Prince Rupert Ratepayers Association Ask That Financing of Schools Be Taken From Municipalities

Elects Officers

Government to be Asked to Allow City Treasurer to Carry On Until Manager is Appointed

The recently formed Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association, at its first regular meeting last night in the City Hall, elected officers for the year, asked the provincial government to take the financing of the schools out of the hands of the municipalities and handle it direct. The ratepayers also, after a long rambling discussion, decided to recommend to the provincial government that D. J. Matheson, the present city treasurer, be appointed to carry on the affairs of the city until such time as a city manager system can be put into effect.

The first business of the meeting was to elect permanent officers which resulted as follows: President—W. M. Watts. Vice-President—Robert McKay. Secretary-treasurer—Mrs. G. H. Arnold.

Executive—M. M. Stephens, Duncan McKenzie, Rod McLeod and Frank Derry.

The resolution in connection with the financing of the schools came in a letter from the Vancouver Property Owners to the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce in which it was stated that the movement in favor of the change was well under way and asked endorsement. This letter had been forwarded to the Association.

City Commissioner W. J. Alder strongly favored the change and said it had come up at the meeting of the Union of Municipalities which he attended. The idea was to remove the burden of taxation from the land. The result of the present system was seen in the fact that practically all the vacant land of Prince Rupert had reverted to the city as well as some of the buildings. Many municipalities were favoring the idea. At present, the cost of education in Prince Rupert was $68,000 a year. It was too much of a burden on the taxpayers. The question of how the required money might be raised was mentioned but it was decided that this was a problem for the government.

Those expressing themselves in favor of the change included Theo Collart, M. M. Stephens, Frank Derry, Donald McCorkindale and Fred Riffou. The resolution was carried unanimously.

The question of what would be the position of the city when the present city commissioner retired at the end of the year was discussed in a desultory way. A number of resolutions were presented and amended until eventually it was decided to ask the provincial government to allow Mr. Matheson to carry on until a city manager could be appointed. Another resolution was passed urging the provincial government to speed up the time when such change might be made.

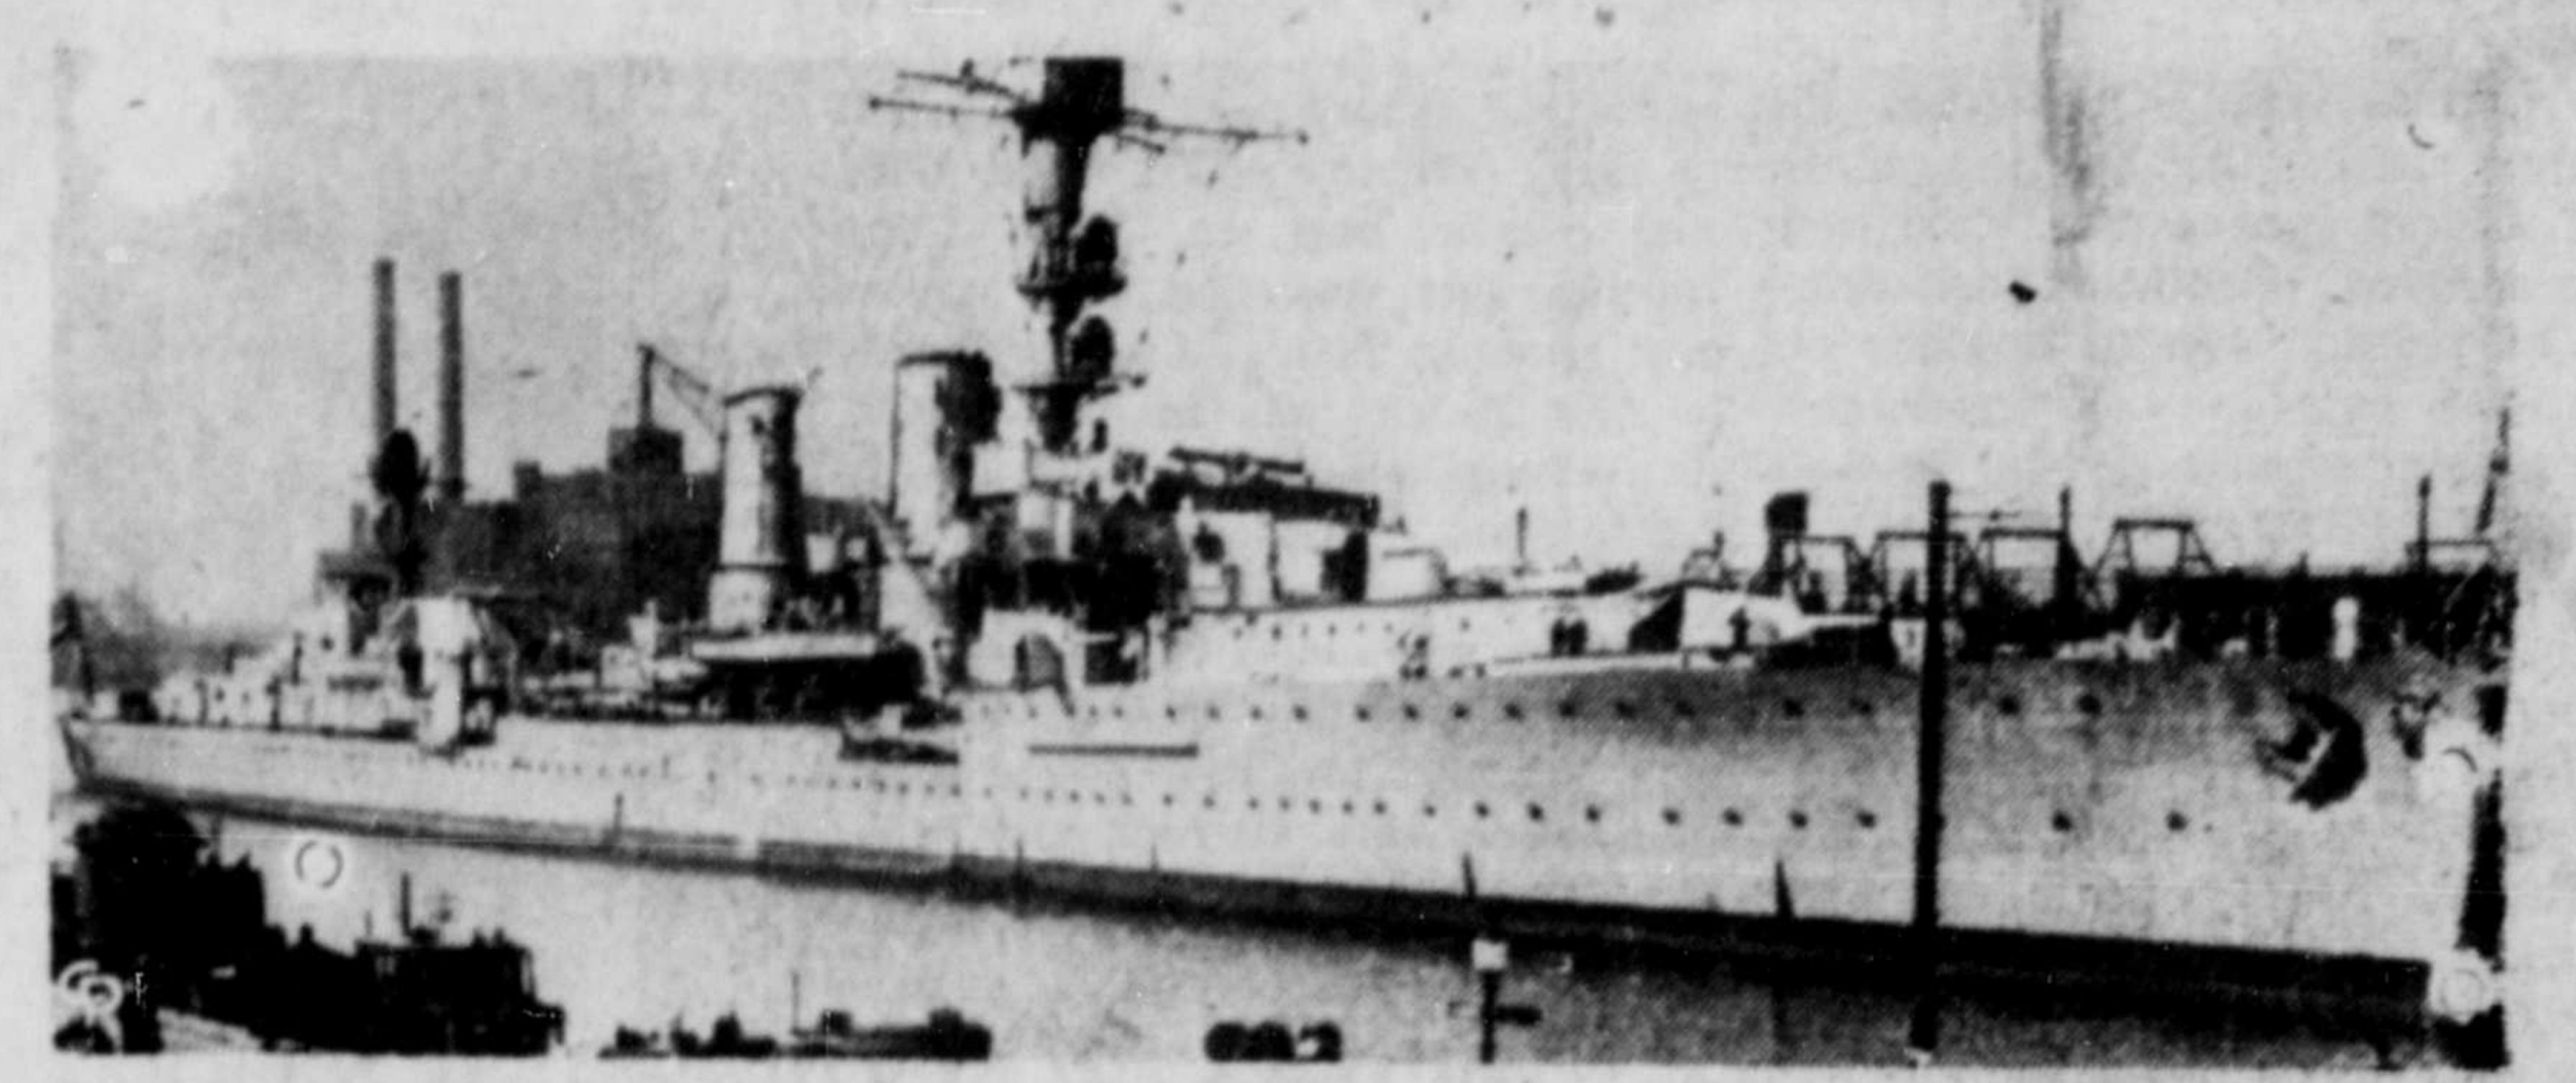

Those taking part in the discussion included Chairman Robert McKay, M. M. Stephens, J. A. Curtis, Fred Wermig, C. G. Minns, Theo Collart, Rod McLeod, D. McCorkindale, Tom Elliott and H. Hanson.

The next meeting of the association will be at the call of the chair. W. M. Watts, the new president, was unable to be present but sent his regrets. There were about thirty members at the meeting.

REACTIONS FAVORABLE

What Various Nations Think Of Arms Embargo Repeal

LONDON, November 9.—General satisfaction is expressed in Allied and neutral countries over the passage by the United States of the new neutrality law. The Allies are particularly gratified.

"The most encouraging thing since the war began," said one London newspaper. "A great victory for democratic spirit showing that neutrality is not inconsistent with moral solidarity," said Le Jour of Paris.

A Roumanian paper calls it a "death blow to Germany." A Hungarian paper says "It puts United States all but into active participation in the war with the Allies."

Beer Hall In Munich Reduced To Wreckage Eleven Minutes After Der Feuhrer Departed

Control Of Seas

LONDON, November 9:—First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill told the House of Commons that the British Navy was sinking German submarines at the rate of two to four a week and that definite mastery had now been achieved over the U-boats as the blockade of Germany became increasingly effective. Germany's rate of sinking submarines was not in excess of two a week, Churchill said.

UNDER WAR CONDITIONS

Belgium and Netherlands Fearful of Momentary Invasion by Germany—Bases are Demanded

BRUSSELS, Nov. 9.—King Leopold of Belgium conferred with key ministers Wednesday night to consider "grave developments" as fears increase that Germany might invade the country in order to get a footing to strike more directly at England and possibly essay a flank movement on France.

Both Belgium and the Netherlands have been placed under virtual war conditions. Six hundred thousand soldiers have been called up in Belgium, motor vehicles have been requisitioned to the national service and censorship has been imposed. Air raid precautions have also been put into operation.

Germany is reported to have demanded concessions from Holland for military and air bases as well as control of the port of Flushing, all of which demands are said to have been rejected.

ADVOCATES MODERATION

Premier Pattullo Gives Advice To C. C. F. In Legislation

VICTORIA, November 9: (CP)—"We should all temper our observations because we are at war," Premier T. D. Pattullo said in the Legislature in regard to C. C. F. remarks on Imperial war policy. "Let the people of British Columbia judge. Don't try to weaken cooperation with the Ottawa government where would the C.C.F. be if Hitler won? They could not say the words we have heard at the past two sessions. They would be taken to concentration camps or possibly shot."

The Speaker did not answer directly a request by Harold Winch, C. C. F. leader, for a ruling on the immunity question, leaving it to the House to decide disciplinary action. Premier Pattullo will close the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne today. The budget is expected to be presented tomorrow and the session should end, it is anticipated, by the end of the month.

Change of Plans May Have Saved Him From Death Or Serious Injury—Widespread Hunt For Anti-Nazis is Commenced

MUNICH, November 9: (CP)—Eleven minutes after Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his entourage had left the premises following an address delivered by Der Feuhrer on the anniversary of the 1923 Beer Hall putsch which instituted the Nazi movement in Germany, the famous Buergerbrau Cellar Hall was wrecked last night by the explosion of a time bomb in the wine room. It is believed that the intent was not only to assassinate the Chancellor but to wipe out other prominent members of the Nazi hierarchy. Seven of Hitler's veteran followers were killed and sixty or more hurt, some gravely. D. M.B. official news agency asserted that no prominent Nazis had been killed or injured although an Amsterdam dispatch had said that Rudolph Hess No. 3 ranking Nazi, had been fatally injured.

At the time of the explosion, Hitler was already aboard his armored train on his way back to Berlin. Pressure of war affairs had caused him to abandon his usual practice of sitting around for some time with his Nazi comrades following the official celebration. Thus he may have been spared from death or serious injury. He might have been buried under nine feet of debris.

It was at 9:42 p.m. Berlin time that the explosion occurred. There was a sudden flash of flame, a great concussion and the place was reduced to a shambles. The roof was blown down and collapsed into the general wreckage.

Safe behind walls of the new Chancellery in Berlin, Hitler today viewed photographs of the first officially disclosed serious attempt to kill him since he assumed power in 1933. Meantime police, under the direction of Heinrich Goeffler, head of the dreaded Gestapo, combed the nation for perpetrators of the explosion. Rewards totalling $240,000 have been posted for the capture of the would-be assassins dead or alive. The hunt, in which the people are entering with enthusiasm owing to the size of the reward, will embrace the entire Reich. The incident, it is expected, will result in a widespread and ruthless purge of all opponents of the Nazi regime.

There is some difficulty to explain how the incident could have occurred in view of the care which is exercised in making of precautions in advance of every Hitler move and appearance.

British secret service and Jews are charged with the attempt but officials said that so far there was no trace of persons directly responsible. One newspaper even went so far as to associate Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain with the incident in view of a remark he made some time ago that he "hoped to live to see the end of Hitlerism."

Inspired by the affair, the German propaganda machine has moved speedily into the dissemination of anti-British material. British official sources scoffed at charges and London spokesmen declared: "Doubtless gentlemen who engineered the Reichstag fire of 1933 know how to do these things." France interprets the incident as an indication of internal dissection in Germany over the Nazi manoeuvring with Russia.

What Hitler Said
"It is not Germany but Great Britain that wants war," declared Hitler in speaking before veterans of the Beer Hall Putsch. He would like to bring an end to the war,

SOVIET IS ATTACKED

Entire Fascist Press Of Italy Joins In Assailing Stand of Russia

ROME, November 9: (CP)—Following the lead of the authoritative Virginio Gayda in Il Giornale d'Italia, the Fascist press joined yesterday in an attack on the Communist International, reasserting Italy's role as peace guardian of the Danube and the Balkans and assailing Moscow motives.

Gayda had charged Russia with partial responsibility for the war and with applying dangerous pressure upon the Balkans.

Motorcyclists Reach Hazelton

Jim Logan and Slim Williams Complete Hazardous Journey In From Beirnes Ranch

HAZELTON, November 9: (CP)—Jim Logan and Slim Williams, Alaska to New York motorcyclists, arrived here yesterday from Beirnes ranch in the Klondike after having been long overdue on a hazardous trip from Telegraph Creek.

They had been in the Klondike for some time and had been in the Klondike for some time and had been in the Klondike for some time.

Replied to a speech of British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax on war aims, Hitler declared each and every point to be met. The Chancellor put forth no further peace plan, saying that his speech to the Reichstag a few weeks ago had been his final word. Hitler threatened that the German army and air force might soon launch a fierce and direct attack upon England.

"If Great Britain does not want peace henceforth, we will speak in a language she will probably understand," declared Hitler. "I can assure Britain she will be defeated in this war. We are fighting for our living space. War broke out solely because Britain wanted it. There will be wars as long as the riches of this world are not distributed equitably. In my last speech I held out my hand for the last time to Britain and France."

In a long diatribe against Britain, Hitler asserted: "The condition must cease where one country reserves to itself the right to tell others what they must do."

Der Feuhrer said "It is not necessary to share anything with us. It would have been enough to restore to us what we had been robbed of. This war will be easier than that of 1914. We are prepared economically this time."

DOING OUR PART

Those of us who are unable to take any active part in the fighting in the present war have an opportunity now to help in the more humane work in connection with it. The Red Cross Society undertakes such work as nursing, ambulance work, providing and fitting out hospitals for the wounded or sick, sending comforts to the men who are doing the actual fighting, and also for the prisoners of war, providing medical supplies, clothing and books, and seeing that there is a plentiful supply of surgical supplies and dressings.

Most people feel that they want to help. This seems to be the best plan of giving effective help so that they may secure the best possible results. Even those who are against fighting as a general principle cannot be against helping the sick and wounded. We are glad of this opportunity of drawing the attention of the people of Prince Rupert to so laudable a project as the Red Cross campaign which comes to a head next week.

AFTER THE WAR

Some writers on war themes are beginning to discuss what is to take place after Hitler has been defeated. It is suggested that a democratic state be formed including Great Britain and Ireland, Germany, France, Italy and most of the smaller countries of Europe to be known possibly as the United States of Europe. This sounds fine but it would be a tremendous task to persuade all these states to give up their nationality and the particular advantages they enjoy in order to pool them for the common good. Even the two parts of Ireland find it difficult to get together. Britain has advantages of high wages compared with Czechoslovakia and the workmen there would be loathe to work in direct competition with these low-priced artisans. It is probable that the chief opponents of this system would be members of the trade unions.

It is quite possible that there may be a union of nations such as was attempted after the First Great War but it is doubtful if it could include a fiscal union.

Lord Halifax, in a speech that was broadcast throughout the world recently mentioned after the war problems but naturally it was in very general terms. It will require all the best brains of the world to evolve a plan that will avoid the pitfalls of the past and possibly assure a more permanent peace.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

Saturday is Remembrance Day when we keep in mind the men and women who during the First Great War gave their lives in defence of the Empire. Many Prince Rupert people will wish to join in the public expression at the Cenotaph on Saturday morning while others, not able to go there, will join in the great silence at eleven o'clock and will take part in the thanksgiving that there are still Canadian men who are ready to give their lives for a spiritual ideal and in prayer that none of them may be called upon to make the supreme sacrifice as our men did over twenty years ago.

Never since the first Armistice Day has the event held such significance to the people of the British Empire as this year when we are again called upon to take a stand for the right to exist and more particularly for the right of others to exist.

Terrace Gets Wet Weather

October This Year One Of Dampest Months In History

TERRACE, November 9.—The month of October proved to be one of the wettest in history, so far as history is reflected by the meteorological records at Terrace. Nine and a half inches was measured as compared with four and a half in the month of October last year.

Education Costs Are Discussed

Subject At Meeting Of Board Of Trade At Terrace

TERRACE, November 9.—Terrace and district Board of Trade held its monthly meeting Wednesday night at Willie's Hotel. There was considerable discussion around a resolution reaching Terrace from Vancouver which resolution would urge the government to assume all the costs of education, thus relieving real estate of some of the burden of school taxes. Opinions proved to be evenly divided and so the subject got no further.

President King occupied the chair, Secretary Kerr and a fair sprinkling of members showed enough interest in the meeting to attend in spite of the steady downpour without.

OLD HIKER AT TERRACE

Jean de Vaudreuil Calls There On Globe-Girdling Walk

TERRACE, November 9.—Monsieur Jean de Vaudreuil, 72 years old veteran of the last war, called at Terrace last week in the course of his feat, self-imposed, of walking around the world.

He is a picturesque figure with moustache and goatee and the ruddy complexion of health. One arm has gone and the empty sleeve testifies to his service to his native Belgium. On his coat he carries numerous military badges, collected in the war and he also wears the badge of the Canadian Legion.

Jean de Vaudreuil began his walk at the age of 53 and has been on the move these 19 years. He reached Terrace from Vancouver by way of Quesnel and Smithers. A satchel on his back contains letters and autographs of prominent people of the numerous places he has visited. It is needless to add he now has some from Terrace.

Q. C. CITY

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. G. Turner, Skidegate. Routine matters were attended to at the business meeting. Mrs. E. C. Stevens, who had received copies of the questionnaire to be filled out by women wishing to volunteer for war service, passed them around to the members. It was decided to hold a meeting in two weeks' time to discuss plans for the fall bazaar. After the business meeting was adjourned a musical hour was enjoyed. With Mrs. Basil Hartley as pianist, several popular old favorites were sung. Refreshments were then served by the hostess, assisted by her young daughter.

Local girls who have been at the Pacofi cannery for the last two months have returned to their homes. Although the work was slack at the beginning of the season the girls got in longer hours towards the end and, even if they didn't make much money, they had a good time from all accounts.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Munro had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jolliffe. The occasion was the tenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Munro. Later in the evening their friends paid a surprise visit to their home and bridge and Chinese checkers were played. At midnight the guests sat down to a table spread with a beautiful lace cloth and centred by a decorated cake. The host and hostess were the recipients of colorful and useful kitchen utensils, gifts from their assembled friends who included Mesdames Christensen, Roberts, Schaffer, Hill, Size, Chasneay, Turner, and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jolliffe, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. E. Olson and Miss Betty Olson.

Miss Edna Beaven, who recently returned from Pacofi, is visiting at Sandspit, the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beaven.

Miss Agnes Mathers, teacher at Queen Charlotte Public School, entertained grown-ups and kiddies at a delightful Halloween party at the school house. Both old and young entered into the spirit of the occasion and games and contests were enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served bringing the festivities to a close.

The Badminton Club held a dance to raise funds. Miller's Hall was the scene of the affair and music was supplied by several members of the native orchestra "The Harmony Boys." Supper was served at Hanson's restaurant at midnight and the dance continued until the wee small hours. Mrs. Fed Atkins and Mrs. George Chastaney were in charge of the arrangements and Alwyn Chastaney presided at the door.

The Cribbage Club held its weekly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hill. Regret was expressed at the departure of one of the members, Doctor McColl, and it was agreed that many pleasant hours had been spent at the weekly games. The winning team was that of McColl and Hill. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the game to the players and their wives.

William Barry, who has been fishing dog fish this fall, had a narrow escape from drowning the other night when he inadvertently stepped off the scow in the darkness. He fell between two scows and was pulled down by his high rubber boots. Oscar Hanson and George Leary came to his aid and rescued him with difficulty from the narrow space.

It's the cumulative effect of advertising that counts.

Hallowe'en In Smithers Was Very Orderly

SMITHERS, November 9.—One of the quietest and least obnoxious Hallowe'en celebrations ever experienced here was the verdict of all the townspeople on the morning after. The activity of the local police force kept the revelers from gathering at any point long enough to carry out any pranks that they may have had in mind. The prowler car travelled the streets and lanes so fast and so frequently that it was all the boys could do to keep out from under it.

No signs of obstructions in the streets or misplaced various small buildings decorated the streets the following morning and it speaks very highly for the police that they were able to halt the mischief and near hoodlumism of previous years.

TERRACE

Olof Hanson M.P. last week paid Terrace a visit and on Friday was at Usk to visit the people there.

MARRIED IN TRAIL

Miss Thelma Mist of Terrace Becomes Bride of Alphonse Gauthier

TRAIL, Nov. 9:—A lovely autumn wedding took place in St. Francis Xavier Church recently when Thelma, only daughter of Mrs. Mist and the late Harry Mist of Terrace became the bride of Alphonse Gauthier, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Gauthier of Sheep Creek.

Given in marriage by her brother, Fred Mist of Sheep Creek, the bride made a pretty picture in her form-fitting wedding gown of white lace and satin. The gown featured long sleeves slightly flared at the shoulders, small round collar and a long full flared skirt. Her beautiful long net veil was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of Hollywood roses.

Miss Mary Binner, as bridesmaid, chose a frock of rose taffeta. The skirt was floor length. Blue velvet trimmed the bodice. Her poke bonnet was in tone and was trimmed with streamers and bows of blue velvet. Her bouquet was of deep pink carnations.

Bruno Vanelli was groomsman. The junior choir was in attendance throughout the ceremony with Miss Jemma Orlando at the organ. Miss Iona Landgride and Miss Ann Sisel rendered a vocal duet during the signing of the register.

Later a reception was held in the blue room of the Crown Point Hotel, the room being decorated with pink and white streamers and a profusion of autumn flowers. The wedding breakfast was served to some twenty guests, the table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a little bride and groom.

The bride's mother, who received the guests, was dressed in a lovely frock of navy crepe with navy accessories. Her corsage was of Tallisman roses. The bridegroom's mother also chose navy. She wore a corsage of pink gladioli.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold cross and chain, to the bridesmaid a gold compact and to the best man, a flatter pocket-book.

Mr. and Mrs. Gauthier will reside in Trail.

Adolphe Max, Most Popular Man In Belgium, Never Lost Place In Hearts Of His People

BRUSSELS, November 9: (AP)—Adolphe Max, who is dead at the age of seventy, once declined the Belgian premiership to remain mayor of Brussels, broke all records as holder of that office. He was named burgomaster on October 12, 1909, and was chief citizen of the Belgian capital for a longer period than any of his predecessors throughout the centuries of history.

His heroic stand against the German invaders on the outbreak of the war in 1914 made him easily the most popular man in the whole of the tiny kingdom and he never lost his place in the hearts of all Belgians. Honored by many foreign countries, he preferred to remain plain Monsieur Adolphe Max in his own. When King Albert offered him a barony as reward for his unflinching services to the capital and the country, Max refused.

"Adolphe Max" sounds better than "Baron Max of Brussels," he said. Burgomaster Max was popular with the Bruxellois, however, long before the war made him a national hero. He had been mayor for six years and city councillor for eleven when the war broke out and had never lost an opportunity of mixing with the citizens of Brussels high and low.

"Our Max" To All He was at ease at an official banquet or quaffing a glass of Brussels' famous beer with the bargees in "Les Marolles," heart of the old city. He was "Our Max" to one and all. At every carnival he would be there to kiss the carnival queen and when grief afflicted his city or his country he was the first to offer sympathy and start relief measures.

Max more than anyone else led the nation's grief on the tragic occasions when King Albert and later Queen Astrid lost their lives. He had the friendship both of the Queen Mother Elizabeth and of King Albert with whom he almost ranked in greatness in the eyes of Belgians. A lawyer by profession, Max was born December 31, 1869, and was graduated as Doctor of Law at Brussels University at the age of 25. On October 3, 1903, he was elected member of Brussels city council after nine years as provincial councillor for Brabant. He soon forged ahead to a position of leadership in both the municipal and national Liberal groups, eventually sharing with his old friends Paul Hymans, former foreign minister, the control of the Liberal party.

German Army Defied During the first few weeks of the German occupation of Brussels in 1914 he was a constant source of inspiration to his citizens and refused to submit to German authority. He was arrested September 26, 1914, taken to Germany and held prisoner in various German towns until he escaped on November 13, 1918.

When he returned to Brussels he was received with delirious enthusiasm, made a minister of state, elected member of the Royal Belgian Academy and named vice-president of the Superior Congo Council.

In 1919 he was elected to the House of Representatives, receiving more preference votes than any other candidate.

On the occasion of his silver jubilee as Mayor of Brussels, when he refused to allow any celebrations, King Leopold III. invested him with the Grand Cordon of the Order of Leopold with the Golden Border, a distinction specially created for him. Among his foreign decorations was that of the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, a rank usually reserved for heads of states.

HUGE FRENCH TANKS CRUSH BRICK WALLS AS THOUGH PAPER

The News of the Day series shows the power of the new French 70-90 ton tanks. Their battering power is terrific and far exceeds anything known in the last war. It plows through brick walls as if they were made of paper mache, and snaps trees as if they were twigs. It is believed that they will be an important factor on the west front when the fighting gets heavy. At the Top Left, the war monster is being tipped nose up as it encounters a wall, and then, Bottom Left, we see it from the rear as it crashes through. On the Top Right is a head-on view of the tank as it goes through a breach in the wall, and gives an idea of how it must appear to an unfortunate soldier in its path. On the Bottom Right is a side view of the tank in action crashing through the wall.

Winners of Competition—Plans For Coming Winter

On Monday evening of this week Scoutmaster R. C. H. Durnford of the Canadian Legion Troop paid a surprise visit to the First Prince Rupert Troop. Mr. Durnford passed Patrol Leader Harold Nordon in another of his First Class Badge tests and presented a special award to the Sea Gull Patrol under Leader John Davey for winning the patrol competition during the month of October.

The two troops plan to hold an inter-troop competition every two months. The competitions will be based on tenderfoot, second class and first class tests and the troop with the highest number of points each time will hold the trophy until the next competition. In May the final competition will be held and the troop with the highest aggregate number of points will retain the trophy. Mr. Durnford explained the rules to the Scouts of First Prince Rupert Troop and informed them that the first competition would be held during the week of November 20.

Veterans Scare On Maple Leaf's Team As Manager Looks Over Line-up For N.H.L. Program

TORONTO, November 9: (CP)—Youth has been served almost to the limit in the make-up of Toronto Maple Leafs for the new National Hockey League season.

No matter what players compose the 1934-1935 club, the Leafs will have only one who was in the line-up of their last world championship team in 1932. That one is Captain Red Horner, the bruising defenceman.

Second oldest player in point of service is—believe it or not—Regis (Pep) Kelly, who came directly to the Leafs from junior hockey for the 1934-1935 season. Reg Hamilton and Nick Metz left St. Michael's College with Kelly but they saw service with Toronto's old farm team at Syracuse before coming to the Leafs to stay.

"It seems like only yesterday that Kelly was signing up," Manager Conny Smythe mused as he watched the Leafs in training at St. Catharines, Ontario. "In fact it doesn't seem much longer since Horner was a green, awkward youngster on our defence and Charlie Conacher, Harvey Jackson and Joe Primeau were our famous 'kid line.'"

Counts On Youngsters
Jackson, only other member of the class of '31 who was with the Leafs last season, was traded to New York Americans in the summer. Stars like Gordon Drillon and Syl Apps have been raised by the Leafs since Kelly came along and Sweeney Schriner, Gus Marker and Bucko McDonald have been obtained in sales and trades within the last year.

But Smythe is counting on a big group of youngsters in his plans for this season. Chief among them is Billy (The Kid) Taylor, centre-ice sensation of Oshawa's Canadian junior champions last season.

On the defence Smythe hopes he has a great player in Walter Stanowski, ace of the St. Boniface team which won the national title in 1933. He expects Stanowski to develop into a fine puckcarrier.

As last season ended, Smythe signed Lex Chisholm of Oshawa Seniors and Don Metz of Toronto Goodyears to professional contracts. Chisholm finished out the campaign with Syracuse, while Metz played with the Leafs in the

SKI CLUB IS ACTIVE

Fine Camp Established By Ocean Falls Organization Which Is Very Active

OCEAN FALLS, November 9:—The newly formed Shake Chale Ski Club, which was formed a year ago this fall and has since become one of Ocean Falls most energetic organizations, is extending the ski camp on Sawmill Mountain and, with one cabin already established, is putting up another which it is expected to have completed by the time snow flies. No little trouble is being gone to by the members to make the camp one of the finest in the country and local ski enthusiasts are looking forward to some ideal sport this winter. The site of the camp is on the first ravine on Sawmill Mountain. With more and more taking up the sport and the membership of the club having reached at least fifty, it was decided that the second cabin was necessary.

At the recent annual meeting officers were elected as follows: President, Jack Efford. Vice-President, Jack Hodgson. Secretary, Monty Strowger. Treasurer, Bud Bell. Ways and Means Committee—William Thompson and Mrs. M. Strowger. Work Committee—Jack Maughan and Gus Buisness.

Those who have braved the elements to go up the mountain to do their bit at the end of last week were Jack Efford, Monty Strowger, Jack Maughan, Harry Taylor, Gordon Martin, Archie Young, John Ninkovitch, Fred Oxenbury, Bob Jamieson, Jimmy Bryant and David Penny who did a good day's work in spite of the unfavorable weather.

Stanley Cup finals against the Bruins. Both these forwards have the fast-skating and fast-thinking attributes Smythes likes in his attackers.

The Leafs' decision to break off affiliation with Syracuse left the N. H. L. team with a surplus of players. Among them were Red Heron and Normie Mann, who have put in considerable terms with Syracuse and brief periods with Toronto but still are young enough to be classed as big-league rookies.

These players and Pete Langelle, who was signed and shipped to Syracuse only last season, are front-rank fighters in the battle for positions with the Leafs this year. Smythe intends to carry more men than the 15 he is allowed to dress for each game, so unless he gets favorable offers for trades or sales they will be around awhile.

LESSON IS DELIGHTFUL

"A delightful lesson in history by a charming teacher." These words by the president, Mrs. J. D. Fraser, fittingly described an illustrated lecture on "The River Thames" which was delivered before a large dinner gathering of the local Women's Canadian Club last night by Mrs. Conway Evans of London, England, whose discourse here was the concluding one of an extended tour of Canada.

Mrs. Evans' lecture was not only highly interesting and informative from an historical standpoint but was presented in a novel manner by means of a diversified collection of lantern slides of scenes along the ancient and historic river from its source in the Spinney, Gloucestershire, down to the metropolis of London. The pictures each formed the basis of an anecdote or incident in British history from the time of Julius Caesar to the present day. The pictures to large extent were of architectural or pastoral nature, including also many historical spots, particularly from the royal standpoint. There were tales of many rulers of England from the very earliest days. Appropriately enough, Mrs. Evans made particular reference to Prince Rupert after which this city was named. The lecture lasted for an hour and a half but there was not a dull moment in view of the general interest of the theme and the delightful personality of the speaker.

The applause and the remarks of the chairman, Mrs. Fraser, at the close, amply indicated the appreciation of the many listeners. In the course of the gathering, Mrs. Fraser took occasion to announce that the Women's Canadian Club of Prince Rupert had now become a fully accredited member of the Dominion Association of Canadian Clubs.

Rev. H. G. Funston, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, asked the blessing at the opening of the dinner.

FETED ON LEAVING

Parting Honors for Dr. and Mrs. McColl at Queen Charlotte City

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY, Nov. 9.—A Halloween surprise party was held in Miller's Hall last Monday evening to honor Dr. and Mrs. Duncan McColl prior to their leaving for the East. Over sixty friends were present to bid farewell to the popular couple who will be greatly missed by the whole community.

The hall was gayly decorated in Halloween colors by the Canadian Girls in Training under the direction of Mrs. Basil Hartley. Games and contests were enjoyed by those present and there was a Halloween witch prepared to tell fortunes.

After supper Rev. Basil Hartley, who acted as master of ceremonies, presented a purse to the guests of honor. The gift was from friends in Port Clements, the East Coast, Skidegate, Sandspit and Queen Charlotte City. Mr. Hartley, in making the presentation, spoke of the esteem in which the doctor and his wife were held and of the deep regret felt at their departure.

Dr. McColl thanked his friends for the gift and replied to Mr. Hartley's address with a few well-chosen words.

Mrs. McColl also showed her appreciation in a short speech.

A pair of slate totem poles was also presented to Miss Lillian McCormick R.N., nurse at the local hospital who has also left for Vancouver.

Joining hands, those present formed a circle with the guests of honor in the centre and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

A dance, at which music was supplied by Alwyn Chastaney, Johnny Karkle and Demeroid Stevens, brought an enjoyable evening to a close.

Those on the entertainment committee were Rev. and Mrs. Basil Hartley and Miss Agnes Mathers. Mrs. Fred Atkins and Miss Velma Fairbairn were responsible for the refreshments.

Events held in connection with the departure of Dr. and Mrs. McColl included a bridge party by Mr. and Mrs. Verner Douglas at their home in Skidegate. There were three tables of bridge. Mrs. McColl won the ladies' first prize; Edmund Stevens, the men's first prize, and Mrs. George Chastaney, the consolation prize. A delightful evening concluded with the serving of refreshments and story telling.

Mrs. George Chastaney was hostess at a tea in honor of Mrs. McColl. Invited guests included Mrs. McColl, Miss McCormick, Mrs. A. Christensen, Mrs. E. C. Stevens and Mrs. Ed. Olsen, Skidegate, and Mrs. B. Roberts, Mrs. Munro, Mrs. Size, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. F. Atkins, Mrs. T. Stewart and Mrs. G. Newberry of Queen Charlotte.

An impromptu and informal party was held at the Skidegate Inlet Hospital on the evening prior to Dr. and Mrs. McColl's departure for the East. Good Morning, Cup!

by Mary Blake

And a good morning cup of coffee it will be if the cream pitcher holds Irradiated Carnation Milk! Coffee of tempting golden-brown colour—smooth, delightful flavour. You'll bless the day you first tried creaming coffee with Carnation.

What Carnation does for coffee, it does for all creaming—on cereals, in cream soups and sauces, in ice cream—and in fact in every dish in which it is used. That's because Carnation is double rich.

The heat treatment and homogenization which make Carnation Milk safe and smoothly creamy, also make it much more digestible as an infant food. Carnation is just whole milk with part of the natural water taken out; sterilized so it keeps on the pantry shelf indefinitely; homogenized to give every drop equal creamy smoothness; irradiated for extra "sunshine" vitamin D.

COFFEE SECRETS

Use good coffee. It will pay you in flavour. Use the correct grind. Many coffees now come in two grinds—"regular" for boiling or percolating; "drip" for drip or glass coffee-makers. Use enough coffee—a heaping tablespoonful for each cup, and one for the pot. Boil or percolate about ten minutes. Drip coffee makes time themselves. Do not let boiled coffee stand with grounds in it for any time. Serve hot and cream with undiluted Carnation Milk.

DELAY TO THRESHING

Continued Damp Weather Causes Some Delay in Getting in Bulkley Valley Crop

SMITHERS, Nov. 9.—The weather in the Bulkley Valley still remains mild but is rather on the damp side so the threshing machines have been finding it difficult to complete their season's work.

Quite a number of farmers still have their crops in stook in the field as the damp weather not only has presented threshing but also the stacking of the grain and the timothy seed.

The farmers are hoping for colder and brighter weather in order that they may get this work cleaned up.

Those who have finished with threshing are taking advantage of the mild weather to get along with their fall plowing.

Many farms report good results when their crops have been threshed and some of the crops have been phenomenal almost.

With just enough frost in the ground to make a crust on the surface snow began falling here Tuesday morning with the prospect that there might be quite a little fall before it stopped.

For the past two weeks the weather has been very mild with some rain and the more seasonable weather of frost and snow can be expected from now on.

DRAMA IS ABSORBING

"Daughters Courageous," With Fine Cast, Feature Picture At Capitol Theatre Tonight And Tomorrow

Bringing together again the cast of the "Four Daughters," picture of last year which was a popular success, "Daughters Courageous" comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature offering for tonight and tomorrow. Woven into the story is a modern version of the Enoch Arden theme which introduces a real problem in human relationship for, as the mother is about to remarry, her first husband and the father of the girls turns up after an absence of twenty years. Shall she welcome back the charming but irresponsible husband who deserted her when they were babes or accept the steady and respectable business man who loves and wants to marry her? Is the problem that faces the mother.

Not in the lines of the girls is there lack of romance. Replete with drama and romance, the picture also has plenty of good humor and comedy. All in all, it is said to be a highly delightful entertainment.

John Garfield and Priscilla Lane head the cast with a notable group of supporting players including the two other Lane girls, Rosemary and Lola, Gale Page, Fay Bainter, Jeffrey Lynn, Claude Rains, Frank McHugh, May Robson, Dick Foran and Donald Crisp.

Mrs. Conway Evans of London, England, arrived in the city yesterday from Vancouver in the course of a lecture tour of Canada under the auspices of the Association of Canadian Clubs and will sail tonight by the Prince Rupert on her return south.

Man in the Moon

It's a wonderful feeling to win the war by letting someone else do the fighting.

Jake says he expects to get the Victoria Cross for staying at home and letting someone else do the work while the boys go overseas to fight.

Jake says he'd like to be a Scot-tie and wear a kilt. Then he'd have something to be proud of. As it is the only thing he's proud of is his ability to drink beer.

I'd like to be a Highlander And wear a pretty kilt I'd feel that I was somebody Who'd make the Germans wilt.

I'd like the girls to see my knees As I march along and sing Or listen to the bagpipes play And make the welkin ring.

A Prince Rupert man wanted to enlist for overseas service but his eyesight was poor. He went up for medical examination and the doctor took him into the little room and told him to look and tell him how many lines he could read on the chart. "What chart?" inquired the applicant.

A sailor was boasting about the different places he had visited. The South Seas, the Cape, New Zealand, the Arctic Circle—all came alike to him.

A woman who happened to overhear the bragging remarked: "Then you must know all about geography?"

"Well, not a great lot," replied the sailor, quickly. "We put in there once for coaling but I never went ashore."

WAS ACTIVE IN REFORM OF PRISONS

Hon. Hugh Guthrie Was One Of Canada's Most Distinguished Statesmen—Always Commanded Respect

OTTAWA, November 9:—As Minister of Justice Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who died recently, answered to Parliament in connection with the tempestuous period of 1932-1933 in the penitentiaries of the nation. A series of disturbances in these institutions brought many questions in the Commons as to penitentiary administration for which Mr. Guthrie's department was responsible. To the accompaniment of an agitation for prison reform in the press and pulpit there was a running fire of criticism through two or three sessions of the house.

Various changes in the warden-ship of Kingston penitentiary and granting of some of the reforms demanded by the convicts were announced by Mr. Guthrie in the course of these discussions. However, the minister stoutly denied the necessity for a royal commission or other investigation into the situation beyond the enquiries of officials of the department.

The penitentiary riots and widespread discontent with conditions in the federal prisons were troublesome incidents during Mr. Guthrie's regime as minister of justice. The gravest of the riots were in the Kingston penitentiary where there were several outbreaks. There was one serious outbreak at St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary and a minor one at the Dorchester, N. B., institution. Evidence was unearthed pointing to a deliberate plotting of a series of disturbances in one prison after another. Vigorous steps were taken to restore quiet.

Several changes in the warden-ship at Kingston were made and some of the demands of the prisoners were met by changes in prison regulations.

Mr. Guthrie invited church, bodies or other responsible organizations to visit the penitentiaries and inspect them for themselves. Several delegations took advantage of this opportunity, generally reporting greatly improved conditions but in some instances recommending further improvements.

Born in Guelph in 1866, Hugh Guthrie was educated in Guelph public and high schools and at Osgoode Hall Law School. He opened a law office in his home city and practised there until he entered the Dominion cabinet. He was made a King's Counsel in 1902.

He was married and had two children, a son and a daughter. Mrs. Guthrie was formerly Miss Maude Henrietta Scarff of Guelph. Mr. Guthrie was a Presbyterian. He belonged to the Guelph and Ottawa Country Clubs, the Rideau Club in Ottawa and the Albany Club in Toronto.

Name Ranks High
The Guthrie name ranks high in the city of Guelph and the constituency of South Wellington. Mr. Guthrie's father, Donald Guthrie, represented the seat in Commons for a term between 1877 and 1882. Only once had the seat returned a Conservative and, when Hugh Guthrie obtained the Liberal nomination at the age of 34 he was practically assured of election. When he became a Conservative 20 years later the old Liberal riding went Conservative with him and remained so as long as Hugh Guthrie was in the running.

The turning point in Mr. Guthrie's career came in 1917 when the Liberal party was torn asunder on the issue of union government. He was one of the principals of a substantial group of Liberals who favored accepting the proposal advanced by Sir Robert Borden, the Conservative premier, for a union of all parties to enact compulsory military service and carry on the war. Sir Wilfrid Laurier declined and took the stand of non-resistance. Mr. Guthrie accepted office as solicitor-general in the union administration and fought the election against his old leader and his old colleagues. He never returned to the Liberal party but became prominent in Conservative administrations. He was appointed chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners during the Bennett regime, continuing in that capacity until his death at the end of last week.

*UNITY OF CANADA

NEW BRUNSWICK
Land of Beauty

*NATIONAL UNITY is vital to success of Canada's War Effort

This series of advertisements was initiated many months prior to the outbreak of war. Its theme "Unity of Canada" was prophetic; a message that today is more vital than ever to all Canadians.

For in Unity lies the strength of the Dominion, and we, of the Automotive Industries, accept our full responsibility in working as well as writing towards this end.

Now, more than ever before, our plants and highly specialized equipment are Dominion assets; our skilled workmen, vital cogs in the wartime industrial set-up in which the production of units of transport looms more important than ever.

So remember, when you buy a Canadian-Built car, you are helping support an industry that distributes more than $22,000,000.00 in wages and salaries to many thousand families dependent on the industry itself. Add to these the families that are supported by industries supplying raw and finished materials to the Automobile manufacturers, and you get an idea of what this activity means to the Canadian Home Market.

A busy Automotive Industry in wartime is a live asset indeed—a truly national war enterprise.

NEW BRUNSWICK OFFERS EVERY AID IN EMPIRE'S STRUGGLE

"In the gigantic struggle upon which Canada has embarked by the side of the Mother Country, New Brunswick offers every assistance in the hope that her contribution will so help to strengthen the hand of the British Empire that she and her allies will emerge victorious over the forces of lawlessness and aggression. Worthy sons of courageous fathers who served King and Country in the Great War are already offering themselves in their thousands. The great natural resources of New Brunswick, her farm products, the rich harvest of her forests, her fish, her minerals, are at the disposal of His Majesty. Her all-year ocean port of Saint John stands ready to handle the great stream of goods which will pour through from all over Canada to help the Motherland in her hour of great necessity. New Brunswick in the past has taken second place to none in her loyalty to the British flag and the British tradition—she is prepared to demonstrate this once more to the world."

SUPPORTING RED CROSS Whifflets

F. A. MacCallum Speaks to Junior Chamber — Would Entertain Troops Here—Moving Pictures Of West Indies

F. A. MacCallum, president of the local branch of the Red Cross Society, was present at the meeting of the Junior Section of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night and spoke briefly in regard to the Red Cross. He mentioned the campaign which would be held next week and bespoke assistance and support. The aim was to reach all people in the campaign. Mr. MacCallum announced that Red Cross work in Prince Rupert was now getting well organized. Headquarters were being opened at the corner of Second Avenue and Sixth Street and there work would be centred. Mr. MacCallum briefly outlined the wartime functions of the Red Cross stressing their importance.

J. C. Gilker urged that the Junior Chamber do something in the way of lending to the entertainment of members of the forces now quartered here. In this suggestion F. P. Lyons heartily concurred. The outcome was the delegation of Mr. Gilker as a committee to go into the matter.

Correspondence from the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce offered suggestions as to what might be done in the way of war activities, this being turned over to the committee.

The Junior Chamber decided to remit during the period of war the dues of members who have enlisted for service. Thirteen members have enlisted, it was stated by the treasurer.

Another matter taken up at Tuesday night's meeting was that of sanitary conditions in certain parts of the city. The president will interview the City Commissioner on the subject.

A feature of Tuesday night's dinner was the showing by Lieut. Orme Stuart R.C.N.V.R. of interesting moving pictures of a West Indies cruise with a Canadian destroyer squadron last spring. Lieut. Stuart prefaced his pictures with a review of Canadian naval history from 1910 until the outbreak of the present war and an outline of the three-an-a-half months' cruise to California, Panama Canal, Jamaica, Bermuda and other waters. The president expressed the appreciation of the Chamber to Lieut. Stewart.
