NEW TRADE AGREEMENTS WERE OUTSTANDING IN CANADA TRADE POLICY

Minister of Trade and Commerce Expresses His Views in Regard to Pact—Other Business of Dominion Reviewed

By HON. W. D. EULER
Minister of Trade and Commerce

OTTAWA, January 5: (CP)—The outstanding event of 1938 in respect of trade policy was the simultaneous signature of trade agreements between Canada and the United States and between the United Kingdom and the United States at Washington on November 17. The agreements constitute a long stride forward in the establishment of better trade relations between the British Commonwealth and the United States.

The British Commonwealth and the United States. The governments of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India and Newfoundland have contributed to the success of the negotiations by consenting to the reduction or surrender of preferences hitherto enjoyed by certain of their products in the markets of the United Kingdom. Thus the agreements reached may be said to have the general approbation and goodwill of the whole of the British Commonwealth of Nations, and indicate a rapprochement in matters commercial between the world's greatest empire and its greatest republic.

So far as Canada and the United States are concerned, the new agreement is a continuance and extension of the former three-year agreement of 1935, under which the exports of merchandise of Canadian produce to the United States increased from $305,000,000 to $423,000,000 between the fiscal years ended 1935 and 1938, while our imports of merchandise from the United States rose from $304,000,000 to $487,000,000 in the same period. The new agreement will also apply for a fixed term of three years, and will thereafter be terminable by either country on six months' notice.

Under the new agreements Canada and the United Kingdom retain the right to preferential treatment in each other's markets. The agreed modification of their preferential margins in each other's markets is only for the term in which their agreements with the United States are in force. Thus, if the agreements with the United States are terminated, the full preferential Sinnott, head of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Winnipeg, refusing to retract comments made in a Christmas season address regarding religious conditions in Germany, has made public correspondence between himself and the German consul-general for Western Canada in regard to the matter. In view of policies being pursued in Germany, it was a "Christmas without Christ" there, Archbishop Sinnott said. It was this that drew protest from the consul general, a protest which the Archbishop feels is presumptive.

Border City of Munkacs Shelled and Fourteen Killed—Threatening Protests and Warnings Are Issued—Germany and Italy Advised

BERLIN, January 6: (CP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler was regarded by competent observers today as having taken another major step towards realization of German determination to dominate Europe east of the Rhine. This is believed to have been the meaning of a four hour meeting yesterday with Col. Joseph Beck, Polish foreign minister, at Berchtesgaden.

BUDAPEST, January 6: (CP)—The Hungarian government today reported two Czechoslovakian artillery bombardments on the border city of Munkacs in a pitched battle between Czechoslovak and Hungarian forces. Reports of a battle involving cannon, tanks and armored cars spread a wave of excitement throughout the nation. Munkacs is in territory that Czechoslovakia ceded to Hungary two months ago. Fourteen persons are reported to have been killed.

The Hungarian Foreign Office announces that a strong protest has been made to Prague, charging violation of Hungary's border. It is said that the German and Italian legations have been officially informed and warned that "Hungary waives all responsibility for what may happen."

Late in the afternoon military authorities reported an "assault of invaders" had been repulsed but that intermittent shelling of Munkacs was continuing. The Hungarian charge d'affaires today at Prague lodged a protest with the Czechoslovakian government charging that Czechoslovak troops had invaded the region of Munkacs. Czechoslovak officers attached to the joint Hungarian-Czechoslovak border delimitation commission have been ordered to the scene of the incident.

First vague reports received in Prague told of a "number of brawls" in the region.

A. Hust, in a Carpatho-Ukraine communique, said that fighting began when Czechoslovak patrols chased Hungarian terrorists across the border.

BAEYLON IS CHARGED

We have a letter from a gentleman who charges that Prince Rupert is a modern Baeylon, full of all kinds of wickedness. We admit that in Prince Rupert there are some people who do things that are not approved by the churches but that is true of every city in every country. We do not think that Prince Rupert is worse than other places in this respect except that we may be a little less hypocritical. What we are sure of is that the people of Prince Rupert are, speaking generally, big-hearted, generous, broad-minded, tolerant, brainy and well able to hold their own anywhere. There have been setbacks to the development of the city but we believe that the foundations of the city have been well and truly laid and that development will be sure and steady. Unfortunately there are among us a few pessimists but only enough to offset the over-exuberant.

Of late there has been a more or less steady infiltration of newcomers bringing in new ideas, fresh enthusiasms, putting new life into the community. This new life is highly desirable because people in the larger centres are more apt to have been in close touch with the newer movements and would be less likely to be affected by local prejudices.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

The United States, in view of the present condition of Europe and other countries, has been forced to spend huge sums of money on defense schemes. It is also suggested that Canada may double the amount spent last year in expenditures during 1939, the sum of sixty million dollars being mentioned as a possibility. Included in this sum, it is understood, will be a very considerable vote for Prince Rupert defenses. There is a small part of last year's defense vote not already spent but not enough to complete the work at the mouth of the harbor and at Allford Bay. However these works are being commenced at once and the greater part of the money to cover the cost will be taken from the money voted at the coming session of Parliament.

In the present disturbed condition of the world every nation must be ready to defend itself or else it will be open to attack. A number of countries have found that to be true. If they have not been attacked they have been threatened or had to compromise. However, every day that passes, it seems to us, makes it less likely that the arrogance of the dictators will be effective in securing concessions.

If you lose anything, advertise for it.

NEW TRADE AGREEMENTS WERE OUTSTANDING

only slight falling off from that of 1937, while the larger crops harvested this fall and the steadily increasing activity in the mining industry operated to produce a general improvement, which should continue into 1939.

The agricultural industry is of paramount importance to one-third of the total population of Canada, which obtains its livelihood directly from the farm. For this great basic element in the nation, 1938 was generally a more favorable year than 1937. The yields of our field crops were on the average about 30 per cent in excess of those of 1937, although aggregate values were lower. The wheat crop was estimated at 348,100,000 bushels, or over 30 per cent more than that of 1937, though its value was only $12,600,000 greater. The stimulating effect of the larger yields was reflected in the railway car-loadings of grain and in retail sales in the Prairie Provinces. The most serious obstacle to further recovery in Canadian agriculture at the beginning of 1939 is undoubtedly the level of world prices of farm products, due to larger world crops. Partly responsible for this situation is the agricultural policy of certain countries which are determined to make themselves independent of food supplies from the outside world, and therefore sacrifice the interests of their consumers in order to provide inducements for their agricultural producers to increase their home-grown crops.

Cattle and hog marketings were lower than in 1937, while prices were lower for cattle but higher for hogs, owing to short supplies and higher prices in the United Kingdom. Butter production was at record high levels, with lower prices, while cheese production declined. As regards the future, it may be pointed out that under the new trade agreement our cattle, dairy cows, swine, fresh pork and bacon, milk, cream and cheese will hereafter be admitted into the United States on much more liberal terms. Cheap feed will enable us to take advantage of this opportunity.

The forestry industries were affected in 1938 by the decline in demand in our principal external markets, but the newsprint situation is now improving as the result of the liquidation of stocks accumulated by publishers in 1937. The Canadian lumber industry will benefit materially in 1939 from the operation of the trade agreement.

Mining's New Peak

The mining industry attained in 1938 a new high peak of production and of employment afforded, the available statistics indicating a growth of three per cent in physical volume of production and of two per cent in employment as compared with 1937. Production of copper, lead and zinc showed considerable increases and nickel only a slight decline. Gold production established a new high record in excess of $36,000,000. Coal production was lower, but the production of crude petroleum in the first ten months of 1938 was 167 per cent more than in the same period of 1937, reaching 6,000,000 barrels, a new high record. Canada has at last "struck oil."

Fresh and dried fish exported in the first ten months of 1938 declined 5.1 per cent in value from the same period of 1937. As a large proportion of the catch is exported, the fisherman's income was probably a little less than in 1937, but improvement is anticipated in 1939 as the result of the new trade agreements.

Production of electric power in Canada in the first ten months of 1938 was 6.3 per cent below the record high figures of 1937; in October, however, the drop was only 1.5 per cent, indicating improvement. Power made available for ordinary use, computed by deducting secondary power used for electric boilers and exports, was in the ten-month period only slightly below the 1937 level, at 15,300,000,000 k.w.h. as compared with 15,200,000,000 k.w.h.

Manufacturing activity in 1938 averaged slightly lower than in 1937, but in recent months has been increasing, the index number of manufacturing production rising from 100.9 to 113.2 between August and October. Production of automobiles in November was 17,992 units as compared with 16,574 in the same month of 1937.

Construction contracts awarded in the first eleven months of 1938, while declining 17 per cent from 1937, were larger in value than in the same period of any other year since 1931; indeed, the November, 1938, contracts were slightly in excess of those of the same month of 1937. In recent years, the construction of new homes and the improvement of existing homes has been stimulated by loans to the amount of $24,700,000 under the National Housing Act and its predecessor, the Dominion Housing Act. It is estimated the housing loans have provided accommodation for 6,272 Canadian families and thus the home improvement loans under the Home Improvement Loans Guarantee Act of 1937, amounting to $22,800,000, have enabled 55,830 families to improve their homes.

Railway gross earnings of the C.N.R. (Canadian lines) and the C.P.R. in the first ten months were $126,432,000 and $117,695,000 respectively, being declines of $7,169,000 and $2,349,000 respectively from the corresponding 1937 figures, or a drop of 5.7 per cent in the aggregate figures. Increases were recorded in September and October, in consequence of the heavy movement of grain. The heavy movement of Canadian wheat and United States corn through the canals resulted in new high records of traffic through the Welland ship canal at 12,450,000 tons and through the St. Lawrence canals at 9,231,000 tons up to the end of November; 86,000,000 bushels of wheat and 78,000,000 bushels of corn passed through the Welland canal during the season.

Retail sales in the first ten months of 1938 were two per cent lower than in the same period of 1937, when they were higher than in any of the four preceding years. Wholesale trade in the first ten months of 1938 was about four per cent lower than in 1937, but this decline is not quite as large as the general drop in wholesale prices.

In 1937 tourists from other countries spent about $295,990,000 in Canada and Canadian tourists about $125,990,000 in other countries, or a balance of $170,000,000 in our favor. In the first nine months of 1938 foreign automobiles entering Canada on 60-day permits declined about nine per cent, and on 48-hour permits three per cent, while entries of tourists, etc., as reported by immigration officers declined 8 1/2 per cent, so that there was probably a moderate reduction in the 1938 figures of tourists' expenditures.

Kerwin had left behind him when he went away for his holiday a check for $500 toward the fund for a civic centre of the understanding that work on the structure be commenced not later than the year 1941. In a letter to the Rotary Club, the doctor urged that all organizations in the city work for the one end in order to provide a recreational centre for the young people.

SPORT CHAT

Glasgow Rangers are more firmly entrenched than ever in leadership of the Scottish Football League, First Division, as a result of their three victories over the New Year holiday—over Ayr 4 to 3 on Saturday, over Celtic 2 to 1 on Monday and over Partick Thistle 4 to 2 Tuesday.

The fact that Bill Stewart led the Chicago Black Hawks to their world championship last year did not save him from dismissal as their manager this week. Only three wins in seventeen starts was not good enough for Owner McLaughlin. The hero of today is often the goat of tomorrow.

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club has under consideration a proposal coming from the East for the service clubs all over Canada to urge upon the government the desirability of starting solving the unemployment problem in this country.

The cost of groceries and goods amounted to $302.73. The balance of the money will be used throughout the coming year to assist people who are in need of food, clothing or the other necessities of life.

The whole Christmas Fund is never expended entirely on the hampers but every day of the year there is someone on the Army's doorstep asking for assistance and it is the balance of this fund that enables the Army to assist in most cases that come to its notice.

Future Projects Principal Business Wednesday Night

The High School Alumni Association held a short business meeting last night in Booth Memorial High School. Miss Helen Valentine presided and Miss Ellen Moore was secretary. There was a fair attendance of members and discussions for the most part centered around future projects of the Association. There was very little business on the agenda. George Brown reported on the state of finances.

The secretary will contact ex-grads who have left town and find out what they are doing. It was thought that this would be very interesting as some of the older grads are now in foreign countries and would be able to tell interesting things about themselves and the places in which they are residing. Letters would be written every month if possible.

Arrangements regarding the finding of a place of meeting were left to the executive. The next meeting will be the first Thursday in February. It will probably be in the High School. On the program will be moving pictures and a guest speaker. It was decided to serve refreshments and a special appeal will be made to get prospective members out.

PASSING OF PROMINENT JOURNALIST

ism, Belding was best known as one of the first newspapermen to whom fell the task of representing the claims and aspirations of Maritime Canada and, when that mission had reached achievement in the appointment of the Duncan Commission, as a pioneer in the advocacy of closer relations between Canada and the British West Indies. To both causes the Saint John editor brought a background of information and facility of expression developed through a youth spent on a farm in his native province and through years of self-advancement in the newspaper world.

Born on a King's County farm in 1859, young Belding's early years were identified with the usual simplicity and rigor of the country life of that day. Later on he took to railroading but, even as a boy his reputation was that of "a great reader" and he finally decided to become a school teacher, going through the Normal School at Fredericton with honors.

It was while he was teaching that he first became a correspondent for the Saint John Sun. His work was of such merit that he was invited to the city to become a resident member of the staff and there began a newspaper career that was to see him achieve the position of editor-in-chief of the Saint John Telegraph-Journal and the Saint John Times-Globe, the two daily newspapers of New Brunswick's principal city. Editorial writing was not Mr. Belding's forte in the early days. Rather, he chose to put across an idea through the creation of characters who could convey to the public his view of matters, chiefly political, of that day. His "Mr. Paul-the Sagamore" is vividly remembered by newspaper readers of the 1890's. Using the Sagamore as his mouthpiece Mr. Belding not only disclosed his love of nature but was able to inflict many good-natured thrusts upon political opponents.

"Mr. Paul" established Belding as a factor in the newspaper life of New Brunswick and he came to be known, as well as an accurate reporter, a skilled hand at telling a newspaper story, endowed with the ability to draw from facts editorial comment that carried weight.

Girl Dishwasher Though Posing as Boy, Gets Minimum Wage

VICTORIA, Jan. 6: (CP)—Clothes may make the man but they also make the woman as one restaurant proprietor here can testify.

A young boy applied for a job as dishwasher in a cafe. He was engaged at a boy's salary and for some months worked assiduously at the sink.

Suddenly he became temperamental and after an argument with the cook, quit and was paid off.

A week later an investigator for the Female Minimum Wage Board called on the proprietor and told him he had been paying less than the female minimum wage scale to his girl dishwasher and amount due was $80.

Further investigation revealed that the "boy" was a girl and had worn boy's clothes for years and adopted a boy's name.

But when she quit her job she donned female garb, went over to the Labor Department, told officials she had been underpaid and demanded the female minimum wage. She got the arrears.

The Minimum Wage Act calls for a lower wage for young boys but, after the age of 16, they must be paid a female minimum wage scale if they do girl's work.

The cafe proprietor swears that all future applicants must present their birth certificates.

SIMPSON EN FETE

Christmas and New Year Fittingly Celebrated at Neighboring Village

PORT SIMPSON, Jan. 6 — Port Simpson enjoyed a great celebration of the Christmas and New Year holiday season this year. A celebration committee had the matter in hand and carried out its work well. Apart from the religious services, the first event of importance was the dance given on Christmas Monday evening by the Ladies' Aid and the Y. P. E. A., which proved very successful. This was followed on Tuesday by a dance by the Ivy Guild which also proved very enjoyable.

On Thursday a grand concert was put on by the Port Simpson Concert Band in the Y. P. E. A. Hall when an interesting program was enjoyed. "O Canada" was followed by the march "All America," waltz, "Treasurer," overture, "Poet and Peasant," march, "Brook's Chicago Marine Band," vocal solo by Mrs. E. S. Dudoward, "Sing Me to Sleep" with band accompaniment; overture, "Albion," march, "Conscription," overture, "A Night in Berlin," march "Man of the Hour," God Save the King, E. S. Dudoward was conductor.

On New Year's Eve a dance was put on by the celebration committee in the Y. P. E. A. Hall when about forty couples attended. Prizes were given to the ticket holders and a prize was also given to the lady and gentleman dancing the most.

On Monday of this week there was a grand parade at 1 p.m. headed by the celebration committee with the Port Simpson Concert Band providing the music. At two o'clock indoor sports were enjoyed. The grand finale was a hoedown dance arranged by the committee at which there were fully three hundred present. Music was provided by the Royal Canadian Orchestra and dancing was kept up until two o'clock.

BANQUET AT KITKATLA

Chief Gamble and Wife Honored By Members of Village At Silver Wedding

On Monday one of the biggest banquets ever held in Kitkatla was given by the Excelsior Club to celebrate the silver wedding of Chief and Mrs. E. H. Gamble.

The band paraded the streets and then conducted the guests of honor to the banquet hall where they were given an enthusiastic welcome by the 197 people already in their places. Rev. G. H. Goodreed pronounced the blessing at commencement of the proceedings over which George Douglas presided as toastmaster.

Union Jacks were used for the decoration scheme and the ladies waiting on sumptuously laden tables wore blue and white or green and white uniforms.

Toward the close of the feast Mrs. Gamble cut the four-tier cake and the presentation of gifts began. These were from different organizations in the village and from individual members of the community. They were all silverware and ranged from elaborate tea and coffee sets to serviette rings. One of the gifts was a purse containing $25 in cash from officials of the British Columbia Packers. At each presentation a speech was made, each extending congratulations and hopes for the continued happiness of the guests of honor. The band played selections at intervals under the leadership of Henry Brown.

In the evening the Nelson Orchestra played for the dance which lasted until the early hours of the morning.

Banquet Program
The banquet program included speeches by Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson, James Lewis, Matthew Hill, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Goodreed, Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis, Mrs. Stanley Hill, Henry Colison, Eddie Clifton (Hartley Bay), Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis, Mrs. Dorothy Gordon, Mrs. Henry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lewis, Joseph Innes, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill and Mrs. David Douglas. Musical numbers included trombone solo by Chris Nelson, accompanied by Norman Lewis, and violin solo by George Stewart of the Naas River.

Music And Drama Festival Is Proposed Similar To Peace River For Close Of Fishing Season

Rev. Roy Durnford Tells Rotary Club What Was Done at Rolla and Suggests it Would Work Well in Prince Rupert

The proposal was made at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club yesterday that Prince Rupert should put on a big music and drama festival as a means of setting a higher standard of social consciousness and developing the arts in the city and also as a means of increasing the interest in Prince Rupert among neighboring communities. The suggestion came from Rev. Roy Durnford, rector of St. Peter's Anglican Church, in the course of an address on the Peace River in which he told how the people of Rolla, only a small community in the Block, had successfully staged such an event for the whole of the Peace River Block.

The first thing the people of Rolla did after they conceived the idea was to appoint a committee interested in either music or the drama and this committee communicated with the Department of Education at Victoria from which it received much help and encouragement. The department suggested a plan for the competition and also sent Major L. Bullock-Webster to act as judge of the dramatic section including elocution.

The festival lasted two days and nights and people came from all parts especially to be present at the final great night when the winners were announced. Young and old took part and the community life was strengthened as a result. Also incidentally business was boosted a little.

"Why should not such a festival be held in Prince Rupert?" Mr. Durnford asked. It would be a great event to put on at the close of the fishing season when there is usually a slack period.

Mr. Durnford suggested the first thing to do was to form a committee to handle the festival. The next was, in collaboration with the department, to draw up a syllabus, to arrange for proper staging in a suitable building and secure gifts of cups and medals for annual competition. He felt sure that at the close, the committee would find itself with funds on hand to donate to the new civic centre project.

In the Peace River those living at a distance were aided either in the matter of transportation or in finding them living quarters while in the city. Other costs were for the stage setting, printing and advertising. Yet, at the close, they found they were over one hundred dollars to the good. Prince Rupert being a much larger community should be able to do much better than that. Doubtless, the Provincial government would co-operate as they did in the Peace River Block.

VALUE OF VISCERA

Dr. Carter Tells Ottawa Meeting Of New Discovery Here—Salmon Investigation on Skeena To Be Extended

OTTAWA, Jan. 6: (CP)—Previously considered useless and thrown away, viscera of halibut, the liver of which is used in manufacture of medicinal oils, has also been discovered to be rich in Vitamin A, a valuable medicinal oil ingredient, the Fisheries Research Board of Canada was told yesterday. The discovery was developed in the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station at Prince Rupert under Dr. Neal M. Carter, director of the station, who, with John Dybavn, a member of the board, is attending the annual meeting here.

The meeting approved in principle enlargement of the scope of the proposed investigation of Skeena River salmon fisheries with a view to rehabilitating those valuable fishing grounds and efforts will be made to ascertain the cause and remedy the fifty percent reduction in catch during the past fifteen years.

PICTURE IS FINE

"Four Daughters" Hailed as One of Year's Outstanding Screen Productions

"Four Daughters," picturization of a famous novel by Fannie Hurst, is the week-end feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here. A moving tale of four devoted sisters who fall in love with the same young man, the film has a unique cast. The four sisters are Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola Lane, who are actually sisters in real life, and Gail Page, Jeffrey Lynn, handsome newcomer, who has been hailed as the "find" of the last year in the movie world, is the young man. John Garfield, Dick Foran and Frank Hugh are other young men with May Robson, always popular, in the part of the chaperone.

The bond between the oldest and the youngest of the sisters is so deep that one cannot bear to be the instrument of the other's unhappiness. Acting upon a sacrificial impulse, she runs away only a few minutes before her scheduled marriage and weds another. This starts a chain of circumstances which makes the picture a rich and human experience. While the mood is sometimes that of tragedy, it also has its gay and light-hearted moments and concludes on a note of uproarious comedy. "Four Daughters" has been acclaimed by a number of previewers as an outstanding possibility for Academy of Moving Picture Arts and Science honors.

JOE RABBIT IS LATEST

Cheese-Eating Bunny Prized By Vancouver Poultry Dealer

VANCOUVER, Jan. 6: (CP)—Almost everybody has heard about "Donald the Duck," "Mickey, the Mouse" and "Pluto, the Pup," but have you heard of Vancouver's cheese-eating "Joe, the Rabbit?"

People have been calling him "Oscar" and many have called him "Archibald" so Harry Stevens, poultry dealer, decided to tell his real name.

It's "Joe" and he came out of a magician's hat.

He leaps onto fruit counters in Vancouver's Public Market where he lives and steals plums and apples. He sits on his haunches for cheese or raisins. He's mostly white with almost red eyes, grey-brown ears and a brown tip on his nose.

Once he was just another prospective dinner for sale until Stevens got an order for 80 of his kind for a conjurer's vaudeville act.

The magician pulled Joe from his haberdashery at a show and gave him to a boy. The boy found him too much and sold him back to Stevens because he was changed—he had been somewhere and seen something.

Now he bounds up to astonished cats and dogs who look into the market and they either walk away in amazement or accept him.

"He's a pet and I couldn't sell him," says Stevens, eyeing his stock of dinner table bunnies.

Church Building Has The Jitters

WORCESTER PARK, Eng., Jan. 5: (CP)—Unusual nature of the soil in this village causes St. Philip's Church to move up and down.
