WHATEVER IS, IS RIGHT

The president of the American Bar Association says that the world today is divided into two classes. On the one side are those who believe that whatever is, is right and the other group seems to believe that whatever is, is wrong. Both of these groups are wrong. We have much to learn from the past. For centuries people have been laying the foundations of society, gradually evolving a better condition in which there is greater equality of opportunity and improved ideas as to what constitutes justice and righteousness. The danger of this first group is that it clings too much to the past and fears anything new. The second group would cut away from the past altogether and strike out on the sea of time without calling on past history for guidance. One group tends to revert to the autocracy and intolerance of two thousand years ago while the other group is dangerous in that it lacks ballast and is easily turned by the least breeze of new doctrine.

The conservative, spelt with a small "C", sees the evils of democracy and would use force to bring about a better condition through a dictatorship or padlock law. The people with liberal (small "L") tendencies would use similar force to try to make people more liberal. In these days we all tend to go to extremes.

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION

Recently an American newspaper with a large circulation published an article expressing appreciation of swing music. Immediately strong objection came from those who seemed to believe that all music except classical was of the devil. One person wrote to protest strongly against swing music, jazz and blues. We all have our likes and dislikes. Some people profess to admire the pictures of the old masters while others prefer the glaring colors of the poster or the eccentricities of the futurist. Some like to live on rich food while others prefer the plain living of our forefathers. In a newspaper some prefer sensation and others protest strongly against sensationalism. We are all different and yet we all have certain principles upon which we can agree. That is where toleration comes in.

STRUGGLE FOR TERRITORY

The border warfare between Soviet Russia and Manchukuo seems to be a part of a struggle for territory. In the past when there have been clashes Japan has had the best of it because Russia did not want war. Now that Russia is better prepared and Japan is badly mixed up with China, Russia is much bolder and is fighting for every inch of territory. In this change of attitude is seen the danger of war. Japan is afraid to lose face so must fight or make an honorable settlement. Russia refuses a settlement on Japan's terms. The situation is rather interesting. At any ordinary time very little notice would have been taken of a border dispute but just now a move was rather expected and it assumes importance.

Marksmen From All Provinces At Dominion Rifle Association Contests Next Week

CAPTAIN PICKRELL LEAVES

WINNIPEG, August 6.—(CP)—Captain R. G. Pickrell, Canadian champion revolver and pistol shot and a member of the investigation department staff of the Canadian National Railways here, left last night on the continental limited for Ottawa where he will take part in the annual shoot of the Dominion Rifle Association at Connaught Ranges next week. Captain Pickrell was recently appointed captain of the Canadian pistol team which will compete in the international championship against teams from Great Britain, United States and Cuba. Captain Pickrell, former holder of the world's title, will commence the selection of the Canadian team in a series of tests to be shot between August 8 and August 11. He will then select the Canadian team of ten men for the match on August 12.

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES

South March, Ont., August 6: (CP)—Rows of marquees and bell tents mushroomed up behind firing mounds here today—billets for more than 450 Canadian marksmen who will compete at the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association next week. Shooting opens Monday and closes Saturday with the final stage of the featured Governor-General's match. The riflemen, veterans and youngsters from coast to coast, will strive for places on the 1939 Bisley team, and top honors in major matches. Strong representations are coming in from west and east. British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba will contribute about fifteen marksmen each. A like number was chosen in the Maritimes and Quebec while Ontario will be represented by more than 200. In addition about fifty cadets from various Canadian schools will shoot for prizes over the miniature ranges.

Sergt. T. A. Jensen of Innisfail, Alberta's all-round shot and former Governor-General's prize winner, heads the western contingent. Eastern snipers include Lieut. J. Neal Dow, Saint John cadet coach and veteran Bisley shot, and Lieut. C. F. Kennedy of Hilden, N. S.

Sergt. William Ewing, youthful Montreal sharpshooter and winner of the Wimbledon Service Cup at Bisley this year, leads the Quebec snipers which include Sergt. Alec Parnell of Verdun, Quebec, and Capt. J. W. Holden of Sherbrooke.

At the top of the Ontario division are Aircraftman Tommy Gregory of Ottawa, C. S. M. George Emslie of Toronto and Lieut. G. E. Matthei of Hamilton. Gregory finished in a three-way tie for second place in the King's Prize at Bisley last month.

Besides the Wimbledon Service Cup, the trophy room in the Administration Building also held the Kolapore Cup, international trophy won by Canada for the sixteenth time at Bisley.

Intra-Empire flavor will be given the meet by the presence of a team of cadets, chosen from the public schools of England. They will meet Canadian cadets in a duel for possession of the Michael Faraday trophy, now held by Canada.

Sergt. N. J. McLeod of Toronto will seek to retain the Governor-General's gold medal when all marksmen go to the firing mounds Thursday for the shooting of the first stage of the classic. The highest 150 will enter the final stage Saturday.

COMING TO PR. RUPERT

Ocean Falls Footballers Will Probably Be Here at End of Month

Passing through Ocean Falls on Tuesday of this week, Jack Preece, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, was in conference with football executives of the paper town in regard to the proposed Northern British Columbia football championship series to be held here in the near future. Mr. Preece met with M. J. Maughan, Bert Ollett and C. L. Wright.

Owing to the fact that the Ocean Falls plant, which is operating on a curtailed schedule, will be running on the week of Prince Rupert's Port Day on August 25, the Ocean Falls team will not be able to come here at that time but will probably be able to make the trip the following week. August 31 is suggested as a suitable date for the Ocean Falls players to come to Prince Rupert. Within the coming week it is expected that a definite decision as to the date may be reached.

The Ocean Falls team is keen to meet Prince Rupert and a trial game was played this week on the Ocean Falls grounds.

Horses Receive Weird Potions

Many Odd Remedies Resorted To To Stay Epidemic

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6: (CP)—The encephalomyelitis epidemic which has afflicted numerous horses in the west has caused farmers to resort to many odd remedies, reports Dr. Alfred Savage, Manitoba animal pathologist.

One of the commonest is to fill the animals' ears with oil in the belief the brain disease is caused by maggots getting into the ears. Some farmers bury chestnuts under the skin on the chest between the forelegs.

The theory that more iron in the horse's system will help combat the affliction gave the idea of tossing hot horseshoes into drinking water. "Last year about two out of three cases recovered, almost irrespective of how they were treated. This affords a wonderful opportunity for quack remedies," said Dr. Savage.

"Any of them may be followed by apparently good results, but the same results would perhaps have followed anyhow." The pathological specialist said preventive vaccine distributed by the government before the disease started this year has been almost 100 percent effective when properly used.

SAFETY AT SCHOOL

Editor, Daily News: May I, through the columns of your valued paper, address the mothers in Prince Rupert who have little children in the elementary grades who will be in attendance at the old high school building next year.

Are the mothers satisfied that his wooden structure is adequately provided with safe means of escape in the event of a fire? It would prove a quick and easy prey to flames and small children are more excitable than older ones and therefore, harder to manage.

Also, is the building sufficiently supported against the violent gales, sometimes experienced in winter months?

However unsightly and whatever the cost, we would be well advised to make sure that our children will be safe.

A MOTHER.

Canadian Halibut Landings Down With American Up — Halibut Boats and Fishermen Now Being Organized Under Coast Defence Plan

A number of the smaller vessels landing their final catches of the season from Area No. 2 while a few of the larger western boats were also in, halibut landings at Prince Rupert during the past week were quite heavy, totalling 604,500 pounds of which 437,800 pounds was from Canadian boats and 166,500 pounds from American. This brought the season's total to date up to 8,870,550 pounds including 4,469,150 pounds from Canadian vessels and 4,401,400 pounds from American. Last year up to a corresponding date the landings at Prince Rupert had reached a total of 9,360,750 pounds comprised of 5,176,750 pounds Canadian and 4,184,000 pounds American, the Canadian fish thus showing a considerable decrease this year while American landings are ahead. The high price of the week for Canadian fish was 7.5 cents and 5 cents received by the Cape Beale for 40,000 pounds while the low was 6.5 cents and 4.5 cents which a number of boats received. For American fish the high bid of the week was 8.4 cents and 6 cents paid the Visitor for 9,000 pounds and the low 7.5 cents and 6 cents which several boats were paid.

American and Canadian North Pacific halibut fleets landed 34,800,514 pounds of fish between April 1 and July 31 this year, the International Fisheries Commission reported yesterday. With the season fifteen days earlier last year, both fleets brought in 36,174,166 pounds up to the end of July.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, arrived in port at 3:15 yesterday afternoon from the south and sailed at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints. The vessel had a good-sized list of sixty-six round trip passengers on board.

With the arrival at Prince Rupert this week of Lieut. Commander Donald, R.C.N., and his boat H.M.C.S. Skidegate, organization of halibut boats and fishermen of the port under the coastal defence program of the Department of National Defence got actively under way. Under the plan, boats and crews signing up will go to Esquimalt for twenty-eight days' training under pay. The boats would be available and ready for service in the event of being needed. Filling in the month of February which is an idle one in the depth of the close season, the plan is proving of interest and Lieut. Commander Donald is meeting with good response. The Skidegate, which Lieut. Commander Donald has moored at the Digby Island ferry float here, is a trim 54-foot vessel with gas engine. It was originally built as a halibut fishing boat but was never commissioned in that occupation, being used instead for a while as a yacht. Recently she came into possession of the Department of National Defence and is now a unit of the Canadian Navy. Lieut. Commander Donald is no stranger to Prince Rupert, having been here in 1933 as second in command of H.M.C.S. Skeena.

The B. C. Packers packer Irene May arrived in port last night from Mill Bay, Naas River, and proceeded to North Pacific cannery on the Skeena River, having on board the Kincolith Concert Band of thirty-six pieces which will stage a concert tonight at North Pacific. The Kincolith Band, of which Simon McKay is conductor, has just been equipped with new uniforms which arrived a few weeks ago and the bandmen present a very smart appearance.

With sockeye fishing petering out in this district, seining for pink continues poor. Weather conditions, of course, have been against good fishing during the past week or so and an improvement would probably be attended with better fishing. Trolling, generally speaking, still seems to be meeting with quite good results.

Mining Editor Is In Smithers

Howard T. Mitchell of Vancouver Shows Pictures in Interior Town

SMITHERS, Aug. 6.—Howard T. Mitchell, editor of the Financial News of Vancouver, visited Smithers this week and on Tuesday evening he showed his films of mining and milling operations in British Columbia entitled "Behind the Chalk Marks." The showing was given on very short notice but the Reo Theatre was well filled and the pictures were very much appreciated by all of those who were fortunate enough to know about it and attended.

It was an education in mining for most of those who saw the show and many expressions of appreciation were heard and praise for Mr. Mitchell who is devoting his time and travelling throughout British Columbia at his own expense to bring before the people of the province the importance of the mining industry to British Columbia.

Mr. Mitchell is spending several days in Smithers visiting some of the local properties to obtain more pictures to add to his collection. He leaves here today and will visit the Manson Creek, Germanson Creek, Barkerville and Bridge River areas before returning to Vancouver.

Old Time Scenes Are On Display

Appropriate Atmosphere in Smithers For Three-day Celebration

SMITHERS, Aug. 6.—The streets and store windows of Smithers are "all dolled up" for the three day anniversary celebration. Many windows are filled with pictures of old time scenes of the town and district and groups of people who were here 25 years ago and many of whom are still here. These pictures are creating a great deal of interest and merriment for those who had forgotten all about the "snapshots" that had been taken at that time.

One picture on display is that of the Olof Hanson and John Dybhavn families taken when the children were very small.

North Indians Good Patients

Although Taciturn Attitude Makes Diagnosis Difficult

EDMONTON, August 6: (CP) — Jenny Balcourt, nurse at the Fort Vermillion hospital 320 miles northwest of here, thinks northern Indians are "pretty good" patients although their taciturn attitude often makes diagnosis of their ailments difficult.

"Besides, you can't tell when they are pale," Miss Balcourt said. Nurse Balcourt flew with three patients from Fort Vermillion to Edmonton. One of her charges, Peter Beachmas, 28, making his first trip to the outside world, was literally "dumfounded" by his first glimpse of the city.

"He is down in the mouth about having to stay in bed and wants to be up and around," the nurse added.

Miss Balcourt, whose ability to speak Cree language has been a great help in her work, said practically all her patients at Fort Vermillion are Indians.

"I never saw so many Indians before in all my life. It was my first time that far north and I got a real bang out of it."
