Joe Lyons was at the cross-roads of his career. He turned without hesitation to the "right," resigned from the Labor party and became leader of the new anti-extremist group called the United Australia party.

KING TO HONOR WHERE GRANDSIRE SAW MUDDY ROADS MANY YEARS AGO

George VI to Unveil Memorial on a Noble Plaza Never Dreamed of on Prince of Wales' Visit in 1860

OTTAWA, April 10: (CP)—Striking contrast with the frontier lumber town which entertained Ottawa's first royal visitor 79 years ago, a modern capital built by years of government and civic effort and the expenditure of millions of dollars will greet the King and Queen in May.

When the Prince of Wales, later King Edward VII., blazed the royal path to Ottawa in 1860, a year after his mother, Queen Victoria, chose it as Canada's capital, he found an ugly lumber town sprawled along the mile-long cliff bordering the Ottawa River from the Rideau Canal to the Chaudiere Falls.

SLOW DEFENCE WORK

While good work is being done in connection with the installation of guns at the mouth of the harbor, the present European situation would seem to indicate that there should be a swift movement to get the local air base in readiness for any possible invasion. The continued advances of the totalitarian nations seem to indicate that war is inevitable sooner or later and that when the time comes Canada may be in danger of invasion or at any rate in danger of irritating raids.

It is plain to everyone that the present situation is such that decisive action is desirable on behalf of the defence department. What is needed more than anything else in Canada just now is strong defences.

WILL THE KING COME?

Many people are wondering today whether European conditions will be such that the King and Queen will come to Canada next month. Crises develop so quickly that it would not be surprising if something happened at the last minute to prevent them sailing or, after they have sailed, to make it desirable that they return to London. In case, war clouds are hovering early in May, the King may be needed close to the seat of government where the foreign and defence policies of the Empire are formulated. We all hope that nothing untoward prevents the visit but nobody will be surprised if a change is found necessary or at least desirable.

THOSE ANXIOUS TO GO

The moment there is any declaration of war, if such a declaration does come, there will be thousands of young Canadians anxious to take part overseas against any Empire enemy, no matter who it may be. While it has been suggested that Canada may not send troops overseas, we presume that ample opportunity will be given those who wish to do so to cross the seas and do their bit. Many are just waiting to hear the call and they are not by any means all young people of British parentage. The desire to fight is not perhaps as strong as it was in 1914 but it is still strong and there will be no holding back many of the young men who believe in the British Empire and in its efforts to preserve democracy.

WHAT WILL CANADA DO?

An official declaration of what Canada will do in the case of war depends very largely on Prime Minister Mackenzie King. He has promised that, in case of the Empire being at war, he will at once summon Parliament unless it is in session at the time, and will put it up to the representatives of the people. Mr. King is in close touch with London almost day and night and is keeping the government there informed on conditions here. When the time comes there is no doubt he will advise the people of Canada to back the Empire to the limit. There is also no doubt but that he will get an almost complete endorsement both by English and French speaking members of Parliament. Many think Mr. King should speak out more plainly just now, but he has always declared it is up to Parliament and is holding to that course consistently. He has already declared that when the Empire is at war Canada is at war and all that is necessary is to decide on how Canada will take part and to what extent. That will depend not only on our political leaders but on the people of Canada.

JOE LYONS WILL GO DOWN IN HISTORY

the patriotism of Australians that they took it with such little complaint. Lyons embarked on a ruthless economy campaign; so ruthless that students of politics predicted it would mean extinction for him at the next election. They were wrong.

Lyons cut salaries (including those of members of parliament) prices, rents, old-age pensions and interest on loans by 20 percent. He negotiated huge internal loan conversion schemes, and when three per cent of the investors refused voluntary to accept the cut, Lyons passed unprecedented legislation, which "assumed" they had been accepted. He brought the extremist Premier Lang of New South Wales to his knees and was indirectly responsible for his dismissal by Sir Philip Game, then Governor of New South Wales. He called together the premiers of the six Australian States and evolved a "Premiers' Plan for progressive balancing of budgets."

Within a year he had succeeded in restoring Australia's credit abroad. Governmental deficits had been reduced from $100,000,000 in 1931-32 to $45,000,000 in 1932-33. A $65,000,000 loan in Britain had been successfully converted at 3 1/2 percent. Throughout the economic crisis only one Australian bank failed—and that was an excusable failure.

Helped Irish Peace

In 1935 Lyons, accompanied by his wife, left Australia for the first time. In company with other Dominion premiers, he attended King George's Silver Jubilee celebrations in London. Here again his genius for conciliation made itself felt. He was credited with achieving a rapprochement between the Irish Free State and Great Britain.

On his way back to Australia Lyons visited President Franklin D. Roosevelt in Washington and Premier R. B. Bennett in Ottawa ostensibly to negotiate trade treaties with both countries.

A tousle-haired man who limped as the result of an automobile accident, Lyons made a distinct hit when he passed through Canada. His speeches showed him to have an intense belief in "family life," not only in the personal sense, but as between the nations that make up the British Commonwealth. His crusade was to make Australia and Canada know one another better and no man was better fitted for the task than this ex-school teacher who spoke so directly and simply.

Bright and convincing speaker and amiable, attractive guest Mrs. Lyons shared the popularity of her husband on their trip through Canada. Although described as her husband's "right hand" in elections Mrs. Lyons was first of all a mother. "I wonder," she said on one occasion to an interviewer "how anyone can bring up a family without religion. If faith is not the basis of family life, there is no ultimate authority to which to appeal."

The Lyons party was not allowed to leave Canadian waters without experiencing the thrill of their lifetime. Only a few hours after Mr. and Mrs. Lyons had embarked on the liner Niagara at Victoria for Australia the ship came into collision with the freighter King Egbert. Both ships were badly damaged and the Australian Prime Minister found himself on Canadian soil again. He remarked laughingly that Canada apparently did not want to get rid of him.

At the moment of the collision Lyons happened to be watching a movie show in the ship's theatre. He proved himself a modern Drake. He strolled casually on deck to see what all the fuss was about—and then casually returned to see the rest of the talkie.

Birmingham, losing to Liverpool 4 to 0 on Friday and to Arsenal on Saturday 2 to 1, appears to be almost certain of demotion to the second division and may be accompanied by Chelsea which lost to Charlton Athletic 2 to nil on Friday and by a similar score to Everton Saturday. Blackburn Rovers appear practically certain of promotion from the second to the first division with Chesterfield and Sheffield United, now tied for second place, and Sheffield Wednesday and Newcastle United also in the running.

Everton increased its margin of leadership in English League, First Division, football to eight points by winning 2 to 1 over Sunderland on Good Friday and following up with a 2 to nil victory over Chelsea on Saturday. Wolverhampton Wanderers, idle on Friday and losing to Preston Northend 4 to 2 on Saturday, are in danger of losing the runner-up position to Derby County which is but one point behind.

In the Scottish League Rovers are due for demotion to first to second division. Queen's Park, Albion Rovers and St. Mirren fighting against relegation to accompany them. Cowdenbeath is sure of promotion from second to first division while Alloa is regarded as the second team to be relegated.

EASTER IS FINE DAY

Special Observances of Resurrection in All City Churches—Large Congregations Turn Out

There was fine weather in Prince Rupert yesterday for Easter Sunday. During a goodly part of the day, the sun shone brightly. Special services in the churches drew out unusually large congregations. Each edifice was attractively decorated and sermons and music were appropriate to the Resurrection occasion.

In First United Church, Rev. J. C. Jackson spoke in the morning on "Incontestable Fact and Indispensable Truth" and in the evening on "The Attainment of Immortality." In the morning the Junior Choir sang "They Have Taken Away My Lord" and Miss Marie Lock the solo "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" from Handel's "Messiah." In the evening the Senior Choir sang the anthem "Rejoice in the Lord." "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" was rendered as a trio by Mrs. H. T. Lock and Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Large while Dr. Large sang "Open the Gates of the Temple."

At St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, where on Good Friday evening there had been a special Easter musical presentation, the dean, Very Rev. James B. Gibson spoke on the subject "The Experience of the Risen Lord" in the morning and on "Witness to the Resurrection" in the evening. The anthem "They Have Taken Away My Lord" was rendered by the choir in the morning.

A finely presented "Resurrection" pageant featured evening service yesterday in First Presbyterian Church. A cast of young people took part and the depiction was highly impressive. Settings were splendidly arranged and those who took part portrayed their roles with understanding. There was a musical background, with Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby and J. A. Teng as soloists, and the readings were by Rev. H. G. Funston, the pastor, who with J. A. Teng, directed the pageant. Those taking part, in order of appearance, were James Bremner, as Pilate; James Hadden and Duncan McRae, soldiers; Harold Ivarson, Joseph of Arimathea; E. J. Smith and H. M. Foote, high priests; John O'Neill and William Hadden, as Pharisees; Robert Strachan, centurian; Misses Flora and Helen Leslie, angels; Miss Winnie Cameron, Salome. Mrs. E. J. Smith presided at the organ and the costumes were in charge of Mrs. James Simpson, Mrs. J. A. Teng and Mrs. James L. Lee. The Senior and Junior Choirs joined in the morning service to provide special music and there was the rite of communion with ten new members joining the church—nine by profession of faith and one by certificate. The church was specially decorated for the Easter occasion under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Sandison and Mrs. Peter Laikie and was filled both morning and evening.

There were also special Easter services during the day at First Baptist Church, St. Peter's Church at Seal Cove and at St. Paul's Lutheran Church where Rev. L. C. Foss of Seattle is supplying the pulpit temporarily.

Miss A. Butler of Wistaria and Miss R. Butler of Endako, school teaching sisters, are spending the Easter holidays in the city, having arrived on Saturday night's train from the interior.

BAKED SALMON FILLETS

Three salmon fillets, lemon juice, butter, 1 onion, minced.
Mince the onion and place in the bottom of the baking dish. Cut the salmon fillets in serving size pieces and place on top of the onion. Dot with butter, sprinkle with lemon juice, and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes.
Potatoes, diced, or sliced very thin may be made into a potato scallop and baked in 20 or 30 minutes, and a tin of whole kernel corn, turned into a casserole, topped with thin slabs of processed cheese, takes care of the vegetable situation.

For dessert, ice cream with a homemade chocolate sauce makes an attractive and easy dessert. If a first course is desired, chilled clam juice and tomato juice (1 part clam juice and two parts tomato juice) is a grand way to start off the meal.

WOMEN OF INDIA GO TO POLLS FOR THEIR FIRST VOTE

Young women of India are pictured in groups at one of the polling places at Calcutta, India, as they cast their first votes since being enfranchised. Election officials were given an unforeseen headache when women of certain sects refused to lift their veils for identification purposes. Many of them brought their husbands to identify them but, nevertheless, there was great confusion.

KING TO HONOR

the upper reaches of the rivers thronged into the new capital to admire triumphal timber arches built from the trees they had hewn, stamp around Parliament Hill to watch workmen starting to build the nation's legislative halls and welcome Albert Edward as the first envoy of the royal family to Ottawa.

Worthy Progress

Where Edward the Peacemaker saw a shantytown with low wooden buildings, muddy streets and cluttered Parliament Hill, his grandson will ride in state through a city upon which the nation has lavished its wealth to build a capital worthy of Canada.

Edward rode over twin bridges—sapper's and the Wellington—crossing the Rideau Canal in the centre of the city and joining Lower Town and Upper Town on his way to lumber camp bean feeds and rides on lumber rafts down the Ottawa.

King George will stand on the site of the old bridges and dedicate the National War Memorial which towers over a square embraced by the razing of dozens of buildings in the last few years and faces a newly broadened Elgin Street running south from Parliament Hill.

Just 100 yards away from the first royal visitor laid the cornerstone of the centre block of the Parliament Buildings and, after its destruction by fire in 1916, another Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, laid the cornerstone of the new $15,000,000 buildings in 1919.

Their Majesties will enter Ottawa at a point on the southwestern boundary that was bushland in 1860 and drive along miles of beautiful driveways bordering the Rideau Canal which were unthought of in the '60's. They will take part personally in the beautification scheme which has been in progress for more than 30 years and will not be completed for another 50.

Besides dedicating the War Memorial, the King will look on as Queen Elizabeth lay the cornerstone of the new $3,360,000 Supreme Court building being raised on the Ottawa River bank west of the Parliament Buildings and beside other huge stone piles built in the last few years, the Justice and Confederation buildings.

On the second night of their visit—May 18—after the previous night's state dinner and the dedication of the national memorial in the afternoon, Their Majesties will have their first real view of the majestic river from which Ottawa took its name.

Standing on Nepean Point where Samuel de Champlain, the French explorer, landed on June 4, 1613, the royal couple will find the broad Ottawa flowing by beneath them while they watch the sky over nearby Parliament Hill ablaze with a fireworks display.

Visit To Hull

Ottawa's twin city, Hull, will participate in ceremonies welcoming Their Majesties, and on a tour of the Quebec city on May 19 the royal couple will see the French-Canadian city with its weathered houses, its crooked streets and the great lumber and paper mills and power houses which sustain it.

They will enter Hull over the Champlain bridge west of the capital, drive through its streets and return to Ottawa over the inter-provincial bridge which spans the Ottawa below Parliament Hill.

Whifflets
From The Waterfront

Bringing in a tow of yellow cedar logs, Harry Scott arrived last night from his hand-logging operation at Gil Island down the coast. Some of the timber will be cut at the Hadian Mill at Dodge Cove, Digby Island, for use in construction of a new boat which Harry is about to have built here to replace the old Lila. The new boat will be about forty feet long and will be equipped with a 50 h. p. Acadia engine. Mr. Scott brings reports of large numbers of wolves along the coast. At some points they have virtually cleaned out the deer and have now been seen digging clams which is unusual for deer.

Word was received from Vancouver this morning that two halibut boats with 28,000 pounds sold their catches at 8.3c for mediums, 6.2c for chickens and 5c for large. This is 1 1/2c a pound less than was paid at Prince Rupert.

With a fair-sized list of passengers, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 8 o'clock last evening from the south and sailed at 10 p.m. for Stewart, Anxox and other northern points whence she will return here tomorrow morning south-bound.

ROTARY TO ENTERTAIN

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club, at its regular business session last week spent most of the time considering plans for the entertainment of the delegates to the Rotary district conference at Juneau who plan to spend one day from two o'clock in the afternoon until midnight in the city on May 16. C. V. Ewert, chairman of the entertainment committee, asked the club for a grant to cover the cost of entertaining the visitors and it was decided to place the sum of approximately $400 at the committee's disposal for the purpose. If the day seems likely to be a pleasant one from a weather standpoint Paul Armour will place a boat at the disposal of the visitors. All members of the club will be asked to contribute the sum of $5 towards the fund in addition to placing their cars or boats at the disposal of the committee for the afternoon.

For the evening the club plans to put on a dance to which all visiting Rotarians will be guests. This will be from 8:30 until midnight.

Members of the local club will wear badges so that they may easily be recognized by the visitors. The club plans to stretch three banners across the streets with appropriate inscriptions.

The entertainment committee consists of C. V. Ewert, R. M. Winslow, Dr. Neal Carter, George Mitchell and Peter Lachie.

ROMANCE, MYSTERY

Melvyn Douglas and Virginia Bruce In "There's That Woman Again" At Capitol

"There's That Woman Again," a romantic detective mystery comedy with Melvyn Douglas, Virginia Bruce and Margaret Lindsay in leading roles, comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre here as the feature presentation for tonight and tomorrow. The story opens with Melvyn Douglas, as a private detective, faced with a perplexing crime problem. He is about to fall a jewelry store clerk as being responsible for a series of daily thefts from the store when his dim-witted wife accepts the suspect as a client and endeavours to prove him innocent. Thus the detective finds himself in a dilemma and quite amazing things happen. His wife gets herself mixed up with a murder and a general robbery of the store all of which serve to give serious yet highly comic complications to the melange of difficulties in which Douglas has become entangled.

Companion picture on a double bill is modern romance of reckless young love entitled "Youth Takes a Fling." The theme is dramatic yet there are moments of wistful romance and gay comedy. Joel McCrea plays the part of a young Kansas farm boy who has dreamed for years of going to sea and comes to New York seeking work on a boat. Andrea Leeds is the romantic salesgirl of wedding goods with whom he falls in love. Dorothea Kent and Frank Jenks have important comedy roles.

Miss Takla Fulton has arrived in the city from her school teaching duties at Cedarvale to spend the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fulton.

Mrs. A. Attree arrived in the city on Saturday night's train and will leave this evening on her return to the interior, accompanied by Miss M. C. Willson who arrived in the city last evening on the Catala from London, England.
