British and French Cabinets Are Going Into Emergency Session Tomorrow-Smaller Nations of Europe Making Efforts to Preserve Peace

LONDON, August 21: (CP)— Decision to hold a full cabinet meeting tomorrow co-incident with a French cabinet meeting indicated joint action intended in the grave European situation as Belgium today suddenly called the so-called Oslo group of small powers into conference Wednesday to consider a possible peace move. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain is returning from a fishing trip holiday in Scotland to attend the cabinet meeting. A British government spokesman said that Britain's policy was to resist aggression with "the whole of our strength." He said that the "position remains as stated and is unchanged in any respect."

GERMAN-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT

BERLIN, August 21: (CP)-Political and economic quarters today predicted a sharp upward turn in commercial relations between Germany and Russia following conclusion of a new trade agreement between the two nations over the week-end. At the same time it was stated that Anglo-British-Russian negotiations had struck a new snag.

Conclusion of a trade agreement between Germany and Russia was announced Sunday night. Under the agreement, which opens up Russia's rich natural resources, Germany grants the Soviet an eighty million dollar credit and Russia promised to deliver seventy-two million dollars worth of products within the next two years. Germany will buy raw materials while Russia will take machinery.

The agreement, resulting from months of laborious negotiations in Berlin and Moscow, contains no political clauses in its published form and both Germany and Russian official quarters have denied that political considerations entered into the talks.

HITLER TO SPEAK

Germany yesterday speeded up her already extensive military preparations as Europe entered what may be its final week before a climax next Sunday in the little East Prussian village of Tannenberg. Adolf Hitler, watching Europe's jitters from his mountaintop hideaway at Berchtesgaden, will go to Tannenberg to speak before a massing of Reich troops on a "Military Day Honor" An estimated 2,000,000 more German troops were under arms, including reserve classes as far back as 1897. Soldiers and air force men seen in the streets of Berlin, instead of strolling about in their usual "walking out" uniforms, wore rugged field garb with high field boots and active service caps. This meant they were liable to be recalled to their barracks at a moment's notice by the military police.

Pictures were also shown of slum conditions in Vancouver contrasting them with the conditions there and also what was being done to better the schools and general conditions for the raising of children. New Zealand, Mr. Archibald declared, had the highest standard of living of any country in the world today. Unemployment had been completely eradicated and labor had now to be imported. Conditions were such there that young people were being attracted from as far afield as Canada. Even at Terrace two young New York, 8-2, Philadelphia, 4-3. men were preparing to leave. INCIDENTS AND COUPS

We are now so used to incidents and coups that nothing but real war will start us out of our complacency. There seems to be something every day to fray our nerves or irritate us with the result that we have become inured and careless. Eventually nothing will worry us any more and even war will be taken as a matter of course.

Some people feel confident there must be war soon and others think it will never come. At any rate it is good to know that the Empire is in a position to resist. Even CONNECTIONS WANTED here near Prince Rupert we have an air base practically west African importers and excompleted at Aliford Bay and we are told that, just as soon as it is finished, activities will be transferred to Seal Cove. At the entrance of the harbor guns could quickly be mounted and we should be better off from a defence point of view than ever we have been in the past.

TO PEOPLE WITH GARDENS

People with gardens are asked to co-operate again . this year in making the annual flower show a success. It will be held the middle of next week and those who have flowers are asked to exhibit them and those who do not have flowers to exhibit are asked to make the show their headquarters on flower show day. This is one of the events which helps to interest people in gardening and, if the gardeners attend, they get inspiration themselves and help others. A great feature of gardening is that it tends to bring about a fellowship of those who have the same common interest.

Important

The personal well-being of every man, woman and child in British Columbia is in direct ratio to their support of home industry.

"How can such a little thing as my failure to specify 'Made in B. C. Products' every time I make a purchase adversely affect me and my neighbor?" The answer to this question is a matter of simple multiplication. There are 790,000 people living in British Columbia, each one with the privilege of exercising "free-will" to buy B.C. Products even as you.

Yes, indeed, its important to you . . . to your neightbor to British Columbia . . . that you ALWAYS SPECIFY "MADE IN B.C. PRODUCTS" when you make your day-byday domestic purchases.
