WOULD NOT SIGN BILL

Neither Did President Roosevelt Veto Tax Revision Measure Yesterday

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28:—The $5,000,000,000 tax revision bill became law at midnight last night but without the signature of the President.

Mr. Roosevelt neither signed nor vetoed the measure which, as a result, automatically became law.

Thus the chief executive protested certain provisions of the bill with which he did not agree including the flat tax on capital gains and the undistributed profits tax.

President Roosevelt withheld his announcement in regard to the bill until after the closing of the stock market which, however, had dropped sharply during the day.

PUTTING BACK THE CLOCK

President Beatty would put back the clock of progress and close up a large part of Canadian National mileage in Canada. His proposal includes the closing of the main line of the Canadian National from Ottawa and Toronto to Winnipeg with the exception of the Long Lac cut-off, a good deal of the main line from Quebec to Montreal, the St. John Valley line and about eighty branch lines in different parts of the country, the total mileage being 5051 of which over three thousand miles would be Canadian National and about seventeen hundred miles of Canadian Pacific lines. This suggestion was made to the Royal Commission on Transportation in 1932 and was recently made public.

We can hardly think that Sir Edward was serious in his proposal. It looks to us as if he meant that, if some steps were not taken to stop truck and bus competition shutting down these lines would be necessary. This competition is unfair because the roadbed for the tracks is kept up by the people whereas the roadbed for the trains is kept up at the expense of the railways.

In order to offset this it has been suggested that the federal government should contribute to the cost of upkeep of the railways in proportion to the amount paid in upkeep of the highways which compete with the railways.

We cannot conceive of the Canadian Parliament authorizing the shutting down of the railway through northern Ontario and Quebec which was built by the government of Canada some years ago for the purpose of opening up that section. Along it towns and villages have sprung up and many Canadians have invested in homes, businesses and property. To shut down the railway would confiscate property worth many millions of dollars in addition to stopping development in that part of Canada.

We feel that, instead of abandoning railway lines, the transportation over them might be modified somewhat from present methods. Light motor cars might be run instead of complete trains as at present so that the people might still get a service but not so expensive a service as at present.

While highway transportation has been making tremendous progress of late, railway transportation has continued in very much the same old way and has not adapted itself to modern conditions. This is true both in the United States and Canada.

We realize that, in saying this, we are laying ourselves open to the charge of pretending to know more about the railway business than railwaymen. Of course, there are difficulties in the way of making changes. At the same time we feel that the railways must be made to pay their own way without any increase in the cost of carrying either freight or passengers and that also it must not be necessary to cut down services except in the case of parallel lines which do not serve any new country such as the lines between Kamloops and Vancouver which is one of the lines proposed to be abandoned.

We feel strongly that it would be much better to continue to pay the present loss rather than curtail services which would seriously injure the development of the country.

Suppose Sir Edward had proposed to close down the railway between Prince Rupert and Winnipeg because it is not paying its way, how would we have felt about it? No, the hands of the clock must not be put back. What is needed is to make the present system pay its way without cutting down.

SPORT CHAT

Jack White, former British open champion and Sunningdale professional, has been appointed pro to the new municipal golf course in Musselburgh, England. He won the title in 1904.

A special train with five vans attached for accommodation of bicycles carried cyclists from London to Winchester where excursionists pedaled through the New Forest. One-day round-trip fare was $1.80.

Although Worcestershire was defeated by an innings and 77 runs by the touring Australian cricketers, C. H. Bull was batting star of the losers with 106 runs — despite a broken finger.

Golfers at Southport, England, may play golf on Sundays but only from 1 p.m. on, city council decided. A proposal to open municipal links at 10 a.m. was defeated.

Wally Hammond, Gloucestershire and England cricket batsman, and his wife are to be made honorary life members of the Gloucestershire club.

Dr. Frederick Chapman, who played rugby for England seven times between 1919-14, is dead at Hartlepool aged 50. He scored the first try on the new international ground at Twickenham in 1910.

Competing in the London and Southern Counties Shield match, Alfred Hamilton, 73, collapsed and died on the bowling green.

Scott Read, 252-pound Richmond, England, hotel proprietor, won the 56-mile rowing race against 210-pound Gordon Killie, by three minutes. The trip took four days, the winner receiving a leg of mutton.

Stanley Matthews, brilliant forward who said he wasn't "happy" with Stoke City football club and asked for his transfer last year, has signed with the English league entry for 1938-39.

There was a record tie for the South African amateur golf championship when Len Jacobs and J. W. Verwey reached the 25th hole in the second round. Previous record was a 23rd-hole tie in 1932.

Reaching the Victoria marbles semi-finals at Melbourne, James Quinliven, 39, collapsed and died. Winner of the title, J. H. Newby, 63, said his success was due to arduous training and keeping physically fit.

The football used by Aston Villa in its last English league second division match was presented to the German-Lloyd liner "Europa" team. The Villans gained promotion to the first division.

Giants' Lead Is Only Two Games

Chicago Cubs Creep Up on Pace-Makers—Detroit Tops American Second Division

CHICAGO, May 28:—Detroit Tigers, by virtue of their 5 to 2 victory over Chicago White Sox displaced the Sox from leadership of the second division in the American League.

The Chicago Cubs crept up to within two games of the idle New York Giants, National League leaders, as a result of their 5 to nil victory over Pittsburgh Pirates.

PAPER TOWN WAS WINNER

Defeated Both Bella Coola and Bella Bella in Football At Week-end

OCEAN FALLS, May 28:—Ocean Falls captured the Mackenzie Cup at the end of last week as a result of a victorious trip to Bella Coola on which the paper town reps vanquished teams representing both Bella Coola and Bella Bella. The first game Saturday resulted in a 4 to 2 victory for Ocean Falls over Bella Coola while in the second on Sunday, Ocean Falls won three to two.

The trip was made by boat and the Ocean Falls team made a motor trip up the Bella Coola Valley, a distance of forty miles, to Tweedsmuir Lodge at Stue before the first game.

The games were played in hot weather with the thermometer going as high as 82 above. Large and interested crowds followed the play in both games.

First Game

Andy Gourlay, centre forward for the Falls, opened the scoring after the Bella Coola goalie failed to clear a cross from Calderhead at outside right. The Indians pressed hard for the next ten minutes but had no finish in front of the goal. J. McCausland, widened the lead by a fast drive from the thirty yard line. The Indians attacked hard but without result. The score was 2-2 at half time.

Not many minutes after the start of the second half, B. Purdy beating the two fullbacks, left the goalie flatfooted with a well placed kick to the right hand corner of the net. The final score came when a penalty kick was awarded to the Falls which T. Kelly took, making no mistake for the fourth counter.

The Ocean Falls team was as follows:

K. Gillanders, A. Boyd, J. Booth, J. McKenzie, T. Kelly, J. McKay, M. Calderhead, J. McCausland, A. Gourlay, B. Purdy, J. Ollett, Manager, Bert Ollett.

Second Game

The second game against Bella Bella Indians proved even more strenuous than the Bella Coola match. Bella Bella opened the scoring seven minutes after the game started when the centre forward hopelessly beat Jock McKenzie, the Falls' spare net tender, with a hard drive into the right hand corner of the net. The Falls equalized when Ross Robertson crossed the ball from the right wing. Andy Gourlay heading the ball into the net well out of reach of the goal tender.

The visitors attacked hard with the result that a lob from Jack Magham at left half was promptly headed into the net by R. Robertson for the Falls second counter.

A smart bit of work was accomplished for the third goal. J. Stirling and B. Purdy leaving defense at a standstill with Purdy driving the ball into the net to make the score 3-1 which stood until the interval.

The final half found the Falls team a little the worse for wear. B. Henderson going right through only to shoot wide. The Indians

May Be Another Garden Of Eden

Latest Scheme For Ideal Set-Up To Include South African Couples

CAPE TOWN, May 28: (CP)—A plan to set up a new "Garden of Eden" in the Marquesas Islands, 1,000 miles off the nearest land route in the dead centre of the Pacific Ocean, has caught the fancy of hundreds of South Africans. Advertising for "two or three couples" to join them permanently in "a land of eternal summer, where fresh water, fruit and vegetables abound," two men have been deluged by requests. The expedition is expected to start in five months time.

Essentials for companions on the proposed journey are that each man and woman be married "at least for their children, if any, to be young." The originators of the scheme also insist each person chosen to be examined by a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ingraham and little daughter, Martha, arrived in the city on the Cardena last night from Surf Inlet. Mrs. Ingram and daughter will visit at Skidegate, Queen Charlotte Islands, with Mrs. Ingram's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stevens.

Constable Charles Bennett, formerly with the provincial police boat P.M.L.8 here and more recently stationed at Bralorne, was in the city aboard the Princess Louise today bound north for Atlin to which point he has been transferred, taking the place of Constable H. J. Engelson who is being moved to the same department at Fort Nelson. Constable Bennett is accompanied north by his bride, having just been married in Vancouver. Mrs. Bennett was formerly Miss Margaret Scotland, daughter of John Scotland, a well known chief engineer on Yukon River steamers.

Duncan P. Miller of the local customs house staff sailed today on the Princess Louise for Stikine to assume his duties there as customs officer for the season.

Judge and Mrs. C. D. Macaulay of Dawson were passengers aboard the Princess Louise today going through to the Yukon for the summer. They have been spending the winter in Vancouver.

Miss Helen Kahn of San Francisco was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise this morning going through to Juneau where she will pay a visit with her sister, Mrs. Isadore Goldstein.

Lester B. Jones, agent for the Canadian National Railways at Skagway, was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise today going north for the summer season after having spent the winter at company offices in Vancouver.

Ernest Chapman, pioneer Dawson merchant, was a passenger aboard the Princess Louise today returning north after a trip to Eastern Canada and the United States. It had been his first trip outside in thirty-three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McGinnis of Renton, Washington, were passengers aboard the Princess Louise this morning going north to the Stikine River district. Mr. McGinnis was formerly located for years at Alice Arm where he engaged in mining and prospecting.

John Haldane, Indian, was fined $10, with option of seven days' imprisonment, by Magistrate McClymont in city police court this morning. For refusing to tell where he obtained his liquor, he was assessed an additional $5, with five days' option.

Miss Mildred Lloyd-Jones and Arthur Lloyd-Jones of Kelowna arrived in the city on the Princess Louise this morning from the south. They are here to attend the wedding next Friday of their brother, Robert Lloyd-Jones, to Miss Polema Cameron.

Donald Blake, D. E. Norton, D. Passmore, W. Slater and D. M. Houston were members of the local 102nd Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery, returning to the city on the Princess Adelaide last night from Esquimalt where they took courses of training.

Dr. Hugh S. Bostock and A. C. Tuttle, heading Geological Survey of Canada parties which will operate in the Yukon this season, were passengers aboard the Princess Louise this morning, going through to the Yukon, accompanied by members of their parties.

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

Charles Balagno is in charge of the activities of the Prince Rupert Horticultural Society again this year and is enthusiastic over the prospects. He is supported by an able and active vice-president in Mrs. Mandy. Just now plans are being made for the annual flower show and a committee is gathering information with a view to making

FLOWERS EVERY MONTH

Most gardeners like to have flowers in bloom every month from March to November. Just now the rock gardeners are having their innings but the larger perennials are well on the way and these will be followed by the annuals. To miss any of these is to miss an important part of the all-round garden.

it the best yet held. We bespeak for them the support of the whole community. Mr. Balagno is the star dahlia grower of Prince Rupert and Mrs. Mandy has one of the most picturesque and delightful varieties to be obtained and nothing could be more interesting than a long range of these flowers from the elegant greenhouse carnations to the hardy sweet William of the herbaceous garden and the tiny rock plants that thrive in a dry wall or gravelly moraine.

In planting we are always up against a problem. Shall we plant our flowers in rows or in intricate patterns or in groups? I mix mine up a great deal because I do not like bare patches during any part of the season. If I had a solid bed of stocks, there would be an empty bed as soon as the stocks were over. That is all right on an estate but does not look well in a small garden. The tendency is away from large groups in the small city garden in order to avoid the bare spots which follow the end of the season. The ideal garden in my mind has bloom from early spring until late fall. But not all gardeners are agreed on that.

A pair of robins made their temporary home in the garden this spring and the brood of young left their nest at the beginning of the week. They moved away immediately, probably because of the cats that tried to get them.

Apple trees are in bloom at a good many places in the city. One of the finest is that in the garden of Jack Wynne, corner of Eleventh Avenue and Conrad Street.

I should like to visit every part of the city and tell about what I

Timely Recipes

ORANGE TAPIOCA CREAM

1-3 cup quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 cups milk, scalded
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 egg white, stiffly beaten
1 teaspoon orange extract
4 oranges, sections free from membrane

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, salt, egg yolk and milk in top of double boiler and stir enough to break egg yolk. Place over rapidly boiling water, bring to scalding point (allow 5 to 7 minutes), and cook five minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from boiling water. Fold a small amount into egg white; add to remaining tapioca mixture and blend. Cool—mixture thickens as it cools. When slightly cool, add flavoring; chill. Place few sections of orange in bottom of individual serving dishes and cover with tapioca mixture. Garnish with additional orange sections. Serves eight.

gardens in the city. Both are interested in making Prince Rupert the city beautiful.

Garden enthusiasts have had a wonderful time the past week or so. The weather has been excellent and growth has been rapid. While some have their seedlings all in others have waited for rain before planting them. It would be well to have most of them set out before the end of the month or at the latest the first week in June.

I am making an experiment this year with water lilies. They are planted one each in a tub—a white a yellow and a pink. They have started to grow a little and I am anxiously looking forward to the time when they send up bloom. They are of the hardier varieties and should bloom freely during the summer.

So many people have been making inquiries about what to plant and how to plant that it is difficult to answer all the questions. The great thing is to have the soil well worked over and free from lumps and to water well at time of planting and for a week or so after planting. Liquid fertilizer is also a help to the plants trying to make a new root. I use a couple of handfuls of complete fertilizer dissolved in a watering can of water. It is the easiest thing to do. Of course that appeals to the lazy gardener.

What is the future of your garden? Are you keen on some particular flower or is your garden just a hodge podge of flowers of all kinds and descriptions? Or

Speculating on Forthcoming Salmon Season—More Canneries to Operate—Price Not Set—Halibut Landings Still High

With salmon canning scheduled to start on June 26, there is speculation in Prince Rupert district now as to what kind of a season this will be. There should be a reasonably good run of sockeye but it is understood the demand for this variety will not be anything out of the ordinary. However, this may be compensated for to some extent by an improved demand for pinks and chums. Generally speaking, there appears to be some uncertainty in the canning industry this year. On the Skeena River this year there will be one less cannery operating. Haysport being closed down by the Canadian Fishing Co. On the other hand, there will be more canning activity on the Queen Charlotte Islands with the B.C. Packers operating the Pacofi plant on Moresby Island for the first time and also Shannon Bay in Massett Inlet which has not run for years. Nelson Bros. at Old Massett and Langara Fishing & Packing Co. at New Massett will also be operating. Sockeye prices for the season have not been announced as yet.

The past week was again heavy for halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert with an aggregate of 710,200 pounds of which 326,200 pounds was from Canadian vessels and 384,000 pounds from American. Owing to the heavy volume of fish, prices continued at a low level. For Canadian fish the high price of the week was 6.3c and 4c which the Alken, Balsac, D.S.T., Dovre B. and Dorreen N. received for catches of 12,500, 17,000, 8,000, 21,000 and 5,000 pounds respectively while the low was 5c and 4c which quite a number of boats had to accept. For American fish the high price of the week was 7c and 5c which Reliance I. and Sherman received for 15,000 and 17,500 pounds respectively. The low American price was 6.5c and 5c which the majority of the boats landing during the week were paid. Halibut landings at Prince Rupert for the 1938 season up to and including yesterday had reached a total of 3,859,850 pounds in comparison with 4,435,860 pounds at a corresponding date last year when the season commenced two weeks earlier. The Canadian total to date is 1,955,950 pounds in comparison with 2,453,660 pounds a year ago while the 1938 American total is 1,903,900 pounds as against 1,982,200 pounds last year. Early June it is expected will see a number of small Canadian boats which have been engaged in halibut fishing turning to the salmon fishery.

Four halibut boats sold catches totalling 62,000 pounds at Seattle yesterday as follows: Federal, 20,000, Sebastian, 7,3c and 6c; Mariner, 15,000, Whiz, 6,7c and 6c; All-tak, 13,000, Ripley, 7c and 6c; West-fjord, 14,000, New England, 6,4c and 6c.

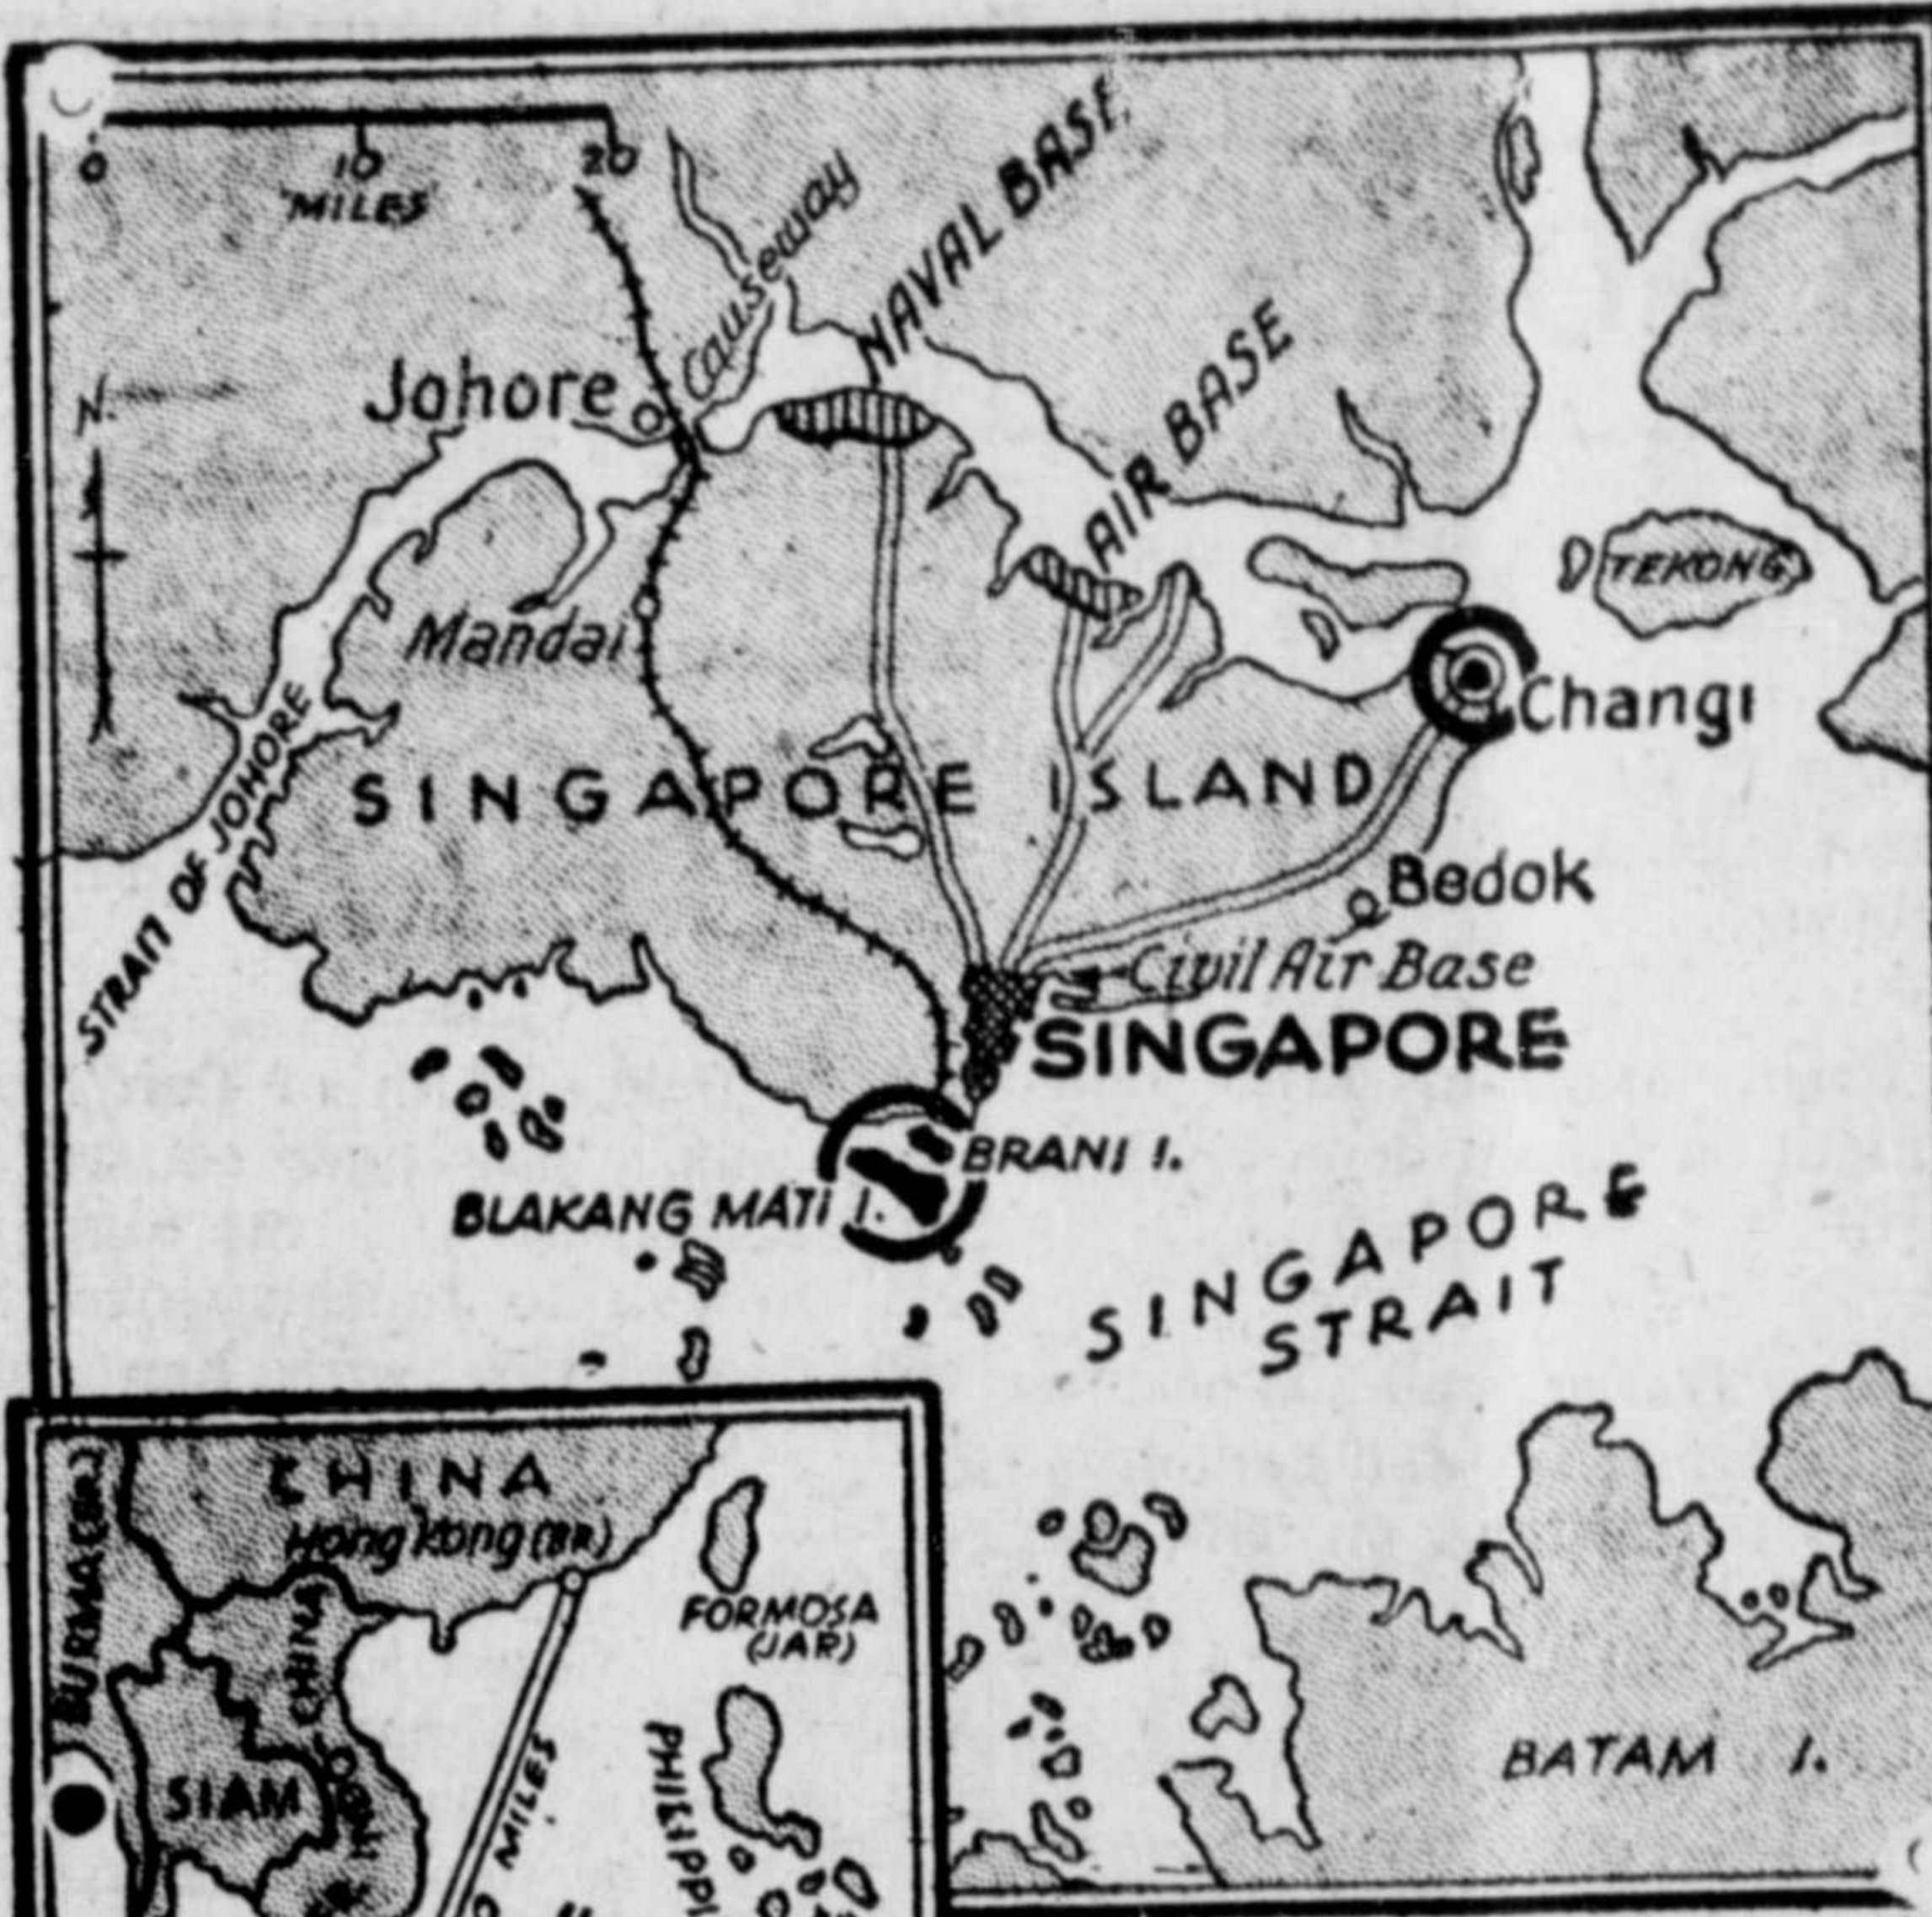

C.P.R. Steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, arrived in port at 11:15 this morning from Vancouver and sailed at noon in continuation of her regular voyage to Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is scheduled to call here southbound next Wednesday afternoon. The vessel took 14 passengers north from here. She brought in 140 passengers of whom four disembarked here.

Capt. John Muir, well known as a navigator of the north coast in the service of the Union Steamship Co. for many years, has been appointed marine superintendent for the company, it is announced. Capt. Muir, who has many friends in Prince Rupert, succeeds Capt. Walker who has retired after thirty-one years of service.

SINGAPORE BASE PROVES ITS STRENGTH

In a test of the naval, air and military defences of Singapore, Britain's great Far East base in which a force from a mythical Blueland attacked the Redland defenders, the Singapore forces were considered to have proved their ability to repulse attacks from any enemy after the first assault. Other manoeuvres were planned to explore the situation further. The large map shows the layout of Singapore's fortifications. The naval base facing the Strait of Johore is strongly protected by anti-aircraft equipment. Changi, at the eastern end of the island, and Blakang Mati and Brani Islands, at the opposite end, are equipped with huge guns commanding the approaches to the fortress. The smaller map depicts Singapore in its geographical relation to British Hong Kong, Japanese Formosa, the Dutch East Indies and Australia.

SESSION OF BOY SCOUTS

Colors Presented and Other Ceremonies at Gathering Last Night

A milestone was reached last night in the annals of First Prince Rupert Boy Scout Troop when, before a large audience of parents and friends and the newly formed Second Prince Rupert Troop from Seal Cove, the Union Jack and Troop Colors were formally presented to the Scouts.

The ceremonies opened with the raising of the flag with the Scouts in horseshoe formation followed by the singing of "O Canada." The Scoutmaster, Robert Yerburgh, then formally welcomed the visitors and spoke briefly of Scouting itself. After tracing the history of the movement, he described a Scout as first a pioneer and backwoodsman, secondly a modern knight errant and, thirdly, always true to his motto "Be Prepared."

Next on the program a signalling competition was held between the two troops with two boys on each team. Messages were swiftly sent with flags from one end of the hall to the other. An original play, composed by the boys themselves, was then presented by the Fox Patrol dealing with the practical aspect of Scouting. A knotting competition called for considerable ingenuity and skill. As a Scout is trained in the use of his senses, several sense-training competitions were held in smell, sight and taste. This brought the gathering to its more formal aspect.

Dr. Carter Speaks

Dr. Neal Carter, president of the troop committee, then spoke a few words, outlining the proposed local association. During the course of his remarks he presented tenderfoot badges to Scouts King, Rorvik and McKeown and to Scouts Simonsen and Lindquist (in absentia). He then introduced Lieut. G. H. Greenwood, commanding officer of the Sea Cadets who gave an inspiring address on the significance of the Union Jack and exhorted all present to ever live up to what it represented. The climax of the evening then came when J. S. Wilson, representing the Canadian Legion, was called on to present the Union Jack. After an eloquent summary of the meaning of the act about to be performed, he presented the flag to the color party consisting of Scouts Jones and Eby under Patrol Leader Nordan, who solemnly turned about to face the assembly for the singing of the National Anthem.

Then Mrs. A. T. Parkin, Regent of Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, assisted by Mrs. William Brass, handed over the Troop Flag to the color party which solemnly bore the two flags to their resting place.

A surprise item on the program came when Dr. Carter presented a handsome shield to the Eagle Patrol as a reward for excellence in Scouting in the past few months. This is to be competed for by the different patrols in bi-monthly competition. He also invited all present to attend the dedication of the flags on Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral when the Scouts and Girl Guides will parade to church.

The gathering was brought to a close by the lowering of the flag in darkness with only a spotlight reflected on the colors and the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

Refreshments were served by the Mother's Auxiliary with the patrol leaders and seconds acting as servers.

MINING IN FAR NORTH

Preparing For Banner Season In Northwest Territories

Much Freight

Gasoline and Oil Cashed; New Strikes Expected

(By Sam G. Ross)

EDMONTON, May 28: (CP) — The great northland is swinging into action for its 1938 summer season.

At least 35,000 tons of freight must be moved over water routes from Waterways, Alberta, to the mining projects dotting the Northwest Territories.

The task of caching nearly 200,000 gallons of gasoline and 10,000 gallons of lubricating oil for airplanes in winter flying is under way.

And nearly 100 men have already left Edmonton, gateway to the northern riches, to man the northern commercial fleets operating on the Athabaska, Mackenzie and other rivers and Athabaska, Great Slave, Great Bear and other lakes.

Most of the freight is mining equipment for the scores of ventures in the Northwest Territories. Never dull even in winter, the north's summer activities are increasing annually because of the intense mining activity and the need of shipping large supplies of water during the summer season.

By the end of May, the boat movement of freight will be in full swing from Waterways, 225 miles north of Edmonton on the Athabaska River, to Goldfields, Saskatchewan, 450 miles northeast of Edmonton; Yellowknife, 725 miles north of Edmonton, and to a score of other points between the Alberta capital and Aklavik, 1,250 miles northward on the Arctic shores.

To Exceed All Records

Col. J. K. Cornwall, famed "Peace River Jim" of the northern waterways, believes the summer freight business will exceed all records.

At least 35,000 tons of freight must be moved over the waterways to meet requirements, he said.

Boat construction and repair work is being rushed ahead at Waterways by the Hudson's Bay Company, Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company and the McInnis interests, said Col. Cornwall, after returning from the north. Approximately $250,000 is being spent on new boats and scows.

"The northern country is getting opened up as never before and there will be a lot of new strikes recorded during the summer," Col. Cornwall predicted. But he coupled it with a warning—many men who have gone north looking for employment have found no work, he said.

The same warning was repeated through Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Men for the northern jobs are being sent in by the companies, employing them and hitting the northern trail in search of work has not always been successful. Living expenses are high, running around $120 a month in the Yellowknife area.

One of the biggest jobs of the summer months is caching gasoline and lubricating oil supplies for aviation companies operating throughout the winter months. Gasoline purchases in Edmonton are shipped over the Northern Alberta railways to Waterways and then by boat to the storage points on the rivers and lakes as far north as the Arctic shores.

The gasoline is shipped in red steel drums and about 4,500 of them will be spotted at various points, including Takla Landing, 200 miles north of Vanderhoof in the British Columbia interior; Fort St. John, 375 miles northwest of Edmonton, and at a score of points in the Northwest Territories where mining projects are under way.

In planning caches, operators must estimate flying activity in each area during the next year. This is done by consultation of 1937-38 figures and consideration of shifting centres of activity in the north. Caches at Goldfields, Sask., and Yellowknife, N. W. T., are expected to show the largest increases in the coming year.

Chief of Police John Syme of Oak Bay, Victoria, and Mrs. Syme were here aboard the Princess Norways, today going north on the round trip to Alaska.
