Richardson, Alex and Eneas Condemned Again—Joseph Acquitted But Has to Face Another Charge—Recommendation For Mercy Made and Appeal Announced

VANCOUVER, Oct. 25: (CP)—Richardson, Alex and Eneas George, Indians of the Canford reservation in Nicola Valley, were convicted at 2:30 yesterday morning of the murder of Dominion Constable F. H. Gisbourne at Canford on May 24, 1934, after the jury had deliberated for ten hours.

Carcross Plane Enroute South

Pilot L. W. Staples Taking Flying Boat To Vancouver For Repairs

Flying an Eastman flying boat one of five ships which a few years ago went into the Atlin district on a prospecting expedition for a Detroit syndicate, Pilot L. W. Staples landed here at noon yesterday from the north. The plane was engaged in flying out of Carcross for the Inca Mining Co. and is being taken to Vancouver for repairs.

Pilot Staples left Carcross last Sunday and made stops enroute at Juneau and Ketchikan. Delay was caused by bad weather and motor trouble. The pilot is returning by himself.

LONDON, Oct. 25:—The British government has invited France, Italy, United States and Japan to attend a new disarmament conference here on December 2. United States has already accepted the invitation, it is intimated, and will be represented by Admiral W. H. Stanley.

KETCHIKAN HAS STORM

Three Fishing Boats Sink, Toll Not Being as Heavy as at First Feared

KETCHIKAN, Oct. 25: (CP)—The number of fishing boats believed to have been lost in a storm off the Southeastern Alaska coast Tuesday night has been reduced from twelve to three following a search by coastguard and lighthouse service crews.

The lighthouse tender Hemlock, from Coronation Island, reported that the Ivis, E. Neilson and Premier had sunk with their crews rescued. John Kaiser, owner of the E. Neilson, and Harold Smith, a member of the crew, were brought here last night by the fish packer Solinda.

A message from the coastguard cutter Syane at Rose Inlet on Dall Island said that twelve vessels were missing but later word from this vessel was to the effect that the most, if not all, of these boats were safe and sound.

The storm swept Ketchikan with full force but did little serious damage although power and telephone lines were affected and services interfered with until utilities crews could rush repairs. Yesterday there was a light fall of rain with some snow on the hills.

Metlakatla Indian Dead at Ketchikan

George Fawcett Lost Life in Alaska City After Having Come Into Town to Prepare For Hunting Trip

KETCHIKAN, Oct. 25:—The body of George Fawcett, Metlakatla Indian, who had come into town on Wednesday to prepare for a hunting trip, was found yesterday afternoon at the low tide in Thomas Basin here. The remains, clad in oilskins and heavy clothing, were found by searchers led by Eli Fawcett, deceased's brother. It is believed he fell into the water and was drowned. An inquest was opened today.

GENERAL'S CONDITION BAD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25:—The condition of Lieut. General Hunter Liggett, beloved American army commander in France during the Great War, was still reported last night to be serious with little, if any, hope of recovery.

EVENTS MOVING TOWARD SETTLEMENT OF WAR IN AFRICA; AIR IS RELIEVED

New Three-Point Plan May Bring About Solution Of Whole Difficulty—Meantime Campaign Goes Ahead—Insurance Rates on Mediterranean Shipping Lowered

PARIS, Oct. 25:—Events seems to be moving steadily towards a settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and the attendant international crisis in Europe. There is a new feeling of relief throughout Europe as a result. A new three-point plan proposed by the League of Nations committee of five it is hoped may form an acceptable basis of settlement to Italy and Ethiopia as well as other nations concerned.

Under the plan concessions would be substituted for a mandate as far as Italy is concerned in Ethiopia. Italy would reduce its forces in Ethiopia to a mere police force and Haile Selassie would continue as Emperor. The plan was discussed at some length in a conference yesterday between Premier Laval of France and the British ambassador.

While a virtual condition of truce prevailed in Europe following intimation that Premier Mussolini might be willing to greatly reduce his forces in Libya if Great Britain would withdraw some of her warships from the Mediterranean, the Italian campaign in Ethiopia went ahead without interruption. Indeed, hostilities were reported increased on the northern front in preparation for the greatest battle so far in the campaign which is expected to take place within two weeks and the outcome of which may be the turning point in the whole war.

A tangible indication that the tension internationally had been much relieved was an announcement of a lowering of insurance rates on Mediterranean shipping.

Buster Keaton Is Getting Better

Strangest Wife Visits Him at Hospital and Wants to Nurse Him Back to Recovery

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25:—Buster Keaton, screen comedian, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, was last night reported to be out of danger. His estranged wife, Elizabeth May Keaton, went to the hospital to see him, expressed the desire to assist in nursing him back to recovery and said she would not press for payment of back alimony.

Mackenzie King Cuts Size of His Cabinet As Economy Measure

Will Establish System of Undersecretaries Like in United Kingdom—Departments Being Merged—Official List of New Ministers

OTTAWA, Oct. 25: (CP)—With several departments merged as an economy move, the new Liberal government headed by Premier William Lyon Mackenzie King was sworn into office at 10:30 Wednesday night following the resignation in the afternoon of the administration of Rt. Hon. Richard B. Bennett. The new cabinet will consist only of sixteen men compared with twenty-one in Mr. Bennett's government.

For the time being at least, Alberta and Prince Edward Island are not represented in the cabinet.

Premier King announced he would establish a system of undersecretaries patterned after that in vogue in the United Kingdom and designed to train younger men in departmental routine and take some of the load from the ministers.

Pending legislation to give effect to reorganization of government departments, the departments which are to be combined or consolidated have been assigned to one minister under the present names. Railways, canals and marine, for instance, will be combined ultimately as the department of transport.

The position of solicitor general will be abolished and the duties taken over by the minister of justice.

The portfolio of agriculture has been offered to Premier James G. Gardiner whose reply of acceptance or otherwise is expected in a day or so.

After the capital had seethed throughout the day with unofficial speculation as to the personnel of the cabinet, it was announced late Wednesday night as follows:

Personnel of Cabinet: Prime Minister, President of the Privy Council and Secretary of State for External Affairs, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King (Continued on Page 4)

Railway Line Will Be Out Of Commission For Days Because Of High Water; Water Is Off

Prince Rupert is isolated indefinitely today as far as railway and telegraphic service is concerned and the city's water system is completely paralyzed as one of the heaviest rainfalls experienced here in months continues unabated. It will be early next week at best before train service can be restored and it is uncertain as to how long the water system may be out of commission.

The Kayex River bridge on the railway line went out late Wednesday afternoon, eight bents being swept away by the swollen river. One bent had been replaced up to noon today and work was continuing on the rest of the repair job with pile drivers at each end. There are numerous washouts and slides along the line between Inverness and Bulkley Canyon.

Extent of Damage: Road bridge across Copper River above Terrace is also gone, thus cutting off Usk from Terrace. Kalum Lake road is badly washed out for two miles.

The lower part of the town of Hazelton is believed endangered after a rise of from fifteen to twenty feet in the Skeena River within twelve hours. With torrential rains continuing the Skeena is still on the rampage. Owing to wire trouble reports of damage are incomplete.

FORCED LABOR

At the present time there are about 100,000 men and women employed in Russia on forced labor, digging the big ship canal connecting Moscow with the Volga River. Some of these are convicted criminals but the bulk of them are political prisoners who have not been in agreement with the dictatorship of the proletariat as carried out in Russia today. Other large groups of political prisoners are at work on other large public works in that country, forced to labor in charge of the Soviet political police. Sentries march up and down with rifles and bayonets to see that these thousands of people make proper speed at their work and people passing in motor cars say it is not an uncommon sight for a sentry to be seen prodding one of the lagging laborers to greater activity.

We are not criticizing the action of the Soviet leaders for keeping their political enemies in these work camps. Doubtless it has been necessary to insure the successful carrying on of the dictatorship. Such methods are usually necessary under dictators. All we mention it for is to suggest that if such a method were adopted in this democratic country there would be a howl go up from the Canadian Soviet sympathizers that would be heard from sea to sea. If the Canadian government were to follow the example of Stalin and company all these political nuisances would be placed at work under armed guard and prodded occasionally to make them work faster.

MAY BECOME AN ALLY

It must be remembered that Russia today is one of the important members of the League of Nations linking up with Great Britain with a view to bringing about peace in East Africa. The question has been asked whether, if Russia were attacked by Japan, Britain would be as eager to take action to prevent hostilities and would she apply sanctions even to the extent of armed intervention. Evidently the question remains unanswered. It is hypothetical for there is no present threat that Japan would attack Russia. Each case has to be met as it presents itself. At the same time it is something to think about for those who would like to see Britain take part against Italy in the present dispute.

Two Overtime Periods Required By Moose To Defeat Grotto—Scythians Defeat Legion

Basketball fans in large numbers last night witnessed four exciting, fast-moving hoop games with the Intermediate and Senior matches the most spectacular of the evening. The Grotto stepped out in the first half of the Senior League game and started to show the Moose why they were Northern British Columbia champs, having a good lead at half time when the score was 20-11. In the second half, however, the Moose staged a revival and at full time the score was tied 32-32. The Grotto came back in the first overtime period and got a three point lead after which the Moose tied it up again. The teams changed ends for the second overtime period with the Grotto getting a four point lead in the first two minutes. The Lodge men tied it up again with a minute to go, then sank one with only 35 seconds to go to win by a score of 41-39. It was one of the best senior games ever played on the Moose Hall floor.

Grotto (39)—Ratchford (11), Smith (7), Gillis (11), Gurvich (5), Stalker (5), Murray, T. Gillis.

Moose (41)—Stiles (17), Wingham (9), Pierce, J. Morrison (8), Mitchell (3), R. Morrison (4).

Fouls called on Grotto, 16.
Free throws scored by Grotto, 7 out of 18.
Fouls called on Moose, 16.
Free throws scored by Moose, 7 out of 17.
Referee, J. Comadina.

Intermediate League

Scythians, playing their first game in Intermediate company chalked up a win over the Canadian Legion, 29-28, in a fast and close game.

The Scythians had things pretty much their own way in the first half and were six points to the good at half time with the score, 20-14. It was in the second half when the Vets turned on the heat. They outscored the Scythians but couldn't get enough to win, although it was a toss up as to who the victors would be. The Scythians had to draw from the Juniors to finish up the game as their regulars had been sent to the cooler on fouls.

Legion (28)—Blake (2), Moxley (9), Christian (1), Brvant, Armstrong (4), Viereck (11), Suehiro (1).

Scythians (29)—Gillis (2), Dominato (5), Beynon (11), Murray, Currie, Roma, Montessano (6), Letourneau (5).

Referee, J. Comadina.
Fouls called on Legion, 17.
Free throws scored by Legion, 10 out of 22.
Fouls called on Scythians, 20.

From the Waterfront

Although it was at first believed that some small local fishing boats might have been sunk as a result of being blown away from their moorings at Cow Bay in Tuesday night's gale, a check-up has revealed no boats missing. As reported on Wednesday, H. Clavering's machine shop float and two small boats were brought back undamaged after having been blown across the harbor in the gale.

Wheat is continuing to move steadily into the Alberta Wheat Pool's local elevator. Since the movement started this fall, some 363 cars have arrived here including sixty-one which were in the yards this morning awaiting to be unloaded. Something over 500 cars would fill the elevator. The inbound movement of grain will be temporarily halted owing to the tie-up on the railway line due to wash-outs.

ADDRESS BY PADRE

Elimination of Social, Race and Religious Differences One Of Duties of Toc H

An outstanding address was given Wednesday at the joint luncheon of the Rotary and Gyro Clubs in the Commodore Cafe by Padre A. M. Coleman of Manchester, Eng., who was in the city making an official visit to the local Toc H organization. S. J. Jabour, president of the Gyro Club, and W. M. Blackstock, president of the Rotary Club, presided jointly.

Padre Coleman told of the spread of the Toc H movement to Germany, South Africa, India and other countries and of the wonderfully effective work being done by the organization in breaking down race, social and caste prejudices. He gave a few notable instances of the elimination of snobbery and told several stories to illustrate his meaning.

On his recent visit to Montreal he was told that there was no place for Toc H in that city but, in a brief time, he found that there were religious and industrial differences in that great metropolis.

Telling a story of a rest camp in the Ypres Salient, Mr. Coleman said there was in that camp a little wood and a bathing pool beneath the trees. It had been used by the officers but it was found that the men were also using the pool, something which could not be tolerated. Orders were given that it must stop. But it continued and, in spite of many orders, news still came through that privates were using the pool. A sergeant was interviewed to find out how it happened. His explanation was that when they were in the water without any clothes on it was impossible to tell the difference between an officer and a man.

The speaker went on to say that beneath their clothes all people were much alike. Beneath the clothes of nationality, religion and politics there was little difference between people. Toc H recognized there was a common fundamental humanity with God as the father. Each person had a responsibility to each other person and part of their duty was to try to eradicate bitterness.

The Padre said he knew nothing of Prince Rupert but he was willing to bet it was about as good and as bad as other places. Doubtless, there were cliques and social and other cleavages. These often resulted in the place being "Hell" instead of "Heaven." It was the duty of the local Toc H to try to ameliorate these cleavages and bring about a condition of co-operation.

three lengths of water main between Woodworth and Shawatlans Lake were washed out and repairs cannot be made before Tuesday. This morning trouble developed between Mount Oldfield dam and Acropolis Hill reservoir on the emergency water line and the water all over the city then went off. Service may not be restored until Shawatlans Lake pumping station can be steamed up.

When the Woodworth slide occurred, the city lights went out and service was not restored until Falls River power, following a break in the transmission line, was again shortly before midnight.

year and a half and possibly more. There are also a number of fairly good looking veins that might pay well for exploring and good prospects at Bonanza. If the price of copper advances this will, doubtless, be mined by the new owners.

While there is no definite information available, it is understood that the new owners will install a modern customs smelter at Anyox in the near future, to handle the concentrates from the proposed mill at the Big Missouri and other mines at Stewart and at other points on the coast. It is possible also that the power will be utilized for the Big Missouri mill and other operations and it is said that the coke plant will be operated in connection with the utilization of its by-products.

The Consolidated is Canada's major mining concern and the taking over of Anyox may mean a great deal to the mining on this coast. It has been pointed out by men in a position to know, that mining in this district is in a better position from a production viewpoint than it has ever been in the past. Not only is the Big Missouri operation a practical certainty but the recent deal in connection with Premier makes it a sure producer for years to come and there will be other operations in the same district as well as up the Bear River.

Alice Arm has not been heard from lately but it is known that work has been proceeding there on the Tonic and other properties which make it a prospective producer in a rather large way. Taku is also a part of the picture where work has been carried on recently which is likely to change the face of mining in that part of British Columbia. It is even whispered that a second Alaska Juneau mine may be expected there.

Coming south there are the various producing and latent properties on Porcher and Princess Royal Islands and also on the Queen Charlottes which may well provide considerable ore for a smelter at Anyox.

In some quarters it is looked upon as a fortunate thing that the Granby Company moved out at a time when the establishment of an up-to-date customs smelter would be a Godsend to Northern British Columbia.

The Big Missouri
 In connection with Big Missouri, the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. is carrying out exploration work on a large shoot of richer ore than the average there and the work will probably continue until spring or early summer at which time the company will be in a position to know exactly how large a mill to install. If the work continues to show up well and the price of gold continues high the mill installed may be a large one, larger than is generally expected.
