OPENING TEMPLES

Gandhi's Henchman Premier Of Madras Leads Way To Religious Reform In India
 By G. E. POWELL
 Canadian Press Correspondent
 CALCUTTA, India, March 29: (CP)—Proposals for social reform are keeping legislative assemblies in India busy. One of Mahatma Gandhi's right-hand men, Congress Premier Rajagopalachari of Madras, has piloted through the Madras Legislature a bill permitting trustees to throw Hindu temples open for worship by low castes, including the untouchables, if the majority of high caste Hindu voters in the area agree, by referendum if necessary. The district affected is Malabar, but the reform is expected to be extended to others. The Madras premier said that it was all-important in raising the status of India's untouchables, and the Assembly, which passed the bill amid cries of "Long Live Mahatma Gandhi," thought so too. Orthodox Hindus, who in some places will not tolerate even the presence of untouchables near them, fought the bill tooth and nail and difficulties are expected because some temples in Malabar are under control of interests in Cochin state. Cochin has refused to admit these low castes into the temples, believing their lot can be made better in other ways, by colonization in select localities, for instance. Other provinces are said to be considering similar legislation. Another important provincial measure is the Orissa government's Hindu Religious Endowments Bill. Orissa was famous for its temples and places of pilgrimage 2,000 years ago. Its greatest place of worship is that of Jagannath (The Lord of the World) at Puri, whose name under the form of Juggernaut has passed as a common expression into the English language. Devout Hindus have long been concerned at the corruption said to have crept into the management of well-endowed and ancient temples and four years ago an indignant debate was held in the council of state at Simla, when speakers from several important provinces urged greater control.

The amount loaned to members during the year was $652,671 as compared with $646,349 in the previous 12 months.

THE SAME OLD TRICKS

By this time it would seem that the European countries should be aware of the simple tricks played by Germany in her forward march in Central Europe. She had an advance guard always stirring up trouble in order to give her an excuse to seize more territory. No sooner had she entered Memel than trouble commenced in the Polish corridor. To us in this country it seems childish for these excuses to be accepted as a reason for advancing and bringing pressure to bear on the smaller countries.

Nazi rule in Germany was brought about by deception. It has been continued by keeping the people in ignorance of real facts. Chamberlain admits he was deceived at Munich and has given up his policy of consultation with Hitler. It sometimes makes people wonder whether honesty is the best policy when they see duplicity bringing results and countries such as Britain and France and Russia allowing it.

SPRING CLEAN-UP SOON

It will be time for the annual spring clean-up pretty soon. Prince Rupert will need it this year just as much as in former seasons. We can all point to each other's back yards and feel that the neighbors need the clean-up but some of us are so used to our own needs along the same line that we wade through the mud rather than get busy to improve the place.

Prince Rupert has been pointed to as a nice clean city. Let us all make an effort to maintain that reputation and to keep up with the times by eliminating some of the unsightly places. Every town and city on the coast is improving. What about Prince Rupert? There is no reason why we should not be one of the leaders.

ARE WE TOO OLD?

Many of the people who came to Prince Rupert in the early days are getting old and some of them are beginning to show signs of decay. Others keep up the good work of city building and are carrying on with only a slight mellowing.

There is a young generation growing up, a generation born during or after the war and they are beginning to make themselves felt. Pretty soon the older men will have to make way for the younger. That is the way of the world.

Prince Rupert must keep her manhood virile if she is to succeed. She cannot afford to get old or lag behind because of lack of initiative. We seem to be approaching a period of advancement. We can feel it coming. The city is being rejuvenated and all must play their part in seeing that full advantage is taken of the advancement period so that it may continue indefinitely.

The Daily News is a member of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association, of the Canadian Press and of the Audit Bureau of Circulations. It is the only paper north of Vancouver and west of Edmonton holding membership in these organizations.

QUEEN'S DRESSES MAY BE LEAD FOR AMERICAN STYLES FOR THIS YEAR

Her Majesties' Court Gowns Severely Cut for Canada Wear But Less Formal for Washington Affairs

LONDON, March 29: (CP)—Mayfair couturiers that Queen Elizabeth may introduce some new fashions in Canada and the United States during the Royal visit in May. Sketches for designs of the Queen's wardrobe which will include 50 dresses and as many coats, have already been presented at the Palace and have been seen with the co-operation of the King and Catherine MacLean, mistress of the Royal Wardrobe and so nearly a physical prototype of the Queen that she can "stand-in" for royal fittings.

The Queen—as member of the Empire's ruling house in Canada and wife of a visiting state head in the United States—has planned a wardrobe suitable for both roles. At least four severely-cut court gowns will be included in her luggage for Canadian social functions. But for her Washington days the Queen has chosen gowns less formal for evening wear, and informal prints for daytime wear. The extent of the Royal wardrobe may be gauged by the fact the Queen, on busy days, must wear three different outfits.

Fashion Innovation
The Queen has already had some success as a fashion innovator. A crinoline gown which she introduced last year had a long run among conservative dressers. One of the Queen's new ensembles will feature grey-blue "smoky" fox fur, a new product of Canada. There will be gracefully cut dresses of fine wool georgette with long matching coats, and at least three all-white party ensembles similar to those the Queen wore on the state visit to Paris. Printed silk and chiffon afternoon dresses for formal receptions.

will have soft lower pastel shades. Modern cutters are ignored, but lines defined, featuring pleated and shorter hemlines. None of the court gowns crinolines and some will be crinkled by unusual over- of chiffon and lace. One silver and white, shades especially to set off the be- bened Order of the Garter. For the first time this year, the Queen's wardrobe include no black, until now in observance of the dead- more, the Countess of more. None of the Queen's have veils so that she may more easily.

NEW AND BETTER

COLD CURED ICE

For the Halibut and Salmon Fleets

Following the investigations of the Fisheries Research Station the Company has just completed extensive changes and improvements in ice storage and ice delivery methods.

Ice for the boats will be old ice, thoroughly cured and aged at new low temperatures. It will be delivered into the hold, even in the hottest weather, as cold as the storage room.

Fishermen are invited to inspect the new system. Better ice than ever before, at no increase in cost, means more to the boat and improved quality in fish delivery.

WORLD IS TOO BUSY

Not Doing Serious Work Properly—Banking Isn't What It Used To Be

Stephen Leacock says the world is becoming too serious today, even to do its serious work properly.

Take first, the case of banking. What a serious trade it has become! As I first remember it in my home town of Mariposa (population 4,000 but locally estimated more) it was a profession calculated to enlarge the amenities of life. A bank manager was supposed to turn up with the key of the bank about ten; the clerks dropped in soon after. The manager only stayed till a customer asked him out for a drink, the usual civility after receiving a loan, or until he asked a customer out for a drink, the usual courtesy after refusing a loan.

This kept the manager in and out of the bank all day, seeing the public all the time, always pleasant and agreeable—why not? And thus gathering a business without trying for it. For business-like happiness, comes easiest when least sought. The banker's clerks never studied books on banking—there weren't any—didn't bother with graphs or charts—except for the races—went home at three o'clock, played tennis until dark and poker (ten matches to a cent) till daylight. And yet, in the words of an old song, "the world went very well then."

The Letter Box

IS THERE AN ANSWER?

Editor, Daily News:

What is man, that thou art mindful of him?

Some people think they are quite something in the affairs of the earth but it seems the wisest of us are very ignorant. The Creator of the universe is incomprehensible to us, not to mention the vast mysteries of the earth alone being beyond our comprehension, yet we have several nations who are trying to ignore such a being and who would elect their various dictators to His status.

We find little need of thrills or amusement aside from our perusal of things of this kind in the papers alone. What ignorance or conceit on the part of certain Italians or Germans or Japanese who wish us to assume they are fighting a terrible menace in the matter of Russia! How they are able to figure out what they have in the way of decency which Russia has not is beyond our comprehension. In fact, we are getting rather disgusted with their claims to superior virtues.

On a recent Sunday we witnessed the crowning of the Pope to reign over many million Christian peoples scattered over the face of the globe. The majority of the Italian people are members of his church and organizations. However, at midnight of the same day, we believe that thousands of Jews were ordered across the frontiers of Italy. Fancy such a spectacle by a country professing to be a Christian land and placing themselves on a pedestal as being superior to the Communists. France would not receive them. In fact she does not know what to do about the thousands of Spaniards she now has within her borders.

In Spain we have the spectacle of two factions of a nation, both of which are supposed to be believers in Christ, and at least one party to this massacre being supported by two other nations which claim to be so superior to Russia, not to mention to a mere democracy, carrying out an undeclared war upon women and children.

Italy bombed defenseless natives with shells and gas and the so-called civilized world pretended to be horror-stricken. We have the same thing in China today but no one seems to be doing much about the situation.

We are coming to believe there may be more at the back of these conditions—Manchuria, Abyssinia.

Spain and China, etc.—than appear on the surface. We have also concluded that our boasted civilization has not proved a success. Our civilization has merely added new and more barbarous refinements to the brute instincts of the Dark Ages.

We think it is useless for Britain to assume that she is dealing with civilized peoples any longer. We doubt if this instance would create a precedent. Chiang Kai Shek, while a Communist general, acted in a similar manner to our Hitler, etc. The brutalities of the Communists and others were perpetrated by him. In one of his raids he burned a foreign hospital. The missionary later called upon him. "I have come to ask a favor of you, sir." "You will not get that, whatever it is," was the general's reply. "My hospital is in ruins; may I have the privilege of healing your wounded men?" I have no other work to do."

Rendered dumb, Shek finally accepted the offer. When Shek repeated the incident to his wife she showed no signs of amazement. "There is nothing remarkable in that; he is only putting into practice the doctrines of his religion." After due consideration the general said: "If that is what the foreign devils' religion really is then I, too, will become a Christian." Later, when Shek's wife flew to share the captivity of the general, the general who captured him was also converted and released Shek and his wife.

We do not expect Chamberlain followed this line of diplomacy with Hitler nor do we believe Hitler would accept the teachings of Christ as both the Chinese Communists did. He is a superman?

Kitzegukla Boy Died Last Week

Perry Russell, Aged Six, Passed Away Last Night

KITZEGUKLA, March 29.—Perry Russell, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Russell, passed away in the Hazelton Hospital, after a brief illness last Tuesday and the body was brought home on the afternoon train.

On Saturday a community funeral service was held in the Salvation Army Hall under the leadership of Captain J. H. Johnson. Two Hymns were sung by the congregation: "There is a Home," and "There is a Better World They Say," with Bert Russell, the boy's uncle, at the organ. During the service the school girls sang "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" with Mrs. W. D. Wesley conducting them. An address was delivered by Peter Mark on "Jesus at the Tomb of Lazarus" and Chief James Weget opened and closed the service with prayer. Rev. Bishop Black of the United Church also led in prayer in the English. Otherwise the whole service was in the native language.

The procession was led by the local brass band which played a number of marches, both outside the church and at the graveside.

At the graveside a short service was held by Rev. B. Black who committed the body to rest in the earth. A beautiful display of flowers adorned the top of the casket. Donors included local and outside friends.

Both the Russell brothers have many friends. Some came from other districts to attend the services.

W. M. Cameron of the staff of the Pacific Biological Station, Nanaimo, is at present on McClintock Creek in Massett Inlet, Queen Charlotte Islands, supervising the counting of the seaward migrating pink salmon fry which have resulted from the spawning run of 1938. During the spring a relatively large number will be marked by the removal of both pelvic fins in order to trace their return as adults. During the time from last autumn until the present the spawning beds have been examined periodically and estimates made of the losses which occurred in the various stages of incubation and early fry migration. The findings in this connection will serve as a basis for allocation of the loss of approximately ninety per cent which is known to take place before the fry reach salt water.

C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived in port on time at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Anyox and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow evening south-bound. The vessel brought in a fair-sized list of passengers.

PROPHECIES FULFILLED

Palestine Enacting Today What Was Forecast in Bible Thousands of Years Ago

Evangelist John E. Barnes, speaking at the Pentecostal Tabernacle last night, revealed to a congregation of over eighty people some astonishing facts concerning Palestine and its resuscitation after a period of many generations. He declared the fulfilment of prophecy, as stated in the Scriptures, with such amazing precision should set the whole world thinking, especially the agnostics and atheists. More than 2500 years ago Isaiah, the prophet, gave a graphic picture exactly of what was taking place today in Palestine. He said: "They shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations."

Since Great Britain was given the mandate over the land to make it a national home for the Jews, a rapid and remarkable transformation had taken place. Jews were returning in steady streams to the land and buildings of magnificent types were going up everywhere. New cities were being formed and the land of waste was now astounding the whole world with its beautiful orange groves and other luscious fruits, producing 25,000,000 cases in the year 1938.

Ezekiel stated: "This land that was desolate is become like the Garden of Eden; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced and are inhabited." About a half a million Jews were back on their land.

The prophecy found in Isaiah that "Every valley shall be exalted and every mountain and hill be made low; and the crooked shall be made straight and the rough places plain," was fulfilled when General Allenby's army of 96,000 drove the Turks out of Palestine in 1917. In order that his army could advance up from the south towards their objective, Jerusalem, it was essential to bring the waters from the Nile through a 12-inch pipe along with them as they advanced and, in order to do so, Arabs were employed to level down the hills and fill up the valleys, laying the pipe line in a straight course towards the capital city. This became the road of advance in addition, doing away with the old crooked paths which wound around the hills.

Upon arrival at the outskirts of the city the "Lion and the young Lion," for Britain and her colonies were represented in that army corps, they sent squadrons of aeroplanes to fly low over the city without dropping any bombs or firing a shot, the effect was almost instantaneous and a fear entered the hearts of the defenders—the Turks, who hastily forsook their stronghold.

It was remarkable that the celebration of this victory was prophesied in Isaiah and the importance of it was to be announced to the world. The prophet said: "All ye inhabitants of the world and dwellers on the earth see ye when he lifteth up an ensign on the mountains; and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye." This was literally fulfilled in 1923 when the ancient flag of Judah was "lifted up" or raised to the top of the mast on the old tower of David in Jerusalem and the ram's horn was blown before a great crowd.

Most wonderfully and Scriptural prophecies been recently fulfilled, stated Evangelist Barnes, for, at a cost of five hundred million dollars, great pipe lines from the oil wells of Iraq to Haifa and Tripoli, over eleven hundred miles in length, with a capacity of four hundred million tons of petroleum oil, were being laid and officially opened in January 1935. Nine thousand men were employed for eighteen months on what is known as the most costly single work ever constructed in the world. The prophecy was literally fulfilled therefore as the pipe containing the precious oil lay buried in the sands, as described by Moses, and also at the port of Haifa, at the terminal of the pipe line, this foot-shaped piece of land allotted to the tribe of Asher, the oil was transferred to the tankers awaiting to distribute the same to the various ports of Europe. Truly Asher "dipped his foot in oil."
