Passes Away

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE

Hon. Hugh Guthrie one of the most distinguished of Canada's elder statesmen. By some authorities he was ranked as one of the ablest parliamentarians of his day. His practical knowledge of procedure and his grasp of the constitution and of governmental problems in general made him at all times a leading figure.

Mr. Guthrie entered the House of Commons at the turn of the century as a youthful follower of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The Liberal star was then in the ascendant and Sir Wilfrid was a popular idol. The Premier was surrounded by men of great ability but it was not long before Guthrie was counted as a man with a future. He was made chairman of the railway committee of the House of Commons in 1907.

Thirty-four years after Mr. Guthrie's first election to Parliament as a Liberal he was sitting at the right hand of a Conservative prime minister as minister of justice and sharing honors for long service in the house with Hon. Charles Maclellan of Bonaventure. Both entered the House in 1900 and they alone of the M. P.'s of that year remained.

RUSSIA RUTHLESS

Russia is proving herself to be just as ruthless as Germany. She has already taken control of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania besides gobbling up half of Poland and now she is bringing pressure to bear upon Finland to reduce that country also to a state of vassalage. Yet Foreign Minister Molotoff wonders why the democratic nations continue the fight. He says there is nothing to fight about and thinks Britain and France are looking for excuses to continue the war. If Great Britain and France withdrew now Russia and Germany would probably proceed to divide up the other Scandinavian countries, making themselves so strong that the other countries would have to bow their necks to the will of the tyrants.

PRINCE RUPERT'S AIR BASE

Within a very short time we should expect to hear from Ottawa that the contract has been let for the first stage of the air base at Seal Cove in this city. It will be a big job and will help to make that end of the city lively.

Evidently it is the purpose of the government to so strengthen the defences of Prince Rupert that it will be a place of refuge for the Empire or friendly nations in the north Pacific Ocean.

GOOD YEAR ON GROUNDS

Almost Double Number of Children Attended Gyro Resorts This Summer

In presenting his report for the 1939 season, W. F. Stone, chairman of the Gyro supervised playgrounds committee, told the club at its luncheon Wednesday that it had been the most popular season on the playgrounds. The registrations for the season had totalled 415 as compared with 345 in the year previous while the total attendance at all parks had been 16,614 this year as against 8,499 in 1938.

Most of the credit for increased attendance on the playgrounds was given in the committee report to the instructor, Neil Ross, and his assistants—Kitty Cameron, Jean Cameron, Jean Krause, Frances Robertson, Geraldine Cade, Betty Davey and Bert O'Neill. The interest had also been sustained by a program of diversified special events most of which were on a competitive basis.

Considerable reclamation work had been carried out during the year, thus enlarging the playing area of the parks, much credit in this regard being due the caretaker, Sam Rodin.

The Morse Creek swimming resort had proven of much value and had been very popular, the committee recommending that it be included in all future playground work and further improvements made each year.

RESPONDING TO APPEAL

Poppy Day to Be Recognized on Active Scale as Ever

The annual Poppy Tag Day is being held here tomorrow and there is already evidence that the appeal will come home with more than usual meaning to citizens. Requests for poppies and wreaths have come from distant points bearing out the contention that the sufferers of the last war will not be forgotten in the present crisis. In the city windows are being suitably decorated. The Canadian Legion window is already the subject of much favorable comment. It is not entered in the window dressing competition but is merely, although very sincerely, a tribute from the veterans to the memories of their comrades who have passed on.

From Queen Charlotte Islands comes a special request by Lewis G. Hilder, an ex-service man, who takes with him this evening on the Prince John a supply of poppies which he plans to dispose of at Massett and in the vicinity. With his wife's assistance, this veteran plans to make his contribution to his less fortunate comrades.

Purchasers of poppies are requested to keep their poppies until November 11 and wear them on Remembrance Day.

Mrs. William Cruickshank is chairman of the work committee of the local Red Cross Society which is getting its wartime work now under way.

Give generously for your poppy this year.

Capt. C. Claxton of Vancouver, superintendent of pilots, after a brief visit here on official duties, sailed by the Prince Rupert last night on his return south.

Let every citizen wear a poppy and every auto carry a windshield poppy.

Delays will be avoided by giving immediate notice to the Chief Examining Officer, Prince Rupert, of the expected dates of arrival of their vessels, with particulars of appearance and tonnage, etc. The particulars necessary should be given on Form XI, a supply of which can be obtained from the Chief Examining Officer, Prince Rupert, B.C. This will facilitate the recognition of vessels by the Examining Officers and allow speedy allocation of berths.

Early intimation of the proposed departure of vessels should likewise be given to the Collector of National Revenue (Customs Division).
Signed,

Lieutenant-Commander
J. R. ELFERT, R.C.N.R.
Chief Examining Officer,
Prince Rupert, B.C.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port at 4 o'clock this morning from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands and is scheduled to sail at 10:30 tonight on her return south by the same route.

Running late this trip, C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. H. E. Nedden, returned to port at 12:30 midnight last night from Ketchikan and Stewart, sailing at 2 a.m. for Vancouver via Ocean Falls and Powell River.

The American cannery tender Violet, which was recently salvaged from Herbert Reef in Grenville Channel by the Armour Salvage Co., is now undergoing repairs at the local dry dock. H. T. Duren, Lloyd's surveyor from Tacoma, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert Wednesday afternoon to make an inspection.

dent at Greenville on Monday night of this week when an explosion occurred aboard a comparatively new gillnet boat and Anthony Calder and William Finn received painful but not serious burns. Calder was blown into the air and Finn was trapped for a while in the cabin which was virtually blown off. The boat, while badly damaged to the extent of about $300, was salvaged. Dr. J. A. MacDonald of Kincolith was called to Greenville to attend to the injuries of the two men.

PASSING OF OPIE READ

Last of Pioneer American Literary Line, He Delineated Southern Character

CHICAGO, Nov. 3. (CP)—Opie Read, last of a pioneer American literary line which included Mark Twain and James Whitcomb Riley, died here at the age of eighty-six years.

Opie Read was still in his thirties when critics began to call him the foremost delineator of southern character.

He had scarcely entered upon his most fertile period of writing when he and Eugene Field were nominated as "the two brightest stars" in Chicago's literary galaxy.

Back in the eighties wherever newspapers were read, the plantation songs and stories of Opie Read were familiar. Melodies remembered from his own plantation boyhood, folk tales of the Tennessee hills and quaint dark dialogues seemed to flow from his heart to his pen. Soon the editors throughout the land were quoting odd bits from his "Arkansas Traveler."

Read and the Traveler became synonymous. It is related that, when he scarcely was 30 an eastern magazine offered him $100 a week to become its editor. But Read, happy with his own mouthpiece, could not bear to abandon it.

He had worked for the Franklin, Ky. Patriot in 1873 and paid his tuition through Neophogen College by setting type on the college paper. In turn, he became editor of the Little Rock Gazette and the Cleveland Leader before settling down with Philo D. Benham at Little Rock in 1882 to launch the Traveler on its humorous journalistic course. The Traveler took quick hold upon its readers and in 1887 Read and Benham took their paper to Chicago. Then Read's prolific pen found time outside its editorial duties to sketch southern life for most of the prominent magazines of the country and to write a score of books.

Advancing age seemed no deterrent to the "prince of story tellers." At 76 he wrote "The Gold Gauge Veil," which his publishers called his best work. The story, opening in the Civil War days, was regarded as Mr. Read's autobiography. In it he told of the lure of gold that had held his enthusiasm for long.

Mr. Read was born December 22, 1852, at Nashville, Tenn., the youngest of ten children of Guilford and Elizabeth Wallace Read. He was reared through his boyhood on his father's plantation at Gallatin. On June 30, 1881, he married Miss Ada Benham, sister of his partner. They had three sons, Philo, Leslie and Guilford, and three daughters, Mrs. Harriet Blue, Mrs. Elaine Green and Enid Ada Read. The last named died at the age of 24.

FILM IS THRILLER

"Five Came Back" Is Title Of Jungle Romantic Drama At Capitol Theatre

An unusual story is being presented at the Capitol Theatre in "Five Came Back," absorbing drama dealing with grim experiences of a group of airplane passengers and pilots forced down in the Brazilian jungle of a tropical storm and fighting a desperate race against time and death as they try to repair the plane and fly out again. Two romances and a vivid tale of heroism and sacrifice are woven together in the adventure drama, all leading up to a stark climax when one man, a confessed murderer, must select which five of the little group of twelve shall return to civilization and which shall remain to face the oncoming savages.

Chester Morris and Kent Taylor play the roles of the two spits and sustain the masculine halves of the romances with Louise Ball and Wendy Barrie. Joseph Calliea has the role of killer who becomes judge of the survivors, John Carridine is a detective and Allan Jenkins is a gangster; Patricia Knowles, a weak-willed millionaire; C. Aubrey Smith and Elizabeth Risdon, a scientist and his wife.

NAAS GETS GOOD CROP

Some of Produce Reaches Prince Rupert Market—Two Greenville Indians Injured in Boat Explosion

The fertile lands of the Naas River valley have produced a fine crop of potatoes and vegetables during the past season and some of this produce has been shipped to the Prince Rupert market by native farmers, according to Indian Agent James Gillett who returned last night aboard the departmental cruiser Naskeena after a week's trip up the Naas as far as Aiyansh. Official calls were also made by the agent at Canyon City, Greenville, Kincolith, Port Simpson and Metlakatla. At Aiyansh on Sunday Mr. Gillett preached at Harvest Thanksgiving services in the Anglican mission church. He reports having met the new divisional commander of the Salvation Army, Brigadier J. T. Gillingham of Wrangell, with Mrs. Gillingham in the course of a mission tour.

Mr. Gillett also reports an acci-
