Everywhere key men were being enlisted so that social functions might carry on without undue disruption. This was the objective of technocrats everywhere.

> North America, the speaker declared, possessed fifty per cent of the resources of the world and only 8.7 per cent of the population. This was an era of plenty and enormous capacity to produce. Yet people were under nourished, underclothed and underhoused. It was obvious that the present system was not satisfactory and must be changed. Technocracy only asked the people to consider if scientific distribution and control were not the answer.

"We have investigated what has already happened, made surveys of what will undoubtedly happen and are designing a system of scientific distribution which will function." asserted the speaker.

As the development and use of the machine increased so did the need of man power decrease. There had been a complete reversal in the last one hundred years. Production possibilities were increasing and unemployment was increasing at the same time. Man's purchasing power must be rehabilitated and technocracy advocated a scientific method of distribution to those who needed them of the goods produced. Artificial stimulation of the old price system involving the increasing of the debt structure could not go on indefinitely. Municipalities were going broke. Next would come the provinces and the Dominion. The system was bound to blow

POWER POLITICS

It is curious how in a few short years the world could get away from all ideas of international justice and be forced into an era of power politics. Gradually it seemed as if it might become possible to establish an international court of justice which would settle all differences between nations. Then Italy became badly disorganized BOWLING following the war and seemed to be drifting toward Bolshevism when Mussolini came on the scene, by means of a strategic coup and, supported by a large group of Fascist followers, seized the reins of power and proceeded to bring order out of chaos:

THE IMPORTANT THINGS

We all take a great interest these days in international affairs because an outbreak of war might easily interfere with our personal liberty, at least for a time. It might mean to many the loss of relatives or friends who would possibly be fighting overseas. It might mean the deaths of thousands if not millions of women and children under modern civilized warfare. Should Prince Rupert be invaded by hostile airplanes it might mean danger, ex- TRI-LITE, Piano, Radio, Desk, treme danger to man woman and child in the city. This is important.

To many people, however, the important thing is how they are going to make a decent living under present conditions. To farmers the conditions of the crops is the allimportant subject and it is what they talk about a great deal. To many Prince Rupert people the condition of the gardens is very important. Are the cut worms getting the lettuce? Will the peonies bloom this year? Are the slugs taking the beans?

A few people are worried over their future. They fear that when they die here they may awake in another world under unpleasant conditions, Less and less do we wanted woman cook. Apply hear of that as the years pass. Years ago the fear of punishment in the life to come was very real to many. Today it does not seem important to the vast majority. They seem to be willing to trust to their records when they pass on. The parsons seldom speak to their congregations of heaven and hell because the people who listen are not responsive. Most of them do not really believe what they hear. But religion is very important to a great many people, more important than war or peace.

If you lose anything, advertise for it.

NEW AND BETTER

For the Halibut and Samon Fleets

Following the investigations of the Fisheries Research Station, the Company has just completed extensive changes and improve ments in ice storage and ice delivery methods.

Ice for the boats will all be old ice, thoroughly cured or aged at new low temperatures. It will be delivered into the hold, even in the hottest weather, as cold as the storage room.

Fishermen are invited to inspect the new system. Better ice than ever before, at no increase in cost, means economy to the boat and improved quality in fish delivery.
