BACK FROM SPAIN WAR

Is Badly Crippled But Plans To Aid Loyalist Cause

BARCELONA, Oct. 18: (CP)—Jack Garik has returned to his home in Vancouver no longer the active young man who was a year ago when he joined the International Brigade fighting for Loyalist Spain. He plans to continue aiding the cause in any way he can. His legs and hips are paralyzed as a result of the impact of machine-gun bullets and shrapnel and he walks with the aid of a cane. Garik, when wounded, was carried from the field by Walter Marston of Regina and Jan Cooks of Vancouver. They carried and nursed him for six hours before they found an ambulance. Garik spent five months in different hospitals and once underwent operations in one day with an anesthetic in a field hospital. He was moved to a hospital near Barcelona when insurgent planes bombed the building, killing 46 men in the wing adjoining the one in which he had been placed. Garik speaks with bitterness of his experiences as a machine gunner with the International Brigade.

WAR CALL IS CLOSE

End of September Saw England Ready—Orders for Billeting of Children—Schools were to Close

How close Great Britain came to war during the crisis at the end of last month is indicated in the fact that arrangements for billeting of refugee children from London were actually made with residents outside the metropolis and definite dates set for their arrival.

The following is the copy of a circular letter which was sent a sister at Wellingborough, England, of Mrs. G. H. Arnold of this city: "This district has to receive refugee children from London. You will be required to afford accommodation at your house and are hereby directed to arrange necessary accommodation for their reception. The children will arrive on Friday."

All schools were to close immediately on the declaration of war with teachers reporting for duty. All provincial hospitals discharged patients wherever possible in order to make accommodation for war casualties.

Miss Edna Wilkinson, who was an exchange teacher here last year, received orders to report for canteen duty.

RUNCIMAN'S REPORT

The report of Lord Runciman to the British government, made prior to the treaty of Munich, sheds a little light on the reason why Mr. Chamberlain decided to act as he did.

"I consider, therefore, that these frontier districts should at once be transferred from Czechoslovakia to Germany and, further, that measures for their peaceful transfer, including provision of safeguards for the population during the transfer period, should be arranged forthwith by agreement between the two governments."

ITALIAN CHANGES

When the present session of the Chamber of Deputies ends in Italy the Chamber will go out of existence and be replaced by a new Chamber of Fasces and Guilds representing commerce, labor, industry and the professions.

STATUS OF CANADA

Discussing the status of Canada and the impossibility of this country refraining from taking part in the war if it had come, a correspondent of a Victoria newspaper says:

"I note that the Australian Attorney-General has stated that 'as long as the British Empire remains constituted as it is today, it is impossible for Australia to remain neutral in any war in which Great Britain is involved.' That, of course, is correct; and it applies to Canada. If Australia or Canada, or any other overseas dominion, declared its neutrality in a war in which Great Britain was engaged, such a declaration would be ignored by the enemy country. So long as Canada flies the British flag, she is open to attack by the enemies of Great Britain. From this we may deduce that Canada and Australia are not nations, independent and free to act as they desire in the event of war. When an alien becomes naturalized in Canada he does not become a Canadian citizen, because legally there is no such thing. He becomes a British subject. Even five years' residence in Canada itself is not required; to have lived under the British flag for five years suffices."

BOWLING BANQUET

Happy Affair Last Night; Attended By Sixty Persons

About sixty members and friends of the Canadian National Lawn Bowling Club foregathered in the Commodore Cafe last evening to officially close the lawn bowling season.

Chairman of the club, F. S. Walton, was in the chair and, after justice had been done to a sumptuous turkey dinner with all the honors, he welcomed the members and guests, hoping everyone would have an enjoyable evening.

The secretary, J. A. Frew, read a somewhat humorous and witty report of the activities and events of the past season which showed that the season just closed had been the most successful since the club's inception.

The toast to the Canadian National Recreation Association was responded to by the president, W. H. Tobey, in a manner that was both thought and mirth provoking.

"Our Guests" was proposed in a humorous vein by G. P. Tinker and responded to by F. A. MacCallum and J. E. Boddie, both of whom expressed the pleasure it afforded them in being present at such a happy gathering.

The main item on the program was the presentation of the prizes won during the season which were as follows:

Singles—A. MacDonald, Ben Dalgarne (runner-up). Doubles—G. V. Wilkinson and A. MacDonald.

Benson Studio Trophy—H. T. Cross, J. Simpson, J. J. Little and A. MacDonald.

Tip Top Trophy—J. Bulger, S. C. Thompson, J. S. Irvine and D. A. MacPhee.

Woodland Trophy—E. O. Aves, J. Paul, J. Boyd and A. MacDonald.

Hat Games—Five wins, W. H. Wilson-Murray, J. Simpson, H. Birch, L. Arroll and J. Frew; four wins, J. S. Irvine, S. King, F. S. Walton and George Hill; three wins, F. A. Rogers, S. C. Thompson, T. McMeekin, D. G. Borland, J. Boyd, W. L. Coates and G. P. Tinker.

President vs. Vice President—J. M. Campbell, G. V. Wilkinson, F. Dobb and G. P. Tinker.

During the evening Fred Cameron and C. P. Balagno rendered delightful instrumental numbers while Bill Murray, Bob James, Angus MacDonald and Tom McMeekin entertained with their favorite songs being accompanied by Fred Cameron and Sid Thompson.

The rest of the evening was spent with impromptu speeches all of which testified to the place the lawn bowling club occupies in the community. Among those contributing were Dave MacPhee, both poetically and musically, D. G. Borland, George Cripps, W. L. Coates, George Hill, Walter Vance, Jack Preece and James Boyd.

The gathering was brought to a close just before midnight with the singing of Auld Lang Syne and God Save the King.

SPORT CHAT

Winnipeg school boys have taken to rugby football with such wholehearted enthusiasm that hockey's proud position as the No. 1 athletic attraction is being threatened. Russell Rebholz, Winnipeg Blue Bombers' triple-threat halfback believes, Rebholz coaches Kelvin in the Winnipeg High School Football League. Ten years ago he played left half for University of Wisconsin in the United States Big Ten Conference. Four years ago he whipped possibly the longest completed forward pass ever thrown in Canada. Lynn Patrick speared the ball some 68 yards downfield and raced another 10 yards for a touchdown. Later Lynn joined his father's New York Rangers hockey club in the National Hockey League.

These Winnipeg kids are selling football in this town," Russ said. "Look at my Kelvin high school team. Every able-bodied kid in the school is out there to make the team. And if they don't make it, what do they do? They come out to Osborne Stadium and cheer their lungs out for the gang who did. Take the other night for example. We lost a heart-breaker to the Gordon Bell team, 18 to 17. Do you know what the paid attendance reached? Over 4,000—almost as many as we get to watch Regina and Winnipeg play. I tell you the kids are really selling this game."

Gordon Bell is coached by Martin Gainer, selected all-star middle on The Canadian Press' 1937 Western Union team.

Russ was asked how Canadian high school football compared with that of the United States. "Well, it's a matter of coaching," he replied. "The kids in the States play football from the time they can walk. These fellows here though, are really coming along. With continued coaching they'll be just as good as the American boys."

Football, truly, has taken a tremendous hold on youthful Winnipeggers. The High School league has swollen in less than three years from a friendly inter-school competition that seldom drew more than 100 spectators, to a bitter rivalry that brings upwards of 3,500 fans to every engagement.

Probably the greatest factor in this rise to prominence has been the entrance of Blue Bomber players into the coaching fraternity. In addition to Rebholz and Gainer, four players are taking an active part. Assisting Gainer at Gordon Bell school is inside Bill Ceretti. Halfback Greg Kabat handles the St. Pauls College team, halfback Wayne Sheley coaches at St. John's Technical school and outside Jeff Nicklin is in charge of the Isaac Newton club. Rivalry amongst the coaches is scarcely less pronounced than between their respective teams. Every coach gives his services gratis.

Dairy vs. C. N. R. A. Canadian Legion vs. Grotto, Musketeers vs. Ramblers.

December 9—C. N. R. A. vs. Brackman-Ker, Musketeers vs. Prince Rupert Dairy, Ramblers vs. Grotto, Sons of Norway vs. Canadian Legion.

December 16—First round of Tip-Top Challenge Trophy Cup—to be drawn.

IS SPEAKER AT TOC H

Padre Harding Priest Tells Local Group of Visit To All Hallows Shrine and Poperinghe

At the regular weekly meeting of Prince Rupert Group, Toc H on Monday evening a very interesting address was given by the Rev. Harding Priest of Calgary, field secretary of Board of Religious Education of the Anglican Church, who gave an account of a visit to All Hallows', Barking By-the-Tower, shrine of Toc H in the Old Land and his "pilgrimage" to the old house in Poperinghe.

The Padre, as Toc H men call their ministers of various denominations, himself a member of Calgary Toc H, served in the Forty-seventh Canadian Battalion as a private and latterly as Chaplain.

Mr. Priest was fortunate in that he was able to see some of the changes taking place in and around All Hallows', a very ancient church, built as excavations proved, on remains of part of old Roman London. Two early Christian chapels had been found under the church, one of which is now the chapel of the Toc H League of Women Helpers.

A visit was then made to that beautiful memorial to those Canadians who gathered lives as the price for Vimy Ridge. There were feelings of reverent awe as one stood beneath the beautiful central figure. The speaker had even found the names of some of his comrades who "sleep where poppies blow" among the many thousands inscribed on the memorial.

From Vimy, by devious route the Padre who, by the way, was accompanied by his wife, a former Canadian nursing sister, reached Hazenbroeck and after several amusing incidents with train people and taxi drivers, finally reached his objective—Poperinghe where to be greeted by Major Paul Blesser, in charge of Talbot House. Here he was able to almost feel the presence of those "valiant hearts"—"our elder brothers" who grow old not as we that are left grow old" when he passed through those rooms where Field Marshal and lance-jack, general and private met as brothers, as

PARIS AND AIR RAIDS

Precautions Old Stuff in French Capital But Officials Insist On Refreshers

By GLADYS M. ARNOLD
PARIS, Oct. 12 (CP)—As the war clouds darkened the French capital, sand distributors made the rounds. Enough was allotted to lay a three-quarter inch blanket over the whole city.

For several years past every citizen has received his instructions regularly from the police department—"What to do in case of an air attack." In the apartment blocks it is posted in the entrance beside the concierge's room. In private families it is in the Bible or lost in the desk or among the recipes in the kitchen drawer.

Distribution of sand has been threatened several times—but this time hundreds of thousands of pounds was ladled out in double-quick time. A pile was left in front of each house or in the courtyard of each apartment block and dwellers were instructed to have a shovel and pail on hand. Further instructions were issued as to putting it in place.

The pamphlet reads: "A bed of sand at least 20 centimetres deep placed on the floor of the top storey rooms will serve to catch the bombs and stop them from exploding, or if they are fire-bombs, will protect the house from being burned."

"All sixth-storey rooms must be cleared at once," it continues. Usually these rooms serve as bedrooms for maids or as storerooms for the collection of odds and ends of furniture and clothing every family puts away to use "sometime in the future."

Jokes About It

The Parisian, however serious the situation he faces, never quite loses his sense of humor. Says Clement Vautel in a Paris daily: "Imagine that one of the bombers destined to 'liberate' the Sudeten should find itself, by mistake, over Paris. We can feel quite tranquil. The sirens (blown every Thursday to keep them in order) function marvellously and each of us has his quarter of a cubic metre of sand. If a bomb explodes on the house—you know, one of those bombs which have already fallen on Shanghai and elsewhere and have proven what they can do—all we have to do is to climb to the sixth floor as quickly as possible (happy those who have an elevator) and with a spadé and pail, throw sand on the fire and in no time at all, the danger will be over. Perhaps there will remain enough sand for the second raid."

At the same time, if the instructions don't arrive quickly, there won't be any sand left in the district to carry upstairs. All the children of the quarter have fallen upon the sandbales with enthusiasm, undoubtedly convinced that vacation isn't over and they haven't left the seaside after all.

At the Paris East Station special trains have been leaving at all hours for the "East" and the Line Maginot while families and friends press around the young men and "reservists" who have been called up to guarantee the security of France. "It doesn't take much stretch of the imagination to believe oneself back in the days of the Great War" was an overheard comment.

A young man rushed out on the platform with his valise in one hand and overcoat in the other and a flock of relatives racing behind him. "Zut, I've missed the vacation train!" he exclaimed, mopping his perspiring face and watched the train move out of the station.

The crowd broke into a laugh which relieved the feeling of tension. The young man, looking rather pleased, picked up his valise and turned to go home again. However, at that moment, a railway employee stepped up and said to him: "Not so fast, young man, the service has been doubled and another leaves in 10 minutes."

Mrs. R. J. German, wife of the wireless operator at Anyox, arrived in the city on the Catala this morning from the north to enter the Prince Rupert General Hospital. She was removed from the boat to the hospital in the ambulance.

Capt. W. P. Armour, who has been receiving treatment at Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota, will be home on tonight's train, accompanied by Mrs. Armour. He has been making an excellent recovery following recent surgical treatment.

A.Y.P.A. in Charge at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday Evening

Members of the Anglican Young People's Association took charge of evening service Sunday in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral and the manner in which they acquitted themselves was approved by a large and interested congregation. Guy Thorne led the prayer reading while John Hopkins and Alfred Rivet read the lessons. He dealt with the organization's motto "For Christ and the Church" and the watchword, "Worship, Edification, Fellowship and Work." Donald Nelson and John Good took up the offering. Flowers and letters of greeting to the Lieutenant Governors of the three prairie provinces and the Pacific Coast. The packages from the Government House party were handled personally by S. O. Martin, general superintendent, Canadian National Express, under whose jurisdiction Trans-Canada Air Express service will be operated in the central district. The first package to be delivered from Montreal to Toronto was an Oka cheese, the gift of Mayor Raynault. When the initial plane from Winnipeg, "Flight No. 2," arrived in the afternoon, Mayor Day again was the recipient of the first parcel which was from Mayor John Queen of Winnipeg and contained fresh smoked Winnipeg gold-eyes. Packages of these succulent western Canada fish were also addressed to the mayors of Ottawa and Montreal.

Constipated? You Should Get at the Cause!

Lots of people think they can't be "regular" without frequent trips to the medicine chest. "I just dose up and get it over," they tell you. But doctors know they don't "get it over" at all—they get set at the cause of the trouble!

Chances are it's simple to find the cause if you eat only what most people do—meat, bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If that fits you, your ticket is a crunchy breakfast cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains the "bulk" you need, plus the great intestinal tonic, vitamin B.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and just watch the old world grow brighter!

OLD LAND FOR 'XMAS

Announcement Made In Regard To Atlantic Sailings

"Christmas in the Old Land" is the slogan which will soon be in the air and railway and steamship companies are already busy making preparations to handle the increased traffic which naturally arises at this season of the year, the trans-Atlantic companies having already listed their pre-Christmas eastbound sailings from Montreal, Quebec and Halifax, according to Peter Laskie, district freight and passenger agent of the Canadian National Railways.

There will be seven pre-Christmas sailings from Montreal, commencing with the Antonia, Ascania and Duchess of Atholl, all on November 18; the Duchess of Richmond on November 24, followed by the Ausonia, Letitia and Duchess of Bedford on November 25. The Motrose will sail from Quebec on November 29. From Halifax there will be eight sailings of steamers operating to the British Isles and Europe, these being the Montclare on December 3, the Alaunia on December 4, the Samaria December 5, the Duchess of York December 10, the Aurania December 11, the Athena December 13, the Duchess of Richmond December 14 and the Duchess of Atholl December 16.

In addition to these sailings there will be others from Halifax for Scandinavian and other countries. The Norwegian America Line steamer Oslofjord will call at Halifax November 20 to pick up Christmas passengers for Bergen and Oslo, Norway. There will also be two sailings from Halifax of the Gdynia-American Line, the steamer Pilsudski November 30 to Copenhagen and Gdynia, and the Fatory December 13 for Copenhagen, Helsingfors and Gdynia. The Swedish-American Line will have sailings from Halifax on December 2 and 9 for Gothenburg. In addition to above, various lines will have sailings from United States ports.

The fire department was called at 2:30 Saturday afternoon to the Edward Lipsett float on the waterfront where fire had started upon a small fishing boat from an overheated oil stove. Damage was negligible.

AIR LINE STARTED

Important Inaugural of Service East and West of Toronto

TORONTO, Oct. 18.—Trans-Canada Air Lines express was inaugurated out of Toronto yesterday in an informal, but enthusiastic way. Long before the plane was due to arrive, some hundreds of spectators, including executives of various industrial plants throughout south-western and central Ontario, gathered at the Malton airport to see His Honor Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Albert Matthews, and Mrs. Matthews, accompanied by their aides, welcome Captain R. M. Smith and First Officer W. E. Twiss after bringing the big silver airship to the turning runway from Montreal and Ottawa. The ceremony was participated in by many distinguished guests including Sir William Mulock, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario, Mayor Ralph Day, members of the Harbor Commission, W. A. Kingsland, vice-president, central region, Canadian National Railways, and well known figures in the business world.

So great was the amount of express to be carried by the inaugural flight, known as "Flight No. 1," that the airliner was delayed some twenty minutes in leaving Montreal and a further ten minutes or so leaving Ottawa. At Toronto more than one hundred parcels and packages were put on board, ranging from chewing gum to motor car accessories.

The Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Matthews put the first parcels aboard to open the air express out of Toronto. These consisted of

The express air service inauguration was made under the supervision of G. E. Bellerose, general manager, Canadian National Express Montreal, who was a passenger on the plane, accompanied by W. S. Thompson, director of publicity, Trans-Canada Airlines, who will ride the plane to Winnipeg.

Sir William Mulock's presence made unusual history at the inaugural ceremony. The span of his long life, of more than nine decades, reached from stage coach days to the official opening of the Malton Airport. When he was a youth of about five or six the first train to operate in what was then Upper Canada left Toronto on its short run to Machell's Corners, now Aurora, and ran close to the Mulock homestead in North York. That was in 1853. Since then he has seen railway service develop to the speedy streamliner trains of today. He has seen the stage coach passenger and motor transport take to the highways. Now, as "the grand old man of Ontario," Sir William followed the Government House party in officially welcoming Captain Smith and the big silver Trans-Canada airliner as Ontario's latest and most modern method of speedy transportation spanning the gap by his presence of the entire development of the transportation industry.

The Letter Box

FATHER GORDON AGAIN

Editor, Daily News:

I am sorry to know that I hurt the delicate sensibilities of Mr. Ted Gunrud. After all he did come a long way to enlighten the people of Prince Rupert with regard to the Spanish situation. But if my critical attitude gave him such a "rude shock" then all I can say is that his speech of the other evening must have been his first.

I, myself, am not so easily offended. I simply thought that the word of one loyalist soldier is as good as that of another. My soldier is a deserter, so he tells me. Might I ask him to read the account again to see if there were not some good reasons for deserting. Perhaps Mr. Gunrud would suggest that this other soldier should have told his loyalist officers what he thought of their tactics and then, they, with a gracious gesture, would have allowed him to leave the country.

Mr. Gunrud makes me the defender of the insurgent cause and points out that I commit the horrible crime of supporting a minority which dared to rise in rebellion. I may be pardoned for saying that history and pure reason bare me out in the belief that sometimes a minority can be in the right. He suggests, moreover, that instead of using a deserter for my authority, I be influenced by such outstanding individuals as Ernest Hemmingway, Herbert Matthews and the Duchess of Atholl. Mr. Hemmingway, in his writings is a rank materialist whose principles are in close harmony with the doctrines of Communists. Herbert Matthews has, figuratively speaking, been hit with everything except his own typewriter because of his ridiculous accounts of the Spanish situation. His name has long since become synonymous with the word bias. The Duchess of Atholl—there is someone who is an authority. After all anyone can write a book or make a report. But to be a Duchess and Member of Parliament—that something. But even the Duchess has had her "Conservative" skirts ruffled on occasion, according to the Evening Standard (London) July 5. In support of her assertion that Englishmen fighting for leftist Spain were well treated, she introduced into the House of Commons three former members of the International Brigade. When these individuals were questioned by a special committee of M. P.'s headed by Sir Henry Page Croft it was revealed that one had served eight months in jail for sedition, another was an instigator of a mutiny at Invergordon and the third had been in jail ten years for espionage. The Evening Standard reporting the matter adds: "This concluded the proceedings." Yes, Mr. Gunrud, even the Duchess has failed me. Perhaps my soldier was not such a poor authority after all.

In conclusion let me say that I have no intention of becoming controversial. I already regret having given Mr. Gunrud the occasion to further his propaganda. I think he would fall to appreciate a true picture.
