Twenty-First Anniversary Of Armistice Observed In City; Hundreds Unable To Join Rites

Once again honoring the exploits of those who gave their lives in the cause of Empire in the conflict which ended just twenty-one years ago and confident that success will attend the continuation of the struggle for the maintenance of the same principles which find the British Empire and Allies once again at war, Armistice Day was observed in Prince Rupert throughout the British Columbia Saturday.

LOCAL MAN CASUALTY

Lieut. Martin McPherson, Formerly Of This City, Believed In Command Of Northern Rover

Lieut. Martin McPherson, who is reported to have been in command of the British navy patrol ship Northern Rover, which the Admiralty concedes has been lost, is believed by Prince Rupert friends to be the same Martin McPherson who a few years ago operated the fish boats Imperceuse and C. N. out of Prince Rupert. He and his active wife became quite well known in marine circles while in Prince Rupert. A few years ago Mr. McPherson, who was a naval reservist, left Prince Rupert for England. He is known to have intended resuming his duties with the Navy.

BIG CROWD AT BANQUET

Twenty-First Anniversary of Armistice Celebrated by Local Canadian Legion Saturday Night

Over two hundred men—veterans of the Great War and those in service for the present war—gathered Saturday night at the annual Armistice Day banquet of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion. Owing to the large gathering to be accommodated, the banquet was held on this occasion in the Moose Hall. Marking the twenty-first anniversary of the armistice which ended the last war and with a renewal of that conflict now in progress, the event was of more than usual significance.

After due tribute had been paid to the memory of fallen comrades by the sounding of "The Last Post" Buglar William Rance, the observance of two minutes silence, a brief recitation by J. S. Wilson and "The Reveille" Grace was said by Rev. J. C. Jackson, chaplain of the Legion, and all present fell to the full enjoyment of an excellent spread.

The program opened with the observance of the toast to the King in the usual manner after which President Jack Prece, who was in the chair, made opening remarks of welcome.

The first speaker was Commander C. D. Donald R.C.N. who replied to the toast to "The Navy." So far, Commander-Donald said, the present war had been a naval one. The Navy was again proving the great shield of Empire. That little strip of water between England and the continent would win the war yet. It would defeat Hitler as it had Napoleon and the Spanish Armada.

Commander Donald stresses the necessity of backing up the victory of this war with effective peace terms. "We'll have to straighten out the war after we've won it," he said.

Lieut. Col. S. D. Johnston M.C., V. D., replied to the toast to "The Army." He thanked the Canadian Legion for its activities on behalf of the troops quartered at Prince Rupert. He paid tribute to the work of George Cripps in preparation for the observance of Remembrance Day. Col. Johnston spoke briefly of military activities in Canada in connection with the war. He expected that Canada's expeditionary force at the outset would be a small one.

Rt. Rev. G. A. Rix, Bishop of Caledonia, said that most of the returned men of the First Great War, despite four upsetting years, had made good after they came home. The Bishop paid tribute to Col. S. D. Johnston and officers of the 102nd Battalion who were setting a good example to their men. He trusted the career of the 102nd would be brighter and brighter as time went on and that it would have fine deeds to cherish. Men in service of the country today were of the same fine stuff as those of twenty-five years ago, he was confident.

Lieut. Col. Low of the Ninth Fortresses Signals spoke briefly, paying tribute to the spirit in which the Canadian Legion carried on. Empire had nothing to fear as long as that spirit continued.

J. S. Wilson brought congratulations of the provincial command of the Legion to the local branch. He stressed the fact that the Legion was carrying on its work every day of the year in an unobtrusive but effective way. It was ever active in the interests of the ex-service men and was now active on behalf of the men serving in the present war.

Lieut. O. G. Stuart R.C.N.V.R., after referring to the fact that the time had now come for the younger men to fight, referred to the loyalty and spirit of the older men as evidenced by the Canadian Legion. The younger men liked to look up

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN Like elsewhere in Canada, the Red Cross campaign got under way in Prince Rupert today and continues throughout the week. The objective is to enrol every man and woman in Prince Rupert as a member by giving donations as large as possible. An intensive canvass has already commenced.

YUKON PLANE DISASTER WHITEHORSE—Discovery of portions of wreckage and a mail sack in Lake Labarge led to the belief today that a Yukon Route Airways plane crashed into the lake and sank while enroute here from Dawson. Pilot Jesse Rice and two passengers, Mike McKallion and D. H. Anderson, left here Thursday in the plane.

VANCOUVER EARTHQUAKE VANCOUVER—An earthquake shock which shook buildings and rattled windows and dishes awakened residents of Vancouver district just before midnight last night. The disturbance appeared to be stronger in Washington, people of Seattle and Tacoma rushing into the streets in their night attire and moving to auto camps. Some minor damage was reported to buildings in Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and other northwest United States points.

THOUSANDS OF ARRESTS BERLIN—Thousands of arrests have been made in connection with the Munich beer cellar bombing last week when Chancellor Hitler was nearly killed. The Gestapo is under serious criticism for having permitted such an occurrence to happen in the sacred shrine of Nazism.

to the older ones and appreciated what they were doing for them.

Tribute to Ladies Col. J. W. Nicholls paid special tribute to the work of the ladies—Mrs. William Rothwell and her assistants—in connection with this banquet. He referred to the unity which he had found to be existing in Canada on a trip East since the start of the war. He had attended a luncheon in the East in honor of Brigadier W. W. Foster, the Dominion President, at which tribute had been paid to his "honesty, integrity, ability and courage." Brigadier Foster would shortly be going overseas in his capacity as commanding officer of the auxiliary services. The youth of the present generation would answer the call today as had those of the last.

W. J. Rance, past president of the Legion, spoke briefly. The evening's musical program included vocal solos by Sergeant J. A. Teng; selections by the combined pipe bands of the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish and the Leslie families; quartette, "The Legion Song," J. A. Teng, H. T. Lock, J. S. Wilson and Telegraphist W. T. Smith; monologue, Reg King; violin duet by A. C. Cameron and Telegraphist Smith and recitation by M. J. Dougherty. There was also community singing under the leadership of J. S. Wilson and incidental music was provided by Bobby Reid's Orchestra.

Dutch Premier Says There Is No Ground Whatever For Alarm

British Papers Admit Move By Hitler Is Less Likely—Der Fuehrer Advised Against It

THE HAGUE, November 13: (CP)—Premier De Geer told the Netherlands today that there was "not a single ground for uneasiness" despite "many rumors causing alarm" recently. He said that fear of imminent danger for the Netherlands was caused by reports circulated abroad and "certain measures of our government," all of which were merely of a precautionary nature. Acute danger does not exist now any more than early in September when defenses were mobilized, De Geer declared.

War News

ARMISTICE DAY In Great Britain, owing to war conditions, the usual Armistice Day ceremonies were curtailed. In view of the ban on large gatherings, there was not the usual service at the Whitehall in London, the ceremonies being restricted to the laying of wreaths at the central Empire memorial. At noon the Queen gave a five minute Armistice Day Broadcast which was transmitted throughout the Empire. The Governor General, Lord Tweedsmuir, led Canada's observance of Armistice Day at Parliament Hill in Ottawa.

PARIS AIR RAID Paris early today had its seventh air raid alarm since the war began. An hour later the "all clear" signals were given. No actual appearance of enemy aircraft was reported. SAFE IN NORTH WHITEHORSE—Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and family of four children are reported safe in shelter on Lake Labarge. Fears had been expressed for their safety since they left October 24 to cross the Yukon River lake during stormy weather.

SUBVERSION ALLEGED VANCOUVER—Three men and two women have been arrested here under the War Measures Act. The arrests were in connection with the distribution of a Communist-sponsored pamphlet entitled "The People Want Peace." There have been similar arrests at Regina, Windsor, Toronto and Montreal.

PEACE OFFER ANSWERED Chancellor Adolf Hitler, through the German ambassador to the Hague, officially advised Holland that the peace offer of Queen Wilhelmina and King Leopold would be considered. King George of England said on behalf of the British government that any German offer, based on definite assurance of an end of the threat of aggression in Europe, would receive earnest consideration. It was up to Germany was the attitude of President Lebrun of France.

WESTERN FRONT QUIET Another quiet day was reported on the Western Front with extremely bad weather holding up operations.

REPORTS DISCOUNTED Reports emanating from Amsterdam that Crown Prince Wilhelm had been beheaded in Germany are discounted.

NEGOTIATIONS BREAK DOWN Finnish - Russian negotiations have broken down, it is officially announced although there is a report of Russia making new and secret proposals. The latest demand of Russia was not only for naval bases on the Finnish coast of the Baltic Sea but for possession of peninsulas on the Arctic coast to guard the port of Murmansk.

SUB HIT? The British Air Ministry announces that a Royal Air Force coastal command plane attacked a German submarine yesterday, dropping a salvo of bombs, one of which "appeared to the pilot to make a direct hit."

NAZI PLANES DRIVEN OFF The British Admiralty announced that German aircraft made two attacks on the Shetland Islands today but were driven off by anti-aircraft fire. The bombs did no damage.

MANIC IN CORNER "No one believes the word of Hitler so we must regard the situation as grave," said Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill yesterday. "We cannot predict what the frenzy of a cornered maniac may drive Hitler to do. I have the firm conviction that that evil man over there and his bloodthirsty confederates are not so sure of themselves as we are and are already fearful of the thought of retribution for their crimes and orgy of destruction."

Editorial

WHOSE WAR IS IT?

Whose war is it? This is everybody's war. When Spain was in the throes of a revolution there was a section of the people of this province and also of the United States who strongly urged help for one side or the other. It was not their war but a good many went to fight and fought bravely for what they believed to be right. So in China, Canadians were urged by Canadian citizens to intervene on behalf of the Chinese. It was not our war but many would have made it our war. Again at Munich there was great disappointment by many in Great Britain, France, Canada and United States that Britain did not call the bluff of Adolf Hitler. Only the British government knew how ill-prepared the British were. What we do not like to hear is Canadian or American people who berated Chamberlain for not fighting at that time now declaring "it is not our war."

INTERNATIONAL BANDITRY

We are looking forward to the time when any war will be everybody's war. It will be the duty then for every nation to take part in policing the world so that no ruthless national bandit can set out to interfere in the affairs of neighboring countries. Such a condition of affairs may not come in our time but it cannot be long delayed. The advent of the airplane, the radio and other modern improvements keep us so closely in touch with every part of the world that we shall not much longer be able to take an insular position such as is being taken today by the United States. We are all interested in keeping down individual banditry and there is no reason why we should not be interested in restraining international banditry.

RED CROSS WEEK

This is Red Cross Week. Local people are asked to be ready for the collectors when they come and to dig as deep as possible into their little sacks. If you have a bank account, write the check in readiness.

TWO OUTSTANDING FEATURES

In connection with the war two outstanding features present themselves. On the one hand is the evidently unselfish attitude of people who give up good safe positions in order to take part in the war. On the other, both in Canada and the United States, is seen a sordid desire of people to save their own hides and to so far as possible make money while the boys are fighting overseas. These two attitudes are evident both in Canada and the United States. A common expression is "Why should we do anything? It is not our war." That is a callous attitude, the same attitude that gave rise to the query: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

The curious thing is that we find this same attitude expressed by people who will give money to missions. They are quite willing to save people's souls but have no concern about their bodies. They have no concern that little nations are being oppressed by bigger nations.

It is when a nation is at war that the true calibre of the people shows itself. However, we are glad to be able to say that we can be proud of the reaction of Canada to the call for help. Later we shall be still prouder to hear of the Canadian troops making an everlasting name for themselves.

Advertising is an investment.

Follow Up War With Peace And Real Goodwill

Rev. H. G. Funston urged his congregation in First Presbyterian Church yesterday morning to give all they could as friends of Jesus in the service of God. If the freedom which was to be retained by the prosecution of the present war was to be followed up and taken full advantage of, principles of peace and goodwill with plenty for all by adequate distribution must be attained. Moral values must be accepted as of transcending importance.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Peero announce the engagement of their youngest daughter Venetia Jewell to Sergeant George Madill, youngest son of Mrs. M. C. Madill of Prince Rupert, the wedding to take place December 2.

The second part took the form of an illustrated talk on the Peace Tower at Parliament Buildings. The plan of the tower and, more especially, the outstanding quality of the conception and workmanship were considered. The wealth of detail in the memorial chamber with the remarkable reproduction of badges of the various military units that took part in the war and even the memorial to the horses, mice, birds and other beasts whose lives were sacrificed for the success of the war were all of interest. This program had a very special appeal to the children to whom in the past the Peace Tower must have been a rather uninteresting and impersonal part of the Parliament Building but, in light of the present war, took on a special significance.

Walter Howarth, who left the city a couple of years ago for Vancouver, returned to the city on the Princess Louise Friday afternoon with a view to re-locating here. Mrs. Howarth returned a few weeks ago.

Why The Vacuum Seal?

Miss Molly K. writes asking: "Why is Pacific Milk vacuum packed? What difference does it make?" Here is the answer: Air destroys the flavor, so we take the air out of the can before we put the milk in. Only Pacific is packed in this way.

ARMISTICE OBSERVED

Joint Service In Terrace Saturday Morning—Dance On Friday

TERRACE, November 13:—Armistice Day was celebrated in Terrace in the way which has won the public approval during the years since the end of the first world war. In the forenoon there was the Remembrance Day service. This was held in the hall in Terrace which is shared by two organizations—the Oddfellows and the Canadian Legion. A. Atrevice, vice-president of the Terrace Branch of the Legion, was chosen as chairman and he began the service with an address that was appropriate to the solemn occasion. The usual democratic spirit characterized the planning of the service as has been the case for many years. Besides Rev. C. A. Hinchliffe, rector of the Anglican Church in Terrace, Rev. W. J. M. Allen of the Pentecostal Mission and Rev. C. Addiman of the United Church, took part. Mr. Hinchliffe is Chaplain to Terrace branch of the Legion and he led the well filled hall in the opening prayer; Mr. Allen read the Scripture lesson and the address was given by Mr. Addiman. Sam Kirkaldy, a bugler in the last war, sounded the "Last Post" at the conclusion of the two

WHAT WILL BRING THIS MAN BACK TO LIFE

2 Shows Nightly 7:00 and 9:05

One of the most dramatic scenes ever brought to the screen . . . the struggle between science and love for this man's life . . . as Chinese with fear-haunted faces watch through the cane windows of a native hut. A picture that stands alone among the mightiest of film dramas . . . another towering triumph for Frank Borzage, creator of "Seventh Heaven" and "A Farewell to Arms."
