VILLAGE TO MODERNIZE

Dodge Cove Seeking Electric Service from Power Company—Already Model Community

The enterprising community of Dodge Cove on Digby Island across the harbor from Prince Rupert is contemplating another notable improvement through connecting up with the Northern British Columbia Power Co. for a general electric light and power service. Already application has been made for the connection and is under consideration by the power company. Possibly the cable to Digby Island marine and wireless stations might be used to carry the Dodge Cove power line across the entrance of the harbor.

Dodge Cove, with its forty families, is already known as somewhat of a model village. There are well built and nicely kept up homes with neat and productive gardens. The school house is an attractive centre.

Installation of electricity would lend further to the attractiveness of the village and the comfort and convenience of the residents.

Now Is No Time To Risk Peace By Offending Japanese Says Premier King Before House

OTTAWA, February 18: (CP)—This is no time for Canada to risk offending Oriental pride and dignity by passing an exclusion law against the Japanese, Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King warned the House last night. International affairs were bad enough, particularly in the Orient, without Canada adding fuel to a fire that might strike back not only against the Dominion but the British Empire as a whole.

The Prime Minister made his statement before adjourning the debate on a bill sponsored by A. W. Neill, Independent member for Comox-Alberni, which would have amounted to immigration exclusion against the Japanese by placing them on parity with the Chinese.

Mr. King agreed with British Columbia members supporting the bill that a serious situation existed in the Pacific Coast province because of Japanese immigration with consequent unfair competition against white Canadians resulting from conflicting standards of living.

UNITED STATES RAILWAYS

We hear such a lot about the railways in Canada that news of railways in other countries becomes interesting. In the United States thirty per cent of the mileage controlled by one hundred companies is in the hands of trustees at one time in that country. Great systems have been unable to meet their obligations or are doing so by borrowing from the government. This indicates that Canada is not unique in having railway difficulties.

SAD LOOKING GARDENS

With the frost going out of the ground the gardens are sad looking places just now but in a few weeks we know they will be quite different. The brown foliage that looks like dead plants will have been cleared away and from the roots that look like death and decay will spring new life, better foliage, beautiful flowers. What a wonderful text for a sermon this week. But we are not preachers so you draw your own lessons.

INDIVIDUALISM OR PUBLIC SERVICE?

No matter what changes may be made, whether constructive or destructive, there are also a number of individuals affected. Often these individuals campaign against the change or for modifications of it so that it may affect them favorably. This is more apparent in the village life than in that of the larger centres.

To some extent Prince Rupert is still a village. We have the village complex. If anything new is proposed immediately people begin to look around to see how the change may effect themselves or their friends. Let some new thing be proposed in which there is an expenditure of money and everyone considers how he or his friends may make something out of it. It is true in every walk of life.

Take another interesting phase of village life and we find that the moment a person, an organization, a newspaper or a group set out to try to influence the people in favor of a movement some person with the village mind inquires: "What is there in it for him?" or "What is there in it for them?"

As Prince Rupert grows we shall lose this village complex and grow cold and indifferent to personal ambitions. They will have less effect on the conduct of public and private business.

GIRLS WHO HAVE NO BOY FRIENDS

Quick Easy Way to Get Charm

Girls who don't attract boy friends wonder why. Beautiful, perfect features are not the reason. Cleopatra and famous women were often ugly. Have nice skin, plenty of animation, and watch out for your figure—you'll be surprised how popular you are. So many girls have poor complexions—no life—their figure slipping, and don't realize it. Take "Fruit-a-tives" and you'll soon be amazed how different and how attractive you've become. It purifies your blood, makes the skin pores work, gets rid of waste and poisons, gives you new energy, prevents flabby tissue from forming. "Fruit-a-tives" gives you new charm. 25c., 50c.

COMEDY IS DIVERTING

Christian Youth Society Putting on Excellent Entertainment in Aid of Hospital Women's Auxiliary

The Christian Youth Society turns out an excellent job of amateur stage work in the presentation of the fast-moving three-act comedy "One Delirious Night" in aid of the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital. The opening presentation last night in First United Church was received with pleasure and enthusiasm by all who attended. The second and closing presentation will be tonight. From an entertainment standpoint, it is a most diverting show and should be accorded a sell-out. It fully warrants it.

A cast of thirteen young people takes part in the farce. The story is a lively one and the presentation is smooth. Under the direction of Mrs. John Manson, the piece goes off with a nice touch, holding and entertaining the audience with no dull moments.

All those who take part acquit themselves with credit. Miss Winnie Cameron, as a pretty young debutante, and Kenneth Harding, scion of another wealthy family and her fiancé, have the romantic leads. A major part of the acting devolves upon them and they carry it off with ease. Miss Thekla Fulton in a character roll as the grandmother of the girl, does her part splendidly as also does Wilfrid Hicks, cast as a dodder and ineffectual old grandfather. Joe Landry, as a imposter butler, is the menace of the piece under whose spell for a time the heroine falls. Miss June Armour, as a jittery cook turns out a fine bit of comedy. Miss Edith Wilkinson and Bert O'Neill, a very devoted young pair, do well in supporting parts. Others taking their parts with equal capability are Miss Edith Johnstone, as a designing secretary to the grandfather; Harold Ivarson, as a thorough-going osteopath doctor; Miss Venetia Feero, as a crooked maid; Rupert Fulton, as her partner in crime, and Clifford Madill, as a police officer.

Others having to do with the presentation are Mrs. G. L. Rorie and Mrs. Tommy Fraser, in charge of make-up; Robert Irvine and Bruce Stevens, scenery, and Robert Manson and Ned Tobey, lighting and music.

Ushers last night were Miss Aileen Hamblin and Miss Edith Conery. Maurice Davey and James Greer presided at the door.

Following the show, refreshments were served in the social parlors of the church by the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital to members of the cast and others taking part.

BALL IS SUCCESS

Masons Scored Big Hit With Affair Last Night—Nearly Three Hundred in Attendance

Last night's annual ball of Tsimpsian and Tye Lodges, A.F. & A.M., was one of the most successful on record. It was also one of the most enjoyable. Close to three hundred persons were in attendance and dancing kept up in full swing from 9:30 p.m. until 3 a.m. Scottish dances were featured as well as Canadian and excellent music was furnished by Mrs. De Carlo's Orchestra.

Novel and effective decorations featured Hawaiian settings. The pillars of the banquet hall of the Masonic Temple had been adorned to represent palm trees. The orchestra played from a grass hut.

The Grand March was led by William Cruickshank, master of Tye Lodge, and Mrs. William McLeod and William McLeod, on behalf of the master of Tsimpsian Lodge, and Mrs. Cruickshank. Samuel Massey, in the absence of E. J. Smith, the master of Tsimpsian Lodge, welcomed the guests. W. R. McAfee was master of ceremonies, assisted by William McLeod.

Splendid refreshments were another irresistible feature of the party.

The committee in charge consisted of J. S. Nelson, chairman, C. C. Mills, George Peters, William McLeod, W. L. Coates and S. A. Benwell.

FEDERATION IS FAVORED

Sept ministerial office has taken the wind out of Liberals' sails. It is doing what they did in 1921. Several delegates urged that it was not worth while holding the annual session again.

Split Might Help

With only a handful of representatives in the legislatures the outlook for the Liberals is not bright but Sir Cowasji Jehangir predicted that, when the inevitable split between the left and right wings of the Congress occurred, moderate Congressmen would accept for their guidance the principles the Liberals professed. The chief of these is Dominion status for India as opposed to the claim for complete independence now made by the Congress.

Some commentators are critical of Sir Chimanlal Setalvad's presidential address on the ground it unduly taunted Congress with shilly-shallying over entering the legislatures and with talking about wrecking the constitution while in fact working it with gusto. Sir Chimanlal thought the growth of Communism under the guise of Socialism the greatest threat to India.

By one resolution Liberals drew attention disapprovingly to the dissemination of the Communist ideas in India. This has for some years been a favorite subject with Liberals, one of whose strongholds is Bombay, a city that has witnessed great industrial unrest. To this resolution was tacked a clause disapproving of Fascism which a noted United Provinces Liberal said threatened to dominate several Indian political organizations.

FUTURE IS ENVISIONED

Norther B.C. is This Province's Mineral Store House

The Coast batholith was British Columbia's mineral storehouse of the future. Dr. Joseph T. Mandy, resident mining engineer, told the Gyro Club at its luncheon this week. It had already given the Premier, Anyox copper, Surf Inlet, Eddy Pass, Surf Point, Engineer, the placer gold areas of Atlin, Dease and Liard. In cycles of economic factors, some of these mining fields and properties had been practically given up and then had been revived. Polaris-Taku, coming into production last year, and Big Missouri, which would be producing this year, were examples of this.

In thinking of the immediate future, the known resources of copper on the Queen Charlotte Islands, the copper sulphides of the Estell River and the silver and base metals of Alice Arm and Stewart, all awaiting a stabilization of mineral prices, were to be considered as well as the interior mineral resources which were awaiting transportation.

All this had come from a mere scratching of a small part of the great northern mineral empire tributary to Prince Rupert. Production so far had been from but 52,000 square miles of the total of 144,000 square miles. The remaining 92,000 square miles was known to be favorable to the occurrence of mineral deposits. Of this 44,000 square miles was absolutely virgin territory. Who knew how many more Premiers or Anyox's there might be?

Dr. Mandy summed up as factors in the perpetuation of the mining industry: the present mines, the cycle of economic factors of handling ore, known but dormant properties, practically explored mineral deposits and the immense favorable but virgin territory.

At the close of his address, Dr. Mandy was thanked by the president, D. G. Borland.

TUNEFUL COMEDY

Fred Astaire Reads Cast of "A Damsel in Distress" This Week-end at Capitol

With catchy Gershwin tunes and an hilarious story by P. G. Wodehouse of English social life as its basis, "A Damsel in Distress" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the end of the week feature offering. The yarn is that of a fantastic love feud which takes place at a medieval castle in rural England. Joan Fontaine, a titled English lady, and Fred Astaire engage in the adventure aided by George Burns, Gracie Allen, Constance Collier, Montagu Love and others.

The hectic love affair begins with a chance meeting in London when Miss Fontaine is frantically trying to evade a distasteful marriage to her aunt's ineffectual stepson. Astaire is attracted to the pretty damsel and follows her to her ancestral castle where the rocky romance continues. The spineless rival, the dotting father, an imperious aunt and the robust partisanship of the servants in the castle combine to make a happy tangle of love and laughter. Dances and songs by Astaire and Burns and Allen enliven the proceedings. New routines include a drum dance and a whisk broom dance by Astaire to Gershwin music.
