ANOTHER PEACE EFFORT

Another peace effort is being made by Great Britain with a view to ending the trouble in Spain. Overtures are being made to stop the useless killing that is going on between the defensive government forces and the attacking Fascists. By making this move, the British government is taking the limelight in place of the totalitarian nations. It is only since Britain has been strengthening her armaments that she has been listened to with respect and has been able to make her influence felt.

Evidently there is today a greater disposition to listen to reason than has been evident for the past two years. The tension on the frontier of Germany is slackened and Italy is responding to the advances of her new ally. Preparations had been made for the British in Berlin to leave for home when the situation eased off and word was sent that they might remain for the present in Germany.

Possibly within a few weeks the nations will settle down to a period of forgetfulness of war and devote themselves to cultivating better relations among each other.

HELIUM AND AIR NAVIGATION

The only gas that can be used with safety in air ships is helium and all the helium there is in the world is held by the United States.

Germany is the foremost country developing lighter than air navigation but she cannot get the helium. United States fears that, if she lets Germany have a supply, it may be used in war. It would enable Germany to attack the United States from the air in case the two countries should find themselves on opposite sides in a world conflict. The result is that, for the present at least, Germany cannot get the helium so cannot use her dirigible ships for passenger purposes. That is one case where Germany's war threats are injuring her commercial life.

U.S. AND JAPAN

Although Japan has made great efforts to placate United States on various occasions, there are still points at issue between the two countries and there is still possibility of trouble unless Japan takes a less autocratic view of her position in China. There are certain international rights which cannot be ignored and Japan has on more than one occasion ridden roughshod over all foreign rights.

HAS JUSTIFIED ITSELF

The establishment of the local sampling plant has been fully justified by the work it had done, according to Hon. W. J. Asselstine, minister of mines. He was very pleased with the result and complimented Dr. J. T. Mandy on the work he had done in connection with making it a success. It is to be hoped that the prospectors and miners throughout the district will take full advantage of the facilities offered by this plant.

- O'Neil, Navy, 1.
- Vance, Legion, 1.
- Simundsen, Legion, 1.

In another closely fought out match in the Stuart Benefit Shield of the Prince Rupert senior football competitions, Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve last night won from the Canadian Legion by the odd goal in seven and was just about that much the better team. A good crowd of spectators watched an interesting game. It was the first victory of the season for the Navy.

Play went from end to end with both forward lines threatening. Then, after McKay's miscalculation, Bryant opened the scoring. Morgan dealt with Dickens' high shot competently. Campbell and Vance missed a cross and later Morgan saved Campbell's shot. Armstrong played well and, following O'Neill's centre, Smith put the Navy two goals up. Morgan punched out a well-taken corner of Dickens'. Scherk centred a beauty that Eby fisted away and Dickens made no mistake with the resulting penalty to bring the score to two to one in favor of the sailors at half time.

Murray and then Vance made headway and Dickens finished a run with a grand drive that Morgan turned against the crossbar but Campbell easily put the rebound through to tie the score. Then, at the other end, Bremner brought off a great save. Howe forced Morgan to save. The Legion was lucky when a centre beat Bremner but rolled outside. Armstrong put his team ahead with a fine shot. The Legion pressed but could not beat a defense in which Morgan shone and then Bryant added a fourth. Finally, the Legion added a third through Howe and tried hard for an equalizer that did not come.

Teams:
R.C.N.V.R.—Morgan; Eby, Ronalds; Eastman, Davies, Christian; O'Neill, Armstrong, Bryant, Smith, T. McMeekin.

Canadian Legion—Bremner; J. Currie, McKay; Simundsen, W. Murray, Scherk; Sinclair, Dickens, Vance, Campbell, Howe.

George Ferguson refereed.

Best Goalkeeper

Morgan again played a grand game. He is, undoubtedly, the best goalkeeper in town. Eby and Ronalds were good backs and the new halfback line was sound. Davies tackled well though he overkicks to his forwards. Eastman and Christian made a very successful entry into senior football. The whole forward line was always dangerous with O'Neill, Armstrong and McMeekin the best. The line was better than that of the Legion.

Bremner again turned in a good game in goal and had no chance with the shots that scored. Currie and McKay did well although they were a little shaky under pressure. Murray was good at centre half and Scherk turned in another good game. Simundsen played hard. Howe and Campbell were the best forwards. Dickens played cleverly but threw the rest of the line out of position by hanging on too long.

The Navy had the better balanced team and were very fast on the ball. The Legion need better team work and less squabbling. The dropping of a player might be the best thing, the Legion management could do. They have reserves that deserve a trial.

League Fixtures Questioned

According to the published schedule of games next Tuesday's Stuart Benefit Shield fixture will be between the Canadian Legion and the Merchants. This will mean that the Legion will have played four games in succession. A similar situation exists in the draw of the Mobley Cup. Last night's game should have been between the Merchants and the Navy. It is not too late now to rearrange the games. The game for next Tuesday should be between the Merchants and the Navy to put the order of games right. The football executive should notify the teams accordingly.

DESIGNER OF YACHTS

"Old Nat" Herreshoff Passes Away At Bristol, Rhode Island, At Age of Ninety Years

PROVIDENCE, Rhode Island, June 3, (CP)— Captain Nathaniel Green Herreshoff, naval architect and noted designer and builder of America's Cup yachting defenders, died yesterday at his Bristol home at the age of ninety years. He had been ill for a year.

Swift, graceful racing yachts and fast torpedo boats turned out from his family's shipyards at Bristol, made for "Old Nat" Herreshoff a reputation that placed him among the foremost of the world's naval architects.

He contributed much to efficient application of steam power warships and commercial vessels, gave the yachting world the "fin keel" type of racer and at various times virtually revolutionized yacht construction. From 1893 to 1920 inclusive he designed all the defenders of the America's cup.

Yet, when in 1922 he was made honorary member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, he was lauded as "a man who never patented an invention or design but willingly gave them to the world."

Born to Shipbuilding

He was born to his profession for he was a descendant of Charles Frederick Herreshoff who emigrated from Germany in 1790 and married a daughter of John Brown, one of Rhode Island's largest ship owners. Since then the family has been associated with ship building and the sea.

Nathaniel Greene Herreshoff was born in Bristol March 18, 1848, and resided almost his entire life close to the shipyard from whose ways slid vessels that made his name known wherever swift ships attract attention. He attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology 1866-69, worked for a time at Providence but soon left that job to join his brother John in a shipyard which the latter had established in the early '60s. Nathaniel was superintendent of the plant 1881-1915 and thereafter president of the concern until his retirement in 1924.

Boats Win Many Cups

Herreshoff was most widely known for his cup defenders, Vigilant (1893), Defender (1895), Columbia (1899 and 1901), Reliance (1903) and Resolute (1920), but yachtsmen count scores of other reasons for remembering him.

From 1890 on Herreshoff yachts won seven of 13 Golet cup races, 22 out of 62 contests for the Astor cup, 14 of 24 King's cups, two of seven Cape May challenge cups and four of seven Breton Reef cups.

Herreshoff's interest in ships never abated. In retirement he "tinkered" in a shop at his home in Bristol and his winter holidays in Florida were given largely to sailing a small boat which he handled as zestfully as the cruder craft which he had sailed as a boy on Narragansett Bay.

He was married twice. His first

WHIFFLETS From The Waterfront

The B. C. Packers is making good progress now on the rebuilding of the Pacofi plant on the Queen Charlotte Islands which is to be used as a salmon cannery and reduction works. Quite a few local Skidegate men are being given employment. The plant was originally built and operated before the war by German capital represented by Alvo von Alvensleben but, after a short time, closed down. During the war it was reopened by American interests with a view to using it for the extraction of iodine and potash from kelp. At the close of the war the plant was closed down again and since then, until the present, has been idle.

Pacofi is located on a bay of that name in Selwyn Inlet about half way down the east coast of Moresby Island. The name was coined by the first two letters of each word in Pacific Coast Fisheries.

Chief Seegay, W. Russ, George Brown and Fred Russ are the first of the Skidegate trolling fleet to leave for the North Island grounds in the Queen Charlotte Islands. The main Skidegate fleet will leave soon. At present quite a few Skidegate trollers are engaged in fishing for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. which has a collecting camp at Allford Bay. Capt. Fred Walters is among those who is being welcomed on the Islands.

Nothing has been heard of the United States Navy sub chaser Eagle No. 57, which had been expected here on Wednesday of this week in the course of an Alaska cruise, so it is now concluded that the vessel is not coming. Probably she has gone direct north.

wife was Clara A. De Wolf of Bristol, to whom he was wed December 26, 1883. She died November 28, 1905, survived by a daughter and six sons. The second Mrs. Herreshoff was Ann Roebuck, the marriage taking place October 7, 1915.

the port of Palestine. The country between that port and Jerusalem seemed to be very productive, especially in the output of citrus fruits.

Jerusalem, a modern city, seemed to have people of every nationality. Mohammedans predominated. He was told a Mohammedan could have four wives and as many concubines as he could afford to keep. He thought it no wonder there were so many Mohammedans in the world.

Coming to Egypt, Mr. Lipsett closed his talk at that point. The audience wondered why the rest of the trip was omitted just as it was in the speech the visitor made to the Vancouver Rotary Club. Possibly that was where he stopped keeping a diary. However, he told how the pyramids were erected with the aid of one hundred thousand slaves, the rock being hauled seven hundred miles by hand labor. Having told this he saw the hands of the clock pointing to two and disappointed his audience in not telling about Cairo, the wickedest city in the world. He made it clear that they arrived in San Francisco eventually, the ship throwing off the lines at the exact minute called for in the schedule.

Provincial Head Is Visitor With Women Of Moose

Mrs. Elizabeth Deane of Vancouver, deputy grand regent and first dean of the Academy of Friendship for the province of British Columbia, was an official visitor to the local chapter of the Women of the Moose this week. On Wednesday night she paid an official visit to the local chapter and last evening a banquet was held in her honor at the Boston Cafe. The feature of the proceedings was the presentation to Mrs. Deane of a beautiful scene of Prince Rupert by Mrs. Hugh Smith, the senior regent, on behalf of the chapter. Community singing was enjoyed and cards played with Mrs. J. Harris and Mrs. G. C. Wilson winning the prizes.

Mrs. Deane, who had arrived here by Tuesday night's train from Edmonton, sailed last night on the Prince George for Powell River where she will pay her next official visit before returning to Vancouver.
