Cater To U.S. Tourist Trade

McGeer Believes Dominion Should Improve Roads and Advertise Beauty Spots
 VICTORIA, Oct. 4: (CP)—Stressing value of the tourist trade, G.G. McGeer, M.P., urged the need for improvement of Canadian roads and of properly advertising the great beauty of the Dominion in an address here.

Mexico and Central America were building fine roads south to Panama, and South America planned to extend the road system to Buenos Ayres. Unless Canada took steps to attract visitors, tourists would go south, he said.

"The Dionne quintuplets are doing as much, if not more, for the Canadian tourist trade than the Canadian government is doing," he remarked. "If we could only produce a set of 'quints' in Vancouver Island it would do away with any suggestion of recession or depression in this part of the world."

DEFEAT FOR GT. BRITAIN

Duff-Cooper Says He Can Look World in Face—Chamberlain Hears Cries of "Shame"

Defence Of Munich

"Reasoned Amendment" of Labor Opposition to Advocate Collective Security
 LONDON, Oct. 4:—"The greatest diplomatic defeat that Great Britain and France have ever suffered" was the way Alfred Duff-Cooper, retiring First Lord of the Admiralty, described the Munich four-power agreement in speaking before Parliament yesterday. Turning to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Duff-Cooper said: "I at least, can hold my head erect and look the world in the face."

When cries of "Shame! Shame!" emanated from the Labor benches as he was defending the Munich conference, the Prime Minister replied: "Let those who feel shame hang their heads."

Hitler made the decision to invade Czechoslovakia as early as September 14, Transport Minister Burgin told the House of Commons today in defending the Munich settlement of the Czech crisis. Burgin said there was "no scrap of evidence" that Hitler would have backed down. He would rather have risked a world war.

The government tomorrow will present a motion approving Chamberlain's actions in dealing with Hitler.

Canadian landings, however, showed an increase from 439,000 to 678,000 pounds.

A LABOR PARADOX

It is rather curious that in Britain the people who want to fight are very largely the labor people. In this country a weekly propaganda paper which claims to represent labor is strongly against the participation of Canada in any European war. Happily, the efforts of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain prevented the necessity of anyone having to fight just now.

Russia, the country which has a proletariat dictator, was planning to take part with two capitalist countries against the dictators. We mention this because this particular propaganda paper has been urging the workers of this country against taking any part in the war, if it had come.

DON'T KNOCK YOUR CITY

There was a visitor in the city yesterday who said that, judging by what he could hear from the business people of the city, conditions must be very bad. Our guess is that business is down this year about five per cent over last year—no more. Some people are down a good deal more than that while others are up. The firm that says it is down a great deal over last year is probably losing out against competition and would do well to overhaul its methods. Possibly a little newspaper advertising might help.

There are people in the city who tell strangers that the population is decreasing. Yet there is every evidence that the population is on the increase. There are no empty houses in the city fit to live in and there is a constant demand for more small houses not too far out.

Trying to make things worse than they are is just knocking Prince Rupert and there is nothing to be gained by knocking. The worst enemy the city has is the resident who is always grumbling.

CHAMBERLAIN FORGOT

In the list of people who were thanked by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in connection with the recent international crisis, it was noticeable that he thanked everybody except the dictator of Russia for the help given. Even the United States, who pledged no assistance but sent only a couple of messages, was singled out for special mention, as was quite right and proper. The dictator of Italy got fulsome praise and yet, had it not been for Russia standing with Britain and France, the probability is that Chamberlain's famous flights to Germany would have been of no avail. In omitting the name of Stalin, Mr. Chamberlain seemed to have definitely lined up with the other dictators against the Communist dictator, the one who really saved the day.

We have little sympathy with Stalin and his oppressive methods of government. We have no sympathy with the forced labor of two million prisoners, mostly political, in Russia, that would make the German concentration camps look like a day nursery in comparison. In spite of that we feel that even if Mr. Chamberlain did not do so, a very large section of the people of the British Empire will give credit to Russia for the part it played.

We may not know all the story. Possibly Chamberlain has information that he does not give out. He probably told the Italian and German dictators that he would ally himself definitely with the Russians against them if they did not line up with him and that this was the turning point in the German forward march. Whatever the reason he was left out in the final recognition and the Russian people are being educated to dislike the British people, largely because of the attitude of the British Prime Minister.

This is not carping criticism of Mr. Chamberlain. We realize that he was the only one to handle the crucial situation and he seems to have done well, even if he has sacrificed Russian friendship in so doing.

PRO HOCKEY IS ON FEET

Guy Patrick Succeeds After Disappointments in Popularizing Game on Coast

VANCOUVER, Oct. 4. (CP)—After many setbacks which would have discouraged the average man, Guy Patrick, owner-manager of Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast Professional Hockey League, now faces the future confidently in the knowledge his venture is profitable.

Eleven years ago the "little big brother of the Patrick family" had what was left of a broken down hockey empire tossed into his lap. His two brothers, Lester and Frank, sold most of the league talent to eastern magnates. Frank stuck around for a while after Lester took most of the promising players to New York to form the Rangers. Finally Frank left and more of the stars went east.

Guy took the helm but twice his efforts to make the league financially sound were crushed. He persisted and was rewarded when the Pacific Coast League was finally formed. Prosperity has now apparently settled for a long stay in the Patrick office.

Burning of the big hockey arena here did not daunt the Lions manager. He moved to the Forum and last winter had the best season in five years.

Eliminating valves from ice pipes in artificial ice plants is Guy's latest contribution to hockey. On his recommendation, a new rink at New Westminster installed the valveless pipes and reportedly saved $1,000. New Westminster will be represented in the Coast League this winter.

Guy's hockey career began at the age of 13 when he was a ticket taker at the old Arena which burned in 1937. Then he became assistant engineer in the artificial ice plant and in 1914, at the age of 16, went to France. He served in the ambulance corps in the Great War for four years.

He played some amateur hockey here in 1919, but soon joined brothers Frank and Lester in the executive end of the hockey business.

Apart from that wandering into the field of the fanciful, the little brother of the Patricks appears to have grown up and taken his place as a hockey magnate. He admits that the old crowd that went for the big names has gone forever, but he's content with the new crop of customers he's built up.

Right now there's a touch of hockey empire about the league again, far different from the crumbling set-up he took over some 10 years ago.

BIG RACE ABSORBS ALL TALK

Bluenose and Thebaud Have Series Apiece

HALIFAX, Oct. 4. (CP)—From the Grand Banks to Cape Hatteras there's only one topic of conversation these days. Soon the Gloucester schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud meets the champion Lunenburg, N. S. Bluenose in the sixth International Fishermen's Schooner races and Gloucestermen and Lunenburgers are of divided opinion regarding the outcome of the race. "Didn't the Thebaud beat her off Gloucester in 1930?" the United States factions argue. "Wal, yes," the Lunenburgers come back. "But what about the series the year after?"

In the last International races, in 1931, the Gertrude Thebaud made her bow in international racing. She was brand new, designed by a Boston firm of architects. Smaller than the Bluenose, she nevertheless displayed a creditable turn of speed.

The two met off Halifax on October 17, 1931. In the first race the time limit was exceeded by both vessels and the race was not counted. Two days later, however, Bluenose was a length behind and in leeward position at the start. In a freshening wind, Cap'n Angus Walters of Bluenose jockeyed his big craft through Capt. Ben Pine's lead and at the first marker led the Thebaud by about 40 seconds. At the half-way mark she had lengthened it to five minutes and she finished 33 minutes in the lead.

Captain Pine took ill that night, so when Thebaud rolled up to the starting line the next day a new hand was on her wheel. It was "Long John" Matheson, a veteran skipper who pushed the Thebaud to within 12 minutes of the champion in the ensuing race.

On the first half of the course the Gloucesterman surprised everyone by holding her own. The schooners were alternately in the lead but Thebaud was seriously challenging the older Queen of the fishing fleets.

When the second half of the course opened up, however, Bluenose showed superiority in windward work. It was a battle of boats, for both skippers displayed seamanship which would make many a yachtsman envious. Finally the witchery of Bluenose's ample hull or her tapering spars asserted itself and she romped home more than a mile to the good.

LLOYDMINSTER, Alta., Oct. 4. (CP)—H. G. Jarret of this town on the northeastern Alberta border, dug 266 potatoes from one plant on his farm near here. The plant stood three feet high and covered several square feet. Many of the potatoes were three and four inches in diameter.

Pitchers For World Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Bill Lee, for Chicago Cubs, and Red Ruffing, for New York Yankees, are announced as starting pitchers in the opening World Series game at Wrigley Field tomorrow. Charlie Hartnett, Cubs' manager, announced last night that he would not use Dizzy Dean in the opening game. Hartnett stated today that Phil Cavaretta, left hand hitter, would play right field for the Cubs. Frank Demaree is switching from right to left field with Carl Reynolds at centre.

SPORT CHAT

At the Lost Lagoon in Vancouver this weekend the Dominion championships for model yachts are being run and Prince Rupert yachting enthusiasts particularly and the general public to a lesser degree will have an interest in the event. One of the entries is the "Rupertia" designed and constructed by the local enthusiast, A. J. Croxford.

This yacht is entered in the six-metre class and a check-up of her measurements in Vancouver makes her eligible for competition in her class. Reports from Vancouver indicate that she has been the subject of very favorable comment by the experts there. Her skipper for the race has not been decided yet but C. J. Pratt, secretary of the Vancouver Model Yacht Club, is making it his business to have her handled by a capable skipper.

In other respects local interest is being more than sustained in this branch of ship-building. Malcolm Lamb is busy at a new six-metre model and reports show that he is making good progress. H. Gawthorne is also engaged in building a new model. He is following the same plan but has decided to change the size and is busy working out some of the rather mysterious details. S. Hineston, who made such a good showing in the two local races this year, is busy on a new model but in the 50-800 class. And Mr. Croxford himself, who would probably prefer building to sailing his boats, has another six-metre model under construction. He is adopting a new design.

All this augurs well for the future of model yachting in Prince Rupert and in a shipping port this is what should be expected. In the meantime the "Rupertia" carries the best wishes for its success in Saturday's events in Vancouver.

Don't Keep on Having Constipation!
 If constipation's got you down—so you feel heavy, tired and dopey—it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get to the cause of the trouble.
 If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft, "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.
 If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains the natural intestinal tonic, vitamin B.
 Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Sold by every grocer.

It's interesting to know when reading the Daily News that the people of the whole district are doing the same.

Man in the Moon

Many people are still wondering who got the best of the recent war in Europe.

The prevailing opinion seems to be that poor little Czechoslovakia was badly beaten and Germany was the winner.

Grain is being shipped out of Churchill. Prince Rupert is silent. Poor old Rupert.

She: "The Brownes must be awfully rich, judging from the clothes they wear."
He: "Oh! One can never tell. Some of the most gorgeous flowerers haven't got a scent."

"I started in life without a penny in my pocket," said Smith.
"And I," put in Jones, "started in life without a pocket."

The dear lady came into the village post office and planted a parcel on the counter. "I want to send these trousers by book post, please," she said to the assistant.
"I'm afraid you can't send trousers by book post," was the reply.

The elderly lady stared. "But you told me the other day that anything open at both ends could be sent by book post," she protested.

Jake says he hopes we get a pup mill because then he'll buy himself a cigar. He hasn't had one since the year before last and he's almost forgotten what it's like.

France has demobilized, the armies are over and we have had our first frost. Thanksgiving'll be here in a few days.

Jake has been talking about the weather and he wants to know what is a mean temperature. He thinks forty below zero is a mean temperature but the weather man says that's not a mean temperature but a low temperature.

As the mayor of Seal Cove was saying recently, the weather is not just what is used to be since the meteorological office at Victoria has been interfering with it.

War threats are o'er,
Stock prices soar,
Germany wins out,
Peace with honor
Says Britain's upon her,
So loudly we'll shout.

POLICY ON MIGRATION

Cash Entry is Required By Dominion Government

OTTAWA, Oct. 4: (CP)—Canada's immigration policy is one of welcome for agricultural settlers with sufficient capital to establish and maintain themselves for a reasonable period. There is no aggressive policy to encourage migration from the British Isles or other parts of Europe to Canada and the door is shut on industrial workers who might add to the relief burden.

In 1937, approximately 12,000 settlers came to Canada, 2,859 from Great Britain, most of the remainder from other parts of Europe. There has been an upswing in 1938 and in the first six months of 1939, 8,315 people entered Canada as settlers, the United States sending 2,890, the British Isles 1,573.

For immigration from eastern European nations, where there are many wanting to come to Canada, rigid limitations have been laid down. Practically the only persons admissible are: (a) farmers bringing their own capital to settle on the land; (b) wives and unmarried children under 18 joining family heads established in Canada; (c) girls coming under arrangement to be married in Canada.

Sir Henry Page Croft, M. P. for Bournemouth, England and R. S. Daleish of Newcastle-on-Tyne, visited British Columbia in connection with a scheme to settle 10,000 British families on unoccupied farm lands in the interior of the province. Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia said his government was prepared to make a free grant of all lands necessary "provided that suitable arrangements can be made between all parties concerned." He suggested a conference between the governments involved and Canada's two transcontinental railways. Sir Henry will confer with the British Government.

Federal Opinion
Hon. James Gardiner, Dominion minister of immigration emphasized that Canada was anxious for immigration of sound British stock but it was essential that any scheme of assisted immigration to Canadian farms should provide also for assisting the newcomers for the first few years.

Experts here summed up the situation with their view that people who could comply with Canadian requirements are not anxious to come and those who are anxious

CAREER AS EDUCATOR

Late Head of Dalhousie Served in Many Capacities

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—The late Dr. A. Stanley Mackenzie attended the public schools of New Glasgow and Halifax and entered Dalhousie at the age of 17 years, winning one of the George Munro Scholarships. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1885, graduating with honors in mathematics and mathematical physics and winning the Sir William Young gold medal.

In 1887 Dr. Mackenzie was appointed tutor in mathematics and physics at Dalhousie under Professor Charles MacDonald and J. Gordon MacGregor, names inseparable from the early Dalhousie. After two years he proceeded to Johns Hopkins University where he began a post graduate study and research.

From 1891 to 1905 he was professor of Physics at Bryn Mawr College and in 1894 he was awarded the doctor's degree by Johns Hopkins University. He was recalled by Dalhousie to take the chair of physics in 1905, spending a year in research work under Sir Joseph Thompson at Cambridge University. He was afterwards appointed head of the physics department in Stevens Institute, New York, and in 1911 he was summoned back to Dalhousie to become its president in succession to Dr. John Forrest.

In addition to the degrees earned in the course of a brilliant academic career at home and abroad, Dr. Mackenzie had been honored by sister universities. His writings were mainly scientific and he was the author of numerous articles published in educational journals. He published one book, "The Law of Gravitation."

An Anglican, he married Mary Lewis Taylor, daughter of the late Franklin Taylor, Indianapolis, in 1895. She died a year later. They had one daughter, Mrs. Martin King, Halifax.

Member of the Halifax Club and the University Club of Montreal, and an ardent golfer and angler, he was one time president of the Ashburn Golf Club.

Large Shower For Miss June Gomez

Many Gather at Canadian Legion Hall to Honor Bride-Elect Of Henry Dickens

A delightful shower was held last night in the Canadian Legion clubrooms by Mrs. Jack Preece and Miss Edith Gandy in honor of Miss June Gomez who is soon to become the bride of Henry Dickens. The rooms were beautifully decorated with pink and white streamers and wedding bells with cut flowers.

The early part of the evening was spent in playing bridge, the prize-winners being: first, Mrs. Robert Murray; second, Mrs. J. McGreish; third, Mrs. A. Ronalds. While a delicious supper was being served Miss Hilda Bond sang "I Love You Truly."

Following the supper, Misses Edna and Betty Dickens drew in a decorated model scow which was heavily laden with beautiful and useful gifts. Whifflets From The Waterfront

Running late this trip, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, is not due until 6 this evening from Stewart, Anyox and other northern points and will sail half an hour later for Vancouver and waypoints.

Armour Salvage Co.'s service boat Pachena, Capt. Pete Jensen, returned to port at noon yesterday after having been away since the middle of July on a packing charter to Namu Cannery. The Daily Capt. Albert Erickson, is still at Pacofi.

Canadian Can Co.'s big cruiser Cancolim, Capt. William Thomas, was in port at the first of the week in the course of a voyage to various cannery points along the coast.

Repairs will be completed at the local dry dock tomorrow on the Vancouver halibut boat Constance B, which recently stranded and sank at Kiew Nugget in Grenville Channel and the vessel will then proceed on her final voyage of the season to the fishing grounds.

Fisheries patrol steamer Malaspina was in port this morning for fuel and supplies, being moored at the Canadian National wharf.

Some one hundred members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion and children were entertained last Thursday evening at the Legion rooms with a program of conjuring tricks by Frank Merryfield of Vancouver. Jack Preece, president of the Legion, was in the chair.
