Says There Is Bound To Be Pulp Mill Before Long In Prince Rupert District

St. Clair Suggests Number of Industries That Might Be Established With Probability of Success

The great value of the timber in the neighborhood of Prince Rupert and the need of industries to use it was stressed in an address given by R. C. St. Clair, district forester, at the Rotary luncheon yesterday afternoon. W. L. Coates presiding. Mr. St. Clair said in part:

DEATH LIST IS REDUCED

Suggested That Occupants of Quebec Apartment Might Have Escaped

QUEBEC, Sept. 2.—With the belief that five persons who had at first been said to have perished when a St. Gregoire apartment was crushed by a rockslide may have escaped. It was suggested last night that the death toll as a result of recent torrential rains here might be only eight instead of thirteen as originally feared.

SET HEARTS FLUTTERING

Enthusiastic Youngsters Greet Robert Taylor as Scornful Elders Look on Just as Interestedly

"There he is!" "I saw him first!" Childish hearts, young and old alike, fluttered this afternoon at glimpse of Robert Taylor, current champion heart smasher of the silver screen, who was here aboard the Princess Louise going north to make the round trip to Alaska. Consisting mostly of youngsters, with girls of course preponderant, a crowd, which required a police patrol, was on hand to see the actor.

Taylor was first spotted in the point of the bow of the main deck, a movie camera to his eye. With him was Don Milloe, his "stand-in," a moving picture writer.

Taylor wore a brown slouch hat turned up in front and lounging clothes and was, in fact, a rather nondescript looking individual.

Before the plank went out, he went down the outside deck of the vessel and went into the ship from the far side.

Later, accompanied by Milloe, the actor, who is travelling as Stanley Arlington Brugh, which is his real name, reappeared and came off the plank. He was virtually stormed by the youthful admirers while elders stood back, some possibly a little scornful of the hero-worship but the most of them, undoubtedly, quite as interested.

Autograph books, and there were plenty of them, waved. The youngsters jumped and jostled to get nearby. Young Jack McIntosh was the only one to get a signature before the actor and his companion brushed through into a waiting taxi to visit the cold storage plant and see the sights of the town. There were still crowds on hand when he returned an hour or so later to the ship.

Taylor, who moved about among the tourists as a quite ordinary individual, will be back here again next Wednesday afternoon south-bound.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Devlin sailed last night on the Prince George for Vancouver enroute to Namaimo. Mr. Devlin, until recently, was a member of the city police force here, having been superannuated.

TUG SINKS AT TEXADA

HIS PLAN CLOSELY GUARDED

If Hitler Has Given His Answer to Germanic Sudeten Question, it Is Not Revealed

Opposed To Delay, It Is Suggested

Generals Are Reported to Have Warned Der Fuehrer of Dangers of Major Campaign

LONDON, Sept. 2: (CP)—If Konrad Henlein, leader of the germanic Sudeten minority in Czechoslovakia, carried Chancellor Adolf Hitler's answer to Europe's most vexed problem of the day—the Czechoslovakian minority crisis—he did not reveal it as he left Hitler's Bavarian mountain retreat at Berchtesgaden today on his return to Prague. It is understood, however, that Hitler is opposed to the plan of the Czech government for a three-months' truce and is demanding a more prompt settlement of the whole problem. The exact nature of his proposals are, however, a deep secret up to today at least although an official communiqué today said that complete harmony exists between Der Fuehrer and Henlein on the Czech situation. A second conference today between them before Henlein's departure was regarded in German political circles as a possible turning point in the crisis.

Having called Herman Goering and his other generals into conference yesterday, Hitler last night called for Joachim von Ribbentrop, his Foreign Minister, who arrived at Berchtesgaden today. Before leaving Berlin, von Ribbentrop met Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador to Germany, who had just returned to the German capital after having been called to London to advise with the British cabinet on the Czechoslovakian crisis.

It was learned on high authority last night that the conference between Chancellor Hitler and Konrad Henlein had been advised by Viscount Walter Runciman, unofficial British mediator of the Czechoslovakian minority dispute. Chancellor Hitler, it is reported, has been advised by the radical element of the German Sudetens to openly intervene on their behalf, by entering Czechoslovakia without further delay.

Meantime Der Fuehrer is said to have been warned by his generals that German forces might not be able to withstand a major and extensive campaign which might ensue from the entry of Czechoslovakia.

Rejection yesterday by the Slovakian minority, of which the radical element is now in control following the recent death of their old leader, is seen as possibly prejudicing a settlement of the Sudeten dispute.

JAPANESE REVERSES

Chinese Claim to Have Inflicted Serious Setback Upon Nipponese Invaders

SHANGHAI, Sept. 2: (CP)—Chinese sources stated last night that the Japanese armies in the Yangtze Valley had suffered a very severe setback yesterday in the largest engagement since the fall of Suchow. In Japanese quarters the report was discounted. Severe fighting rages along the Yellow as well as the Yangtze River and both Chinese and Japanese claim important victories.

Power Services Are Disrupted And Mill Wiped Out By Fire

Unusually Severe Thunder and Lightning Experienced—North Coast Also Affected, Although Not So Severely

VANCOUVER, September 2: (CP)—An unusually severe thunderstorm spread over British Columbia's southern coast and northwestern Washington last night and early today, disrupting power lines and causing $75,000 damage to a mill at Blaine, Washington, when the Peace Portal shingle mill was struck by lightning and burned. Power lines into Vancouver were affected and street car traffic was demoralized by want of power. The storm was experienced right up the coast, although not so severely, with a heavy summer shower and flashes of lightning. This morning there was heavy fog which delayed shipping.

According to word received from the interior the entire camp buildings of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. at Aiken Lake in the Omineca district north of Vanderhoof have been destroyed by fire. With the buildings, were consumed the effects and provisions of the crew who are said to have virtually been forced to live off the land until replenishment could be made. It is understood new supplies have been rushed in by aircraft.

TEXTILE WORKERS STRIKE PARIS—A strike of fourteen thousand textile workers in Amiens further added to the problems faced by the French cabinet already perturbed by the international situation and workers' opposition to lengthening the forty hour week to strengthen national defense. At Lille 800 municipal street car employees refused to begin work. Five hundred thousand workers have served notice that they will strike unless wage increase demands are met by September 15.

RANCH KIDNAPPING

DISTRICT FORESTER SAYS THERE IS BOUND TO BE PULP MILL IN DISTRICT

istics that make it particularly useful for certain purposes. It has a long fibre and is used, therefore, for the groundwood portion of newsprint paper. The long fibre and straight grain makes it particularly desirable for sounding boards in musical instruments. Because of its large size, straight grain, light weight and strength, it is used for wing beams, posts, struts, etc. In certain types of aeroplane manufacture. It does not splinter or shatter easily with impact. Spruce wood is odorless and tasteless and therefore is particularly useful where such characteristics are important. It is, therefore, in demand for butter boxes and tubs. Why shouldn't an industry be established here at Prince Rupert to cut selected spruce logs from Queen Charlotte Islands into these various products? Such an industry set along side a pulp mill, which would use the parts of the log unsuitable for the higher grade requirements mentioned before, would be an ideal set-up.

Specialty Woods

"We have other specialty woods in this vicinity which may be of minor importance as compared with pulp mills and large wood using industries but, which if industries are established to use them, would in the aggregate employ a lot of people. Take our cottonwood, our alder and our birch for example. These woods are used in considerable quantities by furniture manufacturers from Vancouver to Portland. Cottonwood is used as the core stock for tables, dressers, sideboards and the facings of dressers, etc. It is covered, of course, with veneer. It is because cottonwood is light, doesn't shrink or swell after being dried, takes glue well and adheres to the veneer firmly. Restmore buys many thousand feet of cottonwood lumber each year. Now we have practically the only remaining stands of any consequence in British Columbia right here in this vicinity. The Skeena, the Naas, Stewart and Alice Arm have quantities of this wood. Alder and birch are used a lot for cheaper furniture. One or the other forms the posts and legs of a great deal of the cheaper grades of furniture sold. I have seen some of the finest alder I ever saw over in the Queen Charlotte Islands and while, it is usually looked upon by cruisers as a weed tree and seldom mentioned, I believe it would be found on the mainland if there was a demand. There are some nice stands of birch in the vicinity of Hazelton. Now while the amount of raw wood material used by a furniture factory is small as compared with sawmills or pulp mills, a furniture factory is no small industry. Sometime when you are in Vancouver visit the Restmore or the Hammond plants but take a half a day to do it for it will take you that long to see the whole plant. Such an industry at Prince Rupert would be a fine thing and I don't see why our situation and conditions shouldn't be attractive to such an establishment.

"There is another small industry that uses cottonwood which I want to mention and that is the cottonwood veneer industry. There are only two companies making cottonwood veneer in British Columbia that I know of. It is a very minor part of the plywood section of the Canadian Western Lumber Co. at New Westminster and there is a company at Nelson that manufactures cottonwood plywood exclusively. This latter company has been operating for the past ten years or so on cottonwood in the vicinity of Nelson but I understand its supplies are now exhausted and it is now hauling over the Kettle Valley Railway cottonwood logs from near Grand Forks, a distance of 100 miles. So far as I know there are no considerable supplies left in that vicinity. This would make a nice little industry for Prince Rupert and as the Nelson company is about out of supplies it might be induced to come here.

"I am no salesman," concluded the speaker, "but seriously I do want to sell the idea that we have here at Prince Rupert the finest remaining undeveloped opportunity for the establishment of wood using industries of any place in the province. Although I have lived in British Columbia for over 25 years until I came up here six months ago I always had the idea that this was the frozen north with perhaps a little scrub timber, suitable sometime for pulp. That's the impression a lot of people connected with lumbering have of your timber. Let us all be thinking of ways and means of getting it known to the world interested in timber products, the opportunities and possibilities latent here at Prince Rupert, for the development of wood using industries. With proper advertising, I'm sure industry will come."

OCEAN FALLS WINNER IN SECOND GAME AND KEEPS SOCCER TITLE

Total Goals of Two-Game Series Gave Paper Town Edge On Five to Four Total

In the second and final match of the two-game series for the Northern British Columbia football championship last evening Ocean Falls defeated the Prince Rupert representative team by four goals to two and so retained the Exhibition Cup emblematic of the inter-city championship. Total goals of the two-game series gave Ocean Falls a five to four advantage.

Last evening's game was more keenly fought out than the first game. After even exchanges, Kelly went close and then Simpson intervened to stop a Prince Rupert attack. Burgess drove over from a free kick and then, with Barclay, made a threatening attack. Morgan saved from Burgess close in. Ocean Falls has the better team and Morgan punched away a fine long drive of Kelly's and did even better to save from Robertson, then turning Ollett's shot over the bar. The visitors went ahead on a simple shot from Robertson that got the defense off guard. Armstrong and McMeekin were good and Cameron went close. Parsons cleared but, after Burgess had had a shot stopped by Morgan, he made no mistake to put his team two goals up. He showed himself a fine opportunist when he followed a hard bouncing shot in and headed a third goal.

McMeekin, St. Dennis and Cameron combined well. Gillanders turned A. Dickens' free kick over the bar and, from McMeekin's corner, Sonny Dickens headed just over. From a penalty A. Dickens scored and play became even faster and keener. Simpson was warned. Rupert was having the better of the game and Gillanders saved from Howe. From another penalty against Simpson, Sonny Dickens added a second goal. Then Ocean Falls was awarded a penalty and Burgess gave Morgan no chance with a hot shot. Robertson and Ollett crossed two dangerous centres but Murray cleared. Play swung from end to end and both teams threatened with Rupert having the edge but being unable to score. Burgess broke away in a brilliant effort but Parsons cleared and then Murray came through to shoot just over.

Ocean Falls—Gillanders; Simpson, Thomas; McKay, Kelly, McConaghie; Robertson, Styles, Burgess, Ollett, Barclay.

Prince Rupert—Morgan; Murray, Parsons; Howe, Sonny Dickens, A. Davies; Cameron, H. Dickens, St. Dennis, Armstrong, McMeekin.

Referee—R. B. Skinner. Linesmen—N. Compston, A. Harvey.

Was Worthy Winner

Ocean Falls was a worthy winner. There was not a great deal of difference in the teams but Burgess, at centre forward, supplied the spark—or sparks—that made the difference. Gillanders turned in a good game though he had not so much to do as Morgan. Simpson stopped well and hard and Thomas missed little. The half back line was even with McConaghie and Kelly the best. The forwards were fast but Burgess was the chief danger. Ollett and Robertson were good and Styles and Barclay completed a line that was always threatening.

Morgan saved some great shots though he was caught napping at the first goal. The backs were responsible for the second goal but did well though, apparently, unsettled by Burgess' dashes. Sonny Dickens, Davies and Howe were a good spoiling half back line and Sonny made no mistake with the two penalties. Forward the locals were not so good. St. Dennis was always trying and Cameron made good runs though he finished weakly at times. H. Dickens did some good and some foolish things. McMeekin took some good corners and Armstrong showed up in flashes. But the better team won. Brick Skinner made a good job of the
