Britain Gives Answer To Hitler

GERMANY IS GOBBLING UP AUSTRIA RAPIDLY; APPROVAL VOTE SOON

"Plebiscite" April 10—Miklas Resigns as President—Opposition Squelched—"Nobody Else's Business"—What About Czecho-Slovakia?

VIENNA, March 14: (CP)—The triumphant Adolf Hitler, speaking to a frenzied throng which greeted him today, declared: "No force on earth can shake us." He shouted: "The German Reich, as it stands today, is inviolable. No one can shatter it."

Tomorrow Hitler will address the Vienna and German Reich from the Heroes' Square. This will be the official address of his visit to Austria.

VIENNA, March 14: (CP)—Germany is losing no time in making final and complete her absorption of Austria which ceased to be a nation last night and became a part of Adolf Hitler's new German Reich extending from the North Sea almost to the Adriatic. Some sort of a plebiscite will be held on April 10 but details have not been disclosed. Doubtless, it will merely amount to an expression of approval of an accomplished fact—the taking over of Austria by Germany.

Austrian armies have already merged with the Germans under the supreme command of Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

The end of the political freedom of ancient Austria was achieved by legal steps. First, President Wilhelm Miklas, who had opposed Nazification of his country, resigned. Then Arthur Seess-Inquart, Hitler-chosen chancellor, took charge of the government under constitutional authority provided for such an emergency and announced decrees legislating Austria out of existence. Seess-Inquart is answerable only to Hitler.

It was reported last night that already 1350 former Austrian government officials, employees and police had been arrested in Vienna alone. Any opposition to the new Nazi regime is being put down without delay.

Already anti-Jewish measures are being taken. No Jews will be allowed to wear the swastika, vote in the plebiscite or belong to sports societies, it is decreed.

Sunday was a day of both jubilation and violence in Vienna. It was denied last night that Premier Mussolini had returned to Austria the Southern Tyrol which was given to Italy after the Great War.

Nobody Else's Business
BERLIN, March 14: (CP)—Acting as Chancellor of Germany during the absence of Adolf Hitler in Austria, Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering made the defiant statement last night that events of the last few days in Austria were "nobody else's business but Germany's and Austria's."

Britain's Position
LONDON, March 14: (CP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain is expected to make a statement today to Parliament in regard to the Austrian situation. It is predicted he will state that Great Britain cannot be "disinterested" in the event of an interference with the independence of Czecho-Slovakia. There are varying reports as to Hitler's intentions regarding Czecho-Slovakia. One report is that an ultimatum has already been delivered demanding autonomy for three million Germans there. "Victory is near," the Nazi leader in Czecho-Slovakia is reported to have declared. A conflicting report is that Germany has decided to leave Czecho-Slovakia alone in view of her alliances with other countries such as France and Russia.

From Paris comes word that the new Blum government there is strengthening French forces on the German border. France is also to strengthen its treaty with Czecho-Slovakia with a view to resisting

Blum Forms French Gov't

PARIS, March 14: (CP)—Having been unsuccessful in the effort to reconcile the various leftist groups which he had tried to incorporate in a new coalition cabinet, Former Premier Leon Blum on Saturday night gave up the task of forming a new French ministry including Communists and made up a government consisting principally of Socialists and Radical Socialists. Premier Camille Chautemps, who resigned last week, had been carrying on until Blum took over. Edward Daladier is the new minister of national defense.

JAPANESE STALLED
SHANGHAI—Japanese invaders are stalled on all China's far-flung fronts. Shock troops which crossed the Yellow River last week and disrupted the Lung-hai Railway service have, apparently, either been wiped out or driven back.

REBELS ADVANCING
HENDAYE—Spanish insurgents entered Alcaniz, only fifty miles from the Spanish government's Mediterranean coast, after smashing Aragon defenses, military advisers today said. Alcaniz is described as the government's greatest northern military centre.

SPIES ARE SENTENCED
LONDON—Three former employees of Woolwich arsenal, trapped by "Miss X" of the British counter espionage service, pleaded guilty smuggling armament secrets out. They were P. Glading, Albert Williams and Whomack. Glading was sentenced to six years' imprisonment, Williams to four and Whomack to three.

House Indignant at German Reply Saying That John Bull Has No Right to Consider Himself Protector of Austria—Prime Minister is Heard

LONDON, March 14: (CP)—Great Britain's blunt reply to Germany will be to speed up the vast armaments program. "In regard to the defense program," Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today in reviewing Mid-Europe events, "I have always made it clear that the program will have to be reviewed from time to time in the light of changes in the international situation. It would be idle to say that recent events do not constitute a change of the kind we had in mind. Accordingly, we have decided to make a fresh review. In due course we shall announce what further steps we may find it necessary to take."

Murmurs of indignation arose in the House as the Prime Minister read the German reply to the British note that the "British government is not within its rights in claiming the role of protector of Austria."

Premier Chamberlain sharply rejected this German view. "The interest of His Majesty's government in this question cannot on any credible grounds be denied," he said. The object of government policy was to stimulate a sense of security and confidence. This must inevitably be helped or hindered by events in Central Europe.

Mr. Chamberlain sternly denied rumors that Great Britain had given consent or encouragement to the idea of absorption of Austria by Germany.

NEXT CONSERVATIVE LEADER

During the next few months there will be much string pulling and manipulating and feeling out of the people before a decision is finally made as to who is to succeed Right Hon. R. B. Bennett as leader of the Conservative party. So far the favorite seems to be Hon. W. D. Herridge, who married Mr. Bennett's sister. It is understood that the reason Mr. Bennett was unwilling to resign before this was that Mr. Herridge was not then ready to take over the position. Since that he has made several important speeches and his name has been discussed a good deal, the only name seriously mentioned in the running up to the time of Mr. Bennett's decision.

Senator A. D. McRae of Vancouver is a rich man and he did excellent organization work for the Conservatives at the election when they were returned to power and when Mr. Bennett became premier. Prior to that he deserted the party in British Columbia and tried to lead a new party and failed, being defeated miserably in the election.

Dr. R. J. Manion has been prominent in the party for years and is said to be receiving support. Possibly some person hitherto kept in the background may be a last minute candidate and a winner. The only British Columbia man outside of Senator McRae would possibly be Hon. H. H. Stevens, but he seems to have been almost forgotten and will not be likely to make a comeback. Premier Duplessis of Quebec is an outstanding figure in the East and may possibly be brought into the limelight. Our bet just now is an Herridge but as we have already said there is plenty of time for a change of line-up.

MR. BENNETT'S LEADERSHIP

Many Conservatives will regret the decision of Mr. Bennett to retire but they must realize that he was never quite suited to leading in a democratic country. He has wonderful ability but not sufficient political ability. He has neither the enthusiasm to become a great leader or the organizing ability to carry on as a plodder. Possibly his money has been a handicap to him and the same may handicap General McRae should he be seriously considered.

For the good of the party we believe Mr. Bennett has taken the wise move. He will be seventy years of age before there would be a possibility of his being elected to office which is an advanced age for such a responsibility.

It's interesting to know when reading the Daily News that the people of the whole district are doing the same.

SPORT CHAT

Notwithstanding the glamor and import of the achievements of the renowned Robert Tyre Jones, Jr. probably the greatest golfing competitor of all time, there hardly can be any dispute to the award of No. 1 position in golf's "Hall of Fame" to the great stylist champion and teacher, Harry Vardon. Vardon was king of golf before Jones was born and 50 years old when their competitive paths first crossed. In the 1920 American open at Inverness. Yet the old master even then was good enough to dominate the field, to miss barely, the triumph that went to his countryman, Big Ted Ray, and meantime to give a shot-making lesson to the stripling Jones.

The comparison of the two as master and pupil is appropriate. Jones, while not actually taught by Vardon, nevertheless modelled his overlapping grip, swing and general shot-making methods after Vardon's. Not even a Jones, however, could quite duplicate the sat-in smoothness of Vardon's beautiful swing. From tee to green there has been no superior in golf to Harry, at his best. It's often been said: "If Vardon only had been able to putt he would never have been beaten."

Vardon not only was a dominant figure in the Old Country, where

DEPARTMENT OF MINES

Synopses of Mining Laws

MINERAL ACT

Free Miners' Certificates
Any person over the age of eighteen, and any Joint Stock Company is entitled to enter upon all waste lands of the Crown and upon any other lands whereon the minerals other than coal are reserved to the Crown and its licensees (with specific reservations), for the purpose of prospecting for minerals, locating claims and mining. The fee to an individual for a Free Miners' Certificate is $5.00 for one year. To a Joint Stock Company having a capital of $100,000.00 or less the fee for a year is $50.00. If capitalized beyond this the fee is $100.00. The Free Miners' Certificate runs from date of issue and expires on the 31st of May next after its date or some subsequent 31st of May. Certificates may be obtained for any part of a year terminating on 31st of May for a proportionate fee. The Free Miners' Certificates are also applicable to the Placer Mining Act.

Mineral Claims
Size: 1.65 acres.
Recording fee: $2.50 per claim.
Representation: Assessment work to the extent of $100.00 must be done each year and recorded on or before the anniversary date of record of the claim. Cash in the sum of $100.00 may be paid in lieu of such assessment work. If the required assessment work has been performed within the year, but not recorded within that time, a free miner may within thirty days hereafter record such assessment work upon payment of an additional fee of $10.00. The actual cost of the survey of a mineral claim to an amount not exceeding $100.00 may also be recorded and assessed work thereon may be declared by the owner of such claim to be a Crown Grant on payment of a fee of $25.00 and giving the necessary notices required by the Act.

PLACER MINING ACT
Four types of placer claims:
Creek diggings; bar diggings; dry diggings; and precious stone diggings. (For details see Part II, Placer Mining Act.)
Representation: Placer claim must be worked by the owner or someone on his behalf continuously as far as practicable during working hours. Lay-over and leaves of absence may be declared by the Gold Commissioner under certain conditions. To hold a placer claim for more than one year it must be re-recorded before the expiration of the record or re-record.

Placer Mining Leases
Site and method of staking, etc.
Eighty acres in extent, staked along a "location line" less than one-half mile in length. In this line one bend or change of direction is permitted. Where a straight line is followed two posts only are necessary, i.e., an "initial post" and a "final post." Where there is a change of direction a legal post must be placed to mark the point of the said change. The leasehold is allowed a width not in excess of one-quarter mile. The locator is required within thirty days after the date of the location to post a notice in the office of the Mining Recorder setting out the name of the applicant; the number of his free miner's certificate; the date of location; the number of feet lying to the right and left of the location line; and the approximate area or size of the ground.

Dredging leases on rivers for five miles below low-water mark are also granted. Fees: Annual rental on placer mining lease, $20.00; annual development work required to be expended, $250.00; annual rental on dredging lease, $25.00 per mile; annual development work required to be expended, $1,000.00 per mile; the value of any new plant or machinery employed to count as money expended in development. Fee for recording certificate of work, $2.50. Lease fee, $5.00.

Provisional Free Miners' Certificates, (Placer) Act
Department of Mines Act
Among other things, these Acts provide for the staking and re-recording of placer claims without payment of fee, and assistance to prospectors by free assays, etc.

A detailed synopsis of the above Acts, also the "Mines Development Act," "Mineral Survey and Development Act," "Iron and Steel Bounties Act" and "Phosphate-mining Act," are available at the Department of Mines, Victoria. Complete copies of the Acts may be obtained from the King's Printer, Victoria.

BOWLING ALLEY

he held the open crown six times from 1896 to 1914, but he gave golf its first real stimulus in the United States. With J. H. Taylor he came over in 1900 and won the U. S. open. The visitors attracted great attention. Stories about their golf reached the front pages at a time when the game was still considered "cow-pasture pool." Vardon figured in another memorable American golf event when he came back with Ted Ray in 1913. A youngster just out of caddy ranks Francis Ouimet, tied the two famous Britons for the open championship and then, to the amazement of all, beat them in the play-off. Ouimet was a national hero and golf again bounded forward in popular interest.

The influence of Jones upon post-war golf is hard to calculate, but there is no doubt the Georgian contributed much to the game's growth, in addition to its history. Thirteen national championships topped off by the "grand slam" of 1930, tell the story of Bob's unparalleled title flight. For eight years in any tournament he entered, it was "the field against Jones." Yet he retired from title play before he was 30.

It is not difficult to lodge Walter Travis, the "Old Man" of American golf, and Walter Hagen, the gayest of all roving spirits, in the "Hall of Fame." Travis, taking up the game late in life, was as deadly serious on the links as Hagen, in later years, was effervescent. "Old Walter" was the first to win both the British and American amateur titles. "Young Walter" was the first American to repeat in the British open which he captured four times in eight years. Travis was a great designer. The Garden City Golf Club is one of the classic monuments to his memory. Hagen's design for living covered more territory, excitement and competitive flair than that of any other golfing immortal. St. Walter won his first U. S. open in 1914, his last British open in 1929.

formed, with Vardon, the famous triumvirate of pre-war British professional golf. There were others—Jack White, Sandy Hord, Ted Ray, George Duncan—but the "Big Three" ruled the game. Together they won 16 open titles in 21 years. Together they belong to the "Hall of Fame." Four great amateur competitors complete our top 10. John Ball, Jr., was eight times British amateur titleholder, from 1888 to 1912. He won the open in 1890. Harold H. Hilton, like Jones was victorious in the open before laying claim to amateur supremacy. He won the open in 1897, captured the amateur crown four times and in 1911 was victorious in both the British and U. S. amateur title events.

Ouimet wrote an unforgettable chapter in U. S. golf history in 1913 but his fame does not rest entirely on that epic piece. He won the amateur crown in 1914, then came back after many frustrations to lift it again in 1931 at Chicago. He has been on every Walker Cup team since competition began in 1922 and captains this year's squad once more. Chick Evans was still good enough in the last national amateur to throw a scare into the new generation. Titleholder twice (1916 and 1920) and three times runner-up, Evans also set a record for the U. S. open (268) that stood for 20 years. The best Jones could do was come within a shot of it in 1930. Chick also won the Western Amateur eight times between 1909 and 1923.

On the threshold of our "Hall of Fame" stand such stalwarts as Jerome D. Travers, four times amateur champion (1907-13) and once open titleholder; Gene Sarazen, who flashed to the top twice in open play, in 1922 and 1932; Henry Cotton, reigning British open ruler and quite likely the new No. 1 man of golf. Lawson Little, as a pro, has yet to add much to the stature he gained by sweeping the British and American title tournaments in 1934-35. And Johnny Goodman is the latest to join the select list of open and amateur winners.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

From the Waterfront

Three passenger liners were in port on Sunday. The first was the C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, bound from Vancouver to Skagway, which arrived at 9 a.m. and left at 10:30 a.m. in continuation of her northern voyage, being due back here on Thursday afternoon southbound. At 11 a.m. the Northland Transportation Co.'s steamer North Sea, Capt. A. W. Nickerson, arrived from Ketchikan, sailing at 4 p.m. for Seattle after discharging three carloads of frozen fish here for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways. On her regular voyage, the Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 5:30 last evening and sailed at 8 p.m. for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning southbound.

Such a heavy movement of passengers into the Yukon and Northern British Columbia is developing this spring that the steamer Prince Louise is to be pressed into service on the Skagway run to handle the traffic. She will be coming north in place of the Princess Norah on the next scheduled voyage to Alaska, the Princess Norah returning to the route after that for two more voyages before being replaced for the spring by the Louise. Calling here yesterday morning bound from Vancouver to Skagway, the Princess Norah was filled to capacity. She had 173 aboard on arrival here. One disembarked at this port while eighteen boarded her at Prince Rupert for the north.

The local service boat Jedway, Capt. Johnny Hartlin, arrived at Big Bay mill on Saturday afternoon with a tow of six sections of logs from the C. C. Ketchum camp at Captain's Cove for the box factory.

According to advices from headquarters of the Consolidated Whaling Corporation in Victoria, preparations are being made to open up the company's whaling station at Rose Harbor, Queen Charlotte Islands, earlier than usual this year.

Standard Oil Co.'s tanker B. C. Standard, Capt. Barney Johnson Jr., arrived in port yesterday from Vancouver with fuel for the company's local station. E. A. Bence, head of the company's sales department, arrived on the Catala last evening from Vancouver on company business.

A large fuel tank which was landed at the Canadian National wharf from a freighter at the end of last week was moved by truck this morning to the Home Oil Distributors' station on the waterfront. It was quite an imposing looking object as it was moved through the streets.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Kathleen Duncan Becomes Bride of Roderick Smith on Saturday Evening

A pretty and interesting wedding took place quietly at 7:30 Saturday night at the deanery, Very Rev. James B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral, officiating, when Miss Kathleen Ross Duncan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Duncan and member of well known pioneer family, became the bride of Roderick Smith, also of this city. Only the contracting couple, their attendants and the bride's parents were in attendance.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely white georgette silk wedding dress with veil and orange blossoms, carrying a shower bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Agnes May Guyan who wore pale blue silk net with large hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groomsmen were John George Gunn.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Ambrose Avenue where a wedding supper was served to about fifty invited guests.

The bride cut a beautiful three-tier wedding cake.

The happy couple received the congratulations and best wishes of their friends under a white wedding bell, the house having been specially decorated for the occasion.

A toast to the bride was proposed by John Bremner while Norman McKay proposed a toast to the bridesmaid. The bride's father also spoke.

The evening was happily spent in games and dancing.

Many beautiful gifts testified to the popularity and esteem in which the couple are held. There were several showers for the bride prior to her marriage.

Ms. Smith was born in Prince Rupert and has lived here all her life. The groom hails from Stormont, Scotland, and is a member of the crew of the lighthouse tender Birnie.

The couple are taking up residence on Ambrose Avenue.
