WILL LAY STONE

The official laying of the foundation stone for the new federal building is to be carried out by the member for the district, Olof Hanson. This is very appropriate because it was Mr. Hanson who was primarily responsible for securing the grant for the building which is now in process of erection.

It will be a splendid thing for the city to have a building of that type right in the centre of its business section. Already it is sufficiently far advanced to give some idea of the lay-out. Its development is being eagerly watched by local residents.

INTERNATIONAL CALM ONCE MORE

After a rather tense period during which anything was expected to happen, even the involving of this continent in a European struggle, the world seems to have settled down to routine once more until such time as one of the dictators makes another grab at some near neighbor. Then the fat will be in the fire once more and we shall find stocks dropping, industry upset and all eyes turned to the source of trouble. Of course, this may not happen and we hope it will not but, if the dictators carry out their threats, we may depend that the map of the world is in for a further revision, real or attempted.

ONE WEAK SPOT

As Russia developed her army, thus taking up the economic slack in that country, the world began to look on the Soviets as a very formidable power to be reckoned with in any international conflagration. However, of late years the internal condition of that country seems to have been going from bad to worse. The army has been increased to a point where it can no longer act as an economic equalizer. The people of the country are hopelessly dissatisfied at the condition in which they find themselves, only they are held so tightly in the hands of the bureau formed from the dictatorship of the proletariat that they do not know how to free themselves. Even the army is not at all a unit.

Without that spirit of patriotism which is necessary to victory in war, Russia is not the powerful influence that she might otherwise have been. Her neighbors know her weakness. She has plenty of trained men but they lack loyalty and patriotic spirit. They no longer believe that the whole world is against them. They listened to lies so much that they believe nothing, not even the truth. Germany, when she moved into Austria, knew that Russia was not a very serious factor in world politics. Mussolini knows that and his possible allies have little to fear from the largest army in the world. Britain knows of the precarious political condition of the Soviets and that Russia is hardly a power from which to expect much. The condition of that country has a tremendous effect on the international situation. Had Russia been the real power that she might have been the whole face of international diplomacy would have been changed.

A war in a just cause might possibly rouse the Russian people to patriotic fervor but it is difficult to inspire a poorly fed people.

FIELD HOCKEY INTERESTS OCTOGENARIAN BISHOP

Although he reached his 80th birthday in January, the Rt. Rev. Arthur F. W. Ingram, Bishop of London, just refuses to feel old. He should take up ice hockey next.

TRAIL WINS FIRST GAME

Smoke Eaters Staged Sensational Finish Over Port Arthur In Overtime

EDMONTON, April 4: — Trail Smoke Eaters, with a sensational finish, scored twice in the second overtime period at the Edmonton Arena Saturday night to defeat Port Arthur Bear Cats in the first game of the best three out of five final series for the Allan Cup, emblematic of the world's amateur hockey championship.

The Bear Cats, up to the last five minutes of regulation time, had a lead of three to one and had good reason to believe that they had the game on ice. Then the British Columbians, with a burst of speed and a display of power put on a rally to tie up the count before the final whistle.

The winning counter was made by Trail in two minutes and forty-three seconds of the second overtime period, the second coming for good measure in 4 minutes and fifteen seconds.

The second game will be played Tuesday night.

Four thousand fans attended Saturday night's game.

NEW LILY IS GROWN

"Coronation" Species With Golden Petals Brought Out by Ottawa Expert

(By Muriel Adams, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, April 4: C.P. — Fit for a king is the golden Coronation lily developed by Miss Isabella Preston, specialist in ornamental horticulture at the Central Experimental Farm.

This lily, whose wide golden petals curl back to bare long golden stamens, blooms in clusters of 15 to 20 at the top of a three-foot slender green stem. Born in 1935 of the second generation produced by crossing two orange varieties, Willottiae and Dauricum seedlings, Coronation is a sister to the five hybrids produced by the first crossing which bears the names of stenographers in the horticultural division.

Miss Preston has won wide acclaim for her work with lilies. Before joining the Experimental Farm at Ottawa in 1920 she made many discoveries during her nine years' service at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ontario. She believes the lilies are her most outstanding scientific discoveries but actually the Prestoniae, a pinky-mauve lilac produced in 1920 by crossing purple varieties of Villosa and Reflexa, is the most useful contribution towards garden ornamentation.

This floriferous lilac is hardy and particularly suited to prairie climates. Its flower is uniform, its branches are widely spread and graceful and it blooms just after the common variety, thus lengthening the lilac season.

Unusual blue shades have been produced in the horticultural experiments with iris, wherein it is hoped to produce a large pure white species. Gatineau, Ottawa and Pikanook, Quebec rivers, were the inspirations for naming these blue varieties.

A hardy type of rose, enabling flower-lovers in every part of the Dominion to include this favorite posy among their garden bouquets, is the next feat Miss Preston hopes to accomplish. Some interesting single-bloom shrubs have been produced which are being tested for hardiness and will be available for distribution soon.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just dumps in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks puny.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a colonel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Habitually refuse anything else, 25c.

Colin Cameron, C.C.F. member of the Legislature for Comox-Alberni, after spending a few days in the city, will leave by this evening's train for Prince George where he will make a stop-over on his way back to his home at Port Alberni, Vancouver Island.

CALGARY, April 4: (CP)—Relief authorities here report a heavy influx of unemployed men passing through Calgary on their way east from British Columbia where they have been spending the winter. ### LOG SCALE IS HIGHER

But Production of Poles, Piles And Ties in Interior Has Fallen Off Badly

Saw log scaling in Prince Rupert district for 1938 continues to maintain a substantial increase over last year. The production so far this year is, indeed, more than four times that of a year ago. The scale for 1938 to date stands now at 5,162,242 board feet in comparison with 1,122,695 board feet in the first three months of 1937.

Scaling for this March amounted to 1,141,423 board feet in comparison with 482,213 board feet in the same month last year.

The scale per species this March was as follows, figures for the same month last year also being shown for comparison:

Species	March 1938	March 1937
Cedar	225,775	31,453
Spruce	790,835	258,665
Jackpine	79,336	60,000
Hemlock	45,477	132,000
Totals	1,141,423	482,213

Pole, pile and tie production in the interior, however, has fallen off almost to the vanishing point. Cedar poles and piles this March amounted to but 7,180 lineal feet as against 227,305 lineal feet in the same month last year. The tie count this March was 1,175 pieces all jackpine, as compared with 6,102 pieces in March 1937.

GARDEN 'NOTEBOOK

We are all expecting great things from the sunken garden back of the Court House. A splendid foundation has been laid for a wonderful garden. The little greenhouse and shed has been moved to the other side of the road and a new and much larger greenhouse is being built on the old site. This will enable the government to raise its own seedlings and will be more of a credit to the place.

Under supervision of Alfred Bayne clay has been dug out of the rock pockets and replaced by good soil. Soil from the Post Office site has been used to level a lawn back of the court house and a great deal of other useful work has been done. People are already beginning to take notice of this work and those who have not visited the place should do so. The development of this garden is worth watching.

Excellent work has also been done this year at the Canadian National Railways' gardens and the prospects are the park will be much improved over last year.

A great many people in the city are either making new gardens or extending the old ones. New flowers are being ordered. Local gardeners are keeping in touch with what is doing in the floral world and buying new seeds, some of which may be useful and others not so good for Prince Rupert.

Those who have no new projects for their garden this year may not yet have started work because there is plenty of time yet to begin planting and sowing but most gardeners like some new project be it ever so small. Many gardens have to be made over or improved, extensions made, lawns cleaned and shrubs or perennials planted.

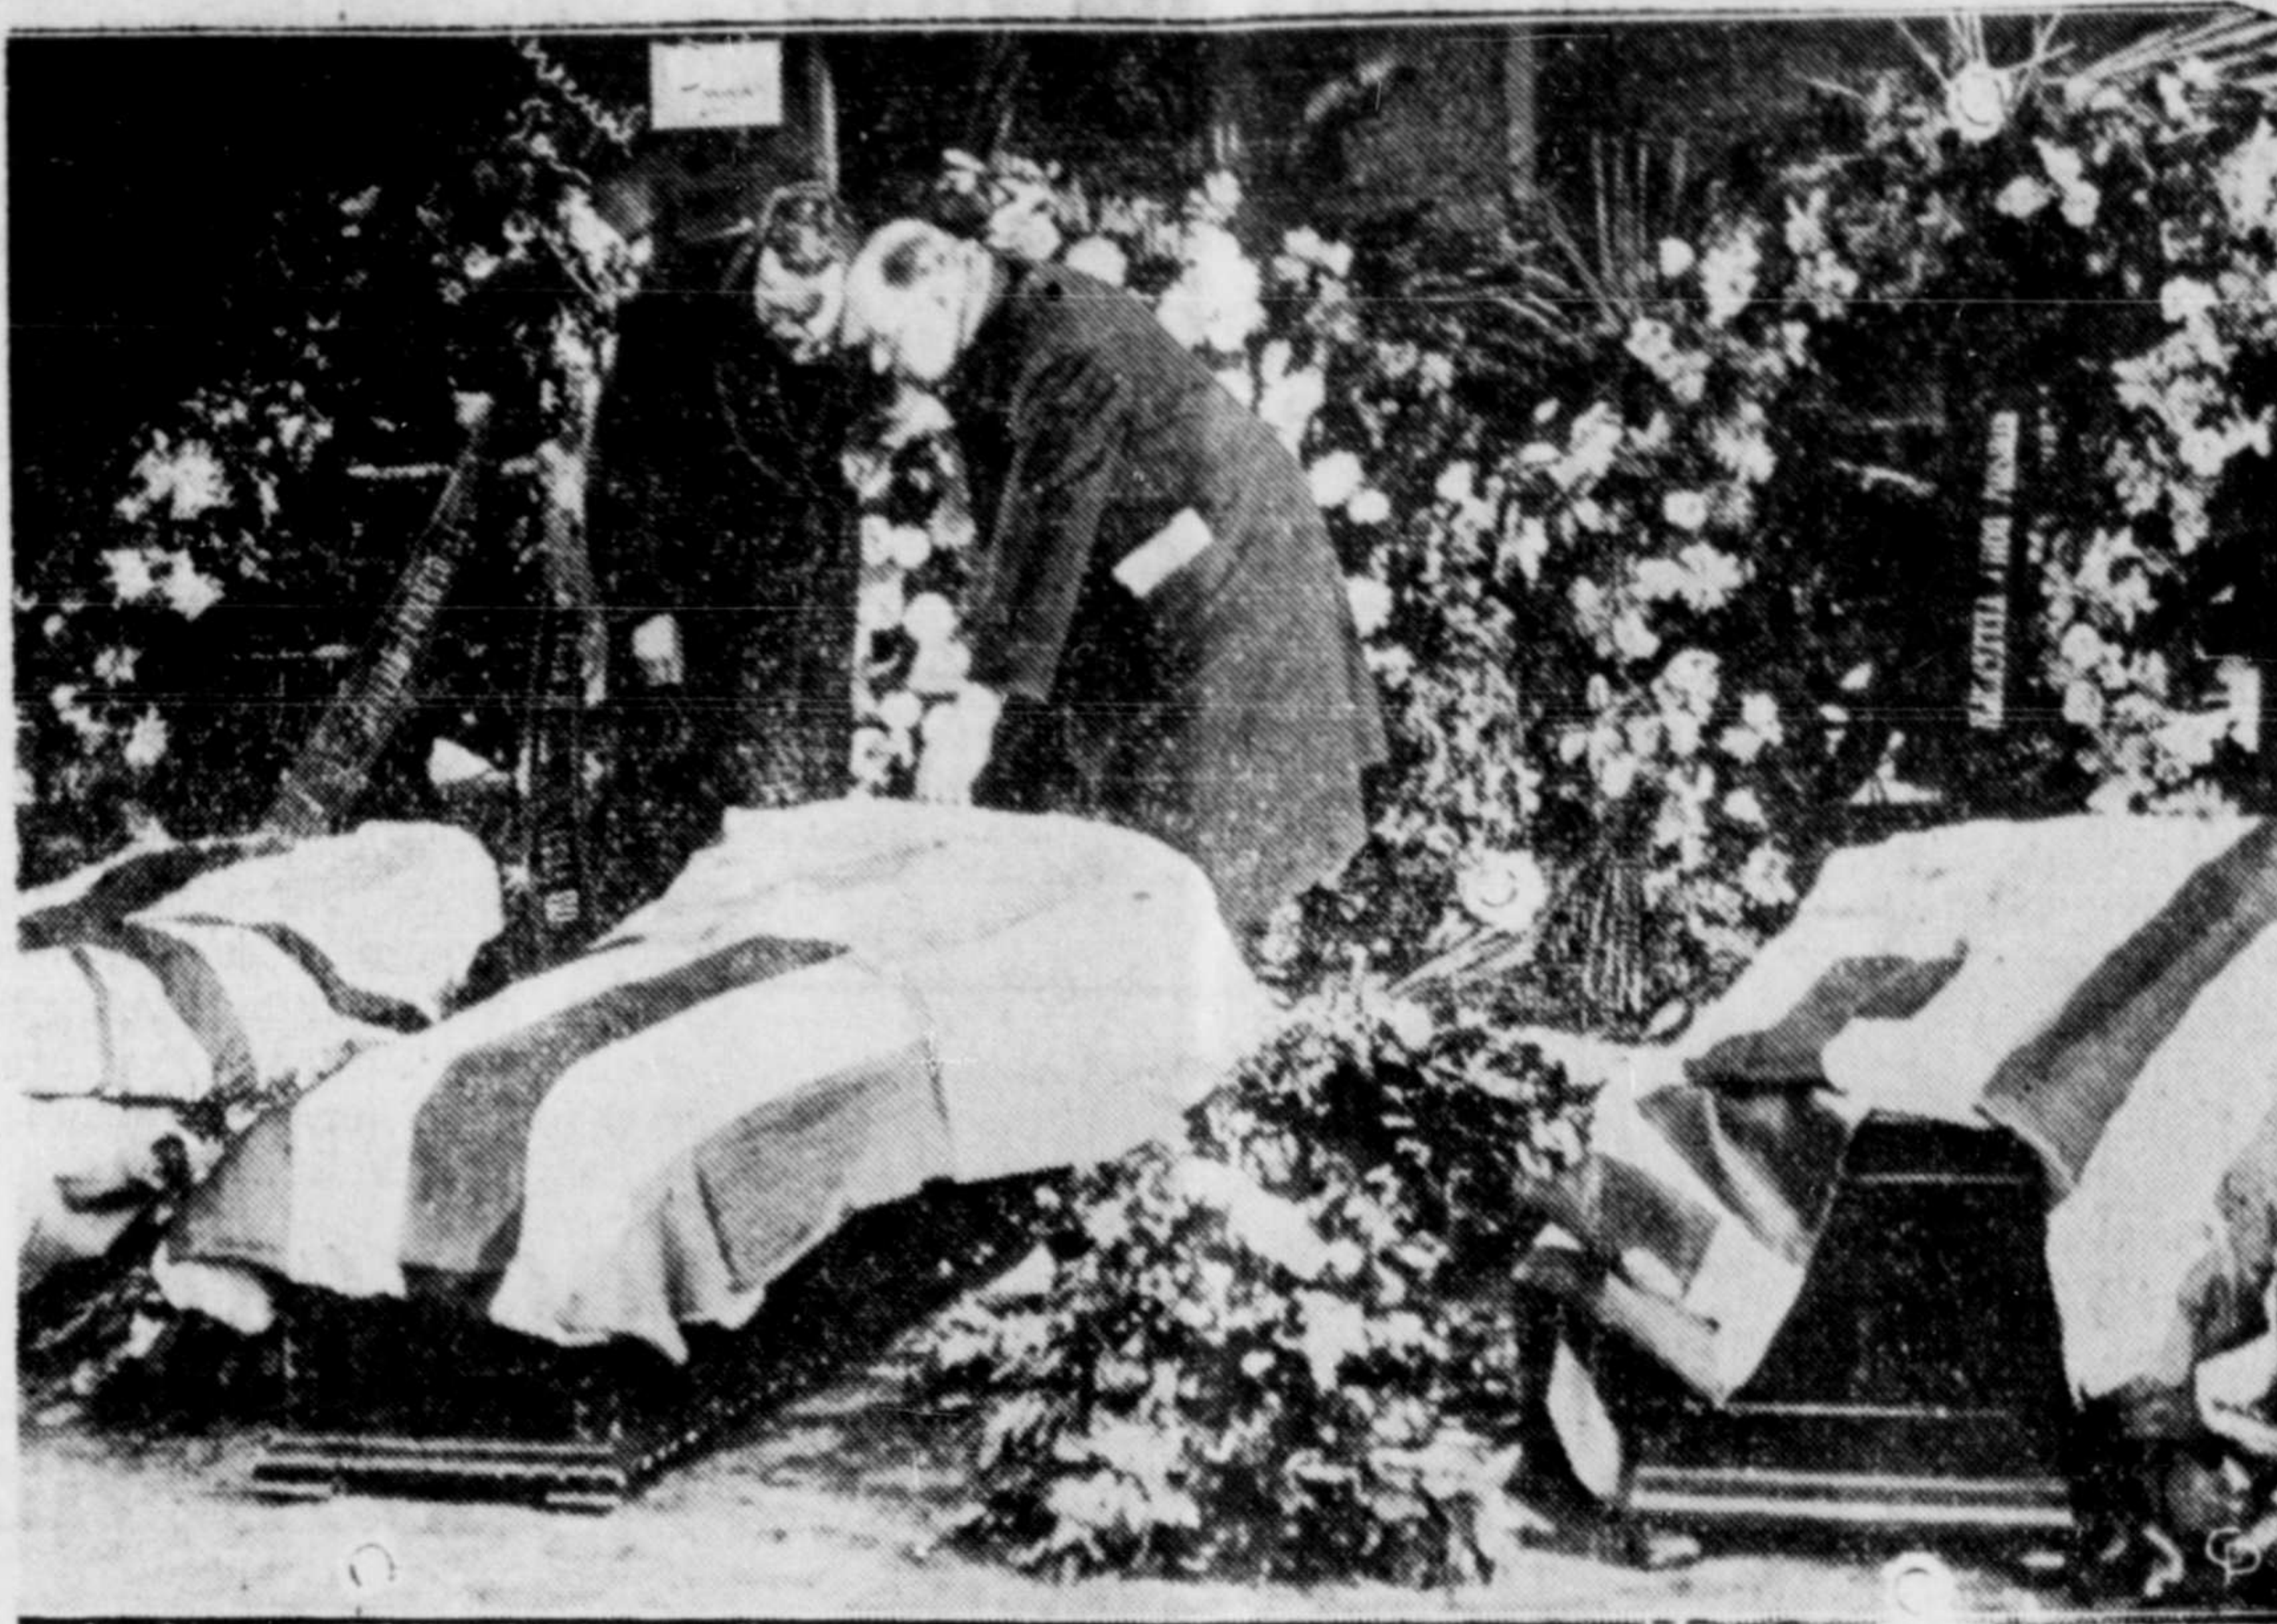

A great many roses have been imported this spring. Florists have had rose trees for sale at low prices and have had no difficulty in placing them so far. One firm has already disposed of a thousand. These recent importations have been all named varieties and they look like good stock.

The frost of last week did a little damage but not much. It was scarcely cold enough to kill anything which had come through the earlier frosts. Now it should be all clear for hardy things. Some people are already planting their glads and looking over their dahlias. I do not plan to plant dahlias until possibly Good Friday. I find I have lost a great many of my tubers from rot, the Baby Royal and a few others having been totally destroyed. It is quite doubtful how many will come through as the rot seems to have got into all the boxes. My few tuberous begonias all died during the winter. They were old and too large to keep well. Possibly I forced them too much last summer. The bulbs are bound to suffer from too much forcing.

I hear there are a number of new greenhouses being built in the city this spring. This should be a great help in getting seedlings forward. Before we know it we shall hear of someone having an orchid house.

I hear a great many complain of having lost a lot of their perennials. Possibly there will be a shortage in the city. If there is we must make up the loss with annuals. The florists are likely to be able to supply some of the needs in perennial plants. Pansies, violas, pinks, Canterbury Bells, Siberian wallflowers, campanulas and alyssum saxatile or golden alyssum will all be much in demand and no garden can have too many aquilegias. There should also be a good market for primroses, primulas, polyanthus and auricula.—H.F.P.

REALISTIC TALE HERE

Big City Life Featured in "Mannequin" at Capitol Theatre

With New York as the background, "Mannequin," screen version of Katharine Brush' novel of the same name, is featured at the Capitol Theatre here at the first of this week with Spencer Tracy and Joan Crawford in the leading roles. It is the realistic tale of a girl born in the tenement who winds up in a multi-millionaire's penthouse. The girl asks for nothing more in life than three comfortable rooms and the man she loves but fate takes a hand when two men battle for her. First she marries a cheap crook who fails her after which she decides to live her own life. A wealthy steamship owner, who has worked himself up from the bottom of the ladder, refuses to let her and she marries him. Then the first husband attempts to blackmail her, second and there is a surprising and dramatic climax when the latter goes broke.

Miss Crawford was never more beautifully gowned than she is in this picture, showing no less than seventy-eight costumes. Tracy plays a typically heroic role as the magnanimous millionaire. Alan Curtis, a newly found leading man, who is becoming very popular, is
