CONTRACTS PROBE

The minister of national defense made the right move when he decided to have an official investigation of charges made by Colonel George Drew in regard to the letting! of contracts in his department. The article being pubdished in a journal with nationwide circulation was bound stands, there were only three games to attract attention. The statements will be generally scheduled in the major baseball believed until they are disproved.

PREMIER NOT PERFECT

There seems to be a more or less prevalent idea that. the Premier of a province should be perfect. There are not! any people like that in the world today. The days of perfeet men are past two thousand years. All that is claimed for Premier Pattullo by his supporters is that he is an outstanding man, strong enough to give the province good government. He is blunt, talks to the point, and is always ready to stand or fall on his record. Evidently that is the kind of man the people like. Mr. Pattullo is not much of a ward politician, not what is usually known as a good mixer, but he gets there.

HOPE FOR LIBERALISM

Evidently there is hope for Liberalism in British Columbia. The members are not satisfied and that is as it should be. As soon as they relapse into a condition where they think all is lovely, say good-by to your Liberalism. The Liberal party is or should be the party of advancement. It has been called the party of discontent. It is the party that is or should be always looking forward to something better. It is under no illusions about the immediate coming of the millenium but it would have each year hetter than the last, with conditions of living better and working conditions improved.

We have to admit that there are times when Liberals have not been forward looking. They have been too much inclined to accept things as they are instead of moving forward steadily. So much has this been the case that sometimes the Conservatives have ousted them from the leading position and taken the lead themselves. In order to prevent this happening again it is necessary to keep always on the alert, to refuse to be lulled to sleep or be led away from the main forward course.

Parties are like individuals. Sometimes they are affected by age or by conditions in which they live.
