MANY DEAD IN CANTON

Devastating Air Raids — Lunghai Campaign Costly to Japs

SHANGHAI, May 30.—The list of dead as a result of two week-end Japanese air raids on Canton most devastating so far in the Sino-Japanese war, has been placed at 850 with more than one thousand injured. Saturday's raid was followed by another yesterday almost equally damaging. There was a direct hit on a large school building. Meanwhile General Chiang Kai Shek has taken personal command of Chinese forces defending the Lunghai Railway line and any advances the Japanese are now making there are costing them dearly. Only the speedy bringing up of reinforcements can possibly prevent a large body of some 5000 Japanese troops being caught in a death trap, the Chinese closing in on all sides.

STATION AT SASKATOON

Canadian National Railways To Erect New Structure at Prairie City

MONTREAL, May 30.—As part of the program of conservation and development announced by the Dominion government, the Canadian National Railways, by arrangement with the government, proposes to proceed with the erection of new passenger stations at Saskatoon, Sask., and La Tuque, Que. Announcement to this effect was made at headquarters of the railway here today.

The present station at Saskatoon, a two storey brick structure, was erected in 1910 and its replacement has been in contemplation for some time. The work of replacement was begun in 1928 and, after the provision of some of the new platform facilities, was interrupted by the depression. The railway is, therefore, taking advantage of the government's program to meet a pressing public need for a more modern station at this important centre on the National Systems main transcontinental line.

The new station at La Tuque is required to meet the demands of this centre which has grown substantially since the present station was constructed in 1913. Increase in passenger business to and from La Tuque has necessitated improved facilities and the present frame structure will be replaced by a modern building well equipped to take care of the needs of the community.

VIENNA, May 30: (CP)—Former Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg, who has been held as a virtual prisoner since Germany took over Austria recently, was spirited out of Vienna yesterday by German secret police, being driven northward under guard. Soon after, his father and fiancée left the city. It was learned reliably that he had been taken "quietly somewhere" but his exact whereabouts remained a mystery. One report said that von Schuschnigg would be taken to Leipzig to face trial for treason. Another was that, in view of his shattered health, he was being taken to a sanitarium for treatment.

The Senators assumed third place ahead of the New York Yankees who were downed once more by Philadelphia Athletics in a heavy hitting contest. The Detroit Tigers, in fifth place, won again over the Chicago White Sox and are only five games from the leaders in an extremely close pennant race. WEST COAST PLANE LOST Widespread Search Being Made For Ship Missing on Vancouver To Zeballos Flight VICTORIA, May 30: (CP) — Seven planes of two nations as well as surface craft today took up the search for a big seaplane piloted by Len Waagen and with three passengers—Mrs. George Nicholson, wife of the deputy mining recorder, Charles R. Rundle and H. Boyd of Steveston, looking for work—on board, which has been missing since Friday morning when it took off from Vancouver for a flight to Zeballos, on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, which, under ordinary circumstances, should not have taken more than two hours and a-half. The search planes flew low over the waters encircling Vancouver Island today seeking trace of the missing seaplane as it became overdue seventy-two hours. The sound of a motor was heard off fog-shrouded land around Zeballos about noon Friday. Search also concentrated today over a spot ten miles northeast of Zeballos where a miner at the Privateer mine said he saw smoke rising Sunday morning. There are varying theories as to what might have happened to the plane. Searchers are hoping that it might be found safely on some lake after making a forced landing. Some fear that it may have crashed. A government wireless station reports having heard a plane Friday morning which seemed to be heading seawards. Searchers include Pilot Ginger Coote, whose airways company owned the missing plane, a United States Coastguard amphibian and a Royal Canadian Air Force seaplane. Provincial Constable John Cameron of Zeballos is using a speedboat. Ships in the vicinity of Vancouver Island are also keeping forced down at sea. A look-out on the chance that Pilot Waagen might have been forced down at sea.

ARE UNDER BAN

The trade unions of Russia, said to have twenty-two million members, are not allowed affiliation with the International Federation of Trade Unions because Russia is not a democratic country. The president of the Federation is reported to have said: "We will not co-operate either directly or indirectly with Russian trade unions." Evidently, the international group fully understands the situation in Russia.

SOUTHWEST AFRICA

Southwest Africa promises to be one of the problems of the Empire. At present this is under control of the Union of South Africa with half the population of 30,000 people British from South Africa. A proposal has been made to make it a province of the Union but action has been delayed and the present situation is that a few Germans in the colony would welcome return to Germany. Many of the Germans are strongly in favor of uniting with South Africa.

THE TWO RAILWAYS

We appreciate the courage of Sir Edward Beatty in persistently advocating the unification of the two big railway systems of Canada in the face of strong opposition. It is charged that Sir Edward is doing it to save the investments of his shareholders and that he cares nothing about the investors who might be affected by shutting down of the lines proposed to be dropped. On the other hand, many of those who support continuation as at present are undoubtedly affected by the fact that their jobs or their promotion might be affected by the change. Some of these latter suggest that, if the Canadian Pacific is in such a bad way that it cannot carry on without the Canadian National, it should be taken over by the government without compensation just as the Grand Trunk was taken. All this talk and back talk does not count for much. There is a third independent group that claims it has worked well to unify the railways in Britain and that it would work well here, even without the proposed closing up of services as suggested by the C.P.R. president.

No proposal to unify the railways can become popular in Prince Rupert which is a Canadian National city and we repeat what we said Saturday that we do not think the people of Canada will agree to close down a large portion of their railway system. No matter what happens, the service to the people must continue although it may not be the same kind of service as at present. It is up to the management of the railways to decide what the service will be as long as it is adequate and can be approved by the Railway Commission. If costs can be reduced by electrification or by using interior combustion engines, possibly of the diesel type, it is up to the management to do it, no matter who is opposed to the change.

BORDEN ST. SMOTHERED

Loses Six to Nil to High School in Junior Football League

After holding King Edward High School (first year) to a one goal lead in the first half, Borden Street School weakened in the second and was beaten by six goals to nil in Saturday's regular Junior Football League fixture.

Smith and Schubert were early dangerous but Bird cleared. McLeod sent his forwards ahead but Nelson stopped them and Lee did well to save from Smith close in. Robertson and Mah combined nicely until Cameron broke up the attack. McLeod had a chance but shot over. L. Keays went close and then Smith scored from close in. Hodgkinson made ground but McCrimmon cleared.

With the hill in its favor, Borden was expected to do better in the second half but the High forwards were difficult to stop and Smith added two goals to complete the hat trick. Hodgkinson went close and, in a Borden attack, Mah did well to stop McLeod's high shot. Borden was value for a goal but Cameron's speed was too much. Bill made it four and later five. G. Smith had a nice run but Cameron stopped him and then A. Smith went through for his fourth and High's sixth goal. Long did well to stop Schubert. A hectic scramble around Borden goal provided an exciting moment but the ball was finally cleared.

After the previous match when these teams fought to a draw, this match was disappointing. High School just had too much experience, skill and speed. The whole team played well with McCrimmon, Nelson, Cameron, A. Smith and Schubert the pick.

Lee did well in spite of the heavy score. Hayakawa was good and Bird did well although limping most of the match. Pavlikis, McLeod and Glen Smith never gave up trying. Robertson, Hodgkinson and Mah were the best forwards.

Teams:
High School—Mah; McCrimmon, Nelson; J. McLean, Cameron, O. Keays; Schubert, Postulo, A. Smith, Bill, L. Keays.

Borden Street School—John Lee; Hayakawa, Bird; Pavlikis, McLeod, Glen Smith; Hodgkinson, Long; Robertson, C. Mah, Arney.

Jack Campbell jr. refereed satisfactorily.

Next Wednesday Booth and High School meet.

FIGURES IN A BOOK?

What gives rise to a loan?

"Credit can only be issued against real assets... The amount of credit must always be limited to the amount of free money..."

That was written by one of the greatest of Socialists—by the late Viscount Snowden of Ickornshaw, Philip Snowden, in 1935—little more than two years ago.

Few stood so long or so resolutely in the forefront of public controversy, or aroused such fierce opposition by vigour of opinion or severity of tongue—and none passed to his rest having earned greater public respect than Viscount Snowden.

His career was a triumph of sturdy British character. He took an unpopular course during the Great War, but later became one of his country's great figures, standing firmly for his convictions and for soundness in the financial structure of Great Britain.

His words quoted above apply to Canadian banking today with all the force with which he applied them that day to banking in England. The Canadian banking system is a British system, adjusted from time to time to fit the needs of a developing nation in the changing scene of this new world.

Credit can only be issued against real assets. That is as true today as ever. You cannot create credit by writing figures in a book. You cannot make loans regardless of deposits, collateral or repayment, then write the loans up with a fountain pen as figures in a book labelled "Deposits" and lend them over and over.

If you could, then bankers in any country would need no more than a fountain pen to prevent bank failures.

During the last ten fiscal years Canada's chartered banks have paid more than $397,000,000 in interest on deposits. If they could create deposits by the magic process of writing figures in a book, they could have saved that $397,000,000!

And if banks could lend ten times the amount of their deposits, collecting interest each time, bank profits would become a national scandal, dividends would be paid in astronomical figures, people would be selling all they had to buy bank shares, and there would be a land office rush on at Ottawa for bank charters.

But what are the facts? Bank profits last year averaged less than half of one per cent. on total assets—a lower margin than that of any other class of business, corporate or individual.

Dividends are less than 4 1/2 per cent. on shareholders' investment; nobody is scrambling to sell all he owns to invest in bank shares, and there is no land office rush at Ottawa for bank charters—though no application has been refused in the last fifteen years.

Banks perform no miracles: They keep cash reserves more than sufficient to meet the average daily withdrawals. They keep much more in forms readily convertible into cash, should any emergency ever arise.

By reason of their strong liquid position Canada's chartered banks have money awaiting demand—just awaiting safe loaning opportunity.

Banks cannot lend money unless people want to borrow it. They have no monopoly of the business of extending credit, for the cash reserves of many other corporations find a useful earning outlet in the same way.

Some loans directly give rise to deposits; but have you ever considered what it is that gives rise to a loan? A man's realisable assets accumulated from his own work, plus his own character, ability and willingness to repay.

All deposits are not the direct result of loans. People do not borrow money and pay interest on it to leave it on deposit at a lower rate or no rate at all. They borrow money for use. They draw it out promptly and use it in the expectation of making a profit over and above the bank charges.

Let us remind you that deposits of any kind are always payable to the depositor, or to his order, in cash.

Keep your liver healthy and you'll feel great every morning. When you wake up feeling "rotten" your liver is out of order. Your liver clears the blood of poisons, separates the nourishing part of your food from the waste. Supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands—gives out bile; the body's lubricator, helps stomach, kidneys and intestines to work properly. "Fruit-a-tives" made from fruits and herbs, will strengthen and build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be amazed how well you are every morning. Try Fruit-a-tives. All drug stores.

SERVICE ON HARBOR IS HELD HERE

Unique Marine Event as Memory of Mercantile Marine Dead is Honored

By G. A. HUNTER

An event unique in marine affairs on the British Columbia coast took place on Prince Rupert Harbor Sunday morning with the holding of a "Lest We Forget" service in commemoration of members of the mercantile marine losing their lives at sea. Such services, sponsored by the "Lest We Forget" League, have been held for some time on the Atlantic Coast but this was the first occasion on which one had taken place on the Pacific Coast.

The service was organized by Chief Petty Officer Instructor Bird of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve and took place from the Armour Salvage Co.'s tug Fearless, Capt. W. P. Armour, with Lieut. F. A. MacCallum D.S.C., R.N.V.R. retired in charge. The religious portion of the service was conducted by Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix D.D., Bishop of Caledonia, and the address was by Lieut. G. H. Greenwood

D.S.C., R.C.N.V.R. retired. Port and civic officials made the brief harbor cruise in the course of which the service took place.

After the Fearless had cast off and headed into the harbor, introductory remarks were made by Chief Petty Officer Bird who explained the purpose of the "Lest We Forget" League and the service. The service proper commenced with the singing of "O Canada" followed by the address of the Bishop. His Lordship, after making references to the naval branch of service, paid tribute to the men who went down to the sea in ship either in the mercantile marine or the fisheries fleet. To them the port of Prince Rupert owed its very existence and it was well that the memory of those who annually went down to the sea and did not come back should be cherished and honored. The Bishop pronounced the prayer of burial at sea after which the hymn "Eternal Father, Strong to Save" was sung.

Dove Is Released

Ceremonies peculiar to the service were the releasing of a dove to the sky and the casting of a wreath on the waters. Mrs. H. L. Landry, regent of Municipal Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, carried out these rites. "Last Post" was sounded by Cadet Tony Christian of the Sea Cadet Corps and there was the sounding of a blast from the tug's whistle in place of the firing of the minute gun.

Lieut. Greenwood, in his address, expressed the belief that the value of the service of the mercantile marine was not sufficiently acknowledged. In the last war it had played a great and vital part. Without it, the Royal Navy would have been useless. It was well that there should be perpetuation of such services of commemoration.

City Commissioner W. J. Alder also spoke briefly, agreeing that it was fit and proper to honor the merchant marine and those who gave up their lives in its service.

After Lieut. MacCallum had briefly acknowledged services of those who had participated and assisted in connection with the rites, "God Save the King" was sung as the Fearless returned to her dock.

A guard of honor from the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, in command of Sub-Lieut. William Elkins, made the trip, having paraded to the Prince Rupert cenotaph before embarkation.

Those making the trip were Lieut. F. A. MacCallum and Mrs. MacCallum, Lieut. and Mrs. G. H. Greenwood, City Commissioner W. J. Alder, Lieut. J. T. Harvey, Lieut. Commander Walter Hume, Major and Mrs. C. V. Ewitt, James Boyd, J. H. MacLeod, Capt. J. R. Elfert, R. M. Winslow, Mrs. H. L. Landry, Chief Petty Officer and Mrs. Bird, Mrs. W. H. Tobey, Mr. and Mrs. James Clark and daughter, Tony Christian, the naval guard of honor and representatives of the press.

DEDICATION OF COLORS

Large Congregation Attended Boy Scout Ceremony at Cathedral

A large congregation assembled yesterday morning at St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral to witness the dedication of the colors recently presented to the First Prince Rupert Boy Scout Troop.

The Scouts, under Scoutmaster Robert Yerburgh and Assistant Scoutmaster Ernest Meadows, and the Girl Guides, under Captain Mrs. Alex Mitchell, occupied the front pews. The first part of the service consisted of the regular Anglican Service of matins with appropriate psalms. The lesson was read by Scoutmaster Yerburgh.

During the singing of the special Scout hymn, "Rise Up O Scouts of God," the color party consisting of Scouts Jones and Eby, under Patrol Leader Nordan, retired to the vestibule where they stood with the colors at the main door. They then advanced up the aisle, bearing aloft the flags to the chancel steps where they were met by the Very Rev. J. B. Gibson who laid the emblems on the altar and recited the customary prayers of dedication. Following this members of the color party withdrew to their seats. Another Scout hymn was then sung "Forth Rode the Knights of Old."

In a stirring sermon, the Dean exhorted the Guides and Scouts to be true to their triple promise, do their duty to God and the King, to help other people at all times and to obey the Scout Law.

How often was one's duty to God really carried out? The preacher described a scene many centuries before Christ—another dedication ceremony during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, at which a high image was set up. Rather than fall down and worship it, three Jews—Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego—chose to be cast into a fiery furnace from which they came forth untouched. How many of us, the Dean added, would show such loyalty to God?

During the Recessional hymn the color party again advanced to the chancel steps where, on bended knee, they received the colors. Facing about they headed the procession of Scouts and Guides who marched back to their respective headquarters to be dismissed.

CANADIAN NATIONAL STEAMSHIPS

WHIFFLETS

From The Waterfront

Work of replacement of the Canadian National Yacht Club floats, immediately to the west of the government wharf, is practically completed. Last fall, the floats sank when a dolphin collapsed and were removed for the winter. The new floats are more commodious and secure.

Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 8:30 last evening from Vancouver and waypoints and sailed a couple of hours later for Stewart, Anyox and other northern points. The vessel is due back here tomorrow southbound.

Four boats, with fish shipments for transshipment east over Canadian National Railways, have been in port since yesterday from Ketchikan. Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship liner arrived at six o'clock Sunday morning and, after discharging one load, sailed for Seattle. The Tongass arrived at 5 o'clock this morning, the Salvor at 8 a.m. and the New Zora at two o'clock this afternoon, each with a load.

SPECTACLE OF SCREEN

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell Here For Three Days in "Rosalie"

The gay and beautiful singing and dancing picture "Rosalie," starring Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell, is coming to the Capitol Theatre here for a special three-day engagement starting tonight.

The locale of this tuneful melange varies between an Army-Navy football game, West Point, a trans-Atlantic airplane and the colorful, mythical kingdom of "Romanza."

Not only do Eddy and Miss Powell sing and dance in the manner of stars of their magnitude but, as lovers, they are decidedly in the top rank as a romantic team. Frank Morgan, as a king with an eye for a pretty girl, presides over "Romanza." Edna May Oliver is the queen who is quite capable of curbing His Majesty's romantic propensities. Ray Bolger does fine dancing specialties. Iona Massey, an exotic newcomer, proves herself a delightful comedienne and a singer of much talent.

Some of the popular song hits of "Rosalie" are already well known. Spectacular dance and ballet numbers are featured and, altogether, it is said to be one of the most entertaining musicals in a long time.

TEST PILOT

Adapted from the METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER Picture

By GERTRUDE GELBIN

"Come on, girls—blow."

Jim Lane (Clark Gable) is a hero to his whole world—including himself. He's the most daring and capable test-pilot working for the Drake Aviation Company. He's the idol of the cheering crowd of kids and grown-ups who run to the field each time he takes off. He's the boy friend of every blonde in town. He's even a hero to Gunner Sloane (Spencer Tracy), his mechanic. But he's a headache and a heartache to Gunner every time he flies.

"If I don't see you again it'll be too soon."

Gunner not only keeps Lane's planes mechanically perfect—he's wet-nurse to Jim as well, shielding him from reporters and the fury of Mr. Drake (Lionel Barrymore) whenever he's off on one of his accustomed binges. Gunner alone understands that Jim must drink and pursue blondes to wipe out the fear that grips him each time he takes to the air in an untried plane. Gunner's concern at the moment is locating Jim so he can take a few hours' rest before making a transcontinental speed record flight.

"So long, Jim. See you in New York tomorrow."

Gunner tries all the likely places in town without success. Wearily he returns to the room he shares with Jim. Lane's not there—but the two blondes with whom he had made dates, are. Gunner throws them out. Jim arrives in time to be hustled to bed for a nap. When he awakens, Gunner shouts down his excuses, pours him into his flying suit and rushes him out to the field where a crowd is waiting for him to take off.

"I see you—and goodbye record."

Once in the cockpit, Jim's a new man. Alert, aware, every nerve tingling, he guides his plane safely over mountains, through snow and lightning storms. Sudden engine trouble forces him to seek a landing place. Below are the wheat fields of Kansas. He makes for them. As he nears the ground, he grins—for, watching him is a girl, who, eager and animated, runs to the plane as he lands. Read the next chapter.

"Are you a famous flyer?"
