New Pope One Of World's Most Able Diplomats; Concord With Germany's Great Achievement

Papal diplomacy seldom had a more able exponent than Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, who as nuncio to the young German republic accomplished the seemingly impossible achievement of a concordat between Prussia which in its majority is Protestant, and the Holy See. In negotiating this highly important treaty in 1929, Pacelli displayed such rare diplomatic ability that Pope Pius XI, in December of the same year elevated him to the dignity of cardinal and two months later appointed him papal secretary of state to succeed Pietro Cardinal Gasparri who had retired because of age.

REAL DEBT IN BRITAIN

Budget For One Year Exceeds Canada's Entire Obligations—Making Strong Air Force

LONDON, March 3: (CP)—Great Britain's general budget of slightly over £1,000,000,000 as announced yesterday in Parliament, is greater than the entire Canadian national debt. Extraordinary large appropriations for the three arms of defence—land, sea and air—are responsible for the huge size of the budget. The new first line air strength of Great Britain placed at 1750 planes as at the end of this month does not include many hundreds of reserve planes, the number of which is an official secret.

LOG SCALE PICKING UP

February Production This Year Is Almost Up To Last Although To Date Considerably Off

Log scaling in Prince Rupert forestry district for the month of February this year totalled 809,260 board feet as compared with 820,528 board feet in the same month last year. Owing to the bad start in January, however, the scale of the first two months of this year now stands at 1,196,167 which is way below 4,022,819 board feet in the corresponding period of 1938.

The scale per species for this February, figures for the same month last year also being shown for comparison, was as follows:

	Feb. 1939	Feb. 1938
Board Feet	481,377	203,123
Cedar	117,712	410,076
Jackpine	310,171	190,364
Hemlock		17,068
Totals	809,260	820,528

The smiling gentleman on left is British secretary of state for war, Leslie Hore-Belisha, one of the old line Conservatives, m'dear; the gentleman on the right, who seems unable to control his risibilities while glad handing the war chief, is (so help us) Tom Mann, British communistic pillar and trades union leader. They met and beamed at each other like this at a luncheon of the National Trade Union Club, where Hore-Belisha spoke on his new recruiting scheme. We thought there was a catch in it somewhere.

TOKYO, March 3: (CP)—An army arsenal explosion at Hirakata which killed an untold number of Japanese will not interfere in any way with the execution of military operations, Minister of War Itagaki assured Parliament yesterday. Pope Hopes For Reign Of Peace; Greeted By King And Mussolini; Discordant Note From Germany

VATICAN CITY, March 3: (CP)—In a message to the entire Christian world today, the new Pope Pius XII expressed the hope that there would be peace and concord among all nations during his Pontificate. He chose Sunday, March 12, as the date for his coronation. King Victor Emmanuel and Premier Benito Mussolini sent messages of greeting and congratulations to the new Pope after his election was announced yesterday. There were also messages of felicitations from many other nations of the world. In Germany there was a discordant note with Nazi newspapers, which had previously said his choice would be distasteful to Germany, dubbing him a "professional politician."

The world champion Chicago Black Hawks stayed in the cellar only one point behind the Canadiens by winning three to one from New York Rangers. In the third game last night, played at New York, the Detroit Red Wings shellacked the New York Americans 7 to 3. Week-end games will be Chicago at Toronto on Saturday with Canadiens at Chicago, Detroit at New York with Americans and Rangers at Boston on Sunday.

PEN BILL UP AGAIN

Ottawa House Gets Down To Business of Passing Legislation

OTTAWA, March 3: (CP)—The session of Parliament finally settled down yesterday to the business of passing legislation. A bill introduced by Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, providing for the appointment of a three-man penitentiary commission, was given first reading. Mr. Lapointe stated that it would not be a political commission but the members would be chosen on the basis of experience and one would probably be a doctor.

Last year the bill was passed by the House of Commons but was defeated in the Senate.

Mr. Lapointe made it clear that reform of the Canadian penitentiary system would come after the proposed commission made a study of the system and recommended legislation to Parliament. J. S. Woodsworth, Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation leader, expressed disappointment that the bill did not go further. He said it should undertake certain needed reforms.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Nick Sulikoski Sent Up To Assizes On Attempted Murder Charge

Nick Sulikoski, 38-year old laborer, was this morning committed for trial by Magistrate McClymont in city police court on a charge of attempted murder of Jack Rutter, railway locomotive engineer, in a rifle and knife affray in a local rooming house on February 15. Sulikoski, who has made no application for bail, is being held in custody until the spring session of Supreme Court assizes here in May.

Sulikoski's committal came after the crown had furnished defence with a copy of a statement made to police after the affair by Mrs. Helen Wolenski of Pacific who was an eye-witness and who will be called as a witness at the trial. Mrs. Wolenski had not been called at the preliminary hearing. Asked if he wished to make a statement at the preliminary hearing, accused declined through his counsel, R. L. McLennan.

Staff Sergeant Ernest Gammon, provincial police, sailed last night on the Prince George for a trip to Ocean Falls on official duties.

THE NEW POPE

The announcement of the election of Cardinal Pacelli to take the name of Pope Pius XII. and sit on the throne of St. Peter was received in this country with a sense of satisfaction, especially in view of the fact that an attempt had been made to bring pressure upon the Sacred College to influence the decision. The feeling seems to exist here that the new Pope is one of the most able men that could have been chosen and is admirably fitted for the work at this critical time. He had been papal secretary of state for some years and, prior to that, represented the Pope in Germany. He is a strong advocate of peace and is also rated as an orator. He was responsible for the concordat between Prussia and the Papal See and received the cardinal's hat as a reward.

In 1936 Cardinal Pacelli visited the United States at the time of the election campaign and remained for several weeks. He flew across the continent and back, visiting several important centres. After the election he lunched with the President at Hyde Park but refused to discuss public questions with the newspapers.

As head of the diplomatic organization the new Pope was brought into direct contact with officials in Germany and Spain. A concordat with the former country had been signed in 1933 and later with Austria and Jugoslavia and for a time relations with Germany were amicable. Then in congratulating Cardinal Schulte, archbishop of Cologne on his twenty-fifth anniversary as bishop, Pacelli used phrases which were interpreted by the Nazis as a command to Roman Catholic Bishops in Germany to challenge the validity of neo-paganistic ideas. Within a week there were arrests of nuns and monks on charges of violating German currency shipment laws. He is also supposed to have been responsible for the attack in Osservatore Romano, the Vatican newspaper, on the Hitler government, accusing it of violating the concordat on three points which included the freedom of the Catholic press and the restrictions on religious practices. This indicates that he has the courage of his opinions, something that should prove to be a valuable asset in the position he now holds.

AGE OF LANGUAGES

Up to recent years it was looked upon as a waste of time to learn modern languages. Only those who prided themselves on their scholastic attainments desired to learn anything more than English and Latin or possibly Greek. Now the short wave radio has come and those who are able to do so may listen to people talking and singing in a number of different languages. The number will probably increase as time goes on.

EFFECTS OF WAR

One of the effects of the fear of war is to make women in the older countries turn to more practical employments as a hobby. They never know when they may be called on to cook, drive cars or render first aid. Their services may also be required at munition work. The result is that women are learning to cook, drive cars, bandage wounds, and do all kinds of work they think may be required. It is good for the women, especially in these days when domestic servants are difficult to get.

Evidently the movement has now spread to Canada and centres are being established in Victoria, Duncan, Vancouver and at other points.

ENGLISH HIGHWAY TRAFFIC

Letter To Local People From London Tells Of What It Is Like Driving To Southeast Coast

Those who have not visited England in recent years will be interested in hearing something of highway traffic there. A lady who formerly lived in British Columbia writing from London to a local resident, says:

"I say get down to Westcliff again. It's a terrible road to drive on, as smooth as a table. This end is frightfully congested with traffic. All along the road are obituary notices such as: Drive Carefully. In 1927 200 were killed on this stretch; Drive Slow, in 1935 more than 10,000 were injured and on every 300 yards. By the time Westcliff approaches you are mentally right in the cemetery."

"They are forcing the cyclists from the highway. Saturday and Sundays they go in gangs of 30 or 40, three deep. There is now a special side track for them but they hardly use it."

"Then the motor coaches are legion. They pull up periodically and drag out three or four cases of beer and all climb out and booze and when full proceed. We all fly along together, three deep most of the way. Fortunately they have made the roads wide and one-way traffic is now definite on half of the way."

"I have told you this so that you can compare with the rule of the road at Rupert. I have omitted motor cycles in groups of seven or eight and motor cycles plus trailer with mother, father and two children on all three wheels, the lorries etc. Nearly all transport these days is on the roads."

HONORED AT PT. SIMPSON

Neighboring Community Celebrates Anniversary and Farewells Retiring Superintendent of Missions

PORT SIMPSON, March 3.—With Rev. Dr. S. S. Osterhout, retiring superintendent of missions and former missionary here for five years around the turn of the century, first anniversary services of the taking a leading part in them, new Grace United Church at Port Simpson were celebrated on Sunday and Monday. The special services and gatherings took the form of a combined anniversary celebration and farewell to Dr. Osterhout.

The Sunday services were in charge of Rev. T. C. Colwell, the resident pastor, with Rev. Peter Kelly of the mission boat Thomas Crosby preaching in the morning and Dr. Osterhout in the evening. There was special music by the choir at each service.

On Monday evening there was a large farewell gathering for Dr. Osterhout. With Stephen Morrison as chairman and Ambrose Reid as spokesman, there was an acceptable program to which local as well as visiting talent from the mission boat Thomas Crosby contributed.

Two addresses were presented to Dr. Osterhout. One, on behalf of all the people of Port Simpson, was read by Ernest F. Dudoward and was as follows:

"We, the people of Port Simpson, assembled in our church tonight, are here to do you honor."

"Forty years ago you, with your devoted wife, came as a missionary under the call of God to the Tsimpsan peoples, laboring as you did for five years on the Naas and then for five years among us here at Port Simpson."

"You learned our language and consecrated your splendid gifts of mind and heart to the spiritual ministry of our fathers, in the pulpit, in our choir, in the organization of our Epworth League and in the homes of our people, assisted by Mrs. Osterhout in her loyalty to her husband's work."

"In presenting you with this address it is only that we might suitably take note of your retirement from the office of your superintendency which you have filled with such grace and dignity. "We remember your patience with us in all our weaknesses and failures as you encouraged us in the way of God."

"We would couple with these expressions of the love and high esteem with which you are still held among us the sincere hope that Mrs. Osterhout and yourself continue in health and happiness many years and that by continued visits and kindly correspondence you may still encourage us to go forward in the Christian life for the glory of God and the establishment of the Kingdom."

"Our prayers that the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit may be with you both and your family in all the days to come."

The second address was presented on behalf of the Epworth League by David Johnson, the president.

There were other speeches and Dr. Osterhout made a feeling reply. Refreshments were served.

GOLD FROM SEA WATER

Dr. Neal Carter Says There Is Five Million Dollars Worth Of Precious Metal in Prince Rupert Harbor

According to a statement made by Dr. Neal M. Carter, director of the Pacific Fisheries Experimental Station, in addressing the Rotary Club yesterday, there is about five million dollars worth of gold in the water of Prince Rupert Harbor but the difficulty is to get it. He outlined a number of methods already tried by different people, all of which had failed, but he suggested there was still a ray of hope that some plant or animal might yet be discovered which would concentrate the gold from the sea water in much the same way that kelps and seaweeds concentrate the iodine and potassium or that oysters concentrate the iodine and manganese.

The ash from a horsetail fern growing in West Slovakia, the speaker mentioned, has been shown to contain about 1.8 pounds of gold to the ton but the cost of collecting the fern would probably be too great to make it a profitable venture. Corn grown on some soil contained one-thirtieth of an ounce of gold per ton of living material. Coal ash has recently been reported to contain from one to five grains of gold to the ton. Petrified wood has been known to contain 18 ounces of gold and 11 ounces of silver per ton. Some day the bottom of Hecate Strait may be sown with some exotic marine form which when harvested will be more valuable than the fish now browsing there.

Dr. Carter said that sea water contained about 3 percent salt and over ninety percent other known chemicals. As long ago as 1869 a German by the name of Scheibler recognized gold in sea water and tried to recover some of it. Prior to that three Frenchmen had discovered that there was silver in sea water.

H. S. Blackmore, writing in Cassier's Magazine in 1911, gave considerable impetus to fortune seekers by stating careful analyses indicated that a mile of sea water contained about $3,000,000 of gold, $3,500,000 of silver and $60,000,000 of iodine. These calculations were found to be too optimistic.

To evaporate a cubic mile of sea water would mean evaporation of the water in 200 shallow tanks, 500 feet square by 5 feet deep twice a day for the 300 working days of the year. This should deposit 166,000,000 tons of salt from which by some means there might be taken tons of gold worth $1,680,000. This did not seem like an economic proposition.

Experimenters Failed
The speaker told of a scheme for passing sea water through a pipe containing iron pyrites and an analysis of the pyrites, after the experiment, showed that it contained eight grains of gold. On the strength of this a company was floated and preparations made to operate on a large scale. Then it was found that the experimenters had failed to analyse the pyrites before experimenting and the result was that it was found to contain 7½ grains of gold prior to the experiment, so the plan failed.

The Dow Chemical Company on the Atlantic seaboard of the United States has now in operation a large plant for the commercial recovery of bromine from sea water but, despite the favorable opportunity presented for attempts to recover gold, it was shown to be uneconomical when a couple of years ago a small button of gold was actually produced at a cost of about one hundred times its gold value.

HE KNOWS NEW POPE

Election of Cardinal Pacelli Was Of More Than Passing Interest To Father E. M. LeRay

At least one person in Prince Rupert today received news of the election of Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli as the new Pope with feelings of more than passing personal interest and satisfaction. This was Father E. M. LeRay, parish priest at Dawson, who is a visitor in the city just now.

Father LeRay recalls having met the new Pontiff, then a "plain bishop" acting as a papal nuncio, in Germany during the war. Father er LeRay, at that time, was a prisoner of war, having been captured by the Germans when he was serving as a pilot in the French army. Pacelli visited the camp in which LeRay was confined.

"He is a fine man and he will make a great Pope," Father LeRay exclaimed when told the news. "I am very happy to hear he has been elected."

The Beaten Business Man

"Business is too quiet to advertise"—the motto of the beaten business man.

How often have we been told that when we call on the business folk about Prince Rupert to offer our facilities to help them increase their business!

When times are quiet is the time to advertise—not when you are so rushed with business that you cannot handle it all.

If you are not satisfied with the business you are doing now, why not tell the people through the newspaper some of the things you have to offer and have them come down and buy?

Why hide your light behind a bushel and, by your silence, intimate that you have nothing to offer or do not need business?

Any time you are forced to admit that business is too quiet to advertise, you are admitting that you do not want any business.

If that is the way things are with you today, why not close up altogether and make a real saving?

But if you want to stay open and increase your business, why not do something about it?

Why not increase your business by reaching the people through the proven channel of the newspaper?

DUG INTO TUT TOMB

Howard Carter, Noted Egyptologist, is Dead in London at Age of Sixty-Six

LONDON, March 3: (CP)—Howard Carter, noted archaeologist, who achieved fame for his long series of Egyptian excavations and discoveries and who took a leading part with the late Lord Carnarvon in the opening up of King Tut Ankh Amen's tomb in 1922, died peacefully at his London home last night at the age of sixty-six. Twenty persons who were members of that expedition have died since King Tut's tomb was opened up and each time one has died the superstition that "death shall come on swift wings" to those who touch the tomb of a Pharaoh has been recalled. The first to die was Lord Carnarvon who succumbed to the effects of a mosquito bite soon after the expedition.

It was said of Howard Carter that he spent half his life in the bowels of the earth.

His career was a long series of Egyptian excavations and discoveries which threw new light on obscure pages of ancient history and made Carter widely known as one of the outstanding archeologists of the twentieth century.

What was regarded as the climax of his professional life was his discovery in 1922 of the tomb of King Tut Ankh Amen. It was during the reign of that youthful Pharaoh of Egypt, some writers have recorded, that Moses led the Israelites through the Red Sea, and the finding of his tomb aroused a popular interest throughout the world.

Mr. Carter made his great find after nine years of patient searching in the valley of the Tombs of the Kings. His excavations finally brought to light the mummy of the boy king, lying in a nest of three coffins, the innermost of which was of pure gold.

There also were discovered hundreds of objects entombed with the mummy, the splendor of the whole thing being such as to almost baffle description. Besides priceless jewels and ornaments, the objects included inscriptions and drawings which have proved of incalculable value in Egyptology.

Mrs. H. K. Christensen sailed last night on the Prince George for Vancouver enroute to Los Angeles for a visit.

NEW POPE ONE OF WORLD'S MOST ABLE DIPLOMATS

ing hands on a foreign diplomat. His magnetic personality won the day, and the spartacists withdrew, somewhat abashed.

It was anyone's guess who would be elected pope to succeed the late Pius XI. But, on the basis of precedent, he was almost certain to be one of the 62 cardinals—through he need not even have been a priest—and an Italian.

The cardinal most often in the news in recent years has been Pacelli, who served as papal secretary of state under Pius and, following his death was temporary head of the Vatican. But cardinals who have achieved such prominence are rarely elected.

Usually the archbishops of important Italian sees have the best chance because of their administrative experience. Recent popes have consistently come from that group. Youth seems to count, too.

Ruler of Vatican

The new Pope will be not only spiritual ruler of the world's 331,500,000 Roman Catholics but also temporal ruler of the world's smallest independent state—Vatican City. The Vatican, where St. Peter's tomb is located, symbolizes in the minds of all Catholics the authority, dignity and power of the church.

Since Constantine I began construction of a magnificent basilica over the tomb of the first Roman Bishop, St. Peter, in the early fourth century, new buildings and additions have added to the size and splendor of the site.

Once a hill where Christians were martyred, the Vatican now is a city of mediaeval splendor and renaissance art. It has its own government, its own police and courts, and its own railroad and radio stations.

A treaty negotiated by Pope Pius XI with the Italian kingdom in 1929 established the Vatican as an independent state and the 1,000 persons living on its 108.7 acres are Vatican citizens living under the Vatican flag—a white and yellow banner charged with crossed keys and triple tiara.

The residents live in Belvedere Palace at the rear of the papal quarters. They spend Vatican money—first coined in 1931—and use Vatican postage stamps.

Governor Runs City

Although the Pope is temporal ruler of the domain, he appoints a governor charged with the protection of property, the maintenance of public order and hygiene, and ordinary relations with the church. The Secretariat of State acts as the Vatican's chief political organ.

Four branches of the colorful Pontifical Armed Corps carry out the city's police duties. They are the Noble Guards, chosen from No-

FILM IS MUSICAL

Bobby Breen in "Breaking The Ice" and Joe Penner in "Mr. Doodle Kicks Off" at Capitol Theatre

A story human in theme enhanced by homely humor and with contrasting backgrounds, "Breaking the Ice," starring Bobby Breen and with Irene Dare, world's youngest ice figure skater, Charlie Ruggles and Dolores Costello in featured roles, showed at the Capitol Theatre last night and repeats tonight. The scene moves from a quaint rustic section of Pennsylvania to the entertainment world of Chicago with an elaborate ice-skating carnival as the show-piece. Young Breen, whose voice is featured, is a scrappy, happy-go-lucky youth who fights adversity with a song on his lips and dynamite in his fists. A surprise is little six-year old Irene Dare who is hailed as the "baby Sonja Henie." It is her debut in pictures. Robert Barrat, Dorothy Peterson, Charlie Murray and Billy Gilbert

PLAN OF SELECTION

Editor, Daily News:
Reviewing the proposal of sending a quota of children to represent the local schools at the forthcoming visit of Their Majesties to Vancouver and being heartily in favor of such representation I would suggest to the committee in charge that in order to be fair to each individual child and to provide each an equal opportunity to see Their Majesties the following scheme is worthy of consideration:
Give each child a ticket with his or her name written thereon have the tickets placed in a drum or use some similar fair method. The first names drawn would be the lucky winners of the trip. A supplementary number of tickets drawn would make allowance for any of the original number drawn that could not attend. This method would obviate any stigma of favoritism and would leave no rancorous feeling with those left behind. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.
