Winter May Suspend Finnish War

League Of Nations Moves Against Russia

MEDIATION IS REFUSED

Russia Gives Answer To League Of Nations Ultimatum

GENEVA, Dec. 13.—Soviet Russia Tuesday night formally refused the offer of the League of Nations to mediate the dispute between Russia and Finland. The negative reply of the Soviet was delivered to Geneva three hours after the expiry of the League's twenty-four hour ultimatum. After the twenty-four hours had expired, the League extended the time by sixteen hours for the Soviet to make its reply.

The next move is expected to be the expulsion of Russia from the League of Nations although the League members may not be agreeable to this. The Soviet has intimated that it will break off diplomatic relations with all nations that vote for its expulsion.

The Soviet reply to the League was brief but polite. It was written by Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov and said: "The Soviet extends thanks for the kind invitation which it finds it impossible to accept." Russia, Molotov added, was not "invading but was 'helping' Finland against renegades which were governing it.

Looks Like Expulsion

The League of Nations moved further towards expulsion of Soviet Russia from membership today when a special committee adopted a report including an expulsion clause directed against the Soviet as an aggressor against a fellow member. The expulsion proposal, sponsored by Bolivia, was divided into two clauses, the first summoning aid for Finland and the second imposing penalties upon Russia and invoking the expulsion clause of the League Covenant.

Another special committee, upon which Great Britain, France, Sweden and other nations including Latin-Americans, will now examine the report and present it to the Assembly from which it will require majority approval. Then it will have to receive unanimous approval of the Council before becoming effective.

Observers believe that all these steps leading up to expulsion of Russia will be taken.

BREMEN IN HOME PORT

Great German Liner Successfully Runs British Blockade

The $20,000,000 luxury liner, Bremen, in charge of a naval crew, docked Tuesday afternoon at Bremenhaven in Germany, finally getting home after having sailed from New York thirty-six hours before the war commenced. Twice the vessel ran the British blockade. The German Admiralty stated that the Bremen had a close call by having encountered a British submarine which appeared to be preparing to fire a torpedo when German airplanes came along and it submerged, being seen no more.

The British Admiralty had claimed that a submarine refrained from torpedoing the Bremen without giving warning which would have been in contravention of the laws of international warfare.

The Bremen will now be given a thorough overhaul and kept in sea condition. She and her sister ship, the Europa, are being specially guarded and the German authorities declare grimly that "death awaits" any enemy attempting to approach them.

War News

GERMANY BACKING RUSSIA

LONDON—It is believed in official quarters here that Germany is actively backing Russia in the invasion of Finland. The Reich is reported to be blocking the entry of supplies to Finland. The Soviet and Reich plan to eventually set up zones of influence in Scandinavian countries as well as the Baltic.

SWEDEN HELPS FINLAND

STOCKHOLM—Prime Minister P. A. Hansson, in announcing the formation of a new coalition government for Sweden today, expressed the people's will to give material aid to Finland in its resistance to Russian aggression but listed defence of neutrality and safeguarding of "vital supplies" as Sweden's predominant aims.

CHURCHES AS HOSPITALS

LENINGRAD—Churches here have been converted into military hospitals as a steady stream of Red Army casualties from the Finnish frontier taxes the city's regular hospital facilities.

GERMANS REPULSED

PARIS—German forces launched six small attacks on French outposts as well as a number of small raids in the vicinity of the Saar but eventually were driven back with heavy casualties by withering French artillery and machine gun fire. There were air raid alarms in northeastern France today.

TREATS FOR SAILORS

TORONTO—Christmas treats will be provided by the Navy League of Canada for sailors of Canadian warships in such ports as Victoria, Esquimalt, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Halifax and Saint John on Christmas Day. Hundreds of bags are being prepared.

HIT BALLOON BARRAGE

LONDON—Four British fliers were killed when a Royal Air Force plane collided with a balloon barrage yesterday.

COLLIER SINKS

LONDON—The 496-ton British collier Marwick Head has been destroyed by a mine off the east coast. Six members of the crew are missing.

SOLE SURVIVOR

SWEDISH LOSS

LONDON—The 575-ton Swedish steamer Algot was mined in the straits between Denmark and Sweden.

NURSING SISTERS WAITING

First Division Nurses Mobilize in Toronto—Local Girl Among Them

By MURIEL ADAMS

Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO, Dec. 13: (CP)—Forty-six bright-eyed girls are eagerly awaiting troop movements that will involve their boarding a ship for England to take their part in winning the war.

They are the nursing sisters from all parts of Canada chosen from the hospitals in Military District No. 2 who have been listening to lectures on military discipline, studying anti-gas precautions, drilling and tending soldier-patients in Toronto since war was declared in September.

There are tall ones, short ones, plump and slightly built ones, among the nurses aged between 23 and 35. Some wear spectacles, many have curly hair and others comb their locks straight back under their filmy white veils worn over the shoulders with their Dutch blue uniforms and white aprons.

They have all signed up "for the duration" and are under military jurisdiction, the same rules applying to them as to officers for they all hold the rank of lieutenant.

"It's the natural instinct for a nurse to want to enlist her ser-

Smithers Raises $1300 In Drive For Red Cross

SMITHERS, Dec. 13:—At a meeting of the campaign committee of the Red Cross Society Monday evening, it was found that collections to date for Smithers and district, which includes Telkwa, Evelyn, Glentanna, Driftwood and Quick, approached $1300. The president, Mrs. Dando, and campaign manager, W. J. Turner, were very pleased with the success of the drive.

Minutes the minute there is an emergency," Matron Agnes Neill said for her charges. Tall and dark, Miss Neill, with the rank of captain, hails from Peterborough, Ont. Formerly she was surgical superintendent at the Toronto General Hospital. Her assistant is Miss Mary Schaffner, dark also but small in stature, whose people live in London, England.

Since qualifications state that nurses must be unmarried or widows and the girls are all fairly recent graduates there will not be any wedding rings noted on the capable nursing sisters' hands. Marriage is out. They can only leave the army if they are found physically unfit, unfit for overseas duty or incompetent. "And that is not likely as they were all carefully chosen," Miss Neill said.

"There's only one war in a life."

Parliament In Secret Session

LONDON, Dec. 13: (CP)—Special guards were selected and soundproof doors installed in the House of Commons for a secret Parliamentary debate today on munitions and other war supplies. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain called the session which was the first secret one believed to have been held since January 1913. It was requested by Opposition members.

Douglas Fairbanks Trained on Shakespeare—Made Many Great Pictures

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 13: (CP)—Unintentionally, Douglas Fairbanks Sr., famous screen actor, who is dead here, was trained for the films on Shakespeare. His family being fond of dramatic art and possessing notable talents in the profession, he was reared in those polite accomplishments which go so far to fertilize the preparatory soil for the seeds of Theosis. His boyhood training at Denver, where he was born, included fencing, dancing, Delsarte, dramatic literature and a wide range of athletic exercises beside regular academic studies. Becoming proficient, his characteristic enthusiasm made him keenly ambitious for the stage.

In Denver Fairbanks was educated at the Jarvis Military Academy, at East Denver High School and at the Colorado School of Mines.

When he was seventeen, his wish was gratified. Frederick Warde, a family friend, met young Douglas Fairbanks and added him to his repertoire company in New York, where the youthful aspirant ran the whole gamut of Shakespeare, acquiring valuable experience which he supplemented in special courses in Harvard University. Before long, Douglas Fairbanks was a Broadway star, the youngest of his rank.

Fairbanks film career started in 1914 after his stage successes in the East. Motion pictures were gaining great following and prestige at the time and the favorite showmanship device of motion picture entrepreneurs was to acquire for a picture the services of a prominent Broadway stage star. Hence, when Douglas Fairbanks yielded to their lure he could do so at a salary of $2,000 a week. He was induced to enter the film field by David Wark Griffith, during a chat at the New York premiere of Mr. Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation."

His first film production was "The Lamb." It was made for the old Triangle Company. Others even more popular followed so that it soon appeared the stage success of young Fairbanks was being repeated on the screen. His happy sense of virile comedy and thrilling acrobatics whetted the popular film taste and a new type of picture was established.

For a period, he distributed his pictures through Arterraft, which was afterward acquired by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. These were produced by Douglas Fairbanks Pictures Corporation and included "In Again, Out Again," "Wild and Woolly," "Down to Earth," "Man from Painted Post," "Reach-

OLD LAND YULETIDE AS USUAL

Turkey Situation Near Normal and Shops Alive With All it Takes For Merry Christmas

By HAROLD FAIR

Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Dec. 13: (CP)—It will be more than a war to spoil the Englishman's Christmas and present indications point to the Yule season being almost up to par. There will be regrets of course in home-where men are at the front but John Bull is going to try to keep smiling.

The wit—if you'd call it that—has begun. A staid press bureau release from the ministry of food bears the headline "Xmas Fare Will Be Very Fair." The ministry believes "our first Christmas of the war will find us a land of plenty and good cheer."

Christmas cards appear in the London stores, seaside resorts are preparing entertainment for the holiday influx, plans are being drafted for Christmas leave for some of the troops. Toymakers are working full blast and—most welcome to the Englishmen—there will be no shortage of supplies.

Housewives, worried over supplies for Christmas cakes and puddings, have government assurance that supplies will be adequate and at moderate prices. The food ministry has made bulk purchase of dried fruits. Supplies were delayed owing to limitations of shipping but the situation is being rectified.

AIR MINES COMBATTED

Great Britain Resorts To New Method of Aerial Warfare—First Flight Is Successful

LONDON, Dec. 13: (CP)—The Air Ministry today announced a new method of combatting the German practice of laying mines with airplanes. "Security patrols" of Royal Air Force planes made flights over four main German North Sea bases at the islands of Sylt, Borkum, Norderney and Heligoland. The ministry said the flights were designed to interrupt activities of mine laying aircraft and were carried out successfully "despite considerable anti-aircraft opposition." Such flights are entirely new in aerial warfare.

The ministry said the flight would be continuously maintained but gave no other details.

Snow Arrives In Bulkley Valley

Countryside Has More Seasonable Appearance—Roads Harden Up

SMITHERS, Dec. 13:—Snow has arrived at last in the Bulkley Valley to put a more seasonable and Christmas-like appearance on the countryside.

The snow started falling on Sunday afternoon and about four inches was on the ground when it had stopped. The weather is not cold, however, as it just stays around the freezing mark but the roads have hardened up a bit which makes for better travelling than has been experienced for the past six weeks.

FINAL BULLETINS

STEAMSHIP WRECK TOLL IS 700
WAKKANAI, Hokkaido, Japan—More than seven hundred Russians are missing and believed drowned or frozen to death in the wreck of the Russian steamship Indigirka on the treacherous Hokkaido Island coast. A Japanese ship, arriving with three survivors, reported the disaster which occurred in a blizzard yesterday. The vessel was a comparatively small one of 2,690 tons but was crowded with 1000 passengers.

RUSSO-JAPANESE TREATY
TOKYO—The Foreign Office, through a spokesman today, confirmed that Japan would open negotiations with Soviet Russia on January 10 looking toward a trade treaty but said hopes were still held for a new treaty with United States.

MURDER IN VANCOUVER
VANCOUVER, W. D. Nash, aged 39, Hudson Bay Co. tobacco truck driver, was shot and killed at a North Burnaby street intersection last night by an unidentified man who fled from the truck after the shooting. Eyewitnesses said the truck zigzagged for several blocks and then stopped, indicating a struggle in the cab. Nash was shot as he leaped to the pavement.

MEDITERRANEAN CONTROL
ROME—An article yesterday by Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, declared yesterday that Italy was not disposed to remain longer a prisoner of Great Britain and France in the Mediterranean and she was getting into a position where she would break the bondage implied by Gibraltar and Suez. Italy will demand full and secure access and egress to the Mediterranean and will also renew her claim for colonies.

SKATES FOR QUINTS
CALLANDER, Ont.—The Dionne quintuplets will take up skating after Christmas. Each is to get a pair of skates from Santa Claus and a special rink will be established at their hospital home.

ENGLISH CHANNEL TUNNEL
PARIS—The project of a tunnel under the English Channel to connect England and France is being revived and is expected to be undertaken soon after the war. A railway across the Sahara Desert is another French post-war plan.

REDS ON ADVANCE

Russians Driving On Two Campaigns, Either One of Which May Bring Finland To Knees

Stubborn Resistance

Soviet Forced To Use Best Of Its Fighting Forces To Subdue Little Nation

HELSINGFORS, Dec. 13: (CP)—Finland's red invaders, operating from dearly won footholds within the border, pressed two separate campaigns today either one of which, if completed, might bring Finland to her knees. The newest campaign is an effort to outflank the stubborn defenders of Karelian Isthmus. The other is an attempt to advance through the mid-section of Finland to the Swedish frontier, splitting Finland in two. The Russians have advanced one-fifth of the way in this movement.

Fierce fighting all along the Russo-Finnish frontier from Baltic Sea to Arctic Ocean was reported yesterday and, in spite of overwhelming odds, the Finns were still making stubborn and effective resistance against the Russian offensive. The Finns claimed to have annihilated three battalions of Russian infantry, destroying more tanks and capturing a number of machine guns.

Meantime it was reported that the Soviet was preparing to stage a new large scale offensive with 1,500,000 troops and thousands of planes being thrown into action, including the Soviet's best fighting forces, in the effort to crush the Finnish defence.

Russian supply bases and communication lines have suffered heavily from Finnish bombing and machine gunning.

The heavy Russian casualties, which the Soviet itself admits through a much stiffer resistance than it had ever expected, included many men who perished from exposure.

Neutral observers today gave Russia but a week to accomplish its objectives in the invasion of Finland before the paralyzing Finnish winter will call a halt to operations until next spring by which time the defenders will have received effective aid in bolstering up their defences.

MATERIALS FOR HANGAR

Minister of National Defence Heard From in Connection With Local Seaplane Base

A message received by Olof Hanson, M.P. for Skeena, from Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of national defence, said that the War Supply Board had been asked to arrange for materials for a double seaplane hanger at Prince Rupert. This message was in connection with reply to inquiries made in regard to the construction of the new seaplane base at Seal Cove, tenders for preparation of the site of which were invited some time ago followed by the unofficial report that the contract had been let to the Ryan interests of Vancouver. The minister stated that he was making further inquiries into the matter.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Chilliwack, Capt. Talbot, is in port discharging a large cargo of lumber and cement. She arrived at 6:30 Monday evening from Vancouver via the West Coast and will be leaving today on her return south by way of Surf Inlet and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

C.C.F. VIEWPOINT ON RUSSO-FINNISH WAR

On several occasions we have felt that the C.C.F. organ, the Federationist, has been decidedly anti-British and as Canada is part of the British Empire this is a disloyal attitude. At any rate those not for us are against us. Now this week we wish to express appreciation of an article by Angus McInnis, one of the Vancouver members, in this week's issue and also of an editorial expressing similar sentiments. The following is from Mr. McInnis' article:

"Since the pact with Germany all signs were pointing to the fact that Russia had discarded any pretensions to socialism. Every move was a move for power and national aggrandizement. Since the invasion of Finland, Russia stands condemned before the world as an imperialist nation playing power politics as ruthlessly and as regardless of human values as any fascist or capitalist state. Finland, free and independent, could not be a threat to the Soviet Union. If Russia were in danger from aggression, that danger came from two sources only, Germany and Japan. We may assume that the danger from the former was removed by the signing of the non-aggression pact, the revising of Mein Kampf so as not to offend the tender sensibilities of Stalin and the flying of the swastika over the Kremlin. It is obvious that Japan could not use Finland as a means of aggression against Russia, even if Finland were willing to be used. No other country could make war on Russia, even if its government desired to do so. Its working class would have prevented it.

EUROPE'S QUIET CORNER

"If, in the name of democracy, it were desirable to protest against the attacks on China and Spain, it is many times more necessary to protest against the destruction of Finland," continues Mr. McInnis. "There is much more democracy in Finland than there was in China or Spain. Finland is a republic with a parliamentary system of government in which the Socialist Party is the largest group. Like the other Scandinavian countries, she has a strong and efficient co-operative movement. The strength and influence of her trade union movement has been increasing from year to year. The cultural and material standard of living has been steadily rising. Finland has been working in close co-operation with the enlightened democratic countries of the Scandinavian group. In the turmoil of the past few years this part of Europe has been known as 'Europe's quiet corner.' The peace of this quiet corner has now been wantonly broken by a Russian military invasion."

RUTHLESS AND INDEFENSIBLE

"No more ruthless or more indefensible aggression has taken place anywhere in modern times," concludes the writer. "It is equal to anything that has happened in Austria, Czechoslovakia, Spain or China. Finland was willing to arbitrate whatever difference there might be between herself and Russia. Soviet Russia, in repudiating her non-aggression pact with Finland, her acceptance of the Covenant of the League of Nations, her obligation when signing the Kellogg Pact that she would not use war as an instrument of national policy, has totally disregarded in the most brutal fashion, every claim for consideration put forward by Finland. She had set up a puppet government before she had conquered an inch of Finnish soil, recognized it as the government of Finland and signed a treaty with it.

"Socialists everywhere should protest against this invasion of a peace-loving and progressive people by the Soviet government. This is not the way to build Socialism and Democracy. It is the way to perpetuate terror, totalitarianism and barbarism."

PLAYS ARE DELIGHTFUL

Colorful Pre-Christmas Entertainment Staged at Booth Memorial High School

Featuring two excellently staged playlets "The Princess and the Swineherd" and "The King's Warrant," the Junior Dramatic Society of Booth Memorial High School, Harold Nordan, president, last night offered a delightful pre-Christmas entertainment in the auditorium of the school. The audience was so large as to require additional seating accommodation over and above that which had been arranged for. The young actors acquitted themselves with much credit, their efforts fully justifying the enthusiasm with which they were received. The colorful show will be repeated tonight and, doubtless, will be rewarded with another large house.

Miss Janet Rochester and Jerry Woodside played the title parts in "The Princess and the Swineherd" and left nothing to be desired, both displaying considerable talent along the historical line. Gwyn Holtby took the role of the King with the Misses Betty McGinnis, Sheila McRae, Dorothy McLeod and Irene Nordan as ladies in waiting. Pages were Archie McLeod, Jimmy Spence, Vernon Ciccone and Hemsby King. "The King's Warrant" equally entertaining, featured a large cast of boys headed by George McAfee as Robin Hood, others taking prominent parts being Howard Hougan, as an innkeeper; Harold Nordan, as the sheriff of Nottingham; Teddy Capstick, as a stranger; Alistair Crerar, as "Little John," and Vernon Ciccone, as a boy. Robin Hood's men were Gordon Smith, Jack McIntosh, Jack Macey, Bobby Cruickshank, Stanley Hodgson, Donald Wanamaker, Hemsby King, Barry West, Leonard Youngman, Billy Thain, John Christiansen, Archie McLeod, Peter Johnson, Bill Davies and Stanley Wozney.

The opening number on the program was a pretty and well executed Ball Dance by girls of the Junior Dramatic Society—Edith Murovold, Norma Watt, Molly Frew, Betty Ritchie, Gilda Campagnolo and Patsy Moore.

Miss Lois Judge delighted the audience with singing "Over the Rainbow" and "Down Mexico Way" as vocal solos between the two plays.

Vice-Principal W. W. C. O'Neill acted as announcer for the evening and, in a neat speech at the opening, expressed appreciation of the size of the audience, welcoming all present.

The plays were under the direction of Miss Joyce Edgewood and Miss May Jones whose efforts, together with those of all the participants, are worthy of commendation. A feature of especial importance which lent a great deal to the color and effectiveness were the costumes which were under the direction of Miss Frances Watts, Miss Jean Irvine and Miss Ruth Hind.

Miss M. McKenzie was pianist for the plays while Miss Leona Whiffin accompanied the Ball Dance. Miss Frances Moore provided incidental piano music and also accompanied Miss Judge in her vocal solos.

GETS SIX MONTHS

Edward M. McCabe, who was brought to the city a few days ago from Atlin where he had been committed for trial on a charge of retaining stolen property, appeared before Judge W. E. Fisher in County Court Monday afternoon and, electing for speedy trial, pleaded guilty. A sentence of six months' imprisonment was imposed and McCabe was taken on to Oakalla yesterday afternoon.

said he expected "a normal demand, normal birds and almost normal prices." Wholesalers and retailers are preparing to meet the traditional demand for turkey.

War has left its imprint on the toy industry. Shop windows are filled with the latest army devices, such as tanks, Bren guns and anti-aircraft guns. Dolls are dressed in uniform as nurses or women of the Auxillary Territorial Service. Even the snakes and ladders game has been brought up to date with mustard gas and incendiary bombs to trap the unskilled instead of the gaping snake.

More elaborate toys take the form of scale-models of the Maginot Line. Toy makers are looking forward to a good Christmas trade. The war influence has not crept into Christmas cards because they were printed before the outbreak. London scenes, Alpine pictures and other customary topics are there as usual.

Expect Record Trade

Dealers expect a record trade. In addition to the cards sent to men on active service, they expect that thousands will be posted to friends and relatives abroad who normally come home for Christmas.

Cards may be sent free from censorship control to most of the world but control in certain cases is necessary. In the last war enemy agents made extensive use of them to convey information to Germany through neutral countries.

The country is just about ready to go into serious training for the rigors of the two-day food festival, Christmas Day and Boxing Day.

Produced Own Pictures

Afterward he allied himself and his own producing company with United Artists Corporation, the other founders being Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and D. W. Griffith. Fairbanks was still one of the owners and producing members of this corporation. As his own producer and star, Douglas Fairbanks made such films as "His Majesty, the American," "The Molly-coddle," "The Mark of Zorro," "The Three Musketeers," "Robin Hood," "The Nut," "The Thief of Bagdad," "Don Q. Son of Zorro," "The Black Pirate," "The Gaucho," and "The Iron Mask"; with his wife, Mary Pickford, he co-starred in "The Taming of the Shrew," all-talking film version of Shakespeare's "glorious comedy."

"Reaching For The Moon" followed. It was a comedy-drama, the first modern vehicle Mr. Fairbanks had made in many years. Edmund Goulding directed, Bebe Daniels was leading lady.

Douglas Fairbanks was always original and forward-looking in his attitude toward the motion picture, sparing neither time nor financial resources in achieving the particular end he may have visualized. He created a sensation by the production of "The Three Musketeers," which cost him $700,000 to make and which was highly spectacular. Not content with that, he gave half a year of his time to research and production on a romantic drama twice the magnitude of the picture, "The Dumas story," "Robin Hood." This film had been reviewed many times since its original presentation. "The Thief of Bagdad" was fantastic, imaginative and thrilling. The sets and effects of "the flying carpet" alone cost the star small fortunes.

A pioneer, Fairbanks imported from Europe three specialists in color work, spending a fortune for technical advice and experimentation before a foot of film on "The Black Pirate" was taken. Then he screened the romantic adventure tale entirely in Technicolor, contributing to the industry, his genius has so largely affected, the first full length color film by the new process.

In "The Gaucho" he brought forward a leading lady named Lupe Velez. "The Iron Mask" offered his voice from the screen for the first time, being a sequel to "The Three Musketeers" and presenting him again as D'Artagnan.

Thrice Married

Fairbanks was thrice married. His first wife was Beth Sully whom he married in 1907 and by whom he was divorced in 1918. Douglas Jr. was their son. A year later he married Mary Pickford by whom he was divorced in 1933. In 1935 he married Lady Sylvia Ashley. Following the divorce, Miss Pickford married Buddy Rogers, orchestra leader and screen actor.

Hundreds of screen celebrities among them Norma Shearer, have been filling into the Fairbanks mansion to pay their respects.

The actor's wife is prostrated with grief. Only she and their 150-pound mastiff dog, Marco Polo, were present in the room when Fairbanks died. Up to the end, he had not realized that his condition was serious. Mary Pickford remained in seclusion in a Chicago hospital, deeply shocked at her former husband's death.

Telkwa District Being Developed

Accountant For Telkwa Collieries Spent Few Days in City and Told of Work Proceeding There

Joe Dockrill, accountant of the Bulkley Valley Collieries, who spent several days in the city, leaving Monday evening for Terrace whence he will continue to Telkwa tonight, says they have been shipping regularly about five hundred tons of Telkwa coal a month to different points from Prince Rupert to Prince George. The Canadian National Railway uses it in all the section houses, stations and steam shovels. The mine employs twelve men regularly.

Speaking of conditions in Telkwa, Mr. Dockrill says that, since the creamery was established, the place has been livened up considerably. During the summer the creamery was shipping four thousand pounds a week but of course less than that amount now. It is owned and operated by Alfred Miller of Prince George.

In addition to the creamery and the coal mine, there are a number of mining prospects being developed. One of these is a property at Hunter Basin, nine miles from the coal mine. It is operated by the Con-West Exploration Company where six men are working. In the Babine range sixteen men are employed by Messner Brothers erecting bunkhouses and developing the property. Other prospects in the Babine are being developed.

There is a very considerable Dutch colony being formed in the Houston district. Already thirty families have taken over old farms and are extending them and improving the district.

It's the cumulative effect of advertising that counts.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If bile bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Man in the Moon

Soldiers who can sing can win. How about the piano?

Those Britishers make me rather tired. The Germans have been laying mines illegally, sinking British and neutral ships illegally and carrying on like devils and then the British let the Bremen get away because they have no time to notify her that they are about to sink her. They're too blawsted honest.

My wife is so economical we do without almost everything I need.

First Visitor—"My dear, these cakes are as hard as stone."
Second Visitor—"I know. Didn't you hear her say 'Take your pick when she passed them around?'"

The Russians seem to be experts at carving. She cut Poland in two and now she is trying to do the same with Finland.

Collections For Month of November Were Lower Than Year Ago Although Year is Up

City police court fines in Prince Rupert during the month of November this year totalled $193 as compared with $235 in the same month last year. So far this year, fines have aggregated $4575 in comparison with $3312 in the first eleven months of 1938. Police court has been exceptionally busy so far in December with some thirty cases already handled.

Many Attending Revival Meetings

The largest crowd that has assembled at any of the week-night services of the revival campaign, gathered in The Salvation Army Citadel last night.

Several new choruses were learned and the splendid congregational singing was enjoyed by all. Major Jaynes took as his text a familiar passage of Scripture, "Be sure your sins will find you out." From the Biblical days and also those of our time he drew illustrations that proved that sin always in the end secured its victim. The Major also impressed upon the congregation the fact that the only remedy for the present day ills of the world both in a material and a spiritual sense was a return to God. One soul found Christ during this service.

These revival meetings are continuing to be well attended. Major Jaynes will lead a service again tonight and the campaign will be brought to a close tomorrow night when he will give a resume of his life entitling his talk "Forty-three Years of Salvation Army Warfare."

Rev. J. H. Myrwang, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, will be the speaker tomorrow at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club. He will speak on the subject of Capt. Raold Amundsen, famous Norwegian Antarctic explorer. Tomorrow, incidentally, will be the twenty-eighth anniversary of the attainment by Amundsen of the South Pole.

A SUGGESTION

Editor, Daily News: With reference to a paragraph appearing in your paper for some days and to your editorial requesting assistance in obtaining a plan for the use of the troops now in our midst, may I suggest that a subscription list be opened and the proceeds used for the purpose of purchasing a piano. I saw one for sale advertised in your columns a few days ago, going for a snap.

The soldiers—officers, non-commissioned officers and men in the garrison—appear a splendid type. They gave us a good show Sunday night. They are merry and bright and appear as full of fun as a cageful of monkeys, if I may be permitted such a simile. These young fellows are the sort that win wars. That's what the country wants. Let's help to buy them a piano. I will subscribe if a list is opened.

LEAFS LEAD IN SOCCER

Defeated Beavers 3 to 1 In King Edward School Football

Yesterday's football game in the King Edward School League provided another very hard fought game with the Maple Leafs coming from behind to win over the Beavers by three goals to one.

After good combination Holkestad opened the score for the Beavers with a good goal. The Leafs fought hard and from a penalty awarded against Murray for handling Bartlett equalized the score.

The second half found the Leafs pressing and Wilson hit the cross bar. Ormiston and Holkestad were dangerous but Bagshaw cleared. Mairs kept a good goal and was unlucky when a shot from Wilson just got over the line before he caught it. He had no chance at all with a fine cross shot from Pifford. This ended the scoring leaving the Leafs winning three goals to one.

Teams:
Maple Leafs—J. Prince; Bagshaw, Blake; Ness, Rothwell, Bartlett, Grimble; Pat Wilson, Hansen, Arnsten, Sheppard, T. Pifford.
Beavers—Mair; C. Pifford, Menzies; B. Prince, J. Haugan, D. Murray; L. Husoy, Woods, Holkestad, Bye, Ormiston, Bond.
Referee, J. S. Wilson; linesmen, M. Teng, J. Davies, W. Rothwell.

SPORT CHAT

The boys of the Booth Memorial High School Boxing Club are to be congratulated on their sponsoring of the wrestling and boxing show in the Moose Hall Saturday night. It was a good display—every bout—of the manly arts. It deserved a bigger measure of support than it got. There have been many pugilistic shows here not nearly its equal which draw out large crowds of roaring fans. Undoubtedly, another such card, possibly more timely arranged and with some revision of the price scale, would draw a big house. The boys themselves did well in the boxing bouts and the wrestling bout between Private Stan Nelson of the Canadian Scottish and Frank Folger of Prince Rupert was a very creditable squirm show. These boys should be able to pull a better gate and they say that the Scots have even a superior wrestler in Private Darrow Thompson who refereed the Saturday night affair. Incidentally, the falls Saturday night were; first, arm lock by Nelson; second, body press by Folger; third, shoulder press by Nelson.

In the Pacific Coast Hockey League Vancouver Lions and Portland Buckaroos appear to be emerging as the contenders for this winter's first place honors. They are now tied for the leadership with five wins and four losses each while the third team in the circuit, Seattle Sea Hawks, are slumped into the cellar with three wins and five losses. That is the picture following the two to nil shut-out of the Sea Hawks by the Buckaroos at Seattle Saturday night. The race in the Pacific northwest international division continues interesting. Monday night the tie between the Lions and Buckaroos remained unbroken as a result of a two all overtime tie game at Vancouver.

CAMPAIGN SUCCESS

Demand For Apples Strong And Prices Firm—Stores Have Christmas Appearance

The success of the federally sponsored drive to market Canadian apples in view of the collapse of the overseas market due to war conditions and the arrangement of exports to Australia has made the demand so strong that prices are now going up and will probably continue to do so.

Orange prices are very reasonable, the duty on this fruit having been removed a month earlier than usual this year. The crop is uniform and case prices for all sizes are the same.

Japanese oranges are not moving freely as there is still a definite sentiment against them. Florida satsumas are arriving in large quantities and are accepted as a suitable substitute in spite of the higher price.

Local retail stores are very Christmassy in appearance these days. There are no large stocks of Christmas delicacies on hand, particularly imported lines.

In the meat markets buffalo meat from the annual kill at Wainwright Park is being featured and is popular as usual.

SMITHERS

Nominations for commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by the expiry of the term of Charles Morris on the board of village commissioners was held Monday when Returning Officer W. S. Henry waited at the Village Hall for aspirants to the office to file their nomination papers. The only papers put in were those of Mr. Morris himself and he was declared re-elected by acclamation. Mr. Morris has served for many years on the board and has turned in a record for length of service as a commissioner for the town.

Provincial Constable Andrew Grant met with an accident while on duty out in the country Monday. He fell and injured his hip and leg and was brought in to the Smithers hospital where he is now resting comfortably.

A number of veterans left Smithers Tuesday to go to Hazelton where they will join other men and take over the duty of guarding the Skeena Crossing bridge in the next few days. The soldiers who
