservative leader in 1901 at the height of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's popularity. He slowly untied the fortunes of his party and rode into power in 1911 in fighting opposition to the Taff-Fielding reciprocity pact with Washington.

It was Borden's destiny to be leader of a government during war time. But he seemed to be moulded for that particular task—patient, determined, self-sacrificing. There was nothing devious or subtle about him. With relentless tenacity, he speeded the nation to war. When enlistments fell off in the dark days of 1917, he formed a union government to pass a conscription law.

The tall, broad-shouldered Canadian with the quizzical grey eyes played a leading part at the Versailles peace conference and he insisted that Canada sign the treaty as a separate nation. Then, until July 10, 1920, he remained in office, starting the reconstruction period.

His health undermined and his job done, Borden retired from politics to be succeeded by Arthur Meighen as Conservative leader. He retired to the sort of life he loved—time for books, time for golf. He travelled. He picked up sufficient business connections to keep him busy. And he found time to represent Canada at world events, the Washington naval conference in 1922, the League of Nations in 1930. He lectured in Canada and Great Britain. And he puttered about his garden.

All through life, Sir Robert never took a drink although he was not a prohibitionist. He smoked and was the only Canadian prime minister who chewed tobacco, a small quid being hidden under his cheek, few people ever knowing about it. He never owned a car, in fact boasted about it.

In later life, Borden played golf and bowled and in his younger days in Halifax was a fair cricket and tennis player. His great hobby was books and few agents ever turned away from his door without an order.

Beloved by Veterans

During his years of retirement Sir Robert continued his interest in the men who had fought the Great War, and in Ottawa no executive men's function was complete without him. His popularity was great, the war veterans entertaining for him a profound and sincere affection.

They appreciated the gesture of Prime Minister Mackenzie King in delegating Sir Robert to the government's official party at the unveiling of the National Memorial on Vimy Ridge in July, 1936. The veteran statesman made the journey and while in France was received with high honor by the French government.

Sir Robert Borden was born in Grand Pre, N.S., June 26, 1854, near the historic fields, edged with Acadian willows, the Evangeline well, the church and burial ground immortalized by Longfellow. He was a descendant of Samuel Borden, an American surveyor who moved to Falmouth, N.S., in 1760 before the Loyalists. He was educated at Acadia Villa Academy in Horton, N.S.

WAGNER ACT IS INVOKED

Steel Workers Take Advantage Of New Legislation in Bloody Dispute

Youngstown Clash

Two Big Companies Plan to Re-open in Spite of Strike

CHICAGO, June 10: (CP)—The United States Wagner Labor Relations Act was invoked for the first time yesterday in the bloody far-flung steel strike when union attorneys drafted a formal complaint accusing the Inland Steel Co. of violating the Act through unfair labor practices.

At Youngstown, Ohio, sheriffs deputies clashed with Great Lakes steel strike pickets today, leaving seventeen injured.

Meanwhile plans went forward for the re-opening of the Republic Steel Corporation's plant at Monroe, Michigan, in the face of a barricade which John L. Lewis said would number eight to ten thousand men.

The Newton Steel Co., also at Monroe, announced that it was determined to open its strike-closed plant regardless of the outcome of a conference over the twelve-day walk-out.

DIAMOND DRILLING

Contract to be Let on Ecstall Property by F. W. Guernsey

F. W. Guernsey, who is developing the well known B. C. Pyrites mining property on the Ecstall River, announces that he will let a contract in Vancouver within a few days for the diamond drilling of the ground. There are at present some fourteen men employed at the mine. Later a geo-physical examination will be undertaken. On the rather extensive program of exploration work which is now being carried out will depend the future line of action.

Mr. Guernsey left on last evening's train for Prince George enroute to the Island Mountain property at Wells in the Cariboo where he will proceed to Vancouver. The Island Mountain mine is now idle owing to a strike in demand for recognition of the Committee for Industrial Organization. Mr. Guernsey is, apparently, not worrying. "The gold is still in the mine," he remarked yesterday. "It is just as good as money in the bank to us."

Tonight's train, due from the East at 10:20, is reported to be thirty minutes late.

Make Visitors Welcome

Tomorrow the members of the Vancouver Board of Trade will spend a full day in the city from early morning until midnight. Doubtless, some of the visitors will be here on business but all will be welcome and we feel sure all Prince Rupert people will do their best to make them feel welcome.

We like all our visitors to feel that they are welcome in Prince Rupert. By being friendly we make friends and nothing is so valuable in this life as friendship.

Eclipse of the Sun

A good many school children were looking for the eclipse of the sun on Tuesday of this week. They were right in the knowledge they had gained that there was to be an eclipse but the difficulty was that it could not be seen in this part of the world. In fact it was visible hardly anywhere except from away out on the Pacific Ocean from a very few small islands in that ocean or from the coast of Peru in South America.

Eclipses do not occur very often. Some people have never seen one. Others have seen eclipses of the sun and the moon.

Cheaper Cars

The tariff board is making a study of the disparity between the price of automobiles in Canada and the price for the same cars in the United States. It has long been charged that the price of Canadian cars is too high and the government has given an intimation that, if something is not done about revising prices, the duty will be considerably reduced if not taken off entirely.

We are not informed of the reason for the high cost of cars in this country but presume there is one. If the manufacturers make it clear to the public that there is a good reason for the price they charge, there will be no change.

Mr. Aberhart's Stand

When Premier Aberhart addressed his people over the radio through the Prophetic Bible Institute he coupled disloyalty to himself with forgetfulness of God. It reminds us somewhat of the German Kaiser's "Me and God" during the war. It may not be wrong perhaps to suggest that if God had set his mind on the Social Credit system as the most desirable system of government, he would not have waited all this time, especially when he is supposed to have been in very close contact with "his chosen people" several thousand years ago and is said to have directed their activities through prophets, judges and kings as far back as the days of Moses, the lawgiver. There was no mention of social credit in those early days although there was mention of a general debt cancellation periodically.

CONVENTION IN RUPERT

Canadian Legion Will be Invited To Meet Here Next Year

At the regular monthly meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League last evening it was enthusiastically agreed to extend an invitation to the branches of the Legion in British Columbia to hold the 1938 provincial convention in Prince Rupert. It is the turn for the convention to be held at the coast next year and the delegates to the Penticton convention this year will be instructed to convey this branch's invitation for the 1938 convention.

A resolution from the North Okanagan zone of the Canadian Legion asking that resolutions for the Penticton convention be supplied to the branches before the convention was endorsed. It was decided to increase the grant from the branch to the Dominion Service Bureau Maintenance Fund. The branch will once again be a 100 percent subscriber to the Canadian Legion Magazine "The Legionary."

Regret was expressed at the departure from the city of W. H. Goodsell who had been a faithful member of the branch since its inception.

The new Canadian Legion standard purchased by the branch has arrived and H. Smith and F. Skellum were appointed standard bearers.

Members of the Canadian Legion football committee appointed are J. S. Wilson, M. M. Lamb and J. J. Judge.

King's Birthday Smoker is Held

Captain Mitchell Among Speakers At Canadian Legion Gathering

Following the regular meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Legion last evening, a smoking concert was held at the club to celebrate the date suggested by King George as a suitable one to commemorate his birthday.

Features of an interesting program was an impromptu talk by Capt. Mitchell who had been inspecting the local branch of the Sea Cadets. Captain Mitchell spoke of the valuable training the boys were receiving, a training that would be for ever a factor in their life. In suggesting that such an organization as the Canadian Legion should be a supporter of boys' organizations, the speaker reminded that the boys were making a contribution to their King and country and to the best interests of civilization just as the veterans had offered in the Great War.

Another interesting speaker was W. J. Treacy of St. Catharines, Ontario. Mr. Treacy was a member of the 102nd Overseas Battalion and was very pleased to meet former comrades from the same unit. He also entertained with piano solos.

Others contributing to the program were J. A. Teng, George Holmes and Alex Harvey. Accompanists were S. C. Thomson and A. L. Small. Community singing was under J. S. Wilson.

President Jack Preece was in the chair. Toasts were drunk to the King, and also to the Navy. The latter was coupled with the name of Captain Mitchell. Staff Sergeant G. H. Greenwood and R. M. Winslow were guests.

The Cadets assembled at the Armory and, with the bugle band, paraded to headquarters of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve where the inspection took place. Captain Mitchell put the lads through a course of drills and exercises and expressed himself as being well pleased with the showing that had been made. ### MAY INVITE CONVENTION

Local Gyros Consider Proposal to Bring District Gathering Here—Jap Cadets For Flag Day

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club is considering a proposal to extend an invitation for the 1937 district convention to be held in the city. The matter was brought up by Dr. R. G. Large at the regular monthly business luncheon of the club yesterday and will be further dealt with a month hence. The invitation would have to be formally extended at the 1937 district convention to be held at Kelowna in August. At this year's district convention W. H. Tobey of Prince Rupert is to be nominated for the post of lieutenant-governor. Should the convention be held in Prince Rupert it might bring a convention party of up to 200 persons to the city from all over the Pacific Northwest including Washington State. It would be an undertaking of some magnitude for the local club to sponsor.

The club yesterday received reports of further progress in connection with the Flag Day celebration to be staged on July 2. An attraction of more than usual interest in connection with the Flag Day may be a parade, demonstration of jiu jitsu and other activities by cadets of the Japanese training ship Kaiwo Maru which will be in port at that time. The club will entertain officers of the Kaiwo Maru at its luncheon on the last Wednesday in June.

A letter from George Cripps, secretary of the Coronation Day celebration committee, read at yesterday's luncheon, expressed appreciation of the co-operation of the Gyro Club in connection with the celebration, particularly the dance which was held that night by the club which resulted in $33 being turned over to the committee.

Dr. H. N. Brocklesby, the president, was in the chair at yesterday's luncheon and a guest was Frank Blachford of Toronto.
