MANCHUS ABDICATE AND REPUBLICANS RULE

Peaceful Signing of Edicts Wiping Out the Chinese Dynasty That Has Existed For Three Hundred Years

(Special to Daily News.)
Peking, Feb. 13.—The fiery golden dragon is no more and China is at this moment a peaceful republic. Three edicts were signed yesterday which place the matter beyond doubt or cavil and there is great rejoicing among the republican forces. These three edicts making China a republic were all signed by Yuan Shikai, the regent of the empire by emperor, and by the Empress Dowager.

The first formally announced the abdication of the throne and the relinquishment of the Manchu dynasty that has existed for three hundred years. The second accepted a republican form of government in its stead and expressed good wishes for its success and hopes that under it China would make more rapid progress in national development than ever before.

The third edict was an unqualified approval and acceptance of the conditions before agreed upon between Yuan Shikai and the provisional president of the republic. This caused some surprise even to the republicans themselves, as they fully expected the Manchus, at the last moment, would make a strong demand that their many privileges be safeguarded. The conditions make handsome monetary provisions for all the royal family, and permission is given for its members to continue to reside in Peking, one of the palaces being specially designated for the purpose.

There was much cheering and exploding of fireworks in the streets last night, but there were no disturbances and this morning all was quiet, the victorious returning troops being enthusiastically welcomed. The provisional government is now ruling the Flowery Kingdom.

Proposition to Advance Financial Aid to Settlers in Various Provinces—Cabinet Ministers to Have Under Secretaries.

(Special to Daily News.)
Ottawa, Feb. 13.—The Government has under consideration the appointment of under secretaries, similar to the British system. These will be for the big departments only and would divide the work with the ministers.

In the Commons Mr. Burrells introduced a bill to encourage agriculture by advancing financial aid, pro rata of population, in the provinces. The House spent the rest of the day in committee on the tariff commission bill.

Committee appointed to consider reduction of city engineering staff in session at city hall.

MAYOR DOUGLAS HAS MADE GOOD

Record Short Session for Council Last Night Under His Good Natured Presidency—Adjournment Called Until Monday.

In his new capacity as acting mayor of Prince Rupert Finance Minister Alderman Douglas made good last night. Under his good humored presidency the business of the council was all smoothly carried through by 10 o'clock to the minute. As alderman, H. Douglas has ever been swift to move "extension of time" when council debates prolonged themselves beyond the closure hour of 11, as they usually do. But as acting mayor Alderman Douglas has made himself famous by his able conduct of one of the few meetings of Council which have ended at a reasonably early hour.

Besides this the Acting Mayor received a large deputation with becoming dignity, and showed himself promptly decisive in putting measures to the vote without unnecessary comment when the members of the Council had had their say. Acting Mayor Douglas was pardonably proud of his achievement last night, the more so because by passing a motion of adjournment until next Monday night the Council will have a well earned rest.

FREE SPEECH IN VANCOUVER

Immense Gatherings on Sunday Easily Dispersed by Police—Only One Arrest Made and Only Man Taken to Hospital.

(Special to Daily News.)
Vancouver, Feb. 13.—One man, Frank Flomberg, was taken to the Hospital with a badly cut head as the result of the third Sunday attempt at free speech on the Powell street grounds. The police dispersed the crowds without much trouble.

The much advertised meeting from launches in Stanley Park caused little excitement, the police boats and mounted constables keeping the crowd moving.

Only one arrest was made all day, despite the crowd at Powell street numbered six thousand.

SAW TWO DROWN BUT NOT HIS LOVED ONES

Romantic Position Today of Lawyer Island Lightkeeper---Believed Wife and Son Drowned, Finds Them Alive

Quite romantic today is the aspect of the double drowning story which was flashed by wireless from the steamer Bertha to Rupert yesterday morning from Lawyer Island. Instead of being the bereaved widower he imagined, Light Keeper Elstermann is with his wife and son again. There was a double drowning, but those the light keeper saw perish were not his own kith and kin. Their identity is doubtful, but they are believed to be two half breed lads who left in a small boat from Porcher Island and have not since been heard of.

Light Keeper Elstermann saw

through his telescope the boat in which he believed were his wife and son capsized and founder as farback as February 1st. Since then he has been almost frantic with grief, vainly trying to signal passing vessels, and without a boat in which to make the land. The Bertha was the first boat to heed his signals.

As soon as the Rover reached him yesterday afternoon, Elstermann told his story, but on board the Rover was Walter Warner of Porcher Island, who on hearing the date of the drowning given as February 1st at once said: "But I saw your wife and child alive on Porcher Island on Sunday, the 4th." Instantly the aspect of things was changed, and hurrying the Rover at top speed Captain Norman Broadhurst took the anxious lighthouse keeper over to the place where his wife had been staying on Porcher Island. There she was safe and sound with the boy. Elstermann could scarcely believe his own eyes, and the shock after the strain he has gone through all but unnerved him.

But meantime the fact remains that he saw two persons swamp and drown before his eyes in a small sail boat running out from Porcher Island and apparently making for his light. The boat swamped and sank at a point where already there have been three drownings and several narrow escapes. Three boats, including this latest one, have swamped here. Light Keeper Harvey, who held the position just before Elstermann, was drowned there by the capsizing of his boat. His wife was left with her child on the light, unable to communicate with land. Three years ago Ed. Hudson in a strong Columbia River sail boat ran clean under in the same sea-way and was rescued by the light keeper after having been in the water for over an hour. Those who know the place say that there is a deadly three way tide rip there, which in any sort of breeze becomes a death trap.

In the Rover yesterday there were brought back to Rupert two Frenchmen, who after reaching Porcher Island in a crazy open boat some weeks ago were unable to make the home trip in the leaky craft. That the light on Lawyer Island should be equipped with only one boat is a grievance which should be remedied.

SECOND AVENUE OWNERS APPROACH CITY FATHERS

DEPUTATION HEADED BY MR. DAVID H. HAYS REQUESTS IMPROVEMENT OF THOROUGHFARE—MAJOR GIBSON SAYS SECOND AVE. IS PAVED LIKE THE ROAD TO HADES.

Long suffering lot owners, citizens and business men resident on Second avenue last night approached the City Council by deputation headed by Mr. David H. Hays. In an able address to the Council and acting mayor Mr. Hays set forth the claims of the Second avenue owners and residents to the effect that the avenue should be put in shape speedily now. Particular emphasis was laid on the advisability of taking advantage of the offer of Mr. McLeod, owner of the high lot next the Albert block. For the good of Second avenue it was expedient, they thought, to have the rock crusher kept on Second avenue so that that important thoroughfare might be got in smoother shape at as early a date as possible. Mr. Hays suggested also that the cross streets, such as Second street, should be put in shape as far as Second avenue.

Major Gibson made the point stick humorously by suggesting that so far Second avenue had been paved like the path to a certain sultry place—with the good intentions of the previous council.

In reply to the deputation the opinion was expressed by Alderman Clayton that First street should be paved also, and Alderman Maitland, also Alderman Morrissey, entirely acquiesced in their demands. Acting Mayor Douglas assured the deputation of the best efforts of the Council to have the matter satisfactorily attended to, especially after the arrival of Mr. McLeod by the Prince Rupert on Wednesday. With thanks to the Council the deputation withdrew.

NEW FIRE HALL IS CRITICISED

Aldermen Morrissey and Dybhavn Have Faults to Find in the Planning and Construction in Report Last Night.

Criticism of the new fire hall formed one of the themes of discussion in the City Council meeting last night. The Board of Works had been asked to report on the work and a report from Alderman Morrissey and Alderman Dybhavn came in, pointing out that the present plan of the Fulton street floor is ill adapted to any up-to-date extension of the fire fighting equipment, such as hook and ladder outfit, extension ladder, etc. Accommodation for horses was inadequate if these appliances were added to the present outfit and storage space for horse was insufficient, according to the report.

Further criticism was directed against the construction of the basement of the building on the ground that it did not appear strong enough for supporting heavy loads like the storage of the crusher and road roller.

The whole matter was referred to the City Engineer for report.

GREY FOR PREMIER

Asquith Soon to Retire in Favor of Foreign Secretary.

(Special to Daily News.)
London, Feb. 13.—The Daily Graphic this morning states that Mr. Asquith is soon to retire from the premiership, to be succeeded by Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary. Lord Haldane is back from Germany, but nothing has leaked out as to his mission.

RESURRECT DUNEDIN BLK.

Gaunt Old Ruin Reappears as a Perilous Menace to the City Again—Once More Matter Goes to City Solicitor.

Again that skeleton in the municipal cupboard—the Dunedin block—has rattled its decaying bones in the council chamber. This time the Dunedin block figures as a fire menace, the windows being continually open and the floor littered with shavings and inflammable material. Acting Fire Chief McDonald represented the risk to the Council.

Alderman Morrissey said that this matter of the Dunedin block had never been clear to him; the building had been condemned, but somehow this had been repealed and the structure remained unoccupied and dangerous. Alderman Clayton agreed with this strongly and a motion referring the whole matter to the City Solicitor for immediate action was passed.

FAMOUS TOAST AGAINST POPERY

Interesting Article by Stead on "Will Ulster Fight?" Written Over a Year Ago in Review of Reviews.

Mr. W. T. Stead, the editor of the Review of Reviews, who is a whole hearted, if somewhat eccentric, Radical, writing in his magazine just one year ago, under the heading "Will Ulster Fight?" made some remarks which are not without interest at the present juncture.

"The blatant remnant of blaspheming fanatics," said Mr. Stead, "which is to be found in Belfast and the county of Antrim, has been making itself ridiculous by swearing that Ulster will never submit to Home Rule. Even after Home Rule has been decreed by King, lords and commons, these devoted 'loyalists' now declare that they will import arms from Germany to shoot down the King's soldiers rather than obey the law of the land. As everyone knows, they have no authority to speak on behalf of Ulster, for there are as many Nationalists in Ulster as there are Unionists. The majority of Ulster Unionists are too sane and law abiding to countenance these incitements to civil war. But it is unnecessary to demonstrate the worthlessness of their braggadocio. It will suffice simply to reproduce here the famous Charter Toast which these truculent gentry drink with enthusiasm at every festive gathering they hold in the north of Ireland. Here is the precious toast, which sometimes even takes precedence to the toast to the King:

The Toast.

To the glorious, pious, and immortal memory of King William (not forgetting Oliver Cromwell), who saved us from Pope and Popery, knaves and knavery, slaves and slavery, brass money and wooden shoes. And all who refuse to drink this toast may they be rammed, crammed, stammed and damned into the great gun at Athlone, to be blown over the hills of damnation. May their teeth be converted into paving stones, to pave the way of the croppies into hell, and their blood into train oil to light their souls to damnation. May I be at the end of the gun with a fiery flambeau, to send them burning round the earth, the moon, the stars, and the sea, like flies around a sugar cask on a hot summer afternoon. May they be blown against the rock of blastation, and come down in a shower of innumerable pieces, and may those pieces be picked up and made into sparables to mend the soles of the Orangemen's boots to walk on the Twelfth of July.

"What," asks Mr. Stead, "can any civilized man think of the trousered bipeds who cheer such sanguinary sentiments, but that

TO VISIT KAISER

Prince of Wales to see German Emperor Next June.

Berlin, Feb. 12.—It is expected that the Prince of Wales will pay a visit to Berlin this year shortly after his eighteenth birthday, which is in June, and that he will stay for a week with the Emperor and the Empress.

While the Prince is in the German capital he will be admitted as a knight of the Black Eagle. This order ranks third in importance among European decorations, being only surpassed by the Garter and the Golden Fleece of Spain. The last named distinction, by the way, is also likely to be bestowed upon the Prince of Wales by King Alfonso during the course of next year.

AUCTION OF HOME EFFECTS MAY DIVULGE WHOLE STORY

MISS EMILY BUSBY GRIGSBY.

The home of Emily Busby Grigsby, on Park avenue, New York, long known to gay strollers on the great white way as the House of Mystery, is to be opened to the public at last and the gorgeous furnishings are to be sold at auction. This announcement has created a stir among New York's most dignified men of money. More than a stir, because several men of affairs are having trouble sleeping o' nights for fear the auction will reveal sentimental secrets that won't look good in print.

Miss Grigsby's auction is for revenge, not profit—although she may get as much as a million dollars from the sale. She was a friend of the British Queen, but was snubbed during the coronation. Her American friends, who were loyal when she was the pet of the millionaire Charles T. Yerkes, have also snubbed her. So she is going to sell the splendid collection which Yerkes and other admirers gave her.

Those who have been through the Grigsby collection declare that no matter how much the actual value of the stuff to be sold may be, there are secret notes on silver mugs, messages written on the backs of pictures, little memoranda inscribed on the fly leaves of ancient volumes, bits of pencilled paper pinned to sacred tapestries and sentimental messages marked on the varnish of antique pieces of furniture which carry more scandal than New York has known of in many years.

The house of mystery is at 660 Park avenue. It is a strange, gloomy place, filled with decadent luxury. The subdued, melancholy light, the color scheme, give a feeling of depression.

Miss Grigsby is selling her jewels, her silver, her wonderful toilet sets. The marvelous jades and porcelains that Yerkes bought in the Orient are to go under the block. The gorgeous draperies, the precious rugs, the altar cloths, the furniture that has come down to her from mediaeval times, the paintings that adorn the walls—all these are to go to the highest bidder.

But there is one thing she will not sell—a portrait of herself that hangs in the centre of the staircase that winds through the shadowy house.

Tradition has it that Yerkes was the only man ever admitted to the room where the picture hangs—and that his eyes and those of the painter and Miss Grigsby were the only ones that ever looked upon it until the house was thrown open for the auction.

And the picture—the only thing the girl wants to keep for herself—is that of a beautiful blond woman draped in shimmering draperies, with a dog jumping at her hand.

Piqued and revengeful over the snubbing of her supposed American friends, this girl, upon whom Yerkes lavished an immense fortune, has decided to cast herself adrift from every tie that binds her to America and make her future home in England.
