Japs Challenging Great Britain

FREAKISH WEATHER IS FATAL

HER ROBES AFLAME, PERISHES IN BLIZZARD—HEAVY FIRE DAMAGE IN QUEBEC—GALES AND EXTREME COLD

QUEBEC, Feb. 16: (CP)—Over one thousand insane patients were transferred to other buildings when fire of unknown origin raged through the five storey men's section of St. Michel (Exchange Hospital) housing over three thousand persons and one of the largest of such institutions in North America. One elderly patient died, apparently of a heart attack.

MONTREAL, Feb. 16: (CP)—Freakish weather in Quebec yesterday included snow blizzards, sleet, fog, rain, thunder and lightning was attended by three disastrous fires which caused damage estimated at $250,000 and took at least one life.

A Stoneham convent was destroyed and Sister Mary of the Sisters of the Seven Sorrows is believed to have perished. The last seen of her was as she emerged from the blazing convent into the blizzard, her flowing robes a mass of flames after she had been drenched with spraying oil from an explosion. Five other nuns and three girls boarded—made their escape from the burning building but one of the girls from the Roman Catholic institution is in critical condition. Sister Mary had run through the corridors warning the others. Stoneham is in northern Quebec.

At St. Barthelemi, about 100 miles distant from Stoneham, another convent was destroyed by fire. Fifteen nuns and 100 pupils making their escape.

A forty-room hotel at Rouyn, Northern Quebec mining town, was destroyed by fire which broke out during a St. Valentine's dancing party. Lucille Bryce, one of the girls at the party, was critically burned and is near death. In Montreal and Quebec thousands of men were busy shovelling snow.

DEFENCE SPENDING

Huge Outlay Involved in British Program—Over Billion Pounds Since 1937

LONDON, Feb. 16: (CP)—A white paper given to Parliament yesterday said the government was spending £523,000,000 in defence for the fiscal year 1939-40, bringing the total since 1937 to £1,173,000,000.

In addition to straight defence votes, the government will appropriate £42,000,000 for civil defence and £5,000,000 for storage of food, fertilizer and gasoline. Supplementary estimates of the War Office totalling £8,024,900 were announced today, bringing to £15,976,570 the total net supplementary for the year for defence departments. The drain on the budget at this time, however, will be only £5,976,570 because of inclusion of a vote of £10,000,000 which could be applied against them.

Critical of the Roosevelt foreign policy as tending to lead the country into war was Representative Harold Knutson, Republican of Minnesota, the last remaining member of Congress who voted against United States entry into the Great War.

JINGOISTS ARE BUSY

National Flag Idea Discussed In Parliament at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 16: (CP)—Whether Canada should have a distinctive flag of her own was the subject of discussion in Parliament yesterday in connection with a motion by Cameron R. McIntosh, Liberal member for North Battleford, that a special committee be appointed to study the question. He felt that Canada should have a distinctive flag of its own to signify its independent partnership in the British Commonwealth.

Sooner or later Canada would have a flag of its own, said Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, minister of justice, who, however, thought the Union Jack should form a part of the flag. This was the view of Prime Minister King, Mr. Lapointe said.

John R. MacNicol and T. L. Church, Conservative members, opposed the idea of a distinctive Canadian flag. MacNicol thought the Union Jack was good enough for Canada. To have another might indicate disunity of Empire. Church saw in a Canadian flag a move towards separation from Britain.

FUTURE OF CITY

The City Commissioner has intimated quite clearly that he does not expect to continue in his present position longer than the end of this year. He seems to be getting a little tired of the job. In view of this it may be wise for the citizens to consider what is to be the next step.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is asking the government to grant the city a special charter to provide for the appointment of a city manager. This, it is understood, would mean the passing of special legislation. If anything of that kind is to be done it should be pushed ahead at once because it takes time to make all the necessary arrangements.

If a city manager is not appointed, it is suggested that a mayor and council serving without pay and appointing their own manager would be the next best plan. He might or might not be an engineer and he might or might not be a man who could handle the work of treasurer so as to combine more than one office. Many people fear that, if we once revert to the old system of a paid mayor and council with each department reporting to it, the city will soon land up in debt and the best results cannot be obtained.

In any case it seems probable that the department of municipalities will have the duty of scrutinizing any new loans that may be made, if any are made, so that the city will not have a free hand in the matter of borrowing.

So meagre will be the amount to be expended in the city after meeting the interest and sinking fund charges that it is hardly worth while electing a city council to handle so small an amount unless the rate is increased considerably and that would only mean that more and more people would quit paying taxes.

INCREASED BORROWINGS

There is one organization that does not hesitate about borrowing. The British government seems to be going the limit in its efforts to put the country on a sound defensive basis.

Germany, it is said, has borrowed far beyond any hope of repayment, the loans being more or less forced loans such as those forced upon the rich people of England in the middle ages. Italy too is going the limit and more in order to effect improvements and keep the people employed. It is, undoubtedly, easier for a dictator to borrow than for the administration in a democracy.

It is being charged that the Canadian government has been too careless in regard to borrowing but the spending of the Ottawa government is as nothing to that of the Washington administration. It is a spending era. Most people as well as governments seem to spend as much as they can earn and often a little more.

WINNERS AT METLAKATLA

Standard Oil Hoop Team Visits Neighboring Village—To Simpson at Week-end

The Standard Oil team, threat for district honors in senior basketball competition, visited Metlakatla last night and hung a 53 to 40 defeat on the seniors of the neighboring village.

The game, played more as a warm-up to other matches to be played with stronger teams this season, gave the locals the opportunity to iron out plays which they have been practising for the past six weeks. Metlakatla's large hall gave them a chance to accustom themselves to a lofty ceiling and larger playing court.

The locals, pressing for the first few moments of each half, ran up enough lead to settle back to scientific passing, featuring more combination and less shooting. They were at all times masters of the situation.

Houston and Baynon were two cases of good small men with their checking and passing attacks and were the pick of the Prince Rupert squad.

Metlakatla was best served by the Prevost brothers who are always the most dangerous players of the village outfit.

Simpson Saturday

On Saturday of this week the Standard Oil team will visit Port Simpson for the first game in that town as a complete team. The most of the players have already seen action there at some time or other. Although Prince Rupert can recall only one Senior and one Intermediate there in the past, the locals are nevertheless confident of being victorious this time. MacPhee and Morgan were on the senior team which defeated Port Simpson while Dominato, Currie, Beynon, Houston and Murray were on the Intermediate Scythian team which took the measure of Port Simpson in 1936 with a one-point margin.

Mothers of the city continue to avail themselves of the well babies' clinic being conducted each Tuesday afternoon by Miss E. D. Priestly R.N., local public health nurse, with the co-operation of city doctors. The usefulness of the clinic in giving advice and suggestions to the mothers is, apparently, being fully appreciated. On Tuesday of this week fourteen children of pre-school age were presented at King Edward School. Next Tuesday the clinic will be at Borden Street School.

Gardening

It's a little early to talk about gardening but, now that it is the middle of February, most of us are beginning to think about what we are going to do with our gardens this year. I know at least one man who has sown some of his annuals in a cool greenhouse, the idea being to have the young plants quite early and strong. Anyone with plenty of heat does not have to start this early. All I have done is to plant half a dozen begonias in a shallow pot. The earlier you can get these plants the better. Some people have them in flower when they go out in the beds in May or very early June.

One important thing to consider is what is to be the feature of the garden this year. Charlie Balagno featured dahlias last year and very effective they were. Many thought he should have been placed higher than he was in the garden competition. But it is the business of the judge to do the placing and not of the home people.

Splashes of color are usually desirable in the garden. That is why most people plant or sow in clumps and clumps are much better than rows in an informal garden. The difficulty is that in a long narrow strip it is almost impossible to get away from the formal type.

A difficulty about planting large groups of plants is that, directly they are over, the bed has a wild appearance. Most of us like to have some flowers in bloom all the summer all over the garden.

At one side of my front garden last year I started with a clump or two of daffodils. At the back I had a row of sweet ricket alternating with delphiniums. Close to the sweet rocket I planted dahlias and, directly the former were over, I yanked them out to give the other plants room to grow. In front of that was a row of Jubilee Gem corn flowers and along the edge golden globe nasturtiums. In addition, there was a clump of phlox. The color scheme was supposed to be blue and yellow but there were a few clashes. However, the bed was never without bloom. I am mentioning this just to show how necessary it is to plan carefully.

People who have been congratulating themselves on their perennials coming safely through the winter must not be too sure. The worst period is yet to come. Most of the roses are killed by early spring frosts.

People who think that it saves work to have perennial plants are not always right. These beds are difficult to dig and they have to be staked, fed and carefully tended if best results are to be obtained and then it must be remembered that few perennials bloom more than three to four weeks. Lupins will bloom a second and third time but never like the first time.

Recently I advertised that I had some out of date flower books to donate to anyone who could use them. Several people took half a dozen each but there are still a number left, mostly "Better Homes and Gardens." Anyone may pick up half a dozen of them at the Daily News office.—H. F. P.

Life Stories Of Gyro Members At Wednesday Lunch

Life stories of two members—Dr. Hugh M. Morrison, inspector of schools, and Cecil Fitzgerald, district manager of Home Oil Distributors—proved interesting in the telling at the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday. The former was born in the Highlands of Scotland and the latter in the Transvaal of South Africa. Both have been around the world a bit and, although not old in years, have had a good many interesting experiences.

President W. M. Watts was in the chair at the club luncheon. Guests were C. H. Orme and Dr. L. I. Pugsley. The latest new member, D. A. Burnett, was welcomed.

Plenty Doing But California Restless Also

There appears to be plenty of work, there is much spending and, from superficial appearances at any rate, California seems to be about as busy as ever it was, says M. P. McCaffery who returned to the city yesterday after an absence of two or three months in the Golden State in the interests of his health. In spite of all this, there seems to be just as much discontent and agitation as anywhere else. Mr. McCaffery says that California is not without its disagreeable weather too.

STUFFED FISH

Choose a whole trout or fillets of cod or haddock, salmon or halibut. Sauce is optional and may be made with fresh or canned lobster. When cooking without the sauce increase the temperature of the oven.

Two pounds fillets or a whole fish, 2 cups soft, fine bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon mixed poultry seasoning, 2 tablespoons melted fat or butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon onion juice, pepper, 1/2 cup milk.

Wipe fillets with a damp cloth. Mix the rest of the ingredients to form a dressing, and stuff the whole fish or place a fillet on a greased pan with the dressing on top and another fillet over the dressing.

Make a sauce of: Three tablespoons melted butter or fat, 2 cups milk, 1/2 cup flaked lobster (1 3 oz can), 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 egg yolk (hard cooked and sieved). Melt the butter, blend in the flour and salt, add the milk and stir until thick. Add the lobster and sieved egg yolk and pour the sauce over the fish. Bake in a 400 degree oven until "set" allowing 10 minutes for each inch of thickness of fish. Serves 6.

Australia Is Like Canada In Some Respects

Visiting Journalist Speaks of Resemblance of Two Countries—Vancouver Insular

Australia resembles Canada in many respects, according to Frank Sullivan, newspaperman from Melbourne, who has been knocking about for several years broadening his outlook and educating himself. He arrived in Prince Rupert on the Prince George yesterday morning and left last evening by train for Ottawa where he has a temporary position with the Journal.

Discussing the resemblances between Canada and Australia, Mr. Sullivan points out that the population of Australia is chiefly along the seaboard while that of Canada is along the border. There is in each country a huge area at present almost unoccupied. Australia is being Americanized although not to quite as great an extent as Canada. Melbourne is largely English but Sydney is American.

Mr. Sullivan has spent the past four months with the Province newspaper at Vancouver and he says he has been surprised at the insularity of the Vancouver people. Most of them know nothing about the rest of British Columbia. Many look upon Vancouver as the whole of the province. He says he plans, when he returns to Western Canada, to take an airplane and see the rest of the province.

Mr. Sullivan left Australia for England in June 1936, worked with the London Times for four months, travelled in almost every country in Europe and was in Vienna at the time of the Hitler plebiscite following the annexation of that country. He also was for five months with the Western Mail in Cardiff. He came to Canada in June and spent four months with the Winnipeg Free Press.

FIVE STAR CAST HERE

Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young and Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter in "Shining Hour"

A five star cast—Joan Crawford, Margaret Sullivan, Robert Young, Melvyn Douglas and Fay Bainter—is featured in "The Shining Hour," a dynamic, ultra-modern story, which shows tonight and Friday at the Capitol Theatre.

Dealing with the career of a famous cabaret dancer, the drama moves at a rapid pace through the night life of New York to the contrasting surroundings of a Kansas farm where the girl is persuaded by Douglas to give up dancing and become his wife. On the farm her life becomes complicated by the activities of the spinster sister and the younger brother and his wife. A dramatic climax occurs when the farm home burns to the ground, the resulting experiences bringing about a readjustment in the household.

Miss Crawford, in the dancing numbers, is teamed with Tony De-

Anglican Men At Annual Event Provided by Ladies of Church—Interesting Addresses

The twenty-second annual men's banquet of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral was held last evening at the Cathedral Hall with C. H. Orme presiding. The dinner was, as usual, provided by the Woman's Auxiliary under convenership of Mrs. Thomas Andrew and was much enjoyed. Tables were decorated with spring flowers. After the toast to The King there were songs by Miss Hodgson, Mrs. Jarvis McLeod and Len Cripps, story telling by Al Newman and speeches by the Right Rev. Bishop Rix, Very Rev. Dean Gibson and Rev. R. C. H. Durnford, rector of St. Peter's Church at Seal Cove. Also there was a brief address on the cherry trees by Sadao Suga and a toast to the ladies proposed by Robert Yerburgh and responded to by Mrs. H. S. Meadows.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation to R. L. McIntosh by G. P. Tinker, on behalf of the congregation, of a gold mounted and engraved walking cane in recognition of his long service to the church as warden. Mr. McIntosh was taken wholly by surprise and found it difficult to thank the donors.

In his address the Bishop told some of the early history of the diocese of Caledonia. A mission was first established at Metlakatla in 1859 and twenty years later the diocese was formed under Bishop Ridley with headquarters at Metlakatla. He was succeeded by Bishop DuVernet in 1904 who died in 1924. He (Bishop Rix) carried on for four years and eleven years ago was consecrated to the office he now held.

Bishop Rix

The Bishop spoke of the splendid work being carried on by Dean Gibson in this city. It would have been difficult to find a more devoted or more capable man.

Speaking of the work of the future, the Bishop said there was an obligation on the part of the church amounting to $5,000 which should be cleared off. He suggested that a new tower was needed to complete the cathedral church. If this were done he knew of no church, except the cathedral at Victoria, that had a better appearance or was more suited for the work. The building was built on a rock with a wonderful foundation and would endure.

Bishop Rix said he wished the congregation to know that this was only one of the churches in the diocese. It was the mother church. He wished his listeners could see the work being carried on in the Peace River by such men as Russell Brown, Canon T. D. Proctor and at Vanderhoof by Rev. Charles J. Brown, Vanderhoof was the only church in the diocese that last year had met all its obligations. Then there was Rev. J. E. Birchall at Smithers and others. All were doing excellent work and he was proud of them.

Turning to the Indian missions, the Bishop spoke most appreciatively of the work going on in this connection. A fine new church building would be opened at Greenville in the fall and, in addition to that, a hall had just been completed for the Church Army. At Kitkatla there was a beautiful church building and other places were almost equally progressive. The natives far exceeded the white population in their devotion to church work.

Concluding, the Bishop urged those present to be faithful to their heritage and always to have a vision for the future. He hoped to meet them again next year and to find that progress had been made.

Other Speakers

Rev. R. C. H. Durnford answered criticisms of the church and urged that every member should have reason for the faith that was in him. Like Talbot House, the home of Toc H, it was open to everyone but there was always the upper room where the faithful gathered.

Dean Gibson spoke of the value of unity in the church. He was glad to see a world movement with this in view. The new effort was based on the effort to agree on essentials and forget the non-essentials. He spoke interestingly of the modern trend in religion and its relation to the totalitarian states and of the movement toward moral rearmament. He mentioned the political unity that has been attained in South Africa.

It was the fourteenth banquet over which Mrs. Thomas Andrew had been convener on behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary. Those in charge of the tables were: Mrs. J. B. Gibson and Mrs. H. S. Meadows (jointly), Mrs. F. A. MacCallum, Mrs. C. V. Evitt, Mrs. George Dawes and Mrs. Jack Bulger. Assistants included Mrs. W. J. Greer, Mrs. J. H. Nordan, Mrs. William Cruickshank, Mrs. A. R. Nichols, Mrs. George Cripps, Mrs. Robert Bartlett, Mrs. A. L. Holtby, Mrs. P. M. Raynor, Mrs. J. S. Wilson and Mrs. J. G. Johns. Misses M. Stevert, Nancy Dawes, N. Smith and D. Eastment.
