MODERNIZE EDUCATION IN RUPERT

Start Made Here With New Arrangement, Inspector of Schools Tells Junior Chamber of Commerce

Waking Up For Lost Time Now

Human Educationalists Defended Against Tales of Spending Spree—Cost less Than Liquor

A new six-three arrangement of education—six grades of elementary school, three of Junior High School and three of Senior High School—having been satisfactorily instituted in Prince Rupert, the foundation was now well laid for the modernization of the system of education, Dr. M. Morrison, inspector of schools, informed the Junior Chamber of Commerce which he addressed last night on the subject of progress of Canadian education. Dr. Morrison paid tribute to the city commissioner and members of the teaching staff for their cooperation in making the change. He mentioned the fact that the instrumentality of the Teachers' Association, which had been installed in the city for the reception of the new educational broadening, was needed for greatly increased library resources for the High School and, in connection, the inspector suggested that a drive might be made as there surely must be books available in the city. A picture outfit was also in order to keep in step with modern educational methods. The modern system of education, getting a good start," stated Morrison "and it is to be hoped gradually make up for the time that was lost during the war."

Commenting his address, Dr. Morrison commented on three striking characteristics of the Junior Chamber of Commerce which would make such an organization highly interested in the matter. First, it was a youth organization which might be expected to be sympathetic with progressive steps. Secondly, consisting of young business men, it would be interested in efficient handling of money and sane progressiveness as a brake on youthfulness. Thirdly, it was interested in the welfare of the country and, therefore, be desirous of obtaining the best in the way of education.

Cost of Education
 Dr. Morrison then proceeded to discuss the cost of public education and to "set at rest wild tales" that Canadian educationalists were on a spending spree, donating garments lined with education, and frills all purchased at the expense of the taxpayer. Approximately $600,000 was spent annually in Canada on education, Dr. Morrison said, including schools and colleges. From 1930 to 1934 there had been a drop of twenty-five percent in the national education cost and in 1934 there had been little change. Today the cost of education was about the same as in 1934, although there had been seven percent less pupils then. Canada was giving nearly as much more education today as in 1926 for the same amount of money.

British Columbia the cost of education per pupil in 1928 had been $85.60; in 1934, $70.06, and in 1937, $81. The provincial government.

Junior Chamber of Commerce Wants To Know More About Gun Emplacement Work

The subject being brought up by A. S. Nickerson, the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night decided to get in touch with the local federal member with a view to obtaining further information in regard to a report that a Vancouver firm had been given the work of erecting gun emplacements at the entrance of Prince Rupert Harbor. It was felt that here was work which local contractors might be quite capable of carrying out as were those in Vancouver. The motion calling for an investigation into the matter was seconded by Len Cripps. A committee consisting of A. S. Nickerson, Sid and William Elkins was named by the chair to pursue the subject.

Accumulation of Silver Bullion Suggested—Bruhn Urges Abolition of Party

VICTORIA, Nov. 2: (CP)—Accumulation of silver bullion and issuance of silver certificates on the basis of four certificates for every dollar of bullion was suggested in the Legislature yesterday by E. C. Henniger, Liberal member for Grand Forks-Greenwood, as a solution for Canadian economic problems.

Earlier in the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, R. W. Bruhn, Conservative member for Salmon Arm, advocated the abolition of the present form of party government and the setting up of a provincial government of individuals who would work together to give the province sound administration.

Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, C. C. F. member for Vancouver North, advocated a state housing plan which would make for lower rentals.

MINISTER IS HEARD

Lapointe Talks, About Mounties, Penitentiaries and Federal Remission Service

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—In an address Monday night, Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, announced that the strength of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police this year stood at 2598 officers and men under Commissioner S. T. Wood. There was a tremendously long waiting list of splendid material desiring to enlist in the force. No longer did the R.C.M.P. confine itself to keeping of law and order on the frontiers but it was now being developed along the line of scientific criminal investigation in metropolitan areas. The minister of justice paid high tribute to the fearlessness, honesty and efficiency of the force.

Speaking on the work of the Penitentiary Branch of his department, Mr. Lapointe said that seven penitentiaries in Canada had a total accommodation of 4500 cells. Over the period of the last ten years there had been an approximate average penitentiary population of 37000. Mr. Lapointe referred to the ideal of making penitentiaries such that lives might be saved from crime rather than steeped further in it.

The remission service was also discussed by the minister of justice. This consisted of a small group of trained men who handled ten thousand cases a year. Each appeal for clemency must be dealt with on its individual merits.

Neither Mussolini Or Hitler Have Ambition For Spanish Territory

British Parliament Informed By Premier Chamberlain That All Italian Troops Have Been Withdrawn From Civil War

LONDON, November 2: (CP)—The Spanish civil war no longer threatens European peace, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today when moving to bring the Anglo-Italian agreement into operation as soon as possible. Implementation of the agreement which has been dormant since its negotiation last April is merely another step in the government plan for general appeasement, Mr. Chamberlain said. He disclosed that Premier Benito Mussolini withdrew all troops from the Spanish war as soon as the non-intervention committee withdrawal plan went into effect. Chamberlain said that both Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and Mussolini had assured him that they had no territorial ambitions in Spain.

Yesterday Premier Chamberlain pledged his government to seek a working agreement between the democracies and dictatorships with a view to limitation and eventual abolition of armaments. Nothing could be done without the cooperation of the dictatorships, he declared. It was useless to think otherwise.

Some people do not know when they are beaten. Dr. Townsend predicts that a majority in the next United States Congress will favor the Townsend pension plan.

GROWING PEACE MOVEMENT

While we agree with those who urge that the best way to insure peace is to be prepared for war, it is plain to everyone that there is a tremendous world movement toward international peace. Everywhere, peace is desired, even in Germany and Italy, although the desire is not always vocal.

And it is curious to note that the most warlike nation has been the most active in propaganda looking toward peace. Russia has the largest defence force in the world yet the organizations fostered by that country such as the "Peace and Democracy" organization have been most active in persuading the young unattached men that it is not right to fight for a capitalist country. As all countries with the possible exception of Russia are capitalist countries, it is easy to see how this works out.

The veterans of the Great War in all countries are also strong peace advocates for they know what war means. Peace is advocated in most of the universities of the world, including Oxford. Everywhere this desire for peace is becoming more and more in evidence. Even in Japan, a seemingly warlike nation, there is a strong peace faction, although today its voice is drowned by the ruling faction.

Prince Rupert is not as badly off as some places. In Ketchikan, for instance, there is sometimes a week or more between mails in the winter season.

EDUCATION EFFECTIVE

Of course, education is having a great effect in the direction of peace. People in the backward nations are today learning to read and write and radios are carrying the messages to millions, many of whom cannot read a newspaper. It is a tremendous movement. When the men who fought in the last war deride the idea that they took part in a war to end war, they do not always realize the truth of that slogan. It was a war to end war although it was wrongly interpreted as being a war to end war immediately. The movement had to have time to penetrate to all portions of the globe. The British government misinterpreted it and stopped arming, hoping that others would follow.

No matter whether there is another great war or not, the movement for peace is going on and spreading rapidly. All that is necessary to complete it is the circulation of a few million more newspapers, the sale of a few million more radios, the slaying of a few million more women and children by the warlike nations, to bring about that millennium for which the churches have been praying.

There are a million more men working today than there were last summer. Perhaps the Washington estimate is based on the fact that nearly a million tired businessmen were taking holiday during the summer.

ENTITLED TO PILOT

Evidently No Good Excuse For Ship Having Been Delayed Outside of Prince Rupert Recently

Under existing arrangements for pilotage service on this coast, Prince Rupert is entitled to have a pilot permanently stationed here. The Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was advised at its meeting last night by J. C. Gilker who had been appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the cause of a Scandinavian vessel, the Oliver Olsen, having been recently delayed four days outside of this port, awaiting a pilot to take her to Ocean Falls.

The Senior Chamber of Commerce had also taken the matter up, said Mr. Gilker, and had been advised by the Department of Transport that an investigation was being made and a report would be forthcoming in due course. Meanwhile, said Mr. Gilker, it was undoubtedly detrimental to Prince Rupert that a vessel should be held up because of the absence of a pilot who should be stationed at the port.

USING OF ELEVATOR

Junior Chamber of Commerce To Co-operate With Senior With View to Getting Wheat This Way

Brought up by F. A. MacCallum, president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, the local elevator situation was discussed at last night's meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and it was decided to appoint a committee consisting of Fred Wight, Robert Parker and Victor Miller to work with the grain committee of the Senior Chamber in efforts to bring about grain handling activity at the local plant as soon as possible. Mr. MacCallum stated that the Senior Chamber had already sent a strong telegram to the authorities at Ottawa on the subject and if something was not heard today it was planned to send another. It seemed incongruous that grain should be moving at greater cost via Fort William and Churchill while none came to Prince Rupert. Both Olof Hanson, M. P. for Skeena, and J. G. Turgeon, M. P. for Cariboo, were working hard to have grain routed into Prince Rupert. Mr. MacCallum said.

C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Neddin, arrived in port at 9:45 this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 p.m. for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening southbound.

On her regular fortnightly voyage from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Neil McLearn, is due in port tomorrow. The vessel left Skidegate Inlet at 9:30 this morning for Massett.

Making her first voyage of the winter season on the Alaska route, C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. S. K. Gray, is due in port at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning from the south and will sail an hour or so later for Skagway and other northern points.

C.P.R. freighter Nootka, Capt. Robert C. McEachy, which has been on a special voyage to Skagway with freight for the Yukon, was in port early this morning to enter. From here the vessel proceeded to Hecate on the West Coast of Queen Charlotte Islands.

MODERNIZE EDUCATION

ernment had paid of this $31.74 in 1928, $21.85 in 1934 and $26.10 in 1937. Thus it was to be seen that education costs were still a good way below pre-depression figures. All over Canada educational costs had declined.

Dealing with the claim of some that the cost of education per adult in population was too much in comparison with other administrative costs, Dr. Morrison pointed out that in Canada the cost of education per adult capita was $22 whereas in the United States it was $30.50. The educational debt in Canada was $45 per adult whereas the total per capita debt of Canada was $800.

"We spend far more on luxuries including amusements, tobaccos, automobiles, cosmetics and liquor than in educating ourselves and our children," asserted Dr. Morrison. Liquor sales alone in British Columbia in the fiscal year 1936-37 amounted to $12,746,783.35 whereas the educational cost was $9,593,562.64. "Do you think then that we are spending too much on education?"

Educational Services

Turning to the subject of educational services, Dr. Morrison declared that they had most decidedly improved and it was noteworthy that this improvement had been in recent years during a period of curtailment of expenditure. There had been advances in many fields such as pedagogy, curricula, administration and adult education which the speaker then proceeded to discuss.

The bases of modern pedagogy said Dr. Morrison, were to place the child and his individual needs and capacities above subject regimentation, to adapt the individual to his social surroundings thus benefitting himself as well as society, to develop the individual in accordance with the welfare of the social group. There was a change from the old philosophy which worshipped factual information and disregarded attitudes, emotions and mental capacities and which had resulted in an individual competition based on human instincts for power which was to be seen reflected in the low state of international ethics today.

Under the new philosophy of education, teaching methods were revised and new aids instituted. More attention was paid to audio and visual aids. Two important modern inventions—the gramophone and the radio—were put to use. Although Canada, so far, had not kept pace with the rest of the world in the use of these educationalists, progress was nevertheless being made. They were of particular value in raising culture and fighting propaganda. Visual aids to education such as the moving picture were also being increasingly used and were of great advantage.

Changes in Curricula

Dr. Morrison went on to deal with the changes which had been made in curricula in line with the new philosophy of education and also spoke on the matter of changes in administration and school organization. One important move had been towards consolidation in the rural areas with a view to bringing to the rural children increased educational advantages in comparison with those enjoyed in the city. In British Columbia such consolidation was being worked out in the Peace River and in the Abbotsford - Sumas - Matsqui area of the Fraser Valley. Better educational service was being given and there was greater efficiency.

Adult education advances were also touched upon by Dr. Morrison. Here was a problem which had become one of real importance due to the depression, the use of machinery which allowed more leisure time and unemployment. To meet the situation, recreational and physical education centres had been instituted, correspondence courses in diverse practical subjects made available and the Dominion-provincial youth training scheme had been set up.

At the conclusion of his address which had proved of much interest to an appreciative audience of members and guests, Dr. Morrison was heartily thanked by the president of the Junior Chamber, A. W. Newman.

The Poppy Campaign

By J. S. WILSON

On Saturday of this week throughout the British Empire the Poppy Campaign will be at its height. In Canada three million poppies and thousands of poppy wreaths are available for disposal. An uninformed public might well ask why is the campaign still being fought? Who are in charge? Who originated it? Who benefits?

It is an interesting fact that, during the time of the Napoleonic Wars, the battlefields of Waterloo, Dettingen and other places—bare places before the battles—blossomed into vast stretches of scarlet, the scarlet of Flanders poppies.

The late Earl Haig, war-time commander of the British forces, led the way in creating the means whereby the manufacture and sale of poppies once a year would produce funds to take care of the needs of ex-service men and their families who were not provided for in any other way. There are alas, still very many in need.

The Canadian Legion makes this appeal once a year, not for members themselves but for their needy comrades. The poppies are made by permanently disabled ex-service men in Veteran shops. One is in Victoria. The local branch buys the poppies and wreaths there. Then the profits made by the sales locally are used for the assistance of needy ex-service men and their families in the district. The branch meets all expenses from its own funds.

This year the Canadian Legion feels that in view of the recent international crisis with its threat of war, the nation will be more eager than before to show its thankfulness for the deliverance from that dread tragedy by purchasing freely of the poppy—symbol of remembrance and a token of gratitude.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT FOR DINNER

with Fish

*Fish Chowder

5 cups of diced vegetables—onions, carrots, turnip, potatoes, and outside and top parts of celery suggested.
 4 cups of fish stock or boiling water, or enough to cover the vegetables well.
 1 tablespoon of salt.
 1 1/2 pounds of fish.
 3 cups of milk.
 2 or 3 tablespoons of butter.
 Soda biscuits if desired.

Boil the vegetables in the stock or water until almost done. (The stock is made by using the trimmings and skin of the fish.) Add the fish, cut in pieces, to the vegetables and finish cooking. Flake the fish through the vegetables and add the milk and butter. Heat well, but do not boil after the milk has been added. Serve with soda biscuits. Serves 6 to 8.

*Fillets with Spinach and Egg

Arrange a mound of cooked, chopped, seasoned spinach in the centre of a heated serving dish and garnish with slices or sections of hard cooked egg. Around the border of the dish arrange oven fried fillets of fish cooked as follows:

Dip each piece of fish into salted milk (using 1/2 tablespoonful of salt to 1/2 cupful of whole or undiluted evaporated milk). Toss the fish into a pan of sifted dry bread crumbs, coat thoroughly and place in a well oiled baking pan. Sprinkle with cooking oil and cook in a very hot oven (500 to 550 deg. Fahr.) until the fish is tender and the crumbs browned (about 10 minutes). Garnish the fish with sections of lemon and fresh parsley.
