Hostile Hillsmen Subdued In Latest Of Indian Wars After Many Casualties For British

CALCUTTA, February 5: (CP)—After a year of military operations in Waziristan, Northwest Frontier, the government of India has gained a measure of control over hostile Tori Khel and Mahsud tribesmen. The tribes have asked for peace in the no man's land between India proper and the border of Afghanistan. Fanatical and intractable, the Waziristan hillmen have come less under British influence than any other great tribes in the region. Every man is a law unto himself, is a crack shot with a modern rifle and sees in a well-aimed bullet the best means of ending an argument.

Waziristan is the Frontier's storm centre. Between 1852 and 1930 the government of India had to conduct 17 active campaigns against the tribes. There was heavy fighting in 1930-31 and there have been bitter hostilities in the past year.

These arose out of aggression by the Tori Khel section of the Wazir, under the leadership of a 40-year-old religious leader, the Faquir of Ipi. Using to the best advantage the cover afforded by their wild hills, these born fighters were helped by irresponsible young men of the Mahsuds in South Waziristan, notwithstanding the efforts of local headmen to restrain them.

Severe fighting ensued with British and Indian troops. But since the tribes asked for peace, the only fighting is with gangs working on the raid, loot and run principle. Early in June last year a temporary settlement was reached with the Tori Khels and troops then moved into Mahsud territory. By September all the tribesmen were sufficiently chastened to seek terms which they have now accepted.

Tribes Fined
The Mahsuds have been fined $15,000 and must forfeit 1,020 rifles. The Tori Khels will hand over $7,500 and 420 rifles. More recently action has been taken against the Bhattani tribe, between Waziristan and the Northwest Frontier province, which took advantage of the disturbances to raid settled districts, kidnap some of their Hindu shopkeepers and moneylenders, loot and rob. For these activities the Bhattani now are being mulcted of cash and rifles.

As permanent measures to prevent a recurrence of outbreaks, the government of India is to extend its authority in tribal territory, by increasing the number of protected areas. In these it will assume responsibility for law and order but will not enforce land taxation or a regular administration as in the settled districts.

The tribes are paying their fines by deduction from their allowances, and the Commander-in-Chief, Sir Robert Cassels, was able to tell the Upper House of the Central Legislature recently that, while the situation in Waziristan was still abnormal there were grounds for optimism. However, he said, offences on a small scale must be expected for some time.

Over 11 months, said Sir Robert,

General Hornby Is Expected To Visit City Soon

Prince Rupert is to have another visit from Brigadier-General Hornby in connection with the scheme for Empire immigration and settlement in Canada. It was announced at the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce dinner last night. Since his last visit General Hornby has paid several visits to England and has done a great deal of work in connection with his scheme which was endorsed by the chamber when he was here a few years ago. It was decided that the entertainment committee should meet the visitor and see in what way the local organization could help to forward his plans.

Australia Now Has Marriage Clinic

Health Certificate Available For Those Entering Wedlock

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 5:—At a pre-marriage clinic now open in Sydney, health tests will be available to people about to marry.

Subsidized by the State Government, the Racial Hygiene Association has sponsored the clinic, which is at 14 Martin Place.

Couples will be given an exhaustive overhaul by any of 12 specialists for a nominal fee.

Certificates issued by the clinic will vouch:

That both parties are perfectly fit to marry and raise a family; or That marriage should be delayed for three to six months; or That marriage should be permitted without parentage; or That marriage should be discouraged.

The secretary of the association (Mrs. E. Goodisson) said that the need for such a clinic had been shown by the fact that she had received more than 400 letters from young people on marriage problems in the past four months.

She looked forward to the time when the exchange of health certificates between couples about to marry would be made compulsory.

MAKING LOANS AVAILABLE IN PRINCE RUPERT

Chamber of Commerce to Investigate Possibilities of Dominion Housing Scheme Offers

At the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting last night with President F. A. MacCallum in the chair, City Commissioner W. J. Alder urged that an effort be made to take advantage of the offer of loans under the Dominion Housing Scheme. Under that plan the government guaranteed loans up to eighty percent of the value of the house and lot. He understood they also furnished plans and specifications and the interest charges were very moderate. It would be a great advantage to individual citizens to be able to build a house to suit themselves, making monthly payments like rent. He thought the Chamber should do all it could to encourage home building. It had a stabilizing effect. A man with $600 in cash could build a $2700 home. It has been done in a great many smaller places than Prince Rupert and he did not see why it should not be done here.

It was pointed out by W. M. Blackstock that some of the houses had been financed by the Canada Permanent Mortgage Company. This company had agents at the places mentioned. In Prince Rupert the late George Arnold had taken up this matter with several companies but without success.

Mr. Alder said that conditions had changed a good deal, even in the last year, and he felt that an effort should be made to do something. The matter was referred to the civic committee with power to act.

RADIO WAS DISCUSSED

Local Reception Could Be Improved By Periodical Visits From Competent Trouble Finder

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, at its dinner meeting last night, decided to back up the radio committee of the organization in the representations toward getting better reception in the city. D. C. McRae, chairman of that committee, stated they had asked that regular quarterly visits be made to the city by a competent radio trouble finder with a view to clearing up and keeping clear the local reception from various disturbances.

A suggestion that even more drastic steps be taken to bring the situation to the attention of the authorities was not adopted. The discussion arose through the reading of a letter from the chairman of the Radio Commission in which they asked for suggestions as to how the service might be improved. The committee had already discussed the situation with Olof Hanson M.P. and a course of action had been decided upon.

A suggestion of bonussing the local radio station was made.

Tourist Hotel Is Discussed

Will Be One of Objectives of Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night discussed the possibility of securing a new hotel for Prince Rupert. The discussion arose through a report that President S. J. Hungerford of the Canadian National Railway had turned down a proposal that the railway should take over the Prince Rupert Hotel and renovate it in such a manner as to make it a tourist hotel.

It was suggested that the matter of securing a tourist hotel should be one of the projects to which the Chamber should give attention during the year.

Seagulls' Loyalty To Stricken Birds

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 5:—Seagulls, apparently, have a strict sense of loyalty to their bird companions.

At Albert Park, one day recently, hundreds hovered above a distracted minah, whose nest had been invaded by a black cat. On the roof of a building facing the sea, Mr. and Mrs. Minah had reared their brood. The black cat devoured their offspring while the tortured birds flew at it again and again, only to be beaten back by vicious sweeps of its paw.

The seagulls, unable to offer anything but moral support, swooped and screamed above the scene, until the end.

British Cabinet Goes In Emergency Session Over German Situation

Herman Goering Becomes Chief Lieutenant to Der Fuehrer With Joachim von Ribbentrop Made New Foreign Minister

LONDON, February 5: (CP)—Key cabinet ministers were summoned to the Foreign Office today to consider the situation caused by Germany's drastic government shake-up which has put Chancellor Adolf Hitler in Supreme command of all the Reich's armed forces. The ministers were closeted with Capt. Anthony Eden, Foreign Secretary, and diplomatic representatives of the United States, Germany and Belgium were summoned to the Foreign Office while they were meeting.

Hitler's reshuffling of his cabinet and the diplomatic service results in further nazification of the military. It is thought possible that Hitler, at the session of the Reichstag called for February 20, may announce that Germany regards herself as protector of German minorities everywhere.

Gen. Herman Goering, No. 2 Nazi, was made field marshal and is slated to be war minister succeeding General Werner von Blomberg, resigned, when Hitler completes control of the army.

Goering's first announcement after assuming the new rank constituted a demand for the return of Germany's war-lost colonies. Joachim von Ribbentrop, former minister to London, becomes the new foreign minister. Von Ribbentrop is a died-in-the-wool Nazi.

General von Fritsch is deposed as chief of staff by Walter von Brauchitsch.

HUGE PIRATE HOARD FOUND

Treasure of Lima Valued at $52,000,000 Is Believed Found

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 5:—In a small cave at the bottom of a 59-foot shaft sunk through a cliff at Queenscliff, on the coast near Melbourne, four men believe that they have found the hiding place of the treasure of Lima. The treasure is reputed to consist of two life size images of solid gold and jewels, valued at $52,000,000.

For weeks a diver has been working, by sense of touch, in the water-filled cave. The shaft has now been closed until powerful submarine lights can be obtained.

The cave was discovered by a "diviner" member of the syndicate. It is an historical fact that gold and jewels were plundered from the churches and treasury of Lima, Peru, in the 18th century, by the Spanish pirate, Benito Bonito. There is evidence which suggests that he brought part of it to the South Seas and buried it near Queenscliff. The story is, however, that, surprised by a British man-of-war, he tried to blow up the cave after hiding his loot.

The diviner who indicated the existence of the cave also traced the crude outline of the feet and legs of an image or figure on the sand of the cliff top. The outline was made by marking the spots where the pull on the diving rod began and ended.

PURPOSE OF EDUCATION

The education of every human being commences during pre-natal days and continues throughout life. It carries on steadily prior to the child entering school but is changed slightly when school education begins. There is no let-up when school is dismissed in the afternoon and it continues during the summer holidays.

May we suggest that the primary purpose of school education is to fit the student for continuing his education when his school days are over. While there he is taught how to use the tools with which an education is acquired. These tools are reading, writing and arithmetic. While learning the use of those tools a smattering of real education is acquired and the brain is developed and made receptive to more advanced studies. Of very great value is the work of the schools in training the child in self-control and initiative.

Teachers are among the most conservative people in the world. The methods they learned when young they usually want to continue throughout life. It is very difficult to get them to change. As a result the teaching system often is years out of date. An attempt is now being made to revise and modernize it but, in many cases, the changes are resisted and the efforts of the framers of the new schedules nullified by the obstinacy of teachers who refuse to change.

Of course, it requires effort to change but that very effort is beneficial both to teacher and pupil. Those who continue in the old way decade after decade tend to become sloppy in their work and careless and uninteresting. Nothing is so deadening to a class as a dull teacher.

FORTY RECEPTIVE MINDS

Many a teacher comes in the morning to find forty receptive little minds looking for inspiration and help. Usually they get that for which they are looking but, occasionally, through fatigue, as a result of social or other engagements or through ill health, the teacher fails to rise to the occasion, to the great disappointment of the little people who look for something new and bright and helpful each day.

These little people usually worship the teacher, hang on her words and, when she speaks, it is as the oracle from heaven. "It must be true because the teacher said so." Is it any wonder that people sometime speak of teaching as one of the noblest of the professions with opportunities far exceeding those of any other in the making of worthy citizens? Stalin looks to his teachers to make worthy, ungodly, class conscious Russians. Mussolini looks to the teachers of Italy to make the boys warlike, authoritarian, adepts in the fascist salute. Hitler expects his teachers to train the children in the virtues of Nordic blood and to be Jew haters, goose-steppers, abhorrent of everything pertaining to communism and its works with a profound faith in everything German.

In Canada we want our children to be Canadians and British but we do not look for blind adherence to any faith, political or religious. They should grow up with a desire to serve but with open minds, ready to adopt that which they consider the best and able to get the best out of life. In bringing this about we look to the teachers to play their part.

Next week is "Education Week" and parents and others are being invited to attend a public meeting on Monday and to visit the schools and see the work that is being done there. It is a great work being done conscientiously but there is always room for improvement. By close co-operation of parents and teachers, the best results can usually be attained.

Woman Challenges Big-Game Anglers

Mrs. Nathan of Australia Catches 34-Pound Fish

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Vernour Nathan, of Bowral, has entered for the 150th Anniversary Big-Game Angling Contest in the three divisions—the heaviest game fish, the heaviest shark, and the heaviest striped marlin. When told that the committee had allowed no handicap for women, Mrs. Nathan said she would not have entered if they had. She wanted to meet men on equal terms. Mrs. Nathan holds the women's record for a black marlin—434 pounds—and her son, aged 20, the Australian record for a striped marlin.

Australia Places First And Canada Second In First Day Of British Empire Game Meet

SYDNEY, Australia, February 5: (CP)—Canada placed second in the unofficial track and field point total in the first day of the British Empire Games after one of the Dominion's star athletes, Johnny Loaring of London, Ontario, had smashed the old record for the Games of 52.9 in the 440 yard hurdles by 1.5 seconds. Loaring's sensational performance gave Canada ten points in unofficial scoring on a ten, five, four, three, two, one basis. Another ten points was added to Canada's score by James Courtright of Kingston, Ontario, who won the javelin throw with a distance of 206 3/4 inches.

Australia led with sixty-three points, thirty more than Canada. South Africa had nineteen points. England and New Zealand trailed and nine other Empire teams failed to score.

Other Canadian performances included: Jeanette Dolson, Toronto, third in the final of the women's 100-yard dash; Bob Rankine, Preston, Ontario, third in the three mile run.

Canada won the women's 440-yard relay swim. Dorothy Langdon, Vancouver, third in the 220-yard breast stroke. Canada placed second in the men's 330-yard medley relay swim.

READY FOR PUCK GAME

Ice Classic to be Staged at Morse Creek Tomorrow Afternoon

Everything is now in readiness as far as preliminary organization is concerned for the charity hockey game at Morse Creek tomorrow afternoon between Single and Married Men's teams. Only the favor of the Weather Man is now required. There will be a working bee in the morning to get the ice sheet ready for the puck classic.

No less than twenty players have been lined up by the Benedicts who thus will be able to have at least three full strings. The Single men may not have quite so many on their list but contend that, after all, it's quality that counts. Anyway there's going to be plenty of fun and nothing less than six inches of water on the ice will prevent the contest from going ahead.

The players are listed as follows: Single Men — Minor Simonsen, Henri Letourneau, Bill Bremner, Johnny Comadina, Frank Comadina, Sam Currie, Joe Scott, Jack Roaf, Kiddo Fulton, Jack Yager, Sam Saloun, Jack, Dick Winslow and Doug Stevenson.

Official schedules of the National and American baseball leagues for the 1938 season are announced. The first games in the American League will be on April 18 with Philadelphia at Washington and New York at Boston. The rest of the clubs in the American League will swing into action on the following day when the National League commences.

Amateur Athletic Union of Canada officials exploded a bombshell in football circles two years ago today when they suspended eight members of Ottawa Rough Riders Club executive, Interprovincial Union entry. The wholesale suspension was the upshot of the "great impersonation" of Roy Berry by John Hilliard the previous fall. Hilliard, an American player, performed under an assumed name. The executive later was reinstated.

With the supplies of all dealers exhausted, there is a serious shortage of coal in the city. The Princess Ena has arrived with ninety tons which cannot be unloaded until a bridge steel cargo has been discharged. The steamer British Columbia is due tomorrow with another coal cargo.

As a result of insufficient funds grading work on Second Avenue beyond the junction of First, Second and Third Avenues must be closed down for the meantime. Mayor T. D. Pattullo announces.

A. Gottstein of the Acme clothing store, returned this morning from an extended business trip south, announces that his company will proceed in the near future with the building of a store on Second Avenue next to the Empress Theatre.

Bank Manager Says Good-by

Chamber of Commerce at Dinner Last Night Takes Part in Expressing Regret at Blackstock Leaving

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night turned its monthly dinner into a farewell event for the retiring manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce who is leaving the city soon to take a position as first assistant inspector with headquarters at Vancouver. President F. A. MacCallum spoke of the loss the city would sustain in the promotion of W. M. Blackstock who had lived in the city for seven years and had taken such an active part in its public and private life. Mrs. Blackstock and Sheila would also be missed in their respective spheres. He expressed the regret of all at the change and wished them success in their new home. Mr. Blackstock thanked Mr. MacCallum for the kind sentiments he had expressed. He was quite sincere in saying he was sorry to leave Prince Rupert. He had been in a great many towns, but here he might say he and his family had enjoyed every minute of their stay. In Vancouver he would be just a little frog in a big puddle. There were a lot of things in Prince Rupert they had enjoyed. If he ever had the opportunity to do anything for Prince Rupert he certainly would do it.

Man in the Moon

The young ladies who show you to your seat at the theatre are "ushers not—hushers."

There are said to be still a few places on earth where the hand of man has never set foot.

A bachelor is a man who has no one to share with him his imagined troubles.

A spinster is a woman who envies her married sisters all her marital ties.

A happy married couple is said to be a couple who have been married only a short time.

Next week is Education Week, so let us think about educational problems. You may have heard of the little boy who was asked by his teacher how many collars he wore in a week. He looked surprised and asked teacher if she had not made a mistake. "You must mean how many weeks do I wear a collar?"

At the annual prize day of a certain school, the head boy rose to give his recitation.

"Friends, Romans, countrymen," he vociferated, "lend me your ears!"

"There," commented the mother of a defeated pupil, sneeringly, "that's Mrs. Biggs' boy! He wouldn't be his mother's son if he didn't want to borrow something."

MID-WINTER SNACKS

After several hours of out-door winter sport, the first thing most persons think of and want when they return home is food. This is quite natural because the crisp, fresh air is bound to create an appetite and the exercise uses up considerable heat and energy which must be replaced.

Something nourishing, something hot something quickly prepared are the three requisites of food on such an occasion. Cheese dishes, hot soups and toasted sandwiches all make satisfying mid-winter "snacks" and when accompanied by hot milk drink leave nothing to be desired.

Welsh Rarebit

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup rich milk or thin cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon mustard
Few grains cayenne
1 egg

Make a sauce of butter, flour and milk. Add grated cheese and seasoning. Pour some of hot sauce over beaten egg. Return to double boiler and cook a minute or two. Serve on toast or crackers.

W. O. Fulton sailed last night on the Venture for a brief business trip to Vancouver.

Revival of Annual Hospital Ball Turns Out To Be Delightful Affair

A very delightful affair was the revival last night in the Moose Hall of the annual Hospital Ball by the newly re-organized Women's Auxiliary. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion in a general color scheme of pink and white as well as pale green. Throughout the hall the lights were shaded in these colors while pink and white roses were used to decorate the refreshment balcony. There were also balloons. About 120 persons were in attendance and a delightful time was spent dancing to the strains of excellent music by Mrs. De-

Carlo's Orchestra. The Grand March was led by Mrs. J. R. Morison, president of the Women's Auxiliary and G. P. Tinker, president of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

One of the features of the evening was a delightful exhibition dance by Miss Nono Hodgson and Harry Gordon-Cooper. There was also an interesting display of fencing by Mr. Gordon-Cooper and Joe Landry.

Refreshments were of outstanding excellence. J. A. Teng acted as master of ceremonies and J. R. Morison presided at the door. Mrs. J. R. Morison was general convenor with Mrs. F. S. Walton in charge of refreshments and Mrs. P. M. Rayner decorations and tickets.

the extra cost of operations, that is, presumably, cost over the normal Waziristan establishment expenses, had been approximately $6,000,000 and casualties on the government side had been 237 killed, 663 wounded.

Casualties Numerous

At the end of September the number of troops engaged, including the normal garrison of 15,000, was 32,000 and 5,000 irregulars. Tribal casualties are not easy to ascertain, but from June 10 to September 27, 122 had been killed and 116 seriously wounded (as distinct from "wounded" or "slightly wounded"). This compares over the same period with 58 British and Indian soldiers killed and 161 wounded.

Between June and September tribesmen made 14 raids for loot on the settled districts or on roads, two Hindus being killed, two wounded and 17 kidnapped. The raiders hoped for substantial ransoms, but things were made so hot for them that the victims were freed, save for two who died in captivity.

The theory has been advanced in the press that sooner or later the no man's land must go and the province be advanced up to the Afghan frontier. The process would be slow, involving the creation of more roads, schools and hospitals and the promotion of more industries among tribes who have hitherto looked to raiding as the means of relieving their poverty.

With all this would have to go the disarmament of the tribes who in 1930 were estimated to have 220,000 modern rifles and to number at least 550,000 first-class fighting men. There are, on the other hand plenty of reasons from the government's points of view why it should not push the administered frontier up to the Afghan border.

Looking to Opening of 1938 Halibut Fishing Season—Halibutters in Other Activities—Herring Run Like Old Days

Although the opening of the season on April 1 is still almost two months distant, activity in preparation for the 1938 halibut fishing is commencing to make itself felt at Prince Rupert. Overhauling of boats and engines is beginning to get under way although it will be two or three weeks yet before work starts in any intensive manner.

While it is suggested in some quarters that prices this year will not be any better than last and possibly not quite as good, general cheerfulness prevails in anticipation of at least a moderately good season. Final regulations, so far as the International Fisheries Commission is concerned, have yet to be announced. General but unconfirmed report has it that there will be a two million pound increase in the Pacific Coast halibut quota this year, one million pounds for each of the two principal fishing areas. Voluntary curtailment measures of the vessel owners and fishermen in the interests of fish conservation and price stabilization have yet to be settled upon. February 23 has been set as the date for a conference to be held in Prince Rupert of representatives of boat owners and fishermen from halibut fishing ports such as Seattle, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Ketchikan, Petersburg and Juneau on the question of curtailment measures.

Capt. Chris Henriksen arrived at Prince Rupert on Sunday from Vancouver with his halibut fishing boat Gibson and left yesterday for the West Coast of Queen Charlotte Islands to engage in black cod fishing for Edmunds & Walker of New Westminster. The Capella, Capt. Dan Larsen, is also engaged in black cod fishing, delivering catches to Vancouver.

Fishing for dogfish for their liver content is still engaging the Prince Rupert halibut boats. Teeny Milly, Capt. George Cook; Finella, Capt. Dave Ritchie; Arctic, Capt. Axel Pederson; Joe Baker, Capt. Clarence Campbell; Annabelle, Capt. Peter Winham; Sea Maid, Capt. Henry Dolron. The fish are being caught down the coast from Prince Rupert and trins average about three weeks' duration.

The Prince Rupert halibut boat Pair of Jacks, recently purchased by Capt. Alf Jacobsen, former owner of the Clipper II, has been taken to Vancouver for overhaul and reconditioning.

Herring plentiful. The herring run in Prince Rupert Harbor this winter seems to be of larger proportions than for many years past, comparing almost with a quarter of a century ago when they used to be able to draw the fish out of the harbor with buckets. Seiners have been having no difficulty whatever in keeping the reduction plants at Tucks Inlet and Port Edward supplied with fish. Undoubtedly due to the presence of the herring there are large numbers of sea lions which are rather unusual in the harbor but which may now be seen almost any time now disporting themselves in the water right off the city wharves. Gulls are also making a harvest and large numbers of wild ducks are also following the fish.

Sol Kadonaga arrived in port Wednesday night from the Kelly Logging Co.'s logging camp at Murchison Island, Queen Charlotte, with his work boat Keloco. He also had in tow the Leila M., another of the company's work boats. Both vessels are to undergo overhaul at the McLean yard at Seal Cove and will be here for the next three weeks or so.

Capt. Paul Armour, manager of the Armour Salvage Co., sailed last night on the Venture for a business trip to Vancouver. He expects to be away about ten days.

The alertness of Denny Allen, night watchman at the dry dock, possibly saved the well known local halibut boat Helen II, owned by Capt. Peter Byrne, from destruction by fire early this morning. In the course of his rounds at 6:15 a.m. Mr. Allen noticed fire in the focsle of the Helen II and immediately turned in the alarm. There was no one on the boat at the time and the fire is believed to have been smouldering since yesterday afternoon. A hole was burned through the focsle head and the interior was scorched. There was no insurance.
