Momentous Week In Europe Coming

DALADIER IN PARIS

French Premier, Home from Tour, To Meet British Prime Minister Tomorrow

PARIS, Jan. 9: (CP)—"Great tasks lie ahead if the Empire is to be kept intact," said Premier Edouard Daladier on his return Sunday from a tour of French Mediterranean and North African possessions.

The Foreign ministry announced today that Italy had protested to France against an alleged anti-Fascist demonstration during Daladier's tour of Tunisia. The protest charged that demonstrators had torn down and burned an Italian flag.

Tomorrow Premier Daladier will meet Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain who will be in Paris on his way to Italy. Broad political and economic questions will be discussed including Italian territorial expansion.

In some quarters it is said that this may be the most momentous week since Munich in European affairs, marking a decisive phase in international relations.

FORESEES UKRAINE TROUBLE

Veteran Newspaper Correspondent Makes Predictions Concerning International Affairs

NEW YORK, Jan. 9: (CP)—Dewitt Mackenzie, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent, who landed at the end of the week from Europe, expresses the opinion that the Ukraine may be Europe's trouble spot this year and that there may be a clash between Germany and Russia if Chancellor Adolf Hitler makes an attempt to extend Nazi expansion in that direction. However, Mackenzie believes the trouble, if it materializes, may be localized.

Hitler will again be the dominant figure in European affairs this year, Mackenzie predicts, with Mussolini his principal rival for the limelight.

There is no prospect for an end of the Spanish civil war this year, asserts Mackenzie.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Jan. 9: (CP)—King George and Queen Elizabeth are not scheduled to visit Sault Ste. Marie in the course of their tour of Canada this summer but the entire population of Sault Ste. Marie is to be given the opportunity of seeing their Majesties. The mayor announced yesterday that arrangements were being made to run a special train to Franz, 105 miles distant on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to take 800 people there at the time the monarchs pass.

Miss Margaret St. Clair, who is attending school in Vancouver, will sail by the Cardena tomorrow afternoon on her return south after spending the Christmas and New Year holiday season here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. St. Clair.

Veteran Railway Engineer Has Close Call When Head Is Struck By Mail Crane

PRINCE GEORGE, January 9: (CP)—A. J. Rogers, veteran Canadian National Railways engineer, described today how he barely escaped decapitation while driving a passenger train one hundred miles east of here Saturday in a snowstorm.

Rogers was knocked unconscious when his head struck a mail sack crane while leaning out of the cab window into the snow.

The engineer suffered a severe gash on the head but was able to proceed home on Sunday.

Physicians said the injury might have been fatal had the crane arm been lower.

JAPAN ON BLACKLIST

No Airplanes or Bombs Being Supplied by United States, It Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9: (CP)—The United States was disclosed today to have blacklisted Japan from further purchase of either airplanes or bombs because of bombings of civilian populations in China. The ban went into effect last July 1.

Spain was prevented from purchasing munitions in United States in 1937.

The information was contained in the annual report of the National Munitions Control Board submitted to the Senate.

Former Prime Minister of Canada To Be Made Freeman Of Vancouver Tonight

VANCOUVER, Jan. 9: (CP)—Former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, visiting here before leaving for England to take up future residence, will be made a freeman of Vancouver tonight. He joins a distinguished and exclusive company consisting of Sir Percy Vincent, former Lord Mayor of London; Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and Laughlin A. Hamilton, a member of Vancouver's first city council now living in Toronto and Florida.

In addition to the banquet tonight when he will be made a free man of Vancouver, Mr. Bennett was honored at a noon reception today.

On his arrival in Vancouver yesterday, the former Prime Minister was greeted at the station by Mayor or Lyne Telford.

LONDON IS INTRIGUED

Romantic Adventure of British Engineer and Russian Wife Captures Fancy

LONDON, Jan. 9: (CP)—Intrigued by the romance of the adventure which had been played up by newspapers, Londoners gave a great reception yesterday to Bryan Grover, British engineer, and his wife, a Russian-born girl, following their return from Moscow in order to pick up his wife, from whom he had been separated for years. Grover made a flight without permit from Stockholm to Russia in a decrepit airplane. He was intercepted by Soviet officials and placed under arrest. On telling his story Grover was fined $300 and his plane confiscated but he was permitted to leave the country and take with him his wife who had previously been denied release from Russian citizenship.

Grover admitted that he was "broke" but this did not detract from the warmth of the welcome which he was accorded.

MOONEY IS WELCOMED

San Francisco Demonstrates At His Return Home From San Quentin Penitentiary

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9: (CP)—With thousands of people lining Market Street five deep for a length of two miles, Labor staged a great welcome demonstration yesterday to greet Tom Mooney home following his release from San Quentin Penitentiary after a pardon had been granted by Governor Culbert Olson to the famous convict who had been serving a term of life imprisonment.

Mooney marched alongside the flag of his old union—the Iron Moulders, with him were his wife and union leaders.

At the corner of Stewart Street Mooney stopped and stood in silence. It was at that corner on the fateful day in 1916 where the Preparedness Day bombing took place as an outcome of which Mooney was sent to prison.

Militant Labor Drive Mooney vowed today to spend the rest of his life in a campaign for labor unity and a drive to organize "every man, woman and child in the country who works for a living. There's only one thing in the country that stands between the people and slavery. That's a militant, aggressive labor movement."

George L. Stewart, Pentecostal Church pastor at Kincolth, sailed last evening on his return to his Naas River home after spending the past week here to attend Week of Prayer services

P. M. L. 9 Safe Back at Ocean Falls After Unsuccessful Search For Grextons, Father and Son

The provincial police motor launch P. M. L. 9, with Constable Saunders and Special Constable Gladstone on board, returned to Ocean Falls late Saturday after an unsuccessful week's search for Hugh Grexton and his son, Harry, who have been missing since December 19 when they left Albert Bay for Cape Caution to engage in fishing.

The police boat had not been heard of itself since January 1 when it left Ocean Falls to engage in the search.

The P. M. L. 9 is to be taken from Ocean Falls to Powell River by Constable Fred Brooksbank of Victoria and will keep a look-out for the Grextons on the way.

Meanwhile it is indicated that a second search will be organized by Mrs. Grexton and relatives.

WHEAT FOR PR. RUPERT

Turgeon Suggests Peace River Highway Would Bring It To Coast Instead of To Edmonton

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9: (CP)—British Columbia wants highways to both the Yukon and the Peace River countries, J. G. Turgeon Liberal member for Cariboo, said last night when passing through here enroute to Ottawa to attend the session of Parliament opening this week.

Mr. Turgeon said the Peace River highway was needed because wheat grown in the district should go direct to Prince Rupert or Vancouver instead of to Edmonton.

HUNT FOR MURDERERS

Toronto Man Slain and Robbed Saturday Night—Four Men Believed Involved

TORONTO, Jan. 9: (CP)—A hunt is in progress for four men alleged to have been involved in the murder and robbery of James Windsor, proprietor of a barbecue stand, Saturday night. The bandits entered Windsor's home, killed him and took his ewel yard money. It was a cold-blooded murder.

Two men were held today by the police on charges of vagrancy following a combing of the city's known gangster areas for the slayer.

Windsor, an alleged bookmaker, was shot in the abdomen by one of four men who invaded his home. Some $3000 worth of jewelry was taken from Windsor's person after the killing.

REVIEW COURSE OF BIG EVENTS IN PARLIAMENT AT SESSION THIS WEEK

Important Questions at Home and Abroad to be Aired at Ottawa in Sitting Opening January 12

OTTAWA, January 9: (CP)—Political developments of high moment in both the domestic and international spheres will be reviewed by speakers in the House of Commons during the session which opens Thursday. These developments took place since the last session and the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne will provide members with an opportunity to comment upon them, express their own views and denounce or commend the government's action or lack of action in relation to them. It will be next Monday before business actually gets under way. There will be the usual pageantry and formality at opening. If the parties can agree, the session may conclude within four months so that all may join in welcoming the King and Queen to Canada.

Apart from a change in the leadership of the Conservative party the personnel of the house will be about the same as last session. No changes have been made in the cabinet and Speaker Pierre Casgrain will again occupy the chair.

Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion will replace Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett as leader of the opposition by virtue of (Continued on Page Two)

Future Policy Of Italy Will Be Considered

ROME, Jan. 9: (CP)—Premier Benito Mussolini has called a meeting of the Fascist Grand Council for February 4 for the purpose, it is said, of studying Italy's future course of action. Leaders by that time will be able to judge the attitude of Premier Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain, who is due to arrive here within two days, towards Italian territorial claims and the insurgent campaign in Spain.

SMUGGLING PLANES TO INSURGENTS

Canadian and American Machines Sent Through Turkey to Franco's Forces in Spain

ANKHARA, Turkey, Jan. 9: (CP)—Arrests have been made here by Turkish government authorities in connection with an alleged conspiracy to smuggle fighting planes from Canada and United States through Turkey to insurgent Spain. Forged shipping papers, it is claimed, were used. An order for fifty planes was involved. Turkish members of parliament and merchants, it is charged, dealt with representatives of General Francisco Franco, the Canadian and American exporters, themselves are believed to have acted in good faith in making the shipments.

Already Investigate OTTAWA, Jan. 9: (CP)—The incident of alleged smuggling of Canadian and American planes through Turkey to insurgent Spain was investigated some months ago at the request of the United States government, it is announced here. The Canadian manufacturer who shipped the planes acted in good faith.

CZECHS IN RAID AGAIN

Reported to Have Shelled Another Town in Hungarian Frontier Area

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 9: (CP)—Czechoslovakian troops were reported here last night to have staged another artillery attack on a town near Hunkacs in the frontier area ceded last fall by Czechoslovakia to Hungary. There were no deaths but three houses were set afire by incendiary shells. A Czechoslovak officer is said to have been seriously injured. Two other new border incidents are also reported.

Hungary delayed the recall of its minister to Prague today in a strong hint that the recent border clashes endangered diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia.

The border was quiet today after tension had been increased by the renewed outbursts yesterday.

LOYALIST VICTORY CLAIMED

Decisive Advance Against Insurgents in New Government Drive in Southwestern Spain

MADRID, Jan. 9: (CP)—The Spanish government claims that its forces are meeting with great success in the new drive against the rebels in southwestern Spain. The objective of which is to cut insurgent Spain in two in the direction of the Portugal border. General Francisco Franco's lines are stated to have been pierced in three places with an advance of twelve miles since the drive started last Thursday. Two hundred and thirty square miles of territory has been taken back from the rebels, it is claimed, and many prisoners with considerable artillery have been taken.

Meantime the insurgent offensive in Catalonia Province in the direction of Barcelona continues. It is to divert this that the government started the new drive in southwestern Spain. Striking down the main Catalonian highway to Barcelona, the insurgents reported capture of the important town of Mollerissa, 75 miles west of the government capital.

CALL FOR ITALIANS

Mussolini Would Bring Sons and Daughters Home From All Parts of World

ROME, Jan. 9: (CP)—Premier Benito Mussolini has issued a call for sons and daughters of Italy to return home from the far corners of the world.

A fund of $500,000 has been voted to assist in the campaign of repatriation the objective of which is to make denser population in Italy which would strengthen the case for territorial expansion and also make more Italian manpower available for war.

Already there is a law which prevents further emigration from Italy. The "more babies" campaign is another phase of the denser population drive.

Italian Canadians OTTAWA, Jan. 9: (CP)—It will be entirely up to Italian-Canadians themselves what they do about Premier Mussolini's call to return to their native land, Canadian government officials say. At the last census there were 98,000 persons in Canada of Italian racial origin.

IS IT HOPELESS?

The position of China today seems to the casual observer to be hopeless and Japanese people consider the war is won. Local Chinese, however, are quite confident that the cause is anything but hopeless. They still say that everything has been carried out according to plan and the big push will begin, probably in the spring, when they expect to drive the Japanese out of the country and destroy most of them, so crippling them that never again will they invade the country.

Evidently unless something unexpected happens, the war in China is likely to last a great part of this year.

FEATURE OF OPENING

One important feature of the opening of Parliament this week will be the Liberal party caucus which is always held either just before or immediately following the opening of the session. Usually this caucus deals mostly with matters of policy in connection with matters to come before Parliament so as to assure a certain amount of unity among members of the party. While this will be done as usual this year, the chief subject will be the laying before the Liberal members the question of party leadership. The leadership of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King has been challenged by the leader of the Ontario Liberals and it has been publicly stated that Premier Heppburn had conspired with the Conservative Premier Duplessis in Quebec to bring about a change of leadership at Ottawa.

There is no doubt that Premier King still has the confidence of the Liberal members of Parliament and in a general way, the confidence of the Liberals of Canada although many would like to have seen a more pronounced attitude on the part of Mr. King toward the question of unemployment, which must be dealt with in the near future. The Liberal caucus will probably pass a resolution of confidence in the leader, in this respect following the example of the Ontario Liberals who unanimously endorsed the leadership of Mr. Mackenzie King. However, the very fact that dissatisfaction had been expressed, not only by Mr. Heppburn but also by many other Liberals, indicates a healthy political condition quite in line with the best traditions of a democracy.

CONSERVATIVE CAUCUS

While, doubtless, the eyes of the country will be fixed upon the Liberal caucus as being the outstanding event of that kind, the Conservative caucus held about the same time and probably on the same day will also be very important in that it will be the first occasion on which the Conservative members of Parliament will meet their new leader Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion who has stepped into the shoes of Right Hon. R. B. Bennett. Dr. Manion has been quite outspoken from time to time in regard to matters of policy and indeed has brought upon himself the reproach of several Conservative newspapers for departing from the regular Conservative formulae. He will now have to reconcile his own political views with those of his party followers in Parliament so that to a great extent the party may speak with one voice and the leader may know exactly what support he will get on all matters that come before the two houses.

It is understood that Dr. Manion will be not so independent of his followers as was Mr. Bennett who was often accused of being a dictator.

REVIEW COURSE OF BIG EVENTS IN PARLIAMENT

of his selection as leader of the National Conservative party and his election to the house as member for London. Mr. Bennett's face and voice will be missed as he intends to move to England shortly after the opening of the house and proposes to take no part in the work of the session although it is hoped he may make at least a farewell appearance. He is still the member for Calgary West.

During the recess the Conservatives lost one seat, Brandon, to the Liberals but gained a supporter in the return of Hon. H. H. Stevens, member for Kootenay West to their ranks. Mr. Stevens broke with the party in 1935 and in the election of that year led the Reconstruction Party which won only one seat, his own.

One of the major debates of the session will be on the new trade treaty between Canada and the United States. As yet none of the opposition parties has officially stated its position on the treaty which will be up for ratification early in the session.

Relations Inquiry

Proceedings of the royal commission on Dominion-provincial relations during the recess brought forth a number of views and suggestions on revisions of the financial set-up of the Dominion as between the several governments. The critical attitude adopted towards the commission by some provincial governments, particularly those of Ontario and Quebec, will provide material for debate.

The inquiry was one of the many subjects traversed in the continued quarrel between Premier Mitchell F. Heppburn of Ontario and Prime Minister Mackenzie King. This dispute was largely one-sided until December when an attack was made on Mr. Heppburn by Labor Minister Rogers and Transport Minister Howe in which Mr. King concurred. It was followed by an Ontario federal Liberal caucus which voiced confidence in Mr. King's leadership.

Evidence adduced at the inquiry into the Bren gun contract and the report upon it by Mr. Justice H. H. Davis who conducted an investigation will provide material for debate on the manufacture of arms and munitions and the vexed question of whether private or public ownership of arms factories should be the policy of Canada. The report, it is understood, justified the contract and clears all concerned including Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence.

The major development in international affairs since the last session was the Munich agreement and the partitioning of Czechoslovakia. During the crisis preceding the agreement when a new world war appeared probable the King government remained silent although it was kept fully informed of developments.

The government's attitude then and the larger question of Canada's course in case of future wars or threats of wars may be reviewed in the light of changes in the international situation within the past year.

There will be cabinet council meetings during the week as well as both Liberal and Conservative caucuses. The Conservative caucus has been set for Wednesday to decide party tactics and policy for the session.

SPORT CHAT

Of the many games played in the third round of English Football Cup yesterday principal interest probably centred in the games of Derby County vs. Everton and Chelsea vs. Arsenal. Everton won its way to the fourth round by scoring the only goal of the game. Chelsea eliminated the great Gunners by a two to one count in a result which many considered an upset.

Paul Berlenbach, former world's light heavyweight boxing champion who earned more than $500,000 in pre-depression days, started a wrestling career at New York five years ago tonight for milk and rent money. He was a preliminary "boy" and got 150 for 11 minutes.

Talk Of Reviving Basketball In Prince Rupert; Oil Firm Is Willing To Sponsor Team

Announcement by Croft Brook, local manager of the Standard Oil Co., that his company is willing to sponsor a team in a Senior Basketball League in Prince Rupert has aroused considerable interest in sports circles and the hope is expressed that it may result in a revival of hoop game activities in this city. The suggestion is being heard that a three-team Senior League may be inaugurated with the Army and Navy as the other two teams.

The Oilers team would consist of such players as have not joined either Army or Navy and are, therefore, not eligible to use the hall facilities of those two organizations for practice. Should players for the league materialize, it is expected that such players as Herbie Morgan, Angus MacPhee, Sev Dominato, Jack Campbell, Sonny Beynon and players of the Seythian Intermediate championship outfit might be found in uniforms for the Oilers. Jack Campbell, who piloted the Canadian National Recreation Association team to Northern British Columbia championship in 1931, 1932 and 1933 has expressed his willingness to coach the boys if they show real enthusiasm and promise.

One great advantage of having a Senior League in steady operation would be that an intelligent selection could be made of the team to represent Prince Rupert in the Northern British Columbia championship competition in the spring. This would eliminate the possibility of an unconditioned and unpractised team being selected at random and shipped out of town to give a more or less uncertain account of itself.

Much appears to hinge now upon whether or not it is possible to interest the commanding officers of the local naval and army units in the sport of basketball.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9. (CP)—No less than seventeen penalties were handed out in a wild and woolly National Hockey League game here last night between Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks, the world champions scoring the only goal to win. There were several fist fights in the course of the play and it was a busy evening for the referees. The victory put the Black Hawks back in fourth place which they had lost for a day to the Maple Leafs who blanked the league leading Boston Bruins one to nothing at Toronto Saturday night.

In New York, the Rangers scored four goals in the final period to win a 5 to 2 victory over the Americans. The Rangers are now within three points of the first place Boston Bruins.

At Montreal the Canadiens held the Detroit Red Wings to a one-all count in an overtime contest. It was the third straight draw game for the Canadiens who are still in the cellar below the Red Wings.

To Reside Here

FRUITGROWER-VIOLINIST After many years of teaching the violin to advanced students in England, France, Switzerland and in different parts of Canada, E. P. Granger came to the coast two years ago and decided that Terrace was an ideal place to which to retire. A year ago he purchased the fruit ranch owned by J. K. Gordon on the bench at Terrace with the idea of spending the rest of his days there. However, the loneliness of the fruit ranch oppressed him and he and Mrs. Granger decided to come to Prince Rupert for a few months each winter and take up their former vocations, looking after the ranch in the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Granger have taken the Norman Freeman House on Fifth Avenue West where Mr. Granger plans to give a series of violin lessons to advanced students for a few weeks and Mrs. Granger may give instruction in French, German or Italian languages.

PICTURE SCHEDULE CHANGED

New Policy Will Bring Attractions Earlier to Capitol Theatre Here

A change of schedule in picture showings goes into effect at the Capitol Theatre here starting this week. Henceforth there will be changes of programs on Monday, Thursday and Saturday instead of Monday, Wednesday and Friday as has been the custom in the past.

This will result, Manager D. G. Borland explains, in the local house being able to obtain much earlier showings of important feature pictures on the three-night billing. Also it will be possible to obtain Fox news reels four weeks earlier for the Thursday and Friday programs.

The following big pictures are announced for the three-night programs during the coming four weeks: this week, "The Sisters;" next week, "Love Finds Andy Hardy;" January 23, "Heart of the North;" mounted police picture in technicolor; January 30, "My Lucky Star," with Sonja Henie.

Gardening

With the turn of the year all horticulturalists begin to think once more of their gardens and to make plans for the coming spring. While spring is yet a long way off the willows will soon be showing their furry flower buds and then will come the snowdrops and the crocuses.

I have Christmas roses coming in bloom although in real cold weather growth stops until the next warm spell. These are not really roses but belong to the Hellebore family. The flowers are white and somewhat resemble a single white rose. Only the petals are more waxlike. The flowers grow straight from the root. In the fall I built a box around the plant and covered it with an old window sash to protect it from the rain and wind. There is one member of the family that blooms in November and the other usually about February. Mine is the later variety.

I am wondering what will happen to my water lilies. They did not bloom last summer but I have been reading that they often do not bloom the first year and sometimes not until the third year. Seedsmen never seem to tell this to their customers just as they seldom tell purchasers that peonies take about three years to amount to anything. Jack Fuller tells me that he has one that has not bloomed yet although I think he said he bought it seven years ago. However, mostly they bloom after the first or second year and sometimes the first year. I covered my water lilies with old mats and coats in the hope that the tubs in which they are planted might not freeze to the bottom.

I expect someone to tell me their peonies always bloom the first year and so they may. But that has not been my experience.

This is the month when the seed catalogues come. I have received only one so far but I am looking forward to getting quite a number. I enjoy looking at a new catalogue just as much as reading a new flower magazine. There is always something new if the firm is progressive one.

Druing frosty weather it is good to keep an eye on the dahlia roots to see that they do not freeze. Ever so little frost will cause them to rot and then they are useless.

What about anemones this year? Frank Dobb has been growing some fine ones for several years with great success. I am told that, if planted in the spring, they do well. They need rich soil, well drained. The little crinkly roots look like nothing at all and are apt to be lost in the garden in the fall or spring if not carefully labelled. The roots can be purchased for about two or three cents each or a little

There ought to be a law against people coughing in public. Don't do it! Smith Brothers Cough Drops bring soothing relief. (Black or Menthol, 10¢.) SMITH BROS. COUGH DROPS

Begonias should be planted indoors in February or March so purchases should be made at once. The difficulty, in making direct importations from Holland is that they arrive too late in the spring for best results. By the time the direct shipments from Holland arrive the plants should be about three inches high.

It is not too late to break up new ground for the coming spring. In frosty weather the digging is good if the frost is not too severe. I hope to be able to see a number of new gardens this year and some of the old ones extended or revised. This is the time to lay plans for this work or even to start it.

Only One Case—Liquor Appeal—Before Court

There was only one case to be set down this morning when County Court was in regular monthly session before Judge W. E. Fisher this morning. This is an appeal of the crown against a dismissal by Stipendiary Magistrate A. L. Mallory of Port Clements of George Osawa, Queen Charlotte City, on a charge of keeping liquor for sale. Hearing was set for January 27. T. W. Brown is counsel for the crown.

Two applications for naturalization were approved by the court—those of Hugo Kraupner and Hans Ingvold Grove.

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was further proved in the world's largest cold-clinic. No "dosing"—just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Almost at once, its poultice-and-vapor action starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Building Fund Of Boys' Club Aided

Recent Campaign Results in Goodly Amount Being Raised

At a meeting of the Boy's Club supervisors held last Thursday evening with Noel Jones in the chair the treasurer, William Gair, reported that the sum of $142 was realized as a result of the recent efforts of the committee and numerous helpers. This sum has been added to the 100 set aside from the tag day collection as a building fund.

The executive committee was authorized to arrange for necessary repairs to the roof of the new club quarters, also cleaning and painting the interior of the lower floor.

It is the intention of the committee to give the public the opportunity of inspecting the club rooms when they have been reconditioned. This may take the form of a public meeting.

NEW HOUSE IS WARMED FOR ENVOY

Ball Attended by Ottawa's Prominent People Opens Palatial New Legation

By MURIEL ADAMS
Canadian Press Correspondent
OTTAWA, Jan. 9: (CP)—House of France in Canada, the $500,000 newly-completed residence of the French Minister to Canada and Countess Robert de Dampierre, was formally opened last week when distinguished guests attended a formal ball there.

The Governor-General of Canada and Lady Tweedsmuir were guests and, on their arrival, were greeted with the playing of "God Save the King" and "La Marseillaise." Prime Minister Mackenzie King, members of his cabinet and representatives of the diplomatic corps were among the 700 who attended.

Since July, 1936, when the prime minister laid the corner stone of the stone structure hugging a bluff on the Ottawa River, about a mile from the centre of the city, architects, engravers, sculptors and artists from Paris have been at work carrying out the plans of Eugene Beaudoin, chief architect of civil buildings in France, who designed the building in collaboration with Antoine Monette and Marcel Parizeau of Montreal.

Modern French Style
Floor-to-ceiling windows banded in brass, opalescent folding doors, wide mirrors and singular treatment of walls are features of the spacious rooms of the distinctive three-storey building, constructed in modern French style.

Designed squarely with flat roof, the first floor of the legation houses offices, kitchens, garages and a conservatory which opens off the reception hall. Smoking room, state dining room, ballroom and music room and the minister's office are on the second floor and look down from a marble balustraded balcony to the wide rotunda of the reception hall below.

Glass windows, 15 feet wide and 40 feet high, centre the front of the building and reach from the floor of the rotunda to the third storey where the minister and his wife and their two small children Count Georges de Bulloche and Ann de Dampierre live. Glass doors at one end of the reception hall open to the steps at the entrance to the legation at one side.

French Furniture
A circular "petit" salon" at the end of the long ballroom leads into the dining room. Flowered needlepoint against a beige background covers the gold furniture imported from France to furnish this room planned especially for a music room for the countess.

Blush pink sculptured plaques of Joan of Arc, and other characters of French history centre the curved walls of the salon. Windowed doors open from it to a railed stone terrace which leads down to the outside walk along the cliffs overlooking the river.

Lining one wall of the long ballroom is a large Gobelin tapestry of the 17th century, representing the Triumph of Constantine, from drawings by Raphael. Bordering the tapestry at the ceiling and the sides are sculptured figures, the work of Louis Leygues, noted French sculptor, of the dities por-French sculptor of the dities por-doors open from the ballroom to the balcony overlooking the rotunda of the reception hall. Above the doors is a relief of the Vimy Memorial.

Walls again catch the eye in the office of the minister. Here historical events of the early French settlers are finely etched on the marble walls. Cut with a small nail-like tool and inked by hand with a black inked cloth, these scenes cover the walls from top to bottom. A personal note has been placed in the portrayal of these scenes by the engraver, Charles Pinson of Paris, who invented the engraving treatment and supervised the etching of the walls of the office.

Likenesses of the minister, the Countess and their two children are noted in the court figures surrounding Henry IV at one corner of the room. Watching the arrival of the first galleon at Quebec with intense interest in another is a figure of the Countess's pet dog, "Boulette." Resemblances of architects and associates of the engraver are included in other scenes.

Views of France
Surrounded by vivid views of peasant life in France, at the seashore, in the home or village and country, 36 persons can sit down to dinner at the mahogany table in the dining room. Light shining through the long windows around the room during the day or falling from the concealed fixtures brings to life these realistic murals, painted on the walls by Alfred Courmes.

Below the entrance hall is a "game room" where ping-pong tables and games are arranged in a setting of brightly-colored chintz-covered furnishings. Windowed doors open from this room on to the gravel walk on the river front of the legation. Glass doors open at the other end of the game room into a long corridor leading to the garage, closed in from the outside by folding glass doors.

Clipped deer-hide cosy chairs and sofas furnish the smoking room next the minister's office. Here the walls are lined with cedar bark and the book shelves are of natural cedar. A wide mirror across the top of the open fireplace reflects the rolling Gatineau hills in the distance viewed through the wide, tall windows.

IS HUMAN DOCUMENT

"The Sisters," With Bette Davis and Errol Flynn, at Capitol Theatre

"The Sisters," screen adaptation of the best-selling novel of the same name, comes to the Capitol Theatre here as the first of the week feature offering. It co-stars Bette Davis and Errol Flynn with principal supporting parts taken by Anita Louise, Jane Bryan, Beulah Bondi, Henry Travers, Ian Hunter, Donald Crisp, Alan Hale, Dick Foran, Patric Knowles, Lee Patrick and Laura Hope Crews.

The story is that of a period well-remembered by everyone above the age of thirty-five or so and the scene ranges from a little town in Montana to San Francisco, New York and London. Thrown in is a vivid reproduction of the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906 as seen and experienced by the heroine of the tale.

Miss Davis plays the part of one of three sisters who, tiring of life in her small home town, marries a young newspaperman and moves to San Francisco. There things do not go so well and the girl is forced to go working to make a living for herself as her shiftless husband. Finally, the husband deserts her and she turns to the Orient, returning after he learns of the earthquake disaster. Their reunion, many months later, forms a dramatic climax to a forceful human document.

Many Boats Engaged in Herring Fishing Here—Two Alaska Ships in with Fish for Transshipment

Early January sees no less than eight large seineboats hauling herring out of Tucks Inlet at the head of Prince Rupert Harbor where a substantial run of fish is in progress. RETIRING OF QUINTS

Less Public Inspection Henceforth Threatened by Dr. Dafeo

CALLANDER, Ont., Jan. 9: (CP)—Guardians of the Dionne Quintuplets have not only spurned an offer that they appear at the New York World's Fair next summer, but it is possible their appearances before the public in Canada will end soon. An offer of something between $500,000 and $1,000,000 from World's Fair authorities was rejected by the Quint's guardians.

The 4½-year old girls will stay in Canada and continue attracting tourists by the hundred thousands from the United States and Canada to visit them at the Dafeo Nursery near here.

But a new threat appeared in the statement of Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, their physician, that the famous children may be secluded from the public in the near future. He said that continuation of their daily appearances before visitors at their home might have a detrimental effect on the children.

The physician set no date on which they would cease their appearances and it is believed they will stage their daily "shows" in the playgrounds through next summer at least.

The plan then is to build a larger home for the quint's, their parents and their seven brothers and sisters, some place on their estate far from automobile roads. The suggestion has been made that tourists might see them at a distance through glasses.

The Prince Rupert Gyro Club will be in regular monthly business session at its weekly luncheon on Wednesday. Next week the club will be addressed by Col. J. W. Nicholls, general manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.
