TO HELP CHINESE

Well Named Chairman of New Labor Committee for Relief—Plans Many Units

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1:—Formation of Labor's Committee for Civilian Relief in China was announced today by Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Woll will be the permanent chairman of the committee upon which nearly 100 representative labor officials in all parts of the country will serve.

"I believe this will be one of the greatest efforts American labor has ever undertaken," Mr. Woll said. "We shall announce our plans as they are perfected, but I can say now that we shall proceed as rapidly as possible in a cause to which American labor is just about 100 percent united."

The committee was formed under the provisional chairmanship of Gilbert E. Hyatt, editor of The Journal of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks. Mr. Hyatt will serve as secretary of the permanent committee.

Making It Clear

The provisional committee asked Mr. Woll to accept the permanent chairmanship and in his letter of acceptance he said:

"We must make it clear at the outset that one of our tasks will be to see to it that the viewpoint of labor is not misrepresented by groups and persons who have no authority to speak for labor and who have either a deliberate purpose to misrepresent organized labor or an emotional zeal more of ten to meddlesomeness than to sound results."

Mr. Woll said he planned to appoint chairmen of local committees in every city and town.

In his letter asking Mr. Woll to become the permanent chairman, Mr. Hyatt said that members of the provisional committee felt that the formation of a relief organization was the best way to "show our appreciation of the bravery and endurance of the Chinese civilian population."

Among the high officials in A. F. of L. unions who have accepted membership on the committee are:

James Maloney, president Glass Bottle Blowers Association; James Duffy, president National Brotherhood of Operative Potters; Felix H. Knight, president Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America; Samuel Evans, Tobacco Workers International Union; Frank B. Powers, president Commercial Telegraphers Union; C. L. Rosemund, president International Federation of Technical Engineers, Architects and Draftsmen's Unions; N. P. Alfano, International Association of Machinists.

FIGHTS FOR IMPERIALS

Canadian Body's Effort to Obtain Better Conditions for Old Country Veterans Continues, President Says

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Feb. 2: (CP)—The problem of rehabilitating in Canada those ex-service men who served in the British forces is one of the most difficult with which the Canadian Legion has ever had to deal, Brig-General Alex Ross, Dominion president, told the seventh biennial convention of that association in his annual report.

The most reliable estimates available indicated there were 75,000 Imperial ex-soldiers resident in Canada who had come to the Dominion since the war. The War Veterans Assistance Commission had registered 5,177 as being unemployed. The matter of obtaining for that number some measure of security was as much a responsibility of the organization as that of caring for those who had served in the Canadian forces, General Ross said.

The problem has been "greatly complicated by the development of rival organizations." Such bodies had sought to justify their existence on the score of Legion inactivity on their behalf.

"I indignantly repudiate any such suggestion, and while frankly admitting our failure to make substantial progress heretofore," said General Ross, "such failure has not been due to the lack of effort, or our handling. It has been due to the inherent difficulties of the problem, and the fact that we cannot—and no Canadian organization whether Imperial or otherwise can—have any direct access to the British government, which is the government directly affected."

Must Try New Line

The Legion had striven to do much, and in this connection the statement had been freely made "that the sudden interest on our part is inspired by fear of those other organizations which have sprung up and are springing up," he declared.

"Nothing could be farther from the truth. It just so happened that as a result of years of effort and investigation we had reached the point where we felt that an entirely new line of approach must be adopted and that such decision coincided with this outburst of organizing activity." The ex-Imperialists who had settled in Canada were "just as much comrades as those those services had been with the Canadian forces."

General Ross detailed the complexities of the ex-Imperialists' problem, recalling how successive representations by Canadian Legion delegates at the various conferences of the British Empire Service League had been received by the British ministry of pensions. Since 1929 the Legion had regularly put forward the case of the ex-Imperialists, and in 1932 had gained personal access to British cabinet ministers who were attending the Ottawa conference.

Last May the problem had been one more advanced, and a comprehensive memorandum covering the whole situation placed in the hands of Herwald Ramsbotham, pensions minister of the United Kingdom. In consequence of the Legion's representations to the B.E.S.L., a sum of $25,000 had been made immediately available for relief among ex-Imperialists in Canada, from the United Services Fund.

At the same time J. R. Griffin, organizing secretary of the British Legion, had come to Canada to investigate the problem. His report had not yet been received.

SNOW AT STEWART

Worst Blizzard in Four Years—Snow Plow Had Arduous Task

STEWART, Feb. 2:—Fighting the worst snow storm since its arrival here some four years ago the big V snow plow, driven by Jack Brooks, was put to a severe test last week and those with it had at least one harrowing experience when they were completely buried by a snow-slide about ten miles on the road to Premier.

Leaving Premier Monday evening the plow fought snow all the way down, to arrive in Stewart at about 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The first task was the clearing of the snow on the Premier hill so that the road could be used by cars. By the time this was accomplished, the snow, falling at about an inch an hour for several days, had so blanketed the country that from what is known as 11 mile to the Red Bridge, a distance of about a mile and a half, the road, cut out of the steep mountainside, was completely filled in; from the tops of the twenty-foot rock wall on the inner side of the road the outer edge was just a steep slope of snow most of the way and in many places where gullies came down the mountainside great trouble was experienced by reason of the plow cutting the snow out at the bottom and releasing the snow further up the hill. Many of the gullies disgorged quite heavy slides and at a point about half a mile on the Premier side of the Red Bridge, while the plow was fighting its way through a slide, another one came rushing down the mountain to completely bury it. Fortunately those on the plow were protected by a roof, and as a result, Brooks was able to throw the driving gear into reverse and back out.

Plow is Buried

C. Adam, who was following down behind the plow, said that it was a marvelous sight to see that plow, big as it is, completely disappear under tons of snow that came down over it, and then to see it come backing out from an experience few men have had and none who know anything at all of snow slides would invite. No sooner had Brooks backed out and with those that were with him cleaned the snow away from themselves than they put the big machine back into the slide and fought it for an hour before they got through the short distance of twenty feet.

Starting from 9 mile at 9 a.m. Wednesday the plow fought the heavy snow all the way to Stewart to arrive in town at about 8:30 the same evening. The total distance for this run was eleven miles, thus is given some idea of the task performed. For, on this easiest part of the road, an average of a mile an hour was all that was possible.

Thursday the plow spent the day at opening the arterial highway through town, as well as the road for some distance up the Bear, returning from there it spent the afternoon finishing its work of the night before on the Stewart-Hyder road, and as a result traffic which had been badly disorganized throughout the entire district since Monday last was restored.

W. J. Jordan, New Zealand delegate, expressed astonishment that China was willing to accept such a feeble resolution.

Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate, replied that his government found it opportune to accept the text, even if it did not give full satisfaction to China's desires. Koo said that efficacious intervention by the League with collaboration of other peaceful states would speedily end the hostilities in the Far East.

THE UNIVERSITY

The students attending the university of British Columbia seem to imagine that they are the ones chiefly interested in the decision of the government to limit the number of students and to raise the fees to $150 a year. As a matter of fact, the taxpayers of the province are the ones who should have the chief say in regard to the matter.

If the number of students is reduced from 2400, as at present, to 2,000 and the fees are increased, it means that each student at the university will cost the people of the province $200 a year for four or five years for "higher education," anything from eight hundred to a thousand dollars for each student. Those Prince Rupert boys and girls who have gone to the University from here have cost their parents a good deal and also have cost the taxpayers of the province very nearly the same amount. And where are they today? Very few of them have remained in Prince Rupert and many of them have gone to the United States. For this amount of $800 the students are indebted to the province and should, if the education has any value, return that much to the province in public service. That is a debt the University graduate owes the people of the province who footed the bill through their government at Victoria.

UNEQUAL PRIVILEGE

Again let us look at this university education from another angle. Most of the students are from Vancouver because they have a very considerable advantage over other parts of the country. Young people who have been attending high school just change their school to Point Grey and carry on. To them the University is a glorified high school. It costs very little more to attend there than it did at one of the Vancouver high schools. For the outside districts it is different. Take Prince Rupert as an example. The student has to pay a steamship fare of $48 to and from the University. Then he or she has to board and room in the city for eight or nine months of the year, a very considerable expense to the parents or guardians. Should the student go home for the holidays there is an additional steamship ticket to pay. The cost to the student is at least two hundred dollars more than to the student living at home in Vancouver. Therefore, the taxpayers in the remote districts pay more in proportion to the benefits derived. The cost of higher education to them is greater than the cost to the people of Vancouver. For that reason they should, as a matter of equity, have more to say as to the amount to be expended and the manner in which it is used.

In view of the situation, it seems very bad form for those thoughtless youths who are being educated at our expense to raise a furor and try to dictate to the Premier as to how the affairs of the university should be carried on. The high spirited lads and lasses are carrying on with their education because the poor people of Prince Rupert, Prince George, Smithers, Queen Charlotte Islands, Portland Canal and other places are willing to foot the bill each year and the debt to them is never acknowledged.

The Canadians won the title with a 6-1 decision over the United States. ## CURLING IS IN FINALS

Competition for Hanson Cup At Smithers Nears Conclusion

SMITHERS, Feb. 2:—The competition for the Hanson Cup in the Smithers Curling Club went into the finals Monday when the rink skipped by Bob Davidson polished off two rinks in succession and so brought his rink level with Jim Downey's rink, each of them having lost only two games in the tournament.

The finals were to be played off last evening after which several bonspiels will be arranged to continue the sport while curling weather lasts.

It is expected that a rink will go to Prince George this week to represent Smithers in the bonspiels which will take place there.

The Smithers hockey team also plans to leave shortly to invade some of the towns to the south to try their skill against outside talent. They plan to visit Vanderhoof, Prince George, Quesnell and perhaps other points during their tour.

Urged Students Keep Up History

South African Secretary For Schools Says It Has Great Value

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 2: (CP)—The Cape Province Secretary for Education, addressing a girls' school here, urged pupils to continue the study of history after they left school.

"Its value is incalculable," he said. "Not only does it teach us what is noble in our past but a true and unbiased reading of its records is a sure antidote to arrogance. No single study has so salutary an effect on racial relationships."

Whether the girls went on to the university or into business, politics would claim their attention, with ever-increasing insistence. If they were faithful to their school, there would be only one road for them—the exercise of an independent judgment on the conflicting theories and policies which would be dinned into their ears by opposing parties.

MEN WHO FEEL OLD

Get Back New Youth, Energy, Vitality

Too many men to-day feel tired out all the time—can't work, hate to get up mornings, haven't the vitality to do the things they used to do. A weak unhealthy liver caused by modern living, soft foods, lack of exercise, is the chief reason. Your liver is the storehouse for glucose or the "energy part" of the food you eat—it supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If it is not strong and active no wonder you feel old! Take "Fruit-a-tives," it will build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be surprised how young you soon feel. 25c., 50c., all Druggists.

Moose Break Ice And Die

First Time These Animals Known To Have Drowned by Breaking Surface

PORT CLYDE, N.S., Feb. 2: (CP)—A moose and two calves were discovered floating in a 10-foot square hole in the ice by residents of Port Clyde who reported the incident as unusual.

Although numerous deer are encountered by lumbermen during their spring drives down the rivers, moose have never been sighted before, it was said. Marks on the ice indicated the moose had started to cross the river abreast instead of their usual single file order.

Apparently they reached a thin spot together and broke through the ice.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A mere bowel movement doesn't take away the bile as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of cathartics but have no cathartic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else, Doc.

CHARTER TO LOCAL SCOUTS

Very Interesting Display of Activities Given at Toc H Hall Last Night

The eagerly awaited presentation of the charter to the First Prince Rupert Scout Troop took place last night at the Scout Headquarters, Toc H Hall, before an interested gathering of parents and friends. The program, opened with the raising of the flag by Duty Patrol Leader Nordan with the troop in horseshoe formation.

Following the singing of "O Canada," the Scouts withdrew to their appointed seats. Patrol Leader John Good then announced the items of the display arranged by the troop. First came the recitation of the Scout Law by Jack Eby. Then took place a demonstration of semaphore signalling with two teams of two Scouts each. The first team, H. Nordan and J. Davey, sent a message, given by the Troop Committee, to the second team, John Good and H. Hougan. Reply was similarly given.

Next on the program was a demonstration of First Aid. H. Nordan gave a talk on the treatment for arterial bleeding, illustrating his remarks by tying a tourniquet on Jack Eby. David Jones showed the different uses of the triangular bandage with Barrier West as patient. Knotting display was presented with the following Scouts taking part: J. Davey, D. Jones, B. West, M. Holkestad, R. Hougan, H. Nordan. It illustrated the different knots that could be used to haul up a man who had fallen over a cliff.

The last item given by the troop was a demonstration of square and diagonal lashing with the actual setting up of the framework of a tent. Immediately following the display F. A. MacCallum gave an interesting talk on "Scouting in Prince Rupert in Former Days," in which he outlined the history of the various local troops from the earliest days in 1920 to the present time.

P. H. Linzey unveiled the Scout picture "The Pathfinder" and gave a most inspiring talk on its significance. It depicts a Scout looking forward eagerly into the future with the Heavenly Pathfinder standing behind with His hand on the boy's shoulder.

Then came the climax of the evening when Dr. Neal Carter, president of the committee, after a few brief words, presented the charter to Scoutmaster Robert Yerburch who received it on behalf of the troop and made a suitable reply. Dr. Carter introduced one by one the members of the committee to the troop and the members of the troop to the committee. Three cheers for the committee were lustily given by the Scouts who assembled in horseshoe formation for the singing of the National Anthem and the lowering of the flag, thus bringing to a close a memorable evening in the annals of First Prince Rupert Troop.

Refreshments were then served under the supervision of the Patrol Leaders and Seconds.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

February 2, 1913

W. J. Alder is here from Victoria on a visit in connection with his local interests. He notices great progress which has been made here during the few months he has been away and declares that he is as enthusiastic as ever about the city's future. He is particularly impressed with developments along the railway track east of Cow Bay towards the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.

Prince Rupert Harbor is virtually alive with herring. Never have they been so thick before. They can be scooped out of the water in buckets and are so thickly schooled as to move small boats lying at anchor.

The Bella Coola Liberal Association has elected officers as follows: President, B. Brynildsen; vice-president, W. H. Mackay; secretary-treasurer, H. L. Harris; executive—B. P. Jacobsen, A. Hammer, R. N. Levelton, M. B. Christensen, Capt. T. Thorsen and Karl W. Brink.

DON'T BULLY CONSTIPATION

If you suffer from common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, harsh cathartics don't get at the cause of your trouble. You can avoid this kind of constipation by eating Kellogg's All-Bran. This tasty cereal not only contains the intestinal tonic vitamin B, but also provides the bulk you need. It absorbs moisture... softens like a sponge into a water-softened mass that encourages and aids natural elimination.

Use Kellogg's All-Bran in muffins. Or as a breakfast cereal. But eat All-Bran every day and drink plenty of water. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

Geraldton Made Great Strides In 1937; Population Doubled

Population and building values more than doubled during 1937, reflecting the concrete progress made by mining companies in the surrounding area. Nearby communities, Jonesville and Johnstonville, also developed.

More than 50 new homes were built during the year, as were some 20 new commercial buildings. There is a temporary lull in business. This is expected to vanish with spring.
