NEW REPUBLIC OF CHINA LIKELY TO HAVE WAR

CHINA STILL HAS TROUBLE

Viceroy of Manchuria Refuses to Recognize Republic and Claims to Have Sufficient Force to Uphold Manchu Dynasty.

(Special to Daily News.)
Pekin, Feb. 19.—The Viceroy of Manchuria has refused to recognize the republic and declares that his army will uphold the dynasty. Premier Yuan has telegraphed him that unless he agrees to deal with the new government an army will be sent against him.

Nanking, Feb. 19.—Sun Yat Sen has sent an earnest appeal to Yuan Shi Lai to come here and take up the reins of the government. Unless she arrives in the next few days serious complications are likely, with a renewal of fighting.

New Summer Schedule.
The Pacific Coast Steamship Company has announced that the City of Seattle and the Spokane will be placed in the Prince Rupert-Slagway service. The City of Seattle has been tied up during the winter. The Spokane has been entirely refitted and overhauled, since she went on the rocks in Seymour Narrows last year. It is expected that she will be replaced in June by the State of California, when the Spokane makes the tourist route to the Alaska glaciers.

Old Reliable Goes South.
The Camosun left at the usual hour last night. The passenger list included Rev. F. H. Du Vernet, W. G. Mahon, D. McMillan, P. Lorenzen, S. F. Grandell, J. M. Milligan, E. T. Calvert, M. Fylen, B. Valentine, D. Nicholson, J. Brown, Frank Footletta, W. E. Willisroft, Roy White, A. Forster.

MORGAN'S CACHE FOR MILLIONS

In Specially Constructed Vault at Top of Forty-three Storey Building—Intending Bank Robbers Must Use Aeroplanes.

This picture shows the top storeys of the new Bank of Commerce building in New York. J. Pierpont Morgan has picked out for his new offices the forty-second floor, immediately beneath the odd looking pyramid on top. The pyramid will be used by Morgan and his banking house as a safety vault for the storage of millions in cold cash, stocks and bonds. If this idea of storing wealth high in the air becomes at all general it may lead to a new type of daring bank robber, operating by aeroplane.

THE TROMBONE AND THE TRUTH

Discord Really Reigns Between Rival Conservative Camps---Progressives Repudiate Reconciliation With Old Association

TORIES NOT "A UNITED PARTY"

Bitter Denunciation by Leading Progressives of Raw Deal Forced on Friday Night's Meeting by "Peace-Maker Wadham" Through President J. F. Ritchie

—Nominations for Proposed United Executive Challenged

"Peace, peace," drones the Trombone, but there is no peace. It's so entitled "A United Party," rendered on Sunday morning, was a solo in every sense. Right and left, and all around disgusted members of the Progressive Conservative party are denying absolutely that the farce of Friday night has in any way helped to bring the active Progressives in line with the intrigue riddled body of the Conservative Association. Rather the reverse they say emphatically, and so bitter is the feeling aroused that wholesale abandonment of the old party is already threatened.

Another Raw Deal.
It is common knowledge now that a strong section of the Progressives left Friday night's meeting when without even the semblance of a vote eight names were nominated to be added to the old association's executive. It is evidently not realized by those who framed up the measure and the list of names how many indignant Progressives refrained from immediately declaring themselves, hardly believing that their chosen president, J. F. Ritchie, had fully realized what a catspaw he was being made of when he forced the nomination list on this meeting.

The Forced Move.
Under the arrangements by which the alleged union was brought about on Friday night the following from the Progressive Association were to be given places on the executive of the old association: J. Fred Ritchie, Dr. Clayton, H. H. Clarke, J. F. Macdonald, R. R. McKinnon, Harry Love, Alderman Douglas and A. Ward. These, with the old executive, it was proposed, should constitute the enlarged executive of the ideal united Conservative association. The old executive consists of George D. Tite, president; M. M. Stephens, F. E. Cullin, J. A. Kirkpatrick, J. G. Scott, George W. Kerr, J. H. Hilditch, J. E. Merryfield, Dr. Quinlan, J. Wynne, T. Maitland, J. W. McCutcheon and O. H. Nelson.

Rally for Reform.
Between Friday night and today, however, there has been a rallying of the indignant Progressives, and this very night, it is said, a special meeting has been hurriedly called by "Peace-maker" Wadham and his assistant doves in order that a frantic effort may be made to realize in fact the terms of the Trombone's peace solo of Sunday. "They will not succeed," say leading members of the Progressives.

It is held by powerful influences amongst the Progressives that the effect of amalgamation with the old association on the terms thrust on the meeting and erroneously advertised by the Trombone as practically unanimously accepted, will mean simply the passing over of the Progressive Association into the hands of the old regime, thereby nullifying entirely the beneficial work already achieved by the Progressives. The superseding of the two commissioners, Merryfield and Stephens, is instanced in this connection by Progressives, who express great indignation that the effort of

TROMBONE TOOTS.

"The Progressive Conservative Association has decided to disband."

... it is certain that there will be a general approval of the action."

... this move does away with any friction between different wings of the same party.

"In no small degree the credit for bringing about this reconciliation has been due to T. Wadman of Revelstoke of the B. C. Conservative Association."

"He has spent most of the week here sizing up the situation and has succeeded in bringing about harmony."

"Mr. Wadman says that loyalty to the Conservative party was the thing that made the reconciliation possible."

"He has hopes that there will never be a split again introduced into Conservatism here."

"Some difference of opinion existed at the meeting, there being an expressed desire on the part of some to remain independent."

their body to work real benefit to the city in striking contrast to the influence and methods of the old Conservative Association should be allowed to suffer any stay.

"Czar Ritchie."
Under the heading "Czar Ritchie," the opinion of a number of Progressive Conservatives has been expressed in writing as a counterblast to the peace paean of the lone Trombone. It runs thus:

"The bulk of the members of the Progressive Conservative Association are up in arms, and highly indignant at the action of the president and a small coterie of the members of the association in arbitrarily naming an executive without first going through the form of a vote by the members. Many of them say that in joining the Progressives it now seems to have been merely jumping from the frying pan into the fire. They now threaten wholesale secession to the Liberal party. Friday night's farce is held to be a worse confidence game than the election held last November by the Liberal Conservative Association, where, at all events, the semblance of a vote was taken even though the meeting was plugged.

"A Frame Up."

"On Friday night a frame up was made and manipulated by a couple of discredited politicians and to which all the eight nominated were party tacitly or otherwise. Some of those who were loudest in denunciation of the dark methods employed by the old executive of the regular association did not hesitate, when the opportunity offered, to adopt even more despicable methods for the advancement of their own selfish ends."

"Harmony a Myth."

"Harmony" between the bodies is a myth. It does not exist; and unless the members of the Progressives are given an opportunity to nominate names for the executive a general stampede from the party is bound to ensue.

"The Czar of Russia could not have acted more arbitrarily than did President Ritchie," declare resentful Progressives, but they say they know by whose instigation he fell for it.

"Peace-maker" Wadham is a laughing stock today for permitting such action to take place, and for not seeing to it that the election was carried out in a regular and honest manner. Also a great many of the Progressives are surprised that their chosen president should have allowed himself to be used in this connection. They thought better of him."

New Steamer Schedule.
Agent Rogers this afternoon received from the Union Steamship Company word that the new boat of the company, the Chelohsin, will leave Vancouver on her first trip Monday, February 26th, and that the Camosun will leave the next day and the Venture two days after her. Mr. Rogers thinks this is only for the trial trip of the Chelohsin, and that the new regular schedule will come later.

PRINCE RUPERT REALTY MAN WEDS GIRL OF HIS HEART

ROMANTIC PROPOSAL MADE BY WIRE FROM SEATTLE TO DENVER—BRIDE CATCHES FIRST TRAIN WEST—MR. AND MRS. JAMES J. CALKINS WED WEDNESDAY.

"Meet me in Seattle and I'll have a priest waiting to tie the knot," wired James J. Calkins, formerly of Prince Rupert, to Miss Catherine King, 1332 Elati street, Denver, last Sunday. Miss Catherine accepted, and left that night for the western coast. The marriage was performed early Wednesday morning by the Rev. Father Dunn of the St. James Cathedral in Seattle.

"My daughter and Joe have known each other for seven years," said Mrs. King. "Two years ago Joe went out to Prince Rupert, to go into the real estate business. He wanted to take Catherine with him then, but I said no, because I wanted them to be sure of their own minds. Then last week I got a letter from Joe saying that he surely knew his mind after all this time; that he was doing well in his business, and had a home all ready for Catherine. When his telegram came Sunday my daughter couldn't stand it any longer, so she left the same evening. They told me in the night letter which they sent after their wedding that they got down to the court house in Seattle almost an hour before it was opened on Wednesday. As soon as they could get the license they hurried to early mass, after which they were married. Mrs. Howard Marshall, a Denver girl, daughter of J. J. Hally of this city, was matron of honor for Catherine."

Miss King has lived for seven years in Denver, where she is well known. For several years she has been the head of the ribbon department at A. T. Lewis & Son's dry goods store. Her father, Henry P. King, is deputy coal mine inspector of the state. Calkins is a nephew of John Calkins, manager of the Denver Union stock yards. He was in business with his uncle before he left Denver. The young couple will make their home in Victoria, B. C.

CLEARING OFF FOR NEW RAILWAY DEPOT

Council Meetings to be Held in Gymnasium of Fire Hall---Post Office and Rupert Inn to be Moved to Centre Street

The City Engineer will report to the Council tonight on the condition of the new fire hall, with suggestions as to the accommodations it affords for the temporary housing of the city hall staff. The probability is that the gymnasium will be used for the meetings of the council, and that the engineering staff and clerks will be accommodated in the upper floors until the city hall is completed.

The post office is to be removed to the old Kelly-Carruthers building on Centre street. This does not happen to be in the line of any grading or other necessary work, and it is believed will serve the purpose admirably until definite instructions are received from the federal government to start the construction of a large permanent post office.

Right near to it the Prince Rupert Inn will be placed, as the site the Inn now occupies will be required at once for yards and the new depot.

These changes mean the employment of quite a little labor in themselves, but this will be nothing to the gangs of men that will be employed on and about the sites of the buildings to be moved in the course of a few weeks, as foreshadowed in the detailed account we gave Saturday of the immediate intentions of the railway company in this regard.

GRAND TRUNK ANNOUNCEMENT BRIGHTENS THINGS UP.

The glorious sunshine of today, glinting on the new snow of the distant hills, is a reflection of the general feeling in Prince Rupert this morning. Our detailed account of Saturday afternoon in regard to the great undertakings the railway company is to start in this city immediately has filled all classes with hope and encouragement. It is generally conceded that this is but the beginning of great things for the city; that it will bring other and probably larger private enterprises in its train. Meantime, there is work enough in sight for all, and this means a jubilant state of mind on the part of merchants. To them another big pay roll means much. Business houses are planning extensions and there is a hunt for good locations in which to start new businesses. In fact things are beginning to boom.

BEGINNING THE BOOM FOR DICK M'BRIDE.

We are informed by a government organ that McBride during the decade he has held the office of premier of this province has "rolled back" the map of British Columbia. There is every evidence that the premier has done this; has rolled up the map, tied it with a yard of red tape, and thrust it into a dusty pigeon-hole. Yet the province has prospered in spite of this. Its wealth of natural resources could not long remain undiscovered. The prosperity of the world outside during the past ten years, with the exception of a few months of financial panic in the United States has been unbounded, and accrued earnings are still seeking investment in all corners of the world. British Columbia could not and was not overlooked. Outside capital opened up her mines in this northern part, and is creating a fishing industry that will shortly rank second to none. Where does McBride come in for any particular credit?

Of the whole of this northern half of the province Prince Rupert is the hub. It is the newest and most desperately struggling city on the map, as well as being the city with the greatest future. What has McBride done for Prince Rupert to lead any citizen to give his vote to continue him in power? He has done this, and done it deliberately: He has kept one-quarter of this townsite from paying taxes; he has defrauded the city treasury by just that much. To make public improvements, to develop the city and make it worthy of front rank among the leading seaports of the world takes money and the city has to borrow it. Its collateral for such borrowing is depreciated by twenty-five per cent. by McBride's "policy of wonderful expansion." Even the credit of its debentures are smirched by the dilly-dallying of his legislature in the ratification of our debenture bylaws. Right in the heart of our business section are dirty, disfiguring vacant lots that would have been covered with handsome business blocks from which the city would be collecting revenues, but McBride is waiting to gather the "unearned increment"; waiting until the citizens make these lots of immense value by the investment of their own toil and money on adjacent properties. When William Manson starts on his still hunt for voters for McBride next April, he will need a search warrant to find one in this city outside of those holding provincial jobs or who hope to hold one.

WE SHALL GET THAT ALASKA TRADE EVENTUALLY.

During the federal election it was several times pointed out in these columns that if reciprocity carried this port would gain a very distinct advantage in at once becoming the supply point for the whole of the country to the north of us, including Alaska. There are indications that although reciprocity was defeated we may get that trade. Only two or three weeks ago some of the largest concerns of Ketchikan and Cordova decided to deal with Vancouver in preference to Seattle, being tired of the way Seattle has made a political football of Alaska and Alaskans. When the railway is through you may read this Prince Rupert instead of Vancouver.

But there is another point worthy of consideration in regard to this trade coming here. In an interview to be found in another column Mr. John Rogers, a well known mining man from Cordova, says that the agitation throughout Alaska in favor of political union with Canada is no idle talk, and he adduces strong logical argument. If that should ever take place we should have the Alaska trade; it would naturally belong to us.

Prince Rupert has always welcomed Alaskans. Among our leading property holders are several mining men from the north, some of whom were here as soon as the place had a name and have grown up with it. They are always welcome, and they can find no other place on the outside where they can leave their dust pokes with the same surety of large profit.

POPE FORBIDS LOW CUT GOWNS

Pontiff Issues an Order Which He Believes Will Abolish Decollete Styles in Roman Catholic Social Circles.

Rome, Feb. 14.—For a long time it has been known that Pope Pius was intensely opposed to some of the tendencies of current fashions, his special aversion being the extremely decollete cut in evening gowns, and from the beginning of the present pontificate the Vatican has urged Catholic clergy throughout the world to discourage so far as possible the wearing of them by Catholics. There is, therefore, no surprise at the edict issued today in which Pope Pius forbids cardinals and all other church dignitaries to accept invitations to social functions where women are permitted to wear decollete gowns. The Pontiff believes his order will tend to do away with a lot of low cut gowns in Catholic circles.

Hon. Martin Burrell Considering a Reorganization of Them.

Ottawa, Feb. 14.—Hon. Martin Burrell is considering the reorganization of the experimental farms. Under Dr. Grisdale, who will continue as director of experimental farms, there will be two more officers, one of field husbandry and one of animal husbandry. It is possible that a third may be added in charge of seed grain work. Other improvements in organization are also under consideration.

Australian Government Curing Drink Habit Adopts Famous NEAL CURE

Sending Sunshine and Happiness Into Hundreds of Darkened Homes Instead of Inflicting Fines or Prison Cells Upon Her Unfortunate Citizens

The government of South Australia has set an example worthy of imitation by the other nations of the world. Owing to the extent, enormity and the awful consequences of the drink habit, they have for years past been investigating its cause, effect, treatment and possible cure.

In the year 1910 Rev. A. C. Rankine, commissioned by that government, visited the United States, and after a thorough investigation of drink habit treatments, returned to his government last September and gave a detailed and lengthy report recommending the adoption of the NEAL THREE-DAY DRINK HABIT CURE. The government of South Australia adopted his report, and established the cure in a large government sanitarium, where those addicted to the drink habit are treated at government expense, instead of being fined or sent to prison cells.

During the first ninety days 182 persons so affected were perfectly cured by the Neal treatment at government expense and restored to citizenship. In addition to this, reports show that more than double that number availed themselves of the Neal treatment in private sanitariums in Australia.

Scientific research and investigation of the centuries has recently culminated in the establishment of the fact that the drink habit, so called, is caused by the poison of alcohol stored up in the system by the long continued or excessive use of alcoholic liquors, and that the man or woman thus afflicted is as much in need of and must have medical help as if suffering from typhoid fever or other serious ailment. Dr. Neal has solved this problem. He has not only demonstrated the above, but he has found the drug which antidotes this poison, and, combining same with other well known neutralizing and eliminating drugs, he has originated the Neal treatment, which, in thousands of cases, has perfected absolute and safe cures in the short space of only three days.

The Vancouver Neal Institute is one of the many that is carrying on this treatment. It is a place where you have a friend who is losing his grip write for booklet giving full information.

WHAT IS ORE IN SIGHT?

The council of the institution of Mining and Metallurgy, London, England, the most important organization of its kind in the world, recognizing the great importance of this matter to the mining industry and to the public generally, some years ago appointed a committee to consider what steps the institution might usefully take in defining the term "Ore in Sight." After due consideration and discussion the council came to the following decision:

1. That members of the institution should not make use of the term "Ore in Sight" in their reports without indicating, in the most explicit manner, the data upon which the estimate is based; and that it is most desirable that estimates should be illustrated by drawings.

2. That as the term "Ore in Sight" is frequently used to indicate two separate factors in an estimate, namely:
(a) Ore blocked out; that is, ore exposed on at least three sides within reasonable distance of each other; and
(b) Ore which may be reasonably assumed to exist, though not actually "blocked out."

These two factors should in all cases be kept distinct, as (a) is governed by fixed rules, while (b) is dependent upon individual judgment and local experience.

3. That in making use of the term "Ore in Sight" an engineer should demonstrate that the ore so denominated is capable of being profitably extracted under the working conditions obtaining in the district.

4. That the members of the institution be urged to protect the best interests of the profession by using their influence in every way possible to prevent and discourage the use of the term "Ore in Sight," except as defined above; and the council also strongly advises that no ambiguity or mystery in this connection should be tolerated, as they (the council) consider that such ambiguity is an indication of dishonesty or incompetence.

ALASKA DESIRES ANNEXATION TO THE DOMINION OF CANADA

ADMINISTRATION OF LAW AND JUSTICE IN YUKON IMPRESSES ALASKANS, WHO ARE JUSTLY INDIGNANT AT NEGLIGENCE OF THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT.

Vancouver, Feb. 14.—"Alaska has greater resources than any state in the Union. Its development has been, and is being, retarded by the stupid obstinacy of United States officials. It is true that Alaska is producing vast wealth, but the amount is a bagatelle to what could be accomplished if the authorities showed any decent encouragement to the miner, prospector, fisherman and agriculturist."

"I can assure you that the agitation throughout Alaska in favor of political union with Canada is no idle talk. The movement is gaining ground every day, but just how it can be realized it is difficult to say. The hardy pioneers who have braved a thousand dangers in the north hope at least that the agitation will arouse a public sentiment throughout the country and result in putting an end sooner or later to the intolerable conditions that prevail in Alaska."

In these words Mr. John Rogers, a well known mining man just down from Cordova, expressed to a representative of the Province his disapproval of the inactive policy of the federal government toward the territory. Mr. Rogers spoke with considerable feeling, declaring that the same sentiments were entertained by 98 per cent. of the population in every town and mining camp from Nome to Wrangell.

"It has become a by-word in the north," he added, "that the poor man cannot get a square deal, and that title to coal and mineral claims can only be secured through the influence of Washington lobbyists. This is probably the reason why some of the richest natural resources have passed under the control of groups of capitalists. The old timers like myself are fully aware that the administration of the mining laws in Alaska forms a lurid contrast with the square methods in vogue in the Canadian Yukon. On the British side of the line the law is plain and is enforced to the letter. The poor man has got just as good a show as the capitalist or the rich corporation."

One Good Point.

Governor Dix, at the dinner to Arnold Bennett in New York, pointed out wittily some of the faults of the self made man.

"There's one thing, though, about the self made man that I will say," said Governor Dix, with mock solemnity. "The self made man always reverences his maker."

PERILOUS AS A BATTLEFIELD

New York's Annual Chapter of Accidents Presents Some Startling Figures for the Consideration of Its Authorities.

New York, Feb. 14.—The annual report of the New York board of coroners shows that 5,700 sudden deaths were reported to the coroner's office in 1911, a total of 200 more than 1910.

Of these, 3,050 proved to be due to natural causes, 650 of a violent character. These included suicides, murders and accidents. The homicides by shooting or assault are 193, an increase of eight. Of the 340 casualties in Manhattan, in which death was charged to some other person, 90 were caused by automobiles, an increase of 28.

"The streets of this city are becoming more perilous than a battlefield," says the report, "and it is high time that some change in the laws governing the operation of automobiles be made."

Surface cars killed 72 persons, subway trains and elevators 68, and there were 330 accidents. Of those who died 420 are still listed as "unknown dead."
