King And Queen Embark From Portsmouth Today On Epoch-Making Voyage To This Land

PORTSMOUTH, England, May 6: (CP)—The King and Queen sailed aboard the liner Empress of Australia this afternoon on their epochal voyage to Canada and the United States. A great naval convoy accompanied them as far as Lands End where the most of the ships turned back, leaving two battle cruisers to accompany them across the Atlantic. H.M.S. Empress was in the part way company. Their Majesties will land at Quebec on May 15 to travel across Canada to the Pacific Coast and back with a side journey to the United States. The King and Queen travelled from London in a special train. Queen Mary, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, the Duke and Duchess of Kent and Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose accompanied them this far to wish them bon voyage. Portsmouth was in festive dress for their Majesties.

Great Demonstration
The departure of their Majesties took place amid a great salute by warships, shore batteries and participating members of their loyal subjects. Thousands of cheering spectators were massed along the shore. Guns boomed out their salutes and squadrons of seaplanes roared overhead. The Empress passed out into the Atlantic through two long lines of battleships, cruisers, aircraft carriers and destroyers. The King and Queen stood on deck of the liner watching the great demonstration in their honor and waving to their subjects.

Yesterday, on the eve of leaving London, the King had a meeting with the Council of Lords and conferences with ministers of the government. Thursday night their Majesties dined at the home of United States Ambassador and Mrs. J. P. Kennedy, all of whose nine children were present for the occasion. The six weeks' absence of the King and Queen will mark the longest separation of the sovereigns from the Homeland since their accession. The trip also marks the first time that a reigning British King has visited one of his Dominions.

Famous Duthie Mine Near Smithers Leased And Will Go Into Operation Again
SMITHERS, May 6.—Negotiations have apparently been completed whereby the well known Duthie mine property has been leased to Messrs Northover and White of Hedley and will very shortly go into operation again on a small scale for the present. Messrs Northover and White are expected to arrive in Smithers in about ten days to start getting ready for this work.
Mr. Northover worked at the Duthie Mine ten years ago when the property was in full swing and so is very familiar with the mine and with local conditions, having been a resident in Smithers for some years. He has recently been a foreman at the Hedley Mascot mine. It is expected that there will only be a small crew starting work but it is hoped that it will develop into a larger operation.
The Duthie Mine (now known as the Smithers Mines Ltd.) is a well known high-grade silver property some of the veins being very high grade ruby silver. It is located on the west slope of Hudson Bay Mountain and is about fourteen miles from Smithers, there being a good road all the way from the town to the mine.
The buildings on the property have all been kept in good shape during the time the mine has been closed down, a watchman having been continuously employed on the premises.
With any kind of an advance in the price of silver and lead it is quite likely that this property would soon be restored to its old importance and be going at full strength. The operation of the property years ago meant a great deal to the town of Smithers and to the district as a whole.

THE RAILWAYS

Listening to a discussion on the railway situation it was suggested that, with Canadian Pacific Railway stocks at their present price, this would be a good time for the government to take over the railway, paying the present stockholders for their holdings at current market rates. Objection was taken to this because it was said the unfair competition of a government-owned railway had forced the price of these stocks down to their present level. At the present price the system could be bought at the value of the Trail smelter only.

As a precedent for action it was pointed out that the government, not the present, had taken over the Grand Trunk system without paying anything for it. It has also been suggested that the unification movement comes chiefly from the head of the C.P.R. who is in full confidence of the shareholders and, doubtless, is speaking for them when he suggests the two systems should be amalgamated.

It is also pointed out that railways today are a liability rather than an asset. With a number of United States lines in the hands of receivers, with the British railways struggling against great odds and with traffic gradually being taken over by trucks and buses, the only way out seems to be for the government to take over all transportation, railways and trucking and bus systems and make a monopoly of it similar to the post office. Owners of C.P.R. stock would be given government bonds based on the present value of their holdings. Buses and trucks used for public transportation would be taken over at valuation giving the small men an opportunity to work for the government.

It may seem that this absorption of the transportation systems smacks too much of socialism but it is similar to the post office in being purely a public service system. With the C.N.R. already in the hands of the public and with the shareholders of the C.P.R., through their president, urging unification, there seems to be nothing in the way of completing the deal. Evidently, as time goes on the condition will become worse unless something is done to prevent the present unfair competition with the railways by trucks and buses.

If the C.P.R. is not prepared to accept this deal it should stop the present expensive campaign for unification of the systems. It is a sure thing that no government will hand over the C.N.R. to the C.P.R., either to operate or to absorb. Only a government can hold a monopoly. Only a government could include all public transportation in the system and thus save the highways much of their present cost of upkeep. Action of this kind by the federal government would be a great aid to the provincial governments in providing good highways for the use of automobiles.

SPEAKING FOR NEWSPAPERS

The Vancouver Daily Province is publishing a series of advertisements showing the value of newspapers to the country. These are very striking and very informative and should be read by everyone. Thursday's advertisement says: "What better way is there to present a clean and true picture of today's world to your child than through the columns of a good daily newspaper?" And again: "Let a daily newspaper help your child build a better, more tolerant and more understanding attitude toward the future."

Canada's Royal Guests— ROUTE LIES OVER WIDE STREETS IN EDMONTON. CAPITAL OF ALBERTA

Gateway to Great Open Spaces of Northwest Territories, City Prepares Welcome for Royal Party

EDMONTON, May 6: (CP)—Gateway to the north-west and capital of 34-year-old Alberta, Edmonton plans a rousing welcome to King George and Queen Elizabeth when they visit the city June 2 on their tour of Canada. Turning east after the visit to the Pacific coast and a full-day stop at Jasper in the Rocky Mountains, Their Majesties' train will head through foothills and woodlands into Edmonton where they will spend seven hours.

Founded by a fur trader in 1779 and named after a suburb of London, Alberta's capital plans a parade extended over 12 miles. The province itself was named after the second daughter of Queen Victoria when it entered Confederation in 1905.

The day will be a holiday and thousands are expected from surrounding points and even distant outposts of the North West Territories. Greatest attention is being paid to accommodation for the school children of Edmonton and surrounding districts. Bleachers are being built specially for the children to view the procession.

Arriving at the station, Their Majesties will be greeted by Lieutenant-Governor Bowen and Mrs. Bowen, Premier William Aberhart and Mrs. Aberhart and Mayor J. W. Fry and Mrs. Fry. The procession will start shortly after the arrival of the royal party in the city.

Women's Auxiliary Decides To Join With Legion In Assisting Fine New Building

The Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, at the regular monthly meeting on Thursday night, decided to join with the Legion in furnishing a complete double room in the new Prince Rupert General Hospital building. The decision to this effect was made after hearing from Jack Preece, president of the Legion, who told of having visited the new building which, he said, was one of the finest he had ever seen.

The Auxiliary, at the same meeting, appointed for the spring sale to be held on June 2. The event will be under the general co-operation of Mrs. William Rothwell, Mrs. Robert Murray, president, who was in the chair at the meeting at which there was a large attendance.

Following the business session refreshments were served and some of the ladies stayed for bridge.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

May 6, 1914

According to figures submitted to the city council, the Shawatians Lake hydro-electric power project will cost $242,845. Mayor S. M. Newton says all the money is available.

City Solicitor Fred Peters has ruled that the city cannot regulate restaurants operating under trade licences or prohibit them from using Oriental labor.

The new planing mill being erected at the end of Third Avenue near Cow Bay by J. C. Eilers is nearing completion and will soon be in operation.

Airport For North

The parade route will take Their Majesties to the municipal airport. One of the best known in the Dominion, the airport is base of northern flying. Its volume of business last year included 11,916 passengers, 3,907,818 pounds of express and freight and 116,518 pounds of mail. It has been the stopping point on world-girdling flights and starting point for scores of mercy flights into Arctic regions.

Moving southward along 100-foot wide 109th Street, the motorcade will halt at the legislative buildings where new portraits of Their Majesties have been hung in honor of their visit. After the halt at the legislative buildings, the party will continue the tour of the city and view the University of Alberta buildings.

Across the new high level bridge over the North Saskatchewan River, the King and Queen will enter the former city of Strathcona, amalgamated with Edmonton in 1912. Here again the parade will travel along wide avenues that are the pride of Alberta's capital.

A state dinner will conclude the royal visit to the city that had its origin in old Fort Edmonton, and reached city status 30 years ago.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Elizabeth Grace Cheater, Bride of Elvin W. Johnson At Pretty and Interesting Ceremony

A wedding of outstanding interest took place before a large gathering on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Rev. E. W. Slater officiating, when Miss Elizabeth Grace Cheater, youngest daughter of J. Cheater and the late Mrs. Cheater of Winnipeg, was united in marriage to Elvin W. Johnson, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson of Seventh Avenue East.

Given in marriage by C. G. R. Anderson, the bride was a charming picture in Princess gown of white hand finished Alencon lace over bridal satin with long sleeved bolero and finger tip length veil, embroidered in silver and dropping from a halo crown of orange blossoms and satin medallions. The bride's bouquet was of Hollywood roses with tulle and ribbon streamers.

Mrs. D. W. Taylor, who was matron of honor, wore a pretty azalea rose net dress with bouffant skirt and chenille embroidered bodice and bolero to match, carrying a satin muff of fresh flowers and wearing lace gloves. Her hat was a picture model of pink crepe de chine.

The groom was attended by his brother, Ralph Johnson. Ushers were D. W. Taylor, Alex Mitchell, J. G. Garrett and Sam Jurmain.

Peter Lien, at the pipe organ provided wedding music and the choir, under choirmaster A. J. Lancaster, was in attendance. Mrs. J. M. McLeod sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Oddfellows' Hall where the guests were received by Mrs. N. McConachie, sister of the bride, who wore a "Princess bolero gown of ice blue georgette and a hat of lacy black straw, and Mrs. O. A. Johnson, mother of the groom, who wore a triple sheer dress in bramble-berry shade, jacket ensemble with shadow lace bodice and a hat of Boku straw with accessories to match.

The bridal couple received the congratulations of the assembled friends under an arch of spring flowers and foliage. The usual toasts were observed and the evening was spent in dancing. Delicious refreshments, featuring a lovely wedding cake, which was cut by the bride, were served.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. E. W. Slater and responded to by the groom. Fred Coram proposed the toast to the matron of honor with the groomsmen responding. Mrs. J. H. McLeod sang "Alice Blue Gown" and "When I Grow Too Old To Dream."

Mrs. S. E. Parker and Mrs. R. E. Moore poured and servitors were Mrs. William Trotter, Mrs. J. G. Garrett, Mrs. W. J. Currie, Mrs. Frank Glass, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, Mrs. C. H. Insulander, Miss Helen McLeod, Miss Leona Park-r, Miss Norma Rogers, Miss Olive Gordon, Miss Isabel Brannen and Miss Lillian Moss.

Alex Mitchell was master of ceremonies for the evening and music was by Charlie Balagno's Orchestra.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson sailed on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver whence they will motor south on a honeymoon tour. The bride wore a Frenchshire model pleated pocket dress of grenat spider web crepe beneath a black blin and blin coat. She had a chic Knobbs veiled hat of black and grenat with matching accessories.

On their return to the city, the couple will take up residence at 723 Sixth Avenue West.

The bride is a graduate nurse, formerly of the Prince Rupert General Hospital staff. The groom is a member of one of Prince Rupert's best known pioneer families.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. N. McConachie of Rivers, Manitoba, and Mrs. J. Cheater of Edmonton.

The pupils were chosen for their standing in their respective grades during the current term.

It is expected that they will leave Smithers about May 22 and that their trip will take about ten days.

Halibut Landings Just Under Half Million Pounds This Week—Local Naval Reservists Home From West Indies Cruise—Japanese Fishermen's Officials Here

With one day, yesterday, accounting for nearly half of the entire week's business, halibut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the past week totalled 464,700 pounds of which 168,700 pounds was from twenty-one Canadian vessels and 296,000 pounds from seventeen American boats. This brought total landings for the 1939 season at Prince Rupert to date up to 2,537,200 pounds as compared with 222,500 pounds at a corresponding date a year ago. This year's Canadian landings stand at 1,075,800 pounds in comparison with 1,174,800 pounds last year while the American total is 1,465,400 pounds as against 1,053,000 pounds. Prices for the week on Canadian fish ranged from 8.4c and 5c paid the Oldfield for 11,000 pounds down to 6c and 5c which the Rio Rita received for 8,000 pounds. For American fish the high price of the week was 9.4c and 5.5c which the Tuscan received for 15,000 pounds while the low was 7c and 5c received by the Sitka and Seattle for catches of 27,000 and 39,000 pounds respectively.

Navy, which is coming to the British Columbia coast this summer, will not be including Prince Rupert in its itinerary. The vessel, as far as can be learned now, will be coming no further north than Comox, Vancouver Island. The tug Pacific Monarch was in port at the first of the week from the T. A. Kelley Logging Co.'s camp at Tanoo, Queen Charlotte Islands, bringing in Capt. Harold Hanson of the tug Marmion who suffered a fractured hip in falling down the hold of the log carrier Monongahela. Hanson is reported to be progressing satisfactorily at the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

Port Day? The question of whether or not the Junior Chamber of Commerce will put on another Port Day celebration this year, such as was so successful last year, is under discussion and a meeting of the Port Day committee will be held on Monday evening of next week to make a decision on the matter. Some opposition, it is understood, has been raised to the event on the grounds that it conflicts with other celebration undertakings about the same time. On the other hand, there are many who feel that it would be a mistake to drop an event which enjoyed such a large measure of popularity and success as this did. There is no Fair in Prince Rupert any more and the supporters of Port Day hold that something of this nature is by no means superfluous or working a hardship on any one else.

Indian Department's cruiser Naskeena, with Captain Gerald H. Barry, inspector of Indian Schools; Indian Agent W. E. Collison and Dominion Constable A. J. Watkinson on board, returned to port at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a trip to Port Essington and Kitkatla. Inspector Barry sailed on the Prince John last night for Queen Charlotte Islands on official duties.

Capt. Harry Samuelson of the Seattle halibut boat Leora, landing a catch at Seattle this week, had a story to tell of a real fighting halibut which was caught in Area No. 2 waters. The fish was a big one, weighing 180 pounds, and, after having fought for half an hour, was finally dispatched with two pistol shots. The big fish also appears to have been hungry for, on being opened up, it was found to have devoured part of a devilfish.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 12:15 midnight last night from the south and sailed a couple of hours later on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

Halibut landings at all Pacific Coast ports for the month of April this year were 800,000 pounds less than in the same month last year, according to figures made public yesterday by the International Fisheries Commission. The total for this April was 6,800,000 pounds in comparison with 7,600,000 pounds in April 1938. From Area No. 2 4,900,000 pounds was taken this April as compared with 4,600,000 in the same month last year. The catch from Area No. 3 was 2,700,000 pounds this year, some 200,000 pounds less than April 1938. Rough weather is held accountable for the lower production so far this season but, with more boats fishing this year than last, the expectation is that the coming month will see landings come up to and possibly exceed a year ago.

Five halibut vessels landed catches totalling 54,500 pounds at Seattle yesterday. The largest catch to be landed at the Puget Sound port yesterday was by the Canadian boat Zapora, Capt. Lars Voge, which sold 22,000 pounds to Booth Fisheries for 9.4c and 8.3c. Other boats, selling at Seattle yesterday were: Betty Jane, 16,000, Sebastian, 9.3c and 8c; Myrtle, 3,000, Whiz, 9.4c and 8c; Faith, 500, New England, 9c and 8c; National, 18,000, Washington, 9.4c and 8c.

It is now understood that H. M. S. Orion of the Bermuda North American station of the British

PROBLEMS OF YOUTH

Bert Fiddes Gives Heart to Heart Talk To Members of Rotary Club At Luncheon

Youth is asserting itself today whether it be for good or for ill. The schools are teaching children to think for themselves and they are doing it. No longer is the father the Hitler of the home. Children are having their say and are dealing with movements and personalities. To parents they are a constant puzzle, a constant challenge and, because of that, the parents find themselves facing a different problem from those their fathers faced. Such was the pith of an address given to the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon Thursday afternoon, by Bert Fiddes, boys' work organizer of the Religious Education Council of British Columbia, who was visiting the city in his professional capacity.

Mr. Fiddes remarked that the boy of today found himself in a new world, a changing world, a world he did not understand. It was difficult to advise because the older people found they did not know the road themselves.

All the things that had been given youth had not been good. Some had been too materialistic—quantity instead of quality. The boy found there was an unfair distribution of the world's goods, that the Church, the backbone of the nation, was being neglected. He was the victim of a war for which he must help pay with the possibility of another war to be fought. He had been given liquor and was punished if he abused it. The movies had come and taught him the art of making love. He had been given the auto from which he had acquired a love of speed, a thrill. He had found everybody going but most people not knowing where. He was in a world where the Bible was placed in the jails but excluded from the schools.

In spite of all this, declared Mr. Fiddes, young people were surging back to the churches and they were doing this largely on their own initiative. They had many problems to face but in many cases there was a deep gulf fixed between father and son.

Mr. Fiddes asked that parents take their children into their confidence and teach them the facts of life. If they felt they could not do that themselves they should pay a physician to do it. Youths should understand their own bodies. Boys should go out into life warned of the pitfalls which beset them. Sex was fundamental but it was dynamite if uncontrolled. The evolution of life was a natural thing but it might become a tragedy.

BUSTING RACKETS

Edward G. Robinson in "I Am the Law" at Capitol Theatre

A unique story enacted by a fine cast, "I Am the Law," starring Edward G. Robinson, is the feature picture tonight at the Capitol Theatre. It portrays a one-man battle to stamp out racketeering which menaces a metropolis.

Robinson is cast as a mild-mannered law professor who employs his sabbatical leave to wipe out the rackets as a fighting prosecutor. Otto Kruger is the uncover chief of the underworld who, to divert suspicion from himself, is encouraging and advising Robinson's anti-crime campaign. Barbara O'Neil is Robinson's wife and Wendy Barrie and John Beal appear as an ex-reporter turned gungui and the crusading professor's aide respectively.

There is a novel and thrill-packed climax brought about by a motion picture of a murder being committed, a picture obtained under dramatic but perfectly feasible circumstances.

CHILDREN SELECTED

Names Drawn At Dance Last Night For Victoria Trip

The grand dance at the Moose Hall last evening, at which the names of the children who will go to Victoria for the visit of the King and Queen were drawn, attracted a good number. At midnight the names of the children were drawn as follows: Douglas McGreish, Mary Miller, Leonard Youngman, Betty Clark, Margaret Simundson, George Weir. Three extra cards were drawn so, if funds permit, other children may be sent. These names were not disclosed but the cards were put in an envelope and sealed as they were drawn after being numbered. The drawings were made by Col. J. W. Nicholls and Col. S. D. Johnston with J. S. Wilson assisting.

Prior to the drawing thanks of the Canadian Legion and the committee generally were extended to all those who had co-operated in making it possible to send the children south. It has been estimated that the cost of sending each child will amount to six dollars. Already upwards of five hundred dollars has been collected, with several promises, it is almost certain that the committee will be able to send seven children.

George Dawes was master of ceremonies and H. T. Lock, Saville and W. Lamb were other members of the committee assisting.
