MINE SWEEPERS HAVE DANGEROUS TASK

British minesweepers are the busiest craft these days of European war. Working in coveys, the vessels take up positions around an area suspected of having mines hidden below the surface. Then the paravanes are put to work cutting cables which hold the mines in position and causing the deadly weapons to emerge on the surface. Sharpshooters promptly cause the mines to destroy themselves on the water. Then a buoy is put over the side of the sweeper, right, to inform sea commerce that the shipping lane is free of mines.

ANNOUNCE RAILWAY CHANGES

H. A. Dixon Chief Engineer For System—W. R. Devenish Succeeds Warren

MONTREAL, Oct. 21.—A number of important staff changes and promotions affecting officers in the western region of the Canadian National Railways were announced here yesterday by S. J. Hungerford, chairman and president of the National system.

H. A. Dixon, now chief engineer of the western region, has been appointed chief engineer of operation for the system, succeeding C. B. Brown, who is retiring on pension. This appointment will become effective on January 1, 1940. Mr. Dixon's headquarters will be in Montreal. The following western region changes are in effect consequent upon the death of A. E. Warren.

W. R. Devenish, formerly general superintendent of transportation, becomes general manager of the region. W. C. Owens, formerly general superintendent of the Alberta district, succeeds Mr. Devenish as general superintendent of transportation with office at Winnipeg. J. H. McKinnon, formerly superintendent and, shortly afterwards, became general superintendent of the Alberta district, succeeding Mr. Owens. Mr. McKinnon's headquarters will be at Edmonton. Sherman Smith, formerly assistant superintendent of the Edmonton division, succeeds Mr. McKinnon as superintendent of the Calgary division.

H. A. Dixon was born at Sandhill, Ont., October 7, 1878. He is a graduate from the School of Practical Science at Toronto and took his B.A. degree at the University of Toronto with honors in science. After working as a land surveyor in Ontario and Manitoba, he joined the Canadian Northern Railway at Winnipeg as a draftsman in 1903 and, shortly afterwards, became resident engineer. After serving in a supervisory capacity over engineering activities at Maryfield, Sask., Red Pass Junction, resplendent and Vancouver, he was advanced to the position of chief engineer for the railway in western Canada with headquarters at Winnipeg and as such had under his jurisdiction many important projects.

Mr. Devenish was born in Ireland, November 21, 1882, and was educated at St. Columbus College and Trinity College, Dublin. After previous experience as engineer in railway work, he engaged in construction activities with the Transcontinental Railway in 1912 and the following year found him with the Intercolonial Railway as division engineer at Moncton. After holding supervisory posts at Campbellton and at Moncton, he was made general superintendent for the Canadian National Railways at Toronto and later at North Bay, Ont. In 1928, Mr. Devenish became general superintendent of the Alberta district with headquarters at Edmonton and in 1936 he was advanced to the position of chief of transportation for the western region with office at Winnipeg, Manitoba, which position he held until his present promotion.

Walter Clark Owens was born in Manitou, Man., October 29, 1884. He entered transportation service on May 1, 1904, and progressed through the positions of clerk, brakeman, conductor, trainmaster and assistant superintendent with the Canadian Northern Railway at various points throughout western Canada. In 1927 he was appointed superintendent of the Winnipeg terminal division of the Canadian National and in 1930 became superintendent of freight train service on the staff of the chief of transportation at

BERLIN IS WORRYING

Has Not Yet Recovered From Stunning Blow Of Signing Of Three-Power Treaty

BERLIN, October 21: (CP)—The German political world still appears to be stunned by the British-French-Turkish mutual assistance pact. Nazi circles profess the belief that the pact may lead to repercussions in the Balkan countries but how far the neutrality of the Balkan nations may be affected is not clear. Berlin newspapers yesterday either did not mention the signing of the pact at all or played it down, thereby admitting it as a serious setback for German diplomacy. The new situation in the Mediterranean is viewed with the gravest concern in informed German circles inasmuch as Italian and Soviet interests, heretofore considered as definitely friendly to the Reich, are regarded as directly involved.

According to dispatches from Rome diplomatic circles in Italy expressed doubt that the Turkish pact would cause any change in Italian diplomacy.

What Moscow Thinks

In Moscow the government newspaper Izvestia declares that the new British-French-Turkish treaty "inevitably creates the impression that certain plans existed to drive a wedge between Germany and the Soviet." The editorial said the treaty creates a new balance of power in the Mediterranean, adding that "the Soviet Union, being the greatest Black Sea power, must keep a watchful eye on everything relating to the Black Sea approaches." Although the paper acknowledged that Russian interests were not directly affected, and that the treaty protocol freed Turkey from warring with Russia, it said: "The treaty cannot be regarded as an instrument of peace. It testifies to the fact that Great Britain and France drew Turkey into the orbit of war."

INDIANS SENTENCED

Willie Stevens and Richard Guno, having been committed for trial by Justice of the Peace W. D. Vance yesterday afternoon on charges of breaking and entering and theft from a dwelling at Canyon City on the Naas River, appeared before Judge W. E. Fisher in County Court this morning and pleaded guilty. Stevens was sentenced to two years, less one day's imprisonment and Guno to one year.

ALARMS IN SCOTLAND

But German Planes Failed To Do Very Much Either Yesterday Or Today

EDINBURGH, October 21: (CP)—Air raid alarms were sounded in six Scottish cities and towns yesterday in view of the visit of German planes on reconnaissance. The planes, flying at great height, were driven off by anti-aircraft guns and pursuit planes. There were further air raid signals this morning lasting twenty-four minutes resulting from a reported engagement in the North Sea between British warships and German air raiding planes.

CRISIS IS DEVELOPING IN ORIENT

TOKYO, October 21.—A powerful Tokyo newspaper, regarded as the mouthpiece of the Navy, today demanded that Japan renounce the nine-power treaty in view of the United States having denounced the trade treaty with Japan as being an aggressor in its campaign in China. The newspaper charged United States with "superiority complex" and "hypocrisy." It declared that United States should realize that "Japan is in an independent position in this part of the world." Further, the paper pointed out that no treaties could be everlasting, pointing to the collapse of the Treaty of Versailles in support of this contention.

A new wave of terrorism has broken out in Shanghai resulting yesterday in the killing of a British subject and the injuring of another. United States fearing that its citizens may become endangered, has protested and today the United States consul at Shanghai had a long talk with Japanese authorities with a view to restoring peace and order.

Meantime a statement made by United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew drew official fire at Tokyo where Japanese indignation was expressed. The statement followed reports of a mob attack on a United States mission at Chenlo, said to have been made with the knowledge of Japanese authorities.

There was talk in American circles of "uncontrolled hoolliganism" in Japanese controlled China and the possibility of United States Marines being pressed into action is discussed.

Japan complains at the abrogation of the trade treaty by the United States, the transfer of large numbers of United States warships from the Hawaiian to the Philippine area, the position in which Japanese troops have been placed in China by blockade and the endeavour to isolate Japan from trade.

The American attitude is admittedly disturbing the Japanese. Many United States firms are cancelling orders in Japan in view of the growing critical situation.

GERMANY FACES DEADLY FACTOR IN TRADE LOSS: WILL BE STRANGULATED

Washington Experts View Britain's Hold on Nazis' Commerce More Decisive Influence Than Armies

NEW YORK, October 21: (CP)—Great Britain and France will bring Germany to her knees by economic strangulation, in the opinion of United States government economists. In a Washington despatch, Nicholas Gregory, Herald Tribune correspondent, said the consensus is that "the allies' war against the Reich's commerce and trade will prove more potent than arms in deciding the conflict." Germany's $2,250,000,000 export trade is facing ruin as the allies swing into action with every economic and financial weapon in their power, the despatch said. It added: Germany started the war behind scratch economically. Weakened by the heavy burden of recent extraordinary military expenditure, the Reich is poor in gold and foreign exchange. Her funded and floating debt is estimated at between 15,000,000,000 and 20,000,000,000 marks (normally about $5,000,000,000 to $8,000,000,000).

The allies' naval blockade is gradually wrecking Germany's barter trade with South America, cutting off from the Reich vital supplies of raw materials. Germany's growing war needs in armaments, reducing the amount of arms and munitions she can export, is undermining the structure of her agreements in the Balkans. She is gradually losing her barter unit for Yugoslavian wheat, corn, lead and ore and she must look elsewhere for oil, wheat and timber she got from Rumania. Neutral Italy is now contesting Germany's position in the Balkan markets.

Germany's growing war needs in armaments, reducing the amount of arms and munitions she can export, is undermining the structure of her agreements in the Balkans. She is gradually losing her barter unit for Yugoslavian wheat, corn, lead and ore and she must look elsewhere for oil, wheat and timber she got from Rumania. Neutral Italy is now contesting Germany's position in the Balkan markets.

The following tables show Germany's trade with principal countries in Latin America and the Balkans for 1938:

Latin America
	Imports	Exports
Mexico	$25,973,000	$18,665,000
Argentina	96,407,000	61,431,000
Brazil	88,205,000	65,549,000
Chile	38,796,000	24,419,000
Total	$249,381,000	$170,064,000

The Balkans
	Imports	Exports
Bulgaria	$38,417,000	$24,718,000
Greece	40,557,000	48,689,000
Rumania	71,397,000	67,734,000
Turkey	50,198,000	62,257,000
Yugoslavia	69,140,000	58,081,000
Total	$279,709,000	$261,479,000

With these markets closed to the Reich, it will have to look elsewhere to meet its raw material needs. However, two factors enter the situation. First, Germany lacks substantial amounts of gold or foreign exchange to purchase materials for cash; second, a large number of nations have placed wartime embargoes on the export of essential raw materials and products.

In order to prepare against such a situation, Germany has made an agreement with Soviet Russia. Russia has been to Germany an important source of lumber, pulpwood, gasoline and lubricants, barley, cooking oils and fats, furs, flax, hemp, jute and butter. Her imports of copper zinc ore, lead ore,

GAS USE EXPECTED

Germans Believed To Be Paving Way To Resort To Chemical Warfare

LONDON, October 21: (CP)—The British War Office expresses the belief that Germany is about to resort to the use of poison gas on the Western Front in contravention of international law in respect to warfare. Nazi authorities are repeating the fallacious charge that Great Britain supplied poison gas to Poland. It is supposed here that this is being done to justify its use by the Germans against Great Britain and France. It is recalled that Germany made similar false charges before resorting to chemical warfare in the First Great War.

Meantime, there is no extensive activity at present on the Western Front except for local artillery action and outpost skirmishes around Saarbruecken and Ziebruecken. "No Man's Land" extends for a width of one mile at some points and is still largely one German territory. The Allied armies are being gradually increased.

The passage of time assists the Allies in their objective of starving Germany by land and sea.

phosphates and other minerals have been very small.

United States trade experts do not believe that Russia could fulfill Germany's needs for raw materials and minerals. They say Russia has difficulty in filling her domestic needs despite fabulous resources.

Rehabilitation of Poland from an industrial standpoint will take some time while agricultural production is not expected to return to anywhere near normal for at least a year.

BRITONS POURING ACROSS

Army of Two Allied Powers In Meeting War Indicated By Army Troop Concentrations

LONDON, October 21.—An announcement was made today of new waves of British reinforcements in the Maginot Line on the Western Front together with the mobilization of the active forces at home. A further force of 250,000 men between the ages of twenty to twenty-two were called to the colors immediately. Further details of the expansion of fighting strength in the Allied cause in France are expected to be revealed in a speech by British War Secretary Hore - Belisha. Even the mass transportation from England into France of men, machines, planes and guns. Solidarity of the British and French in their political and military agreement in the war was reiterated again today. Evidently realizing the true position in this regard, Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany yesterday repeated his assertions in regard to the strength and determination of the Reich forces.

Three million Frenchmen are under arms and Great Britain determined to give them full support with all the branches of her armed services.

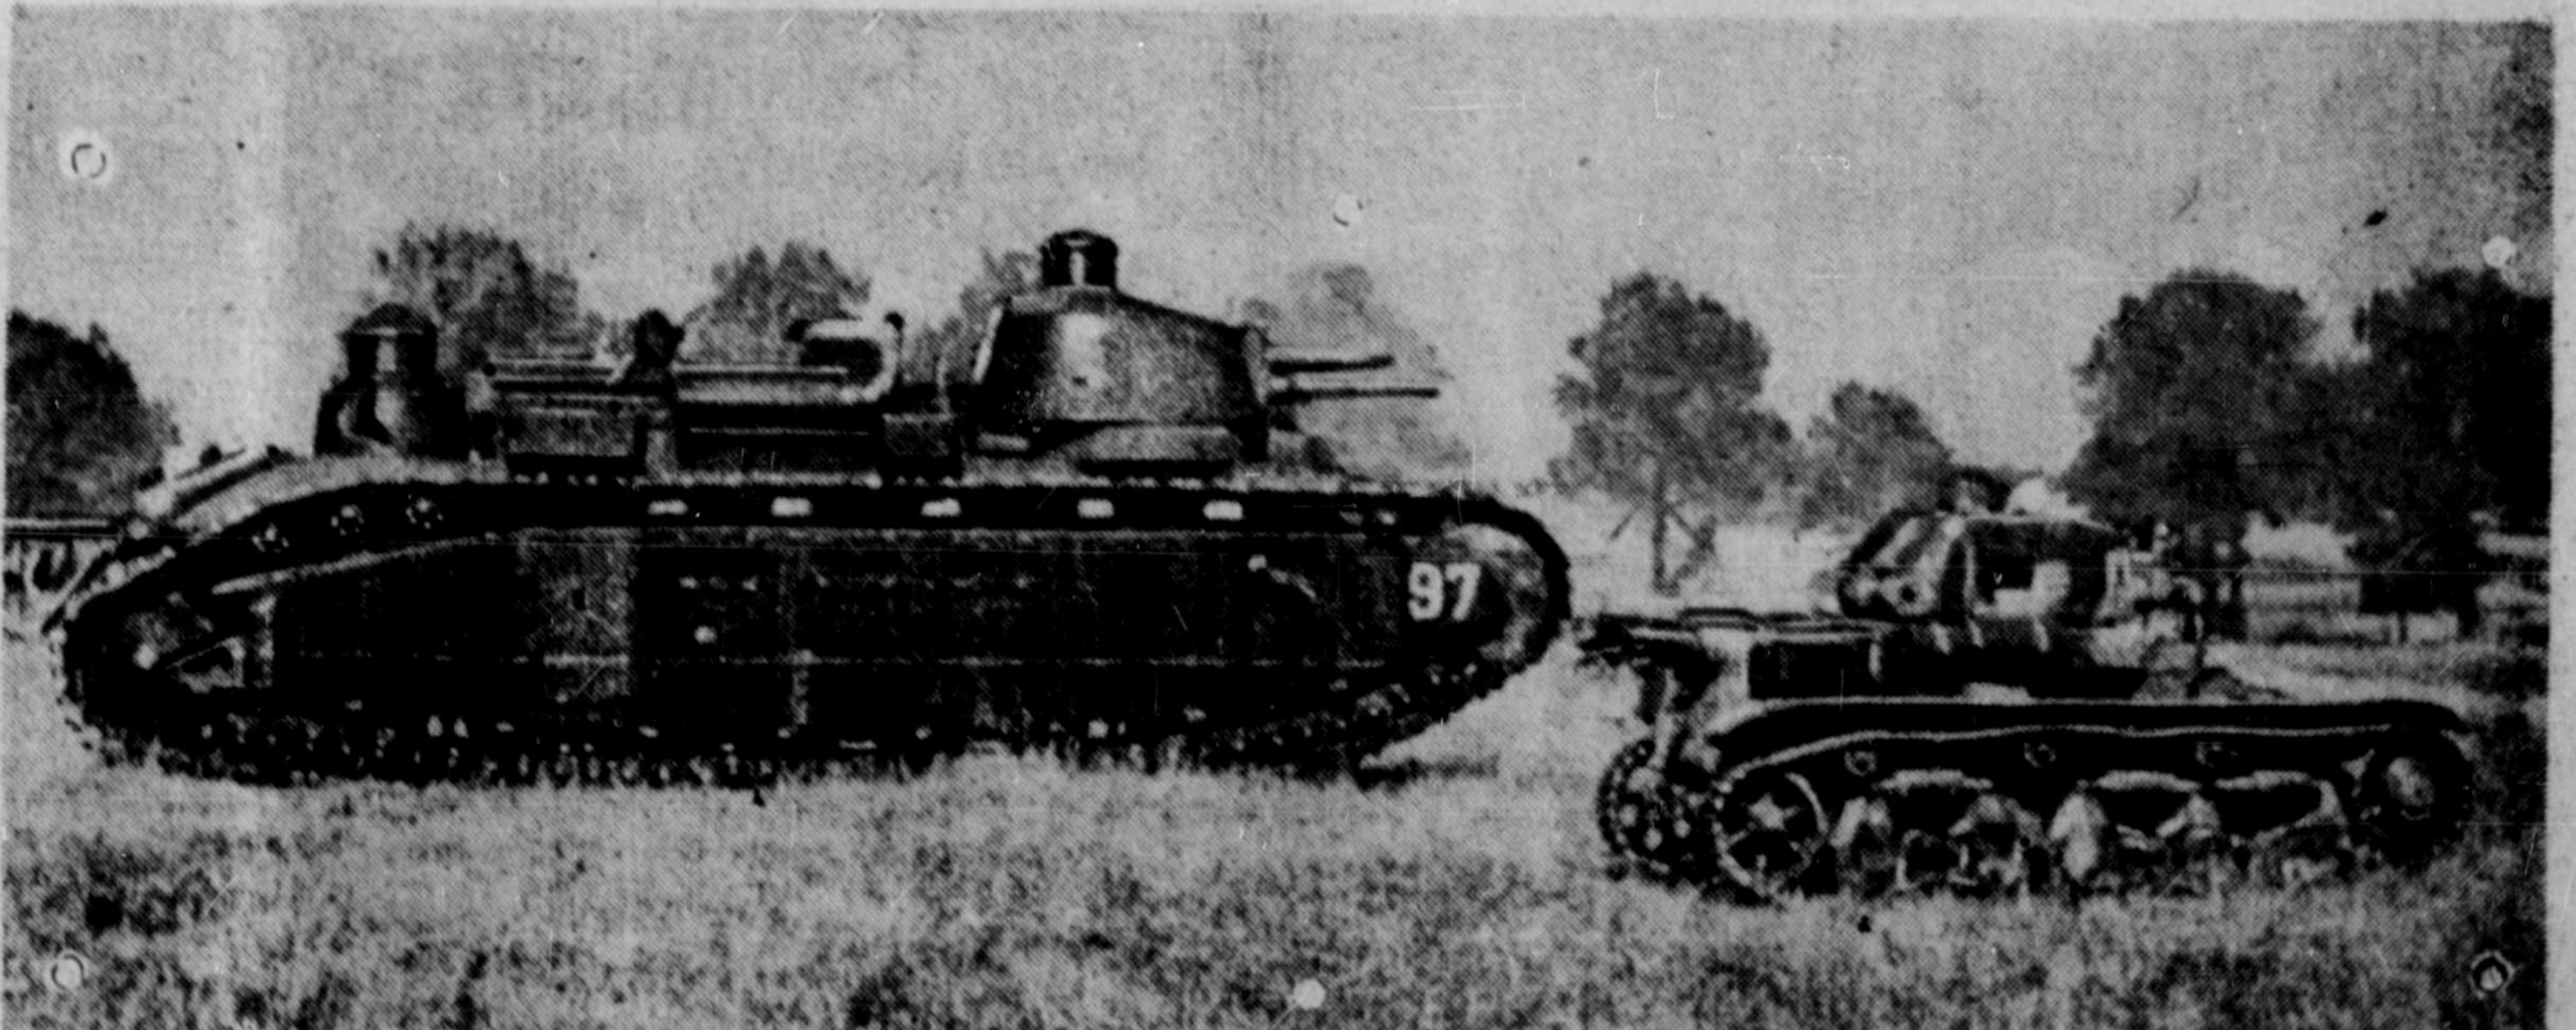

ELUCIDATES HIS STAND

Lloyd George Claims He Has Been "Viciously Misrepresented" In Regard To Peace Conference

CARNARVON, Wales, October 21: (CP)—Former Premier David Lloyd George told his Welsh constituents today that his advocacy of a general world settlement had been "viciously misrepresented," adding "you can be firm at a conference as well as on battlefields."

Mr. Lloyd George said he was entirely consistent in declaring for "no surrender" to Germany, yet simultaneously showing willingness to attempt a conference settlement.

GIANT AND DWARF OF FRENCH TANK CORPS

This picture gives an excellent idea of the tremendous size of the French ninety-two ton tank which has done such damage on the Western Front where it is credited with having aided materially in the tank battle that ended with the French in command of strategic Borg Forest. The "baby tank," weighing twelve tons affords a good comparison. France is employing vast numbers of these machines in her slow but steady advance.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Two very estimable gentlemen addressed public meetings in Prince Rupert on the same night this week. Out at First Presbyterian Church Major R. L. Foorte, a retired officer of the British Indian Army, was expounding British-Israelism and the Golden Rule. Across the street from him Harold Winch, vigorous young leader of the C.C.F. party in the Legislature, was urging the merits of Socialism—and also the Golden Rule. We heard them both and, although we may not have agreed with all that either of them said, we are glad we went and appreciative of the ideas they gave us to consider.

It is good for Prince Rupert to have visits from such men as these. To hear what they have to say tends to broaden our outlook and temper our own views. It would be a good thing if more Prince Rupert people would turn out in fuller numbers to listen to such visitors.

As far as the Daily News is concerned—and we would assure our young C.C.F. visitor from Vancouver East that we are not saying this with our tongue in our cheek—we have the greatest respect for the true aims of many of the ideologies that are extant today. Where they and we fall out in many cases is on the point of practical application.

We do not mind expressing the view right here that no single 'ism—even Liberalism, believe it or not—has a mortgage on all the good principles. We have yet to find any 'ism which, in our opinion, is a cure-all, a few doses of which we have only to administer and, presto, all's well in the world, the millennium has come.

Unfortunately, there is the human element to consider and men will be men, the C.C.F. and others notwithstanding.

What would help a good deal, we believe, would be a little more toleration—a little more effort to present our opinions in a manner that may be acceptable to others, a little more readiness to consider the other fellow's views with the idea that there might be some good in them, instead of reading or listening pre-decided to scoff or scorn.

We would say that the exercise of toleration one man for the other is one of the most important and helpful principles of true democracy, no matter on what form of economic technique that democracy may be founded.

And to the politicians we would suggest that, in politics, a vote in the hand is worth two in the bush. Politicians don't win by trying to induce their friends to acclaim them. Capturing the votes that are presently against them wins the elections for politicians and haranguing and insinuating at their opponents is no way to convert them. That is why so many of these movements get just so far and then are stymied.

We would say—a little more friendship, a little more toleration, a little more tact — would be a good thing among plain honest folks like the most of us try to be as well as among the practical politicians. And we will be moving along the road towards real co-operation and an improvement in this old world—for which the large majority of us are yearning.

DENTAL ATTENTION

Miss Priestly, the public health nurse, tells the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association of the importance of early and regular dental inspection for children. Her advice might well be acted upon. She suggests that regular and frequent visits to the dentist are a good deal cheaper than the big one which procrastination will entail. Even the frequent, cheap visits may be more than some can find the funds to finance. The Prince Rupert Rotary Club, having taken up an appeal of Miss Priestly a year or so ago along this line, has been doing good work in getting some of the younger under-privileged school children supplied with dental treatment but there are others that the resources of the Rotary Club have not been able to reach.

Dental treatment will some day be a part of some national health scheme such as British Columbia's progressive provincial secretary, Dr. Weir, advocates. Meantime, we can work towards it and realizing its importance is one of the first approaches.

SEA DOGS ADMIRAL'S EXAMPLES

Canada's Naval Chief Was Born To Army But Chose Senior Service

OTTAWA, October 21: (CP) — Percy Walker Nelles, first Canadian-trained sailor to hold the rank of rear-admiral in His Majesty's service, sprang from military stock. But his boyhood heroes were Drake and Nelson, not Wolfe and Wellington.

Today Rear-Admiral P. W. Nelles is director of naval service and chief of the naval staff, Department of National Defence. He is commander of Canada's seagoing defenders and in charge of the vital work of defending the coasts in the present war.

Admiral Nelles' earliest recollections are of his reading of the exploits of Britain's sea heroes.

"I played with boats, because I didn't want to go into the army," he said in an interview here. "I never had a minute's doubt. The navy was to be my career."

And on the Grand River and lesser tributaries in Brant County, the future admiral sailed his model craft and imagined himself a tactician of future wars.

Percy Nelles was born in Brantford, Ont., son of the late Brigadier Charles M. Nelles, C. M. G., who served in the Northwest Rebellion, 1885, the South African War and commanded the Royal Canadian Dragoons in the First Great War.

Young Nelles was educated at Lakeside School, Peterborough, Ontario and at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Ontario, until in 1908 his dream came true and he was accepted as a cadet into the Royal Canadian Navy. He was a lieutenant in the Canadian service when war broke out in 1914.

In Royal Navy
Soon afterwards he was loaned to the Royal Navy and served first on H. M. S. Suffolk, where he received important training. He was later transferred to H. M. S. Antrim, engaged in conveying Canadian troop ships to Glasgow.

When the First Great War was over, he became senior naval officer at Halifax and then at Esquimaux. In 1930 he served as acting captain aboard H. M. S. Dragon in the British fleet. In 1931 he commanded the destroyers Saguenay and Skeena when they were brought from Great Britain to become units in Canada's navy.

In 1934 he was appointed to the highest position in the Canadian naval service as director of naval service and chief of the naval staff. He was promoted to the rank of rear-admiral.

Admiral Nelles is a wiry individual, possessed of boundless energy. As a youth he shone in running and at rugby. His recreation as an adult has been golf.

Admiral Nelles was married in 1915 to Helen Schuyler Allen of Pembroke, Bermuda. There are two sons, Charles Macklin and William Allen.

Montreal. In the following year he was appointed general superintendent of the Saskatchewan district with headquarters at Saskatoon and was transferred to Edmonton as general superintendent of the Alberta district in January 1936.

J. H. McKinnon was born at Whycomagh, Cape Breton, June 7, 1883. In 1902 he joined the Canadian Northern Railway as clerk in the freight department at Winnipeg, later becoming chief clerk in the yard office and the superintendent's office there. After serving at Dauphin as agent and warehouse foreman at Saskatoon, in 1909 he became travelling passenger agent for the company at Winnipeg and then at Toronto. He was made general agent for the company at St. Paul, Minn., in 1911, and district freight and passenger agent at Duluth, Minn., the following year. He was successively superintendent for the Duluth, Winnipeg and Pacific Railway at Virginia, Minn., superintendent for the Canadian National Railways at Kamloops and Prince Albert, and in 1936 was appointed superintendent of the Calgary division with headquarters at Calgary, Alta.

Varied Experience

Sherman Smith has had a varied experience in engineering and operating activities in western Canada since he joined the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway as resident engineer in 1907 at Portage La Prairie. After serving as assistant engineer at Melville and Saskatoon, he became assistant superintendent at Edson in 1918 which post he held until transferred to Calgary in 1926 and to Edmonton in 1931 in a similar capacity. He was born at Omaha, Nebraska, August 26, 1878. C. B. Brown, chief engineer, operation department of the Canadian National Railways, was born at Ithaca, New York, and, after attending the Ithaca High School, graduated from Cornell University with a degree of civil engineering in 1901. After several years of engineering activities Mr. Brown joined the Canadian Government Railways at Moncton in 1913 as assistant general manager and chief engineer. When the Canadian Government Railways, with several other railway entities, were finally amalgamated into Canadian National system in 1923, Mr. Brown was appointed chief engineer of operation for the system. Mr. Brown is a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada, the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Railway Engineering Association, the University Club of Montreal and the Corporation of Professional Engineers of Quebec.

George Bryant On Way Home

A message received late yesterday afternoon from Barney Mulvaney of Francois Lake told of the arrival there of George Bryant of Prince Rupert on his way home after a highly successful hunting trip to Tweedsmuir Park. Ed. Van Tyne of Ootsa Lake acted as guide for the local hunter who got a full bag of game. Mr. Bryant had his Labrador retriever with him. Between the dog and the crack shot from Prince Rupert nothing got away. They came in loaded with the bag limit of geese and ducks.

Letter Box

THANK YOU, BISHOP

Editor, Daily News:
It seems to me that the citizens of Prince Rupert are not expressing their appreciation as they should of the very excellent news service which the local newspapers are giving them. We are all anxious for news and it is my experience that we get as early and as good a resume of the important events concerning the war as can be found any place. When the Vancouver papers arrive we find we have heard it all before and we are even up to date with the broadcasts from London.

This must not only entail a tremendous amount of extra work but must also cost a lot of extra money. I am sure I voice the mind of the great majority of our citizens when I assure the managements of these papers of the appreciation there is of their efforts.

G. A. RIX.

Q. C. CITY

Mrs. N. Shaffer entertained recently at her home on the Queen Charlotte - Skidegate highway. There were three tables of bridge and at midnight the guests sat down to a delicious supper. Mrs. D. T. McColl won first prize at bridge. Mrs. O. Hill receiving the consolation prize. Guests included Mesdames Size, Gordon, Munro, McColl, Hill, McKenzie, Chastaney, Turner, Jolliffe and Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. T. White of Pacofi are spending two weeks at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fairbairn. Their visit coincides with that of Miss Evelyn Fairbairn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn, who is home for the first time in a number of years.

To raise funds for the Badminton Club, the young people of Queen Charlotte held a Thanksgiving dance in the hall at Skidegate Mission. The native orchestra, the Harmony Boys, supplied excellent music for the dancing. Refreshments were served at midnight. Verner Douglas was master of ceremonies and called off the old-time square dances that were a feature of the evening. Mrs. Fred Atkins and Mrs. George Chastaney were convenors of the affair.

George Kirby of Sandspit, who has been a patient in the local hospital, suffering from a stomach ailment, was able to leave for his home on Friday. Mr. Kirby has been with Captain Christensen on the Chapa on fish patrol duty this past season.

Miss Agnes Mathers, school teacher at Queen Charlotte public school, has moved into the house belonging to Harry Beaven and has staying with her two young Sandspit girls—her sister Margaret and Lillian Kirby, who are attending school here.

Mrs. E. Size was hostess to the "Rug Bee" last Thursday afternoon when the members of the club met at her home. After a short business meeting a new sewing project was begun. Mrs. Size has finished her large Oriental design rug, done in skillfully blended pastel shades. A dainty tea was later served, the hostess being assisted with the refreshments by her daughter Mrs. B. Munro.

When the halibut boat Takla was in port here recently, one of the crew, Carl Strand of Prince Rupert, was able to pay a visit to the home of his wife's family. Mrs. Strand, now living in Prince Rupert, was the former Cassie Carmichael.

The fine modern home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Duval is nearing completion and the family will soon be moving into it. A two-storey building, it has plenty of windows and, placed as it is on higher ground than the former dwelling, a fine view.

The weekly Cribbage Club met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Roberts. While the men played the ladies knitted. At the close of play won by the team of Barry and Roberts, all present sat down to the dainty supper prepared by the hostess.

It is thought that the northern lights are responsible for the poor radio reception here lately. Particularly lovely effects have been seen in the skies during the past week. In past years sometimes over periods as lengthy as several weeks has the service been affected. Usually excellent reception is enjoyed on these islands.

MYSTERY, THRILLER

"Miracles For Sale" and "Coastguard" At Capitol Theatre Tonight

"Miracles For Sale," a murder mystery, and "Coastguard," a thrilling marine drama, comprise a double bill on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here tonight.

"Miracles For Sale" is a story laid in the midst of a group of professional magicians and clairvoyants. Various tricks and illusions in magic are staged in connection with the baffling central plot. Robert Young, as a professional magician, is called upon to assist the police in solving the murder of a fantastic demonologist who is found dead in his locked apartment and another magician who was supposed to have been seen actually talking with the police. By turning a trick in magic to account he finds the murderer in a surprise dramatic climax. Florence Rice, as the heroine, Frank Craven, Henry Hull and Lee Bowman are among other important members of the cast.

Heroes of peace, members of the coastguard service, are glorified in the thrilling "Coastguard" with Randolph Scott, Ralph Bellamy, Frances Dee and Walter Connolly in the principal parts.
