Nothing To Be Done at Ottawa Regarding Grain Trading-Housing, Electoral and Penitentiary Legislation

OTTAWA, June 25: (CP)-It is intimated that new housing, electoral and penitentiary reform bills will be put through before adjournment of Parliament next week.

Hon. W. D. Euler, minister of trade and commerce, indicated, however, that no action would be taken at the present session to implement the recommendations of the Turgeon Royal Commission on grain trading.

HUNGERFORD'S RAILWAY CASE

Following the submission by President Hungerford of the Canadian National Kallways, the public should be tilizer. more than ever grateful to the Senate for it inquiry into the railway problem says the Ottawa Journal. For more than a year the country has been beset by Pullman smoker out a single boat to take away for more importance to Canada than economists telling of the catastrophe that was being all time the means of livelihood of the operation of any reduction brought by the Canadian National and the sake plant, brought by the Canadian National, people using and en- of the profits of a few measly tons larging upon hearsay astronomical figures of savings that of fertilizer. could be made by what they called "unification."

Pergreater.

Sir Edward Beatty, it ought to be said immediately, put this matter right. had no responsibility for this nonsense. While he urged unification, and ably, he never associated himself with the absurd figures that less-well-informed people were throwing about so dogmatically in speeches and pamphlets. Nor did he join in attacks on the administration of the Canadian National.

The particular value of President Hungerford's statement is that it demonstrates unchallengeably, first, that the Canadian National cannot be dealt with within the narrow confines of a balance sheet; and, second, that, even in the judgment of a balance sheet, it has been anything but a failure.

The clear fact is that interest on the national investment in the Canadian National is and must be in resulting public service; just as the interest on investments in many other public works-aids to navigation, harbors, post offices, etc.—is and must be in public service. In other words, in a land such as Canada, is a basic and essential government function-its cost a part of the cost of government; of the national existence.

But President Hungerford was able to show that the Canadian National, while meeting a basic national need, has at the same time a great earning capacity under normal traffic conditions. Thus:

1-For the 15-year period, 1923-37 inclusive, its operating revenues exceeded it operating expenses by $361,346,000, or an average of $24,000,000 a year.

2-Even in the years of depressed earnings, 1932 to 1937, the system earned $71,000,000 in excess of its operating expenses, an average of $11,000,000 an-

3-In the five most prosperous years, 1925-29, the property earned $225,000,000 over its operating expenses, an average of $45,000,000 per annum.

The Canadian National has achieved these results while operating as a pioneering railway, as a colonization railway, making possible the opening up of rich new tracts and the development and use of rich resources in this country, the while furnishing transportation to longsettled communities, often, and inescapably, at a loss.

Unification may remain a debatable point; it will be no longer possible to argue for unification on the basis of assertions shown to be foolish-if not worse.
