Unfortunate Condition In Europe

LABORITES OPPOSING PROPOSALS

National Congress of Labor Views With Dismay Action of Prime Ministers Chamberlain and Deladier

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Last evening the National Congress of Labor made it clear that it was strongly opposed to the action of Chamberlain and Deladier in deserting Czechoslovakia and allowing her to be shorn of some of her territory. A resolution was passed declaring that the council viewed with dismay the proposals made by Prime Minister Chamberlain and Prime Minister Deladier to partition the country and regretted the "shameful betrayal" of a democratic people. It also declared that peace could only be permanent by applying the rule of law in place of the rule of force. The Congress is meeting today.

Prague Accepts Principle
PRAGUE, Sept. 20.—It was stated unofficially last night that the authorities had accepted in principle the proposals made by Britain and France but asked for more particulars.

It was stated by one newspaper that the Anglo-French proposals were a development in the situation and not a final settlement. The officials called on the people to remain calm. Strictest discipline was maintained all day yesterday. Censorship of newspapers, letters and speeches became effective. A newspaper said the life of the country was at stake because they were asked to cede territory, coal and their strategic position.

Volunteer Force
LONDON, Sept. 20.—It was announced yesterday that the Sudeten volunteer force in Germany was being organized. So far only 40,000 volunteers had been accepted although 100,000 had volunteered. The object of the corps was stated to be "To free our home country." The headquarters of the force is at a point five miles from the Sudeten frontier. The ultimate object of the force is said to be to police the Sudeten when possession of the country was taken.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—Preparations are being made to receive Premier Chamberlain.
LONDON, Sept. 20.—In spite of the improved prospects for a peaceful solution of European difficulties, the authorities are rapidly carrying forward defence measures. Food supply plans are being made and a force of 1500 officers will have charge of carrying out the work so that in case of war proper rationing may take the place of the hit or miss methods of the past. The work comes under a new section of the Army Reserve.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—United States Ambassador Kennedy has kept President Roosevelt and his cabinet fully informed of every step taken. Various comments have been made by members of the cabinet, one being that the United States was not interested in European burglaries. It was stated that the advice of the United States had not been asked or offered. It was purely a matter for the people of Europe.

UDINE, Italy, Sept. 20.—Premier Mussolini in a speech here today emphasized Italian readiness for war without reference, however, to the perilous Czech crisis. Il Duce said: "The Fascist march is not yet finished and nobody will stop us."

EXPRESS SERVICE STARTED

Planes Leave Winnipeg and Vancouver And Carry Heavy Loads

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20.—Trans-Canada Air Lines last night inaugurated its first official "payload" when the air express service between Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast was commenced. Two of the speedy 14-H twin motored Lockheed planes left Winnipeg and Vancouver, each carrying a good load of express labelled for various cities in Western Canada. The trips were operated without mishap and officials of the air lines look forward with confidence to the development of this service as of great benefit to the citizens of this country. The official air mail service is scheduled to commence on October 1.

Manitoba and Winnipeg gave the first westbound plane a warm and hearty send-off at Stevenson Field and hundreds of people were on hand to cheer God Speed as the big machine slowly taxied over to the runway and, after a pause for clearance, rushed down the runway and lifted itself gracefully into the darkness with its history-making cargo.

Many of the Winnipeg business houses took advantage of the first trip to send shipments. In addition a large number of parcels were on board to private citizens. Listed with the cargo were two rather unique packages. One was a box of fresh caught Winnipeg goldeyes from a Winnipeg friend addressed to Roy Brown of the Vancouver Sun, and the other was a specially picked box of Okanagan apples, rushed from the Valley on Monday afternoon to Vancouver by Canadian National Express and placed on the Vancouver plane Monday evening. This box was addressed to the Winnipeg Kiwanis Club and will be the official start of their well known "Apple Day" the proceeds of which are used for underprivileged kiddies. The box arrived in Winnipeg early this morning and the contents and box were being auctioned off at the weekly luncheon at noon today.

CONTEST AIR SPEED

LONDON, Sept. 20. (CP)—Secret preparations of military aviation authorities of the leading powers indicate Italy has a precarious clutch on the world airplane speed record of 440 miles an hour set by Lieut. Francesco Angello in his Fiat-powered Macchi-Castoldi seaplane in 1934.

Britain's newly-commissioned Supermarine Spitfire a dragonfly all metal low-wing single-seat fighter, dropped a hint early this year when a standard machine sped by night from Edinburgh to London at an average of 408 miles an hour. Performance of an improved model of the Spitfire is a closely-guarded secret in the Royal Air Force.
Germany's Ernst Udet, war-time ace, recently did 395 miles an hour in a very secret new Heinkel single-seat fighter. Nazi airmen are reported confident of 443 miles an hour in a new Messerschmidt fighter driven by two Mercedes-Benz engines possible of developing 2,000 horsepower each.

The Lockheed Company in the United States is reputed to have designed a new fighter for the United States army air corps capable of 480 miles an hour. The new U.S. speedster will be equipped with two Allison engines of 2,000 horsepower each.

SALMON FISHING

Season Ends On Friday At 6 And Canneries Close Except Inverness

The salmon fishing season closes on Friday of this week at 6 p.m. except at the Queen Charlotte Islands and Rivers and Smiths Inlets. This practically ends the fishing for the year although trolling for spring salmon will be allowed after October 10 when the number of fish caught will probably not be enough to supply the local market.

All the canneries on the Skeena and Naas Rivers are closing this week with the exception of Inverness. This cannery may get some chums from Queen Charlotte Islands.

The B. C. Packers will handle all their fall fish in the plant at Pacific this year.

Further Diplomatic Negotiations Suggested—Hungary and Poland Also Ask for Slices of Country—Germany Seems to be Seeking Quarrel

PRAGUE, September 20.—The Czechoslovak government announced tonight it had delivered its reply to Great Britain and France on their proposals to end the European crisis and that it considered the way was left open to further diplomatic negotiations. The following communication was issued:

"The Czechoslovak government communication to the British and French ministers in the Prague note in which is set forth its attitude on the proposals indicates that the attitude adopted makes possible further diplomatic negotiations in the spirit of conciliation which the Czechoslovak government has always shown."

Border clashes coming while Czechoslovakia prepared her reply kept Europe keyed to war dangers. The German communique said Premier Imredi and Foreign Minister Von Kanya of Hungary placed before Hitler a demand that 700,000 Hungarians in Czechoslovakia be given the right of self-determination. Poland's views are understood to be similar to those of Hungary and were presented to the Fuehrer by Joseph Lipski, Polish ambassador to Berlin.

The Czechoslovak government said three attacks on the frontier customs house had been made by bands who had crossed the boundary from Germany armed with machine guns, hand grenades and pistols. Two Czechoslovak officers were reported to have been wounded.

Germany reports charged Czechoslovaks had been the aggressors in several border clashes.

The official German News agency said that seventeen German frontier guards were wounded in one of the clashes and reported there was another engagement between Czech frontier guards and deserting Sudeten Germans.

Official circles in Berlin declared that if the Czechoslovak government could not control its border forces, Germany might regard the incidents as "of the same nature as a cause for war."

YESTERDAY'S DECISION

Discussing the news yesterday after it was announced that Britain and France would not defend Czechoslovakia in its desire to retain the Sudeten districts which were overwhelmingly German, a prominent local citizen said that was just what he expected. The wrong was done at Versailles when a territory almost wholly German was given to Czechoslovakia in order to make the boundary of the country conform to physical characteristics. The boundary lay along the tops of the mountain ranges instead of being drawn in such a manner as to include the people of Czech nationality and exclude Germans.

If there was a wrong done when the treaty of Versailles was drawn up, it had to be righted some time and this time is possibly better than any other.

Many people were very disappointed yesterday when they heard the decision of the conference. They would have preferred that Britain should fight rather than give way to the demands of a dictator. They look on this decision as only one of a series in which gradual encroachments will be made from time to time until the whole of Central Europe is in the hands of the dictatorship. While this may seem logical, it really is not. Today Germany has good reason for her stand. To further extend her boundaries she would not have as good a cause and there would be less justice in granting her demands. If the present demand had been resisted, there would have been continual agitation until the change had been brought about.

None of us like to give way to powerful demands. Neither would any of us like to see our boys drawn into a war which was not in a just cause. We have to trust our leaders and if the leaders decide it is best to grant the demands instead of resisting, we must believe they know more about the situation than we do.

Grabbing seems to be the favorite game in Europe. Prince Rupert people do not seem to like it, but what are they going to do? Most of the people who blame Chamberlain for giving way to Germany are people who would be against Canada taking part in a war to defend Czechoslovakia.

GRADUAL CHANGES

The arrival of William Turnbull in the city yesterday, a man who was one of the pioneers of Prince Rupert but who has been away for something like twenty years, reminds us of the many changes that have taken place here in the past two decades. New buildings have been erected, streets made, gardens established, and we have entered upon a period of permanence which is very satisfactory.

Prince Rupert has taken her place as the outstanding city of Northern British Columbia but that does not mean that we should sit back and do nothing. We must exert ourselves if we are to develop still further. We may be proud of our city but also we should be proud to belong to a group of city builders who will not rest content until much more is done. Progress must be the watchword all the time. And never has there been a time when there is more need than today to move forward and to keep the interests of the city to the front regardless of everything.

Third Generation Puzzles Alberta Relief Official

EDMONTON, Sept. 20: (CP)—The "third-generation relievers" growing up today and taking it quite for granted they are wards of the city are a major problem for relief officials, Miss Margaret Carson, relief superintendent at Medicine Hat Alta., said in an interview here.

She reported several families on relief when she started working in Medicine Hat 19 years ago are on relief still, and their children—and their children's children.

"And the young ones are harder to deal with than their parents, too," Miss Carson added.

The proportion of relievers who are "chiselers" determined never to work again if possible is about one in every five, said Miss Carson, only woman civic relief head in Western Canada.

But, she added, every administrator knows there are numerous heartening cases of plucky, self-respecting men and women who have rehabilitated themselves, got off relief by their own effort and initiative, and became useful citizens.

SUMMER IN YUKON

Shane Murray and Other Prince Rupert Boys Returning After Interesting Experience

Returning at the week-end after a summer spent in the Yukon working on Sulphur Creek was Shane Murray, a former employee of the Daily News. He says the whole country is blanketed by the Yukon Consolidated who are today working nine dredges and have two more under construction. Among the Prince Rupert people who are or have been working in the territory are John Dohl, Jack Ellison, Harold Dohl, Bruce Love, A. McDonald and Allan Gillis. Allan is working in the St. Mary's Hospital at Dawson and will probably be there all winter. Jack Sutherland is tailoring at Dawson and is doing well. Mike Comadina is boss of a bull gang at Number 4 dredge. In all there were about 750 men working on the dredges but most of them will be out for the winter. A few of the Prince Rupert men will probably remain there. Unfortunately some of the men who went in were unable to get work and are stuck in the country unable to get out.

Shane said it was interesting to see the relics of the gold rush days still lying on the ground in different parts of the country. There were remains of camps, boilers and all sorts of stuff lying about.

Bob Pustak of Prince Rupert went into Eldorado Creek with a partner and is doing well. Kenny McQuade is with the Northern Commercial Co. at Dawson as a butcher and Dido Stenich who left the Sterling to make the trip, is still there, at present working in the Northern Commercial store.

Shane says they went in by plane and returned by river boat. They made a little money and the experience was very interesting.

Finland Changes Olympic Dating

Games To Be Held In July Instead Of September, 1940

HELSINKI, Finland, Sept. 20: (CP)—Finland is doing everything possible to assure a record entry in the 1940 Olympics. The first thing Finland intends to do is change the date for the Games so that college athletes can compete and still get back to America for the opening of the universities. Japan, due mainly to the demands of her climate, had moved the date to September. Finland has decided to move the Games up to July. No definite day has been set for the start but it will likely be some time between the 10th and the end of the month.

More than that, the Finnish Olympic committee has started a move to keep propaganda out of the Games. Consul Ernst Krogius, Finland's representative on the International Olympic committee, has consulted the president of the I. O. C., Count Baillet-Latour of Belgium, about the Games and has been advised to return as nearly as possible to the old Olympic ideal and program.

South Africans Differ In Views On Empire Court

Premier Hertzog Opposed Bill To Stop Appeals To Privy Council

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 20: (CP)—South Africa still retains for her citizens the privilege of appeal to the Privy Council but it is a seldom exercised privilege. Since 1919 there have been only six appeals.

One reason is that there is no direct appeal from the South African courts. Those who wish to carry a case before the Empire's highest tribunal first must obtain leave to appeal. This was set out in an act passed in 1909 and reaffirmed in 1934.

Feeling is widespread throughout the Union that the appeal should be abolished but there is no indication at present that the government is contemplating introduction of such a measure. Growing international tension in Europe has made the government reluctant to sever ties with Great Britain. As the situation in Europe grew more serious pressure for complete independence in South Africa has weakened.

Opponents of the link with the Privy Council, however, consider it quite unnecessary to retain the appeal and regard it as a form of interference with South Africa's own legal system. A private bill to abolish the appeal was introduced last year in the Union Assembly. But Premier Hertzog opposed it. No question of status was concerned he said, since the Union had a perfect right to abolish the appeal, but he asserted the measure was being exploited for party purposes.

Has Ireland Shown Surplus Or A Deficit

Banking Commission Says Amount Should Be Simply Stated For Officials and Public

DUBLIN, Eire, Sept. 20: (CP)—Annual puzzle of the Irish budget will be solved if the government adopts the recommendation of the Irish Commission of Banking, Currency and Credit to take borrowing transactions out of the exchequer accounts.

For the ordinary observer it has always been difficult to decide from the exchequer accounts published every April whether there is a surplus or a deficit.

This year, in fact, the three Dublin daily newspapers published entirely different conclusions after a study of the exchequer accounts. The Irish Press (government) estimated a surplus in the neighborhood of £250,000 ($1,212,500), the Irish Times one of approximately £600,000 ($2,910,000) and the Irish Independent a deficit of £800,000 ($3,880,000). Discrepancies arose in the allocation of items for which the minister of finance might legitimately borrow.

The report of the banking commission speaks plainly about the necessity of avoiding confusion of this kind. The commission found that deadweight debt amounting to £15,495,000 ($75,150,750) had been accumulated by unbalanced budgets since the foundation of selfgovernment in the Free State of Ireland. To clear up the matter the commission recommends that the borrowing powers of the exchequer should be severely limited. It is urged that many items of expenditure regarded as suitable to be met by borrowing should be dealt with specially by law (as in England). Any discretionary power to select items of expenditure included in the budget as suitable to be met by borrowing, it is declared, is open to serious objection.

"For the information and guidance of the legislature and those engaged in financial administration, and of the public," says the report, "it is important that the exact amount of any budget, surplus or deficit, should be shown clearly and precisely, in the published form of the State documents, and should be computed in a simple manner, permitting of exact certification by the Comptroller and Auditor-General."

South Africans Produce Semi-Food Including Skins and Slabs

CAPE TOWN, Sept. 20: (CP)—South African grape farmers, the industry menaced by over-production of wine, are trying desperately to find new grape products to be marketed. The latest products to be marketed are grape jelly, glace grapes and grape slabs.

The jelly is similar in appearance to red currant jelly and is intended for use in the same way. The glace grapes look like jelly but they are made from a stiffer mixture than the jelly. The slabs are a semi-solid food containing the nutriment of the grape skins and seeds. A similar product was sold in Italy during the period of scarcity caused by starvation during the Abyssinian war.

NEW DEAL IN SEATTLE

Rebellion Against Labor Domination in Politics Says Writer

There is a New Deal in Seattle, and it has nothing to do with President Roosevelt and the Federal government, says a writer in the Christian Science Monitor. It results from the election, last winter, of Mayor Arthur B. Langlie, who campaigned against A.F.L. and C.I.O. candidates and won over their combined vote.

Seattle is about the most extensively unionized city in the United States. It has suffered under a labor dictatorship, dominated by Dave Beck, the A.F.L. leader, who is credited with controlling the last mayor, John F. Dore. And it had enough. So when labor's ranks were divided, the aroused bystanders rose in their might and put Arthur Langlie in the City Hall.

"Perhaps the most interesting two hours I spent in Seattle were passed in a far-ranging talk with Mayor Langlie," says this writer. The new executive has never identified himself under a political banner, takes a mid-road position, and seems pretty close to the moderately progressive younger men in the Republican Party. As and if he goes to the ladder he will be in the list of youthful GOP eligibles.

He is soft-spoken most of the time, and one eyebrow cocks above the other in a pleasant, quizzical smile. He is about as clean-cut a young mayor as you would find from one end of the continent to the other. And his candor in discussing his problems with a stranger reporter was as disarming as it was interesting.

First, however, it is important to realize that the most significant thing about Seattle's New Deal is the mere fact of Arthur Langlie's election. That success put new heart into a community that had taken a protracted beating from labor dictatorship. A sweep of enthusiasm went across the city—across those large sections which had wished a plague of both A.F.L. and C.I.O. houses. Perhaps, too, some of the department store clerks and office girls who had been forced to join the Teamsters' Union were glad too; perhaps workers who resented big initiation fees, fat dues, and frequent strikes in somebody else's behalf, welcomed the advent of a neutral administration.

Good Advice About Constipation!

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with any ailment is to get at its cause. If you're constipated, don't fiddle with makeshift remedies. Find out what's giving you the trouble! Chances are you won't have to look very far, if you eat just the things most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk" and "bulk" doesn't mean just a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement. If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the intestinal tonic, vitamin B. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars"! All-Bran is made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Must Develop Dream Islands Of Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas, Sept. 20: (CP)—Future purchasers of "dream islands" and estates in the vicinity and jurisdiction of the Bahamas will have to develop their properties and not hold them for speculative purposes.

Governor Sir Charles Dundas will propose, at the fall session of the island legislature, an extensive scheme for development of island communities outside Nassau Co-incident with the development of the new areas the Board of Trade will plan transportation facilities to make the new districts suburbs of Nassau.

During the past 10 years British, Canadian and United States visitors to Nassau have purchased dozens of uninhabited islands. Some of these have been developed; others have been held with a view to speculation. Most of these islands are the property of the crown and vested in the governor. In all future sales the governor said he would include a development clause.

Chewing Gum R.A.F. Ration

Once Despised Habit Makes Official Debut in Old England

LONDON, Sept. 20: (CP)—Chewing gum which started British jaws clicking secretly years ago has made a sponsored public appearance in a showcase at the Imperial Institute's galleries in South Kensington.

The indissoluble masticatory once called a "beastly American habit" has been dignified as an integral part of the Royal Air Force emergency rations and a muscular stimulant used by long-distance fliers to keep them alert.

The exhibit appears in the British Honduras Court of the Institute's display, mainly because the raw material, chicle from the bully tree, is the colony's second most important export. Mahogany first.

Gum chewers can be seen in London's streets but the British chewer doesn't snap it.

Alberta Claims High Standards Living Possible

Distribution Social Dividend Listed Among Proposals For New Economic Order

EDMONTON, Sept. 20: (CP)—The Province of Alberta—like every province in the Dominion—is so richly endowed with natural resources that it is physically possible to provide every man, woman and child within its boundaries with a standard of living many times higher than at present, the Alberta government declares in its case for a new economic order.

The contention is cited in the arguments included in the brief on Dominion-provincial relations which the government is submitting to the federal administration. The Alberta legislature directed the government not to submit the brief to the Rowell Commission on Dominion-provincial relations.

At the present time, says the brief, the results required by the people of Alberta and of every other province could be stated in general terms as a maximum of personal security and personal freedom.

"The policy being imposed on the people everywhere is the opposite to that which they desire and could be stated in general terms as insecurity and progressive loss of freedom through unnecessary poverty, debt and taxation," it declares.

"Control is centred in the banking system, by the operation of which a small group of alien financiers are able to impose their domination over the entire nation."

The brief contends provinces should be autonomous in respect of all economic and political arrangements within themselves provided that there is no interference with other provinces. The brief expressed the belief the declared policy of electors in all provinces would be for economic security and freedom.

Financial adjustments for the proposed new economic order include a provincial credit authority under government control; distribution of consumption and production and regulation of the note issue. Governments finally would derive all revenue from the monetized provincial credit fund instead of taxation.

The brief lists the capitalized value of Alberta's resources, including population, as prepared by the government's advisers and in comparison cities unemployed, debt charges and payments and heavy taxation. Any correct statement of the assets of a province, it declares, must include the capitalized value of its population in terms of productive capacity.

"With a population of 772,702 the capital resources of the province average about $300,000 a person. Assuming these resources were exploited at the very low rate of one-half of one percent per annum, the present standard of living of the people of Alberta would be increased eight times. This would yield an average annual income of about $1,500 per person or about $6,000 per family of four at the existing price level."

"While it may be argued that such a high living standard can be secured only by the export out of the province of a very substantial portion of the increased production, in order to obtain the diverse variety of goods for which there would be a demand, this is partially true only."

"The abundant sources of power at the disposal of the province in its natural assets of coal, oil and to a limited extent, water power rendered it ideal for industrial development. Besides, in the main the majority of the population are in want of the very products which could be supplied from the limited development that has taken place to the present time."

SHEEP FLOCKS GROW

BRISBANE, Australia, Sept. 20: (CP)—According to government statistics there are 22,000,000 sheep in Queensland this year, the highest since 1932 when the total was 22,324,278.

PHEASANT ESCAPES

MONCTON, Sept. 20: (CP)—A Hungarian ring-necked pheasant almost stole the show at the Moncton Exhibition. It escaped while being fed, resisting all attempts at capture and pecking the hands of those who tried to catch it. It was finally captured with a fish net.

SLAY SHEEP-KILLER

THORBURN, N. S., Sept. 20: (CP)—Two Pictou County men Jim and Jack MacLeod, killed a 450-pound bear near here after it had ravaged sheep herds. The animal was slain when it returned to carcasses of sheep which it had killed.

Maroons Claim Land Shortage In Old Treaty

Independent Tribe Has Enjoyed Almost Complete Autonomy For Many Years

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Sept. 20: (CP)—Investigation into a 200-year old land dispute will be undertaken by the Jamaican department of lands and forests, pressed to carry out the survey by the Maroons, historic residents of this British West Indies colony.

The Maroons, first brought to Jamaica by the Spaniards whose slaves they were, are an independent group who have lived on their own land down through the years, avoiding the innovations of the whites and continuing to live their own quiet lives on their own land.

Accompanying. Determined people, they resisted every effort of the British to subdue them in the 17th century and carried on so relentlessly a campaign of guerilla and open fighting against the soldiers from across the Atlantic that in 1655 they finally gained their demands for autonomy.

In that year, the Maroons were granted peace and the English decided they were so stubborn they might just as well be left to their own devices. The Maroons were given almost complete autonomy the British reserving only the right of capital punishment.

MILITIA IS BUSY

Number of New Recruits—First Parade to be Held Tomorrow Night at Armories

The local militia battery will commence its winter activities tomorrow night when it will hold the first parade of the season at the Armories.

While the battery has lost a few of its members through transfer during the summer season, a number of new recruits have joined and the strength of the battery is being augmented considerably.

The signal section of the battery will be brought up to strength and it is expected a signal school will be established here this winter.

Smoke Pours From Burning Mountain In Australia Today

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 20: (CP)—Smoke from Australia's "burning mountain" today rose in pale gray wreaths 200 miles north of here fed for centuries by an underground coal seam.

Tourists who visited the spot tell of seeing acres of blackened rocks and charred timber, with the smoke rising from giant cracks in the mountainside. Grey ash filled shallow crevices and the heat from the subterranean fire penetrated thick-soled shoes.

Geologists said the fire had burned for centuries. In the past 80 years it had crept westward up the slope at roughly a yard a year.

The Daily News is an A. B. C. paper.

Man in the Moon

What a world it is. Here we see everybody grabbing all they can get and yet they don't like to see Hitler grabbing.

Grabbing is just a game In which strong people win. Some kinds of grabbing are right. While others are venal sin.

This is the time when we all begin to think about indoor sports. May I suggest hunt the slipper as a game with possibilities.

It is a game that Dad has to play often before he can settle down for the evening.

Jake says this column is supposed to be amusing so why not talk about Hitler and his mountain retreat.

I just sit in my mountain retreat And all the world comes to my door I plan there my coups and don't give two hoots How loudly the lion may roar.

Let us forget Europe and talk about something interesting such as ourselves.

Isn't it funny how much we like ourselves. I mean how much you like yourself.

The man I really like And plan to humor most Is the man I know the best Yes, he's the one I'll toast. I'll toast him in the morning I'll toast him too you see At noon or in the evening He's usually known as "me."

I remember him as a huge, raw-boned Highlander who never, as long as I knew him, spoke anything
