King Regrets That Time Does Not Permit of Further Travel in Victoria—Returns to Mainland

VICTORIA, May 31: (CP)—King George, speaking at the provincial government luncheon yesterday, regretted that the time available for his third official function of his Majesty's visit to British Columbia, would not permit him to see the position which Canada occupies in world affairs with Atlantic windows looking toward Europe and Pacific windows toward Asia and the Far East.

"As science reduces the barriers of space, this country will become a thoroughfare between two hemispheres," the King said.

His Majesty referred to the "wonderful welcome" he and the Queen had received everywhere in the westward journey.

"To travel through so grand a country is a privilege to any man," the King declared "but to travel through it to the accompaniment of such an overwhelming testimony of goodwill, from old and young alike, is an experience that has, I believe, been granted to few people in this world. The inspiration it has given us will hearten and encourage us for the rest of our lives."

His Majesty referred to the Dominion's great north land as "a field of enterprise for youth which will take generations to exhaust." He would have liked, said His Majesty, to have been able to have travelled more extensively into the north-land.

The King's audience consisted of distinguished British Columbians who broke precedent by applauding loudly in true western style. Form and substance should be listened to in silence. The listeners, however, were too deeply impressed by His Majesty's remarks to abide by this rule.

Other Formal Functions Earlier in the day the King and Queen left Government House, after an overnight stay following their arrival from Vancouver, and motored to the City Hall where they were formally welcomed to the city by Mayor Andrew McGavin. Civic officials and visiting Reeves were also present.

From the City Hall Their Majesties motored to the legislative buildings where a formal address of welcome was read and presented by Premier T. D. Pattullo. In reply the King said that he and the Queen regretted that time did not permit them enjoying the scenic wonders of other parts of British Columbia.

Scores of persons were presented to Their Majesties at the three formal functions of the day. Their Majesties derived obvious enjoyment during the afternoon from a brief visit to beautiful Beacon Hill Park.

Later at Esquimalt, where colors were presented to the Royal Canadian Naval Station, the King chatted informally with men from the Canadian warships. He joked heartily in conversation with some of them. Queen Elizabeth chatted with Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King and Premier T. D. Pattullo. Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. E. W. Hamber were hosts at dinner to Their Majesties in Government House last night. The evening was spent quietly and this morning aboard the steamer Prince Robert, commanded by Capt. H. E. Neddin, accompanied by the Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, as pilot ship, the royal party left for New Westminster, there to rejoin the royal train this afternoon and start the eastward journey. During the brief stay at New Westminster Their Majesties will visit Queen's Park Stadium to see Maypole dancing, ten

ENGINEER DEAD OF INJURIES

Thomas Somerville Passed Away in Smithers Last Night

SMITHERS, May 31— Thomas Somerville, who was the victim of a serious accident in the railway yards at Smithers last week, died last night in the Smithers Hospital of his severe injuries after putting up a hard fight for recovery from the loss of an arm and a badly broken leg.

Mrs. Somerville had arrived in Smithers from their home in Kamloops.

Mr. Somerville's left arm was so badly broken up that it was found necessary to have it amputated close to the shoulder although it had been hoped earlier that it might be saved. The left leg suffered a compound fracture near the ankle and the bones were badly broken.

Mr. Somerville had arrived in Smithers on the noon train from the East enroute from his home in Kamloops to Prince Rupert where he was to work as locomotive engineer. He was well acquainted with all the local railway men and had left the train to talk to some of them whom he had not seen for some time. He was walking along the side of the track to the engine that was up the track waiting to hook on to the train to pull it out.

He wanted to talk to the engine crew. Some flat cars were being set out by the engine that had just come in and, as they were passing Somerville, he tried to board them. In some manner he fell alongside the track and was hit a number of times by parts of the cars as they passed by. Jim Porteous, with whom Somerville had been talking a minute before, ran to him and pulled him away from the track. Two police constables were also nearby and had a doctor called immediately and rushed him to the Smithers Hospital where he was given every attention.

This was the first serious accident on the railway locally for several years.

He said that Russia must be vigilant and "must remember Stalin's warning about pulling chestnuts out of the fire." He said that no progress had been made with regard to small countries on Russia's borders. Great Britain and France "only think of those whom they guaranteed."

Shut-Out Twice Yesterday by Chicago Cubs Who Take Third Place in National League

CINCINNATI, May 31: (CP)—The National League leading Cincinnati Reds suffered two shut-out defeats at the hands of the Chicago Cubs yesterday. Larry French pitched the Cubs to a six to nil victory in the first game while Vance Page won the second two to nothing. The Cubs, as a result of the double victory, went into third place in the standing ahead of Pittsburgh Pirates who split a double-header with the second place St. Louis Cardinals. Johnny Mize's home run helped the Cardinals win the first game 7 to 2 while Johnny Rizzo made two circuit blows to assist the Pirates to take the night cap 14 to 8. The Reds are now leading the Cardinals by two full games.

BRAUN ID. RECOVERS

Pretty Farm Community Near Terrace Restored After Flood

TERRACE, May 31—Those who visit Braun's Island, four miles west of Terrace, are scarcely able to recognize the place as it appeared three years ago. At the time the Skeena had wrought great havoc, much of the cultivated land had been overrun by the flood and sand dunes had taken the place of the pretty garden patches for which the island was formerly famous. Also there were great piles of driftwood and some of the houses had been overturned or moved away from their foundations to be deposited as the water receded on uneven ground.

Today all this is changed and the government, having provided a good bridge in place of the one which disappeared, the residents have cleaned their land again and put their fences and buildings in order so that one may enjoy a pleasant drive or walk by following the little system of roads on the island. Although the farming operations are still reduced in comparison with their former extent, there are to be seen oats, root crops and garden stuff. A promising feature appears in the new buildings which have been put up in recent months.

GREAT DAY DESCRIBED

Local People Return Home After Having Seen King and Queen in Vancouver

Quite a number of Prince Rupert people returned home on the Prince George this morning after seeing the King and Queen in Vancouver. All declare that the southern metropolis was completely captivated by Their Majesties. Words do not seem, in the opinion of the most of people who attended the memorable occasion, adequate to describe the wonderful personalities of both the King and Queen. Evidently, a wonderful impression was made upon everyone. Particularly lovely is the queen all agree. Her lasting smile captured the affections of all.

Weather was ideal in Vancouver for the King's visit. Their Majesties rode more than fifty miles in an open car. Everybody had ample opportunity to see the monarchs at close hand. In fact, the most of people seem to have seen them two or three times.

Arrangements for the processions and other events were perfectly carried out and not a hitch of any kind marred the great day in Vancouver's history.

AND IT RAINED

When the King and Queen arrived at Victoria it rained and rained hard. This is not said for the purpose of gloating over Victoria but only to show that even in a place that boasts less than thirty inches of rain in the year, a day can be just as unpleasant as it was here last Sunday when everybody wanted to be outdoors but the weather man said "No, stay at home." Happily it was fine in Victoria yesterday, just as it was in Prince Rupert, so the beauties of Canada's most beautiful city were not lost on the Royal visitors.

VYING WITH EACH OTHER

Newspaper editors and special writers are vying with each other in trying to describe the King and Queen as very fine human specimens just as human as most of their subjects. One lady takes almost a column to show how Her Gracious Majesty the Queen is just as natural and charming and happy as thousands of other ladies of the British Empire. Possibly a couple of paragraphs from the Victoria evening paper gives as good an idea as any of how Canadians feel about them:

"One or two phrases which Ontario's Premier employed to describe his impressions of Their Majesties are well worth repeating because of their genuine ring. No need Mr. Hepburn apologize for confessing he was 'so enthusiastic' that he did not know what to say. But he probably summed up his innermost feelings when he called the King and Queen 'great human characters' and gave voice to the conviction that 'they are the right type to preside over British democracy, and to rule the British Empire, particularly in these trying times.' And all the Canadian people who have witnessed at first hand the memorable proceedings which began at Quebec nearly a week ago will acclaim the Premier's tribute to Their Majesties' 'great simplicity, power of understanding and graciousness at all times.'

"The definition of 'great human characters' is one to which Anglo-Saxondom as a whole will heartily respond. From the moment the Royal visitors stepped from the great white ship in which they traveled to this comparatively young world they became a part of the newer democracy of the northern half of this hemisphere. They have now seen and felt for themselves something of the natural impulses which animate their loyal subjects in this part of the British Empire. Small wonder, then, that time-tables drawn up with infinite precision and meticulous solicitude for the comfort and convenience of Their Majesties already on one or two occasions have made way for the gracious manifestations of simple friendliness and understanding of these two 'great human characters.'

GARDEN NOTEBOOK

Sometimes I wonder if readers will not tire of my rambling little items on gardening. However, so many refer to them, even out of town people, that I feel impelled to keep on as occasion offers. Now that Prince Rupert is thoroughly garden-conscious it seems right and proper that there should be a garden column as well as a sports column and a waterfront column.

I am told that Miss Harrison had a very fine showing of English wallflowers in the garden of the Nurses' Home. Many people try to grow these flowers but few get satisfactory results. Evidently they do not like our moist winters. Perfect drainage and a sheltered spot seem to be the chief requirements. One summer I sowed some seed and had a patch of nice little plants that wintered well but none of them bloomed and the following winter the frost killed them all.

The Siberian wallflowers are a pretty fair substitute for the English but they are not so fragrant and are not usually as highly esteemed. However they make a great showing in the gardens. They are just now coming into bloom. Seeds sown now should produce strong plants for next year's blooming.

Flowers now about to bloom include Siberian wallflower, day lilies, sweet rocket, thrift, columbine, summer snow and some of the sedums and saxifrages. Sam Massey has a dwarf dahlia coming in bloom but it has been coddled in the greenhouse. Flowers now in bloom include the leopardsbane, (big yellow daisy), aubretia, pheasant-eye Trollius, white rock, pansies, violas, alyssum saxatile.—H. F. P.

Smithers Wins New Hazelton Baseball Game

SMITHERS, May 31.—The Smithers Athletics baseball team visited New Hazelton on Victoria Day and defeated New Hazelton by a score of 16 to 6, thus avenging a defeat they had suffered earlier in the season. Three rookie pitchers for New Hazelton were unable to cope with a Smithers batting spree. Bill Spooner, veteran third baseman, being called in to complete the day's hurling duty for the home team. Mike O'Neill pitched his usual cagey game for Smithers, keeping eight hits well scattered. Besides doing effective mound duty, Mike led the Smithers' fourteen hit batting attack with three two-baggers.

Velvet Defeats Pioneer Laundry By Score of Five To Two In Stuart Shield Football Series

FOOTBALL SCORING SUMMARY

Last evening's Stuart Shield football fixture provided an interesting game with Velvet scoring the first victory of the season by beating Pioneer Laundry by five goals to two before a good crowd.

At the start Douglas was called on to save from Ferguson and, at the other end, Cross tested Krause. Sam Currie was playing a good game. Simundsen scored from Cross's pass but Cameron equalized from close-in. Gillis added a second. The Laundry attacked following Sunberg's long drive, and Krause was lucky to save on the line from Simundsen. Play was fast and the Laundry attacked for a small. Holkestad beat Douglas from close-in.

Cameron shot high over. W Gomez tried out Krause and then, after clearing well, Bremner gave away a penalty foolishly. Ferguson drove the shot straight at Douglas who saved easily. W Gomez centred well and Cross scored a good goal. Play became much faster and Douglas saved repeatedly. Vance defended well. Cameron missed an open goal and Douglas cleared from Gillis. Towards the end H. Dickens scored when his shot was deflected past Douglas and later added another with a rather simple looking high shot.

F Gomez was the better back but the half-back line of Veitch, D Gomez and Greer checked the opposing forwards well. Forwards were not so good although they got five goals between them. Gillis and Holkestad were the pick.

Douglas saved many a shot and had little chance with most of the goals. Currie was very clever and

MATRICULATION CLASS

Editor, Daily News: During the past few weeks, a few citizens, who are keenly interested in establishing a Senior Matriculation Class in Prince Rupert for the coming fall session, have met and discussed ways and means of obtaining same, with the result that we are now practically assured that our objective may be attained.

Commissioner W. J. Alder has agreed that if eight or more students are enrolled and the sum of $1,250.000 raised by the parents of the students, that he will establish a Senior Matriculation Class here. At this date we have eight students desirous of attending Senior Matriculation Class in Prince Rupert, but it would be advantageous to enlist more students, thereby reducing the burden of expense put upon the present few that are endeavouring to establish this class. Ten students would mean an assessment of $125.00 each, and for thirteen or more a minimum of $100.00 per student has been fixed.

Anyone in Prince Rupert or Northern British Columbia who is interested in this project, please communicate with the undersigned who will gladly furnish more detailed information.

NEW AND BETTER

COLD CURED ICE

For the Halibut and Salmon Fleets

Following the investigations of the Fisheries Research Station, the Company has just completed extensive changes and improvements in ice storage and ice delivery methods.

Ice for the boats will all be old ice, thoroughly cured or aged at new low temperatures. It will be delivered into the hold, even in the hottest weather, as cold as the storage room.

Fishermen are invited to inspect the new system. Better ice than ever before, at no increase in cost, means economy to the boat and improved quality in fish delivery.

Victoria Day Is Celebrated

TERRACE, May 30.—Weather was not propitious for Victoria Day but, under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, the sports took place in the park at Terrace. About 150 young people joined in the events including jumping competitions for boys and girls. A light drizzling rain kept up most of the day. In the evening, in spite of a heavier downpour, a considerable crowd attended the dance in Oddfellows' Hall.
