Prince Rupert Fifth Highest City In All Canada For Building

Exceeded Only By Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Windsor—Value Higher Than in Four Provinces

Building permits in Prince Rupert during the month of January this year, aggregating $127,360, exceeded the permits granted in each of four Canadian provinces—New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Alberta and Saskatchewan, it is revealed by statistics which have come to hand from the office of the city engineer here. Prince Rupert ranked fifth among the cities of Canada in value of building permits in January. Only in Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Windsor were permits heavier in value. The big item in Prince Rupert this January was the permit for the new federal building.

Argument Against Aerial Expansion

House Subject To Sudden Obsolescence, It Is Pointed Out In Washington
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3:—One argument being used by opponents of a large air force expansion program for the United States army and navy is that the revolutionary invention might render the whole force obsolete. Naval aircraft are not so subject to sudden obsolescence, it is pointed out. The House of Representatives naval affairs committee today approved legislation to authorize a billion dollar expansion of the United States Navy.

Driving rain and snow hampered search operations and searching planes were also hindered in their quest by poor visibility.

The family here of Lee Sam, better known as Tom Lee, prominent Prince Rupert Chinese merchant, is beginning to feel considerable anxiety as to his safety while on a visit to China. Mr. Lee left here in November 1936 for China. Until three months ago he had been heard from regularly each month but since then there has been silence although he had been expected back in Prince Rupert by Christmas last. Mr. Lee was at Kongmoon, a city on the delta of the Pearl River midway between Hong Kong and Canton. This is an area which has been persistently bombed by Japanese raiders of late.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3:—Present consultations between United States, British and French naval officials will, it is said, clear the way for Germany and Russia to build larger warships. The consultations are regarded here as certain to abandon the 35,000 ton limit on battle-ships and the ten thousand ton limit on cruisers.

PROGRAM ADVANCED

Rearming of Great Britain Will Be Substantially Completed This Year, Says Minister

LONDON, March 3: (CP)—Viscount Swinton, Secretary for Air in presenting a memorandum to the House of Commons yesterday on Royal Air Force expansion, said that rearming "will be substantially completed during the coming financial year and full operational effect will be rapidly achieved." The British Army will cost £106,500,000 during the fiscal year of 1938-39 or £24,326,000 more than last year. The increased cost, says a War Office memorandum today, measures the progress made in bringing military preparations up to date. The Army estimates are almost treble five years ago.

DECLARES INNOCENCE

Former Assistant Russian Commissar Denies Spying But Recants Today

MOSCOW, March 3: (CP)—N. N. Krestinsky, former assistant commissar of foreign affairs and one time Soviet ambassador to Germany, desperately protested his innocence yesterday of spying on behalf of Germany, Japan, England and Poland at the opening of the trial on treason charges of twenty-one fallen Soviet leaders. The state produced alleged confessions of his twenty co-defendants. Krestinsky repudiated a confession attributed to him, declaring it had been wrung from him under duress while he was in prison. He recanted today, however, and pleaded completely guilty as Moscow's greatest treason trial proceeded. Imposition of death sentences on Krestinsky and the twenty co-defendants are anticipated.

Heavy Rains in Golden State Cause Floods and Block Traffic

Many Dead

Toll as Result of Unprecedented Deluge May Reach Fifty

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Heavy rains of cloudburst proportions continued in southern California yesterday. At Fresno downtown streets were rendered impassable last night by flood waters. Foundations of buildings were endangered and bridges were torn loose as the Fresno and San Joaquin Rivers continued to rise. All train services between Los Angeles and San Francisco have been cancelled. The possibility was seen today that more than fifty persons may have lost their lives in the flood-ravaged state as a result of the four-day storm which was climaxed by yesterday's deluge. The exact number of dead will probably never be known. Moderating conditions are forecast for today.

THEY KNOW NOW

The dictators of Europe may have felt that the British people were not with Anthony Eden in the stand he took in refusing to have dealings with them without guarantees that they would keep their word. Now they must know that they were mistaken. The British people have been most articulate in this case and have let the world know that they dislike the methods of the dictators. Had there been an election called just at the crucial time the probability is that the Chamberlain government would have been defeated.

A local enthusiast discussing the situation remarked: "Chamberlain is probably the best man we can have just now but two years from now we shall want Anthony Eden at the head of the government."

CANADA'S STATUS

At a time like this it is rather interesting to note that Canada is not bound by anything done by the British government because, under her present status, this country advises the King direct in regard to Canadian affairs and the Governor General is not an appointee of the present or any other British Government. He represents only the King. At the same time the British government keeps Canada informed of all she does just as she keeps Washington informed and France and any other friendly nation. This is done through the British High Commissioner at Ottawa. Also the British government often asks an expression of opinion from the Canadian premier.

THE TWO HIGHWAYS

Last week the Liberals of Pouce Coupe endorsed the efforts of the Pattullo government in pushing through the Turgeon Highway from Vanderhoof towards Finlay Forks with a view to connecting with the Peace River Block. Almost at the same time a Monkman Pass Highway Association was formed for the purpose of advancing the interests of the Monkman Pass highway connecting Grand Prairie with Prince George by way of Hansard. Both of these are worthy projects and both might well be supported by the same person or group of persons. Undoubtedly, both highways will be completed within the next few years. If Prince Rupert people and the people of the interior between Prince Rupert and Prince George were as enthusiastic over the highway to connect the interior with Prince Rupert we might expect it to be built soon, but they are not. Hon. Ian Mackenzie seems to be the only man who gets things done when he wants them done. If he should decide the road was needed for defense purposes we would probably have it quickly.

Final Tribute To Mrs. Woods

Kincolith People in Charge of Impressive Funeral Rites Here

Funeral of Mrs. Sarah Woods (Shimauagadum Anak), reigning Princess of the Nisgha nation, took place yesterday afternoon from the chapel of Hayner Bros. under the auspices of the Sons of Kincolith and the Kincolith Concert Band.

The service was conducted by Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral. The hymns were "Rock of Ages" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The organist was Ernest Stevens of Kincolith.

The casket was carried by tribesmen representing different crests, headed by the band rendering Webster's "Funeral March" and Chopin's "Funeral March." This continued for several city blocks after which the casket was transferred to the carriage for continuation of the funeral procession. At the graveside Webster's "Dirge" was played by the band. It was an impressive service expressing appreciation of all deceased meant to her people.

Pallbearers were Louis Edgar, George Bolton, Ernest Angus, William Beynon, Clarence Watson, Paul Brentzen, William Herman and Bernard Elsterman.

Telegrams of sympathy were received from Paul Mercer and the village council of Anyansh.

At Greenville a special service was held at the village which is isolated at this time of the year preventing the people attending the funeral.

Those sending flowers to the funeral were the family, Enkie and Martin, Irene and Angus McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sorensen, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bacon and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. William Beynon and family, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Edgar and Mabel, Mrs. Betty Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Walter Brentzen and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross, Adella Symonette, Warren Scott.

The following flowers were sent by Kincolith organizations: Seniors Society, Church Army, Church Army Sisters, Ladies of the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church, members of Pentecostal Mission, Ladies' Athletic Aid, Ladies of the Royal Purple, Pioneer Club and Maple Leaf Guild.

LOOKING ON BEST SIDE

Gyro Speaker Thinks Prince Rupert People Should Emphasize Advantages Rather Than Disadvantages

Speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday, Rev. C. C. Jackson, pastor of First United Church, ventured the opinion that the people of Prince Rupert were possibly too prone to look at the disadvantages rather than the advantages of their city. He urged such organizations as service clubs and churches to emphasize the advantages of the community. This could well come within the purview of the church, one of the important functions of which was to create a spirit of satisfaction, hope and peace.

Mr. Jackson's subject was "Christianity and the City." At the outset, Mr. Jackson said it would not be his policy in Prince Rupert to criticize adversely those in authority or in public office. They had, he thought, sufficient difficulties without having destructive criticism thrown in their path: The community would get along better with more co-operation and less criticism, he felt.

After referring to the gregariousness of man and the ever increasing drift of population towards the city, Mr. Jackson urged the importance of building along spiritual as well as material lines. Now, possibly, was the time to nip undesirable things in the bud in Prince Rupert to start building for good purposes. Manhood was as important as pulp mills, high ideals as commerce.

The need of goodwill and co-operation in city building was also emphasized by the speaker. People should pull together and work for the common cause. Working against each other could only be destructive in the end.

One of the things Mr. Jackson said he had found since his comparatively recent arrival in Prince Rupert was a fine spirit of courtesy here.

Speaking of Christianity, Mr. Jackson read letters which had been received from Gainsborough and Lipton, Saskatchewan, in acknowledgement for carloads of produce which had been sent by Prince Rupert for the drought sufferers and to which the Gyro Club had contributed.

Mr. Jackson was thanked for his thoughtful address by President D. G. Borland, J. R. Bayne of Vancouver was a luncheon guest.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LEADERS

After the defeat of the Bossor Government in November, 1916, the Hon. H. C. Brewster took office. He was a careful, business-like, capable man with a background of five years experience in the Legislature. Premier Brewster faced a difficult year with heavy commitments and a shrinking revenue, and was forced to resort to increased taxation. One of the few important happenings during his short-lived term of office was the passing of the Prohibition Act in 1917. Premier H. C. Brewster died in March, 1918, while returning from an official visit to Ottawa.
