Quebec Delegates Indicate They Cannot Follow Keynote Suggestions of Meighen

Reaction Or Reform?

Bennett Is Banquet Speaker—Political Lightening Centres On Ottawa This Week

OTTAWA, July 6: (CP)—Many Quebec delegates to the Conservative national convention here indicated last night that they would not support some Imperialistic proposals put forward yesterday by Senator Arthur Meighen in the keynote speech.

The rank and file of the Conservative party had been asked to send to the national convention suggestions for the party platform to be decided at the gathering here.

The question that was disturbing Conservative men and women was whether the historic party which since Confederation has been regarded as a rightist party should veer to the left.

"Ruffs of suggestions are coming in," said J. R. MacNicol, Toronto member of parliament and energetic joint chairman of the committee just before the convention.

The jovial face of Mr. MacNicol lit up as the pile of suggestions grew. "We have adopted a highly democratic procedure to get the views of the rank and file," he said.

Many political observers consider the decisions of the convention in regard to party policy will be quite as important to the Conservative chances of carrying the country as will the selection of a leader.

Direction an Issue

Critics of the Mackenzie King government have claimed it is occupying most of the road on which the Conservative party is accustomed to travel.

It was a foregone conclusion there would be wide differences of opinion among the convention delegates on the question of veering to the left or the right.

Lightning is Believed to Have Caused Tragedy in Crow's Nest, Pass Colliery

It was a slack day and only fourteen instead of the customary 200 men were working in B. seam where the blast occurred.

Hon. W. J. Assestine, minister of mines, has ordered the mine closed pending an investigation of the explosion.

Dr. Large learned the secret in treating Japanese on the Skeena River whom he found had been successful, through using the herb, in allaying the ravages of diabetes.

WHY PARLIAMENT DRAGGED ON

One reason given by newspaper correspondents for the dragging on of the recent session of Parliament was that war might break out in Europe at any time and that if anything should happen in Europe, Parliament would be in session to take such action as might be thought fit. There is no doubt but what the Prime Minister felt for a time that war was bound to come and, according to the story as told by the correspondents, there was a time when it was looked upon as being only a few hours away. Evidently the situation is today less tense but even yet there is danger. The fact that the stock exchange is taking a less pessimistic view of the financial condition indicates that there is less likelihood of war today than for some months past.

BRITISH POLICY

Right Hon. R. B. Bennett is charging the Liberal party with failing to co-operate with Great Britain in the matter of an airplane training school and at the same time is blaming the government for planning to allow a military highway across Canada for the use of the United States. This policy of non-co-operation with the United States is quite contrary to British policy. The policy of all recent British governments has been to do everything possible to bring the United States and the British Empire together. Canadian policy has not always been along those lines and yet Canada is asked to be an interpreter of British policy toward the United States.

The United States would like to have a highway across western Canada and, as a neighborly act, Premier Pattullo is planning to make such a highway possible. The policy which Mr. Pattullo is following is one that was initiated by a Conservative Premier, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, and at that time was acclaimed by the Conservatives of the province as a wise policy. Since that instructions have been issued that the policy of the present Premier is to be opposed. Immediately Conservatives everywhere turn about face and discredit the Alaska highway as being not in the best interests of Canada and the British Empire.

THE DEAR OLD FLAG

All true Canadians revere the British flag. They look to it as the emblem of power, of right, of wisdom, of stability. It is sad to see the old flag being dragged in the dust by using it for political purposes. True it has been useful in the past. It was useful for party purposes in 1911 when co-operation with the United States was refused by the nation and yet the 1911 policy was carried out to a large extent recently when a reciprocity treaty gave Prince Rupert fishermen a cent a pound more for their halibut than they had been receiving prior to the carrying out of the policy. In 1911 Canadian people voted against reciprocity. Two years ago they hailed it as a means of economic salvation. Once more an attempt is being made to raise the flag and wave it politically but the people of the country are becoming wise to these political manoeuvres.

'SPORT'

COURSE IN ALL STARS FINE SHAPE IN ACTION

Improvements Made at Jasper Park—Already Talking of Big Tourney

JASPER PARK LODGE, July 6.—Never before in the history of golf in the Canadian Rockies has a course looked more beautiful or appeared in such grand condition as does the Jasper course at the present time. Because of favorable weather conditions the grass on the fairways and greens came through much earlier than formerly and, owing to the good start, it will be in perfect condition for the annual Totem Pole Tournament to be held here September 4 to 10.

There will be two outstanding features noticeable this year. First, is the second green which has been changed to the new Clarkson Bent which is now in the large majority of greens here and provides as true a putting surface as is possible to get. The excellent character of the hole has not been changed but the new grass is a most important improvement.

The second item to bring joy to the hearts of the golfers is the battery of practice tees that have been installed to the right of the first fairway. This will give the golfers every opportunity at "warming up" in the close vicinity of the first tee and no time will be lost when their own game is called by the starter.

As a test of golf, the course at Jasper Park Lodge is looked upon as decidedly fair and interesting. It measures 6,580 yards from the championship tees and is made up of five "one shotters," ten par four holes and three par five holes. Three of the short holes come in the first nine, the fourth, seventh and ninth. The other two are the twelfth and the internationally famous "bad baby," the fifteenth, an outstanding feature of these short holes is their beautiful character and no two are alike.

Trout Put In

A recent addition to the pond in front of the tenth tee is the installation of a large number of small speckled trout. The little fellows jump around in the sunshine and offer the golfer, who may also be a fisherman, a problem to solve—whether to keep his eye on the ball or watch the fish.

The well fed black bears are of course still an outstanding feature and roam around the golf links quite unconcerned at the peculiar antics of their two-legged friends propelling the golf ball in various directions around the course. Sometimes they go so far as to pick up a ball and chew it up a bit but the

Baseball Classic Between National And American Leagues Is On Today

CINCINNATI, July 6: (CP)—The All Star baseball classic between the National and American Leagues is being played today. The players being travelling, there were no scheduled league games yesterday nor will there be any tomorrow.

Johnny Vandermeer, star pitcher of the Cincinnati Reds, who won a permanent place in baseball's Hall of Fame this year by pitching two no-hit no-run games in succession, starts on the mound for the National League while Lefty Gomez is the starting choice for the American League.

Other stars in the game include Babe Herman and Joe Medwick for the National League and Joe DiMaggio for the American.

With the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians now tied for the leadership of the American League and a tight race also being on in the National loop, the resumption of regular league play on Friday is awaited with interest.

Devil's Island Fugitives Saved

KINGSTON, Jamaica, July 6: (CP)—Ragged and bearded, 11 fugitives from Devil's Island, French Guiana penal colony, were rescued by Jamaica police after their 20-foot open boat was stranded on a reef near Port Royal.

The men had escaped from the colony 15 months before in Indian canoes. They went to Trinidad where they sought work. Unable to get jobs they decided to go to Mexico. The governor of Trinidad gave them a boat and clothes and the Salvation Army provided food. They had been at sea 14 days when their craft ran aground. Fishermen noticed their plight and notified police who went out in a launch to rescue the men. The 11 were given shelter at a Salvation Army hostel here.

diet has not been found very nutritious.

Charlie Duncan, the veteran Scot from St. Andrew's, is back again as professional while the greenskeeping is again in the capable hands of W. H. Brinkworth, a greenskeeper of high standing.

Already reservations have been made for the annual Totem Pole golf week, September 4, and the event promises to be the most successful ever held, which covers a lot of ground.

ENO KEEPS YOU COOL

If this hot weather leaves you limp and exhausted, it's a sure sign of an overheated body. The natural thing to do is to take an effective alkalinizing corrective like Eno's "Fruit Salt", which gently removes sluggish wastes which overheat the body, neutralizes excess acid and cools you through and through.

Eno contains no sugar, nothing harsh or harmful and forms no habit. During the hot weather drink Eno morning, noon and night, or whenever you feel the need for a refreshing alkalinizing drink. Its pleasant "Fruit Salt" tang drives thirst away instantly: right away you feel clean and cool deep down inside.

Eno is the original alkalinizing corrective and for years and years Eno in water has been the favourite refreshment among white residents in the sizzling tropics. It's a natural way to keep cool!

It's interesting to know when reading the Daily News that the people of the whole district are doing the same.

WHICH WAY FOR TORIES

to find the Conservative party more radical than the Liberal government. Ever since Confederation the Liberals have been regarded as the more radical. Before the turn of the century when it was considered a sign of weakness for a fighting party man to call the opposing party by its duly adopted name, Liberals were often dubbed "Rads." Even in Laurier's time his supporters were referred to as "reformers" in the back concessions more often than as Liberals.

While Conservative governments at times have done things which might be considered radical, it is contended the people of Canada regard the party as above suspicion in regard to radicalism and man from the back concessions and even from the urban centres, who have been taught from their cradles that a Conservative party should be conservative, want to keep it that way. Every constituency of the 245 in Canada has delegates, all of whom have pretty decided views on the matter.

Coercion a Necessity
 Conservatives have stood for state direction while the Liberals have emphasized the rights of the individual. When Mr. Bennett, then prime minister, sought to institute some state direction in the Natural Products Marketing Act he was accused by the Liberals of trying to regiment the farmers. Conservatives claimed there had to be some coercion if the growing and marketing of farm products was to reach the maximum of efficiency and called the Liberals a laissez-faire government for not going ahead with the compulsory features of the act.

Just how far the Conservatives will be prepared to go in state direction of the individual will be discussed at the convention and it will be argued that a haphazard production and marketing system cannot ultimately compete in world markets with countries where the state directs the system.

A tough problem for the convention to decide is the plan of dealing with the railway problem. Another sticker will be the monetary policy.

Some of the younger delegates are urging the friction between the Dominion and provinces over provincial rights be ended by the Dominion getting out of the provincial field as far as possible. They oppose any amendment to the British North America Act. They also would leave the provinces full control of the field of social services, public works and education and lend a hand instead to trade and monetary problems.

ISLANDS WEDDING

Miss Myrtle Fairbairn Becomes Bride of Orval White at Queen Charlotte City

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, July 6.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fairbairn was the pretty setting for a quiet but interesting wedding on a recent Saturday afternoon when Myrtle Ida Fairbairn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn, became the bride of Orval Theodore White, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. White of Matsqui. The bride, under a archway of blue and white flowers, looked very charming. She wore a graceful gown of white satin over which was a dainty lace jacket with tight fitting sleeves. Her floor length veil of Brussels net was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds and white carnations. In the absence of her father, who was unavoidably detained from attending the ceremony, the bride was given in marriage by her mother who looked very becoming in a very smart gown of blue flowered georgette. The bride entered the room to the strains of the Wedding March played by her sister, Velma, and, during the signing of the register, Mrs. Gordon H. Jolliffe sang effectively "O Promise Me." The gift of the groom to the bride was a handsome gold bracelet.

Following the ceremony, which was conducted by the resident minister, Rev. W. J. Selder, a wedding supper was served to immediate friends. The table was tastefully decorated with rosebuds. During the proceedings the happy couple received congratulations and best wishes from all present.

Both bride and groom are well known and popular in this district. The groom taught school at Queen Charlotte City for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. White will remain at Queen Charlotte during the summer months.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

PAPER AND AIR STORY

"Non Stop New York" and "Back in Circulation" at Capitol Theatre

"Non-Stop New York," a British picture telling an anticipatory tale of transatlantic air service, and "Back in Circulation," an engrossing newspaper drama, comprise a double bill program being presented this midweek at the Capitol Theatre.

"Non Stop New York," starring Anna Lee and John Loder, deals with romance and adventure aboard a transatlantic passenger plane of the future, flying a one-day service between London and New York. The plane used in the picture is modelled after one of the huge clipper planes such as are to be used in the new Atlantic service. Francis L. Sullivan and Desmond Tester head the supporting cast.

"Back in Circulation," starring Joan Blondell and Pat O'Brien, presents a behind the scenes view of the ethics of newsgathering in the United States and the power of the press over lives and reputations. A spectacular train wreck provides a thrilling introduction to murder mystery elements of a swiftly-paced narrative. Joan Blondell is a smart girl reporter. Pat O'Brien is the hardboiled editor of a metropolitan tabloid newspaper. Margaret Lindsay has an important supporting part.

J. G. Johns, manager of Kelly, Douglas Co., returned to the city on the Catala yesterday afternoon from a brief business trip to Stewart.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise Capt. S. K. Gray, is due in port at 3:30 this afternoon from Alaska and will sail at 5 p.m. for Vancouver.
