DEATH KNELL OF OLD PREFERENCE

It is claimed by the Leader of the Opposition at Ottawa that the new trade agreement sounds the death knell of the preference obtained under the Ottawa agreements Jan. 18: (CP)-Tom Lowry, 40, by which Canada benefited. It must be remembered, former New Zealand test cricketer however, that the British did not like that agreement, sole cricket selector. He retired claimin; that it was too one-sided and suggesting that, on from first-class cricket in 1934. the first opportunity, it would be rescinded. For that reason it is useless to compare the new agreement with the old.

MAKE USEFUL THINGS

Some of the local unemployed try to make articles and sell them in order to help add to their scanty allowance. The difficulty is that many of the articles offered are things which the average person does not want. It is suggested that men who are at all handy with tools could sel window boxes, hanging baskets or flower stands. Onc man did that sort of work a year or two ago but he insisted I on spoiling the rustic work with gold paint.

A great many people would like to have window boxes if they could get them without much effort. It would be a simple thing to measure the window and make the boxes The suggestion to a great many people would be a step in the direction of beautifying the city. Boxes or baskets made of weathered bark of trees might also prove attractive.

HAVE KING CLOSE PARLIAMENT

It would be a great idea to have the King close parliament in May or June. The work of Parliament has already commenced and, if it cannot get all the work done that is really needed before the middle of May, a good many people think it should be disbanded thtogether. To be sure, let the King close it. That was a happy thought, Aylmer's Soup- Vegetable Mr. Prime Minister.

KEEP THEM IGNORANT

The dictators in all countries controlled by them re- No. 1 O.K. Onionsfuse to allow their people to know what is going on in the 7 lbs. rest of the world. In Germany and Italy the newspapers Finest Creamery Butterare controlled so that they print only what they are told special Blend Teato print. Just as bad is the condition in Russia. The curious thing is that when we say this about Russia, the Russian sympathizers say that it is all a pack of lies and when we make similar remarks about the other countries the sympathizers from those countries intimate that the statement, is, to say the least, very greatly exaggerated. Prejudices are hard to eradicate. Of this, however, our readers may be sure, that all dictatorships are offensive to the ordinary citizen of a democracy. We sometimes speak of one of our own leaders being temporarily a dictator but he does not have power of life and death. He does not have power to torture, to deprive people of the right to live and make a living. We are glad to have a strong leader with a mind of his own but if he goes contrary to public opinion he soon finds himself out of the running.
