HOW WE CRITICIZE

Most of us are ever ready to criticize our own country, our own government and our own system. Now we are Cincinnati pitted against different kinds of governments and differ- Chicago ent systems and most of us are agreed that we would very much dislike to live in those countries or to have to submit to governments such as they have there.

Canada and the British Empire are very imperfect. They are in process of development. We are working out problems concerning ourselves particularly and the rest of the world indirectly. In this matter of working out and testing systems the British have always led. They formed the first free parliament, the first responsible government and they still lead in social services, in unemployment insurance and, particularly, in security.

Some people do not like the British system but they st. Louis do not have to live in Canada or in any other British country. There are plenty of other places where they may live if they wish. All that is asked is that, if they continue to live here, they conform to the British ideals and the British institutions.

Many of us have tried to bring about changes in the Canadian system of doing things, believing that we have not reached the condition of ultimate good. Since the war is on us, the present period must be one of relaxation of Allan and Memorial Hockey Compeany efforts to bring about changes. All efforts must be bent to winning the war. We are citizens of Canada and if it is found that, in order to win, the country needs all our man power and all our wealth, it is quite in order for and Memorial Cup senior and junthe government to take it. The safety and walfare of the jor hockey championship compenation must at a time like this take precedence over everything.
