JAPANESE SALMON IN BRITAIN

Methods of Marketing Told in Special Article to Financial Newspaper

The Financial Post of Toronto published a special article from its own correspondent in London telling how Japanese salmon is marketed in that country. The article says:

Bitter feeling aroused in Great Britain respecting Japanese trade may benefit Canadian exporters to England. This arises out of the widely-publicized recent sale of 380,000 cases of canned salmon to British importers by Japanese canners. The amount involved is estimated at close to $9 millions.

The group in London which controls the Japanese imports buys virtually the entire Japanese export pack each year. The particular sale just put through is quite routine but may have been hurried because of circumstances this year. The story of Japanese salmon in the British market is mixed up with deceptive markings, low price, improper classification. With Canadian salmon advertising now in full swing and sales promotion men calling on the retailers, the controversy over the latest sale is said to have added tremendously to the value of the advertising space being devoted to the Canadian product.

Editorial comments in every United Kingdom paper of importance is claimed to be worth thousands of pounds.

Whatever the embarrassment to the British government, the effect of the whole business is all to the good from the Canadian standpoint and "the hangover will last for years," to quote one observer.

Trade Not Organized

Unfortunately, the methods of selling Canadian salmon will not permit producers to cash in on this situation nearly as well as they might. Canadian shippers sell unlabelled products and out of thousands of various labels on the markets Canadian salmon makes up some of each. There are some labels that are always Canadian salmon but these are few and always on the quality lines.

The fundamental difficulty is that Canadian canners can't take care of the quality demand and don't meet the price on cheap lines. Thus, it comes about that any given brand may be 75 per cent Japanese and 25 per cent Canadian this year and a different relative quantity next year. Or a line may be all Canadian this year and all Japanese next.

One of the chief objections is that the Japanese hide the country of origin on their label. Under the British Merchandise Marks Act, Japanese salmon must be stamped with the words "Foreign Produce" or be marked "Japan." Favorite trick of Japanese salmon exporters is therefore to label their can with a large "Can." To the Japanese this means "tin" but to the British housewife it suggests "CANada."

Japanese Brands Popular

One way of rectifying the situation would be to sell Canadian salmon exclusively for use with any particular label or Canadian shippers could pool their merchandise under a specific label they control, and advertise this label in competition with the Japanese.

The three best selling brands in Britain, "John West," "Sailor" and "Parsley" are all Japanese. More money is spent to popularize these labels than Canada spends on everything. The whole salmon business is very involved. Any advertising man would condemn it vigorously because it puts the shipper in the hands of his outlets and consumers are completely baffled.

CALGARY ELECTION

Premier Kings Says Dissolving Of Parliament Just Now Is Not Justified

OTTAWA, July 27: (CP)—While the European outlook may be improved, the possibility still remains that Parliament may have to meet again this year to decide questions of peace and war, Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King said last night following the close of a cabinet meeting. For this reason no decision has yet been reached in regard to the date of a general election although a writ is being issued for a Calgary West by-election September 25, this by-election having been necessitated because of the resignation of former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett. The general election situation remains unchanged as a result of the by-election announcement.

"I do not think we would be justified in dissolving Parliament while the present situation in Europe continues," the Premier said.

Carbon Monoxide Cause Of Death

Medical Examination Establishes That This Was Fate Of Eli Green, Essington Indian

It was established to the satisfaction of the coroner yesterday, through medical evidence of Dr. L. W. Kergin, that the death of Eli Green, Port Essington Indian, whose body was found yesterday morning in his trolling boat at the ocean dock, was due to carbon monoxide poisoning. Evidently, deceased was overcome by the fumes and collapsed and died.

On the other hand, the existing system is the cheap way to sell. Like all Canadian companies, the salmon people seem willing to take what they can get if it doesn't cost anything. The Canadian government is the only agency that does anything about Canadian salmon but the people most interested leave their fortune to the whim of the trade and the initiative of the broker.

The Pirates are on even terms with the St. Louis Cardinals as far as games won are concerned but have lost one less. Half a game behind the Cardinals are the Chicago Cubs in fourth place while the Brooklyn Dodgers are also still within striking distance, making an interesting race still for second place. The Cincinnati Reds, idle yesterday, are still out on top with a margin of nine full games and, barring bad luck, should be able to cop the flag this year.

In the American League the New York Yankees increased their margin of leadership by half a game to seven-and-a-half games by routing the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns while the running-up Boston Red Sox were dividing a double bill with Chicago White Sox.

PRICE OF NATIONAL SOCIALISM

Even from the official figures issued by the Nazi government it is clear that Germany is paying an increasingly heavy price for her attempt to turn back the hands of the clock of civilization, says the Victoria Times. Statistics issued by the Reich department of statistics (Reichsgesundheitsamt) tell their own story. Here are a few of the more striking:

	1933	1938
Diphtheria	77,349	149,429
Scarlet fever	79,830	114,243
Spinal meningitis	617	1,826
Infantile paralysis	1,318	5,757
Contagious dys'try	2,865	5,265
Trichinosis	2	21

These factors are responsible for the enormous increase: First, under-nutrition; second, shortage of skilled physicians; third, the extra strain caused by the long hours of work. The greatest increases among industrial workers are shown in the building trades, where the men now work 14 to 16 hours a day.

When Germany drove out her Jewish and liberal doctors she inflicted upon herself an even greater injury than she did to the victims. Not only has there been a marked shortage of good doctors as a result, but the whole medical profession has been demoralized. In 1938 alone, the figures show, there were 766 fewer registered midwives than in previous years.

The most astounding part of the story has to do with figures for venereal disease. An official Nazi publication recently made the specific statement that no less than 75 per cent of the male population of Germany had at one time or another been afflicted with some form of venereal disease. Outside observers are inclined to put this statement down as an unusually wild bit of Nazi publicity. It was made in connection with an anti-disease campaign and seems to have been more concerned with those it was supposed to influence in Germany rather than with world opinion. Nevertheless, it is no secret that the strange kind of morality advocated by the whole Nazi propaganda machine has had other results than the production of a great crop of illegitimate children.

VARIOUS CRUSADES

It is officially reported that the Leadership League is dead. It is also reported, although not officially, that the New Democracy is doing little else but breaking into the C.C.F. These are among the newer crusades which have failed or are about to fail. As we look back we remember prohibition crusades, farmers' crusades, General McRae's crusade and other movements, none of which succeeded in bringing about any permanent change in the country. It is not many years ago that the farmers of Ontario made a crusade against the old political parties and ousted them from office but the farmers were worse than the Liberals or Conservatives when they got into office so they were quickly turned out. History does not give us cause to have much faith in crusades or crusaders.

Seal Cove Wins Junior Softball

Defeated Westview by Score of 11 to 8 Yesterday Afternoon

Another interesting game in the junior boys' section of the Gyro playground softball league was played on Wednesday afternoon with Seal Cove beating Westview by a score of 11 to 8.

Feature of the game was the heavy hitting of both teams. Neither team's pitcher showed much speed, with the result that both were hit freely.

Seal Cove opened with a barrage of hits in the first inning to push over five runs, two more in the second, one in the third and three in the seventh accounting for their total of 11.

Westview scored single runs in the second, fourth and sixth innings and had one good inning, the third, when they scored five runs.

SPORT CHAT

Touring Viennes choristers are "hot stuff" at football down under. Their director says soccer and singing go well together and the youngsters have played many games in Australia and New Zealand.

Arthur Bakewell, Northamptonshire and England batsman, seriously injured in a motor accident two years ago, is now playing in club cricket and hopes to be fit to return to the county team.

A new European 400 - metres hurdle record of 51 6-10 seconds was made during the German championships at Berlin by R. Hoelling. Previous mark was 52 4-10 seconds.

When his partner's drive lodged in the fork of a tree, A. H. McLean, playing in a mixed foursome at Geelong, Australia, climbed to a bough and with a successful shot hit the ball about 70 yards.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, All-England tennis champion, has been pressed to turn professional but he told English sports writers he would not accept any offer.

Capt. George Latham, former Welsh soccer international, who died recently, played for Liverpool, Southampton and Cardiff City before becoming trainer to Cardiff and later Chester.

Following a rugby game between Kulwin and Pier Millan in Australia, captains of both teams rushed up and congratulated the chief referee on his handling of the game.

Denis Brookes, promising young Northamptonshire cricketer, will play for Sir Pelham Warner's eleven against England Past and Present in the Folkestone Festival.

Taisto Maeki, Finnish runner, broke the two-mile world track running record at Helsinki with a time of eight minutes, 53 2-10 seconds.

Velvets Come up From Behind to Defeat Nurses in Close Contest

Velvets defeated Nurses 16 to 13 and Grotettes won over Annette's 14 to 4 in the Ladies' Softball League last night. The former game, as indicated by the score, was the feature of the evening. The Nurses built up an early lead and looked like easy winners with the score standing 13 to 3 in their favor at the end of the fourth. Velvets came right up from behind, however, and scored seven runs in the sixth and six in the seventh. Incidentally, the girls are showing an improvement in their play and are providing good entertainment for the spectators. Weather was ideal last night and there was a good-sized turn-out to see the fair damsels in action.

Johnny Comadina and Andre Letourneau were umpires and D. Montesano acted as scorer.

The line-ups were:

Nurses—Giraud, Andrew, Hibbard, MacDonald, Bourgon, Payne, Morrison, Hunt and Davey.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Peoples Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had led a poor, lousy, dopey, tired and peevish life. Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

W. H. Tobey, C.N.R. divisional superintendent, left by Tuesday evening's train for one of his periodical trips over the line on official duties.

Civic problems was the subject of City Commissioner W. J. Alder in an address before the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon today. President Peter Lakie was in the chair and there was a good attendance of members with a few guests.

Four boys of juvenile age, some of whom have been in trouble before, came up before Magistrate McClymont in juvenile court yesterday on breaking and entering charges and were remanded until Friday evening. The entering of Phillipson's fur trading store, the theft of a rowboat and other incidents of thievery led to the boys being arrested.

HAYING IN INTERIOR

Weather Conditions Turn Ideal In Bulkley Valley

SMITHERS, July 27:—With nearly a week of fine haying weather already past and the weather apparently settled for a considerable period, Bulkley Valley farmers have lost no time in tying into their work and much hay has been cut, cured and coiled in the last few days while the mowers and hay rakes are going from morning until night. The crop is one of the heaviest ever harvested and many poles have been broken on mowing machines while trying to cut through the heavy stands of hay.

The grain crops, too, are coming along splendidly with many fields well headed out and some of the oat fields starting to ripen.

A couple of weeks of fine weather at this time will mean a lot to the farmers of this district as it will enable them to get all their hay crops stacked and bring the grain crops along very rapidly which is a much desired operation on account of the fact that the spring was rather late and the seed late in getting into the ground.

A great deal of the finest kind of hay is being harvested right in town along the sides of the streets and on vacant lots.

C. N. R. steamer Prince Charles, Capt. George Coles, from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands, is due in port at 5 o'clock this afternoon and will sail at 10:30 Saturday night on her return south over the same route.

TRAINING ON SKIS

Vancouver Champion At Jasper In Preparation For Norway Trip

JASPER, July 27:—July skiing in the Canadian Rockies gained recognition of a champion yesterday when Gertrude Wepsala of Vancouver, training for the international competition in Norway in 1940, manoeuvred over the long snow-clad slopes of Mount Athabaska in Jasper National Park. With her coach, Peter Vajda of Zurich, Switzerland, the Dominion titleholder spent four hours above the alpiands, skiing on fresh snow yet under the warmth of a summer sun.

While Miss Wepsala concentrated on slalom and downhill running off a speedy half-mile course near the west shoulder of Athabaska, a party of American and Canadian skiers accompanying her enjoyed the smooth and rolling terrain of a huge basin above the glacier. The champion's training program calls for skiing every other day for a month, the itinerary including Columbia Icefield, Maligne and Tonquin.

BETTER TO BE ARMED

If Britons Are Ready To Fight, World Will Be Safe For Peace. Says Orme Stuart

"If Great Britain is armed to the teeth, the world is fairly sure of peace," asserted Lieut. Orme Stuart, commanding officer of the local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, in speaking before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at its regular weekly luncheon yesterday. Lieut. Stuart reiterated a previously expressed opinion that it would be well for the world if British men from ten to forty-five year of age were all trained and ready to take up arms and use them effectively if emergency should arise. If aggressor nations, knew that that was the position of Great Britain, they would hesitate even more about starting war and the chances of peace being maintained would be greatly enhanced. In other words, Lieut. Stuart is a confirmed subscriber to the belief that the best way to peace is to be ready for war. "We have already had enough of what disarmament has brought us," he declared.

Lieut. Stuart described a training cruise he made early this year to the West Indies with Canada's Pacific Coast destroyer squadron from Esquimalt. He told interestingly of a number of ports visited including San Pedro, Balboa, Panama City, Colon, Kingston, Jamaica and Bermuda, giving impressions of those places as well as waters through which the squadron passed. He referred to the strategic importance both in war and peace of the Panama Canal. Disruption of it would be a major disaster. Although the Panama Canal belonged to the United States, Great Britain was just as much interested in its being safely maintained.

The speaker, after his address, showed a number of interesting moving pictures taken during the cruise. The last scenes were around Prince Rupert which Mr. Stuart declared was equal in beauty to any of the highly colored places of the world which were to be

WEST POINT STORY HERE

With Joan Fontaine as leading lady and Louis Hayward, Richard Carlson, Tom Brown and Alan Curtis taking the male leads, adventures and romances of plebeians enrolled at the United States Military Academy are unfolded in "The Duke of West Point," showing tonight and Friday at the Capitol Theatre here.

The story opens with the arrival from England of Steve Early, who had been spectacularly successful on the Cambridge varsity rugby team, to start life as a West Point cadet. Accustomed to pampering, Steve is "meat" for the yearling corporals who proceed to make his life thoroughly miserable. How Steve, along with the other plebes, goes from one misadventure to another, weathering storms and heartbreaks until the final thrilling climax in the annual ice hockey game between West Point and Royal Military College of Canada, is told in a series of fast-moving poignant scenes.

Other members of the cast include Charles D. Brown, Jed Prouty, Marjorie Gateson, Emma Dunn, George McKay, Nick Lucats and William Bakewell.

PORT HOPE, Ont., July 27: (CP)—Port Hope has dropped its claim to the "prettiest town in Canada." The newspaper here says the town prefers to be known as the "town where radium is refined."

seen in the moving picture theatre travelogues.

President W. M. Watts, president of the Gyro Club, was in the chair and accorded thanks to Mr. Stuart for an interesting half hour. In addition to Gyro members, guests were Douglas Bell, H. Cleland and Bruce Brown of Vancouver and Ernest Meadows and J. T. Harvey of Prince Rupert.

Pinks Beginning to Show up Now In Skeena River—Chief Supervisor of Fisheries Coming North

According to reports at the Dominion Fisheries office, some pinks are now starting to show up in the Skeena and Naas River sockeye nets. There has been only a small showing of pinks as yet in seining areas down the coast. The latest sockeye average for the Skeena River is 75 to 8 fish per boat with a similar number of pinks and for the Naas thirty-five sockeye inside and upwards of 100 outside. The present fine weather is auspicious for fishing and has resulted in a sudden improvement.

J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries for the Pacific Coast, is expected in Prince Rupert this week-end in the course of a tour of fishing and canning operations along the coast. James Boyd, local supervisor, has gone down the coast to meet Major Motherwell and accompany him here.

Walter Hume and Robert Cameron of the local dry dock staff are expected home on the Prince Rupert tomorrow morning from Kelowna where they have been for the past few months in connection with the assembling of the new car barge for Okanagan Lake service which was fabricated at the local yard.

Aboard the steamer Prince George, Capt. James Watt, which was in port from 9:45 yesterday morning until 1:30 in the afternoon bound from Vancouver to Skagway, was the largest list of Alaska tourist passengers the vessel has carried so far this summer. The Prince George will be back here next Monday southbound.

The coastal freighter Salvor, Capt. Albert Georgeson, was in port from the south Tuesday and Wednesday discharging coal and other local cargo.

EXPERT SLATE CARVER HERE

Another interesting native handicraft worker now plying his art at McRae Bros. store here is Arthur Moody of Skidegate Mission, Queen Charlotte Islands, life-long slate carver, who is busy these days with his chisels and other tools and is attracting much attention not only among visiting tourists but on the part of local people. As is quite evident by the fine stock of souvenirs, featuring wonderfully carved miniature totems and other articles, Mr. Moody is a real expert at this kind of work. The material which Mr. Moody uses is brought from Slate Chuck Creek on the Queen Charlotte Islands.

An outstanding example of Mr. Moody's fine work is a large $60 totem which observers declare is one of the finest articles of its kind they have ever seen.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, was in port from 3:30 to 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon southbound from Skagway to Vancouver. The vessel had on board 211 passengers, most of whom were round trip tourists returning south. One person disembarked here from the vessel while two went aboard at this port for the south.

Alaska newspapers tell of the safe arrival at Seward on the coast-guard cutter Morris of the crew of the ill-fated schooner Pandora which is now high on the beach three miles north of Cape St. Elias lighthouse, washed there by a high tide. The Pandora struck a line of rocks after the pilot lost control of the boat after the first impact. The bow was badly damaged, the entire port side stove in with ribs broken along the entire side and the rudder broken off. Virtually everything aboard the boat is lost. Members of the expedition, headed by Dr. Homer Flint Kellens, farmer-evangelist of Oklahoma, including his 21-year-old daughter, Vivienne, are in good health, although drenched by rain during the 28 hours they were on the beach before rescue by the Morris.

Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co.'s freighter Amur, engaged in the ore carrying service between Stewart and Tacoma, will make a special call here on August 4 to load the assay plant machinery and equipment of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. which is being moved from Prince Rupert to Trail. The shipment will be handled over the government wharf and is now being got in readiness.
