THE POLLS KEEP OPEN UNTIL 7 O'CLOCK TONIGHT

GAVE CANDIDATES MERRY TIME

Audience at Empress Theatre Was in a Happy Mood and Got All the Fun They Could from the Aldermanic Candidates

STRONG SUPPORT FOR ALD. NEWTON

"I Might State," Said Ald. Douglas Several Times as He Told How He and Ald. Newton Has Saved Situation Again and Again—Mr. Lannic on 45-Cent Rate

The aldermanic candidates were nearly all most jovially greeted on their last appearance in the campaign on Alderman Newton's platform in the Empress Theatre last night, the meeting being out for all the fun they could get. Several people, however, voiced Charles Hunter's regrets that they had been unable to give longer heed to the aldermanic candidates during the too brief campaign.

F. M. Lannic.

Mr. F. M. Lannic was the first to be called on, and his downright assertion in regard to the wage rate livened the audience up. He promised, if elected, that his first motion in the Council would be that 45 cents be made the minimum rate of wage. Mr. Lannic was freely interrupted.

Alderman Douglas.

"I might state," began Alderman Douglas, who followed Mr. Lannic, and the crowd roared at the peculiar phrase. Every time he started a sentence with "I might state" the crowd laughed again.

He told of "the great execution men" and Alderman Newton did in protecting the interests of the citizens during the previous year, and the crowd endorsed him with a round of cheers as he invited them to cast a vote for him if they liked what he had done in the past.

W. H. Montgomery.

The Mayor said last night that the old Council was leaving the waterworks question all ready for the new Council to carry out. He did not tell you that the previous Council had left it all ready for them and that they had done nothing with it," said W. H. Montgomery amid applause.

Bullock-Webster.

Mr. L. Bullock-Webster also proved a favorite with the audience, especially when he raised his voice about 79 degrees when invited by a man in the audience to "speak up!" He expressed his intention of conscientiously trying to carry out the desires of the voters if elected to office. He expressed his satisfaction that there had been a comparative absence of mud slinging during the campaign.

G. H. Munro.

Mr. G. H. Munro expressed his pleasure at seeing the chair so well filled. The audience looked at the chairman, Mr. J. F. McDonald, and smiled aloud. In a very sensible little speech the candidate urged his claims and good intentions.

John Dybhavn.

Mr. J. Dybhavn, while not looking on Alderman Newton as an ideal man for mayor, said he was supporting him because he looked on him as the cleaner man of the two, and the speaker was anxious to see Prince Rupert a clean and prosperous city. If elected he promised to back up any and all

ALD. CLAYTON WAS AGAIN BOO-ED OFF

Regrets Having to Live Among the Fences and Ditches and the People of a Place Like Prince Rupert—But He Wants to be Elected as an Alderman Again

Alderman Clayton had the misfortune to be again booed off the stage at the Empress Theatre last night by the workingmen, who resented the bumptious way in which he told them that he would not allow them to demonstrate on the streets in labor parades carrying their flag of labor.

The Alderman was greeted with loud boos when he rose to speak, and the chairman had to plead for a hearing for him. He devoted most of his time to a personal attack on the editor of The Daily News for having stated that he had grown only in bumptiousness during the year and that he had better be left at home on Thursday.

He denied that he had been booed off the stage on Monday. (Loud cries of "Yes, you were.") He said the greatest curse of Prince Rupert was not its political quarrels, but the newspapers which reported them, and the greatest of these was The Daily News. It was edited by J. S. Cowper, who was a cheap editor from the Toronto Globe, which was a little bit of a paper printed in the slums of Toronto. It was one of the hardships of living among the fences and ditches of a place like Prince Rupert that one had to live among such people.

He did not know what bumptiousness meant, but after reading the word in The News he had looked it up in the dictionary—and still did not know.

"It means swelled head," said a voice from the stage.

He said it was a lie that he had expressed an ambition to become a police commissioner. He had only said what he would do if Alderman Newton would appoint him to be one. (Loud laughter.)

"Will you allow organized labor to carry their red flag in a street parade in this city if elected?" asked a labor representative from the floor of the hall.

"No, never," shrieked the irate Alderman, stamping his foot on the platform. Loud boos again arose. " . . . and had I been mayor last year it never would have been carried either." (Reverend demonstration, during which the Alderman retreated to his seat.)

Mr. W. H. Montgomery, who had also been attacked by the speaker, quietly rose and dryly told the audience that, like the man who was kicked by a mule, he would not retaliate on Alderman Clayton, "remembering the source from whence the attack came." (Loud laughter.)

Mr. Charles Hunter of the I. W. W., who received special permission to speak, said that Alderman Clayton made a great mistake if he thought he could keep the red flag of the workers off the streets. It would wave there in spite of him, for it had a right to be there. The red flag was the symbol of organized labor. (Cheers.)

S. S. HAZELTON TO LEAVE HERE

Steamer is Being Dismantled by Capt. Gardiner, and Will be Freighted to Edmonton for Service on Athabasca River

Ankers. They are charged with having stolen from the person of John Rajalen the sum mentioned, Frank Wharton being supposed to be the actual thief, the rest stating that they participated. All resided at the Grand Hotel. The case is remanded until tomorrow.

COUNCIL STILL BUSY

At Meeting Yesterday Afternoon They Attacked Minor Matters.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the City Council met to go into a considerable mass of detail routine work to wind up their year. In spite of their efforts they failed to accomplish all that had to be done, and another meeting is set for Saturday afternoon. It is hoped that the financial statement for the year will be ready by then, but as things look at present the City Clerk thinks that this cannot be completed in time and another meeting will have to be held on Saturday night.

Notice to Contractors.

Tenders will be received up to Saturday, January 13, 1912, for the erection of a bungalow for N. Schuman. Plans and specifications at the office of J. W. Potter, architect. d13

FEAR LACK OF RIVER BOATS

Shippers and Travellers to the Interior Anticipate Difficulty in Spring Unless Railway Can Replace Skeena River Boats.

With only three steamers left of the famous Skeena River fleet, upon which for years the whole development of the Hazelton and Interior districts has depended, shippers and those interested in the interior begin to fear that there may be serious congestion of traffic and freight in Rupert this spring. Promises that the steel will be through to Hazelton in March have been made, but May is considered a more likely date. The strike at Skeena river Crossing has occasioned some delay already. Unless the G.T.P.R. can double the transportation facilities provided by the river boats last year, there is sure to be congestion of freight, as 1912 will see the biggest rush yet witnessed to the interior.

Sale of Household Goods.
On Friday afternoon at 2:30 Mr. Frank A. Ellis will hold an auction sale of household furnishings in the residence of Mrs. Shaughnessy, cor. of 6th Ave. and Fulton street. Everybody invited.

REV. CLARENCE RICHESON CONFESSES THAT HE MURDERED AVIS LINNELL

Sudden Breakdown of One of the Most Sensational Murder Trials on the Continent—Story of the Crime That Has Caused a Sensation Among Church Circles in Boston—Parson Murdered His Discarded Sweetheart in an Effort to Marry Millionaire's Daughter

Boston, Jan. 11.—Contrary to expectation, Rev. Clarence V. Richeson, pastor of the Emmanuel Baptist Church at Boston, was not sentenced today following his confession last Saturday that he is the murderer of his discarded sweetheart, Avis Linnell. In the absence of his attorney, who is indisposed, his sentencing was postponed. It is possible that an effort will be made to have him declared insane.

Story of the Crime.

The story of the crime is one of the most pathetic in the history of crime in the United States. Richeson, who is a dark,

ALD. HILDITCH'S FINAL RALLY

Had a Good Crowd in McIntyre Hall and Made a Strong Speech in Defence of His Platform, and in Criticism of Ald. Newton

TRIBUTE TO FAIRNESS OF "NEWS" REPORTS

Mr. Joe Scott Made a Refutation of the Charges Brought Against Him—Mr. O. H. Nelson Tells His Version of the Printing Contract

Alderman Newton's attractions notwithstanding, Alderman Hilditch had quite a solid gathering to greet him in the McIntyre Hall on the eve of election day. Jack Kirkpatrick was chairman, and in a few words introduced the subject of the evening, Alderman Hilditch and his cause.

"Every one here," said Mr. Kirkpatrick, "believes that Alderman Hilditch will be a much better mayor than Mr. Newton. Mr. Newton has never done anything beyond his street numbering proposition. He has done nothing in Council but criticise." (Cheers.)

Alderman Hilditch.

With his usual serenity, Alderman Hilditch took the platform. "This campaign," he said, "will, I believe, be looked back upon for a long time as unique in the history of Prince Rupert. Alderman Newton has been in the field for months—I have, without any special desire on my own part for the mayorship, gotten into the fray at the last moment, as it were, simply because I would not allow a man like Alderman Newton to go up for mayor unopposed. I want to cast their votes one way or another."

"News" Reports Are Fair.

Alderman Hilditch went on to point out the unfair method taken by the Empire in reporting the circumstances of his mention of Mr. Durant, Mr. Patmore and the Tsimpsean Power Co. The Empire had implied that Alderman Hilditch had held out the glad hand to get the power company's bolus into the city. Alderman Hilditch pointed out that the correct and unbiased report appeared in The Daily News, though The Daily News did not profess to back him up and had indeed knocked him persistently during the past year. It was all just an example of the Newton and the Empire way of dealing with a matter to suit private ends.

"An Open Town."

On the subject of his alleged desire to have "an open town" here, Alderman Hilditch explained his meaning as before that he wants lighted windows and a live air in the city when by rail and sea strangers will be coming in at all hours. He declared that he would vouch for it that G. R. Naden, temperance man as he is, would cast his vote for Hilditch. (Applause.)

Is a Good Engineer.

Alderman Hilditch proceeded to dissect his opponent's attacks on the City Engineer's department in detail, and showed that the department was being made the subject of wrongful charges. He paid a warm tribute to Col. Davis, both as a capable engineer and as a courteous gentleman.

Ignorant of Finance.

Alderman Newton had said the finances of the city were depleted, that was all he knew, though a member of the Finance Committee. The borrowing power of the city, exclusive of local improvement

WICKED LOOKING LETHAL OUTFIT

Loaded Revolver, Ugly Hardwood Billet and Stocking of Buckshot Taken from Frank Morgan by Police.

Charged with carrying concealed weapons, Frank Morgan appeared before the Magistrate today. His case was remanded until tomorrow. Not only was accused found with a fully loaded five-chambered revolver in his pocket, but he had in his valise holus bolus into the city. Alderman Hilditch pointed out that the correct and unbiased report appeared in The Daily News, though The Daily News did not profess to back him up and had indeed of the genus hold-up man of most pronounced type. He is believed to have held up the victim of the alleged theft by three others, only to find that Rajalen had been already "cleaned out."

REV. C. RICHESON CONFESSES

handsome man of the Byronic type, and very fascinating among the fair sex, had become engaged to pretty Avis Linnell two years ago, when he was pastor and she a seventeen-year-old girl singing in his choir at the Middleboro, Mass., Baptist Church.

Recently when Richeson was "called" to the fashionable Emmanuel church in Boston, his sweetheart moved to Boston in order to be near him. Their marriage was arranged for an early date and had been once postponed at Richeson's request.

Jilted Her for Money.

Since accepting the pastorate of the Boston church he met the daughter of a Mr. Edmonds, a millionaire adherent of the church. Not knowing that he was engaged to his pretty choir girl, Richeson was made welcome at the Edmonds mansion and became engaged to Miss Edmonds. Their wedding was fixed for November 30.

On November 17th Miss Linnell suddenly expired in a bathroom adjoining her room at the Y. W. C. A. at Boston. The calm disregard Richeson showed in the girl's death aroused suspicion. It was discovered that on the previous day he had bought cyanide of potassium on an excuse that he wanted to poison a dog. He was also known to have taken tea with Miss Linnell on the afternoon of her death, at which time she was in ignorance that he had pledged himself to marry another.

A Suspicious Circumstance.

A post mortem examination of the girl revealed further suspicious circumstances and gave rise to the theory that Richeson had given the girl the deadly cyanide on the pretense that it would relieve her physical trouble. Seven days after the girl's death, and within a week of his wedding, Richeson was arrested in his bed at the Edmonds mansion, where he had taken up his residence.

The parents and sisters of Avis Linnell. Avis is the girl on the bottom row.

He was given large funds by Miss Edmonds to assist him to prove his innocence, and protested that at his trial he would easily show that he was a victim of circumstantial evidence.

Confessed His Guilt.

On Christmas Day, however, he tried to commit suicide in his cell with a sharpened spoon, and on Saturday last made a clean breast of the crime, admitting himself to be the poisoner of Avis Linnell.

The dramatic and pathetic features of the case have aroused the widest interest. This is capped by the confession, which came as a climax to the sensational crime.

INSURANCE COMPANIES KICK ABOUT THE VANCOUVER POLICE

BRITISH COMPANIES, INCLUDING LLOYDS, SEND A LETTER TO MONTREAL COMPLAINING OF THE INDIFFERENCE OF THE VANCOUVER POLICE.

Montreal, Jan. 11.—John Knight, secretary of the Farmers' Association here, has received a letter from the British insurance companies, including Lloyds, complaining of the indifference of the Vancouver police, and of the frequent bank robberies in Western Canada. The letter says that the Vancouver city police did not attempt to aid the private detectives in the great robbery at the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal recently when a sum of $270,000 was stolen.

CONFIDENCE OF RIVALS

Ald. Hilditch Estimated His Majority 32 in Morning's Votes.

At noon today there was confidence in the camp of Alderman Hilditch. He claimed he had 32 votes to the good over Newton in the number polled. Alderman Hilditch expected that the noon hour would throw the balance against him, but counted on the tide turning for him again throughout the afternoon. Unqualified confidence prevailed in the Newton citadel.

Mr. Albert Committed.

Announcement is made officially today that Mr. Albert is committed for trial in the assault case. An application has been made to the Attorney General for bail. In an interview yesterday the accused maintained his innocence stoutly.

SAD NEWS RECEIVED

Mrs. D. H. Morrison's Mother Passed Away Suddenly

The sad news was conveyed by telegraph to Mrs. D. H. Morrison this morning of the sudden death of her mother, Mrs. French, at Conconully, Washington, last night. Mrs. Morrison, who is not yet fully recovered from a serious illness herself, was unaware that her mother was ailing. Mrs. French, who was in her 76th year will be remembered by many people, as she paid a visit to Prince Rupert last summer to visit her daughter.

By a sad coincidence it is only three weeks ago since Mr. Morrison received similar word of the sudden death of his father, Mr. John Morrison at Gould, Quebec. Mr. Morrison, Sr., was in his 78th year.

GAVE CANDIDATES A MERRY TIME

Continuing, he promised that if elected he would see that it was not left over for another council to do.

The old Council has also left over some lawsuits for the new Council to settle, and without in any way attempting to cater to the contractors, he would assure contractors and business men that the contractors had nothing to fear from the laboring men. The aim of the workingmen was to secure justice for all.

H. W. Dagnall.

Mr. H. W. Dagnall got most joyfully heckled when he started his speech by saying: "The last time I was in London—"

For some five or ten minutes he entered into a good-natured contest with the audience with such good success that he was later on asked by the management if he could fill a comedian turn. His good humor was rewarded by a kindly hearing later on and a round of hearty applause at the end.

Tom Maitland.

Tom Maitland apologized for not making a long speech by saying he was no orator. "If I were I would not be here; I'd be peddling hot air at Victoria," he said cheerfully. He made a strong speech in favor of carrying out the public works of the city by day labor and wanted to know why the city could not pay its workmen every two weeks like other cities instead of only once a month.

Messrs. W. T. Robinson and Shockley briefly addressed the meeting.

ELECTION DAY LACKS IN LIFE

Two Hundred Voted Up to Noon, When There Was a Small Rush—Candidates Stood Around, but There Was No Excitement.

Two hundred votes were polled at the municipal election booths in the Police Court room up to noon today. There was an increased rush during the dinner hour, but the voting was by no means phenomenally fast. In close attendance at the polls was Alderman Douglas, with a nod and a smile for his many friends. Outside the court room from time to time the other aldermanic and their supporters busily pressed canvassing literature on the passersby. Alderman Newton was the only mayoral candidate in conspicuous evidence during the forenoon, but Alderman Hilditch was seen about town. This morning found a section of the talkative public backing Hilditch and suggesting a surprise vote, but the main trend of prophecy went Newtonwards. There was an entire absence of demonstration.
