ENEMY IS BREAKING UP TURKEY GIVES UP DARDANELLES; ANARCHY PREVAILS IN AUSTRIA

ALLIED FLEETS MAY PASS THE DARDANELLES AND BOSPHOROUS SINCE TURKISH CAPITULATION

Terms to be Occupied by British and all Prisoners will be Released Sir George Cave Tells British House of Commons; Armistice Commenced Yesterday.

(Special to The News via G.T.P. Telegraphs.)

London, Nov. 1.—(Reuters). The British Government yesterday received definite proposals for peace from Turkey which are tantamount to an unconditional surrender.

The armistice took effect at noon yesterday, the agreement having been signed at Mudros on the Island of Lemnos in the Aegean Sea, it was officially announced.

Sir George Cave, the Home Secretary, in the House of Commons yesterday announced the terms of the Turkish armistice, which is now in operation. It includes free passage of the Allied fleets through the Dardanelles and immediate repatriation of British prisoners.

Other terms, it is learned, comprise the occupation of the parts of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, which are necessary to secure the passage of the Allied warships to the Black Sea.

GOOD START ON VICTORY LOAN OPENING DAY

Business Recognized Value of Sum.

CAMPAIGN WILL GATHER
MOMENTUM AS IT GOES

Yesterday the Victory Loan campaign made a very good start with a subscription of $7,500 from the Prince Rupert Lumber Company and $3,000 in smaller sums. There were also a large number of applications taken which were turned in to headquarters but which will appear in due course.

Many fishermen got busy on the opening day and the office of more than one fisherman was besieged with inquiries and many applications.

The office of M. M. Stephens seemed to have been a centre of attraction. Fishermen besieged the place during the afternoon, paying amounts running up to $500. As someone remarked, the fishermen always seem to know a good thing when they see it, and they certainly realize the value of Victory bonds."

Letters have been sent by the committee to R. V. Winch & Co., of Vancouver, the B. C. Packers' Association and others asking for liberal subscriptions, taking the point of view that the most lucrative part of their business is in the Prince Rupert district.

The active canvass hardly commenced yesterday, for the majority of the members of the committee have had influenza and are hardly in condition to stand around talking to people. It is difficult to get enough pep into the drive to make it thorough and convincing, in view of the disorganization caused by sickness, but it will gain momentum as it proceeds and as the convalescents get back their strength.

The campaign is to be but a short one and there is no time to be lost if Prince Rupert is to do her share in the last great Victory loan.

THEATRE MANAGER PASSED LAST NIGHT

E. E. Stilwell Who Was Victim of Influenza, was here for Five Years.

Last evening the death occurred of E. E. Stilwell at his home on Third Avenue, after one week's illness from influenza. His many friends throughout the city and district will be shocked to hear of this sad news. Mr. and Mrs. Stilwell were both down with influenza but their condition was regarded as hopeful until yesterday, when Mr. Stilwell rapidly grew worse, and breathed his last at 9 o'clock yesterday evening.

One of the most popular of the residents in this city, Ed. Stilwell will be greatly missed both by his immediate friends and the general public. He has run a picture house here for the last five years, and under his direction, the Westholme Orchestra became famous. His adept handling of his many musical instruments was a pleasure to listen to.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, on June 17, 1874, in which city his mother still survives him.

The condition of Mrs. Stilwell this morning was improving and she is bearing up well in her bereavement. The funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.

PURCHASING AGENT ON VISIT TO THE CITY

Tells How G. T. P. Steamships
Are Conserving Sugar—Says
There is a Serious Shortage.

J. N. McLeod, purchasing agent for the Grand Trunk Pacific steamships, was among those who went south last night on the Prince George. His headquarters are in Vancouver, but he takes a trip of inspection now and then and inspection was his mission here yesterday.

Mr. McLeod is very keen on the food conservation question, especially in regard to sugar. He allows no sugar whatever to be used in the kitchens on the boats, and the amount consumed has been kept down to two pounds with ninety meals. Every effort is made to conform to the wishes of the Food Board.

Mr. McLeod suggests that everyone should conserve sugar in their own homes. There was a very serious shortage and unless something was done there would be none left.

SITUATION AT ANYOX STEADILY IMPROVING

Influenza at the Smelter Town is Abating and Condition at Alice Arm is Better.

According to the latest advices received in town from Anyox, the epidemic of influenza there is now abating. In the smelter town there have been forty-four deaths from the disease to date and among these are Mrs. Stainsby, wife of Dr. Stainsby, and Nurse Crawford. There are still some three hundred cases of flu in the district, however, but there are now no very serious cases.

The sick ones from Alice Arm are being brought to the Anyox hospital and the number of new cases being reported daily is steadily decreasing.

Frank Morris, of the B. C. Undertakers, returned to town last evening after a visit to Hazelton on business.

ANARCHY IN AUSTRIA WILL MAKE IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR DUAL MONARCHY TO CONTINUE

RAILWAY COMMUNICATION IS TOTALLY DISORGANIZED
AND RIOTING TAKES PLACE IN HUNGARIAN CAPITAL, WHERE STORES ARE LOOTED

(Special to The News via G.T.P. Telegraphs.)

London, November 1.—Conditions in the interior of Austria-Hungary virtually preclude a continuance of fighting, according to news reaching London. The railways necessary for the maintenance of the military forces of the Dual Monarchy have been completely disorganized.

All communications between Agram, Fiume, Budapest and Vienna have been interrupted. Railway communication between Berlin and Vienna have been cut.

The disorders which started in Bohemia some time ago have spread practically throughout the country with the result that the monarchy is faced with complete internal anarchy. Under these circumstances it is practically impossible for them to continue the war. It is these conditions which account for the effort to effect an armistice with Italy, the only country from which she may expect to suffer territorial loss.

Amsterdam, November 1.—Grave rioting took place in Budapest Wednesday, according to news reaching here from the Hungarian capital. Mobs looted the stores and attacked the banks which have limited payments to 100 crowns to any one

AUSTRIA CRAVES PEACE WITH ITALY BUT HER OFFERS
HAVE BEEN REFUSED; GENERAL WEBER CROSSSES LINE
WITH DEPUTATION FOR POURPARLERS WITH THE ENEMY

(Special to The News via G.T.P. Telegraphs.)

Vienna, via London, November 1.—An Austrian deputation has been permitted to cross the firing line for preliminary pour parlors with the Italian commander, according to an official announcement tonight. The statement says: "The High Command of the armies early Tuesday, by means of a parlementaire, established communication with the Italian Army Command. Every effort will be made for the avoidance of the useless shedding of blood, for the cessation of hostilities and the conclusion of an armistice."

The announcement continues: "Toward this step, and animated by the best intentions, the Italian High Command at first assumed the attitude of an unmistakable refusal. It was only on the evening of Wednesday that in accord with the Italian High Command, General Weber, accompanied by a deputation, was permitted to cross the line for preliminary pour parlors. If, therefore, the cruelties of warfare must continue in the Italian theatre of war the guilt and responsibility will have to be ascribed to the enemy."

Italian Army Headquarters, November 1.—In answer to Austria's announcement that she is ready to evacuate Italian territory, Italy has officially replied that the offer came too late. It is assumed that the Italians will endeavor to drive the Austro-Hungarians from Italy before an armistice is signed.

London, October 31.—The Austrian commander on the Italian front has applied to General Diaz, Italian commander in chief, for an armistice, the Exchange Telegraph Company states. The application has been forwarded to the Versailles Conference.

There are seven vessels searching the seas for the lost vessel or for possible survivors. These are the lighthouse tender Leeboor under charter from Leeming Bros. by the Dominion Government; the American tug Tatoosh; three steam whalers from Naden Harbor; the G. E. If there is any possibility of rescuing survivors these vessels will do it, but it is thought hardly likely that any will be found alive.

Fitting Rebuke

By Prairie Residents.

J. J. Gaetz, Liberal and supporter of the Stewart Government in Alberta, has been elected over his opponent, an Independent Unionist candidate, by a large majority. Looked at from a distance it seems as if the defeat was a just rebuke to a man for introducing into provincial politics an issue which does not belong there. Apparently the people of Red Deer were wise to the scheme and refused to be turned aside from their determination to support a certain policy by any injection of Dominion affairs into the provincial field.

It is a common practise of late to try to stampede a constituency by a loyalty cry, a wave of the flag or some similar outside influence. That the people of Red Deer did not allow this, shows their good judgment. Let us fight Dominion elections on Dominion issues and Provincial elections on Provincial issues, also city elections on city issues. To do otherwise is to pervert politics into gross partyism.

Conference of Premiers Soon.

There is to be a conference of provincial premiers soon with the object of preparing for the return of the soldiers from overseas. Hon. John Oliver, Premier of this province, has taken the initiative in having this meeting called, and at it the Dominion Government will be represented. The conference should produce results if the various premiers go to it with plans already in mind and with a determination to deal in a big way with the issues. It is the biggest question that has ever presented itself to any Government or group of Governments. It is not a matter to be considered hastily, neither is it a matter that can be delayed. The very best advice must be taken and the returned men themselves must be consulted.

Farmer John

Man Who Does Things.

John Oliver has shown himself capable of handling big things since he has taken the lead in the British Columbia Government. He has made few if any mistakes. He is a resourceful man and he has the confidence of the majority of the people of both parties. Probably there is no more resourceful man in British Columbia than Farmer John. He has little polish of manners and he sometimes offends by his abrupt and decisive demeanor. He has, however, good horse sense which he got from the farm, and he can be depended upon to use it in the interests of the men who have been fighting the country's battles.

When John Oliver wanted a settlement of the P. G. E. question he went after it day and night until he got it. When he wanted a railway built on Vancouver Island to get out spruce for the Allies he went after the Ottawa Government and in spite of the most strenuous opposition of all the C. P. R. forces headed by Lord Shaughnessy and backed by a number of the two by four members of the Dominion Cabinet, he did not rest day or night until he got the railway work started. He had to go to Ottawa himself against the wishes of some of the members of his cabinet and to beard the whole Dominion Government and argue it out with them before he got the required promise that it would be done, and even when the promise was given it took more effort to have it implemented.

In the University Of Hard Knocks.

Honest John may look like a backwoodsman sometimes, but in this country of backwoodsmen we know that the very best men are trained in the university of hard knocks. That is where John got his training. He has learned to give and take. He does not make a good peg on which to mount a plug hat, but he does carry beneath his tile enough of the grey matter well corrugated to make him a match for the brightest minds the country has produced. He will be the commanding figure in the conference of premiers and if he does not formulate most of the plans or make the other men's plans workable he will not be the same John Oliver that has been handling provincial affairs since the death of the late lamented Premier Brewster.

When the provincial by-election was on in Victoria Premier Oliver stumped for the Liberal candidate against the soldier candidate who was elected. As soon as the election was over and the soldier was elected, Premier Oliver immediately recognized the position of Frank Girolma and consulted with him on matters of policy connected with the returned soldiers and continues to do so. That is not machine politics, but it is good sense. The man is big enough to get out of the conventional rut and do things in his own way, and he has more respect for an honest opponent than for a cringing supporter.

Team Work Needed for Few Days

While the people of Prince Rupert, in common with the people in almost every part of the world, are being sorely tried just now it must not be forgotten that the men at the front have been in much more difficult situations than confront us and they have come through with colors flying.

With courage we must all face the issue and keep cheerful. By helping our neighbors we can best help ourselves. Team work and community work is the order of the day.

It must not be forgotten that in spite of our difficulties here it will be necessary for us to continue our preparations for providing money for the men at the front. Victory bonds will be on sale commencing October 28 and we shall all have to do our best when the sale opens, even though we have needs of our own to supply.

Without Music You Cannot Live a Full Life

Music is now recognized as a necessity in the home. Music feeds the soul, as food feeds the body and literature feeds the brain. Next to religion, it is humanity's greatest comforter.

The New Edison opens the doors to the world of music. It brings the supreme art of the greatest singers, instrumentalists and musical organizations to you with such unerring fidelity that the artists themselves could give you no more.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

does not merely imitate; it actually re-creates.

Before audiences totalling more than two millions, thirty great artists have conducted tone tests which proved that no shade of difference could be detected between the artist and the instrument. They have sung in direct comparison with the New Edison, then suddenly ceased, permitting the instrument to continue alone. The only way the listeners could tell when the artist stopped was by watching his lips. And with the lights lowered, they were unable to say when it was the living voice they heard and when the New Edison.

Could a more convincing test than this be devised? Doesn't it prove the truth of our assertion that ownership of this instrument is equivalent to having all the great artists of the world literally at one's command?

Come in and hear the New Edison here, or allow us to send one to your home, where you can hear it at your leisure.

FORTY-EIGHT HOURS IN MID ATLANTIC AWAITING RESCUE

Man Who Jams Back and Forth Between American, British and French Ports Tells His Story.

Tenth Avenue would have suited him better than Wall Street, and South Street better than either. Yet he stood with a certain poise and dignity in the sleek crowd that applauded Liberty Loan speakers at the Sub-Treasury yesterday.

His cap was jammed down over his eyes. A shiny black coat, greenish here and there from long wear, with collar upturned, was gathered close about his throat. His trousers, stained and worn, drooped and bagged and hung in fringes about his dilapidated shoes. There was no Liberty Loan button in his lapel, and it was apparent sundry other buttons were lacking likewise. The speaker transfixed him with a pair of shell-rimmed glasses and an oratorical finger.

"There is nothing shameful in shabbiness, my friends," he said. "There is nothing shameful in having a sound body and strong muscles clad in workman's clothes instead of olive drab. There may be nothing shameful in buying no Liberty bonds. But when we see a hulking fellow loafing through the day, content to dress like a scarecrow, neither working nor fighting nor yet buying Liberty bonds—that man shows a white feather; plainer than a black cocked hat!"

Addresses the Crowd.

The speaker felt he had reached his climax and stopped. But his climax was just approaching. It was dressed in faded shiny black; its coat was pinned up about its throat and its cap was pulled down over its eyes. The speaker started back, raising a sharply creased sleeve, as though to ward off a blow. His climax ignored him and faced the wondering crowd.

"My name's John Cornwall," he said. "I'm a Britisher and a sailor—a 'Limy' they'd call me a few blocks east or west of here. I don't shoulder a gun, I don't dress neat, I don't even make bullets—and I don't own a Liberty bond."

"I jam back and forth between here and British and French ports and sometimes into the Mediterranean, helping get the stuff across that keeps this war moving, and sailing in packets sometimes that'd make some of you gentlemen shiver; in a snug bunk to hear their plates grind in a bit of a blow.

HIS SHARE IN THE WAR.
"You don't know the likes of us; never seen us most like. You don't know what it is to run without lights in convoy in a thick night; to know that the old tea-kettle can't do ten knots in a fair sea; to remember every time it thickens up she ain't seen a dry dock since the Lord knows when.

"Six times they got the boat I sailed on.

"I'm just out o' the hospital gettin' rid of pneumonia that I got roostin' forty-eight hours in the middle o' the Atlantic; for a spick-and-span little destroyer to pick me up. Now I'm waitin' fer the old tub to get her belly full o' shells and high explosives, an' then we're off again.

"It ain't a job that gets you uniforms, nor yet Liberty bonds. I've had girls in London pin a white feather on me—like this gentleman said—and I've had waitresses in Brest refuse to serve me the very grub that I'd helped bring over—because I wasn't in uniform. I come very close, mister, to pluggin' you one a minute ago, because I'm about fed up on that sort o' thing.

Tells Story to Sell Bonds.

"But I see y'was in earnest an' was only doin' it to sell these here bonds, so, thinks I, I'll just tell 'em about myself, John Cornwall, and the kind o' ships we sail in, an' maybe some one'll buy an extra bond or so that'll drive the rivets faster in the ships you Yanks are buildin'."

Not a word had come from his audience, and John Cornwall stepped down in silence, a look of doubt shadowing his features. But as he reached the sidewalk a young woman darted forward and pinned a Liberty button in his upturned lapel and another matched it with a small American flag, and then the crowd came to and turned loose. Subscriptions came in fast, and one of the first—fully

WORK ON GOVERNMENT LINE THROUGH WINTER

Pacific Great Eastern Extension
To Go to Mile 35 Before Frost.

In the event of frost and snow making their appearance in the Clinton section somewhere in the region of the usual date, A. F. Proctor, Chief Engineer of the British Columbia Department of Railways, sees no reason why work on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway Company's Clinton extension should not go at least 35 miles out of the 52, before the tie-up.

Up to date sixteen miles have been laid, two bridges have been completed and fifty per cent. of the work on bridge No. 3 has already been done. Thirteen miles of telegraph line are complete, in addition to which four passing tracks are in operation.

As soon as the third bridge has been completed additional track-laying will be carried on ahead in the hope, as above indicated, of reaching Horse Lake Summit, or the 35-mile post, before winter.

Luring the winter months, when construction will not be possible, it is expected that about 280,000 tons will be got out and possibly some bridge timber, so that an ordinary Cariboo winter season will not cause the activities of the Department to cease on that branch of the Government-owned system.

NOTICE TO SOLDIERS ON HARVEST LEAVE.

Attention is directed to a recent announcement published in the Press by the Military Service Branch, Department of Justice, regarding extensions to be granted to men EXEMPTED AS FARMERS.

It is pointed out that this DOES NOT IN ANY WAY AFFECT MEN WHO HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY THE REGISTRAR TO REPORT to Depot Battalions and who have thereafter received leave of absence from the Military Authorities.

Once a man has been ordered to report for duty by the Registrar he leaves the jurisdiction of the Registrar and comes under that of the Department of Militia and Defence, and is to be considered as a soldier. This applies to men of the 20 to 22 Class who have been ordered to report by the Registrar in virtue of the cancellation of exemptions by Order-in-Council of the 29th April last, as well as to those ordered to report in the usual way on refusal of claim for exemption, or on expiration of exemption granted.

All men, accordingly, who have been ordered to report, and are therefore SOLDIERS, and who have subsequently been granted harvest leave by the military authorities, MUST, NOTWITHSTANDING THE NOTICE ABOVE REFERRED TO, REPORT ON THE EXPIRATION OF THAT LEAVE, unless they are notified to the contrary by their Commanding Officer or by general notice published by the Department of Militia and Defence.

WOMEN WHO MAKE CAMOUFLAGE NETS

Various Devices Used on Battle Field to Screen Armies from Aerial Photographers.

Behind American Army Lines in France, October 31.—Seven hundred French women are employed in the American camouflage station here making nets to screen from observation American batteries and machine gun sections. There was a burst of patriotic song as The Associated Press correspondent entered the large building where they work, for many of them sing as they sew.

The screening of artillery is the most important work of camouflage, as it is the main reliance in deceiving the aerial observer and camera, and in preventing the enemy from locating our batteries.

Huge Nets.

For this purpose huge camouflage nets are provided of wire and fish-net, which cover the guns like a great horizontal tent. In the netting are tied bunches of green burlap, of the same color as the surrounding grass or foliage. And thus viewed from above the overhanging green net merges the battery in the landscape.

Hundreds of these nets were being made by the women workers. The 75 millimetre gun takes an overhanging net 30 feet square, the 155 millimetre gun has a 37-foot net, and the American machine gun gets an 18-foot net. The nets are graded in ten colors of green and earth-brown, so that the shield may have the exact tint of the surrounding trees. The nets are shipped to the front in huge bundles, one net for each gun.

It has been a problem to get the 700 women required for this deft work on the nets, and one of the chief means of drawing them is a Red Cross home for the babies of the married women, and a Y.M.C.A. kitchen which gives them a good meal for sixty centimes (twelve cents). Camouflage garlands are also made by the women. These garlands of green burlap are strung between the trees in order to break up lines and diffuse edges so that the location of a convoy or battery will not show on an aerial photograph.

For Green Umbrellas.

In the carpenter shop huge frames for green umbrellas were being made. The umbrellas open like an ordinary sunshade, and camouflage a machine gun. In the blacksmith shop the men were turning out steel "cabins," which are sunk below the ground, for an observer. They have a front of bullet-proof steel and are about as strong as a small safe. In one of these an observer is safe in the midst of a shower of shrapnel.

Laying on paint much as a scrub-woman wields a mop, an artist was walking about on a gigantic camouflage screen for an airplane hangar. The great piece of painting was spread on a field and covered an area of 1,300 square yards. The artist was using a brush as big as a broom.

"Camouflage is making a constant battle against the aerial camera," said the escort, "for with photographs made from airplanes the enemy gets a complete view of our positions, unless they are obscured by some device of camouflage."
