SAILORS RESCUED

Six Taken Out of Sunken Japanese Submarine Alive but Eighty-One Others Feared Perished

TOKYO, Feb. 6: (CP)—The Japanese Admiralty announces that six sailors have been rescued safely from the submarine I-63 which sank following a collision last Thursday. Although rescue operations are being continued, it is feared that 81 men still in the sunken craft are dead.

The I-63 was one of the finest and most modern of Japanese submarines. The vessel had a radius of 16,000 miles which would permit her to cross the Pacific and return to Japan without refuelling.

BREN GUNS COMING UP

If Debate is Deferred, House Will Consider Private Bills Today

OTTAWA, Feb. 6: (CP)—Parliament will decide today whether or not it discusses the Bren machine gun contracts further. Prime Minister William Lyon Mackenzie King has suggested that discussion be deferred until after the report has been made by the public accounts committee to which he agreed last week that the whole matter should be referred. However, it is possible that some Conservative and Co-operative Commonwealth Federation members may wish to discuss the contracts at this time.

In case there is no discussion of the contracts, the House will get down to consideration of private bills one of which will be from C. B. McIntosh, Liberal member for North Battleford, Saskatchewan, calling for the adoption of a national flag by Canada.

U.F.A. HAS NEW PLAN

Agrarian Body Re-dedicated To Seeking Security and Better Living

By Sam G. Ross
Canadian Press Staff Writer
EDMONTON, Feb. 6: (CP)—Vital in affairs provincially and federally since its birth, the United Farmers of Alberta is now launched into a transition period with politics out of its program.

The 31-year old agrarian organization that provided the voting power behind the Alberta government for 14 years from 1921 to 1933 and sent as many as 10 members at once to the House of Commons during the same period is striking out anew to build up consumer co-operatives and hit a new economic stride.

Without changing from the leadership of Robert Gardiner and Norman F. Priestley, president and vice-president respectively since 1931, the U. F. A. convention at Calgary voted to end 20 years of direct political activity and bring a higher standard of living and greater security to farm people.

History of Movement
Two pioneer farm organizations—the Canadian Society of Equity and the Alberta Farmers' Association—merged in Edmonton in 1909 to form the U. F. A. Ten years later on January 19, 1919, the organization voted itself into direct political action. And 20 years later, on January 19, 1939, it stepped out of the political field.

Decision of the 1919 convention to take direct political action culminated two years later in formation of the first farmers' government in Alberta. In the same year the U. F. A. sent its first group of (Continued on Page Four)

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6: (CP)—Ohio River flood waters were still rising last night although it was felt in some quarters that there might be no more serious results than have already occurred. At Cincinnati the river had reached the 52-foot level and during yesterday it rose six inches higher at Louisville.

Kentucky and West Virginia had been hardest hit by the high water. The death toll had reached six and upwards of 5,000 had been rendered homeless, arrangements being made for their relief.

WATCHING BOMBINGS

All Police Leaves Cancelled And Special Precautions Being Taken After Plot Uncovered

LONDON, Feb. 6: (CP)—With all police leaves cancelled and ten thousand officers on duty in London alone, special precautions are being taken against further bombings by the outlawed Irish Republican Army in pursuit of its demand for the withdrawal of British armed forces from all Ireland. All public buildings, state residences, railway lines and stations, power houses and docks are being specially guarded.

Reinforcement of guards against bombing followed the uncovering in a raid at Belfast of a conspiracy to wreck the Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace, the London residence of the King and Queen, also having been mentioned in the bizarre plot.

There were bombing incidents at the week-end in four London county stores as well as at Waltham Prison in Liverpool where several Irish Republican Army suspects are being held.

Negrin Asks Britain and France to Ask for Mediation to End Conflict—"Missing" Canadians Turn Up Safely at Frontier

TO PREVENT FURTHER BLOODSHED
LONDON, February 6: (CP)—The British and French governments are co-operating with a view to using joint efforts to stop needless bloodshed in Spain, it is reported in official circles. Assurances that Great Britain is ready to act with France as mediator in the Spanish conflict have been made. Unconfirmed reports said that the Spanish government sought to enlist Great Britain's services.

PERPIGNAN, France, February 6: (CP)—The Spanish government abandoned its defence of Catalonia yesterday. The loyalist army was in mass flight to France and Premier Negrin and a few of his followers were reported to be on their way to Valencia. After Negrin had refused to enter into a truce with the insurgents, the French government decided to open the frontier to the loyalist army numbering some 200,000 soldiers who will be placed in concentration camps. From that portion of southern Spain which the government still holds, resistance would be continued against the insurgents, it was at first reported, but today Negrin called a conference with British and French envoys to Spain, presumably to take up mediation of the civil war. Negrin's foreign minister, Julio Alvarez, joined in arranging for a meeting while the loyalist army considered the possibility of ending the war by surrender of their remaining one-fourth of Spain to the insurgents.

NOT ENOUGH CO-OPERATION

It is claimed by some of the French-speaking people of Quebec that there is not enough co-operation between the two races in that province and in the rest of the country. English-speaking people do not take an interest in French-Canadian problems, customs and language. They are high-handed and have an idea that their fellow Canadians are not worthy of consideration.

While we feel sure this is only partly true, there is probably enough truth in it to make it desirable to have the condition remedied. In the west we are too far away to realize what it means to a sensitive people who were guaranteed their rights and customs at the time of the conquest of the country by the British.

We wonder how many Prince Rupert people have ever thought of taking their holidays in Quebec instead of in California. It should prove a most interesting experience and might be well worthy of consideration.

NEW ZEALAND'S PROBLEM

New Zealand has been often pointed out as the country that is leading all others in social security. Now, as a result of the country spending too freely, the credit of the country is rapidly dropping and capital is said to be keeping away and where possible those with money are leaving the country.

So low has the New Zealand currency dropped in world markets that an effort is being made by the government to stem the tide but so far no results have been attained.

PEACE IN SPAIN

There now seems a possibility that there will be peace in Spain. The Franco forces, with the aid of Italy and to some extent Germany, have crushed the government and gradually taken possession of the country. If fighting can be stopped and settlement of the troubles achieved there will be more chance of Europe settling down and the war clouds blowing away.

The war in Spain has been a terrible struggle. On both sides there have been cruelties and horrors of all kinds. War is terrible under any conditions but when one section of a country is fighting against the other, brother against brother, it takes a long time to forget and forgive.

Len Williams, arrived in port at 7:10 last evening from Ketchikan and spent the entire night here, discharging a large cargo of frozen fish for transshipment East over Canadian National Railways. She sailed from here for Seattle where the expectation is that she, too, will be tied up as a result of the masters' and mates' strike which is paralyzing Alaska shipping.

COSTS UP; EARN LESS

Nevertheless Railways Are Rendering Consistent Service, Says C.N.R. Vice-President

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 6: — "Notwithstanding reduced earnings and increased costs, the railways have continued to furnish to the public the highest standard of transportation so far as dependability and efficiency are concerned," R. C. Vaughan, vice-president of the Canadian National railways, said in the course of an address Saturday night at the thirty-sixth annual dinner of the Canadian Railway Club. They were not, he said, fair weather friends and could be depended upon in good weather or bad. "They are there when other forms of transportation tie up due to weather conditions. They clear their tracks at their own expense and do not depend on someone else to do it for them."

Not denying that there was a place for other forms of transportation, the railways, Mr. Vaughan said, simply asked that the others be placed on the same basis as the railways. "If all the forms of transport were regulated on a par, railroads would quickly find its place in the economic movement of the nation's available traffic. We believe that the public, governments and municipalities are beginning to realize that the railways are entitled to fair play with other competitive forms of transportation. That is all the railways ask—nothing more. Surely they are entitled to it."

The railways, Mr. Vaughan emphasized, were responsible to a large extent for the early development of the country. But for their construction such great basic industries as agriculture, lumber, mining and paper could never have been developed in a large way. In years gone by, the railways of Canada had brought to this country, at their own expense, tens of thousands of excellent settlers who had peopled the country and made it prosperous. Hundreds of millions of dollars of wealth had been added by railway construction.

Building every foot of their lines, the railways had paid enormous sums for their right-of-way and facilities. They paid regular federal, provincial and municipal taxes on nearly every foot of their right-of-way and tracks, paid on their buildings and assumed the entire cost of the maintenance of their properties. They spent millions in wages and a large proportion of the population of Canada was supported directly or indirectly by them. They were surrounded by all sorts of costly regulations. Although they might be justified in doing so, he added, they could not at this time pass on additional expenses in the form of increased freight rates. "This country," Mr. Vaughan concluded, "can never be prosperous without a sound and prosperous system of transportation and, with few exceptions, of all systems yet devised, railroads are the most economical if permitted to operate on equal terms."

Extensive rebuilding work is being carried out on the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative packer Azurite and a new 80 h.p. diesel engine is being installed.

Had Checkered Military Life

Bert Little, Who Was Located in Early Days in Prince Rupert, Dies in Montreal

Word has just reached the city of the death some weeks ago in Montreal of Edward H. ("Bert") Little, who lived in Prince Rupert for a few years before the Great War and who will be remembered by old friends here.

Mr. Little, who was sixty-nine years of age, had quite a checkered career. A native of England, he joined the Royal Navy as a boy and, at the outbreak of the Boer War, he was stationmaster at Mafeking. He was taken prisoner by the Boers and paroled after which he served through the siege of Mafeking. He then came to Canada and for a while was located in Prince Rupert, taking considerable interest in rifle shooting at the old McNicholl Creek ranges where here. The commencement of the Great War found him at Calgary and he immediately went to Esquimalt where he became master-at-arms in the naval yard. In July 1915 he enlisted in the Sixty-Second Battalion and went overseas as Company Quarter Master Sergeant under the late Capt. C. T. Partington. In England he was declared too old for front line service so went to the Canadian Railway Corps with which he saw service in France until the end of the war. Returning to Canada, he settled in Montreal where he resided until he died.

DON'T TAKE NEEDLESS RISKS!

Treat Colds Proved Way

This doubly-proved treatment relieves colds without "dosing." Proved in world's largest colds-clinic; further proved by use in more homes than any other medication of its kind. Just massage VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Its poultice-vapor action starts bringing relief almost at once. Loosens phlegm, eases coughing, helps break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

CENTRE OF COMMUNITY

Pastor Deplores That Theatre and Dance Hall Should be Taking Place of Church and School

That the theatre and dance hall should have become the centre of the community's interest instead of the church and school was deplored by Rev. H. G. Funston at morning service in First Presbyterian Church yesterday. He would not, however, throw the church open to all the worldly pleasures in order to attract people to it. Such would not be a lasting insurance of interest in church. Possibly, the preacher himself might be partly to blame for the loss of grip by the church but not entirely by any means. Without the support and prayers of his congregation, the preacher could hope for no large measure of success in his ministrations. Mr. Funston made an appeal for a return to the old source of the strength of the disciples—quiet and earnest prayer.

Mr. Funston's subject was "Attendance at Church and What it Means to You." Those who came to church with the idea merely of helping the church, in the hope that they would derive business by so doing, in order to exhibit their new clothes, to hear fine oratory or as a routine and boring duty just because it was Sunday would derive little benefit from the church which, from a spiritual standpoint, stood to gain nothing from their presence. There was necessity to get back to the old principles and spirit in church attendance.

Many Matters At Scout Meet

Variety of Subjects Discussed At Gathering Saturday Night

The patrol leaders and second of First Prince Rupert Troop of Boy Scouts met on Saturday evening at the home of Assistant Scoutmaster E. W. Meadows for the monthly meeting of the Court of honor. A number of items of considerable interest were discussed. Final arrangements were made for the troop concert which is being held early next month. A one-act play is being prepared as part of the program.

It was announced that the winner of the inter-patrol competition for February was the Beaver Patrol under Patrol Leader Ray Houghan. At the next meeting this patrol will receive the shield as a token of excellent work.

The subject of the summer camp was discussed. It was decided to start a troop camp bank to save the necessary funds.

The reports of the different patrol leaders indicated that good progress has been made during the past month as a number of Scouts are ready to pass several tests for their second and first class badges.

Following the meeting refreshments were enjoyed with true Scout gusto.

C. A. Wilkie arrived in the city on the Catala last evening to install and play a new electric organ which is to be presented at the Masonic Temple here tonight. Masons from Ketchikan are here to attend the meeting at which the presentation will take place.

Canada's Royal Guests

ROYAL DUTIES BEING DELEGATED TO STATE COUNCIL IN ABSENCE

Preparations Advance on Both Sides of Atlantic in Connection With Visit of King and Queen to Canada

With sabre-rattling fast becoming the dominant sound in Europe, Empire leaders are looking to the approaching visit of the King and Queen to Canada to furnish the world with a salutary lesson in Empire solidarity. Only three months remain before the battle cruiser Repulse steams out into the Atlantic with Their Majesties or board and officials in both Great Britain and Canada are busy with preparations.

The King's position as constitutional head of the British Government necessitates the setting up of machinery to deputize in his absence. This machinery takes the form of a Council of State. It is covered by the Regency Act of 1937, passed soon after the King's accession to the throne.

The act provides that, in certain cases of illness or absence from the United Kingdom, the King, "in order to prevent delay or difficulty in the despatch of public business, by Letters Patent under the Great Seal, delegate for the period of that illness or absence, to Counsellors of State such of the Royal functions as may be specified."

In the present case the Council of state will consist of the Duke of Gloucester, the Duke of Kent, the Princess Royal and Princess Arthur of Connaught. The Duke of Kent shortly afterwards will go to Australia to become the new Governor-General of that dominion.

In Canada with Their Majesties' itinerary and timetable mapped, arrangements for the tour have municipal officials in the throes of organizing their separate programs. Toronto and Winnipeg are among the cities that have announced complete schedules.

Plan Naval Reception

Functions of a national character in Their Majesties' honor will be put on during the four-day stay in Ottawa. In addition, there will be the naval reception staged when the Repulse enters Canadian waters.

All six of the Dominion's destroyers will participate in saluting the royal flotilla to consist of the Repulse and two escorting light cruisers. Afterwards, Ottawa sources have indicated, two of the Canadian vessels will conduct the Repulse up the St. Lawrence to the landing at Quebec. These two ships will be the Saguenay and the St. Laurent.

With a full crew assigned, the Repulse at present is being furnished in a Portsmouth dockyard preparatory to making a trial run to the Mediterranean. There is nothing elaborate about the quarters being prepared for the royal couple aboard. Bedrooms of the King and Queen will be merely made over cabins of the ship's officers. The officers will be transferred to temporary quarters being constructed on the main deck. Some of the furniture for the Royal quarters will be trans-shipped from the royal yacht Victoria and Albert.

An enclosed sun deck will be the only deck space set aside aboard the cruiser for the sole use of the royal passengers. If Their Majesties indulge in shipboard games or other activities, they will do so on the broad, canvas-covered quarter-deck.

GOING TO SEE KING

Canadian Legion Taking Lead in Sending Children to Victoria

At the regular executive meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion the matter of having the children of the city represented at the visit of the King and Queen was discussed. In the absence of any lead from the civic authorities it was decided that the Legion would take the initiative and a meeting of those interested, both organizations and individuals, is planned for the near future. It was felt that there should be enough pride among the citizens to see that such a representation should be arranged.

The matter of the collection of radio licenses by ex-service men was discussed. Circulars from the Dominion Command of the Legion as well as from the Provincial Command had been received and also a communication from the federal member, Olof Hanson.

Other matters dealt with included the case of the appeal of Staff Sergeant G. H. Greenwood recently of the city provincial police force; the payment of a provincial economic allowance for unemployed ex-service men; the extension of free medical treatment; special campaign pensions for Imperialists, and need pensions for parents of Imperial soldiers whose deaths were directly attributable to service and the problem of indigent non-residents and migrants.

At the monthly meeting S. C. Thompson will give a talk on his recent tour in South America.

Those in attendance at the executive meeting included W. M. Brown, H. A. Brown, D. C. Schubert, Henry Smith, G. J. Dawes, H. T. Lock, J. M. Walker, Neil Cameron with President Jack Preece in the chair.

Baptist Church Campaign Marked By Good Results

The local Baptist Church was quite well satisfied with the results of a ten day evangelistic mission conducted here by Rev. J. A. MacRae of Edmonton, secretary of social service and evangelism for Western Canada. Attendances at the meetings, while not large, were quite enthusiastic.

Shortly the church expects the director of young people's work here to conduct an institute for Sunday School and young people's workers.

U.F.A. HAS NEW PLAN

members of Parliament to speak for agrarians. Most elected members are still active officers of the organization.

Herbert Greenfield, now prominent in the oil industry in Calgary, was called to form the first government. He was succeeded in the premiership by J. E. Brownlee, Edmonton lawyer who gave the major address on debt to the Calgary convention. Third and last, J. F. A. premier was R. G. Reid, now member of the Alberta Provisional Unity Council seeking unity in politics against Social Credit.

President Gardiner held the leadership of the U. F. A. group in the House of Commons from 1921 to 1935. He succeeded to the presidency in 1931 when 82-year old Harry Wise Wood, recognized as the father of the agrarian movement in Alberta retired from the field. The Missouri-born doyen now lives on his farm at Carstairs, 35 miles north of Calgary.

Voice of the farmers and driving force behind the organization, Mr. Wood came to Alberta in 1905. He became president of the U. F. A. in 1916, always preaching economic action. He refused the premiership in 1921. He fathered the Alberta Wheat Pool and became its chairman when it was formed in 1923. He retired from the post in 1937. He was made a commander of the Order of St. Michael and St. George in 1935.

The U. F. A. was one of the foundation units of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in 1932. E. J. Garland, U.F.A. Member of Parliament for Bow River from 1921 to 1935, is now national organizer for the C. C. F. At its 1938 convention, the U. F. A. voted to continue affiliation with the C. C. F. in the federal field but remain autonomous in provincial politics.

Political Defeat

Defeat in the political arena overtook the organization in 1935. Forming the government in Alberta in that year, every U. F. A. member of the legislature met defeat. In the same year in the federal elections, the U. F. A. members of the House of Commons were all defeated. The two elections left the U. F. A. without any elected representatives.

During its tenure of office, the U. F. A. government in Alberta urged the Dominion government to set up a national wheat board, a national board to handle other products of agriculture, machinery to reduce private debts now provided in the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement act, national control of currency and credit through a publicly owned central bank, refunding of public debt at lower interest rates and reduction of all interest rates.

It claimed the first debt adjustment legislation passed in 1922 instituted an income tax with higher rates on larger incomes, adopted regulations to protect the public from fraudulent stock selling practices and claimed the most advanced program of public health which included district health units, travelling clinics, district nurses and public health education.

It claimed maintenance of a high standard of education efficiency by provision of a system of equalization grants for weak rural districts and contended its contribution to economic security by old age pensions, mothers' allowances and agricultural and unemployment relief were the highest in Canada.

U. F. A. supporters also point to establishment of the superannuation scheme for civil servants, extension of highways and market roads, fostering of agriculture in use of pure seed, etc., provision for consolidation of arrears of taxes over a period of years, government guarantee of co-operative enterprises such as the wheat pool and dairy pools and high administrative efficiency.

When it bowed out of politics the organization pledged itself to promote and co-ordinate farmers' co-operative and commercial activities, urge crop insurance and national marketing legislation and seek solution of such problems as high interest rates, rural housing, adjustment of currency and exchange rates and farm debts.

At the end of its first year, the U. F. A. had 122 locals with a membership of 2,147 men. With the United Farm Women of Alberta formed as a sister organization in 1915, the membership peak was reached in 1921 when the total was 37,721. Today the membership is approximately 7,000 in 349 locals in all parts of the province.

"The Great Waltz," Built Around Life of Johan Strauss, Is Feature Offering at Capitol

Reproducing Vienna in the days of Johan Strauss and in the reign of Franz Josef, the happiest and gayest period in the history of the old Austrian capital, "The Great Waltz," outstanding musical spectacle based on the great composer's own life story and featuring his tuneful music with colorful backgrounds, comes as the feature offering to the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week.

Fernand Gravet, as Strauss, Luise Rainer, as Strauss' wife, and Miliza Korjus, a new singing sensation of the screen, playing the part of the opera singer who won the composer's love, head a brilliant cast.

In connection with the production of this picture a ninety piece orchestra, with strings predominating, was assembled. A chorus of eighty voices accompanies the singing of Miss Korjus. In the Albertina Rasch ballet 128 dancers take part.

Elaborate sets, typifying the old Vienna, have been used and the picture, all in all, is one of the most outstanding that has been offered here for some time. It is expected to draw large audiences.

Makes Fine Coffee Better

"The first canned milk to come into our house was Pacific," writes Miss K., "and it went over big from Dad down. Its rich, creamy flavor hit the spot and since then Pacific is the only milk we have used in coffee."

Pacific, like good cream, adds something. It just gives a zing to fine coffee that's not there without it.
