OTTAWA. September 16: (CP)-Creation of a government board empowered to regulate the control of foreign exchange transactions, licence imports and exports of all goods, monies and securities and use an exchange stabilization fund as an aid to maintaining exchange rates was announced Friday night by Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister of finance. The control becomes effective today and will be administered with the technical advice of the Bank of Canada with post offices and branches of the chartered banks carrying out, as agents, the various local functions which are of widespread character.

Graham Towers, president of the Bank of Canada, is chairman of the board. The Bank of Canada acts as technical adviser as well as banker for the board.

Local branches of banks are already in receipt of their instructions as to the new foreign exchange regulations.
